(By Sybil.)

The merry toot toot of the threshing engine is again heard througout the country.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lynch and Mr. and Mrs. Con Short were Red Lake Falls visitors last week.

Miss Emma Torkelson returned to her home near Lost River last Monday after spending the week with her sister Mrs. Mary Gunderson.

O. Brekke and daughter, Miss Elsie, drove to Red Lake Falls last Tuesday.

M. Johnson made a trip to Lambert last week.

J. A. Walker has gone to Canada to look after his land interests there.

Tom Florence was among the last to leave for Dakota threshing.

A raging fire swept a piece of territory between the rivers very clean the later part of last week. Some hay stacks were entirely destroyed and others would have been but for the timely arrival of the owners. It would be well if persons careless enough to set out a fire at such a time were made to feel a grip of the hand of law, it might be a lesson for the future.

Highest price paid for all kinds of live stock.—George Walker.

Mayor Duffy was a business visitor to St. Hilaire last Friday.

Dr. J. C. Wilkinson's residence is being fitted up for electric lights.

Helmuth Zaiser made a business trip to Grand Forks last Thursday.

Miss Anna Sutter was the guest of friends at Fertile over Sunday.

The harvest festival of the Gentilly church will be held Sunday, October 23.

Will Cyr of Cass Lake is visiting friends and relatiyes in the city this week.

Mrs. Chas. N. Bourdon was a guest of friends at Crookston over Sunday.

W. A. Schreiter was a business visitor to Thief River over Tuesday evening.

The ladies of St. Mary's church will meet with Mrs. William Zaiser October 13.

Herman Kruger and wife visited over Sunday with relatives at Crookston.

H. M. Clapp, a Philadelphia attorney, is in the city this week on a hunting trip.

Grain has been coming to town at a lively rate during the good weather of the past week.

Mrs. C. Siris, of Cass Lake, is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Simon Paul.

Mrs. R. H. Duntley came down from St. Hilaire Tuesday for a short visit with friends.

Hon. Robert C. Dunn is billed to speak at Crookston next Monday evening, October 10.

Miss Ellen Brady entertained the ladies of St. Mary's church last Thursday afternoon.

MEETING OF COUNTY BOARD

Red Lake Falls, Minn.,
Sept. 30, 1904.

Pursuant to call, the board of County Commissioners of Red Lake county, Minnesota, met in special session at the court house at 1 o'clock p. m.

Present, Commissioners Demann, Sutor, Johnson and Falardeau.

Minutes of regular July meeting read and approved.

On motion duly carried, engineer's estimates on ditch contracts were allowed and ordered paid as follows:

John Carlson, Garnes-Lambert ditch No. 1, (final est.) $453.

A. F. Anderson, Gervais ditch No. 1, (partial estimate,) $500.

Gjernes & Hakenson, Garnes & Emardville ditch No. 1, (partial estimate,) $1500.

Theodore Halvorson, ditch No. 21, (partial estimate,) $2500.

K. M. Hansen, Thief River Falls ditch No. 1, (final est.) $140.

Sauve, Parenteau & Perusse, Terrebonne ditch No. 1, (final est.), $202.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Falardeau and carried unanimously:

Be it resolved, that the sum of $100 be and is hereby appropriated from the county road & bridge fund to aid the township of Poplar River in grading and repairing the road between sections 2 and 3 and 10 and 11 in said town.

In the matter of the application of Peter K. Olson for a license to sell intoxicating liquors in the townsite of Plummer, (formerly the townsite of Scotland,) in Red Lake county, no one appearing to be heard for, or against the granting of the same, on motion carried unanimously, said license was granted and ordered to be issued.

In the matter of the application of Zatique Bray for a license to sell intoxicating liquors at the townsite of Brooks in Red Lake county, no one appearing to be heard for or against the granting of such license, on motion carried unanimously, the same was granted and ordered to be issued.

In the matter of the petitions of Adelor Boucher, Marie Boucher and George Charest to be set off with their lands from school district No. 76 to school district No. 9 in Red Lake county, on motion duly carried a day of hearing on same was set for Thursday the 5th day of January, 1905, at 9 o'clock a. m.

Commissioner Johnson offered the following resolution and the same was carried unanimously:

Be it resolved that the following described territory, to-wit:

The north-east quarter of the north-east quarter and lots 4 and 5 of section 23, the east one half, the east one half of the north-west quarter, the north-east quarter of the south-west quarter and lots 2, 3, 4 and 5 of section 24 and lots 5, 6, 7, and 8 of section 25 all in township 151, range 41, not being a part of any organized school district, be and the same is hereby attached to and made a part of common school district No. 210 in Red Lake county, Minn.

On motion duly carried the applications of Frank Brouillet and M. A. Hatten for abatement of taxes were rejected.

On motion duly carried a recess was taken to October 1, 1904.

Oct. 1, 1904. Board reconvened at 8 o'clock a. m.

All members present.

The following engineer's estimates on ditch contracts were allowed and ordered paid.

J. W. Lynch, Garnes ditch No. 1, (partial estimate) $100.

E. A. Moran, Lambert ditch No. 1, (partial estimate) $175.

The following resolution offered by Commissioner Johnson was carried unanimously:

Be it resolved, that the sum of $250 be appropriated out of the funds now in the county treasury of Red Lake county, to be used by the County Attorney of said county as a contingent fund for the purpose of defraying such necessary expenses as are not otherwise specifically provided for by law in the trial and preparation for trial of criminal cases and for conducting investigations by the grand jury of said county.

On motion duly carried, the bid of the First State Bank of Red Lake Falls for $6000 5½ per cent county drainage bonds at a premium of $105 was accepted.

KUROPATKIN IS IN PERSONAL COMMAND

RUSSIAN GENERAL IS DIRECTING FORWARD MOVEMENT OF THE ARMY.

JAPS CONCENTRATING ON BANK OF RIVER

Engagement Believed to Have Occurred—Mikado's Forces Reported as Falling Back—Three Russian Ships Sunk.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 11.—Gen. Kuropatkin is in the field, personally directing the forward movements of the army, which, it is understood, is divided into two strong columns, moving on each side of the railroad, whence they will draw their supplies, their flanks being assured by no less than 150 squadrons of Cossacks. The Russians are operating along a front of between 40 and 45 miles, extending from Kaoutou pass to Bentsiaputze on the east and across the Hun river to the left bank of the Liao river on the west. They are taking every precaution against possible counter attacks, throwing up entrenchments as they advance southward. Field Marshal Oyama, however, has not yet shown a disposition to strongly hold his outer positions. The evacuation of Bensiaputze left the flank of the Japanese position at the Yental mines unprotected, and news of the abandonment of the mines is, therefore, hourly expected.

The Japanese appear to be concentrating their forces in the fortifications formerly occupied by the Russians on the right bank of Taitse river, which are exceedingly strong, and they have an equally good defense north and south. The Japanese retired from Bentsiaputze almost without a struggle, fearing that Gen. Mistchenko's Cossacks would surround the position and cut them off. Bentsiaputze is of the highest importance, commanding the roads from Mukden and Fushun to Liaoyang and Bensihu.

Private advices from Mukden just received indicate that the artillery is already at work. An engagement is reported to have occurred Sunday on the Russian right flank, 14 miles southwest of Mukden.

Change in Situation.

A dispatch to the Dourse Gazette from Mukden, dated Sunday, says:

"The general situation at the seat of war has materially changed. The Japanese main army is retiring southward. Its right wing has gone 30 miles southward, evacuating Sianshan, Sinangai, Saimatsze, Fenshui Pass and the neighborhood of Kwandiansian. The Japanese are thus giving up not only the positions which they occupied after the battle of Liaoyang, but places they had previously taken."

Firing Heard.

Mukden, Sunday, Oct. 9. (delayed in transmission).—The sound of a heavy cannonade is distinctly audible from the center of the Russian advance.

Three Russian Ships Destroyed.

Tokio, Oct. 11.—It is reported here that the Japanese recently centered a fire from the land positions and from the fleet blockading Port Arthur on the west harbor, with the object of destroying the Russian fleet, and succeeded in sinking three vessels, the names and character of which are unknown. The failure of the Port Arthur fleet to make a sortie is creating the impression that the Russians intend to destroy their ships just before the fall of the fortress in preference to taking the risk of a sortie.

Scouts Ambushed by Japs.

Mukden, Oct. 11.—On the western front Sunday a party of Caucasian scouts, while reconnoitering, fell into an ambush of two companies of Japanese infantry, who fired a volley at the scouts. Before the latter could withdraw they lost ten wounded, including a lieutenant, Kousoff, and one man killed.

Mikado Hopes for Victory.

London, Oct. 11.—A dispatch to a news agency from Tokio says: "At an audience Monday morning the emperor of Japan handed the premier a message to the nation, as follows:

"'Since the commencement of hostilities our army and navy have displayed conspicuous loyalty and bravery, and, with the officials and people with united minds complying with our instructions they have hitherto steadily advanced by progressive steps. Nevertheless, our prospects of final success are still distant. I earnestly hope that the sincerity of the national spirit will enable us to realize our final object.'"

Cleveland to Speak.

New York, Oct. 11.—The following was given out Monday at democratic national headquarters: "Chairman Taggart, of the democratic national committee, announced this morning that he had received information to the effect that Former President Grover Cleveland will make one speech in New York city in support of Parker and Davis. The chairman was not able to announce the date on which this speech will be made."

Death of an Inventor.

New York, Oct. 11.—Henry A. Gouge, well known as an inventor of apparatus for heating railway coaches, is dead at his home in New Rochelle, N. Y. He was a close friend of the late James G. Blaine, whom he accompanied on many speaking tours.

English Author Dead.

London, Oct. [illegible]—John Hollingshead, author and journalist, is dead. He was born in 1827.

HENRY C. PAYNE DIES.

Close of the Career of the Postmaster General—Death Occurs in Washington.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Henry C. Payne, postmaster general of the United States, died at his apartments at the Arlington hotel at 6:10 o'clock Tuesday night, aged 60 years. The cause of death was disease of mitral valve and dilatation of the heart. Mr. Payne had been in poor health for at least two years, but his last illness covered only seven days, an attack of heart trouble precipitating the end at a time when after a rest he seemed to have recovered a small measure of his vitality impaired by years of arduous labor. Death came after nearly six hours of unconsciousness.

HENRY C. PAYNE.

In succession to Mr. Payne, George Bruce Cortelyou, former secretary of the department of commerce and labor, and now chairman of the republican national committee, will become postmaster general. Mr. Cortelyou's appointment as head of the post office department was determined on several months ago by President Roosevelt, when Mr. Payne indicated to the president his desire to retire from the department on account of the precarious state of his health. It is the understanding now that Mr. Cortelyou will assume the duties of postmaster general as soon as he conveniently can after the close of the pending campaign. It is probable that he will enter the office about the first of December.

Milwaukee, Oct. 10.—The remains of Postmaster General Henry Clay Payne were laid to rest in Forest Home cemetery, in this city, Sunday afternoon. It is estimated that 25,000 persons viewed the remains at the city hall before they were removed to All Saints cathedral.

AMERICAN WINS.

Heath Captures Vanderbilt Cup in Great Auto Race—Many Accidents —One Man Killed.

New York, Oct. 10.—One dead and another dying is one of the results of the automobile race for the cup offered by William K. Vanderbilt, Jr.

George Arents, Jr., a New York millionaire, lies injured in a hospital at Long Island, while his chauffeur, Carl Meusel, is dead.

During the race, which was won by George Heath, an American, driving a 90 horsepower motor, Arents' car was wrecked by the tires slipping. The chauffeur, who was horribly mangled, was taken to a hospital, where he died an hour later. Arents also was taken to the hospital, where it was found, among other injuries, he was suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage.

The race was a most fiercely contested one. Heath finished the 300-mile course in 6:55:45 elapsed time, and 5:26:45 corrected time. Albert Clement, Jr., driving an 80 horsepower machine, was a close second, finishing in 6:58:13 elapsed time, and 5:28:13 corrected time. The time as herewith given is official. There were 18 starters, but only two finished. The course of the race was exactly 30.24 miles in length. It was an elongated triangle, at the apex of which, to the west, is the village of Queens. The course was covered ten times.

GREAT DISTRESS.

Starvation Said to Be Threatening Many Thousands in Cities of Great Britian.

London, Oct. 6.—At a meeting of the Manchester city council it was announced that owing to the hard times and depression in the cotton industries between 40,000 and 50,000 people in the poorer parts of the city were practically on the verge of starvation. Similar conditions prevail in London and other large cities of the United Kingdom, where the winter is expected to be one of the hardest in many years for the poorer classes.

Wife Kills Drunken Husband.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 10.—Tom Carney was shot and instantly killed at his home in this city, while he was in a drunken condition, and attempting to whip his wife, the wife firing the shot that ended his life.

Burglars Rob a Bank.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Robbers blew open the vault in the bank of Young, Hamilton & Co., at Freeland, Ind., early Saturday morning, wrecking part of the building and escaping with about $4,000.

Four Perished.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 7.—During a heavy fog Wednesday night the steamer Boscowiz struck a reef on Harble Down island. Four passengers, children, were drowned. The crew and 185 passengers were saved.

THOMAS GERMO, Republican Candidate for County Attorney—What Those Who Know Him Say of Him—Press of Red Lake County Unanimous in Praising Him.

Thomas Germo, practicing attorney of Red Lake Falls, and Republican candidate for the office of County Attorney of Red Lake county, was born of Norwegian parents on a farm in Medo, Blue Earth county, Minnesota, in 1870. He was eductated in the country schools, Rochester Business College, Mankato State Normal schools and at the University of Minnesota, graduating from the law department of the latter institution. His career as a lawyer in Red Lake county has been marked with that success, earnestness of purpose and unimpeachable integrity which has won for him the esteem of our citizens and a constantly growing practice. Loyal to friends, a congenial companion, no one stands higher in the estimation of our citizens. A man who may be trusted, an able attorney.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

The last issue of the Red Lake Falls Gazette contains an excellent picture of Thomas Germo, Republican candidate for County Attorney of Red Lake county. Mr. Germo is a former Blue Earth county boy, a graduate of the Law Department of the State University, and with all a man who can be relied upon. The voters of Red Lake county will make no mistake in selecting a man of Mr. Germo's makeup and well known ability.—Blue Earth County Enterprise.

For County Attorney the Republicans will undoubtedly name Thomas Germo, the Red Lake Falls lawyer who made a remarkable chase for the place two years ago, having been defeated by the present incumbent by the slender majority of five. Mr. Germo has had a splendid measure of success in the practice of law. He is honest, competent and enterprising, and if elected will make a good officer.—Red Lake Courier.

There is no more honest or fearless man in Red Lake county than Thomas Germo, the Republican candidate for County Attorney. If he is not elected it will be simply because the voters of the county have not become acquainted with him.—Thief River Falls News.

Thomas Germo, the popular Red Lake Falls attorney, was in the city Wednesday, looking after his political interests. Mr. Germo is seeking the nomination for County Attorney on the Republican ticket with every prospect of success. He is an exceptionally bright young man, who has done good work for the ticket in previous campaigns and is well entitled to the support of his party this fall both at the primary and at the general election.—Thief River Falls Press.

Thomas Germo, Republican candidate for County Attorney, is receiving many offers of support from all parts of the county. Mr. Germo made the run two years ago and came within five votes of being elected, and it is freely predicted that he will go in this time with a handsome majority. He is an able and energetic lawyer, and will make an excellent County Attorney.—Thief River Falls Review.

Thomas Germo, the Republican candidate for County Attorney, made us a call this morning. His prospects for being the next County Attorney are excellent.—St. Hilaire Spectator.

The Gazette, in supporting Thomas Germo for County Attorney, make a final plea for consideration by the voters of a man who is worthy the utmost confidence of the public; a man eminently honest, a man with the acumen and the ability to perform the important duties of County Attorney as they should be performed. Mr. Germo has made a vigorous campaign, and his speeches, listened to by men of all parties, having convinced a vast majority of the voters that he is the proper man to place in the County Attorney's office. He enjoys an inviable reputation for industry, sobriety and good fellowship, and is a self made man. The Gazette predicts Mr. Germo's election by a rousing majority.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Thos. Germo, formerly of Medo, this county, is after the nomination for County Attorney of Red Lake county and will undoubtedly secure it. Mr. Germo was the nominee of the party two years ago and came within five votes of being elected. Mr. Germo is a number one man and if his friends in Blue Earth county could vote there would be no doubt of the results.—Mapleton Enterprise.

Personally, the Courier believes that Thomas Germo is entitled to the election as County Attorney. He is capable, honorable and deserving. He is a life-long Republican and ever since he has been of age his services and sympathies have been given to the party of his choice. For this reason, as well as on the ground of fitness and ability, he is entitled to the support of every Republican. For the latter reason the Democrats can consistenly vote for him, and if elected Mr. Germo will be the servant of all the people and in his official capacity will recognize no party or faction. Two years ago the Courier opposed Mr. Germo as a matter of party duty and obligation, but it has ever recognized his personal worth and legal ability, and now that there is no candidate on its own ticket, is glad to give support and encouragement to his candidacy.—Red Lake Courier.

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the payment of the sum of Sixty-nine ($69.00) Dollars, annual interest, due March 5th, 1904, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Knut Bjergo, a single man, mortgagor, to Charles L. Larson, mortgagee, bearing date the 5th day of March, 1903, and with a Power of Sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Red Lake and State of Minnesota, on the 20th day of May, 1903, at ten o'clock and thirty minutes A. M. of that day, in Book 29 of Mortgages on page 50 thereof.

AND WHEREAS, Said mortgage in and by its terms provides that if default in any of the provisions thereof on his part to be performed should be made by the mortgagor, then said mortgagee might elect to declare the whole sum specified in said mortgage due and payable; and whereas the said Charles L. Larson, mortgagee in, and present owner and holder of said mortgage, has elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum and interest specified in said mortgage, due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas there is actually due, and claimed to be due at the date of this notice, the sum of One Thousand Two Hundred Sixty and 2-100 ($1260.02) Dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the 5th day of October, 1904; and whereas, the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law, or otherwise, has been instituted to recover the debts secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The East Half (E½) of the Southwest Quarter (SW¼), and lots six (6) and seven (7), of Section Six (6), in Township One Hundred Fifty (150), North Range Forty-four (44), West of the Fifth Principal Meridian, in the County of Red Lake and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Red Lake County at the front door of the Court House in the City of Red Lake Falls, in said Red Lake County and State of Minnesota, on the 10th day of December, 1904, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the said debt of One Thousand Two Hundred Sixty and 2-100 ($1260.02) Dollars, and interest and the taxes, if any, on the said premises, and the sum of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars attorneys fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated this 8th day of October, A. D. 1904.

Judge Tarrant Receives Praise from Republican Newspapers..

Though Judge N. W. Tarrant, Democratic candidate for re-election to the office of Judge of Probate, does not agree with the Republican newspapers of the county politically, practically all of them have recognized his ability and worth, and are supporting him in the present campaign on the ground that a competent official is entitled to re-election. A recent issue of the Red Lake Falls Gazette contains the following complimentary notice to the Judge:

"That the spirit of independence in local and county affairs is dominant in the average country newspapers of today is evidenced by the following tribute to Judge N. W. Tarrant in last week's Thief River Falls Press. The Press is a Republican paper, but does not hesitate to laud his Honor in a forcible manner as the following will indicate. The Press should be commended for its stand, and the people will gladly welcome the time when the party lash fails to whip everyone into line in minor affairs. Here is what the Press says:

"In order to be frank and above board with our readers we are going to state right here and now that we are going to support our old friend Nick Tarrant, Democratic though he is, for re-election as Judge of Probate. Nick has made as good an official as the county ever had, he has been honest, capable and obliging, and what more can any one ask for. Furthermore, he is a Thief River man so local pride may influence us to some extent, but as we started out by saying we would be honest will stand by that part of our text and say that the Judge has always toted fair with us and therefore it is no more than fair that we should stand by him, which we will do through thick and thin.'"

MAY TEAR UP THE OLD TRACK

Great Northern Will Probably Not Maintain Present Line From Crookston to St. Hilaire.

There is much speculation as to what the Great Northern intends to do with the track from Crookston to St. Hilaire after the Red Lake Falls extension is completed. The Crookston Times makes the following observations: "Since it has been decided by the Great Northern, through not yet officially announced, to run passenger trains from Crookston to Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls and on to the end of the extension north of the latter place via Tilden and over the Northern Pacific track to Red Lake Falls, there has been some speculation as to what disposition would be made of the present line from Shirley to St. Hilaire, over which the trains have been run for the past 22 years.

"In this connection a letter has been received by one of the prominent business men of Crookston from a Red Lake Falls professional man intimates that there is a plan on foot to take up the track from Shirley to St. Hilaire. On this stretch of track there are but two stopping places, one at Ridge, and the other at Wylie. Ridge is located at the crossing of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, and from remarks that have been drawn that if the track was taken up as suggested, Wylie would be moved from the present site to Ridge, a distance of less than 5 miles.

"While there might be some objection from the people of Wylie, it is not thought that there would be a better location for a townsite farther east where the N. P. crosses the Black river, the fact that this would bring the town closer to Red Lake Falls would be a big handicap to overcome its future development.

"Railroad men who are in a position to know are of the opinion that the present St. Hilaire branch could not be maintained to handle the freight traffic only, as the amount of freight would not justify the cost of maintenance.

"An official announcement of the plans of the Great Northern in this connection will be awaited bo considerable interest, especially by the people of Ridge and Wylie who will be affected more than any one else."

LAND SALE IS CONCLUDED

Out of 160,000 Acres Offered but 2,388 Acres Were Sold at Crookston Auction.

After disposing of 127 tracts aggregating 2,388 acres, the land sale which was in progress at Crookston last week and which has attracted considerable numbers of settlers and homesteaders to the city, closed yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Auctioneer O'Brien offered for sale to the highest bidder the last of the 1,000 tracts which have been put up during the progress of the sale. The sale has not attained the scope which was expected and enthusiasm has been rather lukewarm. Land officials in Crookston, however, say were not surprised at the light sales as they anticipated even a smaller attendance. The average price at which the land was knocked down was $4.44 per acre and the entire amount of money received was $18,111, but one-fifth of the amount realized from the sale of land at Thief River Falls.

SKIN DISEASES

Altoona, Pa., June 20, 1903.

I was afflicted with Tetter in bad shape. It would appear in blotches as large as my hand, a yellowish color, and scale off. You can imagine how offensive it was. For twelve years I was afflicted with this trouble. At night it was a case of scratch and many times no rest at all. Seeing the good the medicine was doing a friend who was taking it for Eczema, I commenced it, and as a result the eruption began to dry up and disappear, and to-day I am practically a well man. Only two tiny spots are left on the elbow and shin, where once the whole body was affected. I have every confidence in the medicine, and feel sure that in a short time these two remaining spots will disappear. S. S. S. is certainly a great blood purifier, and has done me a world of good. I am grateful for what it has accomplished, and trust that what I have said will lead others who are similarly afflicted to take the remedy and obtain the same good results that I have.

THE COUNTY TICKET.

The Democratic party has an exceptionally clean and able county ticket for the consideration of the voters. Every man on the ticket deserves to be elected and there seems to be little question but that they will win.

For county auditor James E. Ford has been renominated. He has filled that position with exceptional ability during the past two years, and it is not over-stating the case to say that he is the best auditor the county has ever had. During his administration the county has been placed on a cash basis, due largely to the economy and good business judgment of Mr. Ford. During the past two years the expense of conducting the county has been materially decreased. Furthermore the records of the office are models of neatness and accuracy. Every promise made by Mr. Ford and his friends has been fulfilled, and he asks re-election solely on the ground of competency and merit.

For county treasurer Karl M. Hansen of Thief River Falls is the candidate. Mr. Hansen has a large business experience and is familiar with the methods of county government, having for a number of years been county commissioner. He is an excellent penman, a good business man and is worthy in every respect of being chosen to look after the county's cash box for the next term.

Daniel Linnihan, the present efficient sheriff, is a candidate for re-election. He was appointed to this office eighteen months ago by the board of county commissioners on the death of Sheriff Sampson. He has performed the duties of his office with great ability, and from the fact that he is an old resident and has an unusual number of personal friends there would seem to be no doubt of his election. When you cast your ballot don't forget Dan Linnihan. He deserves your support and vote.

Frank Jeffers seeks the office of register of deeds, having been nominated by his party without opposition. Mr. Jeffers has been a resident of the county for upwards of twenty years, following the avocations of teacher, newspaper editor and county superintendent. He is public-spirited and aggressive, and during past campaigns he has always come under the wire with the largest majority of any man on the ticket.

N. W. Tarrant seeks a re-election as judge of probate. For the past two years he has filled that office, and there is no probate office in the state where the records are kept in better shape. In some respects this office is the most imporant in the county, as often expensive and unnecessary litigation arises from the fact that the judge of probate has failed to perform his duties. Mr. Tarrant has been endorsed by every newspaper in the county, and like some of the other Democratic candidates, is being supported by several of the strongest Republican papers and by practically all of the influential citizens of the county.

WHO'S ASHAMED?

The Thief River Review editor has evolved some political theories that are widely at variance with the generally eccepted view, and THE COURIER hopes the young man will pull the scales of ignorance from his eyes long enough to get a corrected vision. In the last week's issue the Review said:

> "We would like to ask THE COURIER what an honest intelligent Democrat can say when asked to explain his party's platform? He sees it is diametrically opposed to all the party's teachings in the past and what excuse can he give for such a radical change? But it will not be necessary for him to answer. The reason is too plain. The party is out of office and wants to get in. It is not a high standard of political morality to adopt such a course, but there was nothing else to do. High minded Democrats are ashamed of their leaders."

It is taken for granted that the Democratic party is out of office and wants to get in. It wants to get in as badly as the Republican party wants to stay in. And this is not discreditable. If a political party did not aspire to be successful there would be little excuse for existence. And it may be true that the Democratic platform differs in some respects from previous declarations. Every convention is privileged to adopt its own creed, and there is no law, written or unwritten, which compels a party to hold unalterable views on current questions. All party platforms change from campaign to campaign. Compare, if you please the Republican national platform of today with the platforms of eight or twelve years ago, and many points of difierence will be noted. The party will be found "diametrically opposed" to itself on the currency question, and in many respects there is a distinct change of views.

The Review gets in still deeper water when it says "high-minded Democrats are ashamed of their leaders." In the national campaign the Democratic leader is Judge Parker. Is any high-minded Democrat ashamed of him? No man, Republican or Democrat, has found a blemish on his personal or public record.

Are they ashamed of Hon. John A. Johnson, the gifted tribune of the people, who is making the most brilliant campaign for governor in the history of the state? He is recognized as clean, able and honorable. When one out of every four Republicans publicly acknowledge that they are supporting Mr. Johnson, why should high-minded Democrats be ashamed of him?

Are they ashamed of Fendall G. Winston? There is no more honest or beloved man in the state. Wherever he is known his name is a synonym of the highest integrity and honor. He stands out in bold relief when contrasted with the Republican candidate for the same office—an acknowledged timber thief.

Are we ashamed of our local candidates? Well, hardly. They have all held public office before, and there is not a flaw in their records.

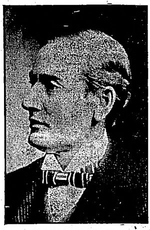
And, now, how has the Review treated the polite inquiries THE COURIER has directed at that paper with reference to Ray Jones? With silence, of course. The Review knows that no citizen can vote for him without holding his nose. To the credit of Minnesota be it said that neither of the great parties has ever before nominated for a high office a man notoriously known to be so disreputable. Less than six months ago he was convicted in the Federal courts of stealing government timber. Besides he is a man of no ability. Is the Review not ashamed of Mr. Jones? If not, the editor's conscience must be seared.

CONGRESSMAN BUCKMAN has been sued by the attorney general in the sum of $46,000 for helping himself to the state's timber. Really, now, isn't it about time for the good people of the state to put a damper on the ambitions of the timber thieves who are seeking important offices? The Sixth district has a Democratic candidate for congress in the person of Hon. Cleve W. Van Dyke. He is clean, able and deserving. If the Sixth district prefers to elect Buckman rather than Van Dyke it will go a long way to prove William Henry Eustis' assertion that the Republi*cans will vote for a yellow dog* on their ticket in preference to an honest and capable Democrat.

RED LAKE FOR JOHNSON.

As election day approaches the sentiment in favor of John A. Johnson grows stronger, and there is little doubt today in the mind of any well-informed politician that he will be the next governor of Minnesota. Wherever Mr. Johnson has appeared Republicans have vied with Democrats in doing him honor and promising support. He will carry more than half of the Republican strongholds in the southern part of the state, and in many sections of the northern part conditions are similar. Johnson is a straight-forward, honest, clean-cut gentleman. To know the man is to love him.

Red Lake county people know Mr. Johnson. More than a third of the voters of the county him deliver that magnificient Fourth of July oration at Red Lake Falls. They applauded him to the echo. They are going to vote for him irrespective of party affiliations because they believe him to be the most worthy candidate for the governorship of Minnesota. If you don't believe this, talk to the farmers, or the business men, or any class of people. Just as an experiment the writer has this week interviewed fifty-seven farmers of this vicinity, forty-two of them Republicans. Out of these all of the Democrats and nineteen of the Republicans said they intended to vote for Johnson. Four others refused to express a choice. This sentiment exists all over the county and all over the state. Red Lake county will go for Mr. Johnson by a good majority. This is the inevitable conclusion.



JOHN A. JOHNSON.

A LETTER received by the editor of this paper from Hon. F. G. Winston, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, says: "As I have lived in Minnesota for thirty-two years and am well-known to the people of the state, it rather seems unnecessary to take notice of the statement that is being made to the effect that I was a confederate soldier. The statement, however, is not true, and to that extent the people of the state should be disabused. The truth is that when the Civil war ended I was attending school and came to Minnesota from Virginia a few years later, and have lived here ever since. From present indications the good people of this state, regardless of party, have decided that they wish a change of government in state matters. Some of the Republican candidates have been proven to have been unfaithful in their duties as citizens to both the state and general government, and it speaks well for the patriotism of the people of the state that they seem inclined to throw aside party affiliations and stand for what they believe to be for the public good. Mr. Johnson and I have received nothing but the strongest encouragement wherever we have been and the people are aroused to an extent hitherto unknown in Minnesota."

SENATOR HOAR'S death brought forth no more glowing tributes than the man's life should have inspired. It rarely happens that the eulogies of a dead statesman are as sincere as those pronounced over his bier, for eulogy is a habit, and, as has been very lately shown in the case of two other American politicians, is not regulated materially by the actual deserts of the man eulogized. In the case of Senator Hoar, however, there is general agreement that nothing said in praise of his honesty, sincerity, lofty principles, and devotion to ideals could well be exaggerated. What makes his career almost unique is that he found it possible to be an intense partizan without sacrificing in the least his liberty of conscience or compromising with the highest conceptions of private and public honesty.

A RULE of the general land office specifies that all lands on the ceded portion of the Red Lake reservation which lapse to the government thro' failure of the buyer and homesteader to live up to the required regulations shall be thrown open to homestead. A clever scheme is being worked on the government; a valuable piece of land is bid in and then the right of the homesteaders is contested by a relative or friend. He loses the contest through studied negligence and the land is secured for the one-fifth payment made at the auction, and what can the government do? It looks like a clever scheme.

THE following is credited to an unknown author: "He kissed the babe and rubbed the heads of little Sam and Sue, and swore the twins were beautiful and wished that he had two—but that don't count. He asked about the corn bread he vainly tried to chew, and forthwith begged the recipe—of course that don't count. But just before he left he stopped and winked, and sort of closed his jaw, and slipped out behind the barn and took a drink with pa—that's what counts."

CHARLES A. TOWNE is to be elected to congress in November from the Fourteenth district, New York, in place of Herman Ryder, the sitting member. This is a Tammany district, and its Democratic majority ranges from 6,000 to 10,000. Mr. Towne has been told that he may represent this district just as long as he cares to do so, and it is understood that he is now settling himself for a congressional career.

MRS. J. J. DOE is making an effective campaign for superintendent of schools and of course expects to be elected by a large majority. Mrs. Doe has been a resident of Red Lake Falls for many years and everybody is her friend. She has a first-grade certificate, and has been identified with school work for more than twenty years. The county schools will not suffer under her charge.

W. L. Douglas, the big shoe manufacturer, is the Democratic candidate for governor of Massachusetts. Mr. Douglas will be saved the expense of having his name printed on campaign cards for his bald head is already familiar to every man, woman and child in the United States.

THE supreme court has decided that Calvin L. Brown's name can go on the state ticket with both the Republican and Democratic designations. This is a distinct victory for the Democratic state committee, and in effect declares an important feature of the election law unconstitutional.

THE St. Paul Globe is doing yeoman work for the Democratic ticket national and state. The Globe is the only Democratic daily in the Twin cities and should receive support and encouragement from every Democrat in the State.

A STRAW vote, taken by a Republican of McIntosh on candidates for governor the other day, resulted: Dunn 12; Johnson 43. Out of those seen only two were Democrats.

THE Windom Reporter thinks that a lot of fathers must be working that their children may have enough money to buy an automobile after they are dead.

SOMEHOW whenever the name of Ray Jones is mentioned an impenetrable gloom of silence hovers over the Republican newspapers.

COUNTY ATTORNEY GRADY is scattering placards reading: "Vote twice for Grady." From present indications he will need them.

Suffered With Kidney and Liver Trouble for Twelve Years—Pe-ru-na Cured Him—Feels Better Than for Twenty Years.

Hon. William Watson Washburn, President of the Louisiana Commercial Club, and a very well known man of New Orleans, La., writes from 637 Canal street:

"I am satisfied that there is not a finer medicine placed before the public to-day than Peruna. I have been troubled for nearly twelve years with kidney and liver trouble, and at times I have been a pretty sick man, unable to attend to my duties. I had about made up my mind that no medicine could help me, when one of your booklets was brought to my office which I read in a leisure hour. I then decided to give Peruna a trial and found that I had at last secured the right medicine for me. For two months I used it faithfully and then felt so well I was like a young man once more. This was over a year ago and I have not had any trouble since. Although I am in the seventies I feel better and more active than I did thirty years ago."—W. W. Washburn.

Most derangements of the kidneys are due to catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. This explains why it is that Peruna cures a great number of kidney diseases in which the usual remedies fail.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

COAL GAS COSTS LIVES OF SIX MEN

TRAIN BREAKS IN TWO WHILE PASSING THROUGH GREAT ST. CLAIR TUNNEL.

Three Employes and Three Brave Rescuers Are Suffocated by Gas—The Terrible Fate of a Heroic Engineer.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 10.—Six employes of the Grand Trunk railway were suffocated to death by coal gas early Sunday in the St. Clair tunnel, which runs under the St. Clair river from Port Huron to Sarnia, Ontario. A coal train broke in two while passing through the tunnel and three of the train crew were suffocated while part of the train lay stalled in the tunnel. The engineer lost his life when he returned and endeavored to push the stalled cars back to safety and two other rescuers perished in vain attempts to penetrate the gaseous atmosphere of the great tube.

The Victims.

The dead are:

A. S. Begg, of Port Huron, superintendent of terminals.

Engineer John Coleman, Port Huron.

Conductor D. T. Tinsley, Sarnia, Ont.

Brakeman Thomas McGrath, Sarnia, Ont.

Brakeman D. A. Gillis, Sarnia, Ont.

Heroic Engineer Dies.

The train which entered from the American side of the tunnel was made up of 17 coal cars. When it broke, Engineer Coleman realized that the accident had happened and with the three cars that were still attached to the engine, steamed out of the tunnel into the Sarnia yards. He hastily detached his engine and went back into the tube for the stalled cars. When his engine reached them he attempted to push them back through the tunnel and out of the American portal. The grade proved too steep, however, and the attempt was a failure. The engine and cars rolled back into the gas-laden tunnel and Engineer Coleman was suffocated at his post in the engine cab. His fireman, Fred, Forester, with great presence of mind, jumped into the partly filled water tank of the engine, where there was enough air to preserve his life, although he is in a serious condition.

Rescuers Perish.

When the news of the broken train reached the American side of the tunnel, Superintendent Begg, accompanied by two other employes, started in on foot, hoping that the train was near enough to the entrance so that they might rescue and carry out some of the crew. They had gone but a short distance when the coal gas became stifling and Begg succumbed. The other two rescuers succeeded in crawling to the portal of the tunnel on their hands and knees. Meanwhile preparations were being made at the Sarnia end of the tunnel to rescue the imprisoned train crew. An engine with a party of rescuers entered the tube and had proceeded but a short distance when they found John Haley, a track walker, lying unconscious on the track. He was taken out and again the engine plunged into the gaseous atmosphere. The rescuers were overcome, however, by the gas before the train was reached and Brakeman McGrath died. Switchman Blake, who was a member of the party, after a time made another attempt to penetrate the gas, and this time succeeded in reaching the stalled engine, coupled it to the cars and ran the train out into daylight. Simpson, Tinsley and Gillis were found dead in the caboose. Fireman Forester was in the water tank nearly two hours before he was rescued and his escape is little short of miraculous.

LA FOLLETTE WINS.

Wisconsin Supreme Court Decides Fight Between Republicans on State Ticket.

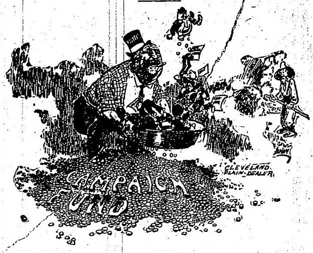
Madison, Wis., Oct. 6.—By a vote of 3 to 1 the supreme court of Wisconsin Wednesday decided that the La Follette state ticket was the regular republican ticket, and that the nominees of the La Follette convention should be placed on the election ticket as regular republicans. Justices Marshall, Dodge and Winslow concur in the decision and Chief Justice Cassoday dissents. By this decision the entire machinery of the republicans in the state for present campaign is placed in the hands of the La Follette faction.

Milwaukee, Oct. 7.—Samuel A. Cook, of Neenah, has withdrawn from the head of the stalwart republican state ticket and is succeeded by Former Gov. Edward Scofield. The selection of Scofield will be ratified by the state central committee at a special meeting. Mr. Cook issued a lengthy statement to the public giving his reason for withdrawal from the stalwart ticket. The gist of his statement is a review of his past utterances that he would withdraw unless a decision by the supreme court was in his favor. The stalwarts have adopted the name "National Repulican," and their ticket will appear on the official ballot under this name.

Convicted of Manslaughter.

Vinita, I. T., Oct. 10.—Ed and Dan Price, farmers, who killed Tom Qualls, a noted desperado, were found guilty of manslaughter. The Prices aided officers several years ago in apprehending Qualls and he swore vengeance. Qualls was released from the penitentiary recently. Then the Prices provoked a quarrel with the former desperado which resulted in his death.

HARVEST DAYS.



AUTOMOBILE TOOK A FATAL PLUNGE

FALLS OVER HIGH BANK IN NEW YORK AND TRAIN CRASHES INTO WRECKAGE.

Two Persons Are Instantly Killed, One Dies a Few Hours Later, and Six Others Receive Very Severe Injuries.

New York, Oct. 7.—While speeding along the Bronx early this morning an automobile containing nine persons went off an embankment at One Hundred and Sixty-first street and Jerome avenue, and three persons were killed and six injured. The machine fell onto the New York Central railroad tracks and the wreckage was struck by a south-bound train. In the automobile when the accident occurred were five women and four men. The automobile was in charge of Albert Noyes. At Jerome avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-first street the roadway is between 20 and 30 feet above the railroad tracks. When the big machine plunged downward it struck near the south-bound tracks and the nine persons and the automobile were caught by an incoming train known as the Croton local.

The body of Albert Noyes, chauffeur of the wrecked automobile, was found underneath the pilot of the engine, horribly mangled. At three o'clock this morning one of the injured women identified at Cordham hospital as Anna Smith, 17 years old, died. This made a total of three dead, one of whom, a woman, was still unidentified. Wreckage of the machine was found scattered along the railroad track for a distance of two blocks. The car had been reduced literally to bits. It is said to have been running at least 25 miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Runs Away Down a Mountain.

New York, Oct. 8.—Four persons were injured Friday when their automobile ran away down one of the mountains in Orange county. The driver lost control of the car more than a half mile from the base of the mountain and it dashed down the steep grade at frightful speed. Fifty yards from the base it hit the wall at the side of the road and turned turtle. The injured are: Miss Hope Walker, Brookline, Mass., bruised and cut about head; Miss Robertson, Brookline, Mass., cut on head and body; A. C. Bartlett, Chicago, face and head cut and bruised; Thomas Carey, New York, who was the chauffeur, five ribs broken and internal injuries.

Washington, Oct. 10.—Fire on the upper floors of Downey's livery stable, 1622 to 1628 L street, northwest, Sundays, caused a loss of about $100,000. Some of the finest carriages owned in Washington, stored in the building, were burned. The French embassy lost a handsome carriage, and others who lost vehicles are Senators Wetmore, Dryden and Fairbanks; Representative Hitt and Mrs. Westinghouse.

Tired of Office Holding.

New York, Oct. 10.—"I am tired of office holding. I do not want any more of it," said Gov. Odell in this city Saturday. "Does this apply to the United States senatorship?" he was asked. "It does," replied the governor.

Attendance at the Fair.

St. Louis, Oct. 10.—The official statement issued by the world's fair shows that the total attendance since the opening of the exposition is 13,376,453.

PEACE CONGRESS.

Important International Gathering in Boston Advocates World's Peace.

Boston, Oct. 6.—Resolutions intended to bring about, if possible, an end to the Russo-Japanese war were adopted Wednesday at the meeting of the International Peace congress. By the terms of these resolutions the congress will address an appeal to the emperors of Russia and Japan to terminate the struggle and each of the powers signatory to The Hague convention will be formally requested to press upon Russia and Japan the importance of putting an end to the present war.

Boston, Oct. 7.—The arrest and subsequent reduction of military and naval armaments throughout the world was called for Thursday at the session of the international peace congress when resolutions were adopted expressing the opinion that the first task which the world's new convention suggested by President Roosevelt should take up was the gradual disarmament of the powers.

Boston, Oct. 8.—King Leopold, of Belgium, was assailed for his policy as sovereign of the Congo Free State at a public meeting held Friday afternoon in connection with the session of the international peace congress. The attack upon King Leopold was made by E. T. Morell, of England, who represented the Congo Reform association. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the elaborate plan of organizing the nations into a positive peace-making union, as favored in the resolutions by the Danish Peace society. The Universal Peace union, of the United States, and other organizers.

Boston, Oct. 10.—The peace congress was adjourned Saturday, to continue its work in 1905 at Luzerne, Switzerland. One of its last acts was to recommend an inquiry by the powers into the Congo Free State, which is at present under the personal rule of King Leopold, of Belgium. The present Russo-Japanese war was treated by a resolution calling upon the emperors of the two countries to end the conflict at once, or, that failing, for the powers to exercise the authority granted by article 27 of The Hague pact and intervene so that the war might be terminated.

"CHICAGO DAY" AT FAIR.

Immense Throngs Flock to St. Louis Exposition—Formal Exercises Are Held.

St. Louis, Oct. 10.—"Chicago day" was observed at the world's fair Saturday by immense throngs of residents of that city, reinforced by thousands of St. Louisans. For three days special trains and regular trains, divided into numerous sections, have been bringing thousands of persons to St. Louis from Chicago, and no time was lost in reaching the world's fair grounds. State Senator J. P. Mahoney, of Chicago, presided at the exercises in the Illinois building, and introduced State Commissioner C. J. Doyle, of Greenville. Commissioner Doyle acted as Gov. Yates' personal representative. Following President Francis' address of welcome to the visitors, Mayor Harrison was called upon to respond in the name of the "White City." A response by Alderman J. E. Bennett, on behalf of "the committee of 400," concluded the exercises. But few hours intervened before the pike parade, headed by the great Chinese dragon, operated by 100 men, started down the amusement street. Distinctly oriental in its character, the feature was a treat for even those so-called staid and sophisticated dwellers of the grounds. Closing the day's fete, the doors of the Illinois building were thrown open for an informal reception.

Car Jumps Track.

Spring Valley, Ill., Oct. 10.—Only two out of 40 passengers escaped injury when an Illinois Valley electric railway car jumped the track on a sharp curve at Webster Park Sunday morning. Motorman James Ball sustained several broken ribs, while Conductor R. B. Houck's legs and arm were broken and his lung was pierced by glass. The passengers were not seriously hurt. The car was demolished, turning over an embankment. The car was going at high speed.

Four Die in Hotel Fire.

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 8.—The Trace hotel in South St. Joseph burned Friday morning, four persons losing their lives. The dead are: Lafayette Frew, aged 50 years, speculator in live stock; C. F. Norton, aged 35 years, employe of Stockyards company; Mrs. Anna Weston, of Gentry county, Mo., guest; unknown man.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Stole a Lawn.

Daring robberies often puzzle the Minneapolis police, but few are so mysterious as the theft of M. Silver's lawn from his place at 571 Sixth avenue N. The thieves came in the night with a wagon, rolled the lawn into a bundle and hauled it away.

Mr. Silver's lawn has been in an impoverished condition all summer and a few days ago he had the entire surface peeled and resodded. One morning he remarked to his friends that with the continued warm weather it would get a good start before freezing time.

The next morning his hopes were shattered, for his lawn was gone and nothing remained but the soft black loam. Wagon tracks near the curb told the story. The robbers came some time between 11 at night and 5 o'clock in the morning, doing their work well. No one saw the wagon come or go. All that remains for Mr. Silver is to order a new lawn with a burglar alarm attached.

Fought With Snakes.

Pat Lamb of Yucatan has had a fight for his life in a nest of rattlesnakes. Mr. Lamb was walking through a pasture on his farm when he happened upon the snakes which were out sunning themselves. As he only saw a few he started to kill some of them with a club. Some of the reptiles showed fight and soon others came out from the nest which was in a hole in the side of a hill. Mr. Lamb was then compelled to battle for his life and it was only when he was almost exhausted that he succeeded in beating off his assailants. He hurried for help and when he returned eighteen dead snakes were found, some old ones with many rattles, but the majority being small. Mr. Lamb said there must have been a hundred rattlers in the nest, but no more could be found of those that remained alive.

Stabbing Affray.

A fatal stabbing affray took place at Winnipeg Junction. It appears that Olaus Larson, who lives two miles south and one mile east of Ulen, in Goose Prairie township, was passing along near the depot at Winnipeg Junction at about 11 o'clock at night, when he was assaulted by a party named Ole Molstad. Larson received a thrust from a knife, the blade striking the right temple and penetrating the brain. Larson was taken to the Crookston hospital in a semi-concious condition where an operation was performed. A portion of the skull was removed and a quantity of pus was removed from the effected portion of the brain, but Larson continued to sink and died.

Alleged Horse Thief.

The Winona police rounded up a stranger who is alleged to be a horse thief. He gave his name as M. Kingsley, and the police say he told conflicting stories, one of which was that he is a railway detective. He was overtaken by Herman Bratz, a farmer, on the opposite side of the river in Wisconsin, and was given a ride. When they came into the city, it is alleged, Bratz left his team tied in the street while he went into a store. Coming out twenty minutes later the team and stranger were gone. The police found Kingsley a little later in the lower part of the city.

Tough Citizens.

Terror reigned for a day or more at the village of Little Fork, on the Little Fork river, in the northern part of Itasca county.

Two men supposed to be woodsmen, shot up the saloon of Beasley & Olson, emptied the cash drawer, filled their sacks with cigars and whisky, and then went out on the street and then shot the town up in a most daring manner.

Statue for Northrop.

A more lasting tribute to President Northrop than any that have been tendered him before is being planned by members of the faculty and alumni of the institution. For some time the matter has been discussed and now definite steps have been taken for the erection of a statue of the distinguished educator on some portion of the university campus.

Burned to Death.

Fire broke out in the residence of W. H. Dickinson at Rochester, and for a while the entire block of residences was in danger.

Miss Clara Dickinson was the only person in the house when the fire broke out and burned to death, before she was known to be there, having made no outcry.

News Notes.

Amos Woodman of Baldwin is the victim of a mysterious stabbing affair and is lying at the point of death.

Frank H. Hamilton, who was sent to the penitentiary in February, 1901, for the killing of Leonard Day at the West hotel, Minneapolis, has been released from prison.

The steamer Knute Nelson has been launched at Warroad. Mrs. Gladys Moody broke a bottle of champagne over the prow, and Albert Berg made an address.

The killing of George Judnich while he was hunting on a farm three miles west of Eveleth still remains a mystery. A deer hunter, it is generally believed fired the shot, mistaking his victim for the game he sought.

Delegations of Minneapolis business men appear before the state board of equalization to object to an increase in their assessments.

A small fire in the elevator shaft of the wholesale house of Lindeke, Warner & Sons, was the cause of an alarm sent in St. Paul. The blaze was extinguished with chemicals. There was no damage done.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

LIND IS EMPHATIC.

Congressman Says He is Holding His Last Office,

Congressman John Lind went on record Tuesday as declaring that he is not a candidate for United States senator nor any other appointive or elective position.

"I would accept no office, either appointive or elective," Mr. Lind told his friends at the Democratic state central committee headquaters. "I said that I am out of politics and I meant just what I said."

Mr. Lind made the statement with great earnestness and with evident sincerity. He has been aroused by persistent reports in the opposition press that John A. Johnson's election as governor, which seems to be practically assured, was to be used by him in perfecting an organization in the state that would result in his election as United States senator two years hence.

"But, Mr. Lind," remonstrated Frank A. Day, chairman of the committee, "I have no doubt that you could have a cabinet position in the event of Judge Parker's election as president. Would you not accept so high an honor?"

"It is out of the question," Mr. Lind said, "While it is possible that I might be invited to take a place in Judge Parker's cabinet upon his election, I could not afford to go to Washington with my family and keep up an extensive establishment there on the salary of $7,500 paid the cabinet ministers."

Testimony of a Minister.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years. "If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It's guaranteed by all druggists, Only 50c.

Vote for Lovely.

Fairmont News: Voters when they go to the polls should remember that although Judge John A. Lovely was nominated by the Democrats and is running on the Democratic ticket, he is and always has been a Republican, and that he was fairly nominated by the Republican convention and then counted out. That is, on the first ballot for supreme judges he had a clear majority but the announcement was held back until interested parties induced three counties to change their votes and thus defeat him. Those who took note of the time state that it was thirty-five minutes after the last county had voted before the result was announced. Whether this was accident or design makes no difference. Lovely was fairly nominated and deserves every Republican vote.

Dawn of a Better Day.

Here's one of Growler Allen's ruminations in the Morton Enterprise: "Say but haven't times changed in this old world in the last fifty years along religious lines? When we we were a boy, sixty or seventy years ago, a catholic priest was considered an emissaay of the devil by protestants, while catholics openly acknowledged that hell was peopled with protestants. Well public schools, newspapers and many other things have contributed to make men and women sane, but in Minnesota where we have lived for forty years the men who have contributed most to break down this unreasonable prejudice and ignorance and who by their life and examples have proved themselves the grandest men the state has ever produced excepting none, are John Ireland and Henry B. Whipple. The white mark placed on the state of Minnesota by these men will not be effaced in a thousand years."

There was quite a gathering of county candidates at the Louisville church last Sunday, and short addresses were made by a dozen or more of the people seeking office at the hands of the Red Lake county voters.

C. W. Latta, publisher of the Plummer Pioneer, made this office a pleasant call Saturday while enroute to Crookston to spend Sunday with his family. Charlie says the Pioneer is prospering, and that his town promises to be one of the best on the Soo.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Allard left Monday for Minneapolis, to which place Mr. Allard goes to represent the local lodge of the Modern Brotherhood at the state meeting. Mrs. Allard will visit friends and may conclude to go from there to St. Louis to visit the fair for a week or ten days. Mrs. Allard has been invited to make the trip as the guest of Miss Grace Newberry, one of the successful young ladies in the Minneapolis Tribune voting contest.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bernecke of Olympia, Wash., who have been visiting friends and relatives in the city during the past week, left Sunday afternoon for St. Louis, where they will visit the fair for a week or two. From there they go to New Orleans and San Francisco. Mrs. Bernecke was formerly Miss May Gervais, until two years ago a resident of Red Lake Falls, and the couple are now enjoying their honeymoon trip. They will be at home at Olympia after November 1.

Healthy Nations.

The statement has been made and without contradiction, that the most healthy nations drink the most beer. The Germans, Norwegians and Swedes are types of healthy and vigorous people. Nervousness, dyspepsia and the results of them are little known in these countries, and beer is their national beverage. Everybody drinks it from childhood to old age, but it must be pure beer and that's just what golden grain belt is. The science and knowledge of past generations has gone into the process of making this beer and naturally it's the best that money and care can make it. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex Thompson, Crookston.

Pittsburg Dispatch: "Tim" Woodruff showed his Connecticut shrewdness when he was elected liutenant governor of New York. He had to preside over the senate, but did not know three members by sight, and the prediction was that he'd be at sea. Timothy secured photographs of each senator and thoroughly memorized each face. As soon as the seats were drawn he had a diagram of the room prepared and the face of the occupant of each chair pasted thereon.

RED LAKE FALLS 51; WARREN 0

Local High School Team Again Win Decisive Victory on the Foot Ball Field.

Captain Marshall and his team mates outplayed the boys from the Warren high school in the game of foot ball played on the local grounds last Saturday in every department of the game and won by one a sided score of 51 to 0. It was the first time that teams representing the two schools had ever met, and some speculation was indulged in prior to the game as to what chance the home boys had against their heavier opponents. But all doubt was set to rest when after the first kick off Warren was unable to gain an inch in three downs, and Capt. Marshall on the first play after the ball had been given to his men carried the ball over for a touchdown in less than a minute of play. From that time on it was simply a procession and before time was called in the second half the local boys had made 9 touchdowns, and kicked 6 goals from touchdowns.

The visitors plainly showed that they have had little practice and that their knowledge of the game was mostly of a minus quantity. The only real foot ball element they possessed was grit and "sticktoitiveness." After each touchdown made by the home team the Warren boys would come back smiling with a determination to do or die. The backfield of the visitors can with a little training and coaching be made into an exceptional one for a high school team. The backs are heavy and have plenty of grit but at present move so slow that their plays can easily be checked before reaching the line. It was in tackling that the visitors showed up to the poorest advantage evidently never having had the proper coaching in that line.

The home boys showed improvement over their play in the Ada game in many respects. Their chief fault lay in fumbling. On the whole the plays were run off much faster, and the team went into every play with a snap and a spirit that was pleasing to watch. The back field again comes in for the most praise for their work on both the offensive and defensive. Marshall, Blake, Connaty and Healy certainly make a bad quartette for other teams to run up against. In advancing the ball they play well together, start quickly and hit their opponents line hard. These are the qualities that insure good ground gaining. Besides on the defense the boys back up the line men in a manner that would do credit to many college teams. In carrying the ball the work of Garceau and Columbus in the line should come in for fully as much praise as the work of the backs. And in the matter of defensive playing Johnson at end is easily the peer of any man on the team.

The local boys are playing good foot ball, the only weakness in the team seeming to be in the line. It will be necessary in some of the games to come for the line men to hold better and not depend upon the backs to stop quite so many of the plays. We say this not to criticise but simply as a friendly suggestion.

Next Saturday it is planned to play the Fosston team on the local grounds. This will mean a hard contest as the Fosston team has had the advantages of the coaching of John Warren, the old Minnesota guard. Let every one turn out and by their presence encourage the home team to do their best. That is all that is necessary to win.

PROPERTY VALUES BOOSTED

An Average Raise of 40 Per Cent on Personal Property in the County.

The changes made by the state board of equalization were reported to the auditor's office this week. No change was made in the real estate assessment, but personal property schedules were given severe jolts. The raises are as follows:

The assessment of the First State Bank of Thief River Falls was decreased 10 per cent.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Edited by the Spartan Society—Mayme Linnihan, Blanche Berthiaume and Walter Jonhson, Reporters.

The Spartans held a meeting last Friday and elected officers as follows: President, Iza Tibbetts; secretary, Ella Krueger; treasurer, Ewald Zaiser. The program committee is Margaret Kaus, Clara Marchand and Harry Garceau. The reporting committee is Mayme Linnihan, Blanche Berthiaume and Walter Johnson.

The Athenians will give their first program next Friday. It is expected to be a good one and all are cordially invited.

The football boys are practicing hard this week, as they expect to "snap" in the game Saturday.

Walter Buse has been lame this week as a result of a sprain in foot ball practice.

Fred Richard wes a visitor to the high school Wednesday morning.

The Athenians will give the play "Hearts and Diamonds" in the near future.

Prof. Chamberlain has informed the foot ball boys that they will have to keep up in their studies or it will be necessary to quit the game.

Drew Marshall was absent Monday and Tuesday, but has again resumed his studies.

The Freshies have organized.

The high school was visited Wednesday morning by an "eight-sided octopus.

BANGS & CO. CLOSING OUT

J. W. Rodgers to Become Manager of a Store at Granite Falls Purchased This Week.

As will be noticed by an advertisement in this issue the old established firm of Bangs & Co. is to retire from business in Red Lake Falls, and the entire stock of goods will be closed out at a sacrifice in order to dispose of them quickly.

A deal was closed a few days ago whereby Bangs & Co. become the owners of a store at Granite Falls, and J. W. Rodgers, the manager of the business at this place, will leave in the near future to take charge of the business.

Bangs & Co. are the oldest general merchants in Red Lake Falls, their store having been established about eighteen years ago, and during all of that time Mr. Rodgers has been manager of the business. Of late they have been seriously handicapped by lack of a suitable room, and have been obliged to reduce their stock and discontinue entirely some of their lines. Rather than go to the expense of erecting a building they have decided to move to another town where they are able to rent a suitable building.

Red Lake Falls will be sorry to learn of the removal of Mr. Rodgers and his estimable family. They enjoy the respect and warm regard of all, and in business circles Mr. Rodgers' word has always been considered as good as his bond. Granite Falls is certainly to be congratulated upon acquiring such a desirable family.

Arthur Zaiser was the guest of friends at Crookston over Sunday.

A heating plant is being installed in the residence of Mrs. E. F. Marshall.

JOHN LIND WILL SPEAK HERE

Congressman and Former Governor Scheduled to Address Citizens of Red Lake Falls.

Congressman John Lind will deliver a speech at Red Lake Falls during the campaign in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. Some months ago Mr. Lind gave the editor of this paper assurances that he would be here, for the reason that Mr. Lind has a warm spot for Red Lake county. It twice rolled up a majority of over a thousand for him when a candidate for governor. No public man in Minnesota stands higher in the estimation of the people of this county than John Lind, and there will be a monster crowd to greet him on the occasion of his appearance here.

The exact date of Mr. Lind's speech is not known at this writing. Word was received yesterday from the Democratic state central committee that Red Lake Falls was on the list of towns he is to visit, but the itinerary will not be prepared for a few days. Due notice will be given through the newspapers and by hand bills.

The Crookston College will begin a new term October 31.

Miss Cora Paul went to Grand Forks today for a visit with relatives.

DEATH IN A DESERT.

BONES OF TWENTY MEN FOUND IN CALIFORNIA.

Are Discovered in Reclaimed Tract in Imperial Valley — Mute Evidences of Suffering and Starvation.

"Mute evidences of the unspeakable suffering and horrible deaths of some 20 men from starvation were found in the clearing of the land in the imperial valley of California," said A. H. Heber, president of a company which has reclaimed 500,000 acres of the former desert.

"These were the skeletons of 20 men, which were found in little bunches of twos and threes bleached and dried by the fierce desert sun. They constituted the only traces of men who had probably been missing for years, and whose friends never knew their whereabouts.

"Some of these skeletons were found west of what is now Imperial, 15 miles from the foot of the mountains in the open plain. They had evidently been searching for New river, a stream which flows about one month in the year, to drain the desert of its summer rains. Their bones were in little piles a mile from the river. Others were found in the Alato River valley, on the east side of the Imperial valley, between the sand hills.

"But the saddest find was that of a number of piles of bones which showed that five men had perished at one time from thirst within a hundred yards of each other. These bones were scattered all around, and there were some traces of vehicles in the mountains not far off, where the bones of animals told the tale of starvation which had been the end of the little party."

"This was the only instance in which traces of vehicles were found, and the supposition is that most of the men whose bones were found had been afoot and had probably gotten lost in the desert while looking for their wagons. This thing was not uncommon, for it is almost impossible in the Colorado desert to find directions. While we were laying out the town of Imperial we had an instance of this in the loss of a young Japanese cook. The young fellow was employed in our surveying party and started out one day to find a friend who was employed as a cook in a camp about four miles distant. He lost his way and failed to return. Searching parties were started out to find him. They traced him for six days, but finally entirely lost the trial and had to return to the camp. The Japanese was never heard of and I presume his bones will be found some day."

VETERANS TAKEN CARE OF.

More Than 2,000 Work in Executive Department and Almost 400 of Their Widows Employed.

The civil service commission, in compliance with a request from the house committee on civil service reform, has prepared a statement showing that the total number of former soldiers and sailors of the civil war employed in the executive departments at Washington is 2,175, and the widows of the veterans so employed 388.

The information was asked in view of complaints that there are many superannuated clerks on the pay rolls.

The largest number of veterans, 641, are employed in the interior department, while the treasury department carries 553 and the war department 347. There are only 23 veterans on the navy department roll and only seven in the state department.

The ages of the old soldiers and sailors vary from 50 to 82 years. There are 217 who are 61 years old, while those one year younger form the next larger class, 197 in number. Nearly two-thirds, or 1,388, are from 58 to 65 years of age. Those over 70 years of age number 226, and of this number 11 are over 80.

The veteran with the longest service is 77 years old. He has served 52 years. Nearly two-thirds, or 1,332, of the 2,175 veterans receive salaries ranging from $1,200 to $2,500 per annum, while 66 receive more than $2,500 per annum. Those receiving $840 or less number 476.

The veterans and veteran's widows constitute 10 per cent. of the number of persons employed in the departments and government printing office in Washington.

Alaska.

Hon. Frank M. Eddy in Sauk Center Herald: When we started on our trip to Alaska we promised ourselves that on our way return we would write up the impressions of our trip for the benefit of our readers. The subject is too big for us. It is a country of wonderful possibilities and limitless resources. It is a luscious apple and we have only taken the paring from one end. Its surface has only been scratched in spots, yet the results are almost incredible. Its lumber resources are great. Its waters teem with fish sufficient to feed the armies of the world. It contains fine marble enough to build a capital for every county, state and nation in the universe. Its gold in quartz veins and placer surfaces would pay off the national debt of christendom, and there is copper sufficient to sheathe the hulls of the merchant marine and navies of the world. It is a great country.

RED LAKE COURIER.

CONTINUING THE RED LAKE COUNTY COURIER.

VOL. VII—NO. 3. RED LAKE FALLS, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1904. WHOLE NO. 315.

Ex-Gov. John Lind

Will address the voters of Red Lake County at the Metropolitan Opera House, Red Lake Falls, on

at 8 p. m., in behalf of the Democratic state ticket. The band will be out, and every voter in the county should hear Governor Lind's oratary and argument. This will be the big rally of the campaign. Don't miss it.

REPUBLICANS HOLD RALLY

A. D. Smith and J. Ham Davidson Address Good-Sized Crowd at Opera House.

The "first gun" of the campaign was fired at the opera house Saturday evening by the Republicans. The band was out, and the Metropolitan was fairly well filled by an audience composed of nearly equal parts of men, women and children. Perhaps the most noticeable feature was the absence from the stage of many leading Republicans, who because of opposition to the head of the Republican state ticket refused to take part in the meeting.

Dr. N. M. Watson, chairman of the county committee, presided and made an eloquent and forceful address, lauding the county candidates individually and working in every now and then a word of praise for Robert C. Dunn.

The first speaker was Thomas Germo, candidate for county attorney, who gave a very good account of himself and presented a number of excellent reasons why he should be preferred next November.

A French speaker, Dr. Pelchier, spoke for about twenty minutes to his countrymen, and it was said to have been a good address, free from bitterness or malevolence.

The disappointment of the evening was the talk by A. D. Smith, of Minneapolis. Mr. Smith not only did not understand the issues of the campaign, but he took occasion to misrepresent Hon. John A. Johnson, the Democratic candidate for governor. A few of his misstatements are referred to editorially this week.

Hon. J. Ham Davidson, formerly of St. Paul, but now located at Chicago, spoke for half an hour on national issues. Mr. Davidson is a pleasing, if not convincing speaker. His stories are inimitable, his language choice and his delivery superb. He made a good presentation of the Republican side of the case, and got into deep water but once—when he tried to tell his audience that the duty on Canadian wheat ought to be raised because some of the wily Canadians had found a method of raising wheat so cheaply that they could pay the 25 cent duty and still sell in the United States in competition with the wheat raised on this side of the line. Of course he forgot to say that on the day this wheat was shipped to United States the price of wheat in Canada was exactly the same as here, making due allowance for transportation charges, and just why the fool Canadian farmer wanted to present the government of the United States with 25 cents on each bushel is not clear. Mr. Davidson evidently believes with Congressman McCleary that the tariff should be "revised upward." By all means let us watch the wily Canadian farmer. He may want to trade with us, and what more dire calamity could happen the Red River valley?

The meeting closed with three cheers for the speakers and Bob Dunn. The applause came long and loud from the stage, but the audience could not be enthused.

FOR JOHNSON AND WINSTON

Governor John Lind to Open the Campaign in Red Lake Falls Next Tuesday Night.

Congressman and Former Governor John Lind will address the people of Red Lake county at the Metropolitan opera house in Red Lake Falls next Tuesday evening, October 25.

This will undoubtedly be one of the largest and most enthusiastic political meetings ever held in the county, and the Democratic committee is certainly fortunate in securing a speaker of the caliber of Mr. Lind. If there was ever any doubt but that John A. Johnson would carry Red Lake county the rally next Tuesday night is calculated to dispel the gloom of the most pessimistic.

Mr. Lind's speech will be devoted entirely to a discussion of state issues. Probably no man in the state is better acquainted with Minnesota politics or better qualified to speak to the voters respecting the issues before them in the present campaign.

Girls and boys, we gave a pair of Little Red School House shoes away free last week. Come in and see if you cannot get a pair.—Garceau & Zaiser.

MAN MURDERED AT MENTOR

Details of Crime Show it to Have Been Most Brutal—Men Were Hunting Together.

Sheriff Sullivan and eight deputy sheriffs are still scouring the country for Joseph Guilmette, who killed a man supposed to be Thomas Fontaine, of Woonsocket, R. I., one mile east of Mentor Monday afternoon. It is expected that he will be rounded up at an early date. A telegram from Fertile today is to the effect that Guilmette was seen at Fertile last evening and tried to buy a case for his shot gun at a hardware store. He was headed south when he left that place. A letter found in the pocket of the deceased bore the name of Albert Desrochers of the firm of Desrochers Bros., druggists, of Woonsocket, and it is thought he is the same man who has been gathering spruce gum in northern Minnesota for some time past.

As the details of the murder come to light the crime shows up in the light of one of the most bloody, brutal and fiendish recorded in northern Minnesota. From the latest nvestigation the details are as follows:

Fontaine and the murderer, whose name is Joseph Guilmette, had been in the vicinity of Mentor for several days. Last Friday the two men showed up at the LePage farm and in a conversation with Fontaine the fact developed that he and LePage came from the same vicinity in the east and knew many of the same people. He owned a farm in the east and was well-to-do, and had considerable money on his person, but the exact amount is not known Fontaine made arrangements to have a hunt with LePage later.

Friday night the two men stayed at the LePage farm and started hunting Saturday morning. That day no one seems to know where they went, but they were seen in Mentor Sunday and at the restauaant, the employes of which personally identified Fontaine, as did LePage. Sunday night they staid over night at a farm house near town and again started out hunting. Monday afternoon the two men were seen passing along on the railroad track by several members of the Mareaux family, who were picking up potatoes not more than four blocks from the track and not more than five or six blocks from where the murder occurred.

A few moments after they passed the Mareaux family heard a shot and 10 minutes later a second shot, but were not surprised, as at this season of the year shooting is general. Fontaine was shot beside the railroad track, the first shot taking effect just behind the ear and tearing its way through the back of the head and coming out on the other side.

The murderer then took his victim by the heels, flopped him over, dragging him face downward down the track over the uneven railroad ties, later rolling the remains down the embankment and dragging them into the brush along the track. The remains were horribly mutilated as the result of their having been dragged over the rough ties and gravel. The body was almost disemboweled and the face was disfigured horribly and bore no resemblance to a human being until after considerable work by Coroner Chesterman.

After the body had been dragged to the brush Guilmette, to make his work sure, fired another shot full into the face and held the gun so close that the gun's wad was buried in the dirt on either side of the remains about an inch deep.

Mrs. C. J. Chapman left yesterday for her home in Duluth after a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. John Sutter.

It is not so much to make clothes, as to make them fit. If you ever ever were of the opinion that all sack suits are alike, you'd better discard the notion at once. So many makers work on the theory that a sack suit has no rights in the matter of advanced ideas that they look upon this garment as an established staple. In Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes those little features of fashion which often mean the vital part of a garment's true value, are always evident. Sometimes it's in the length of the coat, or the size or shape of the lapels. It doesn't cost any more to have your clothes "up to the minute" here, where you know you can always get the latest, and that only. Good style cost you nothing.

TRYING TO STEM TIDE OF DEFEAT

KUROPATKIN FIGHTING DESPERATELY TO SAVE HIS BATTERED ARMY.

JAPANESE VICTORIES WERE EXAGGERATED

Russian Defeat Said to Have Been Not as Bad as at First Reported—Lone Tree Hill Recaptured—Advance of Japs Continues.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 18.—Despite the feeling of bitter disappointment over the failure of the Russian offensive and the complete miscarriage of Gen. Kuropatkin's plans, the battle continues and his defeat does not appear to be so crushing and disastrous as the Tokio telegrams led the Russian public to suppose. While the tales of death and slaughter have plunged the nation into grief, and the exact situation of Kuropatkin's army, especially the left, is not clear but probably must be regarded as critical, it is evident that the wild stories of a rout and of the cutting off of a whole corps, etc., are baseless. Kuropatkin is still doggedly trying to stem the tide and there is nothing but admiration for the heroic figure of the Russian commander personally directing the fight to save his battered legions.

Lone Tree Hill Recaptured.

Indeed the latest official dispatches almost revive the hope that he does not consider the battle to be irretrievably lost, as he has personally launched attack after attack against the strong Japanese position on Lone Tree hill, south of Shakhe, at last carrying it by storm and obtaining some revenge for the loss of the Third artillery brigade by capturing 11 field pieces and one machine gun. But whether this offensive move of Kuropatkin was forced in order to extricate his flanks is not revealed, the war office affirming that it is unable to communicate precise information regarding what is occurring on the left.

Slaughter Is Appalling.

Everything proves that not since the time of the ancients, and certainly not within a hundred years, has the world witnessed such desperate fighting. The slaughter doubtless is appalling, but the war office contends that the Tokio reports are exaggerated. Nevertheless a war correspondent telegraphs under Sunday's date that 23,000 wounded had passed through Mukden on their way north, not counting many from the eastern wing who went through from Fushun direct to Tie pass. In spite of the better tone of the official dispatches, however, the public continues pessimistic, notwithstanding the appeals of the newspapers not to despair, the Novoe Vremya boldly announcing in its issue of Monday that the battle is not yet decided.

Battle Still Raging.

Official reports received by the war office Monday morning say the battle was resumed at daybreak, that the Russians still hold the right bank of the Shakhe river, that the pressure on the Russian left has been relieved and that the contest is continuing on the right, where the Japanese are still seeking to break through the Russian center, evidently in order to get possession of the railroad and cut off the Russian army from Mukden. Unofficial reports say the Russians had some successes at Shakhe Sunday, where Gen. Kuropatkin again took the offensive.

While admitting that the Russian losses are very heavy, but not offering figures, the general staff declares the Japanese reports of the Russian losses are exaggerated while their own are minimized.

Lonely Tree hill is situated near Shakhe, about three miles east of the railroad. The Shakhe river runs round its base. The Japanese seized the hill during the night of October 15, overpowering the two Russian regiments which previously were in possession of it. Russian reenforcements were hurried up and early the following morning opened a sustained artillery fire. Subsequently the Russian infantry stormed the hill and fierce fighting at close quarters followed. Numbers of Japanese were bayoneted in the trenches and ultimately the defenders were driven out after several hours of fighting. The losses were heavy.

Japs Continue Advance.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—It is reported from reliable private sources that the Japanese are continuing their advance and that they have occupied additional positions south of the Shakhe river. The left army occupied Wufukiatun at noon Sunday, dislodging four or five battalions of Russian infantry and several batteries of artillery and crushingly repulsing a subsequent counter attack. Artillery from the center and infantry from the left army are harassing the Russian retreat.

The Russians fiercely assailed Gen. Oku's left column Sunday and made six counter attacks, all of which were successfully repulsed. At sunset, when the last telegram was sent from the field, the Russians were advancing for a seventh attack. Field Marshal Oyama reports that the Russian losses on these attacks were heavy.

Result Still Undecided.

Berlin, Oct. 18.—Col. Gaedke, the war correspondent of the Tageblatt, telegraphs from Mukden that when he left the battlefield Sunday at 3:30 p. m. a general engagement was in progress which was not yet decisive, although not unfavorable for the Russians. The battle opened at seven o'clock in the morning 12 miles south of Mukden. At about two p. m. he heard heavy artillery firing in the mountains eastwards, where he understood Gen. Stakelberg was attacking the Japanese right. An immense number of wounded were arriving at Mukden. On this, the eighth day of the fighting, the weather was fine.

The Russian losses during the past nine days, the colonel adds, have been nearly 30,000.

Col. Gaedke sent another dispatch, dated Saturday, which was detained at St. Petersburg, describing the operations on the Russian right, which he accompanied. He says that after four days' hard fighting, with heavy losses, the Russians had reached a point at the base of the precipitous heights of Tumin pass, which was occupied by Japanese. The Russians were only about 300 to 500 yards distant from the Japanese positions and intended storming them the morning of the 13th, but the order to retreat arrived during the night. The Russians fought with admirable persistence and skill. Their artillery was somewhat greater than that of the Japanese in the number of guns and far superior in effectiveness. The infantry and artillery cooperated with great success. In retreating from the pass the Russian forces got away without firing a shot. The wounded were carried away on stretchers. The incessant artillery firing heard from the Russian center and right on the 14th was considerably stronger than the firing at Liaoyang.

The Russian Losses.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—A report dealing with the Russian casualties received here at midnight says that the Russian dead, as already investigated, total 8,550, but their losses during the two days of fierce engagements on October 14 and 15 are not included in this number. Moreover, there are some undiscovered dead by all of the armies, so that the enemy's dead left on the field will reach a total of over 10,000.

The Japanese Losses.

Fragmentary reports of Japanese casualties are coming in. Gen. Oku, up to and including October 14, lost 3,500 men. Estimates of the total Japanese losses are not possible, but they are small in comparison with the frightful losses of the Russians. During the five days from October 10 to October 14, inclusive, our losses were about 2,500 killed and wounded, officers included.

Kuropatkin Obeyed Orders.

Tokio, Oct. 18.—According to statements made by Russian prisoners, Gen. Kuropatkin was ordered by Emperor Nicholas to make a stand at Mukden, and to assume the aggressive as speedily as possible in order to relieve the Port Arthur garrison. This order, the prisoners say, reached Mukden on September 27, and Gen. Kuropatkin, in obedience to it, began his disastrous southern advance movement. The prisoners declared that the war would continue for a long time, because the Russians had decided to attain a final victory, regardless of the losses which might be involved, as otherwise a defeat would mean a general revolution and the disintegration of Russian territory.

BLAME IS FIXED.

Commission Investigating the Slocum Horror Makes Its Report.

Washington, Oct. 18.—In a scathing and voluminous report made public Monday the responsibility for the Gen. Slocum disaster, which occurred on June 15 last, was definitely lodged upon officials of the New York steamboat inspection service by the United States commission appointed on June 23 to investigate and report upon the cause of the fire in which 1,000 persons perished.

In connection with the report is presented a letter from President Roosevelt to Secretary Victor H. Metcalf, of the department of commerce and labor, reviewing the report of the commission and directing him to discharge from the public service all inspectors to whose inefficiency and neglect the disaster was, according to the commission, largely attributable.

In accordance with the president's instructions, Robert S. Bodle, supervising inspector of the Second district, steamboat inspection service, and James A. Dumont and Thomas H. Barrett, local inspectors in charge of the port of New York, will be discharged.

The findings of the commission upon which President Roosevelt based his recommendations are that the fire apparatus of the Gen. Slocum was sadly inefficient; that the master made no effort to fight the fire; that the pilots had ample time and opportunity to beach the vessel before the flames had secured much headway; that the officers and crew were negligent in the discharge of their duty; and that the system of steamboat inspection in New York was grossly lax and negligent.

Fatal Street Car Accident.

Washington, Oct. 18.—E. R. Sprague was killed, another man was seriously injured, and about 20 others sustained minor injuries in a street car accident at Reckington, a subdivision of this city, Monday. The car, containing between 80 and 90 passengers, mostly clerks on the way from suburban points to the government departments, struck a sharp curve when, it is supposed, the flange of one of the front wheels broke. The car slid off the tracks and turned on its side.

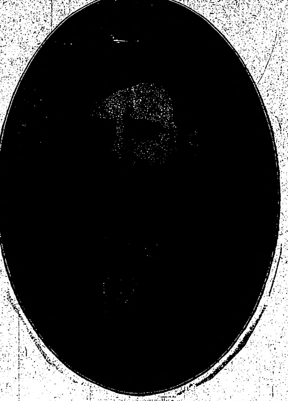
Invented Match Making Machine.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 18.—Ebenezer B. Beecher, a well-known match manufacturer and a son of Anson Beecher, whose invention of a machine completely revolutionized the match-making industry, is dead here at the age of 74.

Warehouse Burned.

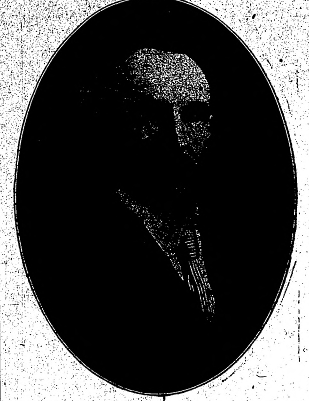
Salem, Ore., Oct. 18.—Fire, which is believed to have been incendiary, has destroyed a flax warehouse leased by Eugene Bosse. Flax valued at $40,000 was burned and the property loss will reach $50,000.

Sheriff Daniel Linnihan....



Daniel Linnihan, who was nominated for sheriff of Red Lake county to succeed himself by the Democratic party at the primary election last month, is one of the most popular men in the county, and will undoubtedly be re-elected by a large majority. Mr. Linnihan has made a good official and is deserving of the votes of the people of the county who desire an able administration of the affairs of the sheriff's office.

Auditor JAMES E. FORD



Democratic Candidate for Re-election.....

County Auditor James E. Ford is a candidate for re-election He has performed the duties of the office so satisfactorily that there is scarcely any opposition to him this year. It is freely predicted that his majority will be considerably more than a thousand. If capability and honesty count for anything he ought to be chosen unanimously. Mr. Ford is making a campaign just as though there was a fight on, and he will greatly appreciate the support and votes of the people of the county. When election day comes around don't forget Jim Ford, the best county auditor we ever had.

INDIA RUBBER.

The Second Voyage of Columbus Gave It Publicity.

The first notice of india rubber dates back 500 years, when Herrera, a Spanish historian, during the second voyage of Columbus, saw that "the natives of Haiti played with balls made of the gum of a tree, which were lighter and bounced better than the wind balls of Castile."

In a record published in Madrid, 1615, we are told: "There is a tree which the Indians call ulequahuitl, very high, with round, ashy gray leaves. It yields a milky substance, thick and gummy, in great abundance, which is collected and allowed to settle in calabashes and afterward softened in hot water or smeared over the body and rubbed off when sufficiently dry."

Even at that early date Spaniards used the juice of the ule tree to waterproof their cloaks.

The first accurate account of these gum elastic or caoutchouc trees was furnished by La Condamine, who was sent in 1735 by the French government to measure an arc of the meridian near Quito.

It was introduced into Europe as a drug about 1730, and some fifty years later was used commercially as rubber for pencil marks and to waterproof clothing.

THE WATER LOTUS.

A Plant That Has the Power of Purifying Standing Water.

There is a plant growing in the southern waters of the United States which possesses the singular property of being able to render the most impure standing water perfectly healthy. The people of Louisiana and Mississippi call it the water lotus.

It consists of leaves about the size of the head of a pin and roots so fine as to escape notice save under a microscopic inspection. Where it grows at all, it covers the water and to the casual observer looks like a coating of green scum. The flowers and seeds are microscopic, so that its appearance in any given locality is not readily accounted for, but wherever it does appear the water beneath is always fit to drink.

So marked is this property that families using the water from bayous where the lotus is abundant are known to have better general health than those taking their drinking water from places where the lotus is not found. It is often transplanted into ponds, bayous and lakes, spreads with wonderful rapidity and never fails to do its work well.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HOMES OF HEALING.

The History of Hospitals Begins With the First Century.

The temple at Epidaurus was founded by Antoninus Pius at the end of the first century A. D. in honor of Æsculapius, Homer's blameless physician. Beyond the sacred inclosure was a building for the reception of the sick and dying, which Strabo describes as a place renowned for the cure of all diseases, always full of invalids and containing votive tablets descriptive of cures.

About 380 A. D. a hospital was founded by Valens and richly endowed by him at Cæsarea, and another at Rome by Fabiola, a wealthy Roman widow, for the reception of the sick poor.

Basil is said by Gregory, the presbyter, to have built a large hospital for lepers with money collected for the purpose. The Hotel Dieu in Paris, founded in the seventh century, and two founded in 1080 by Lanfranc, archbishop of Canterbury, were both connected with monastic establishments. Bartholomew's, 1547, and St. Thomas', 1553, are the oldest hospitals in London and were both originally religious foundations.

Omens In Tea.

When the tea is made and the lid of the teapot is forgotten for a minute or two it is a sure sign that some one will drop in for the meal. Two spoons put by chance into the saucer of a maid or a bachelor denote that he or she will be married within a year. Putting cream into your tea before you sweeten it will bring you love troubles. A tea stalk floating in a girl's teacup is a "beau." She should stir her tea briskly and then hold the spoon upright in the center. If the "beau" be attracted toward the spoon and cling to it a gentleman visitor may be expected some time that evening. If, however, the "beau" goes to the side of the cup the visitor will not come that day.

Messages of War.

Among the natives of Australia notched and carved sticks are used for messages. For instance, a piece of wood carried from one village to another with straight and curved lines cut upon it is a message of war and means: "There is a fight on hand. Fetch your spears and boomerangs."

The North American Indians utilized wampum belts from time immemorial for like purposes. The arrangement of the different colored beads conveyed the signification desired.

Playing Safe.

"Look here, sir! You have been calling on my daughter every night for the past six months!"

"But I can't afford to get married, sir, and if I call on any other girl I'm afraid I might fall in love with her."—Smart Set.

What Did She Mean?

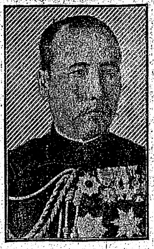
Alice—Yes, I accepted George at once. I knew when he proposed to me he was wholly unselfish. Bertha—Oh, nobody could ever have any doubt about that!—Boston Transcript.

The easiest way to get along with some people is to let them think they are right.—Atchison Globe.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA

A COMPARISON of the fighting qualities of the men who compose the respective armies of Russia and Japan is of peculiar interest just now, when relations between the two nations are strained almost to the breaking point and both are busy with preparations for war.

To begin, it would appear at first glance that little Japan is courting defeat in throwing down the gauntlet to the Russian bear when the military establishments of the rivals are considered. The whole Japanese army, officers and men, on a war footing figures up only 600,000, while the war strength of Russia is 5,617,703 officers and men.



GENERAL FUKUSHIMA, HERO OF THE RELIEF OF PEKING.

But it is not sheer weight of numbers that always wins victories, and some military authorities believe that the Jap would beat the bear in an armed clash, as he did China in the war of 1894. They recognize that the army of the island empire is a compact and homogeneous whole, organized in accordance with the best western methods, commanded by officers trained in the best schools of the occident.

It has often been affirmed by those conversant with the facts that the morale of the Japanese army is second to none in the world. Another point to be noted, notwithstanding the generally accepted idea to the contrary, is that the Jap is not inferior physically to the best soldiers in the world today. In the crack Japanese regiments five feet seven, eight and nine inches are common heights, and, what is more important than height, the Jap sailor or soldier impresses the observer as of sturdier build than even the Englishman or American.

It has been said that, though the Japanese army and navy might be expected to fight well if successful from the start, a few reverses in the beginning would induce a panic. History disproves this theory.

One of Japan's greatest military geniuses is General Yasumasa Fukushima, who during the early operations for the relief of Peking in the Boxer uprising of 1900 led the Japanese troops and later in the campaign commanded one brigade of 6,000 men, while the second brigade, containing the same number of men, was led by General Yamaguchi. General Fukushima's troops did more than any other to bring about the capture of Tientsin, and his infantry charge upon the Tientsin arsenal, carried out under cover of his own guns, is described as "a marvel to the military men of other nations." A few days later General Fukushima was a potent factor in the capture of Tientsin, and his men, despite great loss, blew up one of the gates and were the first to enter the city. In the march on Peking both Fukushima and Yamaguchi took orders from a Russian, General Linevich, who was the senior officer of the allies.

Johnson a Winner.

Waseca Herald: A correspondent at Mountain Lake, on the Omaha road, writes that the village of Mountain Lake, where but three Democratic ballots were cast two years ago welcomed John A. Johnson most heartily.

As a result of his visit and speech the conditions this year are likely to be reversed.

Mr. Johnson spoke in response to a petition signed by 152 Republicans, including practically every Republican in the village and several from adjoining townships.

With but three Democrats in Mountain Lake, the recepton of Mr. Johnson was necessarily a Republican affairs, and right well did they take care of it.

A band hired by Republicans furnished the music, a reception committee made up of Republicans met Mr. Johnson at the train, and the committee that occupied seats on the stage was composed of Republicans. It was a Republican, Professor Olin, who presided, and Republicans escorted Mr. Johnson about the village and introduced him to the Republican business men.

Mr. Johnson spoke to 250 voters and there were not a dozen Democrats present. Wagers are offered that Dunn will not receive six votes in Mountain Lake.

INHERITED SCROFULA

When a child I had a very severe attack of Diphtheria, which came near proving fatal. Upon recovery the glands of the neck were very much enlarged, and after the free use of iodine, the right one was reduced to its normal size, but the left one continued to grow—very slowly at first, until it was about the size of a goose egg, which began to press on the windpipe, causing difficult breathing, and became very painful. An incision was made and a large quantity of pus discharged. The gland was removed, or as much as could with safety be taken out. For ten years I wore a little piece of cloth about an inch long in my neck to keep the place open. During this time I had to have it cut open by the doctor every time I took cold or the opening clogged. In the Spring or early Summer of 1884 I was persuaded by my wife to use S. S. S., which I did, strictly in accordance with directions. I took twenty-six large bottles, and was entirely cured, for I have not suffered since that time. B. S. RAGLAND.

Red Lake Courier.
Printed Every Thursday Evening at Red Lake Falls, Minnesota.
By JOHN E. KING.
$1.00 Per Year, in Advance.

THE "roorback" season is approaching.

DOWIE says he will remit your sins, but he would much rather have you remit your money.

JUDGE COLLINS sarcastically remarks that he has his self-respect left and he intends to keep it.

IT must not be forgotten that Van-Sant's plurality was perilously small when McKinley carried the state by 77,000.

THEY are having a warm time tonight along the banks of the Wabash, and it will keep up until the campaign closes.

IF the lumbermen are really desirous of defeating the Republican state ticket it would have been in better taste to leave Ray Jones off the ticket.

THE voters have only a little more than two weeks to make up their minds. It now looks as though a majority of them had decided to stand by the Democratic county ticket.

"IT seems a little paradoxical," says an exchange, "but Republicans are figuring on both winning and losing in Wisconsin." And the Minneapolis Times observes that the same phenomenon is observable in Minnesota.

IF John A. Johnson is not elected governor of Minnesota there is no virtue in signs or straw votes. In 1898 when John Lind was elected the Republican disaffection was only a ripple compared with the conditions today.

FROM a strictly ethical point of view it ought not be worse for a common every-day Republican to support the Democratic candidate for governor than for the secretary of the Republican county committee to support an independent candidate for county commissioner.

MR. SMITH explains that Congressman Buckman's sawyers "unintentionally" got over on the state's land while they were engaged in cutting logs, and that therefore there was no lapse of moral turpitude on the part of Buckman. This hardly agrees with Bob Dunn's statement that "collecting from Buckman was like getting money from home."

THE estimating stage has been reached in the governorship fight. The Ninth district is supposed to furnish a majority of 11,000 for Dunn according to the Republican claims. Polk is put down for 2,800 for Dunn and Red Lake 375. As the Democrats figure that Polk county will go for Johnson by at least 1,000 and Red Lake by 600 there is a slight divergency in the estimates.

MRS. J. J. DOE, the Republican nominee for superintendent of schools, has taught in the district schools of Waseca, LeSueur, and Polk counties, Minnesota, and Cass and Traill counties, North Dakota. For the past nine years she has been employed in the graded schools of Red Lake Falls. She holds first grade certificates, and is in every way qualified to look after the needs of the district schools of Red Lake county.

WILL the Banner kindly tell us the names of the towns in the southern part of the state that have Roosevelt and Johnson clubs? Also, who are the "promment Republicans in every part of the state who are coming out openly for Johnson?"—Warren Register:

Write to Hawley or Lafayette, Minn.

As to the second query the list is too long. Doubtless there are plenty of Johnson Republicans in the Register's own town to show that Republican disaffection is alarming the party leaders.

THE Warren Register does THE COURIER an injustice in construing a recent article in this paper to mean that Jim Martin was given a money consideration to get in line for the Republican state ticket. It is generally understood that before Martin would take charge of the state campaign he was promised the appointment of internal revenue collector at the close of the campaign. This certainly means that an "inducement" was offered the whilom Collins manager.

"THAT MAN JOHNSON."

Mr. A. D. Smith, a briefless barrister and curbstone politician hailing from Minneapolis, occupied half an hour's time at the Republican meeting Saturday night in misrepresenting Hon. John A. Johnson, Democratic candidate for governor. Mr. Johnson was referred to contemptuously as "that man Johnson," and Mr. Smith desired to leave with his hearers the inference that Mr. Johnson was not possessed of the ability or political experience to make a good governor, and that he was not popular in his own town and county. Of course Mr. Smith probably did not know that the Red Lake county voters had seen and heard Mr. Johnson, nor did he know that Mr. Johnson's popularity here was so great that he will receive nearly half of the Republican votes.

In speaking of Mr. Johnson's three campaigns for the state senate the speaker stated that the first time he run for that office he was "overwhelmingly defeated;" that in the second campaign he was elected by a bare majority, and that the third time he was again "overwhelmingly defeated." These statements do not accord with the figures given by the legislative manuals. Mr. Johnson was first a candidate for the state senate in 1894. He was defeated by a Mr. Peterson by a plurality of 133, and this year Knute Nelson had a plurality of 657 in Nicollet county, which comprises the Twentieth legislative district. This shows that Mr. Johnson ran 524 ahead of his ticket. Not such an "overwhelming defeat" after all! In 1898 Mr. Johnson was elected by a plurality of 105, and the average majority for the Republican state ticket that year was 502, showing that he ran 607 ahead of his ticket. Was this but "a bare majority"? In 1902 Mr. Johnson was defeated by a pluratity of 88, while Van Sant had a plurality over Rosing of 493, again showing Mr. Johnson running ahead of his ticket by 405. What an "overwhelming defeat" that was! And in the last campaign it is generally understood that he was defeated by reason of a confusion of names. The Republican candidate was Mr. C. A Johnson, and the similarity led many voters into the error of voting for the Republican when they intended to vote for the return of the Democratic candidate.

It is only by distortion of facts and downright prevarication that even a semblance of a campaign can be made against John A. Johnson. The Republican state ticket is on the defensive. The hired men of the Smith type make no votes for the Republican candidates. Mr. Smith speaks for any man or party that will pay the price he asks. Political convictions, party or personal preferences cut no figures with him, and his diatribes and sneering references to Hon. John A. Johnson have no more sincerity nor honesty than he plea of the paid prosecutor.

JOHNSON'S WINNING PERSONALITY.

The Democratic candidate for governor, Hon. John A. Johnson, possesses in wonderful degree those rare traits of personality which win men at first contact.

The Duluth Herald, noticing Mr. Johnson's recent meeting in that city, has the following to say regarding his powers to move and influence men:

"Expressions were free at the conclusion of the meeting that he is one of the most effective campaign speakers Minnesota has, not ranking second even to John Lind. Mr. Johnson does not depend upon a discussion of the political issues to hold the attention of his hearers. His remarks are frequently enlivened by sparkling side lights of humor and wit, with an occasional funny story, well told and apt to keep the people in good spirits.

"But it does not in the least appear that Mr. Johnson is making an effort to entertain, or even greatly interest his audience. Apparently his abundant fund of wit and humor, and crisp and fresh expressions on the matter in hand, are wholly natural, bubbling out of their own free will for the simple reason that they are too good to do anything but bubble out into the light of day. These remarks of Mr. Johnson remind one of the crystal waters of a hillside spring, flowing freely forth into the sunlight from the moss and rugged stones because they must find an outlet somewhere, and they are just as refreshing.

"After the gubernatorial candidate had fairly launched himself into his address one could hardly have driven a single one of his hearers from the hall with a club until the speech was complete, no more than one could drive a bunch of horses, their throats parched for too long association with the air of one of the Western deserts, from the waters of a cooling spring, once their lips had touched the surface.

"Within five minutes after he opened he had astonished and captivated every one. The fine flow of language, the keen and natural humor that found its way into all his comments, and the poetic strain that made itself manifest every now and then, was something unlooked for. And then his appearance and manner of address were all in his favor. A tall, slender, one might almost say a lank individual, with pleasing mien, honest, likeable features, and a quaint, irresistible smile, he found a warm place in the affections of his audience at once.

"It is no fulsome flattery to say that Mr. Johnson took the audience by storm. It was universally conceded that the Democracy has found a new leader in the state of Minnesota who can compare with any it has ever had and who, if he continues long before the people, will have a place in their affections and their regard that will be secure for all time. He has an earnestness and evidence of sincerity of purpose as striking as that of John Lind, and a sense of humor that is as irresistible as his infectious smile. He has a custom of frequently referring to women in a pleasing manner, and it is evident that he places them on a pedestal for the respect, esteem and admiration of all mankind. Withall, he is a vigorous charming and versatile speaker, a man who can captivate an audience completely and yet leave it convinced of his strength of character and honesty and sincerity of purpose. There is no suggestion of the demagogue about him, and at the conclusion of the meeting he mixed readily and naturally with the crowd a ready and cordial handshake and a smile for every man."

Ninth Annual Tour of Mr. Sanford Dodge, October 22.

All lovers of the legitimate drama will be pleased to hear that Managers Anderson & Healy have secured Sanford Dodge, the brilliant young tragedian and romantic actor, for an appearance here in a grand revival of one of his classic and romantic productions. Mr. Dodge's work is of the highest order. He is young, ambitious and possessed of a natural gift that is sure to build for him a merited reputation in his profession. With each successive season his popularity seems to gain so that the announcement of his appearance is always welcome news to theater-goers, and packed houses are the rule everywhere.

The appearance of Mr. Sanford Dodge and his talented company of dramatic artists in Macbeth Saturday, Oct. 22nd, will be greeted with delight by all lovers of the drama. The name of Sanford Dodge is a synonym of dramatic excellence, as it has ever been connected with the highest class of dramatic work and this season his productions are superior to any he has ever before attempted.

From indigestion, aches and pains,
Your system will be free,
If you'll but take a timely drink
Of Rocky Mountain Tea. A. L. Reichert.

A Flattering Endorsement.

Benson Monitor: John E. King, the Democratic candidate for secretary of state, is editor of THE RED LAKE COURIER, which paper has great political influence in the northern part of the state. This is due to the strong personality of its editor, who is considered by the newspaper fraternity to be one of the able and broad minded editors of the state. He has all the necessary qualifications to make him an ideal man for the position his party has given him the nomination for. He will not be a figure head. He will undoubtedly receive the solid Democratic vote and thousands of votes of Republicans who know the sterling worth of the man. The people should have no hesitation in giving Mr. King their support on November 8.

For eruptions, sores, pimples, kidney and liver troubles, constipation, indigestion, use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Carries new life to every part of the body. Tea or tablet form. 35 cents A. L. Reichert.

Baking Economy.

By the use of a perfect baking powder the housewife can derive as much economy as from any other article used in baking and cooking. In selecting a baking powder, therefore, care should be exercised to purchase one that retains its original strength and always remains the same, thus making the food sweet and wholesome and producing sufficient leavening gas to make the baking light.

Very little of this leavening gas is produced by the cheap baking powders, making it necessary to use double the quantity ordinarily required to secure results.

Manufacturers of cream of tartar powders ask about twice as much for their goods as that paid for any other baking powder, and food prepared from these cream of tartar powders contains large quantities of Rochelle Salts. Ask your physician what the results would be from the constant dosing of Rochelle Salts.

A baking powder that is recommended in leading physicians and chemists, and which is both perfect in quality and moderate in price, is therefore suggested —one that has been found to be "best by test"—"Calumet." From the standpoints of purity, wholesomeness and economy, there is nothing to excel it.

Food prepared with Calumet is absolutely free from Rochelle Salts, Alum, Lime, Ammonia, or any injurious substance.

Commencing this evening Rev. Knox will resume his Thursday evening bible lectures at the Presbyterian church parlors, and an invitation is extended to the general public to attend.

A. D. Dufault has purchased the Collins grocery store at Crookston and will take possession in a few weeks. The big sale on Mr. Dufault's farm west of town will take place Monday.

The proceeds of the Hallowe'en supper to be given by the Presbyterian aid society will be used in installing a furnace in the church. They hope to have it in readiness before the cold weather sets in.

A "rally day" program was held at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening by the Sunday school and a collection taken for home missions. A large audience enjoyed the songs and special exercises.

Ned Taylor, who is now employed in a drug store at St. Paul, came up Monday for a week's visit with friends and relatives in this vicinity. Ned likes his new job, and expects to remain in St. Paul.

M. Skala has an advertisement this week announcing the closing out sale of his entire line of clothing at cost. Mr. Skala has quite a large stock and early callers can secure some exceptional bargains.

A new stock of vocal and instrumental music just received at W. A. Schreiter's drug store. 75c music going at 45c; 50c music going at 25; 25c music at 15c. Greatest bargains ever offered in sheet music.

The young ladies of the Y. P. S. C. E. gave a musicale at the Presbyterian church last evening, and lunch was served afterwards in the parlors of the church. We are glad to learn that the affair was successful.

M. J. Sheehan, editor and proprietor of the Ottawa Daily Journal, Ottawa, Ill., was a pleasant caller st THE COURIER office today. Mr. Sheehan is here with a party of landseekers piloted by J. P. Gonigam.

The ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church is planning an "excursion party" for Hallowe'en evening. It will be something new and novel in the entertainment line. Watch for particulars next week.

Hon. S. D. Peterson of New Ulm was the guest of S. M. Sivertson Saturday. Mr. Peterson has been a member of the state legislature for the past ten years and is one of the wheelhorses of Republicanism in his part of the country.

S. M. Sivertson returned Saturday from Middle River, where he has been looking after the construction of an elevator for the Red Lake Falls Milling company, which will have elevators in all of the new towns on the Great Northern extension.

A. B. Allen, editor of the Morton Enterprise, one of the oldest and best-known newspaper men in the state, was a visitor to Red Lake Falls yesterday, and this office acknowledges a pleasant call. Mr. Allen was here looking after a real estate deal.

Omer Hall, operator at the Great Northern depot, returned yesterday from an extended visit with his parents at Auburn, Neb. It is rumered that there is also a "best girl" in the case, but as Omer refuses to commit himself the report cannot be verified.

The force at the auditor's office is busy this week completing the assessment books in accordance with the changes made by the state board of equalization. As practically every schedule in the personal property list was raised the changes involve a lot of work.

F. E. Ward, general manager and J. W. Blabon, fourth vice president of the Great Northern, came to Red Lake Falls from Crookston last Sunday on a railroad automobile and spent several hours looking over the contemplated improvements of the road at this place.

Work on the interior of the Bank of Red Lake Falls building is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that the new quarters will be ready for occupancy before cold weather sets in. One of the suites of rooms upstairs will be occupied by Attorney Thomas Germo.

Marriage licenses have been issued during the past ten days to the following persons: Neil Deemer of Crookston and Mary Twing of St. Hilaire; Hans E. Rosdahl and Sophia M. Roen, both of Thief River Falls; Charles Helm and Mary Niewirth, both of Thief River Falls.

The fair at St. Joseph's church will occur next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 23, 24 and 25. The ladies of the church have been working hard to make the fair a success, and there is little doubt but that the expectations of the church people will be realized.

Hallowe'en is not far away, and the young people are busy planning their social enjoyments for that evening. Incidentally, too, it might be said that it behooves people having cabbage patches or other loose personal property to get it out of the way before the last night of October.

M. G. Peterson of Fertile, formerly treasurer of Polk county, was in town Friday and Saturday on business. Mr. Peterson is out of politics at present, but says he is doing a little work for Johnson, and says in his locality the Democratic candidate for governor will get practically all of the votes.

H. G. Ebbighausen and C. D. Billings were over from Crookston Tuesday to look over the town. Mr. Billings is proprietor of the Crookston laundry and expects to establish an agency here. Mr. Ebbighausen says he has not visited the town since 1889 and of course found many changes for the better.

The Sanford Dodge presentation of Macbeth Saturday, October 22, will be in keeping with the reputation he has already attained. The cast has always been selected with great care and comprises only those who have won their spurs in the classic drama. No energy and no expense has been spared to add to the triumphs already won.

Thief River News: Work was commenced the first of the week of decorating the interior of the Catholic church of this city, and when it is completed the church will be one of the finest in the city. Nic Helm, of Red Lake Falls, has the contract for doing the work. Also new stained glass windows, which were donated by the parishioners, will be installed.

The Fosston foot ball team failed to come over last Saturday for a game with the locals on account of the rainy weather, but they have promised to come Saturday, and the game will be called at two o'clock. This will probably be the last game on the home grounds. It was expected that Crookston would be over, but we understand that negotiations could not be consummated.

The statement made by THE COURIER last week with reference to the manner in which the fire at P. N. Bourdon's residence was started was unwarranted. Mr. Bourdon is convinced the blaze originated from a defective chimney. He will probably build a new house in the spring. The loss is quite a severe one, as Mr. Bourdon estimates that it is $700 in excess of the insurance.

During the last week of the campaign the Democrats expect to hold meetings at seven or eight points in the county. The various county candidates will plead their own cause, and John E. King, candidate for secretary of state, and Dr. George Tupper, chairman of the county central committee, will speak in behalf of the state ticket. Dates for the meetings will be given next week.

The material for the new bridge across the Red Lake river arrived this week, and workmen are now engaged in putting up the new steel structure. The old bridge will be closed during the construction of the new one, and farmers living north and west of town are obliged to cross the river at the Red Lake Falls Milling company's dam. A temporary bridge has been erected over the apron of the dam.

George L. Austin returned yesterday from Fergus Falls, Minn., and for several months he will be engaged in soliciting new subscribers for THE COURIER. George is one of the most efficient subscription rustlers in the country, and the chances are that when he gets through THE COURIER will have four or five hundred new subscribers, and by far the largest list of any country paper in this part of Minnesota.

The October term of the district court commences next Monday. While there are not many important cases noted for trial, the calendar is quite lengthy, there being over seventy entries on the docket. About twenty-five of these are appeals from assessments for the Rocksbury ditch, Chas. E. Boughton being attorney for the plaintiffs. The term will probably last at least two weeks. The grand and petit juries are cited to report for duty Tuesday morning.

The election supplies, with the exception of the state ballots, were received this week by Auditor Ford from the secretary of state. A sample of the state ballot was sent, and in one particular it is different this year. Instead of making a cross after each presidential elector, the voter can vote for the nine electors by making a single mark. This is certainly an improvement and simplifies the ballot materially. Of course in voting for the other candidates on the ballot it is necessary to make a cross after each name as heretofore.

At the time the contract was let for the connection between the Great Northern and Northern Pacific at this place it was thought the work would be completed this fall, but there is some doubt whether this will be accomplished. Altogether there is about three miles of track to lay, and for half a mile there is a cut that averages about fifteen feet deep. The work of filling in along the banks of the Clearwater river will also require considerable time. Passengers coming through Red Lake Falls on the new line will witness some of the finest natural scenery in northern Minnesota along the Clearwater and Red Lake rivers.

October 31 is the last day upon which the property owners of Red Lake county will have the opportunity of paying the last one-half of their real estate taxes assessed for 1903, and the receipts at the county treasurer's office during this month will be large. The taxpayers are greatly convenienced by the provisions of the law in regard to the payment of real estate taxes, and by paying one-half before June 1st and the remainder before November 1st, they are allowed the use of half of their tax money for several months without interest or penalty. The penalty of ten per cent, however, is added on November 1st and the taxpayers should see to it that they are not dilatory in forwarding their checks.

At St. Peter's church in Gentilly on Monday last Miss Olive Fortier the daughter of Commissioner Remi Fortier, and Mr. Joseph Amiot, one of the prominent Gentilly young men, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Father Theillen, the Gentilly priest, presided at the ceremony and the wedding was of the customary Catholic form. After the ceremony the guests who had been invited to attend the ceremony assembled at the home of the bride's parents and a very enjoyable evening was spent. A delicious wedding supper was served. The young people will make their home at Gentilly and will be at home to friends shortly. They will have the best wishes of a large number of friends throughout the valley.

PAID OUT MORE THAN RECEIVED

DEFICIT OF $41,770,571 BETWEEN RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES OF THE TREASURY.

Purchase of Panama Canal and Loan to Louisiana Exposition Account for It—Treasurer Roberts Makes Report.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, has submitted to Secretary Shaw the annual report on the transactions of the treasury during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904.

The net ordinary revenues are shown to have been $540,631,749, a decrease of $19,764,925 as compared with 1903, and the net ordinary expenditures $582,402,321, an increase of $776,303,314. In the receipts the principal falling off was $23,205,017 in customs, while in the disbursements the important increases were $11,423.44 in commerce and labor, $60,788,580 in treasury proper and $20,338,067 for the navy. Unusual expenditures were $50,000,000 on account of the Panama canal and $4,600,000 loaned to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company, which latter has now been nearly all repaid. But for these, the recorded deficiency of $41,770,571 would have been changed to a surplus of $12,829,428.

The Public Debt.

The operations affecting the public debt exceeded those of the preceding year and amounted to $699,660,941 in receipts and $638,924,379 in disbursements. The aggregate receipts for the year were therefore $1,240,292,690, and the aggregate disbursements $1,221,326,701. For the first three months of the current fiscal year the revenues show a falling off of $6,516,373 and the expenditures an increase of $18,073,539.

In consequence of the deficiency in the revenues, the cash in the offices of the treasury and mint declined during the year from $170,020,562 to $137,520,204, and by October 1 to $125,964,888.

Increase in Banks.

The increase in the number of banks during the year was 395 and of these 262 deposited less than $100,000 each in bonds to secure circulation and 381 less than $500,000 each. On June 30 a single band had on deposit $10,000,000 in bonds to secure circulation, while 1,820 had less than $25,000.

Supply of Money.

An addition of $118,793,148 was made during the year to the monetary stock of the country and another of $31,829,599 in the following quarter. Of the total increase $110,804,469 was in gold. The aggregate supply on October 1, exclusive of certificates, was estimated at $2,835,333,734, of which $2,562,149,489 was in circulation. The actual gold coin in circulation on October 1 is placed at $641,844,863 in coin and $486,512,139 in certificates.

Circulation of $31.16 Per Capita.

Since July 1, 1900, there has been a growth of $463,991,862 in the money in circulation, or an average of nearly $116,000,000. On October 1 the circulation reached the maximum of $31.16 for each person, and the proportion of gold to the whole was 44.03 per cent.

Bank Notes Redeemed.

The national bank notes presented for redemption during the year amounted to $262,141,930, or 61.12 per cent. of the average outstanding. This is the highest record for any year of the 30 during which these notes have been redeemed by the treasurer.

An addition of $2,891,644 was made to the subsidiary silver coin in circulation, carrying the total up to $95,528,343.

Minor coins are not included in the general statements of circulation; yet a volume of no less than $38,149,519 is shown to have been coined and not remelted. An increase of $1,583,715 took place during the year, of which nearly $1,000,000 was in five cent nickel pieces and the remainder in bronze cents. The redemptions were $5,587,162.

Worn gold and subsidiary silver coins, the former of the face value of $1,473,391 and the latter of $2,838,384, were recoined. The loss was $11,347 on the gold and $172,280 on the silver. The good condition of the currency is shown by the fact that the treasury offices detected only $12,714 in nominal value of spurious issues.

CRANE TO SUCCEED HOAR.

Ex-Governor of Massachusetts Is Appointed United States Senator.

Boston, Oct. 13.—Gov. John L. Bates Wednesday appointed former Gov. W. Murray Crane, of Dalton, United tSates senator, to fill the unexpired term of George F. Hoar, recently deceased.

Mr. Crane has informed Gov. Bates that he will accept. He is one of the largest paper manufacturers in the state and has been prominent in state politics for a score of years. In 1897 he was elected lieutenant governor and in 1900 became governor, which office he held for three years. Mr. Crane is a personal friend of President Roosevelt.

Makes Another Payment.

St. Louis, Oct. 17.—The Louisiana Purchase exposition has made the seventh of the stipulated $500,000 payments on the government loan of $4,600,000, which was advanced by the federal authorities a few weeks previous to the opening of the world's fair. This payment, together with the percentage payments made previous to the first stipulated payment, leaves a balance of $691,850.45 due the United States government.

DIVORCE CANON IS VOTED DOWN

IMPORTANT ACTION IS TAKEN BY THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION IN BOSTON.

Proposed Amendment Prohibiting Remarriage of Divorced Persons Receives a Severe Blow in the House of Deputies.

Boston, Oct. 15.—The house of deputies of the Episcopal general convention, at the close of a four days' debate, on Friday rejected an amendment to the divorce canon, which sought to prevent the remarriage of divorced persons by clergymen of the denomination. While the house of bishops may yet act on the matter, it is certain that no change will be made by the present convention.

The present law of the church, which has been in operation since 1859, allows the remarriage of the innocent party to a divorce granted for infidelity. At several conventions attempts have been made to repeal this law, and when a vote was taken Friday by the house of deputies sitting as a committee of the whole, on the question of reporting the proposed amendment to the house itself, the reformers were successful by a vote of 214 to 191, and this vote was regarded as representing the actual strength of the contending forces.

The final vote, however, was taken by dioceses and orders, and where a diocese was evenly divided in sentiment its strength was counted in the negative. The vote by dioceses was: Clerical—For the amendment, 30; against, 21; divided, 10. Lay vote—For, 25; against, 24; divided, 6.

Practically the entire strength of the middle western states, the stronghold of the high church party, declared for the proposed reform, but the Pacific states and a number of the southern states voted against a change of the present canon. The diocese of New York opposed the amendment, while that of Pennsylvania favored it. In New England, Vermont, New Hampshire and western Massachusetts voted for a change, as did the lay deputies from Rhode Island. The clerical deputies from Maine favored the amendment, but the votes of Connecticut and Massachusetts were cast in the negative. The issue was not a party one, although the whole strength of the high church forces was given to the reform movement.

FOUND GUILTY.

Young Girls Convicted of Complicity in Murder and Sent to Prison.

Belleville, Ill., Oct. 12.—After being out 14 hours, a jury in the Belleville circuit court returned a verdict finding Nellie Gardner and Mabel Wright guilty of complicity in the murder of John Dunlap and fixed their punishment at 14 years each in the penitentiary. The girls are 18 years old and in view of the fact that the charge was only constructive complicity some surprise was expressed over the severity of the sentence.

Insures Her Life for $700,000.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Netcher, the widow of the late Charles Netcher, the State street merchant, has taken out two insurance policies on her life aggregating $700,000. Only one woman in the world carries more insurance than Mrs. Netcher. She is the widow of Senator Stanford, who is insured for $1,000,000.

Fell from a Train.

St. Louis, Oct. 14.—While on his way to visit his daughter, whom he had not seen for 20 years, George Krebs of Kansas City fell from the platform of a Missouri Pacific train at Kirkwood, a suburb of St. Louis, and was instantly killed within a short distance of where his daughter stood waiting for him.

Death of Ex-Gov. Cornell.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Alonzo B. Cornell, former governor of New York, died Saturday at his home in this city of Bright's disease, aged 72 years. He was a son of Ezra Cornell, the founder of Cornell university.

PARKER SPEAKS.

Makes an Attack on the Republican Policy in the Philippines.

Esopus, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Alton B. Parker, democracy's candidate for the presidency, made his first formal campaign speech here Saturday afternoon to a delegation representing the Parker Independent club and the Avon Beach Regular Democratic club of Long Island. Mr. Parker limited his speech to a discussion of the Philippine question. He maintained that the republiucan policy of "subjugation of defenseless foreign peoples" already had cost the United States over $650,000,000 and more than 200,000 lives.

He declared that the republican policy refuses to promise independence for the Filipinos now, or at any time, or upon any condition, and that it does not even leave open the door of hope. He said that the democrats propose to prepare the Filipinos as rapidly as possible for self-government and promise them freedom as soon as they are prepared for it.

Mr. Parker asserted that conditions in the Philippines are bad. He quoted an unnamed "student of conditions" as declaring that many officials in the islands are "inefficient, dishonest, corrupt, and despotic," the "very dregs of our people."

He quoted the same authority as declaring further that "the situation in the Philippines to-day is so terrible that it passes the comprehension of people at home. Agriculturally the country is ruined, land is going out of cultivation, the population is ill fed, the country is overburdened with taxation, the towns in ruins."

Mr. Parker declared that the country should hasten to the relief of such a situation. He said: "Our duty to the Filipinos demands a promise of independence. But if it did not, our own interest demands that we be relieved of the Filipinos just as soon as they are reasonably prepared for self-government. A colony holding nation is ever subject to expensive wars with other nations and with its colonies.

"I warn the republican party that it is not an unheard of proposition that an oppressed—I use the term advisedly—an oppressed people should be restive. Continue as we are doing to oppose these people and one of the most vexed questions that this nation has ever been called upon to deal with will confront us interminably."

FOUR SOLDIERS SLAIN.

Explosion of a Mortar at Fort Banks, in Massachusetts, Results Disastrously.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 17.—Four soldiers of artillery were killed and seven injured by the explosion of a mortar at Fort Banks, Winthrop, Saturday. The accident was due to a premature explosion of powder as a ten-inch mortar was being loaded. One shot had been fired and the gun was being reloaded for a second trial. As the breechlock was being closed there was a premature explosion in the powder chamber of the mortar. The breech was blown from the gun and every man of its crew became a victim of the accident.

Indicted for Embezzlement.

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 17.—Indictments charging larceny by embezzlement and perjury were returned by the grand jury against S. F. Smith, former mayor of Davenport and trustee of several estates. The sum involved is $100,000.

Woman Killed by a Bull.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 17.—Wilhelmina Masur, aged 50 years, wife of John Masur, one of the oldest newspaper men of Pittsburg, was stamped to death by a bull in the stable at their home in Allegheny.

Death of a Veteran.

New York, Oct. 17.—William Scott Worth, brigadier general, U. S. A., retired, is dead at Clinton, Staten Island. He served through the war of the rebellion, in several Indian campaigns and in Cuba.

Well-Known Woman Dies.

Fox Lake, Wis., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Mary E. Warren, widely known as a temperance worker, authoress and philanthropist, is dead at her home in this village. She was 75 years of age.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Drunken Man in Church.

Stepping down from the pulpit in the midst of his sermon, Rev. T. E. Cullen of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Minneapolis, startled his congregation by picking up a palpably intoxicated man from a front pew and carrying him tenderly to the front door and the sidewalk.

The man had staggered into the church during the service and planted himself in a front seat. In the middle of Father Cullen's sermon he was overcome with remorse, and began to moan very audibly about his sins.

The clergyman continued for a brief period, but when the penitent became too loud for endurance he descended from his pulpit and grasped the poor wretch and took him to the cool breezes

Not a word was spoken, and when his charge had been carefully laid on the ground, Father Cullen resumed his sermon at the point where he left off.

Lost in the Woods.

After spending four days and four nights in the woods, without food and sufficient clothing to protect his body from cold, D. J. McPhee, a former employee of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, arrived at Highland near midnight, in a state of utter collapse. He was without shoes or any covering for his feet which were badly cut and bruised and swollen to about twice their natural size.

McPhee said he started to walk from Two Harbors to Duluth, and became lost and wandered around in the woods and sleeping on the wet ground. He was taken care of by the authorities and with proper nourishment will recover.

Dangerous Compounds.

The state dairy and food commission has issued a proclamation, cautioning housekeepers to beware of canning compound which is found in canned fruit and vegetables.

This step was taken as the result of inquiries to the number of about fifty a day, which have been coming into the office asking the opinion of the department on the compound.

A careful analysis was made and this was followed by the proclamation that the compound was dangerous, containing only starch and borax, which is harmful to the stomach. The compound sells at a very high price, while it is lamentably cheap in itself.

Win Grand Prize.

Minnesota has won the grand Prize at the St. Louis exposition for its elementary educational exhibits and the gold medal for the secondary educational exhibit.

The facts were announced in a telegram received by Conde Hamlin, president of the Minnesota board of commissioners, and show the high standard of excellence which was reached in the Minnesota exhibit.

Since the beginning of the exposition Minnesota has captured all the highest awards every month in the dairy division, and has carried off many other high premiums for other exhibits.

Too Bad.

In response to emphatic demands from the northwest that the historic round tower at Fort Snelling be preserved, the government has plastered the structure three inches thick all over with ugly gray stucco. This preserves it effectually and also makes it look about as attractive and historic as an oil tank. The ivy which combined with the original rough limestone of the building to give it a romantic and venerable aspect, has been torn down, and hardwood floors, electric lights and plate-glass windows destroy the last vestige of age.

Successful Butter Tests.

The most successful butter test that has ever been held was announced by the state dairy and food commission the scoring on ninety-six tubs of butter resulting in an average of 94 per cent.

N. N. Engebretsen of Mansfield made the best score of 98, although he had a close second in Harry Spranger of Conger, whose butter was rated at 97¾ per cent. C. A. Stovick's (of Emmons) tub was marked 97 per cent.

Heavy Grain Receipts.

It is estimated that grain to the amount of more than $1,000,000 was handled on the Minneapolis market in one day, and, for instance the day is said to be one of the biggest, if not the biggest in the history of the Minneapolis chamber.

The total number of cars involved was 1,400, as compared with 1,373 for Monday of week before. The grain receipts for the 3rd were as follows: Wheat, 1,094 cars; corn, 8; oats, 260; rye, 23; barley, 213, and flax, 90.

News Notes.

C. A. Levin, a St. Paul grocer, is held up and robbed by a masked highwayman.

Judge Brill decides that the courts can order a recount of the votes at a primary election.

The twentieth annual state convention of the Young Women's Christian association will be held in Winona on Oct. 21-23.

The capitol commissioners consider one bid received on driveways and sidewalks at the new capitol too high.

Frank J. Artz, accused of murder in the first degree, was acquitted at Bemidji. He was indicted for the killing of John Weillander, a homesteader. The trial lasted six days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Mills have just celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at Elk River.

Two men believed to have been guilty of blowing and robbing the safe in a general store at Hopkins about four weeks ago are under arrest at Rugby Junction, N. D.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

CROOKSTON ROAD BLOCKED.

Farmers Decide to Fence in Diagonal Road to Gentilly.

Crookston Journal: Teamsters and liverymen driving through the prairie from this city to Red Lake Falls last Sunday were met at several points on the road beyond Gentilly with tightly stretched barb wire fences which rendered a tearing down of the obstruction necessary in order to get through. The fences were put up by farmers who own the land along the road upon the strength of a report that the highway had been vacated by the county board of commissioners and would not be subject to the road laws after October 15th. Drivers and teamsters coming into the city were considerably wrought up over the matter and injunction proceeding are threatened if the farmers persist in keeping the roadway closed up. The road is the old Red Lake Falls-Crookston county road and no other road has yet been opened through the territory it traverses. The Red Lake Falls people are up in arms over the matter because of the fact that their mail was delayed last Sunday while the driver of the stage line got out to tear down fences and other obstructions which were placed across the road to prevent traffic.

Should the report that the road has been vacated be true a new road will have to be graded through the various townships and the length of the trip to the Falls will be increased considerably. Old residents, including lawyers of the city who have lived here a great many years stated yesterday that in their estimation the highway had been used by the public for over twenty years and could not be vacated by the county if the proper steps were taken by the parties interested in the maintenance of the road. The highway has an objectionable feature in the minds of the farmer because of the fact that it crosses the farms at right angles rather than following the section lines as is usually customary. This cuts the farms up in a disagreeable manner and caused the farmers to fence the road up.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Half of a woman's beauty is complexion and nine-tenths of her figure clothes.

Some girls are so modest they can't gain a few pounds without blushing about it.

A man has a bad temper when he is not proud that the baby can yell with such healthy lungs.

There isn't any difference in the financial result between a man running for office and going to the races.

Once there was a girl who didn't think she could sing, but she got married right away and had children she thought could.

Dare to Bolt.

Northwestern Agriculturist: On the first day after the nomination of Hon. John A. Johnson to be the Democratic candidate for governor of Minnesota, we penned our editorial endorsement of him, which was published in the issue of September 10. We did not wait to see what other Republicans thought about the situation, but we declared that we believed Mr. Johnson was a man far superior to Mr. Dunn as a prospective governor. Our so-called "bolt" has not pleased the Pioneer Press and other straight party organs. Since our bolt, it has transpired, however, that there are many—very many—good Republicans who take similar views regarding the candidates. In fact, it seems to be epidemic. The Pioneer Press really thinks something ought to be done about it. Hence it has brought forward the remarkable accusation that the editor of the Northwestern Agriculturist had once before refused to support a party nominee for governor.

Perhaps it is a crime for a highbound party organ like the Pioneer Press to exercise independence of party lines, when it comes to state offices, but the Northwestern Agriculturist is not a party organ. There are times when it is greater proof of party loyalty to register a rebuke to party skulduggery, than it is to lie supinely under the load with which party leaders dare burden the ticket. It serves to make them more respectful of public will in the future, and more careful of the kind of men they nominate.

Prints What You Say.

A cable dispatch to one of the New York papers says that an Italian has invented a machine which will transfer telephone messages into print. If he really has done this, the doom of the typewriter is sealed, since then one would only have to talk into the machine which would grind out the letters as fast as dictated. This invention has not reached us yet, however, and until it does we can rely on golden grain belt to do its work in building up strong minds and bodies in those who work with head or hands. We turn to this irrelevantly at times, but it is a serious matter, as your health always is. You can't afford to be without this splendid tonic. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex Thompson, Crookston.

P. V. Collins Publishing Company

Incorporated Aug. 13, 1904, Under the Laws of Minnesota.

THIS new corporation is a re-incorporation of The Agriculturist Company, and its assets include The Northwestern Agriculturist, together with hitherto personal enterprises of P. V. COLLINS, consisting of The Home Magazine and real estate viz., the office and press buildings located on the corner of Seventh street and sixth avenue south, Minneapolis. The real estate alone is worth $30.000.

The value of the assets exceeds $100,000 on a very conservative basis, and the capital stock of the P. V. COLLINS PUBLISHING COMPANY is $100,000 including $30,000 perferred stock and $70,000 common stock.

The preferred stock bears a Guarantee of Seven Per Cent dividend, payable semi-annually, and when redeemed, we agree to pay $102.00 a share for it. The common stock is not for sale, but is all held by P. V. COLLINS, who will continue as manager of the business, as he has since 1893. No dividends can be paid on the common stock until the guaranteed dividends in full on the preferred are paid.

We have sold much of the above preferred stock to bankers, commercial men, farmers and professional people, in sums ranging from $100 to $5,000. It is the best investment on the market and they know it. It is not often that an apportunity comes to invest money on ample security at and the opportunity will soon be past for getting any of the stock. The farmer who desires a block of it is advised to send his subscription for the shares wanted immediatedly. We much prefer to have it held by farmers, for The Nortwestern Agriculturist is a farmers' page and we realize that every farmer-stockholder will be of value to us in his own community.

How to Get the Stock

The par value of the shares is $100.00 each and they are sold at par. Write to us and state how many shares you desire. Send with your letter either a check or draft for as many times $100 as you order shares. We refer to the Peoples Bank of Minneapolis.

Political Pot-Pourri.

Hon. John A. Johnson and Hon. Fendall G. Winston, Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, speak at Crookston next Wednesday evening, October 26, and a large number of people from Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire are planning on going over. This will be the only opportunity of hearing Mr. Johnson during the campaign.

The Johnson Republicans are a numerous contingent in Red Lake county. In Red Lake Falls it is figured that at least two-fifths of the Republicans will vote for Johnson, and many of the strong and influential members of the party are openly supporting him. At Thief River Falls the situation is even more discouraging to the Republican workers. Such ardent and experienced campaigners as Banker Dobner, Editor Eastman, Perl Mabey and Wiley Tindolph are reported to be wearing Johnson buttons and distributing Johnson literature. It would not be surprising if the Democratic candidate received more than two-thirds of the vote at that place. Republican candidates for county office say it is suicidal to talk against Johnson in the country, for nearly every other Republican is a Johnson man. It looks as though the Democratic candidate for governor would carry the county by the largest majority ever given an aspirant for that office.

A straw vote was taken in Red Lake Falls last Saturday which resulted as follows: Roosevelt 91, Parker 33, Dunn 68, Johnson 63. This shows that 31 Republicans out of 91 are supporting Johnson for governor. From the fact that a great many of the Dunn workers were in town that afternoon for the purpose of attending the rally that evening the showing is more favorable to Dunn than actual conditions would seem to warrant.

The Democratic county candidates report conditions favorable to their election. It is conceded that Jim Ford, Nick Tarrant and Dan Linnihan have a walkaway. Frank Jeffers and Karl Hansen have a fight on their hands but expect to win out by a handsome vote.

John L. Finke has filed as an independent candidate for county treasurer. There would seem to be little chance for an independent this year, as both parties have candidates for this place and members of both parties are quite generally supporting their own men.

Sunday was quite a political day at Lambert and Terrebonne, and the local candidates of both parties were present to jolly the voters and present their arguments.

The Smith-Davidson meeting at Thief River last Thursday evening is said to have been a decided "frost." The Dunn sentiment in that town is something of a minus quantity, and it seems that Editor McDonald's management of the affair was not entirely satisfactory. The hall was not more than half filled, and the county candidates were not even invited to a seat on the platform.

Your Home Town.

Next to a man's family and his business nothing should be nearer to his heart than the town in which he lives. It is the place where he wins his confidence and educates his children. If he wants to make it as popular as possible he cannot afford to be indifferent to anything which furthers these ends. It can be said that a town that is worthy the devotion of its citizens in making it wholly known and greatly prosperous is a town in which it is worth the full measure of our devotion to merely take a share of the common benefits accorded to the community. We may yet add, if persons cannot identify themselves with the interests of their town and be in sympathy and touch with the people with whom they live, it would be better for them and the town if they would move out. They are people who live off a community and contribute nothing to it. They oppose the church, state, and school and everything done in which they cannot lead or make profit out of; tearing down without ability or disposition to build up. In their fault finding, opposition and indifference they discourage and crush out what could be made more prosperous if they expended half the effort in trying to build it up, that they do in discouraging improvements. BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth. Bones must have bone food, blood must have blood food and so on through the list.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses every day give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

Wrong food caused the trouble. Right food will cure it.

In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

ERNEST BUSE

Republican Candidate for Sheriff of Red Lake County.

Ernest Buse, Republican candidate for sheriff, is a man whose life work has been devoted to Minnesota and her institutions, and there are few men who have labored longer or more conscientiously for the success of the state. He was raised on a farm in Goodhue county, this state, and when old enough, commenced work to help advertise the virtues and possibilities of what was then practically an unknown wilderness. In 1862 he enlisted in Uncle Sam's army to fight the Sioux Indians, whose uprisings at that time were bringing dire disaster to the homesteaders, and after serving for some time in that capacity he enlisted in the Union army and went south to do battle for his country and the flag, and served until the close of the war receiving an honorable discharge in the fall of 1865. He returned to Minnesota and came to the western central part as a pioneer settler, being the first white man to locate at where now stands the pretty city of Fergus Falls. After being in business there for several years Mr. Buse moved to Red Lake county, and was one of the first seven settlers to locate here. He built the first house in Red Lake Falls, and from the day he arrived he set about exploiting various institutions that would tend to bring our county to the notice of the world, and his efforts had as much to do with the rapid settlement of the county as any other element. During the fight for county division, Mr. Buse was one of the first to go after the proposition, and put in lots of time and money advocating what proved to be such a benefit to the people who owned homes in what is now Red Lake county. His active Republicanism has been one of his many virtues, and has labored long and faithfully for the party. His first ballot was cast for Abraham Lincoln in 1860, and since that time he has espoused the cause of and help elect all the great statesmen of the Republican party who have succeeded the martyred Lincoln. In his work in this county, Mr. Buse has undergone many hardships and has spent a great deal of his time and money for "the good of the cause." He is today the nominee of the party of his choice for the office of sheriff of Red Lake county, and his friends know that he is thoroughly conversant with the needs of the office, and would make a careful and competent encumbent. He promises that if elected he will administer the duties in a fair and impartial manner, seeing to it that nothing is left undone that will be to the interest of the people. Vote for Ernest Buse, and honor a deserving citizen.

JOHN JOHNSON'S PLURALITY

Well-Known Traveling Man Who Makes 263 Towns Says He Will Have 30,000.

"I see Mr. Dunn has an explanation for the opposition of the traveling men to his candidacy for governor," says a well-known commercial traveler in Minneapolis the other day. "He says that we are against him because when he was auditor he raised the taxation of our companies, and we are talking at the dictation of our bosses. In the first place, that is an insult to the independence of the traveling men, who think for themselves on matters outside their business. However, I don't know anything about Mr. Dunn's relations with the Minnesota houses. My concern is located in Ohio and pays no taxes in Minnesota at all. and many of us are situated the same way. We are citizens of Minnesota, however, and have a decided opinion on the governorship. With hardly an exception the knights of the grip are against Dunn, because they have a different idea of what a governor ought to be. They know that he got the nomination by unfair means, and they believe in fair play in politics as well as business.

"I have taken some pains to get a line on the situation," the traveling man continued, "and I have made up my mind on it. I make 263 towns in Minnesota from Wadena south to the Iowa line. I have been all over that territory this fall, and I have improved all my opportunities to talk with the business men and with the farmers as they gather in the stores. I have found the Dunn men decidedly in the minority. There are some to be found, but they are not enthusiastic over Dunn. They only say that they are Republicans, and will have to stand by the party. The great majority I have put the question to, are openly for Johnson.

"I believe Roosevelt will carry Minnesota by about 60,000, for there will not be a very heavy vote cast. On that basis, I look for about 30,000 plurality for Johnson. If Roosevelt carries the state by 75,000, it will mean 18,000 to 20,000 for Johnson. I don't believe the Roosevelt vote will run up so high that it can wipe out the lead Johnson has in the hearts of the voters of the state."

GOVERNOR LIND CAPTIVATES

Largest Audience of the Campaign Hears Minnesota's Best Beloved Statesman.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic political meetings in the history of Red Lake county was the one addressed by Congressman and ex-Governor John Lind at the Metropolitan opera house Tuesday evening of this week. Long before the time for the exercises to commence the house was filled, and when the meeting was called to order there was scarcely an inch of available floor space unoccupied. Governor Lind is easily the popular idol of Red Lake county people, and he is always assured of a large and appreciative audience.

The meeting was called to order by John E. King, who spoke briefly on state issues. Frank Jeffers, candidate for register of deeds, and and K. M. Hansen, candidate for treasurer, also talked for a few minutes each on county matters.

Governor Lind spoke for nearly an hour and a half, and commanded the rapt attention of his vast audience for every second of the time. The first part of the speech was devoted largely to national politics, and in his plausible and convincing manner explained some of the phases of the tariff and trust problems. Coming down to state affairs he criticized severely the nomination by the Republican state convention of Ray W. Jones and E. T. Young. He furnished proof for the statement that the Republican nominee for governor is a convicted timber thief, and asserted that his nomination for the second highest position in the gift of the people shows the utter moral irresponsibility of the convention held in St. Paul last June. In every respect Lind's speech was the greatest of the campaign, and many leading Republicans admit that it made votes for John A. Johnson and Fendall G. Winston. The arguments put forth by Governor Lind went home, and they will stay in the minds of the voters on election day.

NEWS OF DISTRICT COURT

Cases Tried in the District Court of Red Lake County up to the Present Date.

The first case to be taken up by Judge Watts and the petit jury was the one brought by Walter Johnson by his guardian adlstem, Hoken Johnson, against the St. Hilaire Retail Lumber Co. This action grew out of an injury by which the plaintiff lost part of his left hand while employed in the defendant's saw mill at St. Hilaire. Hoken Johnson the boy's father also brought suit against the Company for loss of services of his minor child for doctor's bill incurred. The first action resulted in a verdict for Walter of $800.00 while the jury found that the father was entitled to $150.00 for the loss of boy's time and his diminshed earning capacity. Walter had sued for $1999.00.

The next case tried was that of Leo Schultz vs L. Rahnke, resulting in a verdict of $10.00 for the plaintiff. This was an appeal case from the Justice Court, the defendant being apellant and succeeded in reducing the Justice's judgment by $5.00. The plainiff sued for damages caused by defendant striking a horse of the plaintiff was driying on defendant's land.

The next business to occupy the Court's attention was the untangling of the late C. G. Rapp's will, and the claim of one Bertha Rapp to a certain certificate of deposit made out in the name of C. G. Rapp and against the First State Bank of St. Hilaire. In the matter of the claim of the Pederson woman to be the common law wife of Mr. Rapp the Court held that the evidence was not sufficient to substantiate the claim. And so the decision of Judge Tarrant in the Probate Court was thus sustained. At this writing the jury had not agreed upon the question as to whether or not Miss Peterson was entitled to the certificate of deposit or whether it belonged to Rapp estate.

The petit jury had also failed to agree in the case of Frances Sherman vs. James Connaughty. The latter case being an action for breach of promise in which the plaintiff seeks a judgement to compensate her for her wounded feelings caused by the defendent failing to make her the sharer of his joys and tribulations.

The Court will next take up the case of Max Koenig vs. Dr. Gamble, this being a suit for damages for alleged malpractice. After this case is finished Court will adjourn until Nov. 21, when the balance of the calendar will be disposed of. The adjournment is taken to enable the farmers on the jury to take advantage of the good weather we are now having and thus get more plowing.

The grand jury in charge of Chas. Lindquist, of Bray township, has been busily at work all week. So far but three indictments have been returned to the Court. Gus Nelson of this city is charged with assault upon the person of John Gjerberg. Nelson has entered a plea of not guilty and his trial will take place at the adjorned term in November. Peter Rocheford of Thief River Falls stands indicted of burgarly in the third degree, his crime consists of the alleged breaking into of a box car at Thief River Falls and taking sundry articles threrefrom. He will also be tried at the November term. The grand jury also accuses one Robert Lynon of attempting to commit burglary. But as the accused is not in the custody of an officer as yet, nor his whereabouts known it is not likely that the defendent will care very much what he is accused of.

SOO LINE WILL BUILD WEST

Finances for Extension From Thief River Into North Dakota is Arranged For.

A Minneapolis dispatch says that Thomas Lowry returned from New York Tuesday morning. With his return comes the announcement of the financing of the new Soo road's extension to Thief River Falls and thence west to the main line. Preliminary work will begin at once and the line will be pushed rapidly in the spring.

The terminus of the extension is not disclosed. The line may run into Kanmare or Bowbells, N. D., on the Minneapolis-Portal line of the Soo or may pass the international boundary line and strike the Canadian Pacific at Pierson, in western Canada. The new line will pass west from Thief River Falls, about thirty miles north of Grafton and will tap some big wheat country in Walsh, Pembina, Cavalier, Towner and Rollette counties. This western extension from Thief River Falls is in addition to the Soo's new line already under contract north of that point to connect with the Canadian Pacific. This extension will give a new short line to Winnipeg.

HON. J. A. JOHNSON'S SPEECH

Hon. John A. Johnson Favors Drainage of State Lands in His Speech at Crookston.

In Hon. John A Johnsons speech at Crookston last evening he gives his position past and present, and shows that the Republicans have purposely misrepresented him on this matter. Robert C. Dunn and George A. Ralph of Crookston have been busily circulating the story that Johnson while in the State Senate had opposed the drainage of State lands and have claimed that Johnson's election would mean that all the present plans for draining State lands would have to be discontinued. In the course of his remarks upon the matter Johnson gave the lie direct to both Dunn and Ralph and challenged either of these gentlemen to prove their statements,

Johnson produced a copy of the Senate Journal covering the session of 1901, that being the session at which the law was passed creating the present drainage board under which the work of draining the swamp lands is being carried on, and proved instead of being opposed to the act that he voted for and favored the bill.

The following words from Mr. Johnson himself defines his attitude towards drainage: "In my opening address at Minneapolis I said.

"Swamp land drainage is a business proposition and it admits of no argument. Someone has said that he who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before, is a benefactor. It is good business policy for the state of Minnesota to convert this class of land into farms for the Minnesota settler."

I repeat that statement now. Mp opponent, Mr. Dunn, has seen fit to make some capital out of that statement, and has shown that in the senate in 1899, I voted against the swamp land drainage act. I did vote against the bill in 1899. Wise men sometimes change their minds; fools seldom do. Mr. Dunn has consulted the record, snd I charge him with a wilful misrepresentation of the facts for he knows that in 1901 I voted for the drainage bill. The record will be found on page 549 of the Senate Journal where the vote of H. F. No. 131 establishing a drainage commission to provide for the drainage of the swamp and marshy lands of the state out the provisions of the act, shows that I was among those voting for the act.

"I believe in the principle of swamp land drainage, and favor it wherever the drainage is for the opening up of those lands for the Minnesota settler."

So it will be seen that Mr. Johnson stands right on the drainage matter and the claims of Dunn and Ralph have simply become another boomerang to re-act against Dunn. Misrepresentations are the stock in trade of the Dunn people. But we are reminded of what Abraham Lincoln said, that you can fool some of the people part of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time. The people of the state are awake to the situation and will not be misled by scheming politicians.

WANTON ATTACK BY BALTIC FLEET

RUSSIAN WARSHIPS FIRE ON ENGLISH FISHING VESSELS IN THE NORTH SEA.

One Trawler Is Sunk and Shot Beheads Skipper and Mate—Others Are Damaged—No Motive Known for Outrage.

Hull, Eng., Oct. 24.—A. M. Jackson & Co., solicitors for the owners of 50 Hull fishing boats, have notified the foreign office and admiralty of an attack on the Hull fishing fleet by the Russian Pacific fleet (commonly designated as the Baltic squadron). The official information is that shortly after midnight Friday the Russian squadron fell in with the Hull fishing fleet in the North sea. The first portion of the fishing fleet turned their search-lights on the British vessels for some time and a little later opened fire. The steam trawler Crane was sunk, and the decapitated bodies of her skipper and mate have been brought to Hull. The steam trawlers Molmein and Mino have arrived at Hull seriously damaged by shots, the latter having 16 holes in her hull. It is feared that other damage was done to trawlers and that at least one more was lost with all hands.

Two Beheaded.

The Moulmein arrived with her flag at half mast. Her skipper states that the trawlers were fishing about 220 miles east by north of Spurn Head at one o'clock Saturday morning, the weather being hazy, when the outlines of several vessels, apparently warships sailing in a line, were dimly seen. Whilst the crew were watching the vessels searchlights were flashed upon them, in the glare of which the Moulmein's crew observed what they took to be torpedo boats approaching, apparently with the intention of boarding the Moulmein. They steamed away, however, and soon the fishermen were horrified to find they were being fired upon. First one and then another trawler was struck by flying shot. What seemed to be a round shot went through the Moulmein galley. The Mino, lying near by, also was struck with many shots, but fortunately the damage was above her waterline and none of her crew was struck.

The bombardment lasted about 20 minutes. When it had ceased the fleet sailed southward, and some of the trawlers sent up rockets. The Moulmein steered in the direction of the rockets. Soon cries were heard, and the Crane was found sinking with another trawler taking off some of her crew. Those seriously injured were removed to a mission ship and the bodies of Smith and Leggott were placed aboard the Moulmein. The other men with minor injuries were put aboard the trawler Sea Gull, which at a late hour had not arrived at Hull. No motive can be assigned for the extraordinary procedure of the Russian warships.

Eighteen Wounded.

From interviews with members of trawler crews it appears that the admiral of the fishing fleet burned green flares to show that they were harmless fishermen, but these signals were ignord. Eighteen injured men are here under treatment. One trawler, the Wren, is missing, and it is feared she has been sunk. There is a rumor that the "Great Northern Fishing Fleet" was also chased by the Russians. This report has not yet been confirmed.

Feeling in London.

London, Oct. 24.—The first reports of the firing by Russian war vessels upon a British fishing fleet in the North sea were regarded as almost incredible. When, however, cumulative evidence no longer left doubt of the general accuracy of the reports, astonishment became bewilderment as to what possible motive could have led Russian officers into such an extraordinary and inexplicable course of action, which, unless a satisfactory explanation is immediately forthcoming, could only be regarded as an act of war. This is the view taken editorially by all the morning papers.

While admitting the necessity of a suspension of judgment for investigation and explanation, the morning newspapers are unanimous in demanding that the government instruct Ambassador Hardinge to make the strongest representations to the St. Petersburg government and obtain reparation and apology and assurances of the Russian Pacific fleet's good behavior for the future. It is held that the omission of the Russian fleet to stay its course down the channel to offer any explanation makes the case look exceedingly grave, and the only possible solution of the mystery that has been suggested is that, excited by rumors recently spread of Japan's intentions on the Pacific squadron, in the event of its sailing, the Russian gunners yielded to panic and supposed that the trawlers' rockets were the signals of an enemy's fleet.

Astonishment in Washington.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Astonishment that the Russian commander should have committed such a blunder as to fire on inoffensive fishing vessels as reported in dispatches from Hull prevails in official circles. At the same time these officials are prompt to express the opinion that the Russian government will promptly disavow the act and apologize when the facts are fully known. The tragedy, it is realized, adds to the complications which the Baltic fleet already has encountered ever since it was determined that the vessels should go to the far east.

London, Oct. 24.—The Russian Pacific (Baltic) fleet, comprising seven battleships and four cruisers, passed Dover in three sections between six o'clock Sunday morning and two o'clock in the afternoon and later passed Eastbourne. They were watched by large crowds from shore.

DEATH IN PLACE OF TRYST.

Woman Goes to Meet Lover and Is Confronted by His Son—Fatal Fight Follows.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Nellie Thomason, wife of a formerly prominent real estate dealer in this city, died at Lacon Thursday night as the result of injuries received in a sensational encounter with Richard and Jennie Higgins, children of John G. Higgins, a prominent member of the board of supervisors of Peoria county. The Higgins children intercepted a letter written to their father by Mrs. Thomason, it is said, in which she is said to have asked him to meet her at the station of the Rock Island road in this city. Higgins was at St. Louis, and his son opened the letter. The missive asked Higgins to be in the waiting room. When Mrs. Thomason arrived she was confronted by young Higgins and his sister. Some time later the woman asked C. A. Brant, the ticket agent, to assist her to the train. He did so, and when she was gone he found the floor of the waiting room covered with blood. The woman lingered in great agony at her home in Lacon until Thursday night, when she died.

Higgins is under arrest on a state warrant charging him with murder. Mrs. Thomason had lain in a comatose condition since Wednesday night, rallying enough to speak a word or two at times. Her body presented a horrible appearance. Her lip was severed, both eyes were blackened, one shoulder was displaced and her back was covered with bruises, evidently inflicted with a boot or heavy instrument.

The attack on Mrs. Thomason occurred Saturday noon. Young Higgins is 24 years old and his sister is 20 years old. Higgins wept when placed in jail. "We had been trying for years to break up the relations between my father and this woman," he said. "When we got that letter my sister and I went down to see if we could not make arrangements with her. We met her in the waiting room. I went up to her and touched her on the shoulder. 'Mrs. Thomason, I believe,' I said. She turned quickly and said: 'Oh, it's you, is it?' and drew out her hatpin. I then struck her sharply on the side of the face and knocked her over a chair. My sister then pulled me away and told me that I would be arrested—that we could not do anything with her. That's all there was to it."

NIP BLACKMAIL PLOT.

Chicago Millionaires Threatened in Letters Inform Police Who Make Capture.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Millionaires of Chicago recently have been annoyed by a mysterious letter writer asking for fabulous amounts under threats of death, who is at last thought to have been captured. Locked up at the Central police station is Roger McDonald, 22 years of age, and living at 1478 Roscoe street, who is charged with being the author of the letters. Through a decoy package placed in a hole at the northwest corner of Irving Park boulevard and Leavitt street by Central station detectives, Friday night McDonald was caught. He vigorously denies that he is the author of the letters, but the police compared his handwriting with the letters sent to the prominent Chicagoans and Chief O'Neil announced that it was identical. Among those who received the mysterious letters was Harlow M. Higinbotham, James S. Kirk and Milton W. Kirk. Millionaire Higinbotham had received the third threatening letter, in which it stated that unless $12,500 was placed in a hole dug at Irving Park boulevard and Leavitt street, his mansion would be blown up by dynamite.

VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT.

Machine Plunges from Bridge and Driver Is Killed—His Companion Badly Injured.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 22.—George A. Bennett, one of the most prominent citizens of Marengo, Ill., was killed in an automobile accident at Harmony, six miles southeast of Marengo, Friday afternoon. Robert Willard, his cousin, who accompanied him, was so severely injured that his recovery is doubtful. During the ride Mr. Bennett touched a lever with the intention of stopping the automobile, but in his confusion caught the wrong one and turned the machine sharply to one side and over a small bridge, the drop being about ten feet. The machine toppled over on the men. Mr. Bennett was unconscious when removed and lived only about one hour. Mr. Willard was horribly mangled about the head and chest. Both victims of the accident are among the most widely known residents of the county. Mr. Bennett was for many years supreme secretary of the Patrons of Industry. He entered the United States mail service some years ago and at the time of his death was rural route inspector for northern Illinois.

Democratic Nominees Endorsed.

New York, Oct. 21.—Letters were sent Thursday to Messrs. Hearst, Sulzer, Towne, Baker and Laughlin, nominees for congress on the democratic ticket in this city, officially notifying them that they also have been nominated by the people's party.

Suicide of County Official.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 21.—Matthew Cunningham, county recorder, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. A representative of a bonding company arrived to investigate an alleged shortage of $488.65 in the accounts with the county.

Renominated.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21.—Congressman Alfred Lucking has been renominated by the democrats of the First congressional district.

BIG GAME LICENSES.

County Auditor Ford Receives His Quota from Game Commission.

County Auditor James E. Ford has received from the state game and fish commission, his quota of large game licenses, the season during which such game can be legally shot having opened October 15. There were one hundred licenses in the batch received by the county auditor and it is thought to be sufficient to supply the number of calls that are likely to be made here, but the auditor in those localities where the game flourishes received a much greater quantity.

St. Louis county alone received over 3,000 of the total number of licenses sent out by the state department. It is expected that there will be good big game shooting there this fall. The deer season lasts twenty days, from Nov. 10 to 30, and the season for moose and caribou is from Nov. 20 to 30. The quail and partridge season opened October 15 and remains open for a period of two months.

As during the last season each local hunter will be allowed three deer, one moose and one caribou. Non-resident have the same privilege with the exception that they can shoot but two deer. Tags are issued with the license and by tyiny them onto the game the hunter can ship to any place in the state.

Pay the Penalty.

It has been many years since the Republican party has had to go though a state campaign on the defensive. The main issue of this campaign on their part seems to be one of explanation—an issue that has defeated stronger men than Bob Dunn. It is the penalty that political parties sometimes have to pay for nominating men who are not acceptable to the majority of the voters of the party.—Wykoff Messenger.

Disgrace of Ray Jones.

As for Ray Jones, it seem almost hideous to say it, yet the prospects of his election are much brighter than those of Mr. Dunn. So many voters ignore the names of the candidates after they have carefully selected their candidate for governor, that Jones is likely to slip into office by the sheer indifference or ignorance of voters. The state has already endured the disgrace of his one term as lieutenant-governor. It is hard that another two years of that disgrace is possible.—Wheelock's Weekly.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: A man has to be terribly wicked to live up to the reputation he gets in politics.

A girl acts bashful when she is only wondering what impression it makes on you.

A man educates himself to get the better of men, and a woman can do it without any education.

When a woman goes into a raffle she hates the one who is going to win before she does it.

Just when a man begins to congratulate himself that his ice bills are coming down a few cents, his coal bills run up several dollars.

Boston Sinking Into Sea.

The president of the Water Board of Massacheusetts is the authority for a statement that Boston is gradually sinking into the sea. The present plane is over seven inches lower than it was seventy five years ago, which means that the land is sinking at the rate of about a foot in 100 years. With all the changes around us, we mustn't forget that golden grain belt beer has been gradually improving in purity, healthfulness and delicacy for years, until today it stands unequalled among the famous brews of America. It's essentially a home tonic, the kind you want for your family. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex. Thompson, Crookston.

An Awful Possibility.

Fairmont Sentinel: In event of the success of the Republican state ticket and the subsequent death or removal from office of Robert C. Dunn, the executive mantle would fall upon the shoulder of timber thief Ray Jones. Men of Minnesota, will you entertain the possibility of having as the executive head of this great state a man who has been found guilty and punished in the federal courts for stealing timber from the public lands?

William Everett of Theran, Ill., is a new subscriber to THE COURIER this week. Mr. Theran has recently purchased the northeast quarter of section 9, Lake Pleasant, of the Gonigam agency and will take possession in the spring.

Gives the Whole Pedigree.

Pocahontas (Iowa) Democrat: THE RED LAKE COURIER, published at Red Lake Falls, Minnesota, is a new exchange and edited by an old friend, John E. King, who came to Iowa about twenty years ago from Hoop-pole county, Indiana, with an old carpet bag containing one shirt and a pair of old socks. John went to work on the Alton Democrat, getting his board and the privilege of washing his feet once a week in the office wash basin. He grew in knowledge and stature, finally started the Larchwood Leader, when only seventeen years old, then got into Rock Rapids, published the Reporter, then the Review, and during the summer of 1892, went to Adrian, Minnesota, started the Adrian Democrat, and when Cleveland was elected, became postmaster went back to the Hoosier state and married, and now has been nominated for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket in the great state of Minnesota. Here's hoping that he will be elected. He is competent and deserving.

Brain Leaks.

The loud prayers are not always the first heard.

Vast numbers of men mistake partisanship for patriotism.

Men achieve big things by patiently attending to the little details.

Patient endeavor sooner or later finds something that the lazy loiterer calls "good luck."

Some people shed advice like a cottonwood tree sheds lint—and with about the same results.

Speak softly and carry an olive branch, and you will go far in a day and leave friends along the way.

Trying to reason with a purbling partisan is about as profitable as trying to eat bean soup with a fork.

The workmen who does no more than he is paid to do, soon finds himself unable to get anything to do that is paid for.

Think once before you speak; think twice before you act; think thrice before you write it, and think four times before you mail it.

The foolish man figures on doing yesterday's work tomorrow. The wise man usually had today's task well started before yesterday closed.

A man never realizes how foolish he was until he accidentally comes across a love letter he wrote to his wife before they were married. And the woman usually wonders why the husband is not as wise as the lover was.

Should Have a Solid Vote.

Ada Herald: One of the candidates on the Democratic state ticket who should receive the solid vote of the Red River Valley and the northern part of the state is John E. King, of Red Lake Falls, candidate for secretary of state. Mr. King is qualified in every way to fill the office and if elected the fact that he comes from this section would mean much to our benefit on the question of drainage alone. The office of secretary of state is purely clerical and one in which politics should not be a factor. Mr. King is editor and publisher of THE RED LAKE COURIER—a paper which occupies a high position in Minnesota journalism. As an endorsement from his home community let it be said that every Republican paper in Red Lake county is supporting Mr. King.

PLUMMER.

[From the Pioneer.]

Ole Mikkelson was out from Red Lake Falls, on Tuesday, looking after threshing operations on his farm in Garnes.

Geo. Hennings, and Wm. Hunt drove out from Red Lake Falls, on Tuesday, and bought their shot guns along with them for a partridge hunt.

Miss Ida Poessel, who is teaching school at Plummer's Dam, came over with Mrs. H. H. Finrow on Tuesday evening for a brief visit in town.

Louis Hanson was down from Thief River Falls, Thursday, looking over the business done by Ole J. Johnson, local agent for the Hanson & Barzen Milling Co., at their elevator. The buying of grain has been carried on herc by Mr. Johnson for several days nows an excellent business is being done, The famous brands of flour, etc., manufactered by this company will be sold and their business promises to one of the best.

Mrs. J. J. Doe, Republican candidate for superintendent of schools, was a visitor here on Thursday while on her way to attend the poitical rallies at Equality and Garnes on that evening and Friday. Mrs. Doe is one of the best campaigners running for any county office on the Republican ticket and is pretty certain to be successful at the polls.

Candidates Kicked.

Thief River News: The Republican meeting in the Evenson hall last Thursday evening was not very well attended, and the various county candidates who were in attendance were very much disappointed that they were not given an opportunity to address the audience. They paid for the expenses of the meeting and felt that they should have been given an opportunity to press their claims upon the voters, instead of all the time being devoted to the booming of Dunn, who is not a very popular topic.

More Dunn Enthusiasm.

F. T. Satre, the well known Rocksbury farmer, was down to Crookston the first of the week and attended the Duun meeting. Mr. Satre said that the meeting was not a very enthusiastic one and that Dunn made a poor impression. Although a Republican Mr. Satre states that he will vote for Johnson for governor.—Thief River Falls News.

Your Heart.

When Your Heart Fails to Pump Your Blood, Trouble Results.

Have you heart trouble?

You have, if you find it hard to breathe after walking up stairs, exercising, etc. If you have pain in your left side, in chest, back or shoulder. If you suffer from cold extremities, pale face, blue lips, dry cough, swollen ankles.

If you have fainting spells, breast pang, palpitation, redness of the face, discomfort in sleeping on one side.

The only scientific treatment for this whole train of troubles is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the prescription of a famous specialist, whose great success in treating obstinate nervous heart disease has made his name pre-eminent in the medical and scientific world.

The medicine will cure you. We know it. We want you to prove it. If first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will give you back your money.

"I have for several years suffered at times with heart trouble. I got so bad I could not sleep half the night, and had to sit up on the side of the bed lots of times to get breath. Three of my brothers have died of heart trouble, and I thought I was going the same way, but about two and a half years ago I got a pamphlet about Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and thought I would try a few bottles. After using them I recovered, and have had better health since then than before for several years. I can heartily recommend them for heart trouble."—REV. GUILLMETTE SURRENDERS

Man Suspected of Mentor Murder Last Week Returned to Rhode Island.

A special to the dailies from Woonsocket, R. I., says that Joseph Guillmette, wanted by the police at Crookston, Minn., in connection with the death of Joseph Mongeason at Mentor, Minn., reached his home in that city Friday night and surrendered to the local police. He was held pending instructions from Minnesota officers.

Guillmette went from the train to his home, and after learning from his wife that he was wanted by the police, proceeded to headquarters and gave himself up.

He denied any knowledge of the crime, and said that he did not know of his friend's death until told of it by his wife. In response to questions by Chief Dodge as to his movements last Monday, the day of the murder, Guillmette said:

"Mongeaon and I worked together in the wheat fields of North Dakota and were the best of friends. On Saturday last we went to East Grand Forks to visit Fontaine.

"We left Fontaine Sunday and spent that night at a farm house. Monday morning we started out in search of work. We were unsuccessful, and I decided to come home. I sold my gun to Mongeaon and, after saying farewell, went across the country to Red Lake Falls, where I boarded a train for the East."

A Crookston dispatch under the same date says that Joseph Guillmette, the supposed murderer of Joseph Mongeaon, was arrested Friday evening at his home at Woonsocket, R. I., by Chief of Police Dodge, who advised Sheriff Sullivan of the capture, and Sullivan left for his prisoner Saturday morning. Guillmette did exactly what it was expected he would do—return to his family. The murder was committed last Monday, one mile from Mentor, and the remains of the dead man are now at Crookston and will be held till the arrival of the supposed murderer to see what effect the sight of the remains will have upon him.

Excitement over the murder of the man now decided upon by authorities as Joe Mongeaon, a Canadian, from St. Pie, Quebec, continues, and every possible clew is being followed by the sheriff and several deputies. Fontaine positively identified the body as that of the man he had seen in company at Grand Forks with his friend Joseph Guillmette last Saturday.

That robbery was the prime object of the murderer seems conclusive, as Mongeon had money, it is claimed, and the stories of a woman being in the case are exploded, as the men had met in East Grand Forks and formed an acqupaintance which led to their starting on a hunting and spruce gathering expedition. The letters found were the belongings of Guillmette, and not Mongeaon the dead man, as was at first supposed.

CONNECTION TO BE PUSHED

Authorities Say Junction Between Great Northern and Northern Pacific Will Soon be Finished.

K. T. Farden, Great Northern section boss at Dugdale, is authority for the statement that the Red Lake Falls connection of the Great Northern with the Northern Pacific and that at Tilden also will be completed in short order and that the trains from this city will within six weeks wend their way to Red Lake Falls through Tilden rather than through Wylie and St. Hilaire, says the Crookston Journal.

According to Mr. Farden, who spent yesterday in the city with friends and acquaintances and upon business matters, the connection line of track at Tilden will be started Monday and at the end of the week should be in a state of completion. At Red Lake Falls Mr. Farden says the work is progressing at a very rapid rate and the roadbed has been completed almost to the Northern Pacific right-of-way. The supposition among railroad men is that both roads will make use of the Great Northern depot and that the Northern Pacific will contiue to use the track and send trains to and from Red Lake Falls as of old, the Great Northern merely having secured right-of-way on its 'contemporary's track. Freight service, it is understood will be continued via the old north track through Wylie and St. Hilaire and it is possible that an accommodation train may be run in that direction for the convenience of passengers who have to make that line.

Baking Economy.

By the use of a perfect baking powder the housewife can derive as much economy as from any other article used in baking and cooking. In selecting a baking powder, therefore, care should be exercised to purchase one that retains its original strength and always remains the same, thus making the food sweet and wholesome and producing sufficient leavening gas to make the baking light.

Very little of this leavening gas is produced by the cheap baking powders, making it necessary to use double the quantity ordinarily required to secure results.

Manufacturers of cream of tartar powders ask about twice as much for their goods as that paid for any other baking powder, and food prepared from these cream of tartar powders contains large quantities of Rochelle Salts. Ask your physician what the results would be from the constant dosing of Rochelle Salts.

A baking powder that is recommended in leading physicians and chemists, and which is both perfect in quality and moderate in price, is therefore suggested —one that has been found to be "best by test"—"Calumet." From the standpoints of purity, wholesomeness and economy, there is nothing to excel it.

Food prepared with Calumet is absolutely free from Rochelle Salts, Alum, Lime, Ammonia, or any injurious substance.

TAINTED BLOOD

Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1903.

Some four years ago I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and had an all-gone tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S., and after taking seven or eight bottles my skin was cleared of all eruptions and took on a ruddy, healthy glow that assured me that my blood had been restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite was restored, as I could eat anything put before me, and as I regained my appetite I increased in weight, and that "tired feeling" which worried me so much disappeared, and I was once again my old self.

I heartily recommend S. S. S. as the best blood purifier and tonic made, and strongly advise its use to all those in need of such medicine. VICTOR STUBBINS. Cor. Barthman and Washington Aves.

Wheeling, W. V., May 28, 1903.

My system was rundown and my joints ached and pained me considerably. I had used S. S. S. before and knew what it was, so I purchased a bottle of it and have taken several bottles and the aches and pains are gone, my blood has been cleased and my general health built up. I can testify to it as a blood purifier and tonic.

Red Lake Courier.

Printed Every Thursday Evening at Red Lake Falls, Minnesota.

By JOHN E. KING.

$1.00 Per Year, in Advance!

Governor Van Sant would rather save some other doubtful state than Minnesota.

Joel P. Heatwole and W. E. Verity seems to have run up against "The System."

The "lid is off" in the doubtful states, and the campaign there is a good imitation of the hot times in 1876, 1880, 1884 and 1892.

The poor old Pioneer Press has a daily fit because the Democratic candidate for governor happens to be of Scandinavian parentage.

A Chicago man is in jail for hugging handsome women, and Albert Lea Standard opines he likely feels that he got his money's worth.

The Western Republicans are having a little family difficulty this year and it looks as though Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan will have Democratic governors for a change.

Poor Ray Jones must depend on the Democratic speakers for all of his advertising. We have yet to hear that a Republican speaker or newspaper has dared to mention his name.

The Pioneer Press has it all figured out that Missouri is in danger of going for Roosevelt. It's time some Democratic paper evened the thing up by threatening to get Maine in line for Parker.

The Democrats are not abusing Bob Dunn. They are willing to rest their cause by presenting the high characters and clean records of their candidates and the issues upon which they stand, and ask the voters to make the comparisons.

There is talk in St. Paul of establishing a law to prevent kissing, in the interest of the public health. And now Harry Ives makes a motion to hold the next editorial convention at Anoka or some other place where they are not so blamed particular about being healthy.

Especially in local affairs the "straight ticket" cry should be discouraged. It doesn't matter much to the average voter whether the county officers are Democrats or Republicans. But we need good men. On this test the Democratic county ticket has a marked advantage.

The Albert Lea Standard fittingly says. "All may with perfect confidence depend on this—the truth and the facts will redound to the honor, credit and manhood of John A. Johnson in answer to any possible assault upon his character or record that his desperate opponents may make."

There are three constitutional amendments to be voted upon. The first is to increase the railroad gross earnings tax from 3 to 4 per cent and voters should be careful to put an X mark opposite "Yes" on the pink ballot, for the amendment. But both other amendments should be voted down—put X marks opposite "No"—they are bad—vote them down.

Voting a straight ticket used to be an honor and most men would consider it an insult if anybody inferred that they would vote otherwise than straight, but in these days of bossism, graft and other evils, it behooves men to vote for principles rather than men and if men on your ticket do not meet with your approbation on political grounds, be a man and vote for one who does.

There are 16,938 pensioners in Minnesota who received this year $2,303,799.98, according to a report of the United States commissioner of pensions, received by I. L. Mahan, ex-department commander of the G. A. R. of Minnesota. The report also shows that the pension bureau at Washington is still paying pension to survivors of the Revolutionary war. One is a widow, Esther Damon, 90, and the other two are daughters pensioned by special act.

James E. Ford, the popular county auditor, is going to be re-elected, and according to the precedent established in this county, he is entitled to the place. He is an obliging official, efficient, and performs his duty in a manner that is a credit to himself and to the county. When anyone goes to his office seeking advice or knowledge on any question pertaining to drainage or taxation his keen understanding of the law on these subjects enables him to give a clear and satisfactory reply. It would be an egregious blunder to defeat Mr. Ford, and we are glad to know that there is little likelihood of the voters going back on one of their best friends.

Probably the most absurd unfair charge made against John A. Johnson is the assertion that he is opposed to state drainage. It is alleged that in a speech in the southern part of the state Mr. Johnson said he was opposed to drainage. We have not seen any quotation from Mr. Johnson to that effect, and, anyway, it is only a cheap campaign lie. In his speech of acceptance he made favorable reference to the drainage question, and this week in addresses at Warren, Hallock and Crookston re-interated his previous statements, saying that state drainage was "a business proposition," and that he would favor additional appropriations for that purpose.

"Postmasters must keep out of politics or be fired" is the dictum of the present. Postmaster General Wynne has sent out from Washington notices to the postmasters of North Dakota and Minnesota calling their attentian to the order of President Roosevelt prohibibiting postal employes from soliciting campaign contributions. Word was recently received by General Wynne that certain postal employes in the Twin cities and some North Dakota postmasters were a little too active in political work during the present campaign. The punishment for infringement of the order of President Roosevelt is dismissal and prosecution under section 11 of the civil service act.

THE COUNTY CANDIDATES.

In the county campaign the Democratic party presents candidates worthy of your trust. Most of them are tried and faithful servants of Red Lake county. They have served you well, and you are asked to approve their stewartship. Three of them are asking a scond term, and this is usually accorded officials who have been faithful to the trust reposed in them.

The county ticket is headed by James E. Ford, candidate for auditor. It would be superfluous to say that we are proud of Jim. His name is a synonym for honesty, integrity and efficiency, and the affairs of the office have been performed wtih exceptional ability,

For treasurer Karl M. Hansen, a prominent Thief River Falls business man, has been selected. He has held many positions of public trust and filled them to the utmost satisfaction of his constituents.

Frank Jeffers, nominee for register of deeds, has for a number of years been superintendent of schools, and now seeks advancement. He is a good penman, efficient and capable, and there is no danger that the high standard this office has attained will suffer under Mr. Jeffers' incumbency.

For sheriff the Democratic nominee is Daniel Linnihan, the present incumbent. Mr. Linnihan was a good enough man for a Republican board to appoint to this office upon the demise of Sheriff Sampson, and is a good enough man to continue in the place.

N. W. Tarrant seeks re-election as judge of probate, and it is a matter of common knowledge that he has kept the records of his office in the best possible manner, and brings to the office a thorough knowledge of the laws governing the probate court. There isn't any doubt of his election, but to be on the safe side resolve now to put an "x" after his name.

The Democrats have a candidate for county commissioner in the Red Lake Falls district, Samuel Luxenburg of Lake Pleasant township. He is one of our most progressive farmers and an old resident of the county. He is deserving of your support.

INDEPENDENT VOTERS.

The following from the Minneapolis Times, which supports Roosevelt, is so true and timely that it will appear to the conscience and judgement of every intelligent voter.

"There is such a thing as state as well as national patriotism and it is exemplified in the course of Republicans who have severed party ties this fall for the sake of delivering Minnesota from the rule of a clique that has assumed to claim title to official power because it has wrongfully captured the Republican trademark.

"A voter is just as good a Republican—perhaps a better Republican, when he forsakes his party in a state campaign like this for the sake of a decent government—indeed, an infinitely better citizen than he would be if he submitted tamely to the cracking and the stripes of the party whip to the shame of his own conscience. A man is a better Democrat when he does the same thing in Missouri. The independent voters—the independent Republicans and the independent Democrats—are the men who will give us good government. When a party is drunk with power the silent, independent vote is the one that sobers it up.

"Johnson and Winston represent everything that Dunnism is not, and that is why Republicans are flocking to their standard by thousands and frankly assuring them of their enthusiastic support wherever they appear."

LIND'S TRIBUTE TO JOHNSON.

John A. Johnson, our candidate for governor, I have known since childhood. He was born in St. Peter where he now resides. His life is an open book—every page of his record an inspiration to duty. At eleven years of age he became the sole support of a poverty stricken mother and several younger children. He found a place in a grocery store at $3 per week and for three years—156 times—his mother drew that pittance for the support of herself and little ones.

He then obtained a better position in a drug store, where he continued for nine years, devoting his earings to the support of the family and the education of his sisters and brothers. The brother and one sister are still living and owe their education as well as their support to John, who is to them a father rather than elder brother. By indomitable energy and persistent work he also obtained an education for himself. Recognizing his ability as well as his worth some friends bought the St. Peter Herald for him. In time he paid for it and has continued to own and edit it to the present time.

His standing in his profession is evidenced by his election to the presidency of the Minnesota Editorial association.

In 1898 he was elected to the state senate over a strong and popular opponent, and this notwithstanding the fact that the district is overwhelmingly Republican. In the senate he rendered the state and district efficient service and won the confidence and respect of his colleagues.

VOTE ON THE AMENDMENTS.

The attention of The Courier readers is called to the need of giving consideration to the constitutional amendments to be voted November 8th. If you are in favor of increasing the taxes of the railroads to a more reasonable rate vote "yes" on the first amendment.

If you think that an amount equal to 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the school districts would be a safe loan for the funds of the public schools and university, vote "yes" on the second amendment. The amount now loaned is but seven per cent of the assessed valuation and the increase is considered a desirable one.

The third amendment should be voted down. There is no reason why the grand jury should be abolished before something more definite than an incoming legislature is named to provide measures to take its place.

KARL M. HANSEN.

Karl M. Hansen, the Democratic nominee for county treasurer of Red Lake county, has been a resident of Thief River Falls since the fall of 1893 and is so well known all over the county that he need no introduction to the taxpayers of the county. Always in favor of drainage and several ditches were successfully established while he held office. His practical knowledge of bookkeeping and his experience in various lines of trade besides being able to speak both the English and Scandinavian languages make him especially well qualified to fill the office of county treasurer.

JOHNSON ON DRAINAGE.

It has been untruthfully asserted that Hon. John A. Johnson, Democratic candidate for governor, is opposed to state drainage. Here is what Mr. Johnson said on this subject in his speech of acceptance at Minneapolis:

"Swamp land drainage is a business proposition and it admits of no argument. Someone has said that he who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is a benefactor. It is good business policy for the state of Minnesota to convert this class of land into farms for the Minnesota settler.

Assessed Valuation of Minnesota.

The total assessed valuation of real and personal property in Minnesota for 1904 will be close to $870,000,000.

The total for personal property has not been checked up, but the values, as returned by the county boards, totaled $149,864,181, and the increase made by the state board will be between $18,000,000 and $20,900,000.

The assessment of real estate comes to $701,066,777. The assessment of 1902 was only $647,253,261. The assessors this year returned real estate at $605,178,151. This was raised by the county boards of equalization to $652,797,783, and a still heavier raise was the result of the state board's labor.

DAIRY DEPARTMENT.

Edited by Geo. L. Austin, Manager of the Red Lake Falls Creamery.

Cows and hogs are a profitable combination on the farm.

Does dairying pay? That all depends on the dairyman.

Milk and cream should be graded paid for accordingly, just as much as wheat or flax.

The foundation rocks upon which the creamery business has been builded are the old cow and her keeper, the creamery patron.

Silos are expensive, but likewise are good cows expensive, but every dairyman knows that it pays to keep good cows. Those farmers who have silos also know that they pay and pay well.

A man's meanness is often charged to his "bringing up." What is true in the man's case is also true in regard to [illegible] the result of careless "bring up" of the heifer cavles.

Enduring success in dairy farming comes only through scientific breeding and feeding of good stock. This is a statement that will go unchallenged. Is it not clear then why so many dairymen(?) are running their dairies at a loss?

To be successful in the business of dairying a man must of course have good cows and up-to-date conveniences; but upon skill the and knowledge of the dairyman himself depends more than anything else the profits to be berived from the business.

The dairyman who is a dairyman in the true sense of the word not only selects the cows for his herd which are adapted to milk giving, but cares for them with the same degree of intelligence. Carefnl breeding and careful selection may be set at nought by careless and indiscriminate feeding and care.

A good large well or dairy house is necessary to the equipment of a first class dairy, but its use should be confined to the dairy. Their conversion into a sort of store room or receptacle for vegetable, tools, worn out harnessess, etc., does not tend to produce a fine flavored milk or stimulate the dairy appetite of the occasional visitor.

AN EXCELLENT TICKET

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR STATE OFFICES ALL MEN OF KNOWN INTEGRITY.

FEARLESS AND INDEPENDENT

WITHOUT CORRUPT TIES, BOUND TO NO SPECIAL INTERESTS OR COMBINATIONS.

THEIR ELECTION DEMANDED

ENTITLED TO VOTES OF LOVERS OF GOOD GOVERNMENT REGARDLESS OF PARTY.

When a political party places in nomination men of known integrity for important positions it is good judgment on the part of the people to take cognizance of its action.

The Democratic party of Minnesota at its 1904 convention in Minneapolis placed in nomination a state ticket upon which every name is that of such a man.

To the voters of Minnesota it presents a ticket composed of clean, honest, independent men, without corrupt ties and bound to no special interest or combination of corporate influence.

For such a ticket the Democratic party of Minnesota asks the suffrages of a united Democracy and of intelligent and independent voters of all parties.

JOHN A. JOHNSON.

John A. Johnson, Democratic candidate for governor, was born in St. Peter, Nicollet county, Minn., July 28, 1862, and as schoolboy, editor and state senator has lived there ever since.

By reason of poverty and hard circumstances young Johnson was compelled to leave school at an early age to help support the family. He had three years' experience in grocery and general merchandise business and a year in railway construction. To this strenuous workday activity and to a good constitution inherited from Scandinavian stock Johnson owes his muscular vigor. He learned thoroughly the drug business, following it as man and boy for nine years, being the thirteenth registered druggist to receive the certificate of the state. Not because he considered the number thirteen unlucky, but because he finally had saved enough capital to get a small start in the newspaper business, he at length, Dec. 17, 1886, at the age of twenty-four, purchased a half interest in the St. Peter Herald, the editorial firm being the now long familiar one of Essler & Johnson, and joined the Minnesota editorial fraternity, of which he has been one of the leading lights, as well as one of the most popular and beloved, for eighteen years.

Although compelled at the age of thirteen to leave public school to work for a living John A. Johnson did not neglect opportunity for study, and when at the age of twenty-four he took the editorial pen on the St. Peter Herald he rose promptly to front rank in Minnesota country journalism. In 1891 he was elected secretary of the State Editorial association and in 1893 was elected by his contemporaries to the office of president. It is significant that among the whole 700 publications of the state there is not one that, moved by professional jealousy or partisan bias, has yet uttered a word derogatory to John A. Johnson.

JOHN A. JOHNSON.

John A. Johnson stands squarely on the state Democratic platform of 1904, as well as on the national platform. He believes in the right of labor to organize and as governor would stand against any attempt to abridge that lawful right. On the merger question he stands for the strict and impartial enforcement of the law without fear or favoritism and will use the whole power of the office of governor for the protection of the public interests in this direction. On the tariff he is an earnest exponent of Canadian reciprocity, which he believes will double the commercial territory and development of Minnesota, and holds that lumber and other trust controlled products should go to the free list.

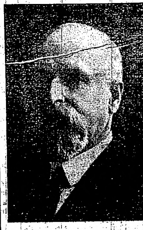
The nomination of John A. Johnson for governor was by acclamation of the whole state of Minnesota. At the convention there was no dissenting voice; in the state at large there has been no voice of dissent. He is supported by a united Democracy. More than that he is the choice of thousands of intelligent and independent voters in all parties who believe the time has come when special interests shall cease to reap privileges and hold power in the executive offices of the state capitol.

FENDALL G. WINSTON.

One of the most conspicuous examples of patriotism in the interests of good government in Minnesota is the action of Fendall G. Winston, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, in neglecting business interests which in the aggregate distribute nearly $1,000,000 in wages per annum to give his time, name and influence to the cause of the people in this campaign as the running mate of John A. Johnson.

Coming to the Northwest in 1872, then a young man of only twenty-two years, Fendall G. Winston has been identified with the growth and progress of Minnesota for a generation. He is bone of its bone and sinew of its sinew. The firm of Winston Bros., contractors, formed in 1874, first achieving distinction in the early municipal construction work of Minneapolis, then extending its operations to government and railway survey and construction work throughout the Northwest, has been associated with the engineering development of Minnesota and the Northwest for thirty years and one of the strong factors in the state's industrial progress.

Fendall G. Winston is today president of Winston Bros. company, contractors; of Winston-Dear company, contractors, and of Winston, Harper, Fisher & Co., wholesale grocers. The high standing of these companies for integrity and enterprise is known throughout the Northwest. The two construction companies last season, a comparatively dull year, distributed directly to the workingmen employed by them $750,000 in wages, not including pay for clerks and teams, and not including the sums distributed through sub-contractors. The wholesale grocery firm, of which Mr. Winston has been head since 1893, has a payroll of upwards of $100,000 per annum. During the fifteen years ending in 1902 Winston Bros. distributed an average of $1,000,000 a year in wages to workingmen. In thirty years the firm has employed in all not less than a quarter of a million hands. In addition to being president of the three companies named Mr. Winston is likewise a director of the Security bank of Minneapolis, of the Minnesota Loan and Trust company and of the Minneapolis plow works.



FENDALL G. WINSTON.

For a man of such heavy business responsibilities the office of lieutenant governor can be accepted only at great sacrifice. For such a man to lay down all his multifarious business and personal interests on the altar of good government is a test of patriotism which but few men of his commercial standard are willing in this generation to undergo. The position of lieutenant governor is one which is the least sought of all the positions on the state ticket. To hold up the hands of John A. Johnson as the standard bearer of good government in Minnesota, to rid this commonwealth of the stain upon its good name, to help the people of Minnesota to regain the reins of government and to uplift Minnesota politics to a standard of purity and honor, Mr. Winston has set aside all business and personal interests and given the prestige of his name and the force of his influence and energy to advance the flag of Democracy and the people in this campaign.

Every Minnesota voter who has regard for patriotism, every friend of the commonwealth who wants clean hands and a soul of honor in the office of president of the state senate, every citizen, regardless of party, who wants the senate committees of this state appointed by a man whose only interest is that of the public, every friend of good state government who wants to hold up the hands of John A. Johnson as governor by giving him an ally and supporter, and not an enemy and opponent, in the person of lieutenant governor and president of the senate, should vote to elect Fendall G. Winston by the side of John A. Johnson and thereby give the state of Minnesota in 1904 for these two high offices a pair of executive officials who, for brains and backbone, for executive fitness and ability, for public spirit and patriotic purpose, are not excelled by the standard bearers of any other state in the Union.

JOHN E. KING.

John E. King, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, was born Aug. 27, 1870, at Laketon, Wabash county, Ind., and spent the first twelve years of his life on a farm. In 1881 he was apprenticed in a country printing office and worked in a large number of offices in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. In 1888, when but eighteen years of age, he established the Larchwood Leader at Larchwood, Ia. He went from there to Rock Rapids, Ia., where for two years he was editor of the Review. In 1891 he established the Nobles County Democrat at Adrian, Minn., which paper he conducted for ten years. During the last Cleveland administration he was postmaster of Adrian and in 1894 was the Democratic candidate for representative in the legislature from the Fifteenth district. In 1901 Mr. King purchased the Red Lake Courier at Red Lake Falls and has since been engaged in the active management of that paper—one of the leading exponents of Democracy in the state.

Mr. King was married in 1895 to Miss Georgia Duncan of Laketon, Ind., and two children have been born to them—Homer D., eight years, and Florence H., four years of age.

JOHN E. KING.

For several years he was president of the Southwestern Minnesota Editorial association and at the present time is first vice president of the state association.

THOMAS J. M'DERMOTT.

Thomas Jefferson McDermott, Democratic candidate for attorney general, is a product of the state of Minnesota, having been ushered into life Nov. 17, 1861, in Kasota, Le Sueur county, his parents being Paul and Rose (McNamee) McDermott. After receiving a good common school education he was given the advantage of a good business training in a commercial school in Minneapolis, supplementing this with a course in the law school of the state university, from which he graduated, taking both bachelor and master degrees. He also had practical training in the office of Eugene M. Wilson and under the direction of Judge William Lochren of Minneapolis and was admitted to practice before the supreme court of Minnesota in April, 1892, and the supreme court of the United States March 4, 1895.

Preferring to stand or fall on his own merits Mr. McDermott opened an office in St. Paul and, more fortunate than many young professional men, met with prompt recognition among the fraternity by reason of his vigor and energy and he has been a very successful man during the twelve years of his practice.

Probably few men are more widely and pleasantly known throughout Minnesota than Thomas Jefferson McDermott, who is a prominent and influential leader of the Democratic party of the state. He has served on the executive committee for four years and has been an important factor in strengthening and harmonizing the party with which he affiliates. His genial and companionable ways have made him a universal favorite among all classes and his influence is potent and farreaching, always exerted in sustaining the cause of the masses and bettering their condition. Mr. McDermott was married in 1887, in Marysburg, Minn., to Miss Caroline T. Doran, by whom he has five children, four sons and one daughter.

THOMAS J. M'DERMOTT.

BYRON J. MOSIER.

Byron J. Mosier, Democratic candidate for state treasurer, has been a resident of Stillwater for the past thirty-three years. His every action has been as an open book to the people of that city. He is known and trusted as a man of unimpeachable honor, a man of good moral character and one in every way worthy of any promotion the people of this state can bestow upon him, irrespective of party predilections. He was not an aspirant for the office, but accepted the honor as a matter of duty that he feels he owes to his party.

BYRON J. MOSIER.

Mr. Mosier has led an active and busy life from boyhood. Love of country is responsible for his enlistment when a young boy in defense of the Union during the long and bloody War of the Rebellion. Naturally he has a warm place in his heart for all old soldiers, has done much in their behalf and should be remembered by them when they cast their vote for state treasurer next November.

He has established an extensive business in the wholesale and retail cigar and tobacco trade and has a multitude of patrons in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

That his neighbors and friends believe him worthy of confidence is evidenced by the following summary of places of trust imposed upon him:

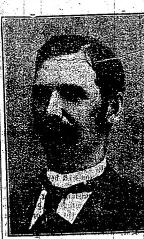
Served the city of Stillwater as member of the city council; appointed surveyor general of logs and lumber for the First district under Governor Lind; treasurer of the Stillwater encampment, No. 23, I. O. O. F., for thirteen years; treasurer Stillwater lodge, No. 179, B. P. O. E., for thirteen years, and then elected to the office of exalted ruler.

At the present time he holds the office of junior vice commander of Crook post, No. 69, G. A. R.

Mr. Mosier was aid on the department staff under Department Commanders Adam Marty, Captain Harries and Captain Mahan.

CALVIN L. BROWN.

Calvin L. Brown, candidate for associate justice of the supreme court, was born in Sullivan county, N. Y., in 1854 and came to Minnesota with his parents in 1855 and has since continuously resided in the state.



CALVIN L. BROWN.

He was admitted to the bar in 1876 and located in Morris in 1878. He was appointed judge of the Sixteenth judicial district by Governor McGill March 10, 1887, and was elected to that office in 1888 and again in 1894. He was appointed associate justice of the supreme court by Governor Lind to succeed Justice Buck, resigned, and was elected to that office in 1898.

Judge Brown is married and resides at Morris, Stearns county.

JOHN A. LOVELY.

John A. Lovely, candidate for the supreme court, was born at Burlington, Vt., Nov. 18, 1843; came West in 1863; was admitted to the bar in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1864; practiced law at Watertown three years; came to Albert Lea in the fall of 1867, where he has resided ever since. He has held the offices of city attorney of Albert Lea, county attorney of Freeborn county, was president of the State Bar association of Minnesota from 1875 to 1878. Mr. Lovely is married and has two children. He was elected to the supreme court as a candidate on the Republican ticket in 1898 by over 30,000 majority, receiving votes of a large number of the opposite party; took his seat Jan. 1, 1900; his term expires Jan. 1, 1906.

JOHN A. LOVELY.

Before Mr. Lovely went on the supreme bench he had been engaged very largely in a general practice of his profession, particularly in litigation against railroad companies in behalf of the employes, and has recovered very many verdicts and sustained them in the supreme court of this state and in the federal courts. Mr. Lovely was also engaged in litigation in behalf of farmers against these corporations to compel them to fence their rights of way, in which he was successful, establishing in the supreme court of the United States principles that were vigorously contested, and since he has been on the bench has maintained his reputation as a lawyer of broad views and good capacity.

He was a candidate for endorsement in the late Republican convention and received a majority of the votes, but after they were polled trades were made by which he was deprived of his nomination. The bar of the state universally desires Mr. Lovely's re-election and believes that it is conducive to the administration of justice. He received the unanimous endorsement and nomination of the Democratic convention notwithstanding he was a Republican, but on account of his fitness for the position and a desire to lift the judiciary out of politics.

O. M. HALL.

Osee Matson Hall, Democratic candidate for justice of the supreme court, is a man singularly fitted for judicial preferment. He has probably prevented more lawsuits than any other man in Goodhue county, holding that it is the lawyer's business to protect his clients from litigation. His reputation for probity and knowledge of the law is so firmly established that an opinion from him is frequently accepted as final judgment, not needing appeal to the courts.

O. M. HALL.

His briefs are notably clear and lucid, his style easy and readable, his logic well considered, holding the mind to the argument.

As an advocate he tries every case on its merits, never descending to special pleading, abhorring the time worn device of abusing the plaintiff's attorney, but preserving at all times the amenities and dignities of the profession.

He was born at Conneaut, O., in 1851, now at fifty-three in the prime of his powers. A boy of twelve he seized a smooth bore to join the home guards in defense against Morgan's raid and at fifteen he was editor of an abolition weekly. The qualities that made the boy an advocate of emancipation have fixed his party affiliations as a Democrat in maturer years.

He graduated from Williams college in 1868 and came at once to Red Wing, Minn. In the old fashioned way he read law in the office of Wilder & Williston, the venerable Judge Wilder and Williston for the last fifteen years on the bench for the First district. Judge Wilder retiring Mr. Hall entered partnership with Judge Williston, which continued to 1880. In that year he formed a partnership with Judge N. O. Werner, now well known to the bar of Minneapolis.

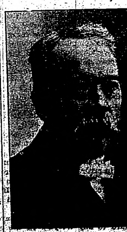
Mr. Hall was elected to the state senate from a strong Republican district in 1885. In 1890 he was nominated by the Democrats of the Third congressional district and led a forlorn hope to victory. He won by a straight, aggressive campaign on the tariff, with no concessions to personal arguments. He was easily re-elected in 1892 and went down with colors flying in 1894.

Except to serve on local boards he has held no other public offices. But he is director in a bank, in two manufacturing companies, and director and counsel for the Minnesota Scandinavian Relief association.

He would bring dignity to the supreme court and weight to its decisions.

CHARLES E. OTIS.

Hon. Charles E. Otis, Democratic candidate for associate justice of the supreme court, was born and brought up on a farm which his parents located and opened in the woods of Berry county, Michigan, of which state they were pioneers. He worked his way through college, taking the classical course, and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1869. After spending two years in La Porte, Ind., as superintendent of schools he removed to St. Paul, Minn., where he has ever since resided. Here he studied law with his brother, the late George L. Otis, one of the most prominent lawyers of the state, and with whom, on being admitted to the bar in 1873, he became associated in the practice of the law. He has always taken an active interest in all matters affecting the public welfare, accepting and performing to the satisfaction of the people of the city the duties of sundry civic offices to that end.



CHARLES E. OTIS.

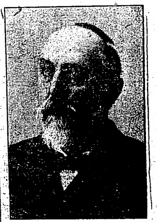
Although a lifelong Democrat he has never been a rank partisan and in 1889 he was appointed by a Republican governor to the place of district judge of the Second district which office he held by successive elections for fourteen years, declining two years ago a further election. Since his retirement from the bench he has again taken up the practice of law, his son being associated with him.

Judge Otis is universally recognized as one of the ablest and most valuable men who has ever occupied the judicial office in this state. He has a profound knowledge of the law, quickness and precision of perception, an unusual facility in applying the law to the facts, unremitting industry and perfect integrity of mind and character. These and other qualities make him a most valuable counselor and fit him in a marked degree for the highest judicial position. No man in the state stands higher among his professional associates and he has as well the unbounded respect of all classes in the community in which he has spent his active life.

The people of this state will honor themselves in electing Charles E. Otis a justice of the supreme court.

H. E. HOARD.

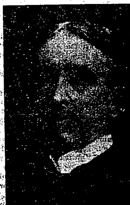
H. E. Hoard, Democratic candidate for railroad and warehouse commissioner, is publisher of the Montevideo Leader. Mr. Hoard was born in Stockbridge, N. Y., in 1843, removed to Wisconsin in 1866, was principal of the Mauston (Wis.) schools several years and was married there to Ella Temple in 1872. They removed to Tawas City, Mich., in 1873, where Mr. Hoard published the Iosco County Gazette nearly ten years. During that time he held several minor offices and was county clerk for two terms. Mr. and Mrs. Hoard removed to Montevideo, Minn., in 1882, since which time Mr. Hoard has published the Montevideo Leader. In 1886 he was chosen state senator and served during two sessions. He was very active in securing the enactment of the first bill for state farmers' institutes and was the first president of the board of managers of state farmers' institutes. He was also elected secretary and superintendent of the Minnesota State Agricultural society in January, 1877. He was chief of the customs division in the treasury department at Washington, D. C., during the Harrison administration, being appointed to that office by Hon. William Windom, secretary of the treasury. He, with many other Republicans, left that party in the summer of 1896, since which time he has been an ardent supporter of the Democratic party and its candidates.



H. E. HOARD.

WILLIAM F. KELSO.

William F. Kelso of Hallock, Democratic candidate for railroad and warehouse commissioner, was born in County Hastings, Ont., July 17, 1850; educated at the Belleville Grammar school and Queens university, Kingston, Ont.; came to the United States in 1869 and to Kittson county, in the Red River valley, in 1879, where he purchased the farm he now operates. Farming has been his only occupation, in which he is one of the pioneers in the northern part of the state, coming there when it was almost a wilderness and being a prominent factor in its wonderful development.



W. F. KELSO.

He has been chairman of the board of county commissioners, president of Hallock board of education, was candidate for presidential elector at large in 1888 on the Democratic ticket and then nominee for congress in 1892 in the old Seventh district.

Mr. Kelso allied himself with the Democratic party when he came to this country, casting his first vote for Samuel J. Tilden in 1876, and has been prominent in the councils of his party ever since.

HON. JOHN LIND

In an Able Manner Exposes Fallacy of Republican Claims.

The Record of Ex-Auditor Dunn Shown up in a Truthful Light That Reflects no Credit. A Complete Expose.

Before a large audience in St. Paul Oct. 17, Hon. John Lind discussed the state issues laying bare the record of the republican candidate for governor. He spoke as follows:

I come before you tonight not to ask your votes, as on former occasions, but to discuss according to my best light and judgment our mutual duties and obligations as citizens of the great nation and of our beloved state. On the third of March next my political career will end. I will never again seek or accept public office. I have no political ambition ungratified—no desire except as a citizen to aid and assist my fellows in furthering the cause of good government.

Men differ in their views of life, of religion and of society. They differ in business methods. They differ in their views as to the sphere and functions of the national government. Out of these differences have grown political parties. Nationally the American people are arrayed in two great opposing parties. These parties differ and differ vitally, on the questions of national taxation and expenditures, the attitude that we should assume toward other peoples with whom we come in contact, and many others which I will not stop to discuss tonight. But I venture to say that as good citizens of Minnesota we do not differ as to the necessity for the due and orderly administration of the laws of our state. We do not differ on the proposition that all public burdens should be fairly distributed; that all money collected by taxation should be honestly and wisely expended for the purposes for which the tax was levied. That our public property and our school fund should be guarded; that life and liberty should be protected and equal rights afforded to all under the law. I say broadly, that on all questions pertaining to state and local government our people are agreed in aim, though individuals may differ as to methods and detail. Good government, honest administration by clean men is what we all desire at heart, and no good citizen should permit party zeal or party pride to silence this patriotic impulse.

THE WELFARE OF THE STATE.

The legitimate end of party organization is the welfare of the state. When citizens, actuated by common views and common convictions, form and maintain party organization to effect their purpose for the public good, their action is not only laudable, but under our form of government it is absolutely necessary to accomplish results. In organization there is power—in power there is danger if devoted to selfish or personal ends instead of the public good. In the conduct of any organization, especially if its membership is large, manipulation by a few unscrupulous men is comparatively easy. By fraud, sharp practice and corruption the will of the few is substituted for that of the many. The decree of the manipulators is put forth as the judgment of the whole body. This is what has happened to the great Republican party in this state. It was attempted in Wisconsin, but will fail, and I trust that it will here. Never before in the history of the state have a quarter of a million people—a whole congressional district—been denied a voice in party council.

It may be urged that this is no concern of ours. From a party standpoint it is not. But from the standpoint of our common citizenship it is. The Republican party of this state is numerically strong enough to elect every state officer and control every department of government. When it selects fit men for the various offices we have no grievance and make no complaint. But the cause of good government and the honor of the state are in our keeping as well as in theirs. When through fraud and sharp practice the Republicans have been prevented from giving us nominees worthy of their party and fit for the positions for which they have been named, we have a right to complain. We have the right to appeal to them to repudiate the ticket which is not theirs by choice. We have the right to appeal to them to aid us in selecting men worthy the honor of the state. We concede freely that the great body of the Republican voters in this state is as patriotic and takes as much pride in the good name and fame of the state as we do. If those voters had had a voice in the recent so-called Republican convention, would they have remained silent on the most important question before the people—the gross earnings tax? Would they have dragged the supreme court of this state into the filthy whirlpool of partisan traffic? Would they have nominated for high office men notoriously unfit and unworthy?

PRAISES JUDGE LOVELY.

If the patriotism and the conscience of the Republican party in this state had had a voice in that convention would the convention have taken back the nomination of Judge Lovely, a just and upright judge, and placed his and the other judicial positions at the disposal of the political hucksters in the party?

Would the convention have nominated Senator Young for attorney general. He who of all other men in the state has opposed the increase of the gross earnings tax on all occasions. He has pronounced the law unconstitutional in advance and would be in a sorry plight to defend its validity if it shall be adopted by the people at the polls.

The nomination of Ray W. Jones, of Minneapolis, for the second highest position in the state—that of lieutenant governor—shows the utter moral irresponsibility of that convention.

On the 8th day of January last a suit was brought against his company by the United States. On the same day a summons was served on him by William H. Grimshaw, the United States marshal, calling on his company to answer the following charge. I quote from the complaint on file:

HISTORY OF LUMBER TRESPASS.

"That certain parties in the logging season of the years of 1900 and 1901, 'with the consent and at the request of the above named defendant wrongfully entered upon certain lands owned by and the property of the United States.'

"That 'at the special instance and request of said defendant (said parties) did wrongfully, wilfully and unlawfully fell, cut into logs and removed' a large quantity of public timber.

"That said parties 'delivered and caused to be delivered said logs to the above named defendant and, said defendant took and appropriated said logs and caused the same to be removed to its mill at Frazee, in Becker county, in said district of Minnesota.'

"That said defendant knew said logs were the property of the United States and were unlawfully taken from the lands of the United States."

And that the value of the timber so taken was $115,863.25.

The case was tried at Fergus Falls on the 17th day of May last before Judge Morris and a jury in the United States circuit court. The jury found the charge in the complaint true, but assessed the damages at only $18,138.01.

Judgment was subsequently entered on this verdict and for some $1,300 costs.

This is the record of Ray W. Jones in one transaction. It was public property and fresh in the minds of the people. I repeat, if the convention had represented the patriotism and the conscience of the great Republican party of the state, would it have nominated this man for that high office?

HOW CAN JONES BE EXCUSED?

When this matter comes up in congress next winter, as it surely will in connection with appropriations to prevent timber stealing, and if in the meantime the Republicans elect him lieutenant governor, what can I say in their defense. Shall I say that he is representative of the Republican ideal in public life? If not, will the Pioneer Press or some Republican kindly inform me what excuse to give? His record in helping himself to state timber has been dealt with by the public examiner.

Mr. Dunn, the candidate for governor by the say so of the same convention, I know well. He possesses many good qualities and of those I have frequently expressed my appreciation. I bear him no ill will and shall not knowingly utter one word derogatory to his personal character. His official actions alone I shall discuss and criticise, and of those only such as I have personal knowledge. His record in the management of the timber and timber trespasses on state lands has been fully examined and commented upon by the present Republican public examiner. In regard to the trespass cases I have no personal knowledge. I shall only refer to one matter and to that because Mr. Dunn has made mention of my name in that connection in his public speeches. These are the facts.

UP TO STATE AUDITOR.

The state auditor has the sole management of the state timber. He alone has authority under the law as land commissioner to settle in case of trespass upon state lands. (See section 38, page 370, General Laws of 1895.) The law provides for a board of timber commissioners composed of the governor, auditor and treasurer. The only duties of this board is to pass upon the question whether any particular tract of timber should be sold, on the ground that it is liable to waste from fire, decay or other cause, and these are the only questions that came up before the timber board while I was a member of it.

Mr. Dunn is reported to have said that his alleged settlement with Mr. Buckman was brought before and approved by the timber board. In this he is in error. He was the secretary of that board. Any action taken by it is required to be in writing. If the facts are as he states let him produce the record.

The only knowledge that I have in regard to any trespass on the state timber by Mr. Buckman was communicated to me by Mr. Dunn in Mr. Buckman's presence. One morning (I cannot give the date) those two gentlemen called at my office. Mr. Buckman remarking that he had some business with Mr. Dunn and stepped into call on me and pay his respects. Mr. Dunn then stated that Mr. Buckman's men—that is his logging crew—had by mistake cut some timber on state land in a certain section; that Mr. Buckman had communicated the act to Mr. Dunn as soon as he discovered it, and had now come in to adjust the matter without suit. Mr. Dunn asked me what I thought about the propriety of doing so. I answered that under the law this matter was wholly in his hands, and suggested that he confer with the attorney general. I added, however, that, on general principles, I always favored an amicable adjustment of differences rather than litigation, and that if a fair settlement could be made I thought it very desirable. That is the last and the only thing that I have heard of known about the Buckman timber trespass until the appearance of the public examiner's report.

DUNN TOO RECKLESS.

Recklessness is the marked characteristic of Mr. Dunn's official conduct, and this, in my judgment, unfits him for the high office of governor. In the pamphlet issued by his committee entitled "Hon. R. C. Dunn's Record as State Auditor." I find among numerous other claims put forward in behalf of his candidacy the following. I read from page 32:

"The litigation over the swamp land grant of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company is well known to most citizens of the state, but it is not so well known that at the time Judge Lochren filed his decree affirming the validity of the company's grant that there was included in that decree a list of lands to which the court declared the company was rightfully entitled, and that included in that list was some 43,000 acres of state institutions lands on which are located at least three very valuable iron mines. When the attention of Mr. Dunn was drawn to this fact the time for appealing the case had gone by, and the state was threatened with a loss which would have not been less than $5,000,000. But by the use of considerable diplomacy and firmness the Duluth & Iron Range railroad people were induced to consent to the decree being amended, so as to exclude all the state institutions lands, which Judge Lochren very promptly did when the proper application was made by the attorneys for the railroad company."

Let us examine the facts in regard to this claim:

On Feb. 13, 1865, long before any grant of lands had been made to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, the legislature of the state of Minnesota granted 800,000 acres of swamp land for the support of the insane asylums, the institutions for the deaf, dumb and blind at Faribault and for the support of the state prison, and 875,000 acres for the support of the normal schools then and thereafter to be established in the state. Under this grant by the legislature Mr. Dunn's predecessors in office had selected lands from time to time, among which were the 43,000 acres referred to by Mr. Dunn, and which are located in St. Louis county and along the iron range. The selection of these lands was a matter of record in the office of the state auditor, and they were the property of the state in trust for those institutions as much as our school lands are the property of the state in trust for our schools.

BIG SWAMP LAND GRANT.

On March 9, 1876, the legislature of the state of Minnesota, desiring to procure the construction of a railroad from Duluth to some point on the iron range, granted to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company from the swamp lands located in the counties of St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties ten sections to the mile of road built "'to be selected within ten miles on each side of the road,' and, if there should not be enough swamp lands unsold and unappropriated within each ten-mile section of the road as completed, then the company had the privilege of locating the deficiency an any of the swamp lands belonging to or to accrue to the state, not otherwise disposed of, within the counties named.'"

This was the language of the act, and I quote it as construed by the supreme court of this state in 45 Minnesota, on page 110.

Under this grant the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad company built 94.8 miles of railway and became entitled to 606,720 acres of swamp land. Prior to 1897 the state had deeded to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company 201,789.82 acres in part satisfaction of the grant. The company had also selected some 130,000 acres of swamp land, which had not been deeded by the state. This selection by the company included the same lands—the 43,000 acres which I have heretofore referred to and which had been previously selected by the state for the state institutions.

STARTED TO BUST GRANT.

This was the condition of affairs when Mr. Dunn started out to bust the Duluth & Iron Range railroad grant. In his report to the legislature that convened in January, 1897, Mr. Dunn urged in the strongest language that he be authorized to institute suits to procure the cancellation of the grant. The attorney general, in an official opinion which is on record, had already advised that the grant was valid and could not be set aside. But Mr. Dunn took issue with him and closed with this appeal to the legislature:

"I would most respectfully urge the state legislature to take such action as may lead to the settlement of the whole question of the validity of the swamp land grant to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company by the court. * * * I trust this matter will receive early consideration at the hands of the state legislature."

In pursuance of this recommendation and Mr. Dunn's persistent agitation of this question in the newspapers, the legislature appropriated $10,000 to carry on the investigation and litigation in regard to the Duluth & Iron Range railroad grant. The legislature also appropriated $4,000 to enable the auditor to properly [illegible] after the state institution lands. All this money was made payable on Mr. Dunn's vouchers. The attorney general, who had already given his adverse opinion, did not feel justified in bringing the suits alone. Outside counsel were employed to assist in carrying on the litigation. Suits were brought by the state in the state courts, also by the railroad company in the federal courts. The several suits were finally removed to the United States circuit court and all tried together before Judge Lochren. All the data for trying these cases were furnished by Mr. Dunn. The lists of land, both those which had been deeded to the company and those which had been selected but not deeded, came from his office. He was one of the principal witnesses in the case. It was to all intents and purposes his suit. Through his negligence, however, the attention of the attorneys or of the court was not called to the fact that the list of some 180,000 acres of land selected by the company, but not deeded by the state, contained 43,000 acres of land already selected for the state institutions and held by the state in trust for them.

DECISION IS FILED.

On the 8th day of January, 1900, Judge Lochren filed his decision in which he held the grant valid, and decided that the company was entitled to the lands already deeded to it and also to all lands contained in the list which it had selected. (This latter list, as I have already explained, contained the 43,000 acres belonging to the state institutions). After consultation between the attorney general, myself and the auditor, we came to the conclusion unanimously that it was inadvisable to continue the litigation, the supreme court of the state, as well as the United States circuit court, having already sustained the validity of the grant. (See state auditor's report for the year 1900, page 25).

Under this decision, while the railroad company was entitled to select enough more swamp lands to fill this grant, it was bound to make such selections in a reasonable time under the decision of our supreme court. It had no right to any particular parcel until after it had selected the same. The state, under the earlier grant for the state institutions, had a first right to select for these institutions, as the list of swamp lands came in after the public surveys had been made, and this first right in the state to select was only limited by the rule that the state was required to leave enough lands so that the railroad company could fill its grant. After this decision by Judge Lochren, and I think largely upon my personal suggestion, some additional lands were selected by the state auditor for the state institutions in the Iron Range district.

It was my aim and effort to get this Duluth & Iron Range land grant closed. The correspondence on file in the governor's office shows my efforts in that behalf, and finally, on the 28th day of December, 1900, almost my last official act, I prepared the form of a deed. The description of the land was supplied by the auditor conveying to the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company the balance of the acreage required to fill its grant. This deed is on record in the state auditor's office. The deed was delivered to the railroad company, but as I afterwards learned it refused to accept it. The company wanted to keep the matter open so that when new lists of land came, it would be in position to select such as were likely to contain ore, as it had done theretofore.

DUNN'S ERROR DISCOVERED.

About this time Mr. Dunn's error in permitting the 48,000 acres of state institution land to be included in the judgment in favor of the railroad company was discovered. Those lands contained mineral of probably greater value than stated by Mr. Dunn.

Application was made by Mr. Dunn and by the attorney general to the railroad company to release these lands from Judge Lochren's decree and reinstate the title to them in the state. I called on Mr. Kellogg in regard to the matter long after I had retired from office. Mr. Kellogg was counsel for the railroad company. He indicated to me that on account of Mr. Dunn's oversight he would be willing to recommend to the company to release the lands. He made the same statement to Judge Douglas, then attorney general, and presumably, to Mr. Dunn.

Subsequently Mr. Dunn advertised certain timber on some of these lands claimed by the company for sale at Duluth. The company had its representative at the sale and objected. This angered Mr. Dunn, as I am informed, and he proceeded to pay his respects to the officers and counsel of the railroad before the assembled public at the sale in language more characteristic than chaste.

The proposition to release the land was promptly withdrawn by the officers of the company and their attorneys. This compelled the attorney general, Judge Douglas, to bring an action in the United States circuit court before Judge Lochren to have Mr. Dunn's error rectified. This action was brought on May 6, 1901. The excuse set out by Mr. Douglas in his complaint for the amendment of the judgment is:

"That is was necessary for counsel to procure and rely upon the services of others in selecting and identifying the description of lands proper to be embraced within or affected by said decree; that said list was prepared by clerical assistance and confidently relied on as containing no descriptions of land which had been selected by the state."

The railroad company answered and denied that there was any mistake and stated,

"That a copy of said decree with the list of lands annexed thereto was served upon the counsel for the state of Minnesota at least one month before the entry of the decree in such cause."

And they further allege on information and belief.

"That the said list of lands with a copy of said decree, was by the counsel for the state of Minnesota in said original causes delivered to the land commissioner of the state of Minnesota and was examined by the land commissioner, or his assistants in his office in the state of Minnesota, and consented to, and that no objection was made to the said descriptions of lands on account of any pretended claim of the state of Minnesota by reason of the said pretended grants to said institutions."

DUNN MAKES APOLOGY.

This undoubtedly placed Mr. Dunn in a very embarrassing position to have this important question come to trial in the circuit court of the United States on account of his errors or error of his office. It is presumed that he did not relish the ventilation of this matter. He now became more docile and applied to the railroad company for a compromise. This was finally agreed upon, and its terms were embraced in a decree of Judge Lochren, from which I will read the material portions. It bears date Feb. 10, 1902, and can be seen in the circuit court at St. Paul and a copy in the state auditor's office. As a part of this compromise, however, Mr. Dunn had to consent to an abject apology to the officers and counsel of the railroad company and take back over his signature all the things that he had said derogatory of and concerning them. Of these matters I have no personal knowledge, but the statement will not be denied by either Mr. Dunn, Judge Douglas or Mr. Kellogg.

Now let us look at the compromise as set out in the decree I quote:

United States Circuit Court—State of Minnesota, Complainant, vs. Duluth & Iron Range Railroad Company, et al., Defendants. Decree. January Term, 1902.

1. This cause came on to be heard upon the bill of complaint, the answer thereto, and the stipulations of the parties, and the court having duly considered the matters, and the parties in open court consenting thereto, it is Ordered, adjudged and decreed that the lands described in schedule A, hereto attached, situated in the counties of St. Louis, Lake and Cook, in the state of Minnesota, be and the same are hereby excepted from the effect of the original decree, made by the court, bearing date the 8th day of January, A. D. 1900, referred to in said complaint, wherein said lands were decreed to be the property of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, and that the same be and hereby are decreed to be the property of the state of Minnesota, its grantees and assigns, clear from any claim of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, the said Walter F. Cobb, or either their grantees or assigns.

Note: Schedule A contains a description of the forty-three thousand acres.

It is further decreed that the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company shall not have a right to select any of the swamp lands in said counties to fill its grant, which have heretofore been duly selected by the state auditor and commissioner of the land office of the state of Minnesota to fill the grant or appropriation to certain state institutions provided for by an act of the legislature entitled "An act to appropriate swamp lands to certain educational and charitable institutions therein named, and for the purpose of erecting a state prison," approved Feb. 13, 1865, and amended by that certain act of the legislature of said state entitled "An act to amend chapter 5 of the General Laws of 1865," approved March 9, 1875, but it is further decreed that the state of Minnesota and the officers of said state shall not, until the expiration of the time for the selection of lands to fill the grant of the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, make any further selections of lands to fill the said grant or appropriation to the state institutions from the swamp lands situated in the said counties of St. Louis, Lake and Cook, and it is hereby decreed that the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company has the prior right of selection in said counties to fill its said grant, but that the said Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company shall proceed with reasonable promptness to fill its grant, using due diligence in inspecting lands to fill the same, and it shall have until six months after all the swamp lands in the unsurveyed townships in the three counties aforesaid are surveyed and patented to the state of Minnesota by the United States government to select lands to fill its said grant. That should the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company fail within the time provided to select lands within said counties to fill its grant, then the auditor and land commissioner of the state of Minnesota shall have the right to forthwith select the lands in said counties for the said Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company and fill said grant.

4. It is further adjudged and decreed that a certain pretended deed of land heretofore made on Dec. 26, 1900, by the governor and state auditor and land commissioner of the state of Minnesota to the said Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company to fill the grant to said company, be, and the same is, together with the said record thereof in the office of the said land commissioner, hereby adjudged to be null and void and of no effect, and made without due authority of law and contrary to the decree and judgment of this court.

(Signed) —William Lochren, Judge.

STATE HAS SECOND PICK.

By the terms of this settlement as confirmed in the decree it will be seen that not only is the right of the state to select a single acre of iron land in those counties postponed until the railroad company (the Standard Oil company) has had the "first pick," but the settlement of the land grant by the deed bearing my signature is set aside and the right of the company to select lands continued until the last acre of swamp land in those counties has been surveyed and patented to the state.

There is probably a surplus of upwards of 150,000 acres of swamp land in those three counties above what is required to fill the railroad grant which must be held by the state indefinitely for exploration by the company.

There are still over 100,000 acres to be surveyed by the government. When those surveys will be made no one can predict. How much longer it will take to secure a patent from the government for the last acre no man living can estimate. I think few if any in this vast audience will live to see it done.

New deposits of iron are found in this region almost every month and usually on swamp lands, but hereafter they are not for the state. The enormous loss to the normal schools and to the other state institutions by this transaction cannot be estimated. It may be $5,000,000, it may be $50,000,000.

Is my charge of recklessness established? I might add here that I was never informed about the bringing of this last suit. I had no knowledge that my deed had been set aside or such a settlement made until I read it in the court records.

Now a word about our convention and the ticket that we present to the voters of the state.

The Democrats of Minnesota met in state convention more than a thousand strong. Every section and every district represented. None came on railroad passes, nor did any of them carry contests in their pockets. They came together to exercise their best judgment in selecting good and fit men for the various offices, and well they did their duty.

NON-PARTISAN BENCH.

The most important action taken by that convention—a step that ought to appeal to every good citizen—was its stand for an independent, non-partisan judiciary. For the supreme court we nominated two Republicans, Judge Brown, whose integrity or ability has never been questioned; Judge Lovely, who was cast out of the Republican convention after he had been nominated—not because he was not an able and upright judge—but because his place was needed at the bargain counter. The two Democrats we named are men of the highest standing, personally and professionally. No jurist in the state is better known or more highly regarded than Judge Otis. Mr. Hall, of Red Wing, our other candidate, it is my please to know more intimately than the others. We were colleagues in congress for two years. I learned to love and admire him for his ability, his integrity and his independence.

Mr. McDermott, our candidate for attorney general, is a man of character and standing, personally and professionally.

Mr. Winston, our candidate for lieutenant governor, is a man of sterling integrity, ripe experience and fearless courage in combatting political rottenness. As foreman of the grand jury in Hennepin county he made a record in the cause of good government.

John A. Johnson, our candidate for governor, I have known since childhood. He was born in St. Peter where he now resides. His life is an open book—every page of his record is an inspiration to duty. At eleven years of age he became the sole support of a poverty-stricken mother and several younger children. He found a place in a grocery store at $3 per week, and for three years—156 times—his mothed drew that pittance for the support of herself and little ones.

He then obtained a better position in a drug store, where he continued for nine years, devoting his earnings to the support of the family and the education of his sisters and brothers. The brother and one sister are still living and owe their education as well as their support to John, who is to them a father rather than the elder brother. By indomitable energy and persistent work he also obtained an education for himself. Recognizing his ability as well as his worth some of his friends bought the St. Peter Herald for him. In time he paid for it and has continued to own and edit it to the present time.

His standing in his profession is evidenced by his election to the presidency of the Minnesota Editorial association.

In 1898 he was elected to the state senate over a strong and popular opponent, and this notwithstanding the fact that the district is overwhelmingly Republican. In the senate he rendered the state and his district efficient service and won the confidence and respect of his colleagues.

Our other nominees are each and all men of ability and character. They are the peers of their competitors on the Republican ticket and have a better title to have their names on the state ballot. They were nominated by the people. If elected they will serve the people and all the people.

COMMITTED TO REFORMS.

Aside from the excellent ticket which we present to the voters of the state, the Democrats of Minnesota stand committed to certain reforms which we shall urge upon the people, in season and out of season, until they are adopted.

Justice to the people of the state demands that the pending amendment to increase the gross earnings tax on railroad property from 3 to 4 per cent should be adopted. To the support of this proposition we stand pledged by our platform. If the people adopt the law and elect our candidate for attorney general it will be enforced.

Our tax laws are antiquated, cumbersome and in many respects unjust. We favor an amendment or revision.

We demand and shall labor to secure the necessary legislation for the imposition of a state tax on incomes.

We are pledged to legislation which will impose the same burden of taxation upon foreign corporations doing business in this state as the law now imposes on domestic corporations.

The general government generously donated to the state for internal improvements upwards of 10,000,000 acres of swamp lands. Most of these the legislature has donated to railroad companies, but some remain, and it is our aim to save these and devote their proceeds, or the equivalent, to the drainage, and reclamation of the vast areas of valuable lands in the state which are too poorly drained and too low for profitable cultivation.

We acknowledge the service done to the state by those who have invested their money in the construction of our railroads and other public works. We cheerfully concede that they are entitled to a fair return on their investment, and we deny that they have either a moral or legel right to tax the people by unreasonable transportation rates to earn dividends on fictitious values. We offer you candidates for railroad commissioners who will be guided by the principle that the railroads are the servants of the people and not their masters; that for services rendered they are entitled to fair play, the same as an individual, and no more.

Equal rights to all, special privileges to none. This is our maxim. This is our guide. With these aims and with a ticket made up of able, honest and clean men we confidently appeal to all good citizens of the state for support and co-operation.

The Red Lake Indians will be in clover as long as their money lasts. They are to receive $118,000 on account of the land sale at Thief River Falls in a few weeks.

John Manley, accompadied by his daughter, Miss Elizabeth, left Saturday evening for Duluth, where Miss Elizabeth will euter a Catholic school for the fall and winter term.

Messrs and Mesdames W. A. McIntyre and John E. King went to Crookston Wednesday afternoon to hear the Hon. John A. Johnson, Democratic candidate for governor.

Louis Parenteau left Thursday for Marshall county, where he has a number of ditching contracts to finish this fall. Mr. Parenteau will not get home until the first week in November.

Ned Taylor returned Monday to his home in St. Paul, after a short visit with friends and relatives. Ned will hereafter keep posted on Red Lake county affairs by reading THE COURIER.

Banker W. W. Prichard was down from Thief River Monday and this office acknowledges a pleasant call. Mr. Prichard was drawn as a juror at this term of court, but was excused by Judge Watts.

It isn't the least money one pays for furs that makes them cheap but the best quality you can buy for little money. Gareeau & Zaiser handle the "Lanpher Skinner Furs" which are sold under a guarantee.

A. O. Davison was operated upon Wednesday afternoon for appendicitus. Doctors Pleth and Wilkinson have every reason to believe that the operation has been successful, and Mr. Davison is doing nicely.

O. E. Goain and son of Morrisonville, Ill., were shown over Red Lake county last week by the Bourdon land agency, and we understand they have closed a contract for a large-sized farm in this vicinity.

Mrs. P. Martin came over from Crookston Saturday noon to spend a week with her daughter, Mrs. Theo. LaBissoniere. Mrs. LaBissoniere and daughter, Erin, will return with Mrs. Martin for a short stay with Crookston friends.

Tuesday was registration day in the various wards of the city. The last chance for registering will be October 29. Persons who have moved out of their voting precinct since October 9 cannot vote at the election next month.

Mayor Duffy informs us that he is looking for ten or a dozen husky men to act as special police on Hallowe'en evening. The boys are requested to avoid trouble by refraining from destroying property or indulging in unseemly conduct on that evening.

William Sampson was over from Crookston Saturday looking after business matters. He is a brother of the late Sheriff Sampson and is administrator of the estate. He tells THE COURIER that Mrs. Sampson and family are living at Falls River, Mass., and are getting along nicely.

Mrs. Tibbetts and daughter, Miss Iza, are moving into their cottage on Third street recently occupied by L. C. Simons and family. A. O. Davison and family will move into the Duffy house as soon as the Mayor's new home is ready for occupancy.

George A. Heyl, Washington, Ill., was here last week with a bunch of landseekers for the Gonigam company. Mr. Heyl is quite extensively interested in Red Lake county land himself, and considers the investment so good that he will buy more in the spring.

M. J. Ford was down from Thief River the fore part of the week looking after his farming interests in the vicinity. He has taken a claim on the Red Lake reservation and expects to improve the place at once. While here Mr. Ford took occasion to subscribe for THE COURIER to be sent to his brother, Charles, at Amiret, Minn.

Sampson Helland was examined for insanity before Judge Tarrant last Thursday, but the examining physicians were unable to find any being crazy, and he was discharged. It seems that Mr. Helland was enjoying a protracted session with John Barleycorn, and will recover his right mind and be a wiser man when he gets sober.

The Gonigam Land agency last week closed deals for nearly 500 acres of Red Lake county lands with Illinois farmers who will move here in the spring. This company expects several more parties of landseekers in the near future. There is no boom on lands in this vicinity at present, but there is a healthy demand for farms from actual settlers, which promises to bring it at least a hundred new farmers in the spring.

The rumor that a union depot will be established by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific at Red Lake Falls is not well founded. From a source that is deemed reliable we learn that no such action is contemplated and that the roads will continue to use separate depots as heretofore. It is stated that at the present time the "community of interest" between the roads is not very close, and of late there have been few evidences of consolidation.

Norman B. Hannay of St. Hilaire received word Monday that he had passed the state bar examination with an average of over 90 per cent. He will take the oath before Judge Watts this week and will then be a regularly-qualified attorney. Mr. Hannay received one of the best percentages ever accorded an aspirant for admission to the bar, and the secretary of the board extends his congratulations to him. For the present Norman will be associated with his father at St. Hilaire, and THE COURIER trusts he will conclude to remain in Red Lake county.

Ex-Governor John Lind delivered an address on state issues at Thief River Falls Tuesday afternoon, and while by reason of the time of day the attendance was not nearly as large as at Red Lake Falls in the evening, the opera house was comfortably filled and Mr. Lind's remarks on state issues were listened to attentively. His speech was upon the same lines as the address at St. Paul last week, published elsewhere in this issue of THE COURIER. Dr. George Tupper was chairman, and gave a splended talk in opening the meeting. John E. King, candidate for secretary of state, also spoke briefly.

The postoffice department has recently has published in pamphlet form a condensation of the more important postal laws as relate to the different classes of mail matter; rates of postage (both domestic and important postal laws as relate to the different classes of mail matter; rates of postage (both domestic and foreign); money order and registry systems. The booklet is a valuable compendium of the postal laws and makes clear many things not heretofore understood generally. Only a limited number of the pamphlets have been received at the local postoffice and they may be had for the asking.

Crookston Times: E. J. Keating has returned from his business trip to the Falls which has required his time for a day or two. Business is is good all through the country and he has closed several deals for musical instruments. Farmers are willing to talk, having more leisure and many of them will invest in holiday gifts for their families of pianos and organs. Red Lake Falls is thriving this fall according to Mr. Keating's report and everything looks prosperous there. Merchants are busy all of the time and farmers have been disposing of their grain at good prices and feel satisfied with the hard year's work they have put in. The general air of prosperity that reigns through the country is particularly in evidence in Red Lake Falls.

George L. Austin has been reengaged as manager of the Red Lake Falls creamery for next season. Mr. Austin made a good record this season, and it must be gratifying for him to know that every patron is pleased with the manner in which he performed the duties of his position.

"Macbeth," one of the heaviest of Shakespeare's tragedies, was porduced at the Metropolitan Saturday evening by the Sanford Dodge company. A large audience was present, and our people were greatly pleased with the production. Mr. Dodge as "Macbeth" is of course, superb, and he is supported by an exceptionally strong company. The leading lady is Miss Louise Marshall, daughter of County Auditor Marshall of Pipestone. She is a niece of Mrs. Douglas of Thief River Falls, and an old friend of N. W. Tarrant and wife, the families having been neighbors at Fox Lake, Wis., many years ago. Miss Marshall is an actress of great promise, and certainly has a brilliant future. The Red Lake Falls people will always give Sanford Dodge a cordial welcome.

HE WORKED BACHELORS.

Mentor Man Placed Under Arrest by Federal Authorities.

Louis Amundson of Mentor was taken to Fergus Falls Saturday to answer to charge of using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes. Amundson is accused of making a business of answering matrimonial advertisements, informing lonesome bachelors that he was tired of single blessedness and would marry them if they would send sufficient money to pay fare to their place of abode. It is claimed he signed his wife's name to the letters without her knowledge, and has collected nice sums of money, one man sending him sufficient to pay fare to Los Angeles, Cal. Bail has been fixed at $1,000 and he will probably remain in jail until court convenes here next month.

HIS MISSION IS VERY IMPORTANT

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ASKS SECRETARY TAFT TO VISIT REPUBLIC OF PANAMA.

Wishes to Explain Our Policy and to Assure People That Undue Advantage Will Not Be Taken of Our Treaty Rights.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The following letter has been sent by the president to the secretary of war after a conference with the secretary of state and the secretary of war in respect to the conditions in Panama:

"Sir: By executive order of May 9, 1904, I placed under your immediate supervision the work of the isthmian canal commission both in the construction of the canal and in the exercise of such governmental powers as it seemed necessary for the United States to exercise under the treaty with the Republic of Panama in the canal strip.

Natives May Be Alarmed.

"There is ground for believing that in the execution of the rights conferred by the treaty the people of Panama have been unduly alarmed at the effect of the establishment of a government in the canal strip by the commission. Apparently they fear lest the effect be to create out of part of their territory a competing and independent community which shall injuriously affect their business, reduce their revenues and diminish their prestige as a nation. The United States is about to confer on the people of the state of Panama a very great benefit by the expenditure of millions of dollars in the construction of the canal.

Must Not Create Suspicion.

"But this fact must not blind us to the importance of so exercising the authority given us under the treaty with Panama as to avoid creating any suspicion, however unfounded, of our intentions as to the future. We have not the slightest intention of establishing an independent colony in the middle of the state of Panama, or of exercising any greater governmental functions than are necessary to enable us conveniently and safely to construct, maintain and operate the canal, under the rights given us by the treaty. Least of all do we desire to interfere with the business and prosperity of the people of Panama.

Our Intentions.

"However far a just construction of the treaty might enable us to go, did the exigencies of the case require it, in asserting the equivalent of sovereignty over the canal strip, it is our full intention that the rights which we exercise shall be exercised with all proper care for the honor and interests of the people of Panama. The exercise of such powers as are given us by the treaty within the geographical boundaries of the Republic of Panama may easily, if a real sympathy for both the present and future welfare of the people of Panama is not shown, create distrust of the American government. This would seriously interfere with the success of our great project in that country. It is of the utmost importance that those who are ultimately responsible for the policy pursued should have at first hand as trustworthy information as can be obtained in respect to the conditions existing in Panama and the attitude and real interest of the people of that state.

Asks Taft to Visit Country.

"After a conference with the secretary of state and yourself, I have concluded that it will be of great advantage if you can visit the Isthmus of Panama in person and hold a conference with the president and other governmental authorities of the Republic of Panama. You are authorized in dong this to take with you such persons as you desire, familiar with the conditions in the isthmus, who may aid you with their counsel. The earlier you are able to make this visit the better.

"The secretary of state will instruct the United States minister at Panama to render you every assistance in his power, and the governor of the canal strip, Gen. Davis, will of course do the same thing. You will advise the president of the republic what the policy of this government is to be, and assure him that it is not the purpose of the United States to take advantage of the rights conferred upon it by the treaty to interfere with the welfare and prosperity of the state of Panama, or of the cities of Colon and Panama. You will make due report of the result of your visit on your return.

"Very truly yours,
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
"To the Secretary of War."

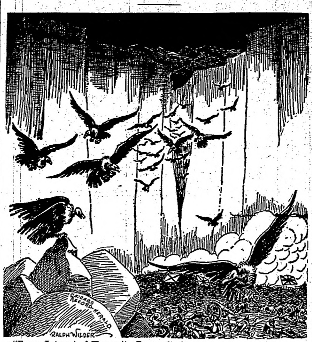
Jury Fails to Agree.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 22.—After being out since five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the jury in the bribery case against ex-Mayor Ames came into court Friday morning and announced that it could not agree. Judge Harrison thereupon discharged the jury. Dr. Ames was indicted for receiving money from women. After the jury had been discharged Judge Harrison made an order that the fourth trial of the case be begun at once, witness having previously been summoned, when it became evident that the jury could not agree.

Football Scores.

Wisconsin overwhelmed Drake by a score of 81 to 0. Yale lost to West Point. The score, 11 to 6, was a surprise to all.

THE SLAUGHTER IN MANCHURIA.



"Every Interest of Humanity Deman ds the Proclamation of Peace."
—Diplomat in Tokio.

FIGHT IS STOPPED BY BAD WEATHER

OPPOSING ARMIES IN MANCHURIA ARE GIVEN A MUCH NEEDED REST.

Battle Raged for Ten Days and Was Worst of War—Losses Enormous—The Victory of the Japs Was Undecisive.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 20.—There has been an end, for the time being, of the fighting on a large scale which began when, on October 9, Gen. Kuropatkin announced to his army that the time had arrived for an advance against the Japanese. Heavy rains and consequent bad roads have made military operations on either side extremely difficult, if not impossible. The interruption, according to advices received at St. Petersburg, is being ultilized by both the Russian and Japanese commanders in making new dispositions of forces, and new objective points are likely to develop when active operations are resumed. Practically, last week's battle has ended, and it goes into history as a Russian defeat. When operations are resumed a new battle will begin.

Storming of Lone Tree Hill.

The storming of the Lone Tree hill for valor and slaughter will occupy a place by itself in military annals. The hill is a precipitous rocky height, and although the Japanese had occupied it only a short time they had thrown up very strong defenses. The river running at its foot increased the difficulty of the task, but it was scaled and carried successfully against the unprecedented opposition of a Japanese division, 14,000 men, with many guns. The Russian losses were terrible. The fighting on the crest of the hill was altogether with cold steel. The Russian officers, with swords aloft leading the scaling column, were literally lifted in the air by the Japanese bayonets and the Japanese then boyoneted the first of the Russian soldiers who piled in the trenches. All the dead in the trenches were bayoneted, their weapons bearing the marks of the dreadful combat.

Losses Enormous.

Tokio, Oct. 24.—Manchurian headquarters, reporting by telegraph, says that the number of Russian dead found on the battlefield and interred up to October 22 makes a total of 10,500. Upon this total Russian casualties are estimated to exceed 60,000. The Japanese captured a total of 45 guns during the Shahke operations.

Harbin, Oct. 24.—More than 20,000 wounded Russian soldiers have arrived here and are being tended with the greatest care. Every available hand has been set to work in the making of 40,000 shirts for the wounded.

The Rival Armies.

London, Oct. 24.—So far as the dispatches from the far east show, there has been no change in the relative positions of the hostile armies confronting each other on the line of the Shakhe river. There is an unconfirmed report that a Russian force of 20,000 men has been concentrated at Kauta pass 20 miles northeast of Liaoyang, which may be indicative of the direction in which Gen. Kuropatkin is likely to strike his next blow. Upwards of 20,000 of the Russian soldiers wounded in the battle of the Shakhe have reached Harbin. Cold weather is causing suffering to the armies in the field, although it has wrought an improvement in the conditions for the movement of troops. A report has reached St. Petersburg, but lacks confirmation, that the Port Arthur fleet has left its anchorage in the harbor and has taken up a position in the roadstead.

Quarreled Over Politics.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 24.—Within half an hour after the benediction had been pronounced at the close of services in the little church near Mill Creek, on the Big Sandy river, Sunday, one man who had listened to the sermon was dead and another was fatally stabbed. The tragedy was the result of a political argument in which half a dozen members of the congregation engaged after [illegible]

BATTLE WITH BANDITS.

St. Louis Officers Attempt Capture—Fight Follows—Four Men Killed, Two Wounded.

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—Three city detectives are dead, one train robber suspect is at the morgue, another is not expected to live, while still another is badly wounded—this is the result of a desperate battle between five officers and three men whom they tried to arrest. The dead are: John J. Shea, detective, killed instantly; Thomas Dwyer, detective, died in hospital; James McCloskey, detective, died in hospital; Al Rose, suspect, killed instantly. The wounded are: C. C. Blair, suspect, shot through stomach, may die; Harry H. Vaughn, suspect, badly beaten by detectives.

The fight occurred in the front room of a house on Pine street, and the men whom the detectives sought to arrest are suspected of being implicated in a train robbery at Centralia, Ill., a few weeks ago. Vaughn was arrested on the street and taken to the house by the detectives. Hardly had the detectives entered the room in which Rose and Blair were seated, when they were met with a volley of shots from a heavy caliber revolver. Shea sank to the floor on the first shot, and Dwyer followed almost instantly. By that time the detectives had drawn their revolvers and there was a deafening exchange of shots for several seconds, each man pulling the trigger of his weapon as rapidly as possible. During the excitement, Vaughn attempted to escape from his captors and assist Rose and Blair. Boyle and James, however, clubbed their revolvers and beat their prisoner over the head until he was unconscious, and then they went to the aid of Shea, Dwyer and McCluskey, the latter having in the meantime sunk to the floor with a critical wound in the stomach. One of the unwounded detectives summoned an ambulance, and the wounded officers and suspects were taken to the city hospital.

As soon as word of the shooting reached Chief of Detectives Desmond, he immediately pressed into service a buggy which happened to be standing in front of headquarters and drove at a gallop to the hospital. There, after a brief consultation with his wounded men, he confined himself to Blair, the wounded suspect. Blair made the statement that he, Rose and others had been seated in the room when the door was opened and the detectives entered. Blair, noting the fact that Detective Shea had his revolver drawn, pulled his own gun and emptied it into the faces of the invaders. He shot six times without a pause.

Will Open on Sunday.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 24.—The Lewis and Clark exposition grounds will be kept open on Sunday afternoons, but the buildings, with one exception, are to remain closed. The fair will be kept open, however, under such restrictions as seem entirely in keeping with the character of the day. The gates will not be opened until noon, and all buildings except the fine arts and others of its class will remain closed. Religious services will be conducted in the afternoons in the auditorium.

Damage by Earthquake.

London, Oct. 24.—Dispatches received here from various points report a rather severe earthquake and much damage to property throughout Scandinavia and Denmark about 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Thus far, however, no fatalities have been reported.

Fire in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Marshal Campion fought his first big fire as head of the Chicago department Saturday night, the blaze being in the wholesale grocery house of Durand & Kasper and causing a damage of $200,000.

Many Immigrants Arrive.

New York, Oct. 24.—On board the steamer Slavonia, which arrived Sundya from Trieste, Flumo and Palermo, were 2,063 Austro-Hungarian immigrants.

Death of a Veteran.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Gen. George D. Ruggles, retired, for several years manager of the soldiers' home in this city, died here Wednesday night.

New Postoffice Regulations.

By a new order received from Washington, the postoffices throughout the country, are to have a system of receiving certain kinds of third and fourth class mail matter, without the use of stamps. If any merchant or other person has two thousand or more identical pieces of matter that he wishes to send thru the mail at once, he may avoid the trouble of stamping each individual piece. He must first apply for permission at the postoffice to send the mail in this way, and if he is found to be a fit person to enjoy this priveledge, after use of a considerable amount of red tape, he will receive a permit thus to mail articles. To secure this privelege a special wrapper will have to be used. In the upper right-hand corner the class, the amount of money paid, the words "Paid in Money" and the permit number are to be printed.

WINE of CARDUI

Llucky Thirteen.

Prof. Watkins of Fargo has a peculiar superstition about the number thirteen. He used to be in the newpaper business, but unlike most printers believes that the "hoodooed" number is very lucky for him. Thirteen years ago he started the Dak. Bus. College. It has steadily grown for thirteen years. Last years it enrolled 377 (13 times 29) students and placed 169 [13 times 12] of its graduates in business positions. It had more than thirteen more calls for graduates than it could fill. The school is just entering on its fourteenth year of usefulness and it is confidently expected that the enrollment will reach the five hundred mark, which will make it the third largest school in North Dakota and the largest business College in the entire Northwest.

Mr. Albert C. Uecke, of the Uncke Land Agency, Cumberland, Wis. has in operation a very unique method of disposing of his land, with every purchase he builds a good house, all complete and ready for occupancy by the settler. Farms be secured for $5. to $15. per acre on easy terms. Many are taking advantage of this, 250 such houses having been built during the past year. By recent purchase he has acquired 76,000 acres of fine timbered land, 1 to 5 miles from railroad and contracts are already placed for 300 new houses on this tract. P. V. Collins Publishing Company

Incorporated Aug. 13, 1904. Under the Laws of Minnesota.

THIS new corporation is a re-incorporation of The Agriculturist Company, and its assets include The Northwestern Agriculturist, together with hitherto personal enterprises of P. V. Collins, consisting of The Home Magazine and real estate viz., the office and press buildings located on the corner of Seventh street and sixth avenue south, Minneapolis. The real estate alone is worth $30.000.

The value of the assets exceeds $100,000 on a very conservative basis, and the capital stock of the P. V. Collins Publishing Company is $100,000 including $30,000 perferred stock and $70,000 common stock.

The preferred stock bears a Guarantee of Seven Per Cent dividend, payable semi-annually, and when redeemed, we agree to pay $102.00 a share for it. The common stock is not for sale, but is all held by P. V. Collins, who will continue as manager of the business, as he has since 1893. No dividends can be paid on the common stock until the guaranteed dividends in full on the preferred are paid.

We have sold much of the above preferred stock to bankers, commercial men, farmers and professional people, in sums ranging from $100 to $5,000. It is the best investment on the market and they know it. It is not often that an apportunity comes to invest money on ample security at and the opportunity will soon be past for getting any of the stock. The farmer who desires a block of it is advised to send his subscription for the shares wanted immediatedly. We much prefer to have it held by farmers, for The Nortwestern Agriculturist is a farmers' page and we realize that every farmer stockholder will be of value to us in his own community.

How to Get the Stock

The par value of the shares is $100.00 each and they are sold at par. Write to us and state how many shares you desire. Send with your letter either a check or draft for as many times $100 as you order shares. We refer to the Peoples Bank of Minneapolis.

Not Always Sure

Because we have been so free this year from attacks of Hessian fly and chinch bug, farmers must not feel that they are to be always immune in this line. The condition of crops, climate and soil are such through parts of Minnesota that we will always have the festive chinch bug and the active Hessian fly with us in greater or less abundance, and without doubt, some seasons will witness serious attacks of grasshoppers in portions of the state as well as the two insects above mentioned.

The State Entomologist has found apples in some orchards of Minnesota attacked by the Plum Curculio, and has raised the Curculio from these apples in the laboratory. A way of combating and preventing this evil will be a subject discussed in the annual report to be issued later.

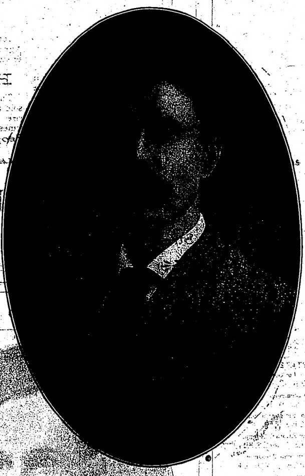
KNUTE J. WEEKS



Knute J. Weeks, candidate for Register of Deeds, is a man well qualified for that office. Mr. Weeks has been engaged several years in the real estate business and has a large experience in matters pertaining to land titles and abstracts, which makes him an ideal man for the position. He has a life-long history as a Republican and has always been connected with public enterprises and business, and has filled city, township, school and society office with honor; at presnt he is a member of the City Council, being alderman-at-large in the city of Thief River Falls. Ae is also president of Red Lake County Fair Association having been re-elected last year. Through his services we have had two of the best and most successful county fairs in the Red River Valley. Mr. Weeks is a man of broad education and will make an obliging and competent official, and your vote for him on November 8, is a vote for the right man.

FOOT BALL.

Red Lake Falls Easily Win Over Fosston Eleven.

In a game of foot ball consisting of but 25 minutes of actual play the local high school team rolled up 58 points while the team from the Fosston High School were unable to score. The game was not an interesting one to watch as the teams were so unevenly matched that there was little to see save the long runs of the local players.

Fosston was somewhat lighter than the home boys and the members of its team were playing their first game, this in a measure account for the for showing ther made. During the whole game they were unable to make first down and on the other hand failed to hold the local boys for downs a single time.

The Red Lake Falls boys showed considerable improvement over the preceeding games. The interference was good and the plays were put off with a quickness and snap that would do credit to a college team. Marshall, Blake, Gareeau and Conuaty were the star ground gainers but Lafreniere and Columbus when called upon to carry the ball from the tackle positions seldom failed to make good gains. Ernest Toupin who played the first half of the game at right half back showed up well and gives promise for the future. The main criticism that can be made is that several of the local players do not follow their interference and persist in running back when given the ball. This is poor foot ball and against a strong team would be very disatrous, and must be remedies.

Republican Friend, Are You Going to Give John A. Johnson a Convicted Timber Thief for Lieutenant Governor?

RED LAKE COURIER.

VOL. VII—NO. 4. RED LAKE FALLS, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1904. WHOLE NO. 316.

VILLAINOUS SLANDERS BEING CIRCULATED AGAINST JOHNSON

Campaign of Falsehood Against One Who as a Boy Bore a Man's Burden on His Shoulders.

In these closing days of the campaign the managers of the Dunn campaign are doing everything in their power to line up the recalcitrant Republicans, and are indulging in roorbacks of every kind. One of the villainous slanders that are being circulated by some of the unscrupulous members of the Dunn organization is that John A. Johnson, the Democratic candidate for governor, permitted his father to die in the poorhouse. It is true that Gustav Johnson did die in the poorhouse, but a recital of the facts will show that this casts no discredit upon John A. Johnson. The elder Johnson was an incorrigible inebriate--a man who had to be kept in a safe place and under surveillance. Gustav Johnson was a blacksmith by trade and a good mechanic but on account of his appetite for drink he absolutely failed to provide for his wife and family. When John A. Johnson, the present candidate for governor, was 11 years old, his father left home, leaving the family entirely unprovided for and absolutely destituted. He returned three years later and his wife again took him in. He stayed home for a few months, when he again left. And during these months he absolutely neglected to provide for his family. Gustav Johnson was about 35 years old when he left home the first time. He was an able-bodied man and only for his unfortunate habits, was well able to provide for himself and his family.

When his father left home, John A. Johnson found it necessary to quit school and begin work to assist in providing for the family. He secured a position in a grocery store, through the aid and influence of a friend of his mother, Mr. Evanson. John A. earned three dollars a week for the first year, and every cent went to the support of his mother, his mother taking in washing to provide the balance necessary to keep body and soul together. But John was an ambitious boy, faithful to his trust, and as his wages increased, the comforts of the family kept pace accordingly. He held his position in Mr. Collin's grocery store for three years. He then secured a position in a drug store with Henry Jones, now a prominent druggist in Minneapolis. There his wages rapidly increased, and it was soon possible for him to provide for the family so that it was not necessary for his mother to take in washing any more. Johnson, now a young man 15 or 16 years old, became the head of the family. He provided entirely for the necessities of the little household. He cared for his mother and she testifies that he had been a true, kind and dutiful son to her. Three of his sisters died during this period, one of them after a long, lingering illness, and John bore the expenses of all this. He educated his brother Fred, who now lives in New Ulm. He educated his sister, who now lives and teaches at St. Peter. And all through life he has been true to his duties as a son and provider for the family which his father deserted. The story of his life in this respect is one of trial. It is a story of a man who dutifully and cheerfully assumed the burden laid upon him, and carried manfully and heroically as becomes a true man making no complaint and no boast. Instead of the fact that his father died in the poorhouse being a reflection on the character of John A. Johnson, the true story is a credit to him. As John Lind said in his speech in St. Paul Monday night, his life is an open book, and the people of St. Peter are familiar with every page. All John A. Johnson needs to do is to ask the people of Minnesota to give the history of his life the same careful reading that his friends and neighbors have given it, and leave the verdict to the people of this great state.

As stated, his father was an incorrigible inebriate and some time after he left home the second time it became necessary for the authorities, upon complaint of the citizens of St. Peter, to take him to the poorhouse and keep him there. The Nicollet county poorhouse is located eighteen miles from the city, thus being far removed from temptation. There he remained from that time until his death, under the care and guardianship of the authorities. If there had been an inebriate asylum in the state at that time, he would have been taken there instead of the poorhouse.

The facts recited above have been obtained from Dr. A. W. Daniels, who has been a practicing physician in St. Peter since 1861. A truer and nobler man never lived anywhere. Now an old man, Dr. Daniels said with tears running down his cheeks, "In all my life, I have never known a young man whose life has been purer or who has been as true to every duty in life than John A. Johnson."

Maj. A. L. Sackett, one of the St. Peter's distinguished citizens, stood by him when this remark was made, and he said he was ready to endorse that sentiment. Henry Moll, present judge of probate and candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket, writes giving the same endorsement, closing his letter by saying: "A nobler and truer man never walked the streets of St. Peter than John A. Johnson." Ex-Lieutenant Governor Gideon S. Ives, ex-Governor A. R. McGill, every pastor and priest in St. Peter and the faculty of the great Gustavus Adolphus college join in the same testimony. The best answer to this infamous attack is that the citizens of St. Peter regardless of partisan prejudices, regardless of race, creed and religion, will testify to the fact that as a citizen, a friend and a neighbor, John A. Johnson is a true man.

DISTRICT COURT ADJOURNS

Postponed Term to Begin November 31—Verdicts Returned Since Our Last Issue.

The November term of the district court was adjourned Saturday afternoon until the 21st inst. A large number of cases are still to be tried, and it is likely that the session will last at least two weeks.

In the action brought by Miss Frances Sherman of Fargo against James Connaughty for breach of promise the jury assessed the value of Miss Sherman's wounded affections at $450, and judgment was rendered accordingly. James M. Wetherow of Morrhead appeared as attorney for Miss Sherman and F. A. Grady for Mr. Counaughty.

In the case of Max Koenig vs. Dr. F. H. Gambell the jury found for the defendant. Koenig sued for $[illegible]000 damages, alleging malpractise in the treatment of a broken arm.

The jury in the case of Bertha Pederson vs. the Rapp estate the jury disagreed. Miss Pederson sued for the payment of a $250 certificate deposit issued by the First State Bank of St. Hilaire to C. G. Rapp. The bank refused to pay the certificate on the ground that it was not endorsed and there was no evidence to show that Miss Pederson was the righful owner. Miss Pederson contended that the certificate was given her by Mr. Rapp a few days before his death.

Mrs. J. J. Doe, the Republican candidate for county superintendent, has been spending the past week among the voters and is very much encouraged at the outlook. Mrs. Doe is a capable instructor and is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office which she seeks. The Red Lake Falls people, all of whom are her friends, will be pleased to learn that in the battle of the ballots next Tuesday she has been successful.

The Emardville creamery will be moved to the new town of Plummer in the near future. A meeting was held at Plummer Tuesday and about $600 in new stock and voluntary subscriptions was pledged to pay the expenses of moving. Besides this amount Julius Pleth has donated a site.

Editor John Eastman of Thief River Falls News Will Vote for John A. Johnson.

Thief River Falls New, [Rep.]: There are many Republicans in Minnnesota who do not believe Bob Dunn, the Republican nominee, is a fit man to be governor, and the outcome of the gubernatorial fight depends upon whether they remain loyal to the Republican party or to the state of Minnesota. Of course there are any number of Republicans who do not hesitate to state openly that they will not vote for Dunn and there are also many who state that, while they do not believe Dunn to be a fit man for the office, they intend to vote for him for the party's sake. While the News has always been a loyal Republican paper and never before refused to support its party candidate it believes that this year that the best service it can do the Republican party is to advocate the election of John A. Johnson, the Democratic nominee. We do not wish to quarrel with any who differ with us, but if Bob Dunn should be elected governor we will always be glad that our vote did not help to place him in the highest position in the state of Minnesota.

MRS. RALPH IS DEAD.

An Old Resident of Red Lake Falls Passes Away Friday.

Mrs. Thomas Ralph died Friday evening at her home in Red Lake Falls after an illness extending over a period of three years from paralysis. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, Rev. H. W. Knox officiating. The remains were interred in the cemetery east of town.

Mrs. Ralph was born 73 years ago near Ottawa, Canada, and came to Red Lake Falls with her family in 1882. She leaves to mourn her departure a husband and seven children, viz: John, Nepewa, Man.; Joseph, Dr. B. B., and Mrs. Lizzie Duncan, Kansas City; George A. and Mrs. H. E. Nesne, Crookston; Mrs. S. J. Sprague, Grand Forks, and Mrs. C. N. Bourdon, Red Lake Falls. All of them except John and Mrs. Duncan were present at the funeral.

Mrs. Ralph was one of the oldest residents of the city, and was beloved by all who knew her. She was a splendid christian woman and a devoted wife and mother.

On account of the hard fight on governor this year it is likely that the returns Tuesday night will be watched with unusual interest. Returns will be received by telephone and Schreiter's drug store will be headquarters that night for everybody interested in knowing how the battle of the ballots is going.

AROUND THE WORLD.

Unique Supper Given by the Presbyterian Ladies.

The "Trip Around The World" given Monday evening under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society was a pronounced success both socially and financially, the net proceeds amounting to $50.65. The tourists express themselves well pleased with the service despite the fact that "trains" were sometimes delayed, but "excursions" are always crowded and slight delays are to be expected. The various homes, designated for refreshments were most tastefully decorated and we hear naught but compliments for the "dining-car" service.

Spookville was all that the name implies, and the fun and frolic continued there until the Hallowe'en spirit had spent itself and all departed feeling they had been most delightfully entertained. The members of the society are pleased to extend thanks to conductors, drivers and to all who participated in the Hallowe'en excursion.

A reception for J. W. Rodgers and family will be given at the Presbyterian church parlors next Wednesday evening, Nov. 9, and all of the members of the church and Sunday school are cordially invited to be present. Mr. Rodgers expects to leave within the next ten days for Granite Falls, Minn., where he will be manager for a new store purchased at that place by Bangs & Co.

The "Box-bark Varsity" as it is called, seems to be a favorite style this season in both Overcoats and suits. Hart, Schaffner & Marx have made one style of their famous Varsity with a Box Back. We believe you'd look extremely well in one; but we've plenty of others if you don't think so--

The Label is in all of them, a small thing to look for, a big thing to find.

The WALK-OVER Shoes

at $3.50 and $4.00 is the only "progressive line" of Shoes. This line is now open, it has the Right-of-way. Competition is sidetracked.

SHARP FIGHTING REPORTED.

Furious Attack by Japs on Port Arthur—Two More Forts Are Captured.

Shanghai, Oct. 29.—It is reported that the Japanese have occupied two forts to the northeast of Port Arthur, that a Russian battleship in the harbor has been sunk and that the Japanese attack on the fortress is becoming more furious. This report lacks confirmation.

Shanghai, Oct. 29.—A private letter from Port Arthur dated October 21, received here Friday, says:

"Gen. Stoessel has instilled the garrison of the beleaguered fortress with the spirit that to court a glorious death is preferable to capitulation. The Japanese shells are inflicting great dameg to the Russian fleet in the harbor, and to the fortifications. The arsenal, with its contents of ammunition and small arms, has been destroyed, and preparations are being made for the last deadly struggle at close quarters. The water supply having been cut off, wells are being sunk. Provisions are scarce. Only tinned meats being left, the soldiers hold gala feasts on horses killed by the shells. Gen. Simonoff, it is said, would surrender, but is overruled by Gen. Stoessel.

Chefoo, Oct. 31.—The third general attack on Port Arthur began October 24, according to unimpeachable authority. On October 26 Japanese shells set fire to the only smokeless powder magazine in Port Arthur. Portions of the town caught fire, the conflagration continuing the whole day. On October 26 the Japanese captured the Russian trenches on the slope of Rihlung mountain, also a fortified position protecting that fortress. The Japanese consider the progress of the siege to be highly satisfactory.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The general staff issued a statement that the number of killed, wounded and missing in the fighting which began October 9, and ended October 18, totaled 800 officers and 45,000 men.

Mukden, Oct. 31.—The attack by the Japanese on the Buddhist temple hill on October 27 led to sharp fighting. The Japanese artillery played on the position from early in the morning, rendering the trenches untenable, shells and shrapnel sweeping everything and demolishing all the shelters. Two machine guns with the battalion defending the hill were smashed and disabled, but the defenders carried off the remains of the guns when they were forced to retire. The Japanese infantry attack under cover of the bombardment was made in close order. There was a desperate hand-to-hand fighting in the trenches, followed by a counter attack with the bayonet. The Japanese finally gained the hill, but were unable to hold it in the face of the deadly Russian artillery fire.

EX-GOV. NASH DEAD.

Prominent Ohioan Attacked by Heart Disease in Bathroom and Expires.

Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—Former Gov. George K. Nash dropped dead Friday morning in the bathroom at the home of his stepdaughter, Mrs. Worthington E. Babcock, on Jefferson avenue. Gov. Nash had been in ill health for over a year, having been stricken with heart trouble and other complications while governor of Ohio. Friday morning Mr. Nash arose late and went to the bathroom, where he was heard to fall, and life was extinct when the family reached the room.

Former Gov. George K. Nash was born in Medina county, Ohio, August 4, 1842. He attended Oberlin college, but left college before he graduated to enter the civil war. Afterwards he taught school and studied law in Columbus. He edited the Ohio State Journal for a time and was elected prosecuting attorney of Franklin county in 1879. He was elected judge of the supreme court of Ohio in 1883. He was elected governor of Ohio in 1900 and 1902, serving two terms. During the war of the rebellion he served as a private in Company C, One Hundred and Fiftieth O. V. I., of which the late Senator Hanna was the first sergeant. Ex-Gov. Nash leaves no family and his wife died some years ago.

DEADLY REVENGE.

An Ohio Farmer Kills a Man Who Had Secured a Judgment Against Him.

Toledo, O., Oct. 31.—Ross Schafer, a farmer, aged 60 years, living near Belmore, called John Hann, aged 30, who had been employed as a farm hand, from his residence, and under cover of the night shot twice at Hann from a hiding place, letting go the contents of a double-barreled shotgun. Hann, not knowing what had happened, ran squarely into Schafer, and the third shot penetrated his stomach, producing almost instant death. Hann had secured a judgment against Schafer for services rendered, and Schafer sought revenge. Schafer is held to answer to the charge.

Elevator Collapses.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 31.—From some cause which cannot be definitely explained, the Ontario elevator collapsed Sunday and sank into the waters of the Evans slip. The elevator contained about 370,000 bushels of barley, a large portion of which lies at the bottom of the slip. The loss on the grain and the building is estimated at $350,000.

Many Lives Lost.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—At a fire following a wedding in the poorer part of St. Petersburg Sunday evening 11 of the guests were burned to death. Five others are missing and it is feared that they also have perished.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Teachers' Wages.

There are ninety-eight more men teachers employed in Minnesota this year than last, and 366 more women instructors, according to reports compiled by the state superintendent of public instruction.

The figures also show an increase in the average wages paid to teachers of both sexes. Men in independent and special districts last year averaged $97.57. This year they average $98.81 monthly salary. Women in the independent and special district averaged $45.74 last year, and 48.56 this year.

In the common school districts the average wages for men have increased from $45.16 last year to $45.71 this year, and the salaries of the women teachers have increased form $33.25 to $36.27. Of the teachers employed, 5,961 have had only high-school training, 2,918 have been trained in normal schools and 1,038 have college or university diplomas

Minnesota Wins.

Minnesota has proven her superiority over her sister states in the making of butter beyond the shadow of a doubt, the fourth and final contest at the world's fair being awarded to her, as were the other three contests.

Four straight victories in this class added to the long line of successes leaves the state in a class by itself for the industries which are popular in its confines. Mining, educational and other awards have followed in rapid succession and the message received by Conde Hamlin, while expected by all, is a fitting end to a long series of victories which are unparalleled in the history of the great Louisiana Purchase exposition. The message follows:

Inside Inn, St. Louis, Oct. 23.

Conde Hamlin, Pres. Minn. Board:

At fourth and last world's fair butter contest Minnesota takes sweepstates on unsalted print butter. This is the fourth time that Minnesota has won out in these classes.

Tons of Butter.

"The biennial report of the dairy and food department, which will be ready the first of the year," said W. W. P. McConnell, state commissioner, "will show a most remarkable increase in the establishment of creameries through the state, I think it would be safe to say that the number of creameries in the state will be at least 20 per cent more than last year.

"About 60,000,000 pounds of butter was manufactured in Minnesota in 1903. Our report this year will show an increase of almost 15,000,000 pounds during the year. The conditions surrounding the manufacture of the butter have also improved immensely, and no better product is being turned out in the country than that of the Minnesota creameries."

A Freak.

A 2-year old colt, owned by Attorney S. G. Anderson, Jr., of Hutchinson is pronounced a remarkable freak by Dr. H. M. Reynolds of the state agricultural school, who judged horses at the recent McLeod county fair.

Until a year ago the colt was of normal size, since then he has done little else but grow, for now he stands six feet two inches high and weighs 1,160 pounds, being no doubt the tallest horse in the state. Dr. Reynolds thinks he may yet grow a foot or more.

The colt was bought from a farmer south of town, who would not have him on his place because his neighbors ridiculed him for raising such preposterous and unprepossessing livestock.

A Crazy Man.

A crazy man who imagined he was an understudy for Kate Shelley, the girl who saved a train from going through a washed-out bridge, stopped a Milwaukee passenger train near Pipestone. Divested of all his clothing, the man was seated in the middle of the track and fought against being taken away. After a hard fight the trainmen overpowered him and took him to Pipestone, where he gave the name of John Randolph of Virginia.

He claimed to be a telegraphic operator and said that he could send messages without the aid of wires or machinery. He was committed to the asylum at Pipestone.

Drugstore Drinks.

Mayor M. A. Cullum of Duluth has discovered that some of the soda fountains that are conducted in Duluth "have carried their mixed drink business to the verge of regular saloon practice, a number of places selling whisky and wines, with the addition of a slight amount of soda to take off the taste." It was also discovered at about the same time that these drinks were served to minors by some of the soda fountain proprietors. The mayor has issued strict instructions to the police department to put a stop to the sale of liquor for beverages.

News Notes.

The Minnesota agricultural exhibit at the world's fair wins two grand prizes and forty-six medals.

According to the valuation of state property this year, the soldiers' relief fund will be in the neighborhood of $87,000, about $10,000 more than their appropriation for the present season.

A seven-year old son of John L. Sullivan, a thresher, living eight miles south of Belle Plaine, was killed He opened a valve on on a thresher engine which started the engine, running over him, killing him instantly.

Ray Sellers, who has at Minneapolis been on trial in the district court charged with shooting Police Officer James Nolan in an escape from the Ashmore gambling house, which was held up on the evening of Sept. 10, was convicted.

A $300,000 structure will be erected to replace the old main building at the state university.

KNUTE J. WEEKS

Knute J. Weeks, candidate for Register of Deeds, is a man well qualified for that office. Mr. Weeks has been engaged several years in the real estate business and has a large experience in matters pertaining to land titles and abstracts, which makes him an ideal man for the position. He has a life-long history as a Republican and has always been connected with public enterprises and business, and has filled city, township, school and society office with honor; at presnt he is a member of the City Council, being alderman-at-large in the city of Thief River Falls. Ae is also president of Red Lake County Fair Association having been re-elected last year. Through his services we have had two of the best and most successful county fairs in the Red River Valley. Mr. Weeks is a man of broad education and will make an obliging and competent official, and your vote for him on November 8, is a vote for the right man.

J. S. DYRHAUG DROWNED.

Former Resident of this City Meets Accidental Death.

The following in regard to a former resident of Red Lake Falls is taken from the Bemidji Pioneer: "Word reached the city this morning of the drowning of Jacob S. Dyrhaug, postmaster at Shotley, in Red Lake Sunday night.

"The postoffice of Shotley, where Mr. Dyrhaug lived, is about a mile from the village of Shotley. Mr. Dyrhaug had been to the village Sunday afternoon and started home in his boat in the evening. The next day the boat and oars with his cap were found on the shore, and it is believed that he fell asleep in the boat and in some way fell from the boat and was drowned. The body has not yet been recovered.

"Mr. Dyrhaug was a fiddler of repute in the Shotley Brooks country and was accustomed to play for dances. On a former occasion, after playing nearly all night, he fell asleep in his boat and was found on the shore next morning. It is thought that he must have fallen asleep on this occasion and thus lost his life."

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c, at all druggists.

Avoid the Cheap and "Big Can" Baking Powders.

The cheap baking powders have but one recommendation: they certainly give the purchaser plenty of powder for his money. These powders are so carelessly made from inferior materials that they will not make light. wholesome food. Further, these cheap baking powders have a very small percentage of leavening gas; therefore it takes from two to three time as much of such powder to raise the cake or biscuit as it does of Calumet Baking Powder. Therefore, in the long run, the actual cost to the consumer of such powders is more than Calumet would be. Cheap baking powders leaves the bread sometimes bleached and acid, sometimes yellow and alkaline. and always unpalatable. They are never of uniform strength and quality.

Why not buy a perfectly wholesome baking powder like Calumet, that is at the same time moderate in price and one which can be relied upon? Calumet is always the same, keeps indefinitely and gives the cook the least trouble.

Reflection of a Bachelor.

New York Press: Getting married is an heroic way to cut off the expense of being engaged.

What in the world is it that makes a girl put on her best stockings to have her picture taken?

When a man has to tend his own furnace the devil gains not only a permanent resident but an experienced worker.

It's no use to get mad because a woman is wrong in an argument, for then she will cry and make you say she was right.

It's the unreasonableness of a woman not to want you to hold her hand before she is married to you and to want you to after she is.

A Stubboro Case!

Mr. Wm. Hessier of Muscoda, Wis., writes: "While taking the first box of Gloria Tonic for my rheumatic trouble I could not stand on my feet, while taking the second box I could walk across the room by pushing a chair ahead of me, and after taking the third box I could husk corn and feed sixty head of hogs." HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

Daisy Sewing Circle Entertained by Mrs. Ovide Emard.

On Hallowe'en night the Daisy sewing circle gave a farewell party to one of their members, Miss Annie Rodgers, who will soon leave Red Lake Falls. The party was opened by a jack-o'-lantern procession from the residence of Ovide Emard to a large bonfire near by upon which each girl threw a small bundle of fagots and told a story while the fagots were burning. As soon as they were burned the next girl threw her bundle of fagots and continued the story and so on until the fagots were all burned. Next they tried to peep into the future and find which of their two little girl friends they liked best would prove the true friend and which the fickle one by means of two lighted candles named for the said little friends and carried to an open door the one which burned the longer being the true friend. The good old game of "snap dragon" was also played with many small shreiks of fear both real and pretended of getting burned fingers in their effort to get the lucky raisin out of the blue flame which portended exceptionally good luck to the fortunate one. The lucky one proved to be Miss Florence Hennemuth. Ghost stories were told in a highly thrilling manner to the suitable accompaniment of burning salt and alcohol in a dark room which gave the most ghostly aspect to the awe-stuck faces of the assembled party. Bobbing for apples was of course indulged in and the most laughable feature of the evening was eating of a popcorn ball, suspended from the arch way, with hands tied behind the back. An offer was made to show each young lady the face of her future husband. Of course it was accepted with much unbelief. They were led to another room and each shown her own face in a glass. They complained they saw nothing but their own face. Never mind it will be your husband's face when you are married, was the true answer.

Thomas Germo, practicing attorney of Red Lake Falls and Republican candidate for the office of county attorney of Red Lake county, was born of Norwegian parents on a farm near Medo, Blue Earth county, Minnesota. He was educated in the country schools, Rochester Business college, Mankato State Normal school and at the University of Minnesota, graduating from the law department of the latter institution. He is a very successful lawyer, has a good practice, which is constantly growing, is thoroughly honest and straightforward in all his dealings, and enjoys the esteem of our citizens in a marked degree.

Two years ago he was a candidate for the same office and made a splendid record as a campaigner, being defeated by only five votes. This year he has improved his chances and it is generally predicted that he will go in with a handsome majority. He has no opposition on the Democratic ticket nor on any other party ticket, his opponent running as an independent candidate for a third term so that Mr. Germo will draw heavily from the other parties.

P. V. Collins Publishing Company

Incorporated Aug. 13, 1904, Under the Laws of Minnesota.

THIS new corporation is a re-incorporation of The Agriculturist Company, and its assets include The Northwestern Agriculturist, together with hitherto personal enterprises of P. V. COLLINS, consisting of The Home Magazine and real estate viz., the office and press buildings located on the corner of Seventh street and sixth avenue south, Minneapolis. The real estate alone is worth $30.000.

The value of the assets exceeds $100,000 on a very conservative basis, and the capital stock of the P. V. COLLINS PUBLISHING COMPANY is $100,000 including $30,000 perferred stock and $70,000 common stock.

The preferred stock bears a Guarantee of Seven Per Cent dividend, payable semi-annually, and when redeemed, we agree to pay $102.00 a share for it. The common stock is not for sale, but is all held by P. V. COLLINS, who will continue as manager of the business, as he has since 1893. No dividends can be paid on the common stock until the guaranteed dividends in full on the preferred are paid.

We have sold much of the above preferred stock to bankers, commercial men, farmers and professional people, in sums ranging from $100 to $5,000. It is the best investment on the market and they know it. It is not often that an apportunity comes to invest money on ample security at

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Edited by the Spartan Society—Mayme Linnihan Blanche Berthiaume and Walter Jonhson, Reporters.

The foot-ball boys spent a very enjoyable evening at the home of Prof. Chamberlain last Saturday. The time was spent in eating, giving toasts and an all around good time.

The foot ball boys begin to feel uneasy as the chances are rather small for any more foot ball this year.

The boys that received a few hard knocks in the Grand Forks game are feeling better as we hear no more complaining.

The girls of the high school would like to have a basket ball team alright, but one was heard to remark the other day that she wouldn't play if she couldn't eat pie and cake. We would ask this girl to take example from the boys during the past two months.

The boys of the high school have been discussing the Socialist Labor party for the last week. The party is well represented in the high school.

The Juniors held a meeting last Wednesday for the purpose of planing another supper but the meeting adjourned until after election.

There has been quite a number of absences in the high school this week.

The Senior class was brought to greif last Thurday morning when one of their worthy members appeared at the school sad and weary. When asked what the trouble was, he said, "I had my fortune given to me last night, and it read, "You will not graduate, you will be married before the year is out." The girls in sympathy offered their services as bride maids.

By the hard labor of Joseph Toupin the High School Monthly was distributed around the room last week.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

STATE NEEDS GRADE SCHOOLS.

Shy on Elementary Educational Institutions.

A. W. Rankin, inspector of the state grade schools, has just made an extended tour through the state and reports that the grade schools in Minnesota were never in better condition and more prosperous.

"There is," said Mr. Rankin, "a great need for more grade schools in several counties, and especially in the southern counties where the railroads have built extensions, causing an increase in population and demand for more school facilities.

"The lower grades seem to be crowded, and nearly one-half of the children in the Minnesota grade schools are in the lower grades. There is evidence on all sides of the rapid advance in the prosperity of the Minnesota farmer and in the number of children sent to school, the length of time spent in study and the advance in the average age at which children leave school.

"During ten years I have been engaged in the inspection of schools I find that the average age at which children leave school to take up work on the farm or in the cities has advanced from two to three years. A large number of pupils are staying the entire course, and the crowded condition of the schools is both an index of the prosperity and the rapid increase in the population of the state."

Mr. Rankin states that there are several counties that should have new grade schools at once to relieve the overcrowded conditions. The counties that are in need of new schools and are not able to as yet to stand the financial burden of building them without loans from the state, he says, are hoping that the proposed amendment to section 6, article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota, will be passed by the coming election. By this amendment the counties will be able to loan for school purposes 15 per cent of the real valuation instead of the present 7 per cent.

A Runway Bicycle,

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen,s Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c, at all druggisst.

One thing that has been thoroly demonstrated by the short crop in this section of the state this year is that dependence on one crop is a mistake and that the sooner farmers engage in diversified farming the better it will be, not only for them, but for all other business interests. While the Red River valley is perhaps as well adapted to wheat raising as any country in the world, yet, when the crop fails, we have absolutely nothing to fall back on. The valley, rich as it is, is equally well adopted to the raising of other crops. It has been demonstrated time and again that good corn can be raised here and that it is a reasonably sure crop. Every other crop that is good for feed can be raised here. Cattle can be fed here about as cheaply as they can elsewhere. Why not raise more stock? Why not have creameries? It is true that it takes money to start any of these branches. It is also true that it takes money to raise wheat. The country, to be truly prosperous, must come to diversified farming sooner or later. Wheat raising, as the only crop, is playing out.—Wilkin County Gazette.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and deremined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seem a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at all druggists.

A LAST WORD.

Before another issue the campaign will be ended, and, we sincerely believe, the victory won, so far as the county ticket and a portion of the state ticket is concerned. If the election was held today it is conceded that John A. Johnson would be elected governor by a substantial majority. The use of money and the circulation of false reports needs to be watched vigilantly. In the few days remaining before election a responsibility rests upon every voter favorable to the cause of John A. Johnson to use their best endeavors to get out every vote favorable to his election.

The campaign has been a long and strenuous one. The Democratic state campaign has been conducted without money. In fact the state chairman has frequently been embarrassed for the necessary funds to pay the expenses of speakers and buy postage stamps. Not a cent of money has been paid by corporate or special interests. Not a candidate on the Democratic state ticket has ever been suspected of being identified with the railroads or any trust or corporation looking for special favor from the state.

On the other hand the Republican workers have been liberally supplied with funds. In Red Lake county more than a dozen men have been hired to go about the country in the interests of the Republican state ticket, and it is commonly reported that the lumber trust and the railroads of the state are furnishing the sinews of war.

The state of Minnesota has had too many governors elected by corporate influence. The election of John A. Johnson will insure a capable, patriotic administration, free from the slightest taint of corporate control and influence.

☞ If you were hiring a man to manage your business would you select Ray W. Jones, A CONVICTED TIMBER THIEF, in preference to Fendall G. Winston? Why should you hire Jones next Tuesday to manage the State's business?

A WORD PERSONAL.

As probably most of the voters of the county are aware, the editor of this paper was nominated for the office of secretary of state by the Democratic state convention at Minneapolis last August. Heretofore no editorial reference has been made to his candidacy save by an occasional paragraph reprinted from the other newspapers of the state. Perhaps at this time, in the closing days of the campaign, it will not be out of place nor deemed egotistical to express the hope that the voters of the county will deem it to their advantage, irrespective of political differences, to give him creditable vote.

The editor of this paper is a fixture in Red Lake county. All that he has is invested here. He has endeavored to use whatever powers were at his command for the upbuilding of the county, and has been and is interested in the prosperity and welfare of its citizens. For the first time in its history Red Lake county has received recognition at the hands of one the great parties. It is no less an honor to the county than to the individual, and there could be no good reason assigned why the electors of the county should not show their appreciation by rolling up a large majority on election day for one of their own citizens.

IF you want a good county attorney for the coming two years don't forget to vote for Tom Germo.

DEMOCRATS, HEED YE!

Democrats—every man of you—don't you know the value of your vote this year? Don't you see that with your votes our state ticket will be elected—that this means reform state government? A direct benefit to every taxpayer! Then, GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE AND GET EVERY OTHER DEMOCRAT TO VOTE. VOTER VOTE, VOTE.

THE GROSS EARNINGS BILL.

Much has been written and said about the propositiou to increase the tax paid by railroads from three per cent of their gross earnings as has been the custom for years past, to four per cent and it is now up to the people to see that it is carried at the coming election. The reputation of men has been made and lost in the fight to accomplish this increase in the tax of railroads and yet the voters of the state were so indifferent about the matter that they failed two years ago to cast a sufficient number of votes on the proposition to carry it. Out of 276,071 voters who went to the polls only 130,522 voted for it and 15,022 voted against it and it failed for want of a majority of all the votes cast at the election It would seem in a matter so widely discussed and which meant so much to the tax payers all over the state the voters would have been sufficiently awake to their interests to adopt the amendment by an overwhelming majority, but being at the bottom of the ballot it was overlooked.

It will not be so easily overlooked this year, as all the amendments will be placed upon a separate ballot, a separate ballot box will also be provided, and every voter who reads this should take it upon himself to talk to his neighbors about it and see that it receives a full vote. The judges of election should call each voter's attention to the matter also as the tickets are handed out. It is not a constitutional amendment, but it must receive a majority of all the votes polled and by a little attention on the part of even a few men in each precinct it will be carried by a large majority. The loss to the taxpayers of the state by the failure to adopt the measure two years ago is about $1,400,000, as it calculated that under its provisions, the railroads will pay about $700,000 each year in excess of what they now pay.

Be sure and vote "yes" on the gross earning bill.

TWO VIEWS.

William Henry Eustis of Minneapolis, the only Republican candidate for governor in Minnesota since the party came into power who ever met defeat, is reported to have said in a recent speech: "I would rather vote for a Republican and be wrong, than to vote for a Democrat and be right."

Samuel R. Van Sant, who as a Republican nominee for governor received the largest majority ever given a candidate in Minnesota, said in a recent speech:

"In times like these, when graft and lawlessness hold high carnival and the corrupt body is so powerful, a man of courage should be at the helm. More and more we are coming to consider the candidate's fitness, as well as the platform upon which he stands. We look more and more to what he has done and his environments, and not so much to his promises. No party should ever be so strong that the party label would be sufficient to secure office for an unworthy candidate."

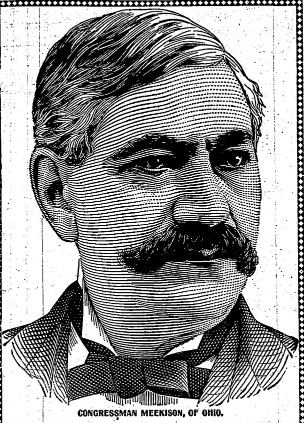
There you have two views of a question that strikes at the very heart of popular government. Is it better to be a partisan than to be a patriot?

THE task of supporting James E. Ford for county auditor, while an agreeable one, is so perfunctory as to make it rather hard work. No one disputes the fact that Mr. Ford is one of the best officials this or any other county ever had, and no one is opposing him with serious expectations of defeating him. Every newspaper in the county has said kind words for him, and practically every man of prominence in the county has praised his administration. There is no doubt of his election by an overwhelming majority—some put it at 1,500—and for that reason it is almost impossible to get anybody interested in his campaign. Nevertheless it is the duty of the voters to see that he does get a big majority. He deserves every vote in the county.

THE much-advertised debate between John Lind and James A. Peterson took place at the International auditorium in Minneapolis Monday evening, and according to all reports Peterson was figuratively flayed alive and utterly routed. The question for debate was "Resolved, That Robert C. Dunn is not qualified for the office of governor of Minnesota." Mr. Lind had the affirmative, and made a terrific arraignment of the official acts of the Republican candidate for governor. Peterson did not attempt to dispute the arguments and declined to meet the issue. It is hard to see how the debate could by any possibility redound to the advantage of the Republicans.

THINK of it! On Monday evening in St. Paul before an immense audience, ex-governor John Lind in explicit language charged the nominee of the Republican party for lieutenant governor with being a "convicted timber thief," says the Albert Lea Standard. More! Not one paper in the state has attempted to deny the charge, or explain why this man Jones is permitted to discredit the Republican party and the honorable men who comprise most of its voters. Vote him down and out—make no mistake—the Dunn ticket is bad from top to bottom.

CONGRESSMAN STEVENS said that if Johnson were elected and Nelson or Clapp were to die the state would have a Democratic senator. But if Dunn and Jones are elected and Dunn were to die we would have a timber tresspasser for governor, says the Windom Citizen. With what pride the state of Minnesota could then point to her governor!



FOR THIRTY YEARS

Congressman Meekison Suffered With Catarrh—Read His Endorsement of Pe-ru-na.

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peruna came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison, ex-Member of Congress.

Over fifty members of Congress endorse Peruna as a catarrhal tonic. Men of prominence the world over praise Peruna.

A TONIC is a medicine that gives tone to some part of the system. There are different kinds of tonics, but the tonic most needed in this country, where catarrh is so prevalent, is a tonic that operates on the mucous membranes.

Peruna is a tonic to the mucous membranes of the whole body. It gives tone to the capillary circulation which constitutes these delicate membranes.

Peruna is a specific in its operation upon the mucous membrane. It is a tonic that strikes at the root of all catarrhal affections. It gives tone to the minute blood vessels and the terminal nerve fibres. Catarrh cannot exist long where Peruna is used intelligently. Peruna seeks out catarrh in all the hidden parts of the body.

A. M. Ikerd, an employe of the C. B. & Q. R. R., West Burlington, Ia., writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief. Finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me, that I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was something awful. I could hardly stand it, it was so offensive. I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse.

"Finally I got one of your books, and concluded I would try Peruna, and thank God, I found a relief and a cure for that dreadful disease. I took five bottles of Peruna and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peruna, and I keep a bottle in my house all the time."—A. M. Ikerd.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually called dyspepsia. Catarrhal dyspepsia cannot be cured by pepsin powders or any other temporary relief. The only cure for real dyspepsia is a removal of the catarrh from the mucous membrane of the stomach. This Peruna will do. This Peruna has done thousands and thousands of times.

Congressman Botkin, of Kansas, was cured of catarrh of the stomach of many years' standing. Hundreds of other cases have been reported to us through unsolicited testimonials. Peruna is the only internal systemic remedy for catarrh yet devised. Every one afflicted with catarrh in the slightest degree ought to take a course of Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

IT is practically conceded that Thomas Germo will be the next county attorney. There is no Democratic opposition to him, and an independent stands little show. And, by the way, Tom Germo is worthy of the place. He has lived here for nearly five years and established an excellent reputation as a lawyer. As a citizen no man can say a word against him. There is no danger that the county will suffer by reason of his election.

THE Bemidji Sentinel, a Republican paper, is not a bit scared over the rumor that John Lind is desirous of being a United States senator. It says: "The prospect of John Lind breaking into the United States senate does not appear to be such an awful calamity in the light of a few recent happenings."

IN a speech at Anoka Monday evening Robert C. Dunn made the statement that the Republican state campaign has been conducted at an expense of only $14,000. It is apparent that a good many of the counties are not being "taken care of" as liberally as Red Lake and Polk.

FRANK JEFFERS is making a whirlwind of a campaign for register of deeds and good judges say he is going to win. Frank has every qualification for the position and ought to be elected.

WHEN you take your ballot and blue lead pencil next Tuesday don't forget N. W. Tarrant. He has made an efficient judge of probate, and is entitled to your support. Don't forget Tarrant.

OUT in the eastern part of the county it is reported that Paul Ostby intends to appoint Adam Zeh deputy in case of his election as auditor. However, we wouldn't give much for Zeh's chances.

KARL M. HANSON is splendidly equipped for county treasurer by reason of a good education, business experience and a thorough knowledge of county affairs. He deserves your vote.

IF you want an efficient and accommodating sheriff vote for Daniel Linnihan.

DAN LINNIHAN has made a good sheriff and on every score deserves to be re-elected for another term. Don't forget Mr, Linnihan on election day.

SAY, good Republican friend, are you really going to vote for a convicted lumber thief for lieutenant governor?

CANADA'S election early next month is likely to result in the return of the Laurier government to power by a majority somewhat smaller than it at present enjoys—fifty-four in the house of commons. The issues on which the campaign is being fought are rather peculiar from our point of view, the foremost one being the contract made between the government and the Grand Trunk Pacific company for the construction of a transcontinental railway. The Conservatives say that the government has been too liberal with the railway promoters and offer the alternative of a policy of government ownership and the extension of the inter-colonial railways into the western wheat fields. Preferential trade has cut a very small figure in the contest because both parties support Mr. Chamberlain's policy—or declare that they would do so if they only knew what it was.

Wonderful Results.

Mrs. C. A. Smith, of Holland, Mich., tells what a marvelous remedy "Gloria Tonic" is She writes: "After suffering the tortures of rheumatism for years and after vainly employing Doctors it was "Gloria Tonic" which completely cured me" Sold by W. A. Schreiter.

Vote for Jeffers

Thos. A. Hunt, state agent for the Consolidated Fire Insurance company, was here looking after business in Red Lake Falls yesterday. Mr. Hunt is an ardent Republican, but like thousands of other independent citizens, cannot stand for the state ticket this year and expects to go home to vote for John A. Johnson.

Hon. W. H. Savery of Chicago, spoke at Terrebonne, Brooks and Lambert this week in behalf of the Republican national ticket. Mr. Savery is said to be an exceptionally able French speaker and was greeted by large audiences at all the places mentioned. He was accompanied by Dr. N. M. Watson, chairman of the county committee.

Nicholas, the twelve-year-old son of John Ziegler, the Terrebonne miller, died yesterday from appendicitus, and the funeral will be held tomorrow at the Terrebonne church. The little fellow has been suffering for some time from the disease, and has been too weak to submit to an operation. The many friends of the family will extend condolences.

Good-sized crowds are reported at these meetings, and at present things look bright for Johnson and the county ticket in Red Lake county.

Mrs. Theo. LaBiasoniere entertained a party of lady friends a dinner Thursday. Those present were Mesdames I. D. Converse, C. F. Johnson, J. C. Wilkinson, Georgiana Marchand, J. A. Duffy, L. A. Dautremont, S. S. Haislet, William Findeisen, J. P. Harren. P. B. Gaass and P. Martin. The affair was given in honor of Mrs LaBissoniere's mother, Mrs. P. Martin.

Thief River Press: The line of the Soo road was completed Wednesday when connection was made with the Canadian Pacific at Emerson, five days in advance of schedule time, and after a summer of strenuous railroad building the like of which has never been seen in Minnesota. It is not known when through trains will be operated between Winnipeg and St. Paul, but more than likely the 1st of December will see the new service go into effect.

"I was troubled with constipation and stomach troubles, lost flesh, my complexion was ruined; Hollister's Rocky Tea brought back my health and complexion."—Mary Allen, St. Louis 35cents. A. L. Reichert.

Prof. T. J. Caton, a renegade Minneapolis Democrat, spoke to a small audience at the opera house last Friday night in behalf of the Republican state ticket. Enthusiasm was at a low ebb, and even the staunchest Republicans admit that they were disgusted with the speech. Mr. Caton may be termed a "professional politician," whose views are subject to revision whenever there is money in sight. Six years ago he was the Populist candidate for congress from the Minneapolis district, and since that time has been affiliated with the Democrats until a few weeks ago. It is reported on good authority—no other than ex-Governor John Lind—that Mr. Caton offered his services this year to the Democratic committee, but for reasons that are apparent his offer was declined with thanks. There are altogether too many speakers of the A. D. Smith and Prof. Caton type out for the Republican state ticket this year, but of this the Democrats have no reason to complain.

WISDOM PREVENTS THREATENED WAR

COURT OF INQUIRY TO SETTLE LATEST TROUBLE BETWEEN ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

Both Countries Agree to Submit to Arbitration Points in Dispute Arising Over the North Sea Affair.

London, Oct. 29.—All danger of war between Russia and Great Britain has been averted, and the settlement of the only points in dispute regarding the attack by the Russian second Pacific squadron on British trawlers October 21 has been refered to an international commission under The Hague convention. Details of the agreement were supplied by Premier Balfour in a speech delivered before the national union of conservative clubs at Southampton Friday night. "The Russian ambassador," said Mr. Balfour, "has authorized a statement to the following effect: The Russian government, on hearing of the North sea incident, at once expressed its profound regret, and also promised most liberal compensation. The government has ordered the detention at Vigo of that part of the fleet which was concerned in the incident, in order that the naval authorities might ascertain what officers were responsible for it; that those officers and any material witnesses would not proceed on the voyage to the far east; that inquiry would be instituted into the facts by an international commission as provided by The Hague convention. That, Mr. Balfour interpolated, had nothing to do with arbitration. It was the constitution of an international commission in order to find out the facts, and any person found guilty would be tried and punished adequately. The Russian government undertook that precautions would be taken to guard against recurrence of such incidents.

The ascertainment of the facts for submission to a commission formed under the rules of The Hague peace conference will be through the coroners' inquest at Hull in investigation by the British board of trade and the examination of officers of the Russian ships which fired upon the fishermen. Mr. Balfour said that apology and compensation having already been offered, nothing now remains but to determine which account is correct, Rojestvensky's or the trawlers. In his speech Mr. Balfour ridiculed the official explanation of Admiral Rojestvensky, but praised the spirit in which the Russian emperor and government had met the crisis. In both Russia and Great Britain the prevailing feeling is of relief that there no longer seems to be danger of war between the nations.

Emperor Approves Plan.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—The emperor has approved the proposal to submit the North sea incident to the international tribunal. The admiralty authorizes the statement that Admiral Rojestvensky has been instructed to remain at Vigo pending the inquiry into the North sea incident.

Public Dissatisfied.

London, Oct. 31.—As time reveals the terms and the possibilities of the agreement for arbitrating the Anglo-Russian difficulty over the North sea tragedy, it becomes evident the wrath of many of the British people has not been appeased. The anger is now turning partly from Russia against Premier Balfour and his government. It is felt that the government has adopted a lame compromise after making a great show of force, and after declaring it would brook no delay in satisfaction for the killing of British fishermen by the Russian Baltic fleet. It is plain many people are disappointed over the agreement to refer the trouble to a court of inquiry to be appointed under the terms of The Hague arbitration treaty. Such a court, they say, could have no binding force on Russia, and even if it could decree punishment of the authors of the North sea outrage, the czar's government might refuse to accept the verdict. Many views are probably best expressed by the Standard, which disapproves the settlement as a lame and impotent compromise on the part of the British government. It is felt that the honor of the nation has been sacrificed.

AN AWFUL CRIME.

Two Men Throw an Antagonist Into Coke Oven in Pennsylvania.

Masontown, Pa., Oct. 31.—A horrible murder was disclosed Sunday, when Steve Borok, employed at the Bessemer coke plant, reported that late Saturday night he saw a man thrown into a coke oven and cremated. Borok says he saw three men scuffling on top of an oven, and a moment later saw two of them jump to the ground and disappear in the darkness. Just then flames issued from the oven as though fuel had been tossed into it. Coroner Hagan ordered the oven drawn, when blackened human bones and teeth were found. The murdered man and his assailants are unknown.

Walcott Held for Manslaughter.

Boston, Oct. 29.—"Joe" Walcott, the negro pugilist, was held for the grand jury Friday in $2,500 on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of another negro, Nelson Hall, recently. The pugilist's revolver is said to have been accidentally discharged and a ball which first went through one of Walcott's hands, badly injuring it, entered Hall's breast, causing almost instant death.

TWO SECTIONS OF MISSOURI PACIFIC PASSENGER TRAIN COLLIDE AT TIPTON, MO.

Three Persons Are Killed and Twenty-Three Others Injured—Jury Fixes the Blame on the Crew of One Train.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 31.—Three persons were killed and 23 injured in a rear end collision between section No. 2 and section No. 1 of train No. 3, Missouri Pacific world's fair special at Tipton, Mo., early Sunday. Train No. 3, on account of the heavy world's fair travel, was made up in two sections, the first leaving St. Louis for Kansas City Saturday night at 10:10 p. m. The second left a few minutes later, and when it reached Tipton section No. 1 was taking on passengers. According to Engineer Ramsey of section No. 2, a headlight in the yards blinded him and he was unable to see section No. 1. He also says that his orders were "clear ahead." The second section was running about 30 miles an hour when the collision occurred. The end sleeper of section No. 1 was entirely demolished, and the second sleeper was overturned. The dead are: Mrs. Bright Walker, Lewisburg, Pa.; Mrs. Margaret Burke, Kansas City;; J. W. Bagby, secretary and treasurer of the Linotype Publishing company, Kansas City. The engine of the second section struck the Pullman car Topaz squarely, splitting it for two-thirds of its length, and all of the 14 passengers in the car were either killed or injured. There were 22 passengers in the next car ahead, and although all were badly shaken up by the collision and received a few scratches, only a few were injured seriously.

Sedalia, Mo., Oct. 31.—The coroner of this county held an inquest here Sunday night, inquiring into the cause of the wreck on the Missouri Pacific railroad at Tipton, Mo., in which three persons were killed and 23 injured, and the following verdict was rendered: "The collision was caused by neglect of flagman of first No. 3 in not properly flagging second No. 3, and also by engineer of second No. 3 for coming into station in a careless manner in not having his engine under control."

THE PRESIDENT'S CALL.

Outline of Scope of the Proposed Second Hague Peace Conference.

Washington, Oct. 31.—In a circular note Secretary Hay has carried out the president's instructions relative to proposing a second Hague conference. The note not only contemplates the reassembling of The Hague conference for the consideration of questions specifically mentioned by the original conference, as demanding further attention, such as the rights and duties of neutrals; the inviolability of private property in naval warfare and the bombardment of ports by naval forces, but goes further by practically indorsing the project of a general system of arbitration treaties and the establishment of an international congress to meet periodically in the interests of peace. The issue of the call while the present war is in progress is justified by the fact that the first Hague conference was called before our treaty of peace with Spain was concluded.

Game Perish in Forest Fires.

Belvidere, N. J., Oct. 31.—Forest fires have been raging since Wednesday in the timber of the Blue Ridge mountains, and in the four days have spread over 20,000 acres and along a tract 20 miles eastward from Wind Gap, Pa. Thousands of partridges, rabbits, squirrels, and other small game are fleeing before the rush of fire east. Wardens who have penetrated to the interior of the burned district say that the slaughter of game has been immense.

TREASURER INDICTED.

Grand Jury Disbelieves Story of Robbery and Holds Him for Embezzlement.

Pomeroy, O., Oct. 27.—After investigating for a month, the grand jury on Wednesday indicted County Treasurer Thomas J. Chase, charging the embezzlement of $14,500 from the county treasury on September 9, when he claimed that the treasury was looted by masked robbers and himself locked in the vault. When Chase was brought from the county treasury into the court his bond was fixed at $10,000. As he was unable to furnish bail, he was remanded to jail. The arrest of Chase caused no surprise in Meiggs county, but there is much excitement over the indictments that are expected against other persons.

Chase claims that two unknown masked men entered his office and robbed the safe, locked him in the vault, and made their escape in daylight without being seen by anyone about the courthouse or in the town. Chase was found locked up by his daughter, who rushed to a local bank and thence to the fair grounds for some one who could open the vault. It is shown to the grand jury that at least half a dozen men were sitting in front of the courthouse all forenoon of September 9, and saw no strangers.

If Chase is convicted the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company of Baltimore will refuse to pay the county $10,000 insurance against daylight robbery, as the indictment is for embezzlement. The burden then would fall on Chase's 26 individual bondsmen who were accepted by the county commissioners for $20,000.

Pomeroy, O., Oct. 28.—T. J. Chase, indicted on the charge of embezzling $14,500 of county funds, furnished $10,000 bond and was released from jail.

CRIME CONFESSED.

Indiana Woman Pleads Guilty to Murder of Stepdaughter—Sent to Prison for Life.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 28.—Indicted Thursday morning by the grand jury for the poisoning of her stepdaughter, Crystal Krauss, the defendant, Mrs. Rae M. Krauss, after demanding immediate trial, pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in the first degree and, walking calmly to the bench, handed to Judge Vaughn a signed confession written October 16, while a prisoner in the Blackford county jail. The audience listened intently while the confession was being read, after which the jury retired for 15 minutes, returning with a verdict of guilty. Immediately Judge Vaughn pronounced the sentence, which carries with it imprisonment for life in the women's prison at Indianapolis, and within half an hour the prisoner, escorted by two officers and followed by a mob, hissing and uttering cries of violence, was on her way to the interurban train which was to carry her to prison. The confession pleads that the crime was committed while the defendant was dispossessed of her senses; that she had confessed to her husband, W. R. Krauss; that she was prompted to poison her step-daughter by an indescribable desire to kill, and after dealing at length with the domestic relations of the family, which, the confession says, were most pleasant, concludes with an invocation of God's help in supplying strength to bear the sorrow which she endures.

Serious Dynamite Explosion.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—By the accidental explosion of 400 pounds of dynamite in a blacksmith shop at Council City, Alaska, on October 1 last, two men were fatally injured, several others seriously hurt, and a large amount of valuable property was destroyed.

Five Killed.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 27.—J. Francisco, a cigarmaker of this city, and four tramps were killed in the wreck of a Wabash freight train at Sadorus, Champaign county, after having been put off the train three times.

JAPS PREPARE TO STRIKE AGAIN

ARE RECEIVING REENFORCEMENTS FOR ANOTHER OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT OF LONE TREE HILL

Positions of Mikado's Troops Strongly Fortified—Another Attempt Made to Secure Commanding Position at Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—A dispatch from Gen. Kuropatkin dated October 30 announces a significant movement of Japanese from the west eastwards. The Japanese are receiving reenforcements from the south and southeast and are evidently concentrating for an offensive movement. The weather is fine but is cold during the nights.

Gen. Sakharoff, in a dispatch to the general staff dated Monday, says:

"A Japanese attack on the Russian entrenchments north of Sinchinpu October 30 was repulsed. The Japanese artillery commenced the bombardment of eight positions at about ten o'clock Sunday and kept it up until two o'clock Monday morning. A Japanese advance against the Russians near the village of Tungo was discovered Sunday night and was met by the Russian artillery."

A telegram from Gen. Stoessel dated October 17 constitutes the latest Russian news from Port Arthur. The general then announced that the Russians had repulsed a Japanese attack on the forts north and northeast of Port Arthur October 16, with heavy loss to the assailants. Gen. Stoessel also asked for the blessing of the emperor and empress.

Lone Tree Hill Bombarded.

Mukden, Nov. 1.—From an early hour Monday morning there has been a heavy bombardment of Poudloff (Lone Tree) hill by the Japanese. Large masses of Japanese were moving eastwards during October 29 and 30. After several days of quietness big guns commenced booming to the southeast Sunday night, continuing until early Monday morning. Fighting has taken place between reconnoitering parties, the Japanese having crossed the Shakhe river toward the southeast.

A big battle is expected this week, which, unless successful upon the part of the Russians, will probably be the last under the recent arrangement. A complete reorganization of the army is now under way. Gen. Kuropatkin continues in supreme command. Viceroy Alexieff left on October 30 for Russia.

Positions Strongly Fortified.

The Japanese have occupied a rocky promontory south of Sindiapu and also the hills southeast of Koutiatze. The positions along their line are strongly fortified with redoubts, wire entanglements, ditches and pitfalls and also mines in some places. The fortifications are arranged in double tiers. The positions, especially on the plain, are exceedingly well masked. On Saturday through telescopes the Russians observed a movement of the Japanese eastward and judging by the dust it must have been a heavy force. The northern slopes of the hills held by Gen. Zaroubaieff's corps resemble the homes of cave dwellers. All the slopes are pierced with caves, which are warm and comfortable for the soldiers at night. Gen. Oganoffski has for a fortnight been living in the cleft of a rock.

Steamer Sunk.

Tokio, Nov. 1.—The steamer Chiyoda discovered a floating mine off Chefoo and brought it to Moji Sunday. The gunboat Yamato sent a boat to secure the mine and in transferring the mine it exploded, sinking the boat, injuring the Chiyoda and wounding several. The navy has issued a warning to merchantmen plying the Gulf of Pechili, advising them to keep a close watch for mines. The storms and heavy winds are carrying the Russian mines from their moorings.

Japs Press Assault.

Chefoo, Nov. 1.—A steamer which has just arrived here from Newchwang reports having heard heavy firing at Port Arthur Sunday night and Monday until she was out of earshot, indicating a continuance of the battle which began October 24 in a preliminary manner and developed Sunday into the third attempt of the Japanese to secure a commanding position. The result of the fighting is unknown.

The Japanese have been preparing for this assault for a month. It is believed that the Japanese did not expect to capture the town on this occasion but to accomplish another important forward step. This plan was adopted following the first assault, when thousands of lives were sacrificed in an attempt to swarm over the fortifications by a mere force of numbers regardless of loss. This assault, like the previous one, was a climatic incident of weary weeks of trench digging, gun mounting and small engagements. In the opinion of experts the assault will cease when the Japanese have secured such positions as will enable them to keep steadily closer under the noses of the Russian guns. It is believed that two more general assaults will be necessary before the distance between the belligerent lines is sufficiently shortened to make an attempt to enter the main forts and make the end of the siege practicable.

His Condition Unchanged.

New York, Nov. 1.—The report that Maurice Barrymore, the actor, is dying is denied by the authorities at the Long Island home, of which he is an inmate. That there is no hope of his recovery has long been understood, but his condition at present is the same as it has been for months past.

Cut Out the Warts.

There are men who resemble warts. These pestiferous fellows are found in every community. They infest neighborhoods. They are nuisances. They run amuck, their slimy tongues emitting poison in the shape of slanderous stories about men whose garments they are not fit to touch. Not content with attacking men, they make women their prey, and their foulness goes almost beyond the point of endurance, yet the fact that these things inhuman are made up of excresence, saves them from the threshing they so richly deserve. These eruptions have been busy during the present campaign, starting stories which reflect upon the characters of the candidates for governor. One of these mattery-composed fellows has circulated a yarn about John A. Johnson, the Democratic candidate, that should not be coutenanced by Republicans. The Free Press is not supporting the candidacy of Mr. Johnson, but this paper does believe in fair play and decency in politics. For this reason we take the opportunity now to denounce the outrageous work that the wart is guilty of, and trusts that when the proper time comes it will be treated as it deserves to be.

Warts have attempted to traduce Bob Dunn, the Republican candidate. It is pleasing to note, however, that fair minded Democrats do not uphold these debasing and low lived tactics.

It is about time that the hideous warts that have disfigured the body politic so long be cut out.—Mankato Free Press, (Rep.)

Imagination in Business.

Two thirds of the failures in business are undoubtedly due to the small basis on which the whole is planned. Many a man is so absorbed in the details of his work that he cannot see the big things ahead; he lacks the imagination and doesn't really know what he is working for. The remedy is simple—get away from your business long enough to look at it as a whole, then lay your plans for the future. Don't overwork. Keep your mind clear and bright by a daily use of golden grain belt beer—it's the sort of tonic working men need. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex Thompson, Crookston.

KILLED AT THIEF RIVER.

John Danielson, a Laborer on the Soo Line, Resisted Arrest

John Danielson, a laborer employed on the Soo near Thief River, was shot by officer Frank Conovick while resisting arrest Tuesday and died from the effects of the wound shortly after at the hospital. It is claimed that Danielson threatened to kill the officer rather than be taken into custody and that the action of Conovick was purely in self defense. Danielson, who had been drinking heavily, had the policeman down and had choked him into semi-insensibility when by a great effort Conovick drew his revolver and shot his assailant. Danielson hails from Minneapolis where he has relatives living and little is known of him here. The general sentiment is that the officer acted in self defense and his act was justified by the necessity of the occasion.

JOHNSON ON DRAINAGE.

It has been untruthfully asserted that Hon. John A. Johnson, Democratic candidate for governor, is opposed to state drainage. Here is what Mr. Johnson said on this subject in his speech of acceptance at Minneapolis:

"Swamp land drainage is a business proposition and it admits of no argument. Someone has said that he who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is a benefactor. It is good business policy for the state of Minnesota to convert this class of land into farms for the Minnesota settler.

TORMENTING RHEUMATISM

Columbus, Ohio, May 20, 1903.

Six years ago I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism. I was laid up in bed for six months, and the doctors I had did me no good. They changed medicines every week and nothing they prescribed seemed to help me. Finally I began the use of S. S. S. My knee and elbow joints were swollen terribly, and at one time my joints were so swollen and painful that I could not close them when opened. I was so bad that I could not move knee or foot. I was getting discouraged, you may be sure, when I began S. S. S., but as I saw it was helping me I continued it, and to-day I am a sound well man and have never had a return of the disease. S. S. S. purified my blood and cured me of this severe case of Rheumatism after everything else had failed. I have recommended it to others with good results. R. H. CHAPMAN.

GRAND FORKS VICTORIOUS

Red Lake Falls High Goes Down to Defeat for First Time This Season.

In what proved to be the best game of foot ball ever seen on the local grounds the boys from Grand Forks high school truimphed over our home team by the score of 12 to 0. It was a case of a light speedy team with but little expreience being pitted against a team weighing at least ten pounds per man more and having the benefit of many games and the experience of the training of the North Dakota University, so that it is small wonder that the visitors won. The only surprise is that the score was so small and the way the local boys would hold their heavy opponents on their lines plunges. An additional source of wonder was the way in which the home team succeeded in running the Grand Forks' end for [illegible] gains.

Grand Forks first score came after eleven minntes of play in the first half and was due wholly to the line bucks of Roddy and Duggan, the former playing at left tackle and the latter at full back. McGraw kicked goal and the scoring was over for this half. Once the local boys worked the ball down to within fifteen yards of their opponents goal but were there held on downs. After the touchdown made by the Forks in the first half the balance of the half found the ball in the Forks' territory and try as they might the heavy men from Dakota were able to make little headway towards Red Lake's goal.

Grand Forks scored again in the second half on some fierce line bucking by Capt. Duggan. This score should have been prevented and would have been but for the mistake of the home boys in failing to punt on the third down with two yards to gain and tne ball within fifteen yards of their own goal line. Capt. Marshall has a good strong right leg and whenever he assayed to punt the result was that he was good for a gain of forty yards, so that a punt at this particular place would have unquestionably placed the ball so far down the field that the line plunges of the visitors would have been stopped before a touchdown could have resulted.

For the visitors the work of Duggan, Roddy and McGraw stands out so strong as to be worthy of notice. Roddy at tackle was a tower of strength on both offensive and defensive work. He is large and powerful for a high school player and has considerable experience to aid him. But for his work the home team would have had little difficulty in winning. Duggan as we have already stated was used repeatedly for line bucks which usually netted good gains, but at the end of the game he was so exhausted that it was impossible for him even to respond. This showed the character of the defensive work of the home team and speaks volumes for its effectiveness. McGraw was usually good for gains when given the ball and is responsible for many yards of the necessary distance required for the two touchdowns of the visitors.

For the home team it should be said that every man played a star game, and also that there was some star team work showing the effect of the coaching the local boys have received. Of the line men the work of Toupin at guard is entitled to the most praise. He continually broke through the Forks's line thus spoiling their plays and upon three different times secured the ball on fumbles. His work is certainly the best seen here this year. Zaiser at center crowded Toupin for first honors in the line and was ever in the play. Several times he broke through his opponent and managed to down the quarter back before he could get the ball to the runner. Zaiser has outplayed every man he has come across this season and that certainly should be honor enough for any one.

Of the balance of the line men but little needs to be said except that they did all that was required of them. Johnson at end played the game of his life and his tackling was easily the best ever seen on the home grounds. Walter is certainly a star when it comes to defensive work and the gains that have been made around his end have been few and far between. Garceau at the other end while not the equal to Johnson on defensive work did very well, and in carrying the ball was able to make several good gains.

The backfield consisting of Capt. Marshall, Blake, Connaty and Healy again covered themselves with glory. They were unable to gain except on end runs but were able to keep their opponents in fear all of the time less one of them get away for a touchdown. Blake on defence was a wonder. It was his first real hard game, the same can be said of the balance of the team, and it took him a little time to find out what was necessary. And then all hopes of gaining around his side of the line was given up. The stocky little back would dash through the line time after time and down the big men of the Forks's team for losses.

It was a hard game to lose but one in which the home team tho defeated covered themselves with glory. And as Referee Chatfield of Grand Forks stated, that taking into consideration the difference in weights of the team there could be no question but that Red Lake Falls played the better game. The Grand Forks boys are fine fellows and we hope to see them come again when we will try and send them home defeated.

The local boys tried hard to get a game with the Crookston high school team but so far it has been impossible. It certainly has not been because the home team has not been willing.

Good Yeast

To make good bread, you must have good yeast. It's the first requisite. You never saw a sweet, well-raised loaf without it. Every loaf made with Yeast Foam is sweet and well-raised, good to look at and better to taste.

Haislet, Hunt, Lee Healy and McIntyre were present. The boys were given a most elaborate dinner after which Prof. Chamberlain, Coach Wyer and Capt. Marshall entertained the company with a few remarks. It marked the close of a very successful season and proved to be a most enjoyable event to all present.

OLDEST CHURCH IN LONDON

St. Bartholomew, a Venerable Edifice, Fallen Into Decay, Is Now Used as Horse Stable.

Horses are stabled in London's oldest church, such is the unfashionable state into which this holy edifice has fallen. Most London visitiors know Smithfield and the venerable Church of St. Bartholomew. This ancient pile once included a great priory and a hospital—built nearly 800 years ago. Its founder was Rahere, a witty courtier of Henry I., who, in his advancing years, became a pious canon of St. Paul's. Rahere raised money for his church by telling the story that St. Bartholomew appeared to him in a vision in Rome and bade him raise the church, and pointed to the spot cn the marsh at Smithfield.

At the dissolution of the monasteries by Henry VIII. the priory and the cloister were abandoned. The citizens preserved the hospital, which is flourishing in these days. But of Rahere's old church only the choir and the cloisters remain. All that is left has, thanks to the present rector, been restored excepting the west Cloisters. Some £30,000 has been spent on the pious work, but another £1,500 is needed before the west cloisters, now used as a stable, can be restored.

The old Norman arches are now bricked up, but when the restoration work is done, as it doubtless will be, London will have one of the most interesting groups of ruins in England. The old church where Sunday service is yet held has seen the martyrdom of Smithfield, the death of Wat Tyler and the execution of the great Sir William Wallace, and in earlier centuries the tournaments of Edward III. and of Richard II.

SHORTAGE IN FROG SUPPLY.

Severe Winter Was Unfavorable for the Croakers—Where the Output Usually Appears.

Owing to the severe winter the outlook for frogs this summer in New York is not very bright, as farmers report that many of them succumbed. The early shipments of frogs' legs have already made their appearance on the market, and are selling at 60 cents a pound. Later on, when the supply will come from the Virginia marshes and Lake Athabasca, the prices will be considerably lower.

In order to meet the increased demand for frogs' legs farmers throughout Long Island, New Jersey and Connecticut are beginning to give their attention to frog culture, and every stream and brook is being used for the purpose. Frog culture does not require the time and attention necessary for the raising of poultry, ducks and geese, which has heretofore been a lucrative occupation, and the prices received for the frogs make it worth the while.

The states supplying the largest quantity of frogs for the market are California, Missouri, New York, Arkansas, Maryland, Ohio, Virginia and Indiana. Frogs are very plentiful in New York, but they bring less than those of the western states because of their small size. Unrestricted hunting of frogs threatened for a time their utter extinction, but now that the farmers are taking up their culture and preservation this danger has been avoided. The annual catch is now in excess of 1,500,000, with a gross value to the hunters of $90,000. The yearly cost of frogs' legs to the consumers is $200,000. One St. Louis concern has contracted for $20,000 worth of frogs' legs, and several interests in the New York market have closed contracts for the season's supply.

JOHNSON ON DRAINAGE.

It has been untruthfully asserted that Hon. John A. Johnson, Democratic candidate for governor, is opposed to state drainage. Here is what Mr. Johnson said on this subject in his speech of acceptance at Minneapolis:

"Swamp land drainage is a business proposition and it admits of no argument. Someone has said that he who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is a benefactor. It is good business policy for the state of Minnesota to convert this class of land into farms for the Minnesota settler.

RED LAKE COUNTY IN THE JOHNSON CAMP

Johnson and Winston Carry the County by Small Pluralities in the Face of a Hard Fight by the Dunn Workers, and the Democratic County Ticket Except Treasurer is Elected---It Was a Glorious Day for the Red Lake County Democracy---John A. Johnson's Election as Governor by 12,000 Conceded.

Johnson's Plurality is 15,000

Special to the Courier.

ST. PAUL, November 10, 5:30 p. m.—John A. Johnson's plurality for governor will be about 15,000. He carries every congressional district except the First and Eighth. Chairman James A. Martin, of the Republican state central committee, concedes Johnson's election. AM. PRESS.

Red Lake county falls in line with the other counties of the Ninth congressional district and rolls up pluralities for Johnson and Winston. In neither case is the lead a large one, but it is a remarkable victory in the face of tremendous odds for the Johnson supporters. Johnson's plurality is 12, and Winston, with one precinct missing, has 24.

Peter E. Hansen for secretary of state carries the county by 20, notwithstanding the fact that the Democratic nominee is a resident of the county. In the southern part of the county, with the exception of Lambert and Emardville, King received more than half of the Republican votes, but in the northern townships there was little deviation from the straight ticket. On the balance of the state ticket the Republican candidates received majorities averaging about 500.

Roosevelt carries the county by 903, showing that 450 Republicans voted for Johnson and Winston.

The result is most satisfactory to the Johnson supporters, and shows as large a percentage of gain for Johnson as any county in the state. Perhaps in no county was a harder fight put up for Dunn.

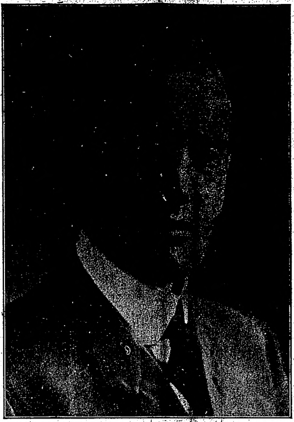
According to the latest advices received from St. Paul this afternoon John A. Johnson is elected governor by from 12,000 to 15,000. Winston run well, but is defeated by about 25,000. The balance of the state ticket goes down in the avalanche of Republican votes by at least 40,000—probably more. There are few returns at hand as yet to form an estimate on any of the offices except governor.

It is glory enough to elect John A. Johnson in a state rolling up a majority of 120,000 for Roosevelt.

Johnson carries his home county of Nicollet by 1300.

Johnson's plurality in the Ninth district will be nearly 3,000.

Hennepin county's plurality for Johnson will be 5,500; Ramsey's 1,500.



JOHN A. JOHNSON.

Governor Johnson Grateful.

ST. PAUL, November 10—John E. King, Red Lake Falls, Minn.—Dear John: Governor-elect Johnson desires me to convey his personal thanks to you and his other good friends for the handsome showing in Red Lake. He was especially gratified to learn of the splendid plurality given him by the city of Red Lake Falls.

—Frank A. Day.

WINNERS IN RED LAKE COUNTY.

Auditor, JAMES E. FORD, Democrat.
Treasurer, OVIDE MOREAU, Republican.
Sheriff, DANIEL LINNIHAN, Democrat.
Register of Deeds, FRANK JEFFERS, Democrat.
Judge of Probate, N. W. TARRANT, Democrat.
County Attorney, THOMAS GERMO, Republican, (no Democratic opposition.)
Superintendent, H. T. McANULTY, Independent.
Coroner, JOSEPH BELAIR, Republican, no opposition.
Surveyor, J. K. WOOD, Republican, no opposition.

The entire Democratic county ticket, with the exception of county treasurer is elected, and some of the majorities are phenomenal, Sheriff Linnihun heading the list with 1039 votes to spare. The vote on register of deeds, county treasurer and superintendent of schools was very close. Ford and Tarrant, like Linnihan, had easy sailing, while Jeffers comes under the wire by 23.

James E. Ford, for auditor has a majority of 801 over Paul I. D. Ostby.

Ovide Moreau is elected county treasurer over K. M. Hansen by the slender plurality of seven votes. John L. Finke, the independent candidate received 467 votes.

Dan Linnihan seems to have distanced everybody, getting the largest majority of any candidate. He is elected sheriff by 1024 over Ernest Buse.

Frank Jeffers is elected registed of deeds by a majority of 23 over K. J. Weeks. This was probably the warmest fight of all, and Frank again demonstrated his prowess as a vote-getter.

N. W. Tarrant is re-elected judge of probate by a majority of 391 over Nels K. Anderson.

Thomas Germo is elected county attorney over Frank A, Grady, and H. T. McAnulty has a majority of 43 over Mrs. J. J. Doe for superintendent of schools.

Joseph Belair for coroner, and J. K. Wood for surveyor had no opposition.

Election returns were received at the opera house Tuesday night, but the election of Roosevelt was an absolute certainty before 9 o'clock and this took much of the excitement out of the occasion for Republican and Democrats alike. By midnight it was apparent that Johnson was elected governor, and the crowd of anxious watchers dispersed early. It must be confessed that the Democrats were the enthusiastic, since that had little hope for Parker, and the news of Johnson's victory was the first consolation they had had since John Lind's memorable victory in 1898.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The sentiment which swept the Republican candidates into office will be reflected in the next house of representatives. From figures obtained by the Associated Press the Republicans have elected 233 representatives and the Democrats 141, the twelve remaining districts yet to be heard from being now equally divided between the two parties.

The Republican majority in the next house will, therefore, be at least 92. Returns received by the Associated Press from the congressional districts show that congressmen have been elected in different states as follows:

GAIN IN THE SENATE.

Republicans Count an Increase of Two Seats.

Washington, Nov. 10.—While Washington manifests no surprise over the result of the election there were very few even of the most sanguine Republicans who were prepared for its overwhelming character. This is especially true of the two houses of congress. Knowing President Roosevelt as few other communities in the country know him many here were prepared for the most decided endorsement of his administration. They did not as a rule, however, consider it possible that the Republicans could make gains in the house of representatives, much less hold their own in the senate, where the preponderance of retiring Republicans was great. Both these results seem to have been accomplished.

If the Republicans have carried the Montana legislature, as they seem without question to have done, they will elect a Republican to succeed Senator Gibson and thus cancel the election of Rayner, a Democrat, to succeed McComas, Republican, from Maryland. The returns also indicate the election of Republican legislatures in the states of Nebraska, Washington, Connecicut, Delaware, Utah, Wisconsin, West Virginia and Nevada, with the possible addition of Missouri. If the complete figures should support these conclusions the present majority of 24 in the senate will be increased to 26.

MICHIGAN REPUBLICAN.

Gives Roosevelt a Plrality of More Than 150,000.

Detroit, Nov. 10.—With ten small counties still to be heard from that are considered certain to give Roosevelt and Fairbanks about 5,000 or more plurality the News estimates the plurality of the national Republican ticket at 189,197. The Journal, Republican, however, does not place the figure so high, estimating about 150,000.

BY BIG PLURALITIES.

Republicans Carry West Virginia for All Tickets.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 10.—Roosevelt's majority in the state is estimated at 30,000 and Dawson's, Republican candidate for governor, 15,000. All five congressmen are Republican.

Utah Strongly Republican.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 10.—Roosevelt has carried Utah by 10,000 and the Republican state ticket is elected by a much smaller figure. The legislature will be heavily Republican.

THOUSANDS OF MESSAGES.

President Roosevelt Is Overwhelmed With Congratulations.

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Roosevelt was overwhelmed with congratulations during the day. They were presented by many people in person and were received by mail and by telegraph from every state and from almost every city in the country. Thousands of telegrams already have been received and they are coming yet in an undiminished flood. Four operators were kept busy all day receiving the messages over the wires at the White House telegraph bureau. Before noon one operator alone had taken more than 300 telegrams. The others were equally busy. It will be physically impossible for the president and Secretary Loeb to acknowledge each message received in accordance with usual custom at the White House, but President Roosevelt desires it to be understood that he appreciates to the fullest extent the expressions of his friends and would be glad if it were possible for him personally to greet and thank every one of them.

The president was in exuberant spirits. Although he did not retire until a late hour the previous night he reached the executive offices early and not till then did he read the morning papers. After glancing over them he read a few of the thousands of telegrams of congratulation which had been received and examined bulletins of the latest returns from the election. He was advised that the Republicans had carried Maryland, a message from Senator McComas announcing that the result was beyond question.

Official business was nearly impossible of transaction. Scores of people called on him to extend their felicitations upon the result of the election. While he radiated good feeling President Roosevelt was perfectly calm and undemonstrative.

STATEMENT BY ROOSEVELT.

President Deeply Sensible of the Honor Done Him.

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Roosevelt, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statement:

"I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the fourth of March next I shall have served three and one-half years and this three and one-half years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form. Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for another nomination."

MAKE GAINS IN MAINE.

Republicans Carry the State by Over 34,000 Plurality.

Portland, Me., Nov. 10.—The six Maine electors will cast their votes for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. Returns received from all but 134 of the 519 cities, towns and plantations gave Roosevelt a plurality of 34,785. This is a Republican gain of 8,348 over four years ago.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP STATE.

Roosevelt Secures 60,000 Plurality in New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 10.—Roosevelt's plurality in this state will reach 60,000 and Stokes, the Republican candidate for governor, has defeated Black, Dem., by at least 40,000. The representation in congress from this state will be nine Republicans and one Democrat.

Big Plurality in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 9.—Roosevelt's plurality in Oregon will probably exceed 40,000, twice the majority given any presidential candidate in the state in any election held in the past. The returns indicate that the question of prohibition, which was submitted to the voters of twenty-three counties, has been overwhelmingly defeated.

Light Vote in Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 10.—The vote in Virginia was light, probably not exceeding, 60 per cent of that cast in 1900. The Democratic majority on the presidential ticket is estimated at between 20,000 and 25,000. Nine of the ten Democratic nominees for congress were elected.

Democratic Majority in Georgia.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 10.—Returns from the remote counties of Georgia are coming in slowly, but there seems no reason so far to change the result announced before of a total vote of about 90,000, with a Democratic majority for the presidential ticket of 40,000.

Ran Ahead of McKinley's Vote.

White River Junction, Vt., Nov. 10.—Roosevelt carried this state by about 31,000. Roosevelt ran ahead of McKinley's vote in 1900, while Parker ran behind that of Bryan. The only question at issue was the choice of presidential electors.

Parker Carries Louisiana.

New Orleans, Nov. 10.—The Democrats have carried Louisiana for Parker and Davis by a majority of probably 35,000. Seven Democratic congressmen have been elected.

Democratic Plurality in Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 10.—Indications are that the Democratic plurality will be about 20,000.

Texas Votes for Parker.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 10.—Texas gave Parker a majority of 190,000.

JAPS MAKE ADVANCES.

Completely Silence Several Forts at Port Arthur.

Tokio, Nov. 10.—It is reported that the Japanese have completely silenced the forts on Rihlung and Susung mountains and that their main strength is now attacking Etse mountain.

Lost Election Bet and Suicides.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—A special to the Post Dispatch from Sterling, Ill., says: William Mayer of Mount Carroll lost his home by betting on Parker and committed suicide by hanging.

Choosing a Breed.

Every farmer should make it a point to choose some breed of cattle for his business and stick to it. It is not necessary that a man who raises beef should be called a crank or that a man who is a dairyman should be called a crank. Because a man deals exclusively in shoes is usually because he takes to that line of business, and it is not necessary for him to add groceries and everything else to make a success of his shoe business. It is just so with stock raising. If a man likes the raising of beef he would be very foolish to try to conduct a successful dairy. Likewise if a man is adapted to dairying and would like to follow that exclusively he is a very foolish man to attempt to raise beef. It is merely a matter of liking. The News feels that a man can be just as successful at raising beef as he can in dairying if he will but stick to it. But this he must do; he must study the wants of his cattle. He must study the conformation of both the sire and the dam and he must follow up this same line year after year and not change just because the price of dairy products is a little higher on the market than beef, or vice versa, to switch around just because the price of beef is temporarily higher than dairy products. The changing of a herd necessitates a great deal of time. This is an age of specialists and the man who sticks to one breed through thick and thin will be the winner every time.

Where Politics Is Strenuous.

Minneapolis Journal: The race which John A. Johnson is leading R. C. Dunn today over the prairies and thru the woods and down in the mines of Minnesota has so absorbed local attention that we are missing some of the most interesting features of this campaign.

But out in Montana there is excitement of another sort'

State Senator F. W. Meyers met a pretty girl on the street in Butte the other day, and, overcome by her beauty and winsomeness, stole a kiss. As a result Montana, which had come to be regarded as pretty safely Republican, is in danger of going Democratic. The young lady seems to have taken serious exception to the compliment paid to her good looks, but instead of quietly demanding the return of the stolen property, as she mtght hsve done, she allowed the thief to make off with it and has contented herself with entering a complaint for larceny. Her friends have taken her view of the matter and there has been the funniest political row on that ever happened. Meyers is a Republican and a candidate for election on the Republican ticket. The young lady's friends demand that he be put off the ticket. He refuses to retire, and Lee Mantle, state chairman, can,t get him off. The Republican newspapers, seeing defeat ahead on his account, have demanded his withdrawel, but without success. In the meantime the politics of the state have divided along new lines.

The popularity of Roosevelt and loyalty to democracy, hopes of Tom Carter and the schemes of Senator Clark, have cut no ice at all, and nobody has been thinking of anything but the proposition raised by Senator Meyers—should the appropriation of a kiss, which the purloiner stands ready to put back when where he got it, be sufficient reason for disqualifying a man from holding office in the state of Montana, or should it not. It will be settled today. Watch for the answer.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill. 25c, at all druggists.

Avoid the Cheap and "Big Can" Baking Powders.

The cheap baking powders have but one recommendation: they certainly give the purchaser plenty of powder for his money. These powders are so carelessly mads from inferior materials that they will not make light, wholesome food. Further, these cheap baking powders have a very small percentage of leavening gas; therefore it takes from two to three time as much of such powder to raise the cake or biscuit as it does of Calumet Baking Powder. Therefore, in the long run, the actual cost to the consumer of such powders is more than Calumet would be. Cheap baking powders leaves the bread sometimes bleached and acid, sometimes yellow and alkaline, and always unpalatable. They are never of uniform strength and quality.

Why not buy a perfectly wholesome baking powder like Calumet, that is at the same time moderate in price and one which can be relied upon? Calumet is always the same, keeps indefinitely and gives the cook the least trouble.

LITTLE CHIEF LAUGH-A-HEAP.

Behind the chair there lurks a brave—
But that is not a chair;
It is the entrance to a cave,
And he is watching there.
He waits, the cunning, wily foe,
And sings a war song deep
While craftily he crouches low—
Bold little Laugh-a-Heap.

A feather duster on his head—
Hist! Would you meet your doom?
The feathers bound with strands of red
Are Laugh-a-Heap's war plume.
The wooden dagger in his hand—
Ah, no. A gleaming knife
With which he means to make his stand
And leap into the strife.

And yonder is a hobby horse—
A hobby horse, indeed!
You should be burdened with remorse
Not to have known that steed.
It is the faithful thoroughbred
On which our chieftain rides.
Observe the proudness of its head
And note its well-groomed sides.

Why, here's a boy upon the floor—
Hush! Wearied with the fight
The warrior could strive no more
And so rests for the night.
The smiles still linger round his eyes
And laugh dreams fill his sleep;
War weary, battle worn, he lies,
Brave little Laugh-a-Heap.

A SCHEME THAT FAILED

By
HATTIE PRESTON RIDER

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

"YOU wish a loan of $5,000, then? What security can you give?" The pale eyes of the visitor shifted uneasily.

"A mortgage on a farm in Kent county; as fine a quarter section as ever lay out doors."

Burdick looked him over keenly.

"A first mortgage, of course. I know Kent county. What is your name?"

"Emmett Warren." The visitor pronounced the words almost brazenly, it seemed to Burdick. He started slightly, flushing under his clear brown skin.

"Not the Warrens of Orton township? You are not—John Warren's son?"

"His only child," the young man nodded eager affirmation. "My father died four years ago. The farm was willed to me."

Burdick's pen clattered to the floor. He stooped to recover it. When he straightened up there was a queer, drawn look on his face.

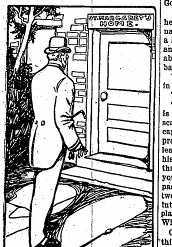
"Your mother—" he paused.

Young Warren set the tips of his slim, unfarmerly fingers together.

"Mother has—ahem—no control of the property," he said, smoothly. "I attend to everything. The farm is in my name."

Burdick's face cleared. Then he frowned.

"Do you mean that your father left his wife dependent?" he asked, sternly. The confirmed bachelor had ideas of his own concerning such matters. "Are you married?" He looked his client over with cold, critical dislike. The latter flinched under the disconcerting gaze. He had sought the money-lender as an absolute stranger; yet the man evidently knew his people—more than that, was catechizing him like a Sunday school teacher.



ST. MARGARET'S HOME.

"HE WENT UP THE FLAGGED WALK, LOOKING KEENLY AROUND HIM."

"I have a wife and two children," he answered, with smooth irony. "I am of legal age, and, I believe, of a sound mind; therefore qualified to transact business. However, if you decide to loan me the money, I can probably get my mother's signature to whatever is necessary."

"The place is good for it," said Willard Burdick, passing his visitor's rudeness unheedingly. "I must see the title, though, and an abstract, if you have it, also the original of your father's will. Your mother lives with you, I suppose?"

A dull flush stained young Warren's face.

"She is in Ridgetown, just at present," he evaded, stiffly.

The lawyer raised his brows; but he only asked:

"Her address, please?"

Emmett Warren turned a dozen colors, cursing vigorously under his breath, as his questioner wrote down from his dictation: "No. 156 Collins street," and folded the paper inside a corpulent pocket book. Gad! What danger was this he had run his head into so neatly? Burdick was leaving him not a loophole of retreat. The fiends take Homes, that he should have dropped off just at this juncture!

Well! At least the dead claim no share in any spoils! Luck had stood by him so far. There was a chance he might still bluff his game through. The money once safe in his hands—yes, there were better places of residence, even, than Kent county.

"Bring the papers to-morrow, at this hour, if it suits you," he heard Burdick saying. Then he got up, and almost without a word took his departure.

Under the long line of maples in front of 156 Collins street, two days later, Burdick hitched his span of bays. Emmett Warren had come and gone, but the interview had not progressed exactly as the young worthy hoped. Burdick smiled grimly as he thought of it, and then frowned with pain. It was Marcia's son; and his own task to tell her the story.

He went up the flagged walk, looking keenly about him. Over the door of the plain brick building was cut the legend:

ST. MARGARET'S HOME.

The rich money lender drew down the corners of his mouth. A retreat for old ladies! On a poplar tree in his father's pasture his own name and Marcia Barber's were cut, and their birth dates. She was his junior by three years; and he was 54.

A faded little woman showed him to the neat reception room. Yes, Mrs. Warren was in. He walked back and forth restlessly, while the gentle waitress took his message. A few moments later, when the door opened softly, his heart beats were so thick he could not have spoken to save his life. Thin and worn, with frost touches on her brown hair, she stood there; but it was his lost sweetheart of 30 years ago that looked at him out of her hazel eyes. As she paused an instant in puzzled unrecognition, Burdick took long strides toward her.

"Marcia!" he cried, holding out both hands. "Great Heavens! If I had imagined—why on earth didn't you come to see me?"

She stepped back with a surprised exclamation; then a girlish color suffused her face. She put out her hands impulsively, instantly withdrawing them again. But it was too late. Burdick had them both securely in his. He led her to the sofa, and sat down beside her.

"Do you mean to tell me you live here?" he asked, sternly.

Sensitive tears sprang to her eyes.

"Yes, Willard. It seemed—better." she faltered. "Everything went to Emmett; and I could not be a burden."

He restrained some forceful words.

"Your son came to me two days ago, to obtain a loan of $5,000 on the farm. He is very unlike you, Marcia. Do you mean to tell me that your husband left him absolutely everything?" He was watching her narrowly, for a clew to put his news with gentleness.

"Everything," she answered, quietly. "Emmett is not my child, though, Willard; he is a relative of John's first wife. He was not even adopted; but he lived with us, and uses our name. I never knew of the will, till Emmett's lawyer brought it. I signed the papers because they insisted upon it. I did not know. I never had any head for business," smiling tremulously. "I supposed there was at least a living for me. But Emmett and his wife understood differently. So I took the two hundred I had in the bank, and came here."

Burdick leaned back, almost giddy with relief. No son of hers! Thank God!

"What if I were to tell you, Marcia," he said, at last, slowly, "that your signatures under compulsion are not worth a straw, that the will itself was forged, and that I have Emmett Warren's sworn abdication of every claim on your husband's property, while you live?"

White as a ghost, she stared at him in dumb unbelief.

"It is not true, Willard?"

"It is true," he answered. "Your home is your own again. There will be no scandal; the rascal was glad enough to capitulate, when he was faced with proofs—and I had them. But—" he leaned over, a great light leaping into his eyes—"that was not the real business that brought me to see you, Marcia. Do you remember the old poplar down in the pasture? I saw it last summer. The two names I cut in the bark have grown into one. Was it an omen? Dear, the place you left vacant waits for you still. Will you take it again?"

Once more the soft color flooded her thin cheek. "Oh, Willard!" she began; but Burdick's big arm was around her, and he had drawn her close to his shoulder.

"We must never quarrel again, sweetheart. Great Heavens! Was it all a wretched dream, I wonder! It's never 30 years since I held you—and kissed you —this way!"

NEW SPLINT IN SURGERY.

Invention Enables Person with Broken Leg to Go About Business a Few Days After Accident.

A series of interesting experiments have recently been made at the London hospital with new splints which enable a person with a broken leg or thigh to go about his business within a few days of his accident. The invention hails from the continent, where it has been in use for some years. The principle of the splint is that round the seat of the fracture is fastened a hardened leather case, which fits the leg closely everywhere and prevents any movement of the fractured bone. The weight of the body is then carried by jointed steel rods attached to another case fastened above or below the knee, according to the place of the fracture. With this appliance the patient is enabled to walk before the broken bone is joined, and there is none of that after trouble with stiff joints which comes when a limb has been held rigidly for weeks.

Incorporated Aug. 13, 1904. Under the Laws of Minnesota.

THIS new corporation is a re-incorporation of The Agriculturist Company, and its assets include The Northwestern Agriculturist, together with hitherto personal enterprises of P. V. COLLINS, consisting of The Home Magazine and real estate viz., the office and press buildings located on the corner of Seventh street and sixth avenue south, Minneapolis. The real estate alone is worth $30.000.

The value of the assets exceeds $100,000 on a very conservative basis, and the capital stock of the P. V. COLLINS PUBLISHING COMPANY is $100,000 including $30,000 perferred stock and $70,000 common stock.

The preferred stock bears a Guarantee of Seven Per Cent dividend, payable semi-annually, and when redeemed, we agree to pay $102.00 a share for it. The common stock is not for sale, but is all held by P. V. COLLINS, who will continue as manager of the business, as he has since 1893. No dividends can be paid on the common stock until the guaranteed dividends in full on the preferred are paid.

We have sold much of the above preferred stock to bankers, commercial men, farmers and professional people, in sums ranging from $100 to $5,000. It is the best investment on the market and they know it. It is not often that an apportunity comes to invest money on ample security at

WILD GEESE IN COUNCIL.

Something Very Like Conventions Take Place During the Long Flight Southward.

A farmer in Clarendon county who went to a wheat stubble field at nightfall to watch for bears was surprised the other day to find a large flock of wild geese feeding there. One bird was actually pecking away at an ear of corn upon the farmer's shelter, not a foot away from his hand, says a Lachine (Canada) report to the New York Sun.

Carefully thrusting his arm between the coarse stalks, he contrived to grasp the goose by the head and wring its neck before it had time to do more than set up a smothered squawking and flop its wings. He expected that its companions would have been frightened away, but when he crept out of his hiding place he saw a line of geese standing with outstretched necks, as though inquiring what was the cause of the commotion.

Carefully aiming at the bird nearest to him, he fired, and had the satisfaction of seeing it fall over with fluttering wings. A great crowd of geese immediately took wing, and with wonderful rapidity made off safely, though in a most disorderly manner. There were scores of the big birds in the field, and probably two or three flocks were holding a rendezvous there.

A similar circumstance was once noticed in Cawood township, further to the north, in the same county. In that instance four flocks convened amid the sheaves in a field of late wheat, and apparently spent the whole night in consultation.

In the partial moonlight which prevailed 80 geese were actualy counted in a long single file, feeding in the stubble upon fallen ears of grain, and at times clustering together as though deliberating upon some important question. The gunners who saw this sight were able to kill only one of the birds.

As a rule, it is exceedingly uncommon to find these most wary of game birds on the land at all in these latitudes. The broods which have been growing all summer since their hatching, in shallow lakes or inaccessible swamps in the far north, gather together in flocks of 30 or 40 on some of the larger lakes at this time of the year, in preparation for their annual flight to the south.

There plans are made, and after a day or two spent in making short journeys to get into proper formation, the long journey begins, which, with only an occasional stop in some lake well stocked with food, lasts until the broad fields and bayous of the land of perpetual summer are reached.

Make Pets of Mice.

The latest craze among the fashionable women in London is the adoption of mice as pets. Following the exhibition of the National Mouse club, the wives of wealthy lawyers, doctors and authors began to purchase rare specimens of the little creatures and bring them into their homes. Black and tan and silver and gold fawn are mostly favored, and as high as $50 has been paid for one specimen.

A PIONEER TEACHER.

INDIANA MAN WHO TAUGHT SCHOOL 62 YEARS AGO.

Ephraim Hodges Still Lives Near Old Log House Where He First Imparted Wisdom to the Youthful Hoosiers.

A school teacher 62 years ago. That is the record of Ephraim Hodges, who has the distinction of being the first white child born in Wayne township, Owen county, Ind. He is the oldest living school teacher of Morgan county. He began teaching a district school 62 years ago in a log schoolhouse with puncheon floor and long, hewn seats, without desks, standing near where he now lives.

It was before the free school system was established and each scholar paid a small fee for instruction. Many of his pupils paid their tuition by working for him on his farm. The classification and graduation system at this early date was unknown in the rural districts. Each pupil was in a class by himself and was permitted to advance as rapidly as possible. The curriculum included spelling, writing, reading and counting, and the higher branches—of the near by bushes —were often used. Mr. Hodges, like all the teachers of his day, believed in the proverb, "Spare the rod and spoil the child." He takes great delight in telling many anecdotes of the decade he spent as a pioneer Hoosier pedagogue.

From early youth he had a craving for knowledge, and he has devoted his spare hours to its accomplishment. The line of study he has taken most pleasure in and pursued most assiduously is the Bible, and his knowledge of it is so perfect that he can explain every difficult passage of scripture. He is one of the organizers of the Christian church at Paragon, Ind., of which he is the oldest living member. He has always been liberal with his means in the support of the church. He never believed in any form of speculation. He has added to his possessions till he now owns nearly 700 acres of land, which he himself superintends.

At the age of 25—in 1845—he was married to Ann Smith. They live alone a half mile west of town, on the farm which he coveted when a boy and expressed a desire to own. By industry and economy he was enabled to purchase it while yet in his 20s.

Bermuda Bananas.

The dwarf banana of Bermuda first came from the Canaries. The fruit is little larger than a man's finger, and is compact in texture and rich in flavor. The fruit grown in summer is of higher quality than that grown in winter—if the word winter can be applied to a land in which the mercury rarely registers as low as 50 degrees and in which frost is unknown. The single bunch that the tree bears should weigh, of this dwarf sort, from 25 to 60 or even 70 pounds. There is almost no expense required in maintaining the plantation after it is once established, and the gross annual income should be from $400 to $500 per acre. The little bananas are consumed entirely by the local markets, for Bermuda is visited by tourists, it has a large garrison, and the resident people—some over 17,000 all told—are fond of the fruit. —Country Life in America.

I have tried once or twice to get myself back on a footing as man of the family, but every time that dreadful laugh drives me into complete subordination.

"It never pays to rustle much," said lazy Ezra Fox, a-sittin' round the corner on an empty cracker box. "I don't believe in stirrin' up a lot o' noise at all, fer often too much energy'll bring about a fall. Now, there's the flea; his energy just gits him scratched to death. The hen thet works too hard for worms is first to lose her breath. The pig thet fights the hardest fer the corn throwed in the sty is first to fatten, first to sell an' first of all to die. The horse thet tries to do it all soon works hisself to bones. The dog thet does the barkin' is the one thet gits the stones. No, sir, this workin' hard ain't right. I don't keer what they say. Calumet Baking Powder

A wonderful powder of rare merit and unrivaled strength.

Red Lake Courier.

Printed Every Thursday Evening at Red Lake Falls, Minnesota.

By JOHN E. KING.

$1.00 Per Year, in Advance.

John A. Johnson is something of a sprinter himself.

The Thief River Review's poet may have been accountable for the landslide.

The average Red Lake county Democrat can afford to smile, thank you!

The Republicans elected the coroner, anyway, and they can hold their own postmortem.

It seems that most of the Johnsons voted for their talented St. Peter namesake.

John Lind and John Johnson are a good pair of Minnesota Democrats to draw to.

It seems to be true that the large cities were for Johnson. So were the country districts.

The Republican managers probably still imagine that it was a case of "too much Johnson."

Lost—a Red Lake county Republican organization. Supposed to have strayed away last Tuesday.

William Henry Eustis is not quite so lonesome. He is not the only gubernatorial sacrifice.

It is not a small compliment that a Democrat should be chosen to dedicate Minnesota's magnificent new capitol.

The Democratic national ticket may have been "safe and sane," but it failed to arouse enthusiasm or get votes.

God reigns, and though we havn't heard this morning, it can be taken for granted that the government at Washington still lives.

We hope Jim Martin will get that collectorship, anyway. His disinterested and effective political services deserves reward.

Just now almost anyone can explain how it all happened. These hindsight politicians are a charmingly persistent lot even though intolerable bores.

The Crookston Times has lied about John A. Johnson ever since that gentleman was named for governor, but it got an answer from Polk county last Tuesday.

It is interesting to note that John A. Johnson carried Red Lake Falls city and all the neighboring townships by as large pluralities as were given to John Lind four years ago.

Please don't shower your praises on the Red Lake county Democratic campaign committee. The bird of victory was so tame that the managers did not even need to put salt on its tail.

And, by the way, let's give Frank Day, chairman of the Democratic state committee, a share of the glory for the magnificent victory. As a political manager Frank doesn't need to take a back seat.

The people of Red Lake county evidently are not worried over the fact—which isn't a fact—that governor Johnson is opposed to state drainage. The misrepresentations of the "uxtra" roorback proved a decided boomerang.

Governor Van Sant, after an extended visit with friends and relatives in Wisconsin, Indiana and other doubtful states, returned to his home in St. Paul Wednesday morning. We are glad to have the genial governor in our midst again.

Frank Jeffers come down the home stretch several necks ahead. He not only defeated a strong opponent—and a most estimable gentleman, but he overcome opposition ever arrayed against a candidate in the history of Red Lake county.

It looks as though Ray W. Jones had slipped in by virtue of Roosevelt's majority of 110,000, but his plurality is so small that the Republican party can never again foist upon the people of the state a candidates with such a reprehensible reputation. The state has passed the era of Jonesism.

Last summer, when John A. Johnson was engaged to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Red Lake Falls somebody inquired "who'n L—l is Johnson?" Well you know now. A man who can knock over a Republican majority of 110.000 in rock-ribbed Minnesota and have a nice bunch of votes left is worthy consideration. Eh?

GOVERNOR JOHNSON.

John A. Johnson appears to have been chosen chief executive of the commonwealth of Minnesota by a plurality of 20,000. This is one of the most remarkable political victories in the history of the country, and is a magnificent tribute to the St. Peter editor.

Minnesota gives Roosevelt 110,000 plurality, and as about 66,000 Roosevelt voters cast a ballot for Johnson, it cannot be claimed as a Democratic victory. It was rather a rebuke to bossism and machine politics. accomplished without reference to political lines. Twenty-five per cent of the Republicans of the state voted for Johnson. It was a political revolution, unequalled even in the great Lind-Eustis campaign of 1898.

No voter need be ashamed of casting his ballot for John A. Johnson. He represents the highest type of manhood and citizenship, and will give the state of Minnesota a clean and able administration. As John Lind so aptly stated, "his life is an open book, and every page is an inspiration to duty.

Hail, John! May prosperity attend you and your people.

THE LOCAL VICTORY.

At the time of this writing the election of the entire Democratic county ticket, with the possible exception of county treasurer, is absolutely assured. Auditor Ford, Judge Tarrant and Sheriff Linnihan have majorities running in the neighborhood of the 500 mark, while Frank Jeffers wins the registership by about 25. The race for county treasurer is very close, Ovide Moreau having 39 plurality with Garnes, Norden and Numedal to hear from. It is not improbable that Karl Hansen will overcome this slight lead. This victory is a splendid tribute to the personnel of the Democratic ticket. All of the candidates were recognized as able and competent men, deserving of the preferment they sought.

Of course the outcome is not a Democratic victory. Hundreds of Republicans voted for the Democratic candidates, and at no previous election have the voters of Red Lake county shown greater independence of the party yoke. And this speaks well for the intelligence of the people. In state and nation, as well well in local affairs, the voters this year have given a rebuke to bossism and party dictation that will teach a well-deserved lesson. They have told the party bosses that they cannot ram down their throats an unclean candidate nor play fast and loose with principle. The voter intends that his party shall stand for more than mere office-seeking, and shows by the millions of independent ballots this year that he is no longer afraid of being classed as a "bolter."

Of course The Courier does not wish these remarks to be construed as in any sense reflecting upon the local Republican candidates who went down in the general crash last Tuesday. So far as we know they are all good men, and were unfortunate largely because they were victims of "the system."

The Courier takes this opportunity of congratulating the victorious county candidates, as well as the people of the county. The public weal will be safeguarded and it is not an idle prophecy to venture the assertion that the voters could not have used better judgment.

TO COURIER SUBSCRIBERS.

This is the time of year when the publishers expect subscribers to pay for their paper. Your subscription to The Courier should be paid in advance. Kindly look and see what the date is on the label on your paper and if you are in arrears send in your subscription. The Courier is offering an attractive list of premiums and when you send in your subscription, if it is for a whole year in advance, whatever premium you select will be sent you.

We find by looking over our books that many subscribers are in arears. It is only a little matter to each of of you but in the aggregate it is a very serious matter to the publishers. To publish a paper of the high standard The Courier has always maintained, involves the outlay of a great deal of money. Paper manufacturers do not wait on the printer for the payment of their bills. He must pay them promptly and the publisher must in turn ask his readers to be prompt in the payment of of their subscription. We therefore trust that our subscribers will bear this in mind and remember to send in their subscriptions promptly. In return the publishers will continue to make The Courier the best weekly paper published in this section of the state and endeavor to retain that kindly feeling that the readers of The Courier have always expressed towards this paper.

The Courier also takes this opportunity of thanking its many readers for the good words they have spoken for this paper and for their more material support in the way of the payment of their subscriptions.

SMALLER FARMS.

In conversation with one of the largest farmers in Rice county the other day, we were impressed with the fact that what this country needs now is smaller farms and more intensive cultivation says the Northfield News. Farmers in Holland, Denmark, Switzerland and all of the older countries where land is worth from one hundred to five hundred dollars an acre are making a success with farming from ten to forty acres, the latter named figure being considered a very large farm. In a greater measure will this solve the help problem than any other plan which may suggest itself. A farmer with a farm of the size mentioned can with his own family do all the work the year round, and in the case of rush the owners of two small farms could co-operate and do their harvesting together. One man with ten good cows cared for in some of the older countries, and from twenty to thirty hogs, a good flock of chickens, etc., could make as much by constant application as can the farmer today with 160 acres poorly tilled, and poorly harvested, and who has to rely almost constantly upon hired help. The cutting up of large farms into smaller ones would not only benefit the farmer but would also be a boon to the business interests of all small cities and towns as well. It would more than double for groceries, clothing, etc. In this way the benefits would be mutual. We venture to say that on every farm of 160 acres today there is enough land being poorly tilled or notbeing tilled at all in fence corners, weed patches, quack spots, etc., to make a good living for the owner thereof if it were in a state of high cultivation. It might be well for the farmers of this section to study this matter a little more closely and see if there is not truth enough in it to warrant the cutting up of some of the larger farms and instead of one man farming all of this, he could farm forty acres for himself and rent three smaller farms to good advantage.

SISTERS OF CHARITY

Attending Chapel services.

SISTERS OF CHARITY
All Over United States Use Pe-ru-na for Catarrh.

From a Catholic institution in Ohio comes the following recommend from the Sister Superior:

"Some years ago a friend of our institution recommended to us Dr. Hartman's Peruna as an excellent remedy for the influenza of which we then had several cases which threatened to be of a serious character.

"We began to use it and experienced such wonderful results that since then Peruna has become our favorite medicine for influenza, catarrh, cold, cough and bronchitis."

SISTER SUPERIOR.

Dr. Hartman receives many letters from Catholic Sisters all over the United States. A recommend recently received from a Catholic institution in Detroit, Mich., reads as follows:

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 8, 1901.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Sir---"The young girl who used the Peruna was suffering from laryngitis, and loss of voice. The result of the treatment was most satisfactory. She found great relief, and after further use of the medicine we hope to be able to say she is entirely cured."

This young girl was under the care of the Sisters of charity and used Peruna for catarrh of the throat, with good results as the above letter testifies.

Another recommend from a Catholic institution in one of the Central States written by the Sister Superior reads as follows:

"A number of years ago our attention was called to Dr. Hartman's Peruna, and since then we have used it with wonderful results for grip, coughs, colds and catarrhal diseases of the head and stomach.

"For grip and winter catarrh especially it has been of great service to the inmates of this institution."

SISTER SUPERIOR.

A prominent Mother Superior says:

"I can testify from experience to the efficiency of Peruna as one of the very best medicines, and it gives me pleasure to add my praise to that of thousands who have used it.

"For years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach, all remedies proving valueless for relief. Last spring I went to Colorado hoping to be benefited by a change of climate and while there a friend advised me to try Peruna. After using two bottles I found myself very much improved. The remains of my old disease being now so slight, I consider myself cured, yet for a while I intend to continue the use of Peruna.

"I am now treating another patient with your medicine. She has been sick with malaria and troubled with leucorrhœa. I have no doubt that a cure will be speedily effected."

MOTHER SUPERIOR.

These are samples of letters received by Dr. Hartman from the various orders of Catholic Sisters throughout the United States.

The names and addresses to these letters have been withheld from respect to the Sisters, but will be furnished upon request.

In every country of the civilized world the Sisters of Charity are known. Not only do they minister to the spiritual and intellectual needs of those with whom they come in contact, but they minister to their bodily needs. They are as skilled as trained nurses in their treatment of diseases and are looked upon as messengers of good cheer by countless patient sufferers.

One-half of the diseases which afflict mankind are due to some catarrhal derangement of the mucous membrane lining some organ or passage of the body. A remedy that would act immediately upon the congested mucous membrane, restoring it to its normal state, would consequently cure all these diseases. Catarrh is catarrh wherever located, whether it be in the head, throat, lungs, stomach, kidneys or pelvic organs. A remedy that will cure it in one location will cure it in all locations.

The Sisters Find Pe-ru-na a Never Failing Safeguard.

Peruna is such a remedy. The Sisters of Charity know this. When catarrhal diseases make their appearance they are not disconcerted, but know exactly what remedy to use. These wise and prudent Sisters have found Peruna a never-failing safeguard. They realize that when a disease is of a catarrhal nature, Peruna is the remedy. Dyspepsia and female weakness are considered by many to be entirely different diseases. That dyspepsia is catarrh of the stomach and female weakness is due to catarrh of the pelvic organs the Sisters are fully aware, consequently Peruna is their remedy in both these very common and annoying diseases.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street,
Atlanta, Ga., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

Knox made a very appropriate little speech in expressing the regret attendant upon Mr. Rodgers' departure and presented him a magnificent leather rocker as a token of the love and esteem of his Sunday School boys and girls and his many friends. Mr. Rodgers responded in a very happy speech, which bespoke words of highest praise for the school and his splendid choir of teachers. There were vocal selections and recitations by several members of the school, after which ice-cream and cake were served and the evening closed with many good wishes for Mr. Rodgers and his estimable family.

BY LARGE PLURALITY

ROOSEVELT SECURES 343 ELECTORAL VOTES TO 133 FOR JUDGE PARKER.

REPUBLICANS INVADE SOLID SOUTH

LATEST RETURNS INDICATE MISSOURI HAS ABANDONED THE DEMOCRACY.

DECISIVE PLURALITIES EVERYWHERE

PRESENT CHIEF EXECUTIVE RECEIVES LARGEST POPULAR VOTE ON RECORD.

New York, Nov. 10.—The indications are that President Roosevelt will have 343 electoral votes to 133 for Parker, a plurality of 210.

With every former doubtful state admittedly in the Roosevelt column, with majorities in some states in excess of those given Mr. McKinley four years ago and in some instances even greater than those of 1896, latest returns indicate that the solid South has been broken into by the state of Missouri casting its ballot for a Republican president.

Beginning with the tremendous majority of 400,000 in Pennsylvania the Republican pluralities are decisive in nearly every state carried for their ticket and it seems probable that Roosevelt has received the greatest popular vote ever given a presidential candidate. Returns thus far received indicate that he will receive a popular plurality of slightly over 1,300,000, against 849,790 for McKinley over Bryan.

The following table shows the pluralities in the various states; also the electoral votes of the opposing candidates:

Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

Colorado	10,000	5
California	50,000	10
Connecticut	32,000	7
Delaware	5,000	3
Idaho	25,000	3

OHIO STRONGLY REPUBLICAN.

Roosevelt's Majority Will Reach Two Hundred Thousand.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10.—Revised returns show that while the Republican plurality on the national ticket in Ohio is approximately 200,000 that it is about 30,000 less on the state ticket. While the Republicans still claim all the Ohio congressmen except in the Fourth district the Democrats do not concede the Fifth, Thirteenth and Seventeenth districts.

At noon Senator Dick announced that the Republican committee claimed that the Republicans carried seventy of the eighty-eight counties in Ohio and all of the twenty-one congressional districts, with a plurality for Roosevelt exceeding 200,000.

ROOSEVELT'S BIG VOTE.

Has a Plurality of 168,000 in New York State.

New York, Nov. 10.—The latest returns from New York state, with some districts missing, indicate pluralities of 168,791 for Roosevelt and about 74,000 for Higgins. Roosevelt has approximately 206,000 outside of Greater New York, while Parker's plurality in the city is less than 38,000.

The legislature is Republican by an increased majority in both branches. Unofficial figures indicate that they have elected 102 of the 150 members of the assembly and that they will have 35 of the 50 state senators.

INDIANA FOR ROOSEVELT.

Republicans Elect State Ticket and Gain Two Congressmen.

Indianapolis, Nov. 10.—Latest figures from all counties in the state give Indiana to the Republicans by probably 60,000. The Republicans gain two congressmen, defeating Representatives Miers and Robinson in the Second and Twelfth districts. The state ticket runs 5,000 behind the national ticket.

GOVERNOR BATES DEFEATED.

Democrat Elected Chief Executive of Massachusetts.

Boston, Nov. 10.—The defeat of Governor John L. Bates for a third term by William L. Douglas, the Democratic candidate, and the tremendous vote cast throughout the state, were the noteworthy features of the election in Massachusetts. Mr. Douglas will be the first Democratic governor elected since 1892.

Complete returns for the state give Roosevelt 257,807, Parker 168,570; Roosevelt's plurality 89,237. For governor, Douglas, Dem., 235,691; Bates, Rep., 198,961; Douglas' plurality, 36,530.

The Republicans gained one congressman and probably elected the balance of the state ticket.

The new congressional delegation will stand eleven Republicans and three Democrats. The legislature, which will select two United States senators, will be Republican by large majorities in both houses.

ROOSEVELT GETS MARYLAND.

Plurality of Over One Thousand in Gorman's State.

Baltimore, Nov. 10.—Returns have been received from all the counties in Maryland except two, showing a plurality for Roosevelt of 1,119. The two counties not heard from are Charles and St. Marys, with large negro population, the returns from which will almost certainly increase the foregoing figures. Unofficial returns received by the Evening News show that William H. Jackson, Republican candidate for congress in the First district, has been elected by a majority of 17. It will probably require an official review of the ballots to decide the contest in that district.

SOLID SOUTH BROKEN INTO

MISSOURI CLAIMED FOR ROOSEVELT BY TWENTY THOUSAND PLURALITY.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—Slow progress has been made toward an accurate count of Missouri's vote, but partial returns show remarkable Republican gains in St. Louis and generally throughout the state. In many counties the usual Democratic plurality was cut in half. The Republican state committee insists that final figures will show a Republican majority of 20,000 on the national ticket.

That Joseph W. Folk, Dem., has carried the state for governor was the claim made generally, but figures on the state result were lacking. The Democratic state committee asserted that Folk will have a majority of 30,000. Complete returns show that St. Louis has gone Republican, with the exception that she rallied for Joseph W. Folk, Dem., with a plurality of over 10,000. With all the Democratic municipal candidates save one defeated with pluralities ranging from 500 to 3,000 Folk carried St. Louis over Cyrus P. Walbridge by a plurality of 10,088.

However, indications are that the legislature will be Republican by two or three votes on joint ballot. The legislature will elect a successor to United States Senator F. M. Cockrell.

CLOSE IN NEVADA.

Roosevelt's Plurality Estimated at Two Thousand.

Reno, Nev., Nov. 10.—Incomplete returns indicate a complete Republican victory, with congressmen only in doubt. Roosevelt's estimated plurality will exceed 2,000.

George S. Nixon, Rep., will undoubtedly be elected United States senator against Governor Sparks to succeed Senator Stewart. The congressional fight is close, with the possibility that Van Duzer, Dem., is elected by a very close margin, but the Republican state central committee still claims the election of Yerrington, Rep., by a small majority.

BY SIXTEEN THOUSAND.

Rhode Island Gives Its Electoral Vote to Roosevelt.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 10.—Roosevelt carried the state by about 16,000. The Republicans elected their state ticket entire and obtained an increased majority in the legislature, which insures the re-election of United States Senator Aldrich.

Capron, Rep., was re-elected in the Second congressional district and Daniel L. D. Granger (Dem.) was elected in the First.

WILL REACH 400,000.

Unprecedented Republican Plurality in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Roosevelt's majority in this state will reach the unprecedented figure of 400,000 and the Republicans have probably elected thirty-one of the thirty-two congressmen. The Democratic congressman who now appears sure of election is Kline in the Thirteenth district.

The Republicans will have a majority in the legislature on joint ballot of about 225.

REPUBLICANS IN CONTROL.

Make a Clean Sweep in New Hampshire Election.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 10.—New Hampshire polled a decided Republican victory for both national and state tickets. Roosevelt's plurality is about 20,000. John McLane, Rep., defeated Henry F. Hollis, Dem., for governor by about 15,000. The Republicans will have a majority of about 100 in the state legislature.

North Carolina Democratic.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 10.—Latest returns indicate that Parker carried North Carolina by from 47,000 to 50,000. All congressional districts are Democratic except the Eighth, which is still in doubt.

Parker's Plurality 50,000.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 10.—Indications are that the Democratic majority in Alabama will not fall short of 50,000. All Democratic congressmen are elected.

JOHNSON IS ELECTED

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA SECURES PLURALITY.

ROOSEVELT CARRIES STATE BY 100,000

REPUBLICANS ELECT NINE CONGRESSMEN AND BALANCE OF STATE TICKET.

LA FOLLETTE WINS IN WISCONSIN

DEFEATS RIVAL CANDIDATES BY A PLURALITY OF OVER FIFTY THOUSAND.

St. Paul, Nov. 10.—Many of the returns from the eighty-four counties of Minnesota are incomplete, but enough have been received to indicate that Johnson, Dem., has been elected governor of Minnesota by a plurality of not less than 8,000. The agricultural counties where Dunn expected to lead Johnson by a heavy vote failed to realize his anticipations, while the iron range and lumber sections gave him a greater vote than his managers have estimated.

The Republicans elected the balance of the state ticket, including the supreme court justices, by good majorities.

Roosevelt carried the state by nearly 100,000 and the Republicans elected all of the nine congressmen by increased majorities. There was really no contest except in the Fifth district, but Loren Fletcher was chosen by a majority of about 5,000. The eight other congressmen were re-elected.

LA FOLLETTE IS VICTORIOUS

CARRIES WISCONSIN FOR GOVERNOR BY MORE THAN FIFTY THOUSAND.

Milwaukee, Nov. 10.—Wisconsin gave Roosevelt and Fairbanks over 75,000 plurality. Chairman W. D. Connor of the Republican state central committee places La Follette's plurality in the state at about 60,000. Democratic Candidate for Governor George W. Peck concedes his defeat. The legislature will be largely Republican, though it looks like a deadlock on United States senator. The question of primary election law carried by a good majority.

The Social Democrats in Milwaukee county ran slightly ahead of the Democrats, polling over 18,000 votes, and they also elected four assemblymen.

The La Follette Republican state committee concedes the election of Congressman Joseph W. Babcock by a safe plurality. On the returns from the state as far as received La Follette's plurality is now placed at about 50,000. Roosevelt ran over 50,000 ahead of La Follette.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 10.—Governor La Follette estimates his plurality at 60,000. He says:

"The vote in Wisconsin and neighborhood states is significant of a great change coming over political parties. Our principles are bound to win."

Chairman W. D. Connor of the La Follette state central committee said that the next legislature would have at least eighty Republican members who are pledged to carry out the measures advocated by Governor La Follette.

ROOSEVELT GETS MONTANA.

Toole, Dem., Elected Governor by Five Thousand.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 10.—Roosevelt has carried Montana by 7,200. Governor Toole, Dem., has been elected by about 5,000. The majority of the state Republican ticket is elected and the next legislature, which is to elect a successor to United States Senator Paris Gibson, will be overwhelmingly Republican. Joseph M. Dixon, Rep., congressman at large, is re-elected.

BIG PLURALITY FOR ROOSEVELT.

Iowa Republicans Also Elect Every Congressman.

Des Moines, Nov. 10.—Chairman Spence of the Republican state central committee places Roosevelt's majority in the state at about 130,000. Chairman Spence also announces that all the Republican congressional candidates were elected.

CAPITAL REMAINS AT PIERRE.

South Dakota Goes Republican by Forty Thousand.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 10.—Returns are slow but later figures corroborate the estimate of 40,000 majority for Roosevelt. The state ticket is elected by about the same majority. Pierre's majority for the state capital will be 18,000.

Roosevelt Carries Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 10.—The ballots in Wyoming were scratched and returns from many precincts are entirely missing. Roosevelt has undoubtedly carried Wyoming by 6,000 or over. The entire Republican state ticket is elected and the next legislature will have a big Republican majority.

North Dakota for Roosevelt.

Grand Forks, N. D., Nov. 10.—State returns are coming in very slowly, so far a nominal vote is indicated, with 25,000 majority for Roosevelt.

GREAT VICTORY FOR DENEEN.

Carries Illinois by More Than 200,000 Plurality.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Roosevelt and Fairbanks carried Illinois by a plurality of 225,000. It is certain that 21 and possibly 23 of the 25 Republican candidates for congress have been elected. Roosevelt's plurality in the city of Chicago alone was 103,818 and the returns from Cook county outside of the city will probably increase this by 12,000 or 15,000.

Charles S. Deneen for governor ran close to the president throughout the city. The state gave him the largest plurality ever cast for governor, latest indications being that he was elected by 210,000 plurality.

Next to President Roosevelt's record breaking vote the Socialist poll for Eugene V. Debs was a feature of the election in Chicago. Mr. Debs polled a total of 41,595 votes in the city, against 5,115 for him in 1900.

LEGISLATURE IS REPUBLICAN.

Bryan Will Not Be Elected Senator From Nebraska.

Omaha, Nov. 10.—Latest returns from over the state to noon give Roosevelt a plurality over Parker of 70,000 and a plurality of about 5,000 for Berge (fusion) for governor against Mickey.

Returns from the senatorial and representative districts indicate that the Republicans will have 100 of the 133 members in the legislature. Twenty-four of the thirty senatorial districts have been heard from and they are all Republican. Forty-five representative districts have been heard from and they are all Republican but one. This insures the election of a Republican United States senator.

EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS.

Roosevelt's Plurality in Connecticut Almost 40,000.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 10.—Revised returns from every city and town in Connecticut give Roosevelt a plurality of 38,197, while four years ago McKinley defeated Bryan at the then high water mark of 28,558. Lieutenant Governor Henry Roberts, the Republican candidate for governor, although badly scratched in the cities, led Judge Robertson, his opponent, by 25,971. The five Republican candidates for congress were elected and all had pluralities which the most confident never expected to see. The legislature is overwhelmingly Republican.

OVERWHELMING MAJORITY.

Republicans Carry California by Seventy-five Thousand.

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Large Republican majorities have been rolled up all over California. The plurality of Roosevelt will be 75,000, an overwhelming majority, with a clean Republican sweep of all the more important offices, including a solid delegation of eight representatives to congress.

The returns already in for the state senate and assembly show that the Republicans have re-elected a large majority in the legislature.

DELAWARE REPUBLICAN.

Roosevelt's Plurality More Than Four Thousand.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 10.—The Republicans have made a clean sweep in this state. Roosevelt's plurality will be over 4,000, while Lee, the Republican compromise candidate for governor, will have a plurality of nearly 3,500.

The Republicans have elected their congressman and will have a majority on joint ballot in the legislature of 16. This will probably mean the election of J. Edward Addicks as United States senator.

BY REDUCED PLURALITIES.

Tennessee Democrats Elect State and National Tickets.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Incomplete returns show that the Democratic ticket has been elected in this state, but by reduced pluralities. Frazier has been elected governor by a plurality of between 15,000 and 20,000. The legislature which will choose a United States senator is overwhelmingly Democratic. Of the ten congressional districts the Democrats carried eight, the Republicans winning in the First and Second districts.

PEABODY IS DEFEATED.

Democratic Candidate Elected Governor of Colorado.

Denver, Nov. 10.—Roosevelt's plurality in Colorado will be about 20,000 and Alva Adams, Dem., will have at least 5,000 plurality over James H. Peabody, Rep., for governor. Returns of the congressional vote indicate the election of John T. Shafroth, Dem., as congressman at large and Robert W. Bonynge, Rep., in the First district and Herschel M. Hogg, Rep., in the Second district.

KANSAS IS REPUBLICAN.

National, State and Congressional Tickets Successful.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 10.—Late returns from all parts of Kansas indicate that President Roosevelt has carried the state by at least 100,000 plurality. Hoch, Republican candidate for governor, will have a majority of at least 50,000, according to incomplete returns received at headquarters The eight Republican congressmen are probably elected.

Parker Wins in Kentucky.

Louisville, Nov. 10.—The Democratic plurality in the state will be about 14,000. For the first time in many years in a presidential election the Democrats carried Louisville and Jefferson county.

Ex-Senator Turner Defeated.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 10.—Latest returns indicate that Roosevelt carried the state by from 35,000 to 40,000. Mead, Rep., was elected governor over Turner by from 5,000 to 7,000.

Parker Engaged in Farm Work.

Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 10.—An hour after Judge Parker arose he was out on his farm seeing that the plowing was properly done. Later he went for a horseback ride.

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.

Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Nervine a trial. Ten months treatment with Nervine and Liver Pills restored our boy to perfect health."—MR. JOHN S. AT THE TOP.

Perhaps you sometimes think that life is one almighty squeeze.
You're jammed up on the pushing throng too tightly for your ease.
Your ribs seem near collapsing and you cannot draw a breath;
Your tender feet are trodden till you almost long for death.
But you must keep on climbing,
 For it never does to stop.
They say there's lots of elbow room
 When once you've reached the top.

A rocky road to travel and a steeply graded track!
It's slow work getting forward and it's easy sliding back,
The jolting and the bumping are not pleasant, I admit,
To reach that distant summit takes an awful lot of grit.
Perhaps you'll never reach it;
 By the wayside you may drop.
It's rubber tires and asphalt, though,
 When once you've reached the top.

There's little time for resting and you either lie awake
Or sleep with one eye open when your brief repose you take.
Your bed is hard and lumpy—not conducive to repose,
And even when you get there it is hardly safe to doze,
That is the worst part of it—
 You must keep on the hop,
You can't lie down and sleep and keep
 Securely on the top.

A CASE OF MOON-BLINK

By WM. PERRY BROWN

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

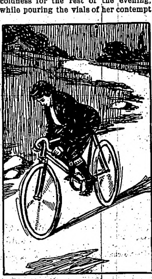
"WHAT a night for wheeling," thought Paula, glancing across the portico at George Baylor, who sat near her brother on the top step, where the haze of moonlight rested softly.

Paula was an enthusiast on cycling; so was her brother and his friend.

They were discussing the latest of club runs into the country, that had lasted several days. Paula always wanted to go; but was usually frozen out with brotherly freedom of comment by Arthur, to whose sage delivery George Baylor nodded gentle approval, and all on the ground of Mrs. Grundy and the proprieties.

George, having designs of his own on Paula's heart as well as hand, realized that he was taking desperate chances; had it confirmed by the young lady's coldness for the rest of the evening, while pouring the vials of her contempt on Arthur's rugged shoulders, whose replies veered into a bantering vein, something like:

"'Nay, nay, Pauline.' Daylight, a proper costume and the asphalt are about your present maiden capacity," whereat George Baylor, already feeling snubbed, remained silent, and thereby sank himself yet a peg lower—if such were possible—in Paula's estimation.



"AWAY SHE FLEW."

Tiring of it at last, he rose dejectedly, bade Arthur a glum and the sister a humble good-night, mounted his own wheel and pedalled sadly away. When Paula went to her room the first thing she saw was her brother's new cycling suit, left there in the afternoon so that she might change some buttons.

"What a heavenly night," vaguely went her thoughts again; then, after a pause, "for wheeling." She passed her mental Rubicon almost aloud, and still gazed out of her window, while beginning to disrobe.

"How nonchalently George rode off, as a matter of course. Being a man, he can go anywhere at any time, and all by himself. Had I done the like—". She sat down by the window.

"They say too long looking at the moon causes moon-blink," she at length said, then gazed defiantly upward. "I suppose when the man in the moon winks, the blink addles one for the time being." The sneer gradually widened into a smile which added sauciness to its charm, as Paula held up Arthur's knee pants measuringly. "I surely am addled."

Perhaps she was. Certainly the sight of George Baylor—otherwise her slave—calmly doing the very thing he, all through Arty's tirade, tacitly disapproved of, had fired her veins (or brains) with something akin to lunacy. Surely! How was it otherwise, that instead of donning her usual night gear, she began trying on Arthur's new suit, crowding her too-abundant hair under a golf cap, before a cheval glass so ample as to reveal, even in the moonlight, that Paula was at present more of a misnomer than Paula as a surname.

"I am glad they are not noticeably too large," she concluded, rolling out Arty's wheel from the closet under the stairs, where her own and his were kept. "It matches better with a man's suit than mine," she added.

Political Finesse.

"Senator," asked one of his trusty henchmen, "did you see those two articles about you that appeared in two different papers last week? One of them described you as a penurious man of immense wealth who gave grudgingly to charity because it was necessary in your business, and the other said your wealth was vastly exaggerated and you really couldn't afford the style you were putting on, but that you had to present a bold front to keep your creditors from closing in on you."

"My dear fellow," said Senator Lotsmun, "your lack of penetration mortifies me. Don't you know I inspired both those articles myself? That sort of thing is necessary to keep me before the public."—Chicago Tribune.

Oysters Can Grow Skin.

New York scientists are much interested in the results of a series of experiments recently conducted by R. C. Scheidt, which seem to show conclusively that the oyster, although naturally inhabiting a shell, can grow a skin if occasion requires. Experimenter Scheidt deprived oysters of one of their shells and then exposed them to pure light, with the result that the animals secreted pigment over the whole of their body. The chemical, or blue, rays produced the same pigment, but none was formed when the oyster was subjected to red rays. On putting the bivalves in darkness all pigment disappeared.—N. Y. World.

Queer Currency.

Dewarra, a currency of New Britain, is an instance of how the spoils of the chase may be turned to account as the outward and visible sign of wealth. Dewarra is made by stringing the shells of a dog-whelk upon the ribs of palm leaves. These strings may be retailed at so much a fathom—usually the price is equivalent to about three shillings a fathom length—or they may be made into various articles of personal adornment to be worn on great occasions. In New Britain the dewarra hoarded up by a rich man is produced at his funeral and divided among his heirs in much the same kind of way as personal property is divided amongst us.

Blood-Like Stain of Bloodstone.

Most persons know very little about the stones of which they so glibly talk," remarked J. W. Beath. "Very few have any idea of what a bloodstone is, though the red-spotted green heliotrope commonly goes by that name. Here are two pieces of real bloodstone, the bloodstone of the ancients. As you see, they are black. By rubbing one on the other, I draw what looks to be blood. Touching it to my hand, it leaves a blood-like stain. No, there is no trick about it. These bits of black stone are simply hematite, and hematite is the real bloodstone. Not one person in 10,000 seems to know this."—Philadelphia Record.

Marriage Statistics.

Of the marriages in general in the United States it is discovered that out of the 1,000 considered 139 men will have been married at least once before the celebration under consideration, while the 861 will have made vows for the first time. Of the 1,000 women in the case only 98 will have worn widow's weeds before the wedding. Thus, out of the 2,000 individuals, parties to the 1,000 marriages, 237 will have bought or have worn wedding rings before.

Keeping Peace.

Barlow—The Wigginses seem to get along together wonderfully. I never supposed they would, their tastes being so dissimilar.

Catlan—That's just the reason why they do get along so well. He is always talking on literary subjects and she talks of nothing but her housework. As neither knows anything about what the other is speaking of they never have any disputes.—Boston Transcript.

Interesting Little Facts.

The life of an eyelash is from 100 to 150 days. They grow very slowly, but finger nails grow quite rapidly in comparison. If a person could live without breaking or cutting his nails for a lifetime they would attain the length of 73 inches. It takes about 121 days for a new nail to form on the little finger and 138 on the thumb.—Philadelphia Ledger.

On the Other Hand.

"Of course," remarked the very young man who knows it all, "a woman's 'no' always means 'yes.'"

"Perhaps it does," replied the man with the scanty hair, "but I'm right here to tell you that her 'yes' never means 'no.'"—Chicago Daily News.

Her Situation.

Several ladies were discussing social position the other day, when little Frances cut in:

"I'm not disturbed about my social position, for I think I shall have all the social position that I have clothes for."—Detroit Free Press.

Learning Caution.

First Baggageman—Look out! Better not toss that trunk.

Second Baggageman—Why not? It isn't marked "Handle with care!"

"That's the reason why. It may be a decoy."—Chicago Tribune.

Novel Suggestion.

A proposal has been made by a woman doctor in Zurich that all unmarried girls belonging to the well-to-do classes should be compelled to devote a year to unpaid hospital or ambulance work.—London Mail.

Too Good to Be True.

Ted had been longing for a baby sister. When she came he went to take his first look at her.

"You can't fool me," he burst out, "I know it ain't ours."—Little Chronicle.

ORIGIN OF NUMERAL SYSTEM

Paper Read Before Philological Society Comments on Forerunners of Present Method.

In a paper read before the Philological society of the University of Michigan, recently, Prof. George Hempl commented upon the forerunners of our present system of numeration. Some two years ago, in seeking the origin of the Runic letters (the first letters used by the Germanic races), Prof. Hempl discovered the primitive Germanic numeral notations. This threw new light upon the early Germanic numerical system, as well as upon the primitive Indo-European numerical system, and upon the development of the Greek alphabet and the Greek numerical notation. The primitive Indo-European numerical system was a mixture of the decimal and the sexagesimal. The first large number was the "shock," that is, 60, and the next large number was the "hund," or "hundred," that is, 120. Between 60 and 120 there were no numbers like our 70, etc., 70 being "a shock and 10," and 80 being "a shock and 20." The introduction of our present numbers between 60 and 120 arose out of the introduction of the decimal hund or hundred, that is, 100, in distinction from which the old hundred (120) was called the duodecimal hundred, or the "great hundred," which is still used in Iceland and parts of England.

BOSTON GOT ITS BEANS.

Absence of Favorite Dish Once Threatened City, But Striking Bakers Took Pity.

It has never been successfully disputed, says the Boston Watchman, that Bostonians are extremely addicted to baked beans (with their orthodox and inseparable companion, brown bread) and to pie. But no one has hitherto settled which of the two held the higher place, or, in other words, which is more necessary to the maintenance of truly Boston life at the proper point of culture and coldness. The decision of this delicate and difficult yet delightfully interesting question, which has successfully defied in the past both the literary skill and intellectual powers of the city, has been left for solution to the exigencies of the modern industrial problem. In the recent strike of 1,400 bakers Boston was compelled to go pie hungry for days. But when Saturday night approached and the dreadful possibility appeared of Boston being compelled to face a Sunday morning without baked beans, the hearts and consciences of the bakers were stirred, and they made a special and extraordinary effort to supply the city with its habitual Sunday morning breakfast, while no such emotion was elicited by the sufferings incident to the lack of pie.

Meat Eaters Still Numerous.

Despite the vogue of the health food, the number of beasts slain for food has never been so great as now. The butcher shops have been thronged, notwithstanding all done by the packing combine toward checking the demand. Vegetarianism has thus languished. The old and often-used examples that the Greeks who fought at Thermopylae and the athlete who won the Marathon race ate only lentils have lost their potency through too great familiarity.

Cleveland, Tenn. W. K. DETERS.

For over fifteen years I have suffered more or less from Impure Blood. About a year ago I had a boil appear on my leg below the knee, which was followed by three more on my neck. I saw S. S. S. advertised and decided to try it. After taking three bottles all Boils disappeared and I have not been troubled any since.

GEO. G. FERTIG.

114 W. Jefferson St., Louisville, Ky.

Newark, Ohio, May 23, 1903.

From childhood I had been bothered with bad blood, skin eruptions and boils. I had boils ranging from five to twenty in number each season. The burning accompanying the eruption was terrible. S. S. S. seemed to be just the medicine needed in my case. It drove out all impurities and bad blood, giving me permanent relief from the skin eruption and boils. This has been ten years ago, and I have never had a return of the disease.

"An American Tramp."

A new play to our theatre-goers comes to Red Lake Falls, November, 15th, It is said to be one of those comedy melodramas suited to the taste of the popular priced circuit and was written especially with this view—to entertain the masses. There are situations that are humorous and lines that are said to be bright and the piece contains plenty of action. The play, which is in four acts, should please the patrons of Red Lake Falls. A genuine tramp, a detective, a life insurance agent, a wealthy rogue and deceitful husband, a persecuted wife and mother, a beautiful daughter and a village ne'er-do well, are the principal characters which go to make up Manager Newell's comedy sensation, "An American Tramp." The play is from the pen af Mr. Kidder, who is responsible for more tender, touching, pathetic, heart-interesting play than any other author now before the public. His "Peaceful Valley" and "A Poor Relation" made the late Sol Smith Russell famous an a millionaire. In this work he promises to surpass his other efforts and to us a piece that for stirring situations, start startling climaxas, as well as heart-touching interest cannot be surpassed. Manager Newell has cast "An American Tramp" with care, selecting only artisls fitted for their respective roles, Comedy and pathos richly blending, touching that well-spring of emotion, the heart, and causing the risibilities of its beholders to broaden from a smile into a hearty laugh, may be expected. The cast includes Miss Virginia Melville, Miss Edna Clayton, Miss Blanche Henshaw, Miss Vera Wilson, Messrs Charles Porter, L. J. Cody, Jno. Byrne, Charles Emmett, Horace Vinton and others. There are specialties introduced in each act. Songs that reach the heart, witticisms that will bring smiles, comedy that will cause laughter and sensationl climaxes that will thrill all who witness the startling situations contained in "An American Tramp" on November 15.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by All druggists. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Pumpkins for Decoys.

The Springfield Advance gives the following information concerning the novel manner in which a farmer in that vicinity secured his share of the ducks although he was a poor shot. The farmer's home is situated near a slough and the birds were too wily for him to get close enough to get a shot at them. He had a bunch of surplus pumpkins on his farm and conceived an idea concerning them that he at once put into execution. He dumped a load of them into the pond and waited until the ducks became used to the innovation, then he hollowed out a huge one, making holes for his eyes and a breathing aperture, and placing it over his head jumped into the the lake. When the ducks settled down he grabbed them one by one until he had the whole flock in his possession. He has ducks to give away now. It is a lamentable state of affairs that the local nimrods who have recently spent several weeks in the vicinity of Swan Lake were not aware of this mode of procedure. They would have been able with such a contrivance to have bagged enough game to ward off the friendly taunts they received from those who were aware of their ill luck.

Korean Character.

None of the Asiatics seen more characterless than the Koreans. They are as distinct in type from the Japanese as Noors from Germans. The Korean spends all his time on the street. always dresses in white, whether he is handling coal or digging a ditch, never washes his body and his clothes only rarely. He looks at anything out of his monotonous routine with dull, preoccupied curiosity? They are a race asleep, that gives no promise of ever waking up. If not already awake to the fact that golden grain belt beer is indispensable for home use, you should order a case at once of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex. Thompson, Crookston.

IN MEMORIAM

Where is now the merry party
I remember long ago?
Ostby's downed and Buse is beaten,
Anderson has fallen low;
Weeks is on the troubled waters,
Up Salt Creek is sailing on,
With a shining light before him,
Borne by honest Robert Dunn.
'Tis but lately they were marching
'Round the county full of hope,
Greeting every good old farmer
With a smile and some soft soap;
Flinging cheap cigars and "favors"
Right and left for Bob C. Dunn;
Kissing ev'ry sticky baby,
Patting ev'ry sprouting son:
Telling how, if they were beaten,
Ev'rything would soon go bump;
How they had the Democratic Candidates upon the jump—
But when 'lection dawned upon them,
Voters smote them hip and thigh—
Buried under big blue ballots,
There was naught to do but die.

....

Softly draw the pall around them—
They were all good fellows, boys,
And their hearts were placed all right,
Though they made a lot of noise.
Some must fall as these have fallen,
Some must win as you have won:
So conduct yourself in future
That you won't be done like Dunn.

MURDER THEORY ADVANCED

Friends and Relatives of Jacob S. Dyrhaug Think He May Have Been Murdered.

Bemidji Pioneer: The fate of Jacob Dyrhaug, the Shotley postmaster who disappeared two weeks ago last Sunday, is still an unsolved problem, although vigorous search has been made in the waters of Red Lake, where it is supposed the man lost his life while returning to his homestead after attending a dance.

A startling theory is advanced by friends and relatives of the dead man, who claim that his death was not due to any accident or natural cause, but that it was done away with and the body thrown into the lake, the hat and boat being left on shore to mislead the public and to create an impression that he met his death accidentally.

Gust Karlson, brother-in-law to Dyrhaug, returned yesterday from Shotley, where he made a complete investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of his missing relative, and came to the conclusion that Dyrhaug was murdered. He gives several sound reasons for his view, one being the fact that a letter which was carried by the dead postmaster was mailed at the Shotley postoffice six days after his death. Another circumstance which lends color to the theory is the fact that Dyrhaug carried a large sum of money upon his person at the time of his disappearance, some claiming the amount to be $200, thus establishing a cause for the murder.

A stranger arrived in the Shotley country a few days previous to the disappearance of Dyrhaug whose actions before and after the event caused considerable talk among the people of that neighborhood.

He talked much about the Dahl murder, asked questions of the settlers regarding the circumstances surrounding their disappearance, and even before the hat and boat were found on the shores of Red Lake some comment as to the business of the stranger was elicited from the settlers in that vicinity.

Although nothing definite has been decided concerning the course which will be taken by the relatives of the missing man, it is understood that a thorough investigation will take place and until the body is found every effort will be made to learn the cause of his death.

ALL SHOULD GIVE THANKS.

Governor Van Sant Urges Minnesotans To Express Appreciation.

Governor Van Sant has issued the following proclamation for Thanksgiving Day:

The president of the United States has issued a proclamation appointing and setting apart a day for Thanksgiving. Consistent therewith I, as governor of the state of Minnesota, do hereby designate Thursday, Nov. 24, 1904, as Thanksgiving day. On that day I earnestly request that all the people of our state cease from their usual vocations and gather in their various places of worship, there to devoutly thank the giver of all good for his mercies and the manifold blessings conferred upon as a nation, as a state and as individuals. Our country is at peace.

As a state we have been greatly favored. Our growth and development have been materially advanced. We have been blessed with bounteous crops. We are a happy, contented and prosperous people. Our religious and benevolent institutions continue to expand, and their beneficent influences are most helpful. The future is bright and we should look forward with hope and courage. Let us then give thanks an invoke a continuance of God's blessing.

'Taint no use to sit down and whine.
When no fish get tangled in your line;
Bate your hook with a bumble bee,
And keep on taking Rocky Mountain Tea. A. L. Reichert

NEW GT. NORTHERN SERVICE

Connection With Northern Pacific at Dugdale Completed—Direct Line to Red Lake Falls.

The Great Northern within a few days will announce improved train service on its line from Crookston to Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire, and Thief River and Greenbush. The connection with the Northern Pacific tracks at Dugdale has been completed, and hereafter passenger trains for this territory will run from Crookston to Dugdale, and thence over the Northern Pacific tracks to Red Lake Falls, and north on the Great Northern's present line.

The Great Northern trains now run north from Crookston to Shirley, then east to St. Hilaire, and Thief River Falls, and back down to Red Lake Falls. This line, which runs through Ives will be abandoned as a passenger line. The new arrangement will save doubling from St. Hilaire to Red Lake Falls, about twenty miles.

As the trains from Crookston to this territory connect with limited service out of the Twin cities, the new arrangement will be much more convenient for the rapidly increasing traffic to points on this line which now runs to Greenbush and is projected north to Roseau.

CALUMET
Baking Powder

The only high grade Baking Powder sold at a moderate price. Complies with the pure food laws of all states.

Trust Baking Powders sell for 45 or 50 cents per pound and may be identified by this exorbitant price. They are a menace to public health, as food prepared from them contains large quantities of Rochelle salts, a dangerous cathartic drug.

TERRIBLE CRIME IN CALIFORNIA

UNKNOWN ASSASSIN KILLS FOUR MEMBERS OF FAMILY OF JULIUS WEBER.

Sets Fire to Their Home to Cover His Crime—A Surviving Son Has Been Arrested on Suspicion of Being the Murderer.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 12.—It is now known that Julius Weber, his wife, their [illegible]-year-old daughter Bertha, and their son Paul, aged 14 years, were murdered Thursday night by an unknown assassin, who set fire to the home in an effort to cover his crime. Before the fire had made any great headway the bodies of the murdered woman and her two children were rescued from the burning house.

All Were Murdered.

An examination of the bodies showed that Mrs. Weber and the children had been murdered before the fire had been started. The daughter had been killed by a pistol wound, as had been Mrs. Weber. On the boy's head were several deep cuts. He had also been shot. All efforts to reach Julius Weber, the father, who was not thought to be in the burning house, was abandoned until Friday when a search was made in the burning timbers and his body was found in the bathroom of the dwelling. He, to, had been shot down before being left to be consumed by the flames. It had been ascertained beyond a doubt that the women were killed in one room and their clothing set on fire, and that they were then dragged into the apartment where their bodies were discovered.

Son Under Arrest.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 14.—Adolph Weber has been placed under arrest charged with the murder of his parents, sister and young brother last Thursday night, and with having set the family residence on fire afterward to conceal the crime. The latest theory in the Weber murder case is that the murderer shot the father first, then as the sister appeared in the hall, he shot her and then the mother seeing what he had done, screamed and started from him, when he shot her. She continued on across the room and raising her left hand took down the telephone receiver to call for help, at which time she received the second shot, which penetrated the body just under the left arm. The child being the only one left, the murderer struck him over the head and killed him.

WRECK ON THE WABASH.

Train Derailed in Outskirts of St. Louis, and Fourteen Persons Are Hurt.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—A north-bound Wabash passenger train was partially wrecked Sunday in the outskirts of North St. Louis, on a sharp curve of the belt line tracks of the Merchants' Terminal Railway association, near the west approach to the Merchants' bridge over the Mississippi, injuring 14 persons. The accident was caused by the wheels of the tender leaving the rails on the curve.

The injured are: Joseph Haines, engineer, Decatur, Ill., probably fatally scalded; J. D. Llewellyn, fireman, Decatur, scalded probably fatally; E. J. Birdsley, Silver Creek, N. Y., bruised; John Aeschetman, Monroe, Mich., hand broken; Mrs. W. C. Miller, Spokane, Wash., hand crushed; Wensel Schlegel, Black River Falls, Wis., knee fractured; William Reddick, Gibson, Ill., fractured skull, hip hurt; R. J. Lynch, St. Louis, back injured; Miss Alice Van Osdel, 936 Ashland street, Chicago, cuts; Mrs. Alma Price, Washington, D. C., sprains; S. J. DeVriess, Chicago, back injured; Mrs. N. B. Marshall, Chicago; Robert Turner, cut and bruised; E. N. Magill, Chicago, express messenger, bruised.

TRAGEDY IN OHIO.

Son Slain While Defending His Mother from His Drunken Father—Murderer Kills Himself.

Hamilton, O., Nov. 14.—Adolph Hummel, aged 59, killed his son, Frank Hummel, aged 32, and then killed himself. He also shot at his wife. The father was intoxicated and was abusing his wife. Frank Hummel was attempting to defend his mother from the assaults of his father when the shooting began.

Fatal Explosion.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 12.—A boiler attached to a threshing machine on the Samuel Kauffman farm, exploded Friday and killed Warren Bassett, ten years old, and John Boltenhouse, 60 years old, both of Elkhart. Guy Busman, 14 years old, was badly injured, also Floyd Kauffman, ten years old. Charles Dills and Norman Shigley, the latter 60 years old, were also scalded.

A Mile in 2:01.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 12.—Lou Dillon trotted a mile at the driving park Friday afternoon in 2:01, breaking the world's unpaced record. The former unpaced trotting record was 2:01¼, held by both Lou Dillon and Major Delmar.

Hessian Fly Hurts Wheat.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 14.—Government wheat reports from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan announce that wheat is badly affected by Hessian fly.

Proclaims Thanksgiving Day.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 14.—Gov. Yates has issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 24, as Thanksgiving day.

TRADE REVIEW.

Business Retarded by Elections Temporarily—Better Activity in Leading Industries.

New York, Nov. 12.—Bradstreet's says: "Interest in the elections and unseasonably warm weather in some sections have retarded trade, but the more optimistic outlook as to the future found reflection later in an enlargement of wholesale and jobbing business, a firmer tone of prices and more assured activity in many leading industries. Official reports of past crop yields and advices of largely increased acreages in fall-sown crops were contributors to the confident feeling. In addition, reports as to the outlook for holiday and next spring's trade have proved favorable. Of the country's leading products, special activity is noted this week in iron and steel, coal, coke, hardware, hides, leather, groceries, lumber and building material, the latter two particularly at the west. Drugs, paints, glass, whisky, tobacco, live cattle, sheep and hogs not a full seasonable movement at generally satisfactory prices."

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "All measures of trade indicated the customary loss due to holiday interruption, but subsequently much of the deficit was regained, numerous evidences of increasing confidence being seen in the disposition to place orders for distant shipment. Increased consumption of pig iron is also significant and in other leading branches of manufacture there is a steadily diminishing percentage of idle machinery. Failures this week numbered 213 in the United States against 283 last year, and 17 in Canada, compared with 27 a year ago."

ELEVEN KILLED.

Terrible Result of Collision Between Union Pacific Trains in Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 14.—Eleven persons were killed and many injured in a head-on collision of a west-bound Oregon Short Line passenger train with an east-bound freight train 25 miles west of Green River. The wreck was due to an error of the telegraph operator at Green River, in taking a train order from the dispatcher at that point. By releasing the freight train, instead of holding it at a siding near the scene of the accident, he made the discovery that his blunder must inevitably result in a horrible loss of life. It was impossible after the departure of the train to warn the conductor of the danger that threatened.

GOING TO ST. LOUIS.

President Roosevelt Decides to Visit the World's Fair on Saturday, November 26.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt has promised to attend the Louisiana Purchase exposition on Saturday, the 26th of November. He made this promise to a committee from St. Louis, headed by Mayor Wells, who came to Washington especially for the purpose of inviting him to visit the fair. The probability is the president may remain in St. Louis until the night of Sunday, November 27. President Roosevelt has been anxious to go to St. Louis to see the fair ever since its opening. However, the presidential campaign impelled him to remain in the east.

BANK ROBBED.

Safeblowers Clean Out Institution in Rio, Near Galesburg, Ill.—Secure $2,500.

Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 14.—Eight men entered the bank of Rio, 12 miles north of here, Saturday morning, blew open the safe with nitroglycerin and got away with about $2,500, practically all the money in the institution. Several charges were exploded before the safe was forced open, badly wrecking the building. Sheriff Hurburgh and deputies from this city traced the thieves to the railroad track, where all trace was lost. A special dispatch from St. Louis announces the arrest in that city of three suspects.

Caused Two Deaths.

Washington, Nov. 14.—As the result of an early morning fire in a row of two-story houses opposite the west side of the post office department building two persons were burned to death and one man had both legs broken and two women inmates were severely injured by jumping out of a second story window. The two dead men were burned beyond recognition.

Heavy Damages Awarded.

New York, Nov. 12.—What is said to have been the largest verdict ever awarded under similar conditions was returned in the supreme court Friday when a jury awarded Mrs. May C. Ga Nun $35,000 for the loss of her husband, who died as a result of injuries sustained in the Grand Central tunnel on January 8, 1902.

Joe Walcott Acquitted.

Boston, Nov. 14.—"No bill" in the case of Joe Walcott, the colored pugilist, charged with manslaughter in shooting Nelson Hall, Jr., about three weeks ago, was returned by the grand jury Saturday. The jury found that the shooting, in which Walcott's hand was injured, was accidental.

A Valuable Cargo.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—The steamer Coptic, which arrived Friday from the orient, brought $2,000,000 worth of raw silk and over $300,000 in gold.

Date Is Fixed.

London, Nov. 11.—The board of trade inquiry into the North Sea incident will open at Hull November 15. The proceedings will be public.

Avoid the Cheap and "Big Can" Baking Powders.

The cheap baking powders have but one recommendation: they certainly give the purchaser plenty of powder for his money. These powders are so carelessly made from inferior materials that they will not make light, wholesome food. Further, these cheap baking powders have a very small percentage of leavening gas; therefore it takes from two to three time as much of such powder to raise the cake or biscuit as it does of Calumet Baking Powder. Therefore, in the long run, the actual cost to the consumer of such powders is more than Calumet would be. Cheap baking powders leaves the bread sometimes bleached and acid, sometimes yellow and alkaline, and always unpalatable. They are never of uniform strength and quality.

Why not buy a perfectly wholesome baking powder like Calumet, that is at the same time moderate in price and one which can be relied upon? Calumet is always the same, keeps indefinitely and gives the cook the least trouble.

☞ Desirable Situations positively guaranteed to all graduates. Send for catalogue.

Professor J. A. Button,

Principal of Button's Business College, Crookston, Minnesota, is a teacher, bookkeeper, stenographer, court reporter and expert accountant of over twenty years' experience. His pupils are working as stenographers and bookkeepers in almost every town from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Tacoma and Seattle. Crookston alone employs over twenty-five of them. This is the only school in the world that positively guarantees desirable situations to all graduates. Send for catalogue and beautiful calendar.

J. A. BUTTON, Principal,
Crookston, Minnesota.

To whom it may concern:

This is to certify that J. A. Button, principal of Button's Business College of this city, guarantees situations to graduates of his school under a forfeit of the full tuition, if one is not secured. He also guarantees the student to hold the position successfully. Money has been deposited by students in this bank with the understanding that if the guarantee was not fulfilled that the money was to be returned to the depositor, and in every instance the contract has been carried out by Mr. Button and the money paid over to him, upon the order of the depositor, after pupils had worked successfully for at least six weeks. Such depositors always signified their satifaction with Mr. Button's methods of doing business and were well pleased with the situations secured.

Respectfully,
SCANDIA AMERICAN BANK,

Our graduates are working as stenographers and bookkeepers in almost every town from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Seattle and Tacoma.

A large assortment of new Papetries have been received at The Courier Stationery Store during the past few days. 25c buys a box of elegant Stationery. Call and look over the goods.

Winter Will Be Mild.

Muskrats, the long-tailed deniszens of the streams, lakes and ponds of Minnesota, are building very poorly this fall and Indian weather prophets have predicted very decisively, an open winter, filled with much sunshine, little snow and very few blizzards. The muskrat houses this fall are very shallow and the little creatures themselves are at the present time basking in the warm rays of the November sun rather than following up their usual vocation at this time of the year, that of piling brush, sticks and mud upon their houses and getting things snugged up for the winter.

The only thing which this unusual state of muskrat affairs stands for, according to old settlers and weather prophets, both of Indian and white variety, is an open winter and people who have followed the actions of the little animals in the past, are certain that they do not foretell in vain, and are resting easy on the fuel score. They say Minnesota will enjoy one of the clearest, warmest and most open winters in a number of years and that the coal dealers will not find the season anywhere near as profitable as the one a year ago.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and deremined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seem a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubies and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at all druggists.

Crookston College secures good positions for all its graduates —Life scholarship for $50. Good board and urnished room in private family or hotel for $3 per week. Send for new catalog. Addrsss: J. C. Sathre, Crookston, Minn.

LEAVENED BREAD

Has Been Man's Constant Mainstay From Time Immemorial.

Some writer has said that "The first miller emerging from his savage state, with no thought save hunger, plucked the wheat from the stock, and, using his teeth for millstones, ground the first grist for a customer who would not be denied—his stomach." Thus gaining experience by test in the food line, it would be only natural for this miller to lay up a quantity of grain against an hour of need. Just when he commenced grinding his wheat in the rude stone mortar and moistening the flour preparatory to baking it in the ashes of his camp fire, and just when it was found that an old piece of dough in a fresh batch made it better or "leavened" it, is beyond the reach of historians. Certain it is that though the principle was the same thousands of years ago as it is to-day, it has remained for the makers of Yeast Foam to supply a yeast with all the true leavening powers minus the properties that produce sour, "runny" or soggy bread. This is the yeast that took the first grand prize at the St. Louis Exposition, and revolutionizes the bread making in every home where it is used because much better bread can be made with it from any flour.

Yeast Foam is purely vegetable, being made of the best malt, corn, hops and other healthful ingredients. The factory is also the cleanest and best equipped in the world. This yeast is the only kind that preserves in the bread all the delicious flavor and nutritive value of the wheat. The bread made with it is always sweet and wholesome and stays moist until used. Forty loaves of bread can be made from one 5c package. The makers of Yeast Foam are giving out a new book called "Good Bread; How to Make It." This little book, invaluable in its way, has twenty-six illustrations in colors, and tells how to make all kinds of bread, biscuits, buns and rolls, as well as containing other recipes which will be found invaluable in the home. The way of preparing the different recipes is very clear and comprehensive. The book will be sent free to any one sending their name and address, with a request for same, to the Northwestern Yeast Company, Chicago, Ill. Every woman who bakes should secure a copy.

A Man of Destiny.

Mrs. J. F. Stone, of the Rush City Post, an uncompromising supporter of R. C. Dunn during the campaign, pays this pretty compliment to John A. Johnson and his charming wife:

John A. Johnson is a man of destiny; his pleasing personality and classic type; his ready flow of language, coupled with brains and a mind of lofty attainments stored with good horse sense, have long ago brought him into enviable prominence in state affairs. A fellow that could superintend the dedicating of the North Star state's great temple at the Chicago World's Fair entirely impromptu without the assistance of the governor of said state, ought to be proficient to hold ditto's job, by this time, with credit to himself and all concerned. But, after all, the best thing about John A. Johnson is his wife, who is the personification of womanly sweetness and graces. We can bow to the fate with becoming serenity under these conditions,

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill, 25c, at all druggists.

The Independent Voter.

Grand Forks Herald: One frequently comes across the statement that a certain individual has voted the straight Republican or straight Democratic ticket from top to bottom for an incredible number of years, and as a rule this is given out with an air of great self complacency. The man who has voted for all his party candidates for an office for many years thinks that he has done a meritorious act. He cannot help thinking so. He is built that way. The man who, in a long term of years, in the average community, is unable to see at least once or twice, that the interest of the public will best be served by the election of a man on the opposite ticket for some position is not a man who digs very far under the surface of things, and argument would do him little good.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercery, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do it ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. Take Halls Family Pills for constipation.

Endorsed at Home.

Mapleton Enterprise: The fact that John A. Johnson received 587 votes against 132 for his opponent in the city of St. Peter indicates that the malicious stories circulated over the signatures of G. A. Blomberg and Tip Witty had very little influence where the two men who signed the statement were best known. St. Peter is a Republican town but likes clean politics and would not stand for the slandering of one of its best citizens.

A Stubboro Case!

Mr. Wm. Hessier of Muscoda, Wis., writes: "While taking the first box of Gloria Tonic for my rheumatic trouble I could not stand on my feet, while taking the second box I could walk across the room by pushing a chair ahead of me, and after taking the third box I could husk corn and feed sixty head of hogs." Sold by W. A. Schreiter.

If you want a good fountain pen, thoroughly guaranteed, call and look at the big line of John Holland pens just received at THE COURIER stationery store. We have them in all sizes at prices ranging from $2 to $6.

Reflection of a Bachelor.

New York Press: The day after election a politician is a burst balloon.

It's just like finding money to break off an engagement.

A widow has a genius for liking everything a man thinks he likes.

Just after a girl's clothes lengthen at the knees they begin to shorten at the waist.

Either a man's wife finds fault with him for never kissing her any more or, if he does, of smelling of tobacco smoke.

What They All Want.

The millions of the people who lead sedentary lives are all looking for the same thing, some kind of exercise that is pleasant and does not take much time. One that makes the blood circulate properly and doesn't overtire the body. Here is your chance, invent such an exercise. In the meantime the same results can be accomplished the regular use of golden grain belt beer, for it furnishes perfect nutriment for every part of the body without overloading the stomach. If you want to be really healthy just try this beer for a time in your home. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex. Thompson, Crookston.

The Yeast That Raised The First Grand Prize.

It will be interesting to all who use yeast and to many others as well, to know that Yeast Foam has been awarded the First Grand Prize at the St. Louis Exposition. This is a worthy recognition the breadmaking art in this country. And it is true that the bread of today, as compared with that ten or fifteen years ago is not only better made, but there is more nutriment in it on account of its greater digestibility.

This is due in a measure to modern methods of grinding wheat, but really to the general use of a strictly pure yeast. As the secret of good bread is in the yeast, every housewife who uses Yeast Foam has become a practical breadmaker.

A postal card sent to the Northwestern Yeast Company, Chicago, Ill., will secure their little book "Good Bread; How to Make it," which should be in every home in the land. It tells how to use Yeast Foam and gives many valuable recipes never before printed. It is well worth asking for.

P. V. Collins Publishing Company

Incorporated Aug. 13, 1904. Under the Laws of Minnesota.

THIS new corporation is a re-incorporation of The Agriculturist Company, and its assets include The Northwestern Agriculturist, together with hitherto personal enterprises of P. V. COLLINS, consisting of The Home Magazine and real estate viz., the office and press buildings located on the corner of Seventh street and sixth avenue south, Minneapolis. The real estate alone is worth $30.000.

The value of the assets exceeds $100,000 on a very conservative basis, and the capital stock of the P. V. COLLINS PUBLISHING COMPANY is $100,000 including $30,000 perferred stock and $70,000 common stock.

The preferred stock bears a Guarantee of Seven Per Cent dividend, payable semi-annually, and when redeemed, we agree to pay $102.00 a share for it. The common stock is not for sale, but is all held by P. V. COLLINS, who will continue as manager of the business, as he has since 1893. No dividends can be paid on the common stock until the guaranteed dividends in full on the preferred are paid.

We have sold much of the above preferred stock to bankers, commercial men, farmers and professional people, in sums ranging from $100 to $5,000. It is the best investment on the market and they know it. It is not often that an apportunity comes to invest money on ample security at and the opportunity will soon be past for getting any of the stock. Harry Ives thinks it is the last straw when John Eastman is permitted to pick a winner.

Joel Heatwole seems greatly depressed over the defeat of the Republican candidate for governor.

The Pioneer Press has Baron Munchausen skinned to death. Please hand over the championship belt.

The Republican state central committee ought to take a few lessons in political strategy from Frank A. Day.

Senator Clapp will have opposition for re-election, but the Democratic members of the legislature are not sufficiently numerous to cut much figure in the fight.

No, we can't tell how it all happened. It may have been the "uxtra," possibly the "poorhouse" story; then again Lawyer Smith and Prof. Caton did their full share.

Bob Dunn takes his defeat gracefully and philosophically. The Princeton Union says "the head of the Republican ticket can stand it if the Republican party of Minnesota can."

The Northfield News alleges that a member of the Republican state central committee, and a federal officeholder, acquired several thousand dollars additional wealth by betting on John A. Johnson.

The Dunn adherents declare they are going to keep Johnson in the gubernatorial chair to punish the Collins faction. The Democrats will undoubtedly be greatly alarmed at the probable consequences of this threat.

We are told by the esteemed Gazette that "Red Lake county is in line" because the returns show majorities for Roosevelt and Johnson. The county is apparently "in line" all right," but if the Republican county organization can get any satisfaction out of the returns it could find plenty of fun at a funeral.

Fendall G. Winston received a magnificent endorsement at the hands of Red Lake Falls city. Jones received only 83 votes out of nearly 400 votes cast, and Winston carried the city by 144. Dozens of the leading Republicans of the city declared openly that they would not stand for Jones. Nearly 40 Republicans did not vote for a lieutenant governor, and many more than that number voted for Winston. Had the balance of the state followed the lead of Red Lake Falls Mr. Winston would have had a plurality of 100,000.

Governor-elect Johnson announces that his first official act will be the appointment of Hon. Frank A. Day as private secretary. This is the most important office within the gift of the governor, and carries with it salary and emoluments aggregating better than $5,000 per year. There isn't a Democrat in the state who will say that Frank Day is not entitled to this distinction. No other man contributed so much to the election of Johnson, and no other man is so well-equipped for this position. Frank is suave, diplomatic and a "good fellow" in the best and highest sense of the term.

George Ralph of Crookston figures that state drainage has received a black eye in the election of Johnson. He says the Republican legislature will not appropriate money for a Democratic governor to spend. Martin O'Brien, a sarcastic and witty Democrat, sees a way out of the difficulty, however. Mr. O'Brien declares that the legislature will undoubtedly refuse to meet, the supreme court will go on a strike, Johnson will be compelled to resign, and then we will have Ray Jones, a man of the people, in the governor's chair. Then, of course, the people's interests will be properly safeguarded.

The Republican election prognosticators over in Polk county must feel somewhat disappointed. The chairman of the Republican county committee gave it out that Dunn would carry Polk county by 2800. He missed it by only 2942.

"If railroads find it beneficial to spend millions of dollars in improving their roadbeds and their equipment," said Samuel Hill, "why is not this a good theory for the government to adopt? We spend millions of dollars annually in improving our rivers and harbors for the benefit of transportation by water. Why not a few million for transportation by land? It is not what we consume that makes us rich, but it is the surplus product that we sell, and the farmer of the middle west is prosperous today because his surplus product is sold in Liverpool and the Orient."

The unprecedented Republican national victory last week is a splendid tribute to President Roosevelt, but it presages danger for the Republican party. It is the history of the country that an unweildy majority is a bad thing for any party, and a clash between the president and the politicians is inevitable. The coming four years will produce some interesting political history, and four years from now the opposition to the Republican party will be a menace to continued Republican ascendancy. Just what form this opposition will take, and whether or not a new party will rise from the ashes of Democracy, is a matter of conjecture, but the public men of all parties can easily see a storm brewing in the distance.

The New York American pertinently asks its readers to compare the anthracite coal at the mines with the prices they pay. The government's report shows the the average price at the mine for a ton of anthracite was $1.41 in 1898, $1.46 in 1899, $1.49 in in 1900, $1.67 in 1901 and $1.96 in 1902. This is an increase of over 39 per cent in five years. In 1898 a ton of bituminous coal at the mine was 80 cents, in 1899 87 cents, in 1900 $1.04, in 1901 $1.05, in 1902 $1.12 an increase of 40 per cent in five years. Monopolists have been allowed to fix prices by private agreement and railroads have been permitted to descriminate in their charges. That is why coal is constantly rising in price at the mine and why there is such tremendous jumps from the price there to the sum the consumer pays.

A BATTLE ROYAL.

The Breckenridge Gazette, a Republican newspaper, sees in the defeat of Dunn the approach of a mighty struggle between the giants of Minnesota politics, Nelson and Lind. If the Gazette's prophecy comes true, it will be a battle royal, and a political upheaval the like of which the state has never known. Regarding the events of the last Tuesday the Gazette says:

"Dunn's defeat is directly traceable to the unfortunate fight for the Republican nomination for governor and ought to and no doubt will teach the party that it is impossible to indulge in dirty factional fight and hope for success at the polls. Of the thousands who voted against Dunn only a very few took any stock in the vile and outrageous stories that were circulated against him. The vote given Johnson was a rebuke to the crowd behind Dunn, the rule-or-ruin crowd that would balk at nothing to gain their ends. That they will be less prominent in the councils of the party in the future goes without saying.

"Every thinking Republican is sorry for Mr. Dunn. He has done much for the people of Minnesota and for the Republican party and deserved the governorship on his standing as a man and an official. He would have made a good, clean and capable chief executive.

"John A. Johnson made a great fight and he is to be congratulated on his success. He is a good clean man and the affairs of the state will be safe in his hands, but his election is simply an incident—perhaps an accident—that marks the beginning of one of the greatest political struggles in the history of this state. U. S. Senator Knute Nelson's term expires in 1906. This election of a Democratic governor means a strong Democratic organization two years hence just as surely as it means a disorganized and divided Republican party. This in turn means that the senior senator will be obliged to make the fight of his life if he expects to be returned. Despite Lind's declaration that he is out of politics for good everything indicates that he is preparing to measure strength with his old enemy, Nelson, in the legislature two years hence. Lind is easily the most commanding figure in state politics today and his shadow, gigantic and threatening, already falls athwart the seat of Nelson in the senate chamber."

JOHNSON MAKES BIG GAIN.

Vote Shows Dunn Failed to Hold Van Sant's Strength.

In the vote on governor this year there is a gain of 326 votes in favor of Johnson over the vote two years ago, and it is noticable that practically all of this gain is in the southern part of the county. The largest gain is in the Third ward of Red Lake Falls, where Johnson gains 61 over Rosing. The total gain in this city is 88, every ward going for Johnson and showing a gain over two years ago. The other precincts showing large gains for Johnson are St. Hilaire, Lake Pleasant, Terrebonne, Red Lake Falls township, Polk Center and Black River. The gains are shown in the following table.

Without a Parallel.

New York Post: John A. Johnson, the successful Democratic candidate for governor in Minnesota was the son of a Swedish immigrant, and his youth was spent in the most abject poverty. Some ten days before election a campaign circular was sent broadcast stating that Johnson's father had died in the poorhouse and that his mother had taken in washing. It at least deserves to be remembered as one of the colossal "breaks" of political history. The press of the state at once investigated its truth. It appeared that the candidate's father had been a town loafer. The son had left school when 10 years old to help support the family, and his mother had, it was true, taken in washing, but the father was put, by well-wishers of the family, where he would no longer be an incumbrance to it. The story of the boy's self-reliance and his success under so heavy a handicap not only destroyed the effect of the Republican slurs, but created such a revulsion of feeling in his favor as has never been seen in this country. In a state whose total vote is probably not more than 325,000, Johnson ran something like 140,000 ahead of the presidential candidate of his party. The unexpected election of Douglas in Massachusetts was brought about by less than 15 per cent of the voters splitting their tickets. In Minnesota, the incomplete returns indicate that nearly 23 per cent marked their ballots for Roosevelt and Johnson; an exhibition of independent voting probably without a parallel.

TO GET RID OF OLD SCHOOLS.

Supt. Olson Advocates Proposed Legislation.

J. W. Olson, state superintendent of schools, thinks that the proposed educational bill drawn up by the legislative committee of the Minnesota Educational association will be very beneficial to the cause of public instruction.

The feature of the law creating the county boards of education and giving them the right to condemn school houses and to approve the plans for new ones is something that has been needed for some time.

"There is no law which makes it the county officials duty to step in and say that a school is unfit for the children of this state to occupy. The state board of control is given the power to condemn prisons and other buildings of the state under their supervision. It is more necessary that the buildings that house the very flower of the state's population should be condemned or ordered repaired when they become uninhabitable.

"All plans for school buildings should be supervised by boards competent to judge how a school house should be built. The country architect often does not know how the school houses should be built. He does not as a rule keep up on the latest methods of placing the blackboards and other equipment of the school house. If there is a competent board to overlook the plans, aided by the county superintendent, the standard of school buildings in the common school districts will be improved greatly.

"In respect to raising the salaries of the county superintendents, I think that an excellent move. At present they are the lowest paid county officials who have daily duties to perform. The county superintendents should at least get a salary sufficient to pay traveling expenses and allow them to live properly.

THE SON OF EX- U. S. MINISTER TO ENGLAND

Commends Pe-ru-na to All Catarrh Sufferers.

Hon. Lewis E. Johnson

Hon. Louis E. Johnson is the son of the late Reverdy Johnson who was United States Senator from Maryland, also Attorney General under President Johnson, and United States Minister to England, and who was regarded as the greatest constitutional lawyer that ever lived.

In a recent letter from 1006 F St., N. W., Washington, D.C., Mr. Johnson says:

"No one should longer suffer from catarrh when Peruna is accessible. To my knowledge it has caused relief to so many of my friends and acquaintances, that it is humanity to commend its use to all persons suffering with this distressing disorder of the human system."---Louis E. Johnson.

Catarrh Poisons.

Catarrh is capable of changing all the life-giving secretions of the body into scalding fluids, which destroy and inflame every part they come in contact with. Applications to the places affected by catarrh can do little good save to soothe or quiet disagreeable symptoms. Hence it is that gargles, sprays, atomizers and inhalants only serve as temporary relief.

There is but one remedy that has the desired effect, and that remedy is Peruna. This remedy strikes at once to the roots of catarrh by restoring to the capillary vessels their healthy elasticity. Peruna is not a temporary palliative, but a radical cure.

S. A. Swanson, W. H. Krueger, Charles Gerlach and Herman Wolf left yesterday for the northeastern part of the county, where they will spend a week hunting deer.

Napoleon Delage has resigned his position as sexton of St. Joseph's church and is succeeded by Dennis Cyr. Mr. Delage expects to leave in the near future for Washington.

The Big Store is offering great values in suits and overcoats. You should not fail to visit this popular store for your clothing, as they show a fine line of goods at popular prices.

The adjourned session of the Red Lake district court meets next Monday. There are a number of important cases on the calendar, and it is likely that the term will last at least ten days.

Mrs. A. J. Schaeffer of Adrian, Minn., arrived Tuesday for an extended visit at the home of Mrs. John E. King. Mrs. Schaeffer is the wife of the editor of the Adrian Democrat.

P. B. Gaass and Dr. F. F. Flethher are in the northeastern part of the county this week after big game. They are good hunters and usually come home with a goodly supply of venison and moose.

Chris Anderson of Marshall county and Miss Tona Sordahl of Thief River Falls were married Tuesday at the probate office by Judge Tarrant. The happy couple will reside on a farm north of Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs, Jacob Fogle of North Manchester, Ind., are guests at the home of John E. King this week. Mrs. Fogle is an aunt of Mrs. King. They are on their way to California for an extended visit during the winter.

Wilfred and Ephriam Chatel have purchased George Robillard's residence property at the corner of Sixth and State streets. They are building a new barn on the place and expect to move into town in a few days.

Mrs. Joseph Hayton and family are expected from Bemidji in a few days to made their home here during the winter. Mr. Hayton will be employed as foreman of a lumber camp in New Mexico for the next six months.

Forty hours' devotion will be held at St. Mary's church on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 27, 28 and 29. A number of visiting prelates will assist Father Ansgar in the exercises. Further details will be given next week.

Geo. T. Lang, who has been farming in Louisville township this summer, left Tuesday for his old home at Cottonwood, Minn., and does not expect to return to Red Lake Falls. Mr. Lang is a fine young man and we are sorry to lose him.

Mrs. Nettie Simpson, who has been the guest of her brother, Dr. J. C. Wilkinson, for several weeks, left Monday evening for her home at Iowa Falls, Iowa. The Doctor's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilkinson, will remain here and in Poplar River all winter.

The official vote of Red Lake county by townships is printed this week. Care has been used to make this table accurate, and if you are at all interested in Red Lake county politics it might pay to cut it out and place it in a convenient place for the next campaign.

The first meeting of the Red Lake County Teachers' association will be held Saturday at the high school building in Red Lake Falls. A large attendance of the teachers from the southern part of the county is expected. Later in the year meetings will be held at Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire.

Miss Maud Findeisen entertained a few of her young friends last Saturday at luncheon in honor of her eighteenth birthday anniversary. The guests were Misses Ida Lemieux, Ella Krueger, Margaret Kaus, Florence Dautremont, Iza Tibbetts, Rose Harren and Orilla Hennemuth.

The Northern Minnesota Milling company reports the shipment of a car of flour to San Francisco this week. Minnesota is in great demand in California, as well as all over the world. There is no wheat raised in any country which produces as good bread-making flour as the Red River valley hard spring wheat.

The high school library now contains over 500 books, many of them late popular works of the best authors. The public generally is invited to make free use of this library. Several entertainments will be given this winter by the high school and the proceeds used in making still further additions to the library.

Dr. N. M. Watson, Sam Hunt, Ralph Wyer, S. A. Swanson, S. S. Haislet, Fred Richard, Raymond Dautremont and Harry B. Healy attended the Minnesota-Wisconsin foot ball game at Minneapolis Saturday. They all say it was a great game and the crowd was larger than at any previous foot ball exhibition in the state.

D. D. Daly, special agent for the St. Paul Fire and Marine, was a business visitor to the city yesterday. Mr. Daly is a brother of M. J. Daly, twice a candidate for congress from this district. Like the rest of the family Mr. Daly is an ardent Democrat and contributed not a little to the election of Johnson in the late campaign.

Joseph Leicht, the well-known editor of the Westlicher Herold, published at Winona, made his annual call on his Red Lake Falls subscribers today. Mr. Leicht is one of the most successful German publishers in the country, and has amassed a comfortable fortune out of the business. He expects to go to Europe next spring for an extended vacation.

A man giving his name as Edwin Olson was found wandering about the country in Terrebonne township Saturday was brought before Judge Tarrant to be examined for insanity. At the examination, conducted by Drs. Wilkinson and Lemieux, Mr. Olson was declared to be of unbalanced mind. He was taken to Fergus Falls that evening by Sheriff Linnihan and Adam Zeh.

The entertainment given by the Grace Charlesworth company at Thief River Falls last night created great enthusiasm. All of the numbers were applauded to the echo, and the performances of the violinist were exceptionally good. The Thief River people say that our people will be sure to enjoy the concert, which will be given at the opera house tomorrow evening under auspices of the high school.

Crookston Journal: Art Zaiser, the genial Red Lake Falls miller, who superintends the manufacture of Mascot flour at that place, spent Sunday in the city with friends and acquaintances. The mill at the Falls broke down last Friday and the wait while repairs were being made and new machinery obtained was enjoyed by the employees as a sort of breathing spell. The castings needed arrived yesterday morning, however, and work will be begun at the mill sometime today.

The Study club met at the K. of P. hall Tuesday evening for the purpose of perfecting an organization. The officers elected are as follows; President, E. W. Chamberlain; Mrs. E. F. Marshall, vice president; W. A. McIntyre, secretary; Mrs. S. M. Sivertson, treasurer. The next meeting of the club will be held November 28, and after that it is the intention to meet every week. The study of Shakespeare's works will be taken up this winter. A program committee, of which Chas. E. Boughton is chairman, has been appointed.

An expert for the Flour City gasoline engine company was in town this week and took out to Wanke a complete traction gasoline engine and feed grinder, purchased through Joseph's Helm's agency some weeks ago. The expert gave an exhibition of the engine on Champagne avenue a few days ago and a large crowd gathered to admire the machine. There is a growing demand for traction gasoline engines for threshing and other purposes, and Mr. Helm expects to have quite a large trade on them next year.

The state dairy and food commission recommends the enactment of a license fee to be charged car peddlers. It seems that in Iowa such a law exists and that as a result these fakirs are being driven over into Minnesota. They carry a very inferior class of goods, much of it impure and not up to the standard exacted by the dairy and food commission. As a result they make a great deal of trouble which might be obviated by the charging of a license fee so high as to be prohibitive.

Crookston Journal: J. V. Godfrey, the traveling representative of the Crookston and Red Lake Falls Milling companies went out on the Duluth line this morning to jolly up the trade. He says that the sale of Crookston and Red Lake Falls flour products have been excellent and that the demand for Cremo has been bigger than the supply for sometime past. He has an extensive territory and Cremo and Mascot brands are extensively advertised in all the towns that he makes.

All three of the state amendments were carried in Red Lake county at the late election. The amendment increasing the gross earnings tax of railroads from three to four per cent. received 1914 affirmative votes and 166 negative. The second amendment providing for the loaning of the permanent school and university funds to or the purchase of bonds of cities, villages, towns, counties and school districts received 1568 affirmative votes and 229 negative. The third amendment providing for criminal prosecutions and the rights of the accused was carried by a vote of 1315 to 350.

Simon Paul is this week in receipt of a letter from his son, Edward, dated at Malate Barracks, Manila, P. I. He states that he is enjoying the best of health, and that he has been relieved as post school teacher and appointed company clerk, a position offering plenty of opportunities to learn all kinds of clerical and general office work. Mr. Paul's regiment will stay in Manila for about one year yet, and then go back to the United States and be stationed in California. Mr. Paul says that he is studying hard and expects to be made a non-commissioned officer in the near future.

S. A. Swanson, W. H. Krueger, Charles Gerlach and Herman Wolf left yesterday for the northeastern part of the county, where they will spend a week hunting deer.

Napoleon Delage has resigned his position as sexton of St. Joseph's church and is succeeded by Dennis Cyr. Mr. Delage expects to leave in the near future for Washington.

The Big Store is offering great values in suits and overcoats. You should not fail to visit this popular store for your clothing, as they show a fine line of goods at popular prices.

The adjourned session of the Red Lake district court meets next Monday. There are a number of important cases on the calendar, and it is likely that the term will last at least ten days.

Mrs. A. J. Schaeffer of Adrian, Minn., arrived Tuesday for an extended visit at the home of Mrs. John E. King. Mrs. Schaeffer is the wife of the editor of the Adrian Democrat.

P. B. Gaass and Dr. F. F. Flethher are in the northeastern part of the county this week after big game. They are good hunters and usually come home with a goodly supply of venison and moose.

Chris Anderson of Marshall county and Miss Tona Sordahl of Thief River Falls were married Tuesday at the probate office by Judge Tarrant. The happy couple will reside on a farm north of Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs, Jacob Fogle of North Manchester, Ind., are guests at the home of John E. King this week. Mrs. Fogle is an aunt of Mrs. King. They are on their way to California for an extended visit during the winter.

Wilfred and Ephriam Chatel have purchased George Robillard's residence property at the corner of Sixth and State streets. They are building a new barn on the place and expect to move into town in a few days.

Mrs. Joseph Hayton and family are expected from Bemidji in a few days to made their home here during the winter. Mr. Hayton will be employed as foreman of a lumber camp in New Mexico for the next six months.

Forty hours' devotion will be held at St. Mary's church on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, November 27, 28 and 29. A number of visiting prelates will assist Father Ansgar in the exercises. Further details will be given next week.

Geo. T. Lang, who has been farming in Louisville township this summer, left Tuesday for his old home at Cottonwood, Minn., and does not expect to return to Red Lake Falls. Mr. Lang is a fine young man and we are sorry to lose him.

Mrs. Nettie Simpson, who has been the guest of her brother, Dr. J. C. Wilkinson, for several weeks, left Monday evening for her home at Iowa Falls, Iowa. The Doctor's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilkinson, will remain here and in Poplar River all winter.

The official vote of Red Lake county by townships is printed this week. Care has been used to make this table accurate, and if you are at all interested in Red Lake county politics it might pay to cut it out and place it in a convenient place for the next campaign.

The first meeting of the Red Lake County Teachers' association will be held Saturday at the high school building in Red Lake Falls. A large attendance of the teachers from the southern part of the county is expected. Later in the year meetings will be held at Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire.

Miss Maud Findeisen entertained a few of her young friends last Saturday at luncheon in honor of her eighteenth birthday anniversary. The guests were Misses Ida Lemieux, Ella Krueger, Margaret Kaus, Floreuce Dautremont, Iza Tibbetts, Rose Harren and Orilla Hennemuth.

The Northern Minnesota Milling company reports the shipment of a car of flour to San Francisco this week. Minnesota is in great demand in California, as well as all over the world. There is no wheat raised in any country which produces as good bread-making flour as the Red River valley hard spring wheat.

The high school library now contains over 500 books, many of them late popular works of the best authors. The public generally is invited to make free use of this library. Several entertainments will be given this winter by the high school and the proceeds used in making still further additions to the library.

Dr. N. M. Watson, Sam Hunt, Ralph Wyer, S. A. Swanson, S. S. Haislet, Fred Richard, Raymond Dautremont and Harry B. Healy attended the Minnesota-Wisconsin foot ball game at Minneapolis Saturday. They all say it was a great game and the crowd was larger than at any previous foot ball exhibition in the state.

D. D. Daly, special agent for the St. Paul Fire and Marine, was a business visitor to the city yesterday. Mr. Daly is a brother of M. J. Daly, twice a candidate for congress from this district. Like the rest of the family Mr. Daly is an ardent Democrat and contributed not a little to the election of Johnson in the late campaign.

Joseph Leicht, the well-known editor of the Westlicher Herold, published at Winona, made his annual call on his Red Lake Falls subscribers today. Mr. Leicht is one of the most successful German publishers in the country, and has amassed a comfortable fortune out of the business. He expects to go to Europe next spring for an extended vacation.

A man giving his name as Edwin Olson was found wandering about the country in Terrebonne township Saturday was brought before Judge Tarrant to be examined for insanity. At the examination, conducted by Drs. Wilkinson and Lemieux, Mr. Olson was declared to be of unbalanced mind. He was taken to Fergus Falls that evening by Sheriff Linnihan and Adam Zeh.

The entertainment given by the Grace Charlesworth company at Thiei River Falls last night created great enthusiasm. All of the numbers were applauded to the echo, and the performances of the violinist were exceptionally good. The Thief River people say that our people will be sure to enjoy the concert, which will be given at the opera house tomorrow evening under auspices of the high school.

Crookston Journal: Art Zaiser, the genial Red Lake Falls miller, who superintends the manufacture of Mascot flour at that place, spent Sunday in the city with friends and acquaintances. The mill at the Falls broke down last Friday and the wait while repairs were being made and new machinery obtained was enjoyed by the employees as a sort of breathing spell. The castings needed arrived yesterday morning, however, and work will be begun at the mill sometime today.

The Study club met at the K. of P. hall Tuesday evening for the purpose of perfecting an organization. The officers elected are as follows: President, E. W. Chamberlain; Mrs. E. F. Marshall, vice president; W. A. McIntyre, secretary; Mrs. S. M. Sivertson, treasurer. The next meeting of the club will be held November 28, and after that it is the intention to meet every week. The study of Shakespeare's works will be taken up this winter. A program committee, of which Chas. E. Boughton is chairman, has been appointed.

An expert for the Flour City gasoline engine company was in town this week and took out to Wanke a complete traction gasoline engine and feed grinder, purchased through Joseph's Helm's agency some weeks ago. The expert gave an exhibition of the engine on Champagne avenue a few days ago and a large crowd gathered to admire the machine. There is a growing demand for traction gasoline engines for threshing and other purposes, and Mr. Helm expects to have quite a large trade on them next year.

The state dairy and food commission recommends the enactment of a license fee to be charged car peddlers. It seems that in Iowa such a law exists and that as a result these fakirs are being driven over into Minnesota. They carry a very inferior class of goods, much of it impure and not up to the standard exacted by the dairy and food commission. As a result they make a great deal of trouble which might be obviated by the charging of a license fee so high as to be prohibitive.

Crookston Journal: J. V. Godfrey, the traveling representative of the Crookston and Red Lake Falls Milling companies went out on the Duluth line this morning to jolly up the trade. He says that the sale of Crookston and Red Lake Falls flour products have been excellent and that the demand for Cremo has been bigger than the supply for sometime past. He has an extensive territory and Cremo and Mascot brands are extensively advertised in all the towns that he makes.

All three of the state amendments were carried in Red Lake county at the late election. The amendment increasing the gross earnings tax of railroads from three to four per cent. received 1914 affirmative votes and 166 negative. The second amendment providing for the loaning of the permanent school and university funds to or the purchase of bonds of cities, villages, towns, counties and school districts received 1568 affirmative votes and 229 negative. The third amendment providing for criminal prosecutions and the rights of the accused was carried by a vote of 1315 to 350.

Simon Paul is this week in receipt of a letter from his son, Edward, dated at Malate Barracks, Manila, P. I. He states that he is enjoying the best of health, and that he has been relieved as post school teacher and appointed company clerk, a position offering plenty of opportunities to learn all kinds of clerical and general office work. Mr. Paul's regiment will stay in Manila for about one year yet, and then go back to the United States and be stationed in California. Mr. Paul says that he is studying hard and expects to be made a non-commissioned officer in the near future.

OYAMA READY TO MARCH ON MUKDEN

INDICATIONS POINT TO EARLY RESUMPTION OF MILITARY OPERATIONS.

KUROPATKIN PREPARED TO ACCEPT BATTLE

General Kuroki Reported Killed, and Nodzu Now in Command—Japs Declare They Will Capture Port Arthur on Next Assault.

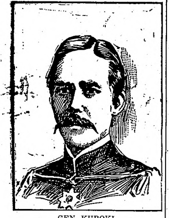
St. Petersburg, Nov. 15.—The latest indications from the front point to an early resumption of military operations on a large scale. Field Marshal Oyama has received heavy reenforcements from Newchwang and evidently is about ready to wage battle for the possession of Mukden. The Japanese are showing particular activity on their right flank, as if they were contemplating a turning movement from that direction. Gen. Kuropatkin has fortified his positions along the Shakhe river and as he seemingly is prepared to accept a battle he doubtless has made dispositions to block a flanking operation. According to the opinion of the military authorities here his left flank is secure.

Signs of Activity.

Mukden, Nov. 15.—Since Sunday signs of a serious engagement taking place within the next few days have been increasing. The Japanese are displaying great activity eastward. Fears are beginning to be expressed that the railroad will not be able to bring up sufficient supplies. The Japanese on the night of November 12 attacked the village of Vuchanin simultaneously on three sides, but were driven off with little loss. Saturday passed quietly. There was occasional artillery firing along the line, and especially on the forts.

General Kuroki Killed.

Moscow, Nov. 15.—Nemirovich Danchenko, the well-known Russian war correspondent, telegraphing from Mukden, says the reports of the death of Gen. Kuroki are confirmed. According to his version a splinter from a shell struck Gen. Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast and abdomen. He died October 4 at Liaoyang, and his body was sent to Japan. A rumor is persistently circulated that a kinsman of the mikado, Siaosandi, literally "Little Third Prince," has been appointed to succeed Gen. Kuroki.



GEN. KUROKI.
(Reported Killed by a Russian Shell.)

The actual command of the army, however, has been intrusted to Gen. Nodzu, who is reviewing operations.

Tunnel Up to Forts.

London, Nov. 15.—That the main defenses at Port Arthur will be carried by the Japanese at the next assault, if they have not fallen already, is indicated by a belated dispatch from Gen. Nogi's headquarters. A correspondent declares that the siege preparations are complete and have been of the most thorough character. The rocky hills have been tunneled with the most arduous labor until the Japanese works extend to within 100 yards of the parapets of the forts. Through these tunnels the Japanese can march to the fortifications without losing a man and avoid the fire which has exterminated their regiments in nearly all the previous assaults.

More Troops for Front.

London, Nov. 15.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at St. Petersburg asserts that the emperor has decided to send out the second division of infantry of the guards as soon as the troops already called out shall have been dispatched to Manchuria. The guards usually are only sent to the front when there is a monarch or a grand duke in command. The dispatch of these troops, the correspondent adds, shows the determination of the emperor to struggle to the bitter end.

Blockade Extended.

The Japanese blockade of Port Arthur, according to a dispatch from Chefoo November 13 to the Daily Telegraph, has now been extended to a distance of 30 miles.

Gold for Europe.

New York, Nov. 15.—A total of $3,700,000 in gold bars was engaged at the assay office Monday for shipment to Paris on Thursday. Of this amount the National City bank will ship $1,600,000, the Royal Bank of Canada $1,100,000 and $1,000,000 will be sent by Lazard Freres.

Ten Killed in Ambush.

Manila, Nov. 15.—The news has been received here that nine scouts of the Thirty-eighth company and one American attached to the hospital corps have been killed in an ambush on the east coast of Samar.

President-Elect of the United States.

VOTERS EXPRESS THEIR CHOICE

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET IS ELECTED BY A MOST REMARKABLE PLURALITY.

Landslide to Roosevelt and Fairbanks, Who Have a Plurality on the Popular Vote of Over 2,000,000—A Few of the Results.

New York, Nov. 14.—Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, and Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, will receive, according to the latest returns from the election last Tuesday, 343 electoral votes for president and vice president, as against 133 votes for Parker and Davis, the democratic candidates. The total popular vote is estimated at 14,500,000, of which Roosevelt received 8,356,500; Parker, 6,143,500; Roosevelt's plurality, 2,213,000. President Roosevelt has announced that he will not be a candidate for another term.

How Some of the States Went.

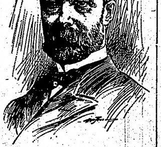
It will require the official count to determine whether Maryland will be placed in the republican or democratic column. From the returns thus far received the indications are that the republicans have elected seven and the democrats one of the electors of that state.

While Massachusetts gave Roosevelt about 80,000 plurality, W. L. Douglass, the democratic candidate for governor, was elected, defeating Gov. Bates by about 37,000.

Missouri is another state which elected a democratic governor, while giving its electoral vote to Roosevelt by 30,000 plurality. Joseph W. Folk (dem.) defeated Walbridge (rep.) for governor by a plurality of between 25,000 and 30,000.

In Colorado the plurality of Adams (dem.) over Peabody (rep.) for governor is nearly 10,000. The plurality for Roosevelt, however, is about 12,000.

The result of the election in Wisconsin shows that Roosevelt carried the state by a plurality estimated at about 130,000, and that Gov. La Follette was reelected by about 50,000 plurality.



CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.
Vice President-Elect of the United States.

Roosevelt carried every county in Michigan, the state giving him a plurality of about 150,000, while Warner (rep.) for governor has only 55,154 over Ferris (dem.). A notable feature of the Michigan election is that the republicans secured every member of the legislature.

A plurality of 75,000 is claimed for Roosevelt in Indiana.

Illinois elected Deneen, republican candidate for governor, by over 250,000 plurality, and gave about 267,000 plurality to the republican national ticket.

Nearly complete returns from Ohio show close to 250,000 for the Roosevelt and Fairbanks electors.

In Iowa the entire republican ticket was elected, Roosevelt securing about 140,000 plurality.

Plurality for Roosevelt in New York was 174,000, and in Pennsylvania 494,000.

The Electoral Vote.

The following table shows the results in the various states, as compiled from the latest returns and the electoral vote of the states:

The Next Congress.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Election returns indicate that the Fifty-ninth congress will stand as follows: Senate—Republicans, 56; democrats, 32; doubtful, 2; republican majority, 24. House—Republicans, 247; democrats, 137; doubtful, 2; republican majority, 110.

SHAW DENIES RUMOR.

Secretary Has No Intention of Calling, at This Time, for Loan of $20,000,000 to Government.

Washington, Nov. 14.—In view of the published statement that Secretary of the Treasury Shaw would make a call on government depositories for a loan of $20,000,000, it can be positively stated that no such call in the immediate future is contemplated. There is at the present time, it was said, no pressing need for such a call. Should it be made at all, the probabilities are that it will be some time during the month of January. Secretary Shaw said he had heard from several quarters that he proposed issuing the call, but it may be stated on authority that the call will not be issued until January, and may not then unless some reason develops for its issuance sooner, which at the present time is not felt to be the case.

Young Lady Killed.

Stockton, Cal., Nov. 14.—Miss Anna Buddick, of this city, aged 23, was killed in an automobile accident Sunday. She and a male companion were sitting on the back of a three-seated vehicle, their feet hanging over the rear, when her dress was caught in the chain and she was thrown off and dragged a considerable distance along the pavement.

Quarrel Ends in Murder.

Martinsville, Ind., Nov. 14.—Albert Bowman was shot and killed by Edward Thomas during a quarrel at Louisville. Thomas fled after the shooting, but was pursued and captured at Gosport. Jealousy is assigned as the cause of the quarrel.

Four Perished.

New York, Nov. 12.—Capt. Robert Walton, his wife and two seamen, lost their lives Wednesday night off Barnegat light, when the United States supply ship Culgoa cut down the Norfolk lumber schooner Wilson and Hunting.

World's Fair Attendance.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—Admissions to the world's fair last week were 498,149; total admissions since the opening of the fair, 17,065,886.

MINNESOTA POLITICS.

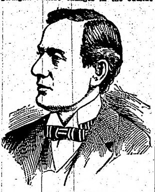
JOHNSON IS ELECTED GOVERNOR BY SAFE MAJORITY.

All Other Republican Nominees are Elected by Safe Figures. All Congressmen Republican.

John A. Johnson's plurality over R. C. Dunn for governor of Minnesota will be not far from 10,000.

Belated returns have somewhat reduced his lead, but the figures as given in table today will not be materially reduced.

Hennepin county complete except eight city precincts, gives Dunn 13,407, and Johnson 22,292, a plurality of 8,885 for Johnson. This lead in Hennepin is much larger than looked for, and larger than the first returns indicated. The early figures from the outside counties have been scaled down somewhat in favor of Dunn, as returns have come in from the back districts. As a rule, these precincts show more of a tendency to vote the ticket straight. These changes in the outside counties are retrieved by the improved showing for Johnson in Hennepin.



JOHN A. JOHNSON.

R. C. Dunn and James A. Martin, his manager, have conceded Johnson's election. The Pioneer Press concedes the state to Johnson by 4,600.

The remainder of the republican state ticket is elected by varying majorities, including Ray W. Jones and the supreme court justices.

The next Minnesota house will consist of 107 republicans and twelve democrats. The Roosevelt wave swept away several democrats who had strong hopes of election, and the republicans have the strongest hold on the legislature that they have held in recent years.

Three of the democrats elected are from St. Paul and two from Minneapolis.

The senate will be as before, fifty-two republicans and eleven democrats. There was one election, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of A. F. Ferris, republican senator from the forty-eighth district. John T. Frater, republican was elected.

The legislature will therefore stand 159 republicans and twenty-two democrats on joint ballot, and it will take eighty votes to control the republican caucus.

Out of 119 house members sixty-three served in the last house, and eight others were in the 1901 legislature. There are forty-eight new members.

The following tables shows the latest returns on governor. Where only one figure is given, it is the plurality:

In the remaining districts the republican candidates ran pretty well with their ticket and were elected by good safe pluralities.

The vote in Hennepin, so far as congress is cocerned, was not obtainable last night, except scattering precincts, but it is certain that Fletcher is elected over Kohler, by a safe plurality.

Dunn held his own well in the Democratic districts, but strong republican districts were carried by Johnson, two to one, particularly in Hennepin county.

Minnesota will be represented in congress during the next two years by a solid republican delegation, the returns received during the night indicating that the republican candidates had been successful in every district in the state. In three of the districts, the fourth, seventh and ninth, there were no democratic candidates, and Congressmen Stevens, Volsted and Steenerson had things all their own way.

The only district in which there was a hot contest was the sixth, but the indications are that Congressmen Buckman has been re-elected over Van Dyke by a plurality in the neighborhood of 2,500.

McCleary's strength in the second was more than "Jones of Rock" could overcome, but the hard campaign made by Jones showed results in many localities, where McCleary failed to get his party vote.

Your Heart

May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise.

Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs.

Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc.

If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good.

If it doesn't—your money back.

"I was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right, and without a moment's warning would fall as though shot. The attacks were frequent, and a terrible dread possessed me, as I never knew when or where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked, and whether I would survive them. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used ten bottles, which entirely cured me, as I have not had an attack for five years."—MRS. JOHN DRESBACK, Leipsic, O.

The Suburban Home.

The suburban house expresses freedom from restraint; it is the home of children; it means purer air; it means more room to move around in; it means gardens, and it implies a social life which years of city living may never engender. These are matters of first importance, and when to them is added the material advantage of lower rents the superiority of the suburban house over the city dwelling is established. There are long rides by trolley or train; there is the necessity of keeping early hours; there are difficulties with limited grocery, butcher and bakery service; there are other practical drawbacks. But over and beyond these is the abiding space of freedom of movement, of ample air and sunlight, of a place to live in.

And that is exactly what a house is for. It is neither to look at nor to serve as an ornament to a highway. That it should be ornamental and should be viewed with interest are matters of course that are extremely desirable, but after all it is the house within that counts; that makes suburban life bearable, adds to its joys, increases its advantages, cements its superiority to every other sort of living unless it be the country life pure and undefiled.—House Beautiful.

A Marvelous Memory.

Cardinal Mezzofanti was possessed of a very wonderful memory, which he applied to the learning of a great number of languages. Lord Byron described him as "a walking polyglot, a monster of languages and a Briareus of parts of speech." He could learn a new language in the course of three weeks on occasion so as to be able to talk fluently with those whose tongue it was. At the age of fifty-four Mezzofanti knew fifty languages. Before his death he is said to have known seventy or eighty. More of these were European than most people would imagine to be the case. For instance, Wallachian, Illyrian, the Romani of the Alps, Lettish and Lappish figured among the twenties in his list, for the remainder of which he went to other continents. Mezzofanti's system of learning languages was simple enough where books were available. He read the grammar through, after which he was its master, for he never forgot what he had read. Many of his languages were learned from prisoners whom he visited in their affliction.

The Monocle Habit.

The single eyeglass, or monocle, never found many admirers in this country, and only a few transplanted Englishmen cling to it. An oculist, discussing the use of the monocle, said: "Dr. Kitchener back in 1824 thought it a good thing. He advised its alternate use, now in the right eye, now in the left one. He said in his book that he had cultivated the habit of picking up the glass each time he wanted to use it with a different hand. Of course picked up with the right hand it had to go into the right eye, and vice versa. As a matter of fact, the single eyeglass is injurious. It throws all the work on one eye. It destroys the harmony of the optic muscles and nerves. I know an Englishman who has worn for a myopic affection a monocle in his left eye for twelve years. The left eye is all right, but with the other the man can see practically nothing. The habit of the monocle continues to live among the English swells."

Yet He Wasn't Tired of Her.

A certain English musician is a good story teller, according to a London journal, and has a fund of amusing personal experiences to draw upon. One of the great musician's best stories is about a provincial church organist who was once a pupil of his. The young man was appointed to an important church in the Midlands. In course of time he married. During his absence on his honeymoon his voluntaries were much missed by the congregation. They had always been appreciated and their renewal was looked forward to. "Imagine," says Sir Frederick Bridge, "the intense amusement of the people when the newly married organist gave as his first voluntary upon his return Handel's 'Waft Her, Angels, to the Skies.'"

Arab Lying.

The following characterization of the Arab penchant for not telling the truth is from a paper by Dr. G. Saint-Paul on the Tunisians: "Arab lying is exasperating. It is absurd and victorious. It triumphs easily over the critical sense and the habit of scientific reasoning. It is sometimes childish. Your native servants will never be taken unawares. You forbid one of them to smoke in your dining room and you surprise him there with a cigarette in his mouth. 'You were smoking.' 'No.' 'I saw you.' 'Impossible.' 'You had a cigarette in your mouth; you are hiding it in your hand; there it is!' 'Then God put it in my hand.' The native denies always. Taken red handed he denies. Beneath blows he denies. Pain is sometimes powerless to make him confess, even at the point of death. This obstinacy is due in part to the high idea he has of his dignity. His pride forbids him a confession, because the avowal of his lying is infinitely humiliating in his eyes. The fear of losing 'face' is all powerful in him. To recognize a fault is more shameful than to have committed it. Hence the peculiar obstinacy of the native in denying, even when it would be to his interest to confess, an obstinacy not manifested in other ways."—Journal of American Folk Lore.

The Meek and Lowly Bulldog.

The bulldog of to-day is quite a different animal from the one which earned his name and fame from his prowess in the bull-baiting ring in times past. Then it was what the dog could do, and not how he looked, that decided merits. Now it is usually appearance alone which decides, and we have a vastly different dog not only in appearance, but also in disposition. Indeed, one objection against the bulldog is his "obtrusive affectionateness." Among the votaries of the bulldog are many ladies, who would not for a moment think of taking up with fighting dogs, and if the opportunity is accepted to see bulldogs in a judging ring you will note no such anxiety on the part of the holders of the chain to keep their charges apart, as in a great many breeds. You will also see that the judge handles them with no precaution of the advanced fist as a preliminary.—Country Life in America.

Secret of Death Gulch.

Death gulch, in the Yellowstone park, is a narrow, rocky, steep-bottomed ravine, with comparatively level floors or shelves one above another. It was discovered in 1888, when the bodies of five bears, one elk, many small mammals and numerous insects were found lying on the bottom. Subsequent visitors have also seen many dead animals in the gulch, and one counted no less than seven bears. The place where these victims are found is a level shelf about 20 feet long. Last summer Dr. F. W. Traphagen visited the spot, with apparatus designed to analyze the air. He found outlets in the rock at the sides, from which poured air poisoned with more than one per cent. of sulphuretted hydrogen and more than 50 per cent. of carbon dioxid.—Youth's Companion.

Tobacco Invades London Guilds.

In the "good old days," when the wine circulated freely after dinner, and every bon viveur could gauge the merits of a glass of port, to have paid homage to the goddess Nicotine would have been almost an act of sacrilege. To-day a cigar is looked upon as the inevitable sequel to a dinner. For a long while the more sedate city guilds resented this departure from precedent, but one by one they have conceded the point, and now the last of the "old guard" has fallen into line. The Goldsmiths' company has just granted permission to smoke as soon as the loyal toasts have been honored.—London City Press.

Working on a Russian Holiday.

In view of the notorious laziness of the Russian peasant, writes our St. Petersburg correspondent, it will be interesting to watch the effect of the new law permitting labor on Sundays and festivals. The strict observance of these days dates from the serf period, when the people naturally work as little as possible. Nowadays peasants who try to work on any of the 200 Russian holidays are often forcibly prevented from doing so by their neighbors. In the towns also servants frequently declare that their hands will fall off if they work on a sacred day, which they spend in eating and drinking.—London Mail.

Cruelty to Song Birds.

Probably not one man in a million outside the initiated knows that many of the birds which compete for singing prizes are blind; that the men who own them have passed a red-hot skewer across their retina and destroyed their sight forever. The reason for doing so is that the birds, hearing the notes of others which they cannot see, imagine themselves in the fields again, and ring out their challenges to supposititious lords of equally visionary glade and dell.—London Tit-Bits.

ELECTION FIGURES.

Majorities for Governor of Minnesota the Past Eighteen Years.

Minnesota has given some close Republican pluralities in the past eighteen years during political upheavals over state affairs. In 1886 Dr. Ames ran against A. R. McGill, Republican, who was elected by a vote of 107,064 to 104,464. Majority, 2,600. In 1890 W. R. Merriam, Republican, defeated Thomas Wilson, Democrat, by 88,111 to 85,844. Majority, 2,267. In 1896 David M. Clough, Republican, defeated John Lind, Democratic People's party candidate by 165,806 to 162,651. Majority, 3,415. In 1900 Samuel R. Van Sant, Republican, defeated John Lind, Democratic People's party candidate by 152,905 to 150,651. Majority, 2,254. In 1892 Knute Nelson, Republican, defeated Daniel W. Lawler, Democratic candidate by only 14,620 votes in a campaign where Ignatius Donnelly, of the People's party, got 39,863 votes. Nelson got 109,220 and Lawler, 94,600 In 1898 John Lind, Democratic People's party candidate defeated William H. Eustis, Republican, by 131,890 to 111,796. Majority, 20,184. In 1894 there was a candidate each for the Democratic and People's party and these two candidates drew within 6,529 votes of the Republican candidate, the result being, Knute Nelson, Republican, 147,943; George L. Becker, Democrat, 53,584; Sidney M. Owen, 87,890.—Northfield News.

STATUS OF DITCH BONDS.

Held They Are Not to Be Counted in Determining Debt Limit.

The supreme court Friday handed down a decision in the locally famous courthouse bonds fight which Norman county has had on its hands for a long time. The most interesting feature of the decision is the holding that ditch bonds are not to be taken into consideration in determining the debt limit of a county. There are many counties in the state which have issued such bonds.

The action upon which decision is rendered was brought against the board of county commissioners by J. O. Johnson. The syllabus is as follows:

Action to enjoin the erection of a court house and the issuing of county bonds on warrants to pay therefor. Held:

First—That in determining the debt limit of the county ditch bonds are not to be taken into consideration.

Second—The findings of the trial court to the effect that the defendants did not intend to issue the warrants of the county in payment of the contract price for the erection of a courthouse are not sustained by the evidence. Judgment reversed and new trial granted.

DREAD OF HUMANITY

I am compelled by a sense of gratitude to tell you the great good your remedy has done me in a case of Contagious Blood Poison. Among other symptoms I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism, and got almost past going. The disease got a firm hold upon my system; my blood was thoroughly poisoned with the virus. I lost in weight, was run down, had sore throat, eruptions, splotches and other evidences of the disease. I was truly in a bad shape when I began the use of S. S. S., but the persistent use of it brought me out of my trouble safe and sound, and I have the courage to publicly testify to the virtues of your great blood remedy, S. S. S., and to recommend it to all blood-poison sufferers, sincerely believing if it is taken according to directions, and given a fair trial, it will thoroughly eliminate every particle of the virus. FIRST BAND CONCERT.

cheduled for Monday Evening Next, November 21.

The first indoor band concert of the winter season of 1904-1905, will be given at the Metropolitan Opera house on Monday evening, November 21.

The band has had a busy fall, and on account of the hurry of the campaign could not make arrangements to give a concert during October, will be made up during the winter, however, by doubling in some months.

A brand new lot of the latest and best music is ready to be tackled by the band, and the programs this winter promise to be varied and highly enjoyable.

Dr. N. M. Watson came up from Red Lake Falls yesterday afternoon. He was on his way to Minneapolis to see the Minnesota Wisconsin football game. Considering what has happened the genial doctor is lucky to have money enough left to make the trip. Quite a number of us will stay home and be good for awhile.

Manager H. D. Pettibone and Foreman Fred Stapleton went down to Crookston Thursday evening to confer with Mr. Shevlin in regard to the alterations in the saw mill here for the coming season. They seem to be undecided whether to put in a gang, another band or a re-saw, and the meeting at Crookston is to decide the question. It seems to be a settled frct that the mill will be enlarged and the prevailing opinion is that a re-saw will be put in. This would increase the cut about 25 per cent. There will be plenty of logs for next spring and the mill will start as soom as the season will permit.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

CONCERT TOMORROW NIGHT.

Ladies' Musical Club to Appear in Red Lake Falls.

The concert to be given tomorrow (Friday) evening at the Metropolitan by the Ladies' Musical club is one of the best attractions ever brought to Red Lake Falls. The entertainment is to be given under the auspices of the high school, and is deserving of a large patronage. In regard to the attraction the Bemidji Pioneer says;

"The appearance of the Charlesworth company at the opera house last evening was signalized by a large attendance. The concert was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Musicial club and was a complete success from a financial as well as from a musical standpoint.

"Miss Charlesworth has a contralto voice of great power and purity and her every appearance brought forth an enthusiastic applause. Her "Response a Amoureuse" and her final number "Cradle Song" were especially fine. Mr. Copley is an English celloist of exceptional ability and his selections were thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Berryman's voice is sweet and musical and the company as a whole is a strong one.

"The Ladies' Musical club is to be congratulated in securing so superior an attraction for Bemidji and in the success which it made of the entertainment.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Edited by the Spartan Society—Mayme Linnihan Blanche Berthiaume and Walter Jonhson, Reporters.

The Chemistry class worked on equations Monday.

Next week is Thanksgiving, we are thankful for a vacation.

Some of the for-get-ful boys and girls were sent home after their excuses last week.

The Athenians have rehearsed their society play once, which is to be given some time in December.

In the next edition of the Spartan Notes will appear a poem entitled. "The Night of November Third."

The Athenians gave a program last Friday although a good one, it was not the best one given this year.

The Spartan boys have decided to add another "S, to the High school banner which changes the banner into a "Donkey."

Mike Connaughty who has been absent for the last week returned to school Tuesday and was given a hearty welcome by the boys in the library.

A concert will be given at the opera house next Friday evening under the auspices of the foot ball team. Come one and all and make it a success as the boys are in debt and need the money.

The foot ball team is going to Thief River Falls next Saturday to play with the high school team there, which is made up of the high school boys and a number of outsiders. The boys expect a warm game.

Joe Toupin our worthy left guard went to Minneapolis last week to witness the great Minuesota-Wisconsin game. He returned Tuesday morning with his head crammed full of foot ball knowledge and if we are not mistaken he will make Thief River think that Sunny Thorpe is playing left guard instead of Joe Toupin.

All the Latin people died who wrote it,
All the people died who spoke it,
All the people die who learn it,
Blessed death, they surely earn it!
Lives of foot ball boys remind us,
They can write their names in blood,
And departing leave behind them
Half their faces in the mud.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hope less resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by All druggists. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF Red Lake. ss:

In Probate Court.
Special Term, November 16, 1904

In the matter of the Estate of Ole H. Haaven, deceased:

On receiving and filing the petition of Haaken H. Haaven, Garnes township, of the County of Red Lake, representing, among other things, that Ole H. Haaven, late of the County of Red Lake, in the State of Minnesota, on the 7th day of July, A. D. 1903, at the County of Red Lake, died intestate, and being an inhabitant of this County at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels and estate within this County, and that the said petitioner is a brother of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be to Hans Haaven granted;

It is Ordered, That said petition be heard before said Court, on Monday, the 12th day of Dec., A. D. 1904, at one o'clock p. m., at the Probate Office, in the Court House in the City of Red Lake Falls, in said County.

Ordered Further, That Notice thereof be given to the heirs of said deceased and to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Red Lake Courier, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Red Lake Falls, in said County.

Dated at Red Lake Falls, Minn., the 16th day November, A. D. 1904.

THE STATE TAX RATE.

State Auditor Iverson Has Formally Notified Auditor Ford.

S. G. Iverson, state auditor, has completed adding up the increases made by the state board of equalization in the various items of taxable property as returned by the county boards of equalization. Several interesting figures have been compiled from the results.

It has been computed that the state tax rate this year will be 1.5 mills. Notices were sent to the county auditors that the taxes will be apportioned to the funds in the following manner: 1.10 mills, soldier's relief fund, 2-10 mills, funding tax fund; 2-10 mills to agricultural college fund and 1 mill to the state revenue fund. In addition to this the county auditors are notified to levy 1.23-100 mills on all taxable property for the state school tax.

The total increase made by the state board on personal property this year is $12,717,696. The total amount as raised by the board is $169,447,692 as against $156,729,996 in 1903. Real estate was raised from $647,253,261 to $791,066,777, which makes the total assessable property in the state equal $870,514,469.

It has been found that there are 39,056,204 acres of land, exclusive of city and town lots, which is assessable. The value of the land, exclusive of structures and other improvements, is $382,223,240. The total raise in the valuation, as returned by the county boards on all classes of property, amounts in round numbers to $67,000,000.

CONTEST ON TREASURERSHIP

Karl M. Hansen Has Filed Notice Disputing the Claim of Ovide Moreau to Election.

Karl M. Hansen, Democratic candidate for county treasurer, who was defeated by seven votes on the face of the returns, has filed notice of contest against Ovide Moreau, the Republican candidate declared the winner by the county canvassing board. The contest will probably be determined at the present term of the district court.

Mr. Hansen is reticent as to the grounds for the contest, but it is learned from other sources that a recount of the ballots in four or five precincts will be asked for. If this fails to show a gain for him Mr. Hansen will endeavor to have the votes of one or two precincts thrown out on the ground of irregularity in conducting the election. Just what his claim will be is not known. County Attorney Grady has been retained to prosecute the case for Mr. Hansen, and it is given out that Congressman Halvor Steenerson will appear in behalf of Moreau.

If the case is not determined at the present term of court, or if appeal is taken to the supreme court by either party to the action neither aspirant can take the office, and it will devolve upon the board of county commissioner to select a treasurer to fill the vacancy.

It is understood that Treasurer Tandberg will not continue in office after the first of the year in any event, as he has made arrangements to move to Thief River Falls and assume the duties of cashier of the First Nstional Bank, a position to which he was chosen some months ago.

DIDN'T BAG THE DEER.

A Red Lake Falls Hunter is Victim of a Hoax.

Peter B. Gaass is just now in proper mood to pass the cigars. He is the victim of one of the most outrageous plots ever concocted to fool an enthusiastic and inoffensive hunter.

It seems that last week in company with Dr. Fletcher Mr. Gaass went out to Ralph Green's place in Equality with the expectation of taking a shot at a deer, and in this he was not disappointed. Fletcher remembered that the Garnes Woodmen had a deer in their hall which had been mounted by a skilled taxidermist and was enough like the real article to fool the closest observer. Well, Fletcher hired a man to drive to Garnes and secure the stuffed deer. They then took the deer out in the woods and propped it up against a tree. The next morning the hunters sallied forth in the direction of the trap the Doctor had planned and before long Gaass spied a handsome buck in the distance. He crawled on all fours for half a mile and finally shot three times without bringing down the game. Then he crawled some more and gave several more shots. In due course of time he discovered the hoax, and declares he will get even if it takes a hundred yeaas.

BRAKEMAN INJURED.

George W. Beach Fell in Alighting From Train at Dugdale.

Tuesday afternoon George W. Beach, a brakeman on the Northern Pacific fell in alighting from a rapidly moving northbound train at Dugdale and sustained serious scalp wounds. He was taken to Red Lake Falls where medical aid was secured, and was later taken to his home at Grand Forks where he will be confined some time before resuming his duties. His escape from fatal injuries is considered remarkable, as in falling he lit on his head.

Superintendent Sovereign, who was on his special car at the rear of the train was the first to see the accident and stopped the train at once. It was thought when Beach was picked up that he was dead but he soon came to and was fully conscious when he reached Red Lake Falls.

TEACHERS HOLD CONFERENCE

First Meeting of Red Lake County Teachers' Protective Association Last Saturday.

The first meeting of the Red Lake County Teachers' Protective association was held at the high school building in Red Lake Falls last Saturday. Some thirty teachers were present, which is considered a good attendance for the first meeting of the association.

The opening address was given by Superintendent Jeffers, who advised the members of the association to take hold of the work with vigilance, as the success of the cause depended largely upon the individual work of the members. An address on "Reading" was delivered by Prof. E. W. Chamberlain of the Red Lake Falls schools, and an essay on "Tennyson" by Mrs. W. A. McIntyre. The other papers read were as follows: "Works of Waters and Glaciers," by Miss Nannie Swanson; "Reformed Spelling," by Miss Bertha LaFreniere; "Friday Afternoon Recreations," by Miss Almeda Gonigam; "Children," by Miss Katie Berthiaume; and "Cleanliness in Children," by Mr. Harlow.

All of the papers showed intelligent preparation and were ably delivered. At the conclusion of the program questions of general interest were discussed. Six new members were enrolled.

The next meeting will be held at Thief River Falls on the last Saturday in January, and as it comes just before the state teachers' examinations it will be of great aid to those who intend to write the examinations. It is the purpose of the society to take up questions of general interest to the members, and it is expected that the next meeting will be more largely attended, as the program committee will take special pains to secure able speakers and advertise the meeting more extensively.

TRAIN SERVICE IS CHANGED

Great Northern's Greenbush Extension Ready for Traffic Next Monday Morning.

Mondry morning the Great Northern will inaugurate a sweeping change in time tables. The new Winnipeg service will be much faster than heretofore. Train No. 7 (the "Coonskin limited") will leave St. Paul at 5 p. m., arriving at Winnipeg at 7:30 a. m., which will bring the train into Crookston at 2 a. m. There will be no change in the time of the eastward train.

The Greenbush extension is now ready for train service and the first train will run Monday, leaving Crookston about 9 a. m., via St. Hilaire and Thief River. A stub train from St. Hilaire to Red Lake Falls will be run during the progress of the operations on the connection at this place. After the work here is completed the trains will be sent via Dugdale. The new service will do away with the necessity of "doubling" from Thief River, and the train will probably get to Red Lake Falls about 11 a m. and return to St. Hilaire about 3:30 p. m.

CARE FOR STOCK.

See That the Cattle and Other Animals Have Good Shelter.

Bad weather will soon be here, and those who have not thought about it should do so, and prepare for it without delay. Horses, cattle and poultry shuold have shelter. Owners of stock lose money when they fail to spend a little and money in protecting the same through the rough winter months. Visit the well-to-do farmers, and you will find the best stable and cattle stalls and the most healthy stock. Do you imagine because dumb animals never complain of the bleak winds and cold rains of winter that the weather does not effect them? Your faithful plow horse likes a comfortable place during bad weather just as well as you do.

TAKE THIEF RIVER IN TOW

Local High School Foot Ball Eleven Defeats Up-River Team By Score of 29 to 0.

The local high school foot ball team went to Thief River Falls last Friday and added one more game to their list of victories by winning from a team composed of high school and town players by a score of 29 to 0. The first few minutes of play was decidedly fast, the Thief River team being able to keep our boys from gaining and when in possession of the ball managed to make first down several times in succession. But at this point Captain Marshall and his men went into the game with all their old time spirit and soon had the ball over Thief River's goal line for a touch down. After that matters came easily.

Coach Wyer had during the last week of practice taught the Red Lake Falls team one of Minnesota's famous shift plays and this play seemed to entirely bewilder the Thief Riverities. This play was responsible for several long runs, two of which resulted in touchdowns from the middle of the field.

In justice to the Thief River team it should be said that the game was the first they have played this season. They play a hard game on offence but are weak in tackling on the defence. On several occasions the local boys made long runs because of the inability of the Thief River boys to tackle in the open field. There is a tendency on the part of some of the Thief River players to play dirty ball and on several occasions their players were guilty of offenses that should not have been allowed. But in extenuation of the boys it should be said that they were merely doing what Dr. Bockman, who has coached them, taught them.

There is little to be said about the playing of the home boys except that as usual every man was in the game at all times and put up a most creditable game. The boys were outweighed by the Thief River team but the extra weight seemed to count for but little against the fierce playing of our boys.

The game was marred all through by the dirty efforts of a few outsiders headed by Dr. Bockman to cause trouble. It is to be regretted that the unpleasantness arose as it will probably mean the severing of all relations between the two high schools. There certainly is no justification whatever for the rowdyism displayed by the Thief River coach and we are glad to state that the better element who were present at the game condemned him as did the members of the team which he attempted to coach. He will probably know hereafter that a man who has been 'steenth'extra on the third team of the state university can not come up into the woods and teach foot ball or run the whole game. Mr. Alvin Berg officiated as official for Thief River Falls to the entire satisfaction of both teams.

The Thief River game ended the season for the local high school team and we believe they are justified in claiming the championship of Northwestern Minnesota. The team has beaten every team in this part of the state by decisive scores with whom games could be arranged. The boys defeated Ada 17 to 0, Warren 51 to 0, Fosston 58 to 0, and Thief River 29 to 0, and have lost but one game and that to Grand Forks by a score of 12 to 0. Crookston the only other team in this section against whom the local team has not played lost to Grand Forks 40 to 0, and lost to Ada 5 to 0. So it would seem that the local boys have clear claim to the championship, especially as they have made repeated attempts to get a game with Crookston but the later seems to have avoided clashing with a team admittedly their superiors.

Hunters returning from the Northome county report that deer heads are selling at that place for the low price of 75c a piece and that a great many hunters who are unsuccessful in their pursuit of game procure trophies of their hunt by purchase. It is also reported that the easiest was to hunt is by means of a hand sled the woods being full of carcasses strung up by successful hunters. Thefts of strung vension have been frequent of late and hunters have their eyes pealed for the culprits who depleted their string trees.

TWELVE PERISH IN BROOKLYN FIRE

FLAMES DESTROY A TENEMENT HOUSE CROWDED WITH ITALIAN FAMILIES.

A Dozen of the Inmates Are Suffocated and Burned—Only One Survivor in Each of Two Families and These May Die.

New York, Nov. 21.—Smothered before they could reach the rear fire escape in a burning tenement building at No. 186 Troutman street, in the Williamsburg district of Brooklyn, 12 persons met death shortly before two o'clock Sunday morning. Two entire families, those of Maranio Triolo and Charles Polognio, are wiped out, the last living member of each being now in a hospital, with no hope of their recovery. They are Charles Polognio, 33 years old, and Tony Triolo, 13 years old, both of whom are terribly burned. Although, in the opinion of the coroner, all the dead were suffocated, the bodies were badly burned before they could be taken from the ruins by the firemen.

The Victims.

The dead are: The mother and two small children of the Polognio family, Maranio Triolo, his wife and three children; Marie Ambrosio, and her 18-year-old daughter; Mary Galigoni, 18, and Lonaria Grosseppi, aged 30. The total loss is estimated at $10,000.

All the bodies were found in the rear room of the third floor, and it was evident that all had been suffocated in their effort to reach the fire escape at the back of the building. The two who were rescued were found in the lower hallway soon after the firemen reached the scene. Working their way through the building the rescuers discovered the heap of dead on the third floor, and within a short time succeeded in taking out nine bodies, but the last was not found until after eight o'clock in the morning.

DEATH OF ARTHUR CATON.

Noted Clubman and Society Leader of Chicago, Expires Suddenly in New York.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Arthur J. Caton, long prominent in Chicago affairs, died suddenly at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York at ten o'clock Friday night. Mr. Caton had been suffering from liver trouble for two years, and his ailment took a severe turn Thursday. His heart had been weakened by the long illness and he was unable to rally from a severe attack with which he was seized Friday. Mr. Caton was a son of John Dean Caton, who was at one time chief justice of the supreme court of the state of Illinois. He had for years been one of the most prominent figures in Chicago society. As an entertainer of royalty and the nobility, a leader of cotillons, an exhibitor at the horse show and as the former president of the Chicago club, Mr. Caton's name has been known not alone to Chicagoans, but to every person of prominence who has ever visited Chicago.

COL. BRECKINRIDGE DEAD.

Former Congressman Passes Away at His Home in Kentucky—Was Famous on the Stump.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 21.—Col. William Campbell Preston Breckinridge died at 11:40 o'clock Saturday night from a stroke of paralysis sustained Wednesday. Col. Breckinridge was a member of congress from the Seventh Kentucky district from 1884 to 1895, being defeated for renomination in 1894. He was an eloquent speaker and was generally referred to as the silver-tongued orator. In 1895 he was made defendant in a sensational suit brought against him by Madeline Pollard for $15,000 damages, the case attracting wide interest throughout the nation.

THREE DROWNED.

Hotel Keeper and Two Guests Lose Their Lives on Tenderfoot Lake in Wisconsin.

Eagle River, Wis., Nov. 19.—Horace Bent, a summer hotel keeper, Frederick Anderson and an unknown eastern tourist, a guest of Bent's, were drowned in an attempt to cross Tenderfoot lake in a canoe through a heavy sea. Bent was a splendid swimmer and could easily have saved himself, but it is thought he lost his life in an attempt to help his guests.

Farewell to Liberty Bell.

St. Louis, Nov. 17.—Special farewell exercises in honor of the Liberty bell, which for several months past had been on exhibition in the Pennsylvania building at the world's fair, were held Wednesday, at the conclusion of which the honored relic was started on its trip back to Philadelphia. Twenty stops en route to Philadelphia will be made to give school children an opportunity to see the bell.

Hecker Resigns.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Col. Frank J. Hecker, of Michigan, has resigned as a member of the Panama canal commission. Mr. Hecker's letter of resignation gives as the reason for his action the fear that residence on the isthmus would cause general physical breakdown.

Another Victim of Football.

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 21.—Samuel Hess, a senior at Lehigh university, son of former State Senator J. S. Hess, died of concussion of the grain superinduced by being thrown in a flying tackle in a football game at Hellertown.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Killed His Son.

The second fatal hunting accident in Northern Minnesota occurred in Cass county, when Arnt Hanson of Cohasset mistook his son Arthur, aged sixteen, for a bear and shot him dead.

The bullet pierced the boy's lungs and he died instantly. Mr. Hanson left the body in care of another hunter and came at once to Cohasset where he telephoned the sheriff and district attorney Walker. Mr. Hanson is wild with grief over the accident.

The lad was wearing a brown coat and was coming through some underbrush from an unexpected direction.

Mr. Hanson is insane with grief over the terrible accident and nearly killed himself. He is held in restraint by his neighbors.

Land Sales.

The state will hold land sales during the entite month beginning at Little Falls. The sales opened in Cass county and continue through the following counties during the following weeks of the month: Atkin, Pine, Carlton, Isanti, Sherbourne, Anoka, Benton and Kenabec. It is expected that about 50,000 acres will be offered for sale.

State Auditor Iverson does not anticipate a heavy sale of land in the counties named as the local demand for land is not great. The idea in holding the sales has been to offer for sale land in proportion to the local demand. It is expected however that about 25,000 acres will be sold.

Lost in a Swamp.

James Murphy, a woodsman, was discovered by hunters wandering in a tamarack swamp near Cloquet. The man had been lost for several days. Murphy's hands and feet were in terrible shape from frost bite, and he was nearly famished. His mental condition is such he can give little account of himself. It is believed that his mind has been affected by his suffering. Murphy was brought to Duluth and placed in St. Luke's hospital, and it is feared that it may be necessary to amputate both hands and both feet. It is not altogether certain that he will recover.

Street Car Target.

Some one, under the cover of darkness, shot at a Como-Harriet car as it was passing the state fair grounds on the way to Minneapolis.

The bullet struck a window, smashing it into pieces, grazed a man's head and crashed a window across the aisle and two seats to the rear. Luckily no one was injured, although a woman who sat uncomfortably close to the bullet's path, became hysterical.

Many of the men in the car rushed out as soon as the motorman opened the gates and scoured the tall weeds for half an hour, but fonnd no trace of the miscreant.

Thrown Thirty Feet.

Walter Simms in driving to his farm nine miles south of Crookston, his team turned into the Northern Pacific track and was struck by a freight train going at full speed. The horses shied and cleared the engine, but the wagon was struck in the center, and reduced to slivers. Simms was thrown nearly fifty feet and was picked up by Engineer Synder and Conductor Anderson for dead, but he revived. A slightly fractured skull which is not fatal and an ugly wound over the right eye requiring a few stitches proved to be the extent of his injuries.

A Wolf in Minneapolis.

A wolf was killed in the city of Minneapolis. Nick Thies started toward the wilds of Columbia heights to beard the gentle rabbit in its lair, or, perchance, deal death and destruction to a playful squirrel.

He was was walking through the woods along the Soo tracks, and about half a mile from Central avenue, when his dog started a big male gray wolf, which sneaked through the underbrush, and finally came within shotgun range of Mr. Thies, who brought him down with the first shot.

Socialist Vote.

The Debs vote in Hennepin county was one of the surprises of the election. The socialist candidate received 4,891, votes, almost as many as Parker, whose vote was but 6,432. Roosevelt has a vote of 34,891, or a plurality of 28,459, establishing a new record for the republican party in Hennepin county. Swallow, the prohibition candidate, received 194 votes.

Creameries Booming.

According to W. P. McConnell, the state commissioner, the creameries of the state are booming. To quote Mr. McConnell:

"The bi-ennial report of the dairy and food department which will be ready the first of the year, will show the most remarkable increase in the manufacture of butter and the establishment of creameries through the state. I think it would be safe to say that the number of creameries in the state will be at least 20 per cent more than last year. About 601,000,000 pounds of butter were manufactured in Minnesota in 1903. Our report this year will show an increase of almost 15,000,000 pounds dering the year. The conditions surrounding the manufacture of the butter have also improved immensely, and no better produce is turned out in the counfry than that of Minnesota creameries. There has been hearty co-operation between the dairymen of the state and this department, which has made the lobor of inforcing the law and the attempt to draw the attention of the butter makers to new methods very profitable. The marked increase in the qurntity of butter now manufactured is matched with a correspondingly rrpid improvement in the quality of the butter. The various contests that have been held by the department have stimulated a friendly rivalry between the buttermakers which has resulted in raising the standard of the butter."

GUILLMETTE WILL FIGHT

Celebrated Murder Case To Be Tried at December Term of Polk County Court.

Word was received at Crookston last Friday by County Attorney Rowe that Attorney Joseph Brochu, of Woonsocket, R. I., would start for that city shortly in order to arrive in time to defend his client, Joseph Guillmette, from the charge of murder at the coming session of the grand jury. Brochu is the attorney who endeavored to prevent Guillmette's extradition and he is considered at Woonsocket as a very bright lawyer. He will have entire charge of Guillmette's defense and is at the present time according to reports, hard at work on the details of the case. The following clipping from the Woonsocket Evening Call will show that he is not idle:

"Joseph E. Brochu yesterday received a letter from Wilfred Dion, at who home Joseph Guillmette and Joseph Mongeon stopped the Sunday before the murder of Mongeon, of which Guillmette is charged by the authorities of Polk county, Minnesota, stating that the story told by Guillmette to Mr. Brochu, who was his attorney is correct in every detail The letter corroborates Guillmett's story as regards to being at his home on Sunday evening and that his home is 22 miles from Red Lake Falls and 15 miles from Mentor. Mr. Dion also sends a map which corresponds in every way in regards to the distance of the different places to the map Mr. Brochu has. Mr. Dion did not know that Mr. Brochu had a map."

County Attorney Rowe stated that absolutely conclusive evidence had been unearthed in the case which would fasten the killing of Mongeon upon the guilty parties. He has spent considerable time on the details of the murder and is in shape to go into court with a very clear idea of the tragedy and evidence which will be somewhat startling in character.

Guillmette continues in good spirits and is well and happy in his cell at the conty jail. He is kept apart from the other prisoners and is not allowed the liberty of the corridor at the same time the other birds are out.

SULLIVAN SERIOUSLY CUT

George Johnson Uses a Knife With Deadly Intent at Plummer Last Week.

Plummer Pioneer: On Wednesday afternoon a stabbing affair occured a short distance east of town which might easily have proved fatal to the victim, F. E. Sullivan. George Johnson, the man who wielded the knife, succeeded in making his escape before the stabbing became known.

Mr. Sullivan has been engaged on an extensive ditch contract in North Dakota and was moving his outfit to his home in Equality township. Johnson has been employ since early last July, and they have never had any trouble before. They arrived in Plummer at noon on Wednesday and stopped for dinner and to allow the stock to feed and rest. Along in the afternoon they started for home and after they had gone a mile or so they quarreled. Johnson drew the knife and stabbed Sullivan in the back inflicting an ugly wound over the right shoulder blade. the bone preventing the weapon from penetrating to a vital spot. Sullivan grappled with his assailant and after a struggle of some duration, took the knife from him and sent him on his way with a badly batttred countenance and bruised anatomy generally. Johnson returned to town and went south on a freight train. Sullivan, not thinking himself badly hurt pursued his homeward journey, but soon began to weaken from loss of blood and turned back.

Dr. Grundv, of Thief River Falls, was wired for and responded promptly. He dressed the wound and no serious results are anticipated.

Not A Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and deremined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seem a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c, at all druggists.

To Meet the Increasing Opportunities of a Steadily Growing Business We Have Re-Incorporated Under the Title of the

COMMON STOCK $70,000.00
PREFERRED STOCK $30,000.00

P. V. Collins Publishing Company

Incorporated Aug. 13, 1904. Under the Laws of Minnesota.

THIS new corporation is a re-incorporation of The Agriculturist Company, and its assets include The Northwestern Agriculturist, together with hitherto personal enterprises of P. V. COLLINS, consisting of The Home Magazine and real estate viz., the office and press buildings located on the corner of Seventh street and sixth avenue south, Minneapolis. The real estate alone is worth $30.000.

The value of the assets exceeds $100,000 on a very conservative basis, and the capital stock of the P. V. COLLINS PUBLISHING COMPANY is $100,000 including $30,000 perferred stock and $70,000 common stock.

The preferred stock bears a Guarantee of Seven Per Cent dividend, payable semi-annually, and when redeemed, we agree to pay $102.00 a share for it. The common stock is not for sale, but is all held by P. V. COLLINS, who will continue as manager of the business, as he has since 1893. No dividends can be paid on the common stock until the guaranteed dividends in full on the preferred are paid.

We have sold much of the above preferred stock to bankers, commercial men, farmers and professional people, in sums ranging from $100 to $5,000. It is the best investment on the market and they know it. It is not often that an apportunity comes to invest money on ample security at and the opportunity will soon be past for getting any of the stock. The farmer who desires a block of it is advised to send his subscription for the shares wanted immediatedly. We much prefer to have it held by farmers, for The Nortwestern Agriculturist is a farmers' page and we realize that every farmer stockholder will be of value to us in his own community.

How to Get the Stock

The par value of the shares is $100.00 each and they are sold at par. Write to us and state how many shares you desire. Send with your letter either a check or draft for as many times $100 as you order shares. We refer to the Peoples Bank of Minneapolis.

THE silent vote used a trumpet in Minnesota.

THE Minnesota Democrats have reason to feel measurably thankful, thank you.

THE esteemed Pioneer Press seems suddenly to have lost all interest in state politics.

IT'S no wonder Johnson won so easily. St. Peter street leads right up to the front steps of the new capitol.

HERE is a sly dig from John A. Johnson's St. Peter Herald: "There is probably some consolation is going to defeat with your last set of friends."

SOME of our Republican exchanges seem to extract some comfort out of the fact that Governor Johnson is to have his trials and tribulations with the office-seeker.

J. ADAM BEDE has put a quietus on the incipient gubernatorial boom started in his behalf. Adam prefers to leave to some one else the job of healing the party wounds.

THE Pittsburg Dispatch thinks that Judge Parker's promise not to accept a second term, in the light of more recent events, seems to have been more or less premature.

WE sincerely trust the Thief River Review and Red Lake Falls Gazette editors will come to a definite conclusion as to which is responsible for the Republican slump in Red Lake county.

SOME of the newspapers are putting embarassing questions to Moses E. Clapp these days. And come to think of it by what right does Senator Clapp claim endorsement at the hands of the people of Minnesota?

SOMEBODY ought to give the Bemidji Pioneer a friendly tip that the election is over and that nobody is worrying about the dire consequences to northern Minnesota that were advertised in the advent of Johnson's election.

WITH one voice the Minnesota newspapers announce that the time has come for tariff revision. The tariff will not be revised, and in the next campaign we will be asked to again endorse the g. o. p. This is about the nearest approach to perpetual motion that has ever been devised.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT OLSON is announced as a candidate for re-appointment under Governor Johnson. The new governor has announced that he intends to take the department of public instruction out of politics, but this does not necessarily imply that he will appoint a Republican to the place.

THE official returns so far received by the secretary of state show that Roosevelt has carried Minnesota by the unprecedented plurality of 158,000. Johnson has about 8,000 over Dunn; Ray Jones is elected by about 30,000, and the remainder of the state ticket is defeated by approximately 60,000.

FRANK CLAGUE of Redwood county will be next speakers of the Minnesota house of representatives. Guess Frank is all right, but his selection makes the re-election of Julius Schmahl of the same county as chief clerk of the senate extremely improbable. Julius has many friends among the newspaper boys of the state who would like to see him get another term.

MANY of the Republican newspapers see an inconsistency in the election of Johnson and Jones. But the Democrats are not to blame. In Fendall G. Winston they gave the people an admirable candidate and supported him loyally. The Republicans apparently were unmindful of further obligation to scratch their tickets after they had passed the office of governor.

SENATOR NELSON declares that during the campaign he spoke in fifty-six towns in the interest of the Republican state ticket and lost them all. The record of the other Republican speakers is nearly as unsatisfactory. More than nine-tenths of the villages and cities of the state above 1,000 inhabitants went for Johnson. The only ones in the Ninth district carried by Dunn, so far as our recollection goes, are Bemidji and Ada.

WHILE the Republicans are casting about for an acceptable gubernatorial candidate in 1906, why shouldn't the claims of Ray W. Jones be taken into consideration? He has been elected lieutenant governor by a plurality of 30,000 over one of the most popular and cleanest men in the state. His faults have been widely advertised, and still he has shown an ability to hypnotize the voters in spite of his moral delinquencies. Why not Jones?

THE Democratic defeat has demonstrated another fact which political parties in future will do well to bear in mind, and that is that four months is altogether too short a time for the voters of the country to become acquainted with the qualifications of a candidate for presidency. The small vote for Mr. Parker was not so much a positive rejection of the candidate as it was a declaration that the average voter prefers a man of whom he knows something. It is not likely that the general result would have been altered had another man better known been at the head of the Democratic ticket, but it appears indisputable that the popular margin would have been smaller. An attitude of "judicial calm," whatever its other merits, is not calculated to win votes.

THE Minneapolis Times, which was one of the most earnest and effective supporters of Governor-elect Johnson throughout the campaign, is so highly gratified with his victory and the evidences of ability and high character which he displayed on the stump, that it proposes him as a candidate for president. It says: "It will not be long before the national Democracy will be casting about for a presidential candidate for 1008, and there is nothing more certain than that Johnson will be among the prominent possibilities. The qualifications demanded of presidential candidates we believe he has. At any rate all doubt will be removed when his record as governor is made up. As to availability one of the first points considered in pre-convention plans, Mr. Johnson will be brought to the front as a man who has carried a Republican stronghold by a handsome plurality in a presidential year, and can do so again. With Folk he is classed as a coming man in the national Democratic party, and they two will be among the earliest possibilities discussed."

N. Y. WORLD SARCASM.

The New York World (Dem.) indulges in the following keen and biting bit of sarcasm:

"Under the able leadership of William Jennings Bryan, Nebraska has given a plurality of 75,000 to Roosevelt.

"Under the able leadership of Tom Taggart, Indiana, has given a plurality of 60,000 to Roosevelt.

"Under the able leadership of Arthur Pue Gorman, Maryland, has given a plurality of 1,500 to Roosevelt.

"Under the able leadership of Henry G. Davis, of West Virginia, has given a plurality of 30,000 to Roosevelt.

"Under the able leadership of David B. Hill and William F. Sheehan, New York, above the Bromx has given a plurality of 210,000 to Roosevelt.

"Under the able leadership of Pat McCarren, Brooklyn, has given a plurality of 1,800 to Roosevelt.

"Under the able leadership of James Smith, Jr., New Jersey, has given a plurality of 75,000 to Roosevelt.

"The Republican ticket did not suffer from the lack of able leadership among the Democrats."

THEY VOTED FOR RAY JONES.

The Minneapolis Journal did noble service in behalf of independent voting and good government in its support of John A. Johnson, and it is entitled to unstinted praise, says the Albert Lea Standard, but it is keenly to be regretted that its comments which follow cannot be applied in the case of the lieutenant governorship and the action of the voters, who, if not like "cattle," certainly blindly and almost indecently marked their ballots for Ray Jones, the convicted timber thief, instead of for F. G. Winston, the upright and unblemished citizen—F. G. Winston, who is eminently fitted for and would honor the highest position in the state.

The Journal well says: "So it seems that it does make a difference what kind of a man is nominated for governor by the Republican party of Minnesota, and it does make a difference how that nomination is brought about. When the character of the candidate and the means and methods which brought about his nomination are seriously objected to and on good grounds, it is no longer possible to drive the Republican voters of the state to the polls like so many cattle."

A MAN OF DESTINY.

Theodore Roosevelt is the man of destiny. That is the statement which occurs more frequently than any other in the comment on his sweeping victory. In only a few cases, however, is the expression used in an unpleasant or malicious sense, the general conclusion being that rightly or wrongly, he is the kind of a man whom the American people like. Even the qualities that his opponents have characterized as faults and his friends as the extremes of his virtues appear to be seized upon by the rank and file of the voters as only another reason for approving the man and his methods. It is a mistake, however, to refer to his electoral majority as the largest ever received in the history of the presidency; James Monroe had a majority of 230 in 1820; Franklin Pierce had 212 in 1852, and in 1872 Ulysess S. Grant had a plurality of 244 and a majority of 223. In all of these instances, however, the opposition was far more disorganized than the Democratic party at the present day, and the result was never gained by such a relatively large popular plurality.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever, Constipation all yield to this perfect Pill, 25c, at all druggists.

Clapp's Bad Break.

Windom Citizen: A few weeks before election day Senator Clapp and John A. Johnson happened to be on the same train together and naturally their conversation turned to politics. Wallace Besser was one of the party of listeners. The Senator did all he could to discourage Johnson, talking to him as if it were the supremest nerve or impudence to run against the Republican candidate. He vehemently declared, "Why, young man, you don't stand a ghost of a show in this campaign." Johnson quietly replied, "Well, Senator, the boys put me up to run and I guess I will stay to the finish." A little encouragement from the Senator would have been more becoming than such bluff.

Wonderful Results.

Mrs. C. A. Smith, of Holland, Mich., tells what a marvelous remedy "Gloria Tonic" is. She writes: "After suffering the tortures of rheumatism for years and after vainly employing Doctors it was "Gloria Tonic" which completely cured [illegible]

A "Red Letter Day."

Bemidji News: November 8 was a red letter day for the Democracy in Republican (sic!) Red Lake county. Every candidate elected on the county ticket is a Democrat with the exception of one. Frank Jeffers, who has been county superintendent of schools over there for time out of mind, was elected register of deeds by a majority of 25 in the face of a bitter fight.

A True Prophet.

Northfield News: Frank A. Day, editor of the Martin County Sentinel, has been selected by Governor-elect Johnson as private secretary. Mr. Day was chairman of the Democratic State Central committee and did good work. We remember hearing Mr. Day remark at an editorial meeting at Heron Lake last spring that a newspaper man would occupy the gubernatorial chair. The prediction proved to be true.

Echoes of the Storm.

Brainerd Dispatch, (Rep.): The basis of representation in the next Republican state convention and whether the Dunn faction will take the bit in their teeth and give Johnson a second a term in retaliation for the first term that the Republicans who were opposed to Dunn haue favored the state with, are questions that worry the peanut politicians who are already figuring on shaping things in 1906. But that is some time ahead.

Radium Running a Clock.

An ingenious Englishman has invented a radium clock which it is estimated could run 30,000 years if not interfered with. The method is the generation of a current of electricity by the radium and two strips of silver which pass through the works at intervals of every two minutes, thus keeping them in operation as radium lasts. Golden grain belt beer won't make a human clock run forever, but it will so improve the health and vigor of the body that it should run for many more years and besides keeps it in perfect health. The purity and strength of this beverages recommend it to every householder. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex. Thompson Crookston.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press; A woman has a passion for all anniversaries except birthdays.

A woman hates to rent a house she knows that some other woman wants.

Generally it's the girl who can look the most innocent who knows the most.

A Stubboro Case!

Mr. Wm. Hessier of Muscoda, Wis., writes: "While taking the first box of Gloria Tonic for my rheumatic trouble I could not stand on my feet, while taking the second box I could walk across the room by pushing a chair ahead of me, and after taking the third box I could husk corn and feed sixty head of hogs." HAPPY AND HEALTHY.

A Beautiful Canadian Girl Saved From Catarrh of the Lungs by Pe-ru-na.

MISS FLORENCE KENAH.

Miss Florence E. Kenah, 434 Maria street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"A few months ago I caught a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and remained there so persistently that I became alarmed. I took medicine without benefit, until my digestive organs became upset, and my head and back began to ache severely and frequently.

"I was advised to try Peruna, and although I had little faith I felt so sick that I was ready to try anything. It brought me blessed relief at once, and I felt that I had the right medicine at last. Within three weeks I was completely restored and have enjoyed perfect health since.

"I now have the greatest faith in Peruna." F. E. KENAH.

WOMEN should beware of contracting catarrh. The cold wind and rain, slush and mud of winter are especially conducive to catarrhal derangements. Few women escape.

Upon the first symptoms of catching cold Peruna should be taken. It fortifies the system against colds and catarrh.

The following letter gives one young woman's experience with Peruna:

Miss Rose Gerbing is a popular society woman of Crown Point, Ind., and she writes the following:

"Recently I took a long drive in the country, and being too thinly clad I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Peruna for colds and catarrh and I bought a bottle to try. I am pleased that I did, for it brought speedy relief. It only took about two bottles, and I considered this money well spent.

"You have a firm friend in me, and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have purchased several bottles to give to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."—Miss Rose Gerbing.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

NOTES IN MINOR CHORD.

Dwight M. Baldwin, who owns flouring mills at Graceville and Moorhead, was transacting business with the Red Lake Falls millers last Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Theo. LaBissoniere and little daughter, Erin, went to Crookston Saturday afternoon to visit for a few days with Mrs. LaBissoniere's mother, Mrs. P. Martin.

A. O. Davison, who last week became cashier of the Bank of Wylie, has moved his family to that place. They will occupy rooms over Eckstein's general store.

Mrs. Herman Bischoff was down from Thief River a couple of days last week to visit friends and look after business matters. She expects to teach school this winter.

The Grace Charlesworth company gave a concert at the opera house Friday evening under auspices of the high school. Although the audience was small about $5 was cleared for the school.

Lewis Cadieux and daughter went to Crookston Monday evening to visit for a few days with Mr. Cadieux's son, L. C., who is an employee of the government in the capacity of railway mail agent.

General Superintendent Slade, Assistant General Superintendent Brown and Division Superintendent Jenks were in Red Lake Falls Sunday inspecting the work on the Great Northern connection.

The report of the First State Bank is printed in this issue and it shows a handsome growth in business since the last official statement in June. The totals for this bank are now $230,000, which places it in the list of the largest country banks in the state.

George Walker returned last Friday from St. Paul, to which place he had taken a carload of sheep and cattle. Mr. Walker has been doing quite a large stock business this summer and fall, and is always prepared to pay the highest market price.

Herman Krueger left last week for Granite Falls, where he will be employed in the store of Bangs & Co. Mrs. Krueger is at present visiting her parents in the vicinity of Fisher, and does not intend going to Granite Falls for several months.

Harry Ives of the St. Hilaire Spectator is serving as a petit juror this week. Harry was rather unfortunate in picking winners at the late election and says a two dollar job comes in mighty handily to tide over the temporay depression in the money market.

Jacob Fogle and wife of North Manchester, Ind., who have been the guests of John E. King and family for the past week, left Monday night for Spokane, Wash., where they will visit friends for a few days before going to California to spend the winter.

Fall plowing is about over for this year. While the past few weeks we have had beautiful weather, the cold nights have started the ground to freeze, and it is now too hard to work in. Except in the low land northeast, the plowing is pretty well completed.

Thief River Press: O. T. Tandberg, county treasurer, came up from Red Lake Falls on Saturday to look after his farming interests south west of town. Mr. Tandberg will begin his new duties in the First National Bank the middle of December, or perhaps a little later.

Ole J. Tweet, one of the prominent farmers of Norden township, was in the city Tuesday looking after business affairs at the court house. Mr. Tweet was an independent candidate for county commissioner from his district at the late election and made a very creditable showing.

J. W. Lynch, the veteran Equality Democrat, is serving his country in the capacity of juror this week. Mr. Lynch tells us that eleven votes on president were thrown out in his township, owing to the fact that the voters crossed all five sets of electors. All but one of the ballots are believed to have been Democratic.

William Ittner, a Red Lake Falls boy, played in the last half of the football game at Chicago last Saturday and scored one of the touchdowns. Mr. Ittner has made a splendid record this year and next season will be a member of the regular team. Great things are expected of him by his Red Lake county admirers.

The new through passenger service on the Soo went into effect Monday. A fast train now leaves Minneapolis at 5 o'clock in the evening and arrives at Winnipeg at 8 in the morning, and the southbound train makes the same time. This train does not stop at any of the Red Lake county towns except Thief River.

Kelliher Journal: Chas. Hartman left Monday for Red Lake Falls where he purchased a fine team of horses of Ed. Enright, for use on his dray line and livery stable. He will drive overland, and is expected back tomorrow, the trip taking about three days. The increased business in the dray and livery line necessitated this addition.

Karl M. Hansen was down from Thief River Falls over Sunday. Mr. Hansen was the late Democratic candidate for county treasurer, being defeated on the face of the returnes by the narrow margin of seven votes. Believing that there might possibly have been errors in some of the precincts he has asked for a recount and engaged Frank A. Grady as his attorney.

Louis Amunson, of Grove Park, has been sentenced six months in jail and the payment of a fine of $50.00 for using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Amunson impersonated a wealthy widow, patronized the matrimonial papers liberally, and requested transportation and other advances from the suckers who bit at his bait. He made a fairly good catch but now wishes he hadn't.

Thief River Press: Nicholas Helm, the Red Lake Falls painter and decorator, returned to his home Saturday last after completing the decorating of the Catholic church, a job which has occupied his attention for the past three or four weeks. The interior of the structure now presents a very pleasing appearance and the parishioners have reason to be proud of their church building.

A fellow up in Little Falls saw in a paper where a certain firm offered 11 cents for 1902 pennies. He sent them 50 coppers of the 1902 mintage. He received an immediate reply, saying just as soon as he sent 1852 more pennies—sufficient to make up the full number 1902—he would receive the 11 cents. The Little Falls man finding himself "Buffaloed" went out behind the barn and did a kicking stunt.

W. B. Cheshire, cashier of the State Bank of Brooks, visited over Sunday in the city. Mr. Cheshire has recently been transferred from the Bank of Wylie to this more important post, and we shall expect to hear of him building up a big business for his employers in the new location. He is a young man who has had a splendid training in banking, and is sure to be popular with the people of Brooks and vicinity.

Kelliher Journal: Jos. Bergeron, of Lambert township, Red Lake county, passed through here Monday enroute home from the "Point" where he disposed of a large number of cattle to the lumber camps. Mr. Bergeron is one of Lambert's prosperous farmers, and each winter he supplies the camps in this county with provisions and feed from his large farm. He intends to make regular trips throughout the winter.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson was in the city Monday on business before the district court. It is understood that Mr. Steenerson has been retained as attorney for Ovide Moreau in the contest proceedings involving the county treasurership, but it is unlikely the congressman will be able to devote his personal attention to the case unless it should happen that the hearing is held during the holiday recess of congress.

Louis Amundson, the Mentor farmer, who posed in the matrimonial journal as a wealty widow, will have to serve a six monthes' sentence in the Polk county jail and pay a fine of $50. Amundson was indicted by the federal grand jury at Fergus Falls upon the charge of using the U. S. mails to defraud and when when arraigned in court pleaded guility. The court imposed a fine of $50 and a six months' sentence in jail to be served in the Polk county jail.

Rufus Poirier, for many years connected with the Thief River Falls Lumber company at this place, left Monday for Brooks, where he will be local agent for the Bovey-Shute Lumber comyany. succeeding Antoine Dion. Mr. Poirier has had a splendid training in the lumber business and is personally acquainted with practically all of the farmers in that locality. THE COURIER predicts that he will manage the business to the entire satisfaction of his customers and the company. The family will remain in Red Lake Falls during the winter.

Bemidji Pioneer: I. B. Olson returned this morning from Shotley, where he has been making improvements upon his homestead. Mr. Olson says that the theory that Jacob Dyrhaug was murdered is generally discredited by residents in the upper country and the opinion of friends and neighbors of the missing man is that he fell asleep in the boat while returning home and fell out. A vigorous search is still in progress for the remains and drag nets, dynamite and others means are being employed in an effort to raise the body to the surfaces of the water.

This is a topsy-turvy world. One man is stuggling for justice and another is fleeing from it. One man is saving to build a house and another is trying to sell his "for less than it costs." One man is spending all the money he can make in taking a girl to an entertainment and sending her flowers in the hope, eventually, of making her his wife, while his neighbor is spending the gold he has got to get a divorce. One man escapes all the diseases man is heir to and gets killed on the railway. Another goes everywhere without being hurt, and dies with whooping cough. Such is life!—Exchange.

The first monthly concert of the Red Lake Falls concert band was given Monday evening at the Metropolitan. An unusually large crowd was present, and the band did not disappoint its friends. Noticeable improvement is observed since last year, and the class of music rendered is seldom tackled by any but the larger city organizations. Misses Florence Dautremont and Iza Tibbetts gave a vocal duet and were encored to the echo. A new and interesting feature was the appearance of the Punkin Holler brass band under the leadership of Monsieur Berthon. The antics of the grangers were clever and created much amusement. The next concert will be given sometime in December.

MISSOURI LOSES FINE PAVILION

STATE BUILDING ON WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS IN ST. LOUIS DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Loss Is Estimated at About $20,000—Valuable Paintings Are Rendered Worthless—One Fireman Is Killed and Four Injured.

St. Louis, Nov. 21.—The world's fair grounds was the scene of a fatal fire Saturday night. The Missouri state building was destroyed by a blaze which started from the explosion of a hot water heater in the basement. One fireman, George Garbenbach, was killed and two were seriously injured in making a run to the burning building, their truck striking a tree when the horses left the road in crossing the mining gulch. Shortly afterward a falling wall buried two firemen under a mass of debris, seriously injuring both.

According to President Davis, of the Missouri commission, the loss sustained by the state will only amount to $20,000. This is explained by his statement that after the fair is over the building, which was the finest state structure on the grounds, would not bring more than $5,000. Ten paintings of Missouri's former governors and supreme court justices are so badly burned as to be worthless. Much valuable furniture was destroyed.

The fire was the most spectacular that has occurred in St. Louis in years. Thousands of persons hurried from all parts of the grounds, attracted by the sheet of flame that spurted from the top of the cupolas, making a far greater brilliancy than the illumination of all the buildings. A wind was blowing from the south, and the flames shot down the northern side of the cupola and met a sheet of flame which enveloped the northern wing. Instantly the building was aflame from top to bottom in the northern half. Sparks were carried over the United States government building and as far northwest as the liberal arts palace. Bucket brigades were hurried to the roofs of these buildings to prevent ignition. Meantime from all quarters of the grounds the fire department had responded and were aided by apparatus from the city department.

STATUE UNVEILED.

President Formally Accepts Gift to United States from Emperor of Germany.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Hailed by a military blare of 20 trumpets, whose prolonged note of welcome rang out sharp on the crisp November air, and was echoed far down the Potomac, the bronze statue of Frederick the Great, presented to the American people by Emperor William, was unveiled Saturday afternoon by Baroness Speck-von-Sternberg, the wife of the German ambassador. This beautiful American woman was the central figure of an elaborate ceremony, which was marked by great military and official display. The statue was presented on behalf of the emperor by his personal envoy, the German ambassador, who made a brief address. The president made the chief address of the day, and accepted the gift on behalf of the American people.

The emperor's gift is a replica in bronze of the statue which stands in his palace at Potsdam, the original being the work of the sculptor, Prof. Uphues. The statue is of heroic size, standing more than seven feet. It is mounted on a pedestal of massive granite. Frederick is standing erect, his right hand resting on his military staff, and he looks sharply ahead.

DEATH OF FORMER JUDGE.

Thomas A. Moran, of Chicago, Succumbs to Heart Disease in New York City.

New York, Nov. 19.—Ex-Judge Thomas A. Moran, of Chicago, died suddenly Friday at the Waldorf-Astoria in this city. He was 64 years of age. Judge Moran's death was due to heart disease. He had arrived here from Chicago Thursday on business, and retired Thursday night apparently in good health. During the night he was taken suddenly ill, and was dead before a physician, who was summoned, reached his room. Judge Moran resigned from the bench in 1892, having previously served on the circuit court, Cook county, and in the appellate court 12 years.

BIG BLAST FATAL TO FOUR PERSONS

EXPLOSION OF TANKS WRECKS PLANT FOR MANUFACTURE OF ACETYLENE GAS.

Disaster Occurs at Grand Crossing, Suburb of Chicago—Four Men Instantly Killed and Eleven Others Are Badly Injured.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Terrific explosions of acetylene gas in the Pyle National Headlight company's plant at Seventy-second street and South Chicago avenue, Grand Crossing, brought death to four men, injured 11 others and spread panic through the neighborhood Friday morning. The plant of the Acetylene Apparatus Manufacturing company and a building of the People's Gas Light & Coke company also were wrecked. For a time it was feared that two immense gas tanks would explode, and those who had not already fled from their homes were driven out by the police.

The Victims.

The dead are Rolf J. Wells, Joseph Jennings, George Muehl and Amos Watkins. At the first explosion Muehl was blown into the air as the roof was torn away. He fell back into the burning ruins and with Wells and Jennings was buried beneath the falling walls under which explosions continued. Watkins, on the outside, was blown into a vacant lot, where he was found dead and mangled. His body was the only one that could be identified, the others being so charred that they could not be told apart.

The cause of the first explosion probably never will be determined, as all of those who could tell are dead. Without warning a thunderous explosion broke from the Pyle factory, and the building fell in ruins. Ten or a dozen more reports quickly followed. For a mile in all directions houses were shaken and windows broken.

The loss is estimated at about $50,000.

CIRCUS ROBBED.

Thieves Loot Forepaugh & Sells' Show Treasury in the South, Stealing $32,000.

Tarboro, N. C., Nov. 21.—The safe of Forepaugh & Sells Bros.' circus, en route from Greenville to Tarboro, was found broken open and $32,000 missing. The safe contained money to pay off the employes here when the season ended Saturday, and also receipts at Newbern. The money wagon was opened with keys stolen from the circus treasurer. There is no clew to the robbers.

Found Guilty.

Cherokee, Ia., Nov. 21.—After being out 16 hours a jury found Harry Hartman, who shot and killed his sweetheart, Florence Porter, on November 30, 1901, guilty of murder in the first degree, and fixed the punishment at imprisonment for life at hard labor.

Spent $22,189.53.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Gov.-elect Higgins certified Wednesday that his election expenses were $22,189.53. This is the largest sum spent for this purpose within the recollection of the present employes of the secretary of state's office.

Was Friend of President.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 17.—Miss Clara Conway, one of the best known woman educators in the south, is dead after an illness of several days.

TRADE REVIEW.

Steady Improvement Is Shown in Conditions in Commercial Lines.

New York, Nov. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Business was retarded by the storms which interrupted telegraphic communication, but the loss was quickly recovered, and retail trade responded to the lower temperature, while a large jobbing distribution of holiday goods occurred. Commercial reports are encouraging, and, on the whole, conditions steadily improve. Confidence is increasing, particularly in the steel and textile industries, and building operations are very vigorous for the season, while mercantile collections are more prompt. Farm staples are slightly cheaper in response to splendid dispatches from agricultural centers.

"Failures this week numbered 217 in the United States against 249 last year and 27 in Canada compared with 17 a year ago."

Bradstreet's says: "Reports from the great basic industries are more favorable and wholesale and jobbing trade in holiday and spring goods display a more confident tone. Interior buyers appear more willing to stock up and are meeting with fair success, despite the fact that unseasonable weather, activity in fall farm work, and some holding back by farmers retards retail trade and collections in the west and northwest. Cold weather at the east and seasonable conditions at the south induce better reports as to final distribution from those sections.

AUTO DRIVER MURDERED

Shot from Behind by Man Who Was Riding with Him—Motive a Mystery.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—A murder mystery, which had its beginning Friday night in the Auditorium hotel and its tragic climax early Saturday morning near Lemont, has baffled police, deputy sheriffs and special detectives. In a lonely gulch on Archer road, three miles south of Lamont, William Bate, a professional chauffeur and scion of a wealthy family, was found shot to death at five a. m. Saturday, his hands still clutching the wheel of his automobile. A passenger who rented the auto from Daniel Canary's garage, No. 402 Wabash avenue, at 9:20 Friday night under the name of "Mr. Dove," is still at large. Whoever the slayer may have been, he placed a revolver close to the back of the chauffeur's head and fired, the weapon being held so near to the victim that his hair was singed. No motive for the murder is known, and all theories are the merest guesswork.

Aid Is Voted.

San Francisco, Nov. 19.—By unanimous vote, the delegates to the American Federation of Labor decided to aid the striking textile workers of Fall River to the extent of $25,000 per week for three weeks. The money for the purpose is to be raised by an assessment of one cent each week levied on each member of every labor organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Famous Bear Hunter Dies.

Florence, Col., Nov. 18.—William Perkins, better known as "Mocassin Bill," is dead on a ranch near Montrose, aged 80 years. He came to Colorado in 1860 as a government scout to watch the movements of the Indians. He was a famous bear hunter.

Treaty Signed.

London, Nov. 17.—The Anglo-Portuguese treaty of arbitration was signed at Windsor castle Wednesday afternoon.

STOESSEL IS CONFIDENT.

Says He Can Hold Port Arthur for Months if Furnished Munitions and Stores.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 19.—Gen. Stoessel has telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas that Port Arthur can hold out until the Baltic squadron arrives in March, on the condition that he is supplied with munitions and stores.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 17.—The message of Gen. Stoessel brought to Chefoo by the torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny has not been given out, but it is understood that it contains no request for instructions regarding the surrender of Port Arthur. It is intimated that the report goes at considerable length into details of the recent fierce land fighting, but says that the interior line of defense remains intact. Gen. Stoessel believes he will be able to withstand the Japanese assaults for some time to come. The blockade has been run by a ship with a cargo of war munitions, food and hospital supplies. Some warships in the harbor have been damaged by shell fire, but not seriously. Many guns have been removed from the ships and mounted on shore, where large drafts from the crews are taking turns in aiding the garrison in its historic defense of the fortress.

Tokio, Nov. 21.—As a result of tunneling by the Japanese, the Erlungshan and Sanshunshan forts, the principal works of the Port Arthur defenses, were blown up last Thursday at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It is stated the explosion was a severe one.

Chefoo, Nov. 21.—Another attack on Etse mountain is expected to occur November 24 according to Chinese who left Dalny Saturday. The Chinese further report that reenforcements for the Japanese continue to arrive. For the past ten days 1,000 men have arrived daily.

FOUR ASPHYXIATED.

Terrible Disaster Occurs in Gas Company's Plant at Dover, N. J.

New York, Nov. 18.—Four men were asphyxiated by gas at Dover, N. J., Thursday at the plant of the Dover, Rockaway & Port Oram Gas company. They constituted the entire working force of the plant and were discovered by George E. Bunnell, a former employe, who on visiting the plant found it apparently deserted, with engines running under a full head of steam and scarcely any water in the boilers. Bunnell went through the works and found the four men beneath the trap door in the meter room, with the space under the floor filled with gas from a broken valve in the drip pipe. The men were William Bulmer, 17 years old, employed as a fireman; Elias S. Chamberlain, the engineer; Otto Edischum, a painter, and a man known only as Gustave, also a painter. The men lay together in a heap. From their positions it is thought that Bulmer went through the trap first to fix the broken valve and was overcome by the gas, and in an effort to rescue him Chamberlain, Eidschum and Gustave followed and lost their lives.

WOULD HONOR COCKRELL.

President Roosevelt Tenders Responsible Position to Senator from Missouri.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The president has offered Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, the isthmian canal commissionership made vacant by the resignation of Col. Hecker, of Michigan, and has also told him that if he feels that his health will not permit him to take this place the president desires to offer him a position on the interstate commerce commission.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 21.—Speaking over the long distance telephone from his home at Warrensburg, Sunday evening, Senator Francis M. Cockrell declined to say whether or not he had been offered the isthmian canal commissionership by President Roosevelt, or whether he would accept such an appointment if tendered him. He would not, he said, in any event, take any action until he reached Washington, on November 28.

STREET CAR DEMOLISHED.

Crashes Through Crossing Gates in Toronto and Is Struck by Train—Four Killed.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 18.—A street car with trailer got beyond control of the motorman and crashed through the guard gates at the Queen street crossing of the Grand Trunk railway Thursday night. A Montreal freight train struck the forward car, grinding it to splinters. Every passenger on the street cars was injured, two dying soon after being taken from the wreckage and two at the hospital.

Five Killed in a Collision.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 17.—Four persons were killed and seven injured in a rear-end collision between Pere Marquette passenger trains at Elmdale, Wednesday night. The dead are: M. Simons, of New York; J. L. Strelitzky, of Chicago; R. C. Savoye, of Grand Rapids, Mich.;; J. L. Smith, of Grand Rapids, Mich; Clarence I. Pickert, of Brookline, Mass. The three last named died in the hospital.

Exposition at Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 19.—The first announcement has been made of a formal movement to hold in this city in 1915 a world's fair to be known as the semi-centennial peace jubilee exposition, commemorating the end of the war between the states.

Queen's Birthday Celebrated.

Rome, Nov. 21.—The queen dowager Margherita's fifty-third birthday anniversary was celebrated Sunday throughout Italy by a display of flags and bunting and in various other ways.

INDIA RUBBER.

The Second Voyage of Columbus Gave It Publicity.

The first notice of india rubber dates back 500 years, when Herrera, a Spanish historian, during the second voyage of Columbus, saw that "the natives of Haiti played with balls made of the gum of a tree, which were lighter and bounced better than the wind balls of Castile."

In a record published in Madrid, 1615, we are told: "There is a tree which the Indians call ulequahuitl, very high, with round, ashy gray leaves. It yields a milky substance, thick and gummy, in great abundance, which is collected and allowed to settle in calabashes and afterward softened in hot water or smeared over the body and rubbed off when sufficiently dry."

Even at that early date Spaniards used the juice of the ule tree to waterproof their cloaks.

The first accurate account of these gum elastic or caoutchouc trees was furnished by La Condamine, who was sent in 1735 by the French government to measure an arc of the meridian near Quito.

It was introduced into Europe as a drug about 1730, and some fifty years later was used commercially as rubber for pencil marks and to waterproof clothing.

THE WATER LOTUS.

A Plant That Has the Power of Purifying Standing Water.

There is a plant growing in the southern waters of the United States which possesses the singular property of being able to render the most impure standing water perfectly healthy. The people of Louisiana and Mississippi call it the water lotus.

It consists of leaves about the size of the head of a pin and roots so fine as to escape notice save under a microscopic inspection. Where it grows at all, it covers the water and to the casual observer looks like a coating of green scum. The flowers and seeds are microscopic, so that its appearance in any given locality is not readily accounted for, but wherever it does appear the water beneath is always fit to drink.

So marked is this property that families using the water from bayous where the lotus is abundant are known to have better general health than those taking their drinking water from places where the lotus is not found. It is often transplanted into ponds, bayous and lakes, spreads with wonderful rapidity and never fails to do its work well.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HOMES OF HEALING.

The History of Hospitals Begins With the First Century.

The temple at Epidaurus was founded by Antoninus Pius at the end of the first century A. D. in honor of Æsculapius, Homer's blameless physician. Beyond the sacred inclosure was a building for the reception of the sick and dying, which Strabo describes as a place renowned for the cure of all diseases, always full of invalids and containing votive tablets descriptive of cures.

About 380 A. D. a hospital was founded by Valens and richly endowed by him at Cæsarea, and another at Rome by Fabiola, a wealthy Roman widow, for the reception of the sick poor.

Basil is said by Gregory, the presbyter, to have built a large hospital for lepers with money collected for the purpose. The Hotel Dieu in Paris, founded in the seventh century, and two founded in 1080 by Lanfranc, archbishop of Canterbury, were both connected with monastic establishments. Bartholomew's, 1547, and St. Thomas', 1553, are the oldest hospitals in London and were both originally religious foundations.

Omens In Tea.

When the tea is made and the lid of the teapot is forgotten for a minute or two it is a sure sign that some one will drop in for the meal. Two spoons put by chance into the saucer of a maid or a bachelor denote that he or she will be married within a year. Putting cream into your tea before you sweeten it will bring you love troubles. A tea stalk floating in a girl's teacup is a "beau." She should stir her tea briskly and then hold the spoon upright in the center. If the "beau" be attracted toward the spoon and cling to it a gentleman visitor may be expected some time that evening. If, however, the "beau" goes to the side of the cup the visitor will not come that day.

Messages of War.

Among the natives of Australia notched and carved sticks are used for messages. For instance, a piece of wood carried from one village to another with straight and curved lines cut upon it is a message of war and means: "There is a fight on hand. Fetch your spears and boomerangs."

The North American Indians utilized wampum belts from time immemorial for like purposes. The arrangement of the different colored beads conveyed the signification desired.

Playing Safe.

"Look here, sir! You have been calling on my daughter every night for the past six months!"

"But I can't afford to get married, sir, and if I call on any other girl I'm afraid I might fall in love with her."—Smart Set.

What Did She Mean?

Alice—Yes, I accepted George at once. I knew when he proposed to me he was wholly unselfish. Bertha—Oh, nobody could ever have any doubt about that!—Boston Transcript.

The easiest way to get along with some people is to let them think they are right.—Atchison Globe.

Political Finesse.

"Senator," asked one of his trusty henchmen, "did you see those two articles about you that appeared in two different papers last week? One of them described you as a penurious man of immense wealth who gave grudgingly to charity because it was necessary in your business, and the other said your wealth was vastly exaggerated and you really couldn't afford the style you were putting on, but that you had to present a bold front to keep your creditors from closing in on you."

"My dear fellow," said Senator Lotsmun, "your lack of penetration mortifies me. Don't you know I inspired both those articles myself? That sort of thing is necessary to keep me before the public."—Chicago Tribune.

Oysters Can Grow Skin.

New York scientists are much interested in the results of a series of experiments recently conducted by R. C. Scheidt, which seem to show conclusively that the oyster, although naturally inhabiting a shell, can grow a skin if occasion requires. Experimenter Scheidt deprived oysters of one of their shells and then exposed them to pure light, with the result that the animals secreted pigment over the whole of their body. The chemical, or blue, rays produced the same pigment, but none was formed when the oyster was subjected to red rays. On putting the bivalves in darkness all pigment disappeared.—N. Y. World.

Queer Currency.

Dewarra, a currency of New Britain, is an instance of how the spoils of the chase may be turned to account as the outward and visible sign of wealth. Dewarra is made by stringing the shells of a dog-whelk upon the ribs of palm leaves. These strings may be retailed at so much a fathom—usually the price is equivalent to about three shillings a fathom length—or they may be made into various articles of personal adornment to be worn on great occasions. In New Britain the dewarra hoarded up by a rich man is produced at his funeral and divided among his heirs in much the same kind of way as personal property is divided amongst us.

Blood-Like Stain of Bloodstone.

Most persons know very little about the stones of which they so glibly talk," remarked J. W. Beath. "Very few have any idea of what a bloodstone is, though the red-spotted green heliotrope commonly goes by that name. Here are two pieces of real bloodstone, the bloodstone of the ancients. As you see, they are black. By rubbing one on the other, I draw what looks to be blood. Touching it to my hand, it leaves a blood-like stain. No, there is no trick about it. These bits of black stone are simply hematite, and hematite is the real bloodstone. Not one person in 10,000 seems to know this."—Philadelphia Record.

Marriage Statistics.

Of the marriages in general in the United States it is discovered that out of the 1,000 considered 139 men will have been married at least once before the celebration under consideration, while the 861 will have made vows for the first time. Of the 1,000 women in the case only 98 will have worn widow's weeds before the wedding. Thus, out of the 2,000 individuals, parties to the 1,000 marriages, 237 will have bought or have worn wedding rings before.

Keeping Peace.

Barlow—The Wigginses seem to get along together wonderfully. I never supposed they would, their tastes being so dissimilar.

Catlan—That's just the reason why they do get along so well. He is always talking on literary subjects and she talks of nothing but her housework. As neither knows anything about what the other is speaking of they never have any disputes.—Boston Transcript.

Interesting Little Facts.

The life of an eyelash is from 100 to 150 days. They grow very slowly, but finger nails grow quite rapidly in comparison. If a person could live without breaking or cutting his nails for a lifetime they would attain the length of 73 inches. It takes about 121 days for a new nail to form on the little finger and 138 on the thumb.—Philadelphia Ledger.

On the Other Hand.

"Of course," remarked the very young man who knows it all, "a woman's 'no' always means 'yes.'"

"Perhaps it does," replied the man with the scanty hair, "but I'm right here to tell you that her 'yes' never means 'no.'"—Chicago Daily News.

Her Situation.

Several ladies were discussing social position the other day, when little Frances cut in:

"I'm not disturbed about my social position, for I think I shall have all the social position that I have clothes for."—Detroit Free Press.

Learning Caution.

First Baggageman—Look out! Better not toss that trunk.

Second Baggageman—Why not? It isn't marked "Handle with care!"

"That's the reason why. It may be a decoy."—Chicago Tribune.

Novel Suggestion.

A proposal has been made by a woman doctor in Zurich that all unmarried girls belonging to the well-to-do classes should be compelled to devote a year to unpaid hospital or ambulance work.—London Mail.

Too Good to Be True.

Ted had been longing for a baby sister. When she came he went to take his first look at her.

"You can't fool me," he burst out; "I know it ain't ours."—Little Chronicle.

Pointers for Men.

Sauk Centre Herald: When a girl calls you a bear it is time to do the hugging act.

A man always hopes that his daughter will follow in the footsteps of her mother but he is not particularly anxious that his son will take him for a model.

A young man who shocks a girl now and then stands a much better show of being popular with her than one who is always a model of propriety.

A woman always smiles with satisfaction while she is spanking her young son for acting like his father.

A girl seldom requests a young man to call again that asks permission to kiss her.

A true wife would rather her husband would succeed than to succeed herself.

No girl ever loved another girl so much that she wouldn't take her beau away from her if she got a chance.

No woman, however religious, ever enjoys a church service if her husband persists in looking at another woman during the sermon.

A woman would rather know her husband was in jail than not to know where he spends his evenings.

When a girl can succeed in making a man think he is cleverer than the rest of mankind he is her slave.

At this time of the year, you ought not to expect a young lady to give a definite answer to a marriage proposal till after Christmas.

After she has passed thirty there is one secret that a woman can always keep and that is the secret of her birthday.

The most exquisite pleasure that a woman enjoys is suffering for those she loves.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by All druggists. Price 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

'Twixt Smiles and Tears.

Grand Rapids Magnet: The state Democracy is pretty much in the fix of a man who receives a telegram announcing his succession to a fortune while he is attending his mother-in-law's funeral. They ought to weep over Parker but their joy over Johnson simply won't let 'em.

"I was troubled with constipation and stomach troubles, lost flesh, my complexion was ruined; Hollister's Rocky Tea brought back my health and complexion."—Mary Allen, St. Louis 35cents. A. L. Reichert.

ITCHING ECZEMA

In July, 1883, I began to break out with Eczema on my head, legs and arms, and began treatment with local doctors, but did not get much relief. They said the disease had become chronic. I then quit them and tried various ointments and soaps for another two years, but as soon as cold weather came I was as bad off as ever, so I finally decided to let medicine alone, and for twelve or thirteen years did nothing towards curing the Eczema, except bathing. This seemed to do about as much good as anything I had tried.

During the time I lost about one-half of my hair. I began S. S. S. doubtful of a cure, because the disease had run so long, but soon discovered your medicine was doing me good, and continued to take it. I used seven bottles, when I was completely cured, not having a single spot on my body, which before was almost completely covered. F. C. NORFOLK.
1017 Hackberry St., Ottumwa, Ia.

The head, feet and hands are usually the parts affected, though the disease appears on other parts of the body. While external applications allay the itching and burning temporarily, it is the acids thrown off by the blood that cause the irritation and eruptions upon the skin. The acids must be neutralized and the system cleansed of all humors and poisons before the cure is permanent. SSS S. S. S. is guaranteed entirely free of Potash, Arsenic and other minerals. Book on the skin and its diseases sent free. Medical advice furnished free.

Plummer Pioneer: Fred Smith was over from Grand Forks on Wednesday night. He returned on Thursday morning accompanied by the Misses Lillian and Ida Iverson. Mr. Smith and Miss Ida Iverson will be married at Grand Forks next week.

Alex Thompson, the well-known representative of the Minneapolis Brewing company, was over from Crookston yesterday calling on his customers. Mr. Thompson was one of the most ardent Johnson men in the state and is feeling pretty good over the result, especially as he is reported to be about $1,000 richer in purse as a result of election bets.

The eight-year-old son of Ed. Miller, section foreman on the Great Northern at Dugdale, had one of his legs cut off by the train last Friday evening. The little fellow was out picking up coal along the track, and it seems that two trains were switching near the station. In attempting to get out of the way of one train it is thought he stepped to the other track and was hit by the other train. The boy was taken to Fosston for medical attendance and is reported to be doing as well as could be expected.

A bill will be introduced in the next legislature, according to S. F. Fullerton, state game warden, for the protection of hunters that may establish the careless killing of one nimrod by another as manslaughter. Mr. Fullerton says that many deaths in the woods this fall, and in fact nearly every fall, empraisizes the need of some law that will make hunters more careful of human life. In some of the Eastern states a hunter who kill another by mistake is immediately arrested if he is known and must stand a trial for manslaughter. Mr. Fullerton says this is a good law and that he will endeavor to have the Minnesota legislature pass a measure to this effect.

Frank Violet, a prominent farmer, was seriously injured last Thursday evening while on his way home from Red Lake Falls. He was but a mile out of town when in some way his team became frightened and was soon beyond control. The horses ran for some distance, finally tipping the buggy. Mr. Violet fell beneath the heavy load and one of the back wheels ran over his right leg, crushing it badly. Jule Lasha happened to be coming to town and saw the accident. He brought Mr. Violet to town and summoned medical attendance. At present the injured man is at the home of his mother in this city, and is much improved, but it will be sometime before he will be able to get around again.

"SAVED MY LIFE"

—That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Edited by the Spartan Society—Mayme Linnihan Blanche Berthiaume and Walter Johnson, Reporters.

Iza Tibbetts, who was absent the later part of last week, is again at school.

The different classes of the high school have been taking examinations this week.

The Athenians have been working hard at their play "Diamonds and Hearts" for the past week.

One of our worthy freshmen while in Thief River last week gave a few dancing lessons to one of the freshmen girl of that city.

Prof. Chamberlain has been working hard in trying to arrange a gymnasium for the benefit of the high school boys and girls.

The foot ball boys played at Thief River Falls last Friday. Although the game was not what it ought to have been the boys made up for it in the evening, as they were highly entertained by the high school girls of that place.

Zaiser, our worthy centre of this year's foot ball team, has been growing poor of late. The boys thought he was sick, but it was found out that he had heard about Crookston's big center. We hope to see him pick up now and get as heavy as ever.

The foot ball boys intended to play Crookston on Thanksgiving, but word was sent that Crookston had disbanded and that they would play us next year early in the season. We hope they will live up to this, as they have refused three or four challenges we gave them this year.

Prof. Chamberlain spoke to the school about absences and tardiness, it is the rule of the school to give the room that has the highest average attendance every month a half holiday. Some of the members of the high school should save their frequent half holidays and celebrate with the rest at the end of each month.

A Numerical Mistake.

"Private" John Allen tells us of an old time politician of Mississippi who was making a personal canvass of his territory, says the Woman's Home Companion.

"One day," relates Mr. Allen, "the statesman was doing the southern portion of the state. Suddenly he struck a swarm with children. Never had he seen so many little ones in so small a place. Clustered about the doorway were fourteen tots of various ages. In their midst stood an extremely good looking young woman.

"'Madam,' said the politician, with a gallant bow, 'you must permit me to kiss these charming little one.'

"The woman merely smiled.

"After he had affectionately saluted each of them, he asked, with a genial smile: 'All yours?'

"The young woman blushed.

"The statesman, with another bow, then said: I trust, madam, that I may further trespass upon your good nature by asking that you will be so good as to inform your husband that Col.—, candidate for congress from this district, called upon him this afternoon.'

"'Pardon me,' gasped the woman, 'but I have no husband!'

"'But these children, madam!' exclaimed the astonished statesman. 'You are not a widow?'

"'Oh, no, sir!' was the reply: 'This is an orphan asylum.'"

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Adjourned October Term in Session This Week.

The adjourned term of the district court was called Monday afternoon, and will be in session all the week.

So far only two cases have been disposed of. A. O. Letvig secured a verdict of $60 against Frank Schultz. Letvig contracted to dig a well for Schultz, and the latter claimed the work had not been done in accordance with the contract. Letvig sued to recover $207.

The case of the state vs. August Nelson resulted in a verdict of $100 fine or forty days in jail for the plaintiff. Nelson was charged with criminal assult on the person of Ole Gjerberg.

Today the court's time is being taken up with the celebrated Rocksbury ditch case. About twenty-five of the farmers living along the ditch have appealed from the assesament and are putting up a strong fight.

It is expected that the work of the court will be concluded Saturday afternoon.

ROAD LAW.

The Customary Thing to Do if Traveling on the Highways.

How many people know the right of the road? The statement is as we heard it from a man who ought to to know, that even if one temporarily leaves a sidewalk in front of a coming team, that team has to hold up, as the pedestrian has the right of way over the vehicle, no matter whether he is a hog in claiming it or not. In short, the right of way goes on the highway with the slower person on vehicle. Thus the carriage has the right of way as against an auto. This is following the rules of the road at sea, where a row boat has the right of way as against the largest steamer afloat. The only trouble is to enforce your right. After the man on the right of way has been run down by an auto, or the rowboat with the right of way has been sunk by the steamboat there isn't much consolation in appleling to the right of vindication. That doesn't conpensate a real man. —Austin Herald.

Beware of Ointment for Catarrhs that Contain Mercery,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do it ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle. The Youth's Companion in 1905.

It is impossible even to summarize in a single paragraph the many and varied attractions which THE YOUTH'S COMPANION announces for the coming year.

A series of articles planned to interest especially the forty-five millions of Americans who look directly to the soil for their subsistence will treat of "New Field for Young Farmers," "The Sanitation of the Farm," "The Future of American Cotton," "How Women Make Money on the Farm," etc.

Seven serial stories and 250 short stories by the most talented and popular American writers of fiction will form part of the contents of the new volume for 1905.

Full Illustrated Announcement describing the principal features of THE COMPANION'S new volume for 1905 will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address free.

VOL. VII—NO. 8. RED LAKE FALLS, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1904. WHOLE NO. 320.

DISTRICT COURT IS ENDED

Large Number of Important Cases Disposed of at the Adjourned October Term.

The adjourned October term of the district court was concluded yesterday afternoon. This has been one of the longest terms in the history of the county, and a number of important cases were decided.

Aside from the more important cases mentioned elsewhere quite a few of the lesser legal tangles on the calendar were disposed of.

In the action brought by Louis Sieff to compel the delivery of a warranty deed from Sjur Stolaas judgment was found for Sieff. About a year ago Mr. Sieff traded his Red Lake Falls residence property to Stolaas for the latter's farm in Equality, and a contract for deed was given. A few weeks later Stolaas decided he did not want to trade and refused to deliver the deed in accordance with the contract, and Sieff brought suit to enforce its provisions.

Mrs. Kate Harris was given judgment against Charles Hallas for $400 and interest. Some years ago Mr. Hallas borrowed $400 from his mother and gave a chattel mortgage on live stock and machinery to secure the claim. The note and mortgage was afterwards assigned to Mrs. Kate Harris, a sister of the defendant. Hallas claims that the assignment was fraudulent and that his mother intended before she died to have the debt cancelled.

Morin & Piquette brought an action to foreclose a mechanic's lien on the Scheldrup building in Red Lake Falls. The evidence was submitted by stipulation on briefs and the case taken under advisement.

The case against Sheriff Linnihan, Louis Sieff and Thomas Green by William Findeisen was continued, and permission given the attorney for the plaintiff to amend the complaint. Last summer Sheriff Linnihan had $30 left over from a chattel sale, and this was levied upon by Sieff & Green. Mr. Findeisen claims the money on a second mortgage.

The case of J. K. Hannay & Co. against the bondsmen of the late Sheriff Sampson was not decided. Some years ago Hannay & Co. secured a judgment of $195 from the Red Lake Falls Lumber company, but the sheriff failed to find any property of the lumber company to levy upon. Later Mr. Hannay learned that a check for $1,000 had been paid by the Crookston Lumber company to F. A. Grady for the defendant company, and this money was garnisheed. The court held that no action against the bondsmen of the sheriff would lie until it was proved to the satisfaction of the court that collection could not be made from Mr. Grady on the garnishee proceedings.

Mrs. Gunhild Johnson was defeated in her attempt to set aside a tax-title involving a quarter-section farm near St. Hilaire. She is entitled however to a new trial within six months.

The Rieck-Alsteadt cases, three in number, were submitted on briefs and taken under advisement. They relate to the tenantry of Rieck's farm, and none of them is of great importance.

SOME TAXATION FIGURES.

State and County Tax Rates Slightly Decreased From Last Year.

The assessed valuation of Red Lake county this year is well over the three million mark, the exact figures being $3,185,589. Of this $2,367,542 is charged to real estate and $818,047 to personal property. The state board made no change in the realty valuation, but the personal property schedule was raised $187,988, or an average of about 30 per cent. The exemptions are deducted from these figures, leaving the net taxable property at $2,970,550.

The state and county tax will be 11.80 mills, a decrease of .70 mills from last year. This tax is subdivided as follows: State revenue, 1.50 mills; school, 1.23 mills; county revenue, 5 mills; poor, .50 mills; road and bridge, 1 mill; bond and interest, 1.01 mills; special bond, .22 mills; court house and jail, .34 mills; local school, 1 mill.

The highest rate of taxation is in Red Lake Falls city, 56 mills—no change from last year. The rate at Thief River Falls is 49 mills—a slight reduction from last year. However in the latter city the assessed valuation has been made much higher for local purposes, so that in reality the property owners of the latter city are paying a higher tax than in Red Lake Falls.

KNIGHTS ELECT OFFICERS.

List of New Officials to Serve During the Ensuing Year.

At the regular meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge Monday evening officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Chancellor commander, Samuel E. Hunt; vice chancellor, S. L. Lewis; prelate, Rev. H. W. Knox; master of work, Henry W. Anderson; keeper of records and seal, Thomas Germo; master of finance, Dr. F. F. Fletcher; master of exchequer, J. B. Armstrong; master at arms, George F. Hennings; trustee for three years, W. A. McIntyre; inner guard, P. B. Gaass; outer guard, W. A. McIntyre.

The new officers will be installed at the first regular meeting in January. At the meeting next Monday night the retiring officers will tender a luncheon to the members of the lodge, and a large attendance is desired.

TWO DIVORCES GRANTED.

Uncongenial Matrimonial Bonds Severed by Judge Watts.

Two divorces were granted Tuesday in district court by Judge Watts, and the hearts that once beat in unison have been absolved from the galling bonds of matrimony.

The first case called was that of Treffle Daoust vs. Mrs. Treffle Daoust. The parties hail from Lambert, and were married in 1899. Both are elderly people and it was their second matrimonial alliance, and judging from the evidence submitted not a love match. Mr. Daoust sued for a divorce on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment, but the court did not look kindly on the petition. However when Mrs. Daoust applied for a divorce, alleging the same offenses, the appeal was heeded and the marriage bonds dissolved.

The other case was that of Martha Hage vs. B. C. Hage, both residents of Emardville. The evidence had not proceeded very far when the defendant admitted that he had on sundry and divers occasions pulled his wife's hair. This was more than the court could stand, and the divorce was granted instanter. Judge Watts took the ground that any man who would so far forget himself as to lay violent hands on a woman was not entitled to a wife.

EXPENSE ACCOUNTS FILED.

Candidates Tell How Much it Costs to Run for Office.

According to law candidates for office are required to file with the county auditor within thirty days after election an itemized statement of their expenses in the campaign. The time limit will expire next Thursday, and the dilatory candidates are reminded of this provision of the election law. So far the candidates at the late election have reported as follows:

Sam Luxenburg, Democrtic candidate for county commissioner in the second district, $22.

L. C. Simons, Republican candidate for representative, $246.65.

Daniel Shaw, Republican candidate for commissioner in fourth district, $61.

N. W. Tarrant, Democratic candidate for judge of probate, $82.63.

W. C. L. Demann, Republican candidate for county commissioner in the second district, $37.50.

Frank Jeffers. Democratic candidate for register of deeds, $158.80

John E. King, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, $160.

The following affidavits of expenses in the primaries have been filed:

J. B. O'Brien, Republican candidate for Republican nomination for superintendent of schools, $19.18.

Samuel Gibeau, Republican candidate for nomination for register of deeds, $234.51.

W. W. Prichard, Republican candidate for nomination for county commissioner in the fourth district, $40.80.

COMMISSIONERS SUSTAINED.

Judge Watts Confirms Establishment of New School District.

The Lake Pleasant school trouble was aired in district court this week. Last winter the board of county commissioners established a new school district—No. 23, and from this action a large number of the patrons in the districts affected appealed to the district court. After reviewing the testimony Judge Watts decided that the action of the board was fully warranted and the establishment of the new district was confirmed.

GIVES NOTICE OF CONTEST

Karl M. Hanson Demands Recount of Ballots in First and Second wards, Red Lake Falls.

Last Monday Karl M. Hansen, Democratic candidate for county treasurer, who on the face of the returns was defeated by seven votes, filed a notice of contest against Ovide Moreau, the Republican aspirant declared elected by the canvassing board.

As a preliminary to the contest Mr. Hansen asks a recount of the ballots in the first and second wards of Red Lake Falls city. In the notice filed by Frank A. Grady, attorney for the contestant, it is alleged that in the first ward seven votes cast for Hansen were not canvassed nor counted for him; that ten votes were canvassed and returned for Ovide Moreau more than was actually cast and that in said ward there were nine ballots marked for both John L. Finke and Ovide Moreau and that all of them were counted for Moreau.

It is further alleged that in the second ward of Red Lake Falls city six votes cast for Mr. Hansen were not counted nor returned for him; that there were twelve votes more counted and returned for Ovide Moreau than were actually cast for him, and that eight ballots were marked for both John L. Finke and Ovide Moreau and counted for said Moreau.

It is further alleged that various persons in Terrebonne and Lambert townships marked from fifteen to eighteen ballots each.

Mr. Moreau has ten days in which to answer the notice of contest, and it is expected that the hearing will be had before Judge Watts at a special term of the district court about the 10th of December.

JAPANESE SUFFER ENORMOUS LOSSES

ASSAULT ON PORT ARTHUR SAID TO HAVE RESULTED IN SEVERE REPULSE.

IMPORTANT DEFENSE OF CITY BLOWN UP

Several Hundred Russians Reported Killed and Many Guns Rendered Useless—Japs Want Victory Before Fleet Arrives.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 29.—The war office has received information from Chefoo that the Japanese assault on Port Arthur Saturday was repulsed with enormous losses.

Movement Indecisive.

Gen. Kuropatkin, under Sunday's date, reports that the Japanese offensive movement, which began November 24 near the village of Tsinkhetchen, on the front of the left flank, was of an indecisive character up to four p. m. November 26 and was checked by the Russian fire. Although the fighting had then lasted three days the Russian troops were in excellent spirits.

Important Fort Blown Up.

Rome, Nov. 29.—The north side of Ehrlung fort, an important link in the chain of defense north of Port Arthur, has been blown-up by the Japanese after tunneling for hundreds of feet through the mountain, according to dispatch from Tokio to the Italia Militaire. It is stated that several hundred Russians were killed and 20 large guns rendered useless. Following the explosion a concentrated bombardment was begun by the Japanese for the purpose of reducing the fort and thus breaking the inner line of fortifications.

Japs Working Hard for Victory.

Berlin, Nov. 29.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Mukden under Sunday's date says: It is believed about headquarters that the Japanese will make extraordinary efforts to win a land victory before the arrival of the Russian second Pacific squadron. The movements of the fleet are reported in each issue of the Army Gazette, the one hundredth number of which was printed Sunday. The paper is circulated throughout the army and is the only medium of news from the outer world. As soon as it appears, the privates gather in groups, while one who can do so reads the whole paper, the soldiers listening. The soldiers are convinced that the arrival of the second Pacific squadron will end the war, as they believe the Japanese will be beaten on the sea and will seek peace.

STREET CAR JUMPS TRACK.

Air Brake Fails to Work Causing Fatal Accident in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 29.—One man was killed outright and 14 other passengers were injured, some of them seriously, in a Bellefontaine street car that jumped the track and overturned Monday. Charles J. Warner, office man, was thrown off the platform, struck head foremost on a pile of street car rails and was killed.

The accident occurred at a curve while the street car was running at full speed. Leaving the track the car dashed across the street, hitting the curb and overturning, and strewing the street with injured. When the accident occurred the car was crowded with men, women and children on their way to work.

Motorman Charles H. Smith and Conductor L. P. Morganier were arrested. Smith told the police that the accident was caused by the failure of his air brake to work while the car was on the down grade leading to the curve.

Asked to Appoint Arbiter.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, and Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, called separately at the state department Monday to present, on behalf of their respective governments, an invitation for the United States to appoint a "high ranking naval officer" as a member of the court of inquiry which will investigate the facts in the Dogger Bank incident.

Yellow Fever Authority Dead.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 29.—Dr. W. L. Coleman is dead at his residence in this city, aged 70 years. Dr. Coleman, while eminent as a general practitioner, was particularly an authority on yellow fever, having served through several epidemics and won a Howard medal given in appreciation of his services with this dreaded disease.

New Electric Line.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—With the organization of the Chicago & Southern Traction company a new interurban electric line diverging from Chicago has been started. The company has just been incorporated at Springfield for the purpose of operating an electric line from Chicago to Kankakee, with stations at Harvey, Homewood, Matteson, Monee, Peotone, Manteno, Tucker and Bradley.

Battle with Robbers.

Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 29.—In a battle between a posse of citizens and three robbers at Fonda, Ia., Monday, one of the robbers, whose name is not known, was shot and fatally wounded. The other two escaped, but a posse is in pursuit. The small amount of booty secured was found on the wounded cracksman.

FORT BLOWN UP.

Explosion Kills Several Hundred Russians—General Assault on Port Arthur.

Washington, Nov. 26.—It is learned, on excellent authority, that the Japanese army has been ordered to renew its attack on Port Arthur, and to take the main fortifications at any cost.

Rome, Nov. 28.—The north side of Ehrlung fort an important link in the chain of defense north of Port Arthur, has been blown up by the Japanese after tunneling for hundreds of feet through the mountain, according to a dispatch from Tokio to the Italia Militaire. It is stated that several hundred Russians were killed and 20 large guns rendered useless.

Tokio, Nov. 28.—The general attack on Port Arthur is progressing, but the results are unknown. Gens. Nakamura and Saito, leading specially trained bodies of swordsmen, charged into the Russian forts and engaged the Russians in a hand-to-hand and bloody encounter.

Mukden, Nov. 25.—The Japanese made a fresh attack on Poutiloff hill the night of November 22. Their advancing ranks were decimated by the Russian shell fire. Some of the Japanese secured lodgment on the slopes of the hill, but were driven out at the point of the bayonet, when the whole Japanese contingent fled. A similar attempt was made the same night south of Erdazou, which also was repulsed with a bayonet charge. The Japanese lost heavily, while the Russian loss was 30 killed.

Paris, Nov. 28.—The budget committee's report contains the following specific statement in connection with the Russo-Japanese war: "Already Japan has made known the conditions on which she is ready to close hostilities. These consist in the return of Manchuria to China, the dismantling of Port Arthur and the establishment of Korean independence, with the right of Japan to acquire land. Russia's refusal of the foregoing conditions shows it is her purpose to carry on the conflict to the end."

RUSH OF IMMIGRANTS.

Inspectors at Ellis Island Unable to Handle All Who Arrive on Friday.

New York, Nov. 28.—So great has been the rush of immigrants to this port within the past few days that the immigration station at Ellis Island was crowded Friday and several thousand steerage passengers were forced to remain all night on board the steamers on which they arrived from Europe. When the Baltic came in during the forenoon with a steerage list numbering 1,700, the officials of the steamer were informed that there was no room for them on the island. Five thousand immigrants already were crowded in the detention quarters, while the normal handling capacity of the present force of inspectors is only 3,000. Under the circumstances they refused absolutely to handle the additional 1,700 brought in by the Baltic and the steamship officers were obliged to keep them on board under guard. As there is a fine of $100 per head for any immigrant who escapes from a ship before being properly examined by the authorities, the big liner was put practically under martial law to prevent the disappearance of any of the steerage passengers, all of whom wanted to go ashore at once.

IS EXONERATED.

Gen. Carnahan, Head of Uniform Rank, K. of P., Innocent of Charges Preferred.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 28.—The findings and opinions of the court of inquiry held at the instance of Maj. Gen. James R. Carnahan, by the grand lodge of the uniform rank Knights of Pythias, to investigate charges that Gen. Carnahan showed favoritism in the awarding of drill prizes at the conclave held at Louisville August 15 to 20, have been received by Gen. Carnahan from Supreme Chancellor Charles E. Shively, of Richmond. The findings and opinions hold that Gen. Carnahan is innocent of any and all of the charges.

Vote of Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Official returns from all of the counties of Illinois show that Mr. Deneen received a larger vote for governor in the election than President Roosevelt did, there being a difference of 568 votes in favor of the candidate for governor. The official returns for the state are Roosevelt, 632,364; Parker, 328,186; Roosevelt's plurality, 304,178. Deneen, 632,932; Stringer, 334,922; Deneen's plurality, 298,010.

Big Order for Cars.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The Pennsylvania company announces that it has just closed contracts for the building of about 5,000 freight cars. This is independent of the recent orders placed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company for 6,800 freight cars on its lines east and west of Pittsburg, which are to replace worn out or damaged cars.

River Almost Dry.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28.—The drought throughout the state has assumed alarming proportions. Thousands are suffering and there is only three inches of water left in the Ohio river. All the railroads are forced to haul water.

Fatal Explosion.

Vicksburg, Miss., Nov. 25.—By the explosion of the boilers in D. R. Middleton's cotton gin in the town of Walters, a suburb of this city, two lives were lost and five persons injured, two of them seriously.

ST. HILAIRE.

[From the Spectator.]

Miss Catherine Pirath made a short visit with her parents at Red Lake Falls on Thanksgiving.

P. R. Malberg, formerly well known here was recently elected auditor of Marshall county by the narrow margin of eighteen votes.

Sixteen of the boys have organized a brass band and engaged J. G. Winkjer as preceptor. They will use the instruments owned by the village and have purchased several in addition. Nearly all are without experience so it will be some time before they will appear in public.

The funeral of John Malmquist occurred in Bray last Saturday. Mr. Malmquist met his death while repairing an out building on his farm near Cheyenne, N. D., the building falling on him breaking his back and smothering him.

Manager Pettibone has had a crew hauling sand this week for the brick work in the power house. Work on the new boiler has already commenced and it will be here before the holidays. The gang re-saw is also being built and will arrive some time in January.

Last Monday afternoon, November 21st the last log for the season was cut at the saw mill. This is by far the latest the mill has ever run since it started and is a record that will be hard to beat. No serious accident of any kind during the season is another record that Manager Pettibone is justly proud of. The mill did not stard until July 1st and the logs were poor and small so the cut, which is in the neighborhood of twelve million feet, is very creditably for a one-band mill. The non-resident employees left on Monday and Tuesday for their respective homes.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Killed on Train.

Heino Lundeen, Moorhead, who with four other friends was beating his way to Minneapolis on a Northern Pacific freight train, did not waken quickly when called by two holdup men, and was shot to death in cold blood.

His four companions, who had fall been aroused from a sound sleep, were robbed and forced to jump from the train which was moving at the rate of twenty miles an hour.

The murder and holdup was committed about three miles north of Elk River.

Two men were arrested near Elk River. At Elk River, whither they were taken and locked io the Sherbourne county jail, the men described themselves as C. D. Scrawford and G. E. Parmer. Lundeen's companions in the car positively identified them as the highwaymen and declared that Scrawford did the shooting at the instance of Parmer. When arrested the prisoners had about $600 and twenty watches.

Badly Burned.

Scratching a match on a pair of trousers which were saturated with gasoline, Albert Winder, aged fifteen, St. Paul, became the leading character in a tragedy in which two men were also figures much to their sorrow.

He spent the greater part of the afnoon in cleaning clothes with gasoline, his trousers becoming saturated from the rag he used in his work. After he had finished he went into the kitchen to light a fire preparatory to the cooking of the six o'clock meal.

He thoughtlessly scratched the match on his trousers and was immediately enveloped in flames. His agonizing cries brought his mother, Mrs. Sadie Winder, 50 years old, and Mrs. James La Bow, a young and pretty neighbor, to the room. They fought the fire with their hands and both were severely burned about the arms and face, Mrs. Winder also suffering burns on her breast before the flames were extinguished.

To Test Wheat.

To its other instrumentalities of public beneficence, the Minnesota School of Agriculture has recently added an experimental flour-mill and bake-oven for testing, in quantities large enough for satisfactory demonstration, the milling and bread-making values of different wheats. At the present moment careful tests are being made to determine the amount of loss, on different grades, from the rust which inflicted so much damage on the crop crop just gathered. The work is in the hands of Robert Dewar, who combines the qualifications of a practical miller and a scientific investigator. In its results it is expected to benefit both growers and millers; the former, in showing what kinds of wheat suffer most at least degradation from rust; the latter in determining the actual milling value of rusted wheat as compared with the uncontaminated grain.

Not Teachers Enough.

The state normal schools are not able to keep up with the demand for teachers in Minnesota, even with increased facilities and larger graduating classes each year.

The biennial report of the state normal school board, transmitted to Gov. Van Sant by President Alvah Eastman, says that the normal schools are not able to meet more than one-fourth of the calls made on them.

The higher standard being set for teachers is responsible for this. The graded and rural schools are asking for normal school graduates. There were 450 requests received by one of the schools last year, offering salaries from $45 to $55 a month. The restoration of the three years' course for teachers in rural schools has helped to increase the supply of teachers, but it has not been sufficient.

Reservoir Bursts.

The Red Wing waterworks resevoir, containing 1,000,000 gallons of water, cracked across the bottom, causing an opening several feet in diameter.

For a time the water was confined underground, or until the embankment broke, when it rushed down the side of the bluff, carrying along huge stones, trees and masses of earth.

The residence of G. G. Wiltse was demolished and Mrs. Wiltse escaped by a hair's breath, feeling the house brush her skirts as she leaped out of the way. Others had narrow escapes.

The city for a time was in darkness.

The loss to property aggregates several thousands of dollars.

News Notes.

For the first time in history the Republican president comes from Stearns county.

Seven men have been killed by being mistaken for deer in the northern Minnesota woods this season, and there are a few days left yet.

Some man called Charley Gallagher, a railroad man of Fargo, a naughty, mean name and he promptly took a large drink of laudanum.

Chief O'Conner of St. Paul allowed no turkey raffles for Thanksgiving.

The population of Bemidji is nearly large enough to entitle the town to free delivery.

The house speakership fight is settled and Frank Clague of Lamberton will be the czar of the house during the coming session of the legislature.

Gen. C. C. Andrews yesterday received a report of a prairie fire near Deedwood, in Kittson county. The origin of the fire is assigned to a railroad engine. About 1,200 acres were burned over.

The W. H. Walker Milling company's mill, elevator and flour warehouse burned at Alden. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is estimated at $18,000, partly covered by insurance.

THE latest figures give Johnson's plurality as 7,600. It is not thought that the official returns will be more than 100 on either side of this figure.

SENATOR KNUTE NELSON has not been quoted as saying that a state convention endorsement for United States senator ought to be respected by the legislature.

CONGRESSMAN MCCLEARY has at last got his ear to the ground and heard the demand of the people for tariff revision. One by one the "standpatters" are being smoked out.

IN his speeches last fall Senator Clapp laid special emphasis on the fact that the defeat of Dunn meant the defeat of Clapp, and a lot of the legislators seem inclined to take him at his word.

THE Dunn adherents propose to see that no nice fat goverment jobis passed to Governor Van Sant. Evidentlv the discordant notes are still disturbing the harmony of the Republican party in Minnesota.

ELBERT BEDE of the Warren Sheaf is announced as a candidate for postmaster of the house. The Ninth district members will probably demand their share of the legislative crumbs, and Elbert's chances to land something look good.

DEACON RUANE of the Slayton Gazette thinks the provisions of the curfew should extend not only to children under sixteen years of age. He thinks there are a number of old guys of both sexes that ought to be chased home as soon as it gets dark.

THE fight against Senator Clapp is now in the open. Judge J. B. Gilfillan of Minneapolis is an avowed candidate and an elaborate propaganda in his behalf has been instituted. Just at present the chances can be said to be against Clapp's reelection.

A PENNSYLVANIA woman is suing for divorce on the ground that her husband is a Democrat. Thus far, however, she has been unable to secure any proof against him, while he hopes by taking the election records into court to thoroughly demolish her case.

IN some states they send lumber thieves to the penitentiary, but in Minnesota they send them to congress, or if the offense is great enough they are elected lieutenant governor. On this basis how much lumber would a man be obliged to steal to merit a United States senatorship?

THE retirement of Frank A. Day from country newspaper work will be recompensed by the return of Charlie Mitchell to the shears and paste-pot. It was a fortuitous circumstance of the campaign that it was impossible to lose both of them from a work for which they are so peculiarly fitted.

GOVERNOR-ELECT JOHNSON announce that Leonard A. Rosing will be named as a member of the board of control to succeed J. F. Jacobsen. This is not only one of the best offices in the gift of the governor, but it has the additional advantage of a six-year term. Mr. Rosing deserves the place by reason of party service and loyalty and posseses the business ability to to make to capable official.

THE Pioneer Press argues that the defeat of Dunn presages the defeat of Clapp, as predicted by that immaculate organ during the campaign. It may be true, but if Clapp is in danger of defeat it is not by the Democrats. All told, the Democratic membership in the coming legislature is only 20. The gubernatorial fight could have no bearing on the senatorship. The same men would have been chosen as legislators no matter whether Dunn or Johnson had been elected governor.

THE Albert Lea Tribune, a Republican paper, says: "The re-election of Jones as lieutenant governor is a disgrace to the state and the thoughtless voters who cast their ballots for him. It is amazing to say the least that a man with his record should be chosen for so important a position but he will be very closely watched during his second term and in that way his ability to do mischief will be reduced to the minimum. The Republican party certainly fell among hard lines when it named the state ticket last June, but part of its work has been atoned for."

AN exchange says that Europe has just begun to use a large amount of corn meal for food for the people. Corn meal food in the various forms in which it can be prepared has something to recommend it besides cheapness. It is much more healthy than food prepared from white flour of wheat. Like graham flour it contains bone food. A man with strong bones is seldom sick, and in many instances is never sick until he reaches the infirmities of extreme old age. If Europe is using more corn meal than formerly for food the fact will make itself apparent in a better condition of the general health of the public.

THE intemperance of temperance, or, in this case, of prohibition, is illustrated again in the row that is being raised over the use of the Prohibition fund. The Chicago national organ of the party accuses the national chairman of "looting" the campaign treasury for his personal profit, and the treasurer sadly admits that this charge is true. The words "black hand," "disloyalty," "rascality" and "conspiracy" are written all over the paper's account of "The Wreck of a Great Campaign," in which, it whould appear, most of the money was spent on bolstering up the private fortunes of the chairman and his friends. Plainly, all the trouble in the world is not caused by the demon rum, as the Prohibitionists often assert.

WHAT is going to be done with the tariff is a matter that concerns everybody in the United States directly and indirectly. There are various stories afloat as to the intentions of the administration and the Republican party leaders. One is that a congressional committee will be appointed to formulate a tariff-revision bill to be taken up by the December session in 1905. Another story is that the president will not deal with the tariff revision in his next message to congress, but will, after learning the views of the party leaders, either call an extra session to meet after March 4, or refer the whole problem to the regular session, as these leaders may think best. The latter report has all the signs of direct inspiration from the White House, being put forth by correspondents who rarely mistake the president's intentions.

Made a Close Guess.

An exchange says a teacher in one of the primary rooms said to her class the other day: "If your father would give your mother seven dollars today and eight tomorrow, what would she have? And a small boy over in the corner replied: "She would have a fit."

TO COUNT THE PEOPLE.

A State Census Will Be Taken in 1905.

Arrangements will be made by the secretary of state to take the state census next year, provided the legislature appropriates the necessary amount to defray the cost of gathering the data. Ten years ago, when the census was taken, the state legislature appropriated $50,000 for the work, but the secretary of state yesterday stated that it would take at least $75,000 to take the census next spring. The last state census alternates with that taken by the government.

There has been such an increase in the number of towns, the number of industries and other interests of the state during the last ten years that it will be necessary to hire a large number of men to take the census. It is thought that the figures will show some startling development in Minnesota since the last census was taken. Only a few weeks can be used under the law to take the census, so that a large force must be hired. There is a person assigned to nearly every small town in the state besides a number of others to the large cities and counties.

About the same time the government will be engaged in taking the regular five year census of the manufacturing and other industrial interests. The state labor bureau expects to receive the blanks soon, so that the bureau mav be familiarized with the system. Abont sixty days will be taken up with the census.

Frank Eddy Gets Witty.

After reading the election returns from his home city Frank M. Eddy, editor of the Sauk Centre Herald got out his funny pencil and wrote these paragraphs:

We are going to stop talking politics but please give us a little time.

We don't know just where we got off at, but we are certain we got off.

There is no way of keeping the people from doing what they please in matters political.

It was hardly fair for the Republicans to hold a presidential election and not let the Democrats know when it was coming off.

What is the use of holding another presidential election for eight years. Roosevelt has votes enough to elect a man for two terms.

Simons Should Oppose Clapp.

If there is one member of the legislature in this state who owes neither Senator Clapp nor any of the friends of Senator Clapp a pleasant look it is Luman C. Simons, of Red Lake. Mr. Simons found his opposition in the Clapp camp in this county and that opposition was also in evidence in Clearwater county. The only way Mr. Simon can get back at the senator and his interests is to oppose his re-nomination, and we believe he wil' do it.—Bemidji Sentinel.

Mrs. Mary E. Hoblit, 2501 Clinton avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"My son suffered for three months with catarrh of the bronchial tubes which threatened to become very serious. The doctors advised that he seek a more favorable climate, but as he had heard of Peruna as a specific for lung trouble he decided to give it a trial before he left his family for an expensive journey among strangers. For six months he used it faithfully and found that the trouble gradually disappeared and blessed health took its place. In two months he was perfectly well and able to perform his duties. You have indeed a grateful mother's thanks."—Mrs. Mary Hoblit.

It is the praise of those who have been cured by Peruna that makes this remedy so popular and so extensively used. No advertisement could have accomplished this result.

Peruna cures the first stages of consumption by removing the cause, which is chronic catarrh. The catarrh having been cured the cough and other disagreeable symptoms cease.

CATARRH CAUSES CONSUMPTION

Pe-ru-na Never Fails to Cure Catarrh Wherever Located.

THE medical profession has so thoroughly prejudiced the minds of the people against patent medicines that it is with great reluctance that anyone can be persuaded to try such a remedy at first.

In nearly every one of the thousands of remarkable cures that Peruna has made the patients had to be persuaded by friends very strongly before they could lay aside their prejudice against it.

A large multitude, of course, hold out against the persuasions of friends and die simply because they have allowed their minds to be poisoned against this very excellent remedy.

But fortunately there is another large multitude of people who are able to shake off their prejudice and try Peruna before it is too late. These people are rarely disappointed. They generally try other remedies at the beginning of their troubles. They allow a cold to develop into catarrh of the head. They allow catarrh of the head to gradually become catarrh of the throat. They still keep using the doctor's medicine, or some other ineffectual remedy. The catarrh stealthily spreads down the bronchial tubes and reaches the lungs. Everybody then becomes alarmed. Faith in the doctor begins to disappear. The patient reaches a state of mind in which he is willing to try almost anything. A bottle of Peruna is sent for.

The first week it produces a decided change for the better. A few weeks' continued treatment cures the patient. Then another happy man or woman is added to the long list of people who are praising Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Something Worth Knowing.

Never in the history of the United States has there been such a difference between the price of cattle on foot and their hides or skins as there is at the present time. Cattle at Minneapolis, South St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City and Chicago range in price from $1.75 to $3.50; cows average 2¼, steers 2 to 2¾, bulls 17-8; veal calf 2 to 4¾.

If the cattle were all hides and tallow the farmers would receive more money according to the price circular issued by the Northwestern Hide & Fur Co. Minneapolis, who quote the following prices:

Cow hides, green salted cured, No. 1 9½c, No. 2 8½c.

Cow hides, green unsalted, No. 1 8½c, No. 2 7½c.

Heavy steer hides ½c per pound more. Bull hides ½c per pound less.

Veal calf, green salted cured, No. 1 12¾c, No. 2, 11¼c.

Veal kip, green salt cured, No. 1 10½c, No. 2, 9c.

Veal kip, green unsalted, No. 1, 9½c, No. 2, 8c.

It is shown from the above figures that the hides and skins are worth from 3 to 3½ times as much per pound as the cattle on foot. Rendered tallow is worth 4½c per pound, rough 2½c. It would seem exceedingly wise on the part of the farmer and stockman to slaughter his stock at home and eat or sell his beef rather than ship to market, after the freight and commission is paid there is but little left in common stock.

Died of Consumption.

DIED.—On Monday, November 21st, 1904, of consumption, Emma Gigstad, wife of K. O. Gigstad.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Gigstad were pained to learn that she had breathed her last on Monday afternoon. She was taken sick last March of that dreaded disease, consumption, and has been confined to her bed most of the time since. Mrs. Gigstad was twenty-six years of age and has spent almost all of life at this place, and has a large number of sincere friends who will mourn her early demise, and her gentle disposition and kindly manner will long be remembered. Besides her husband she leaves four children to mourn her loss. There are three girls and one boy, the [illegible] year old. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the Norwegian church, with which she has long been prominently connect[illegible] [illegible] interment was in the cemetery east of the river and a large number of sorrowing friends followed to her final resting place.—St. Hilaire Spectator.

Instead of putting on a stub train to run from St. Hilaire to to Red Lake Falls the stub will run from Thief River to Greenbush. As soon as the connection at this place is finished a through passenger train from Crookston to Greenbush will be put on.

Nearly every cent a paper gathers in is spent at home and it goes to the merchants who delight in bene fitting themselves and community by liberal advertising. Boiled down the facts are that a newspaper returns all money that it gets to those who give, and it work for the town and county is thrown in as good will. Do all business men, do citizens generally realize the truth of this?—Albert Lea Standard.

County Attorney Rowe was over from Crookston Tuesday to look after a case before the district court. Court commences at Crookston next Tuesday and Billy will have his hands full looking after the criminal business of Polk county. The most important case will be the Guillmette murder case, which is exciting great interest over tnere. The evidence against Guillmette is largely circumstantial, but the county attorney contends that the chain of circumstances has not a weak link and the chances for conviction are good.

One of the stories attributed to Bishop Potter concerns a young and inexperienced clergyman who had just been called to a city charge. At the end of the first month his salary was paid by a check and he took it to the bank and passed it in at the paying teller's window. The official looked at it and then passed it back. "It's perfectly good," said the banker, "but I will have to ask you to endorse it." The young clergyman took his pen and wrote across the face of the check, "I respectfully subscribe to the sentiments herein expressed."

On Sunday last John Peterson, one of the old residents of St. Hilaire died after a short illness, aged 60 years. Deceased settled on a farm along the river near St. Hilaire, in the early 80's and reared a large family, most of whom are grown. He was in business in St. Hilaire for a number of years, running a general mercantile store, the firm name being Peterson & Lang. He was a man highly respected by all who knew him, and he had a very large circle of friends among the old timers of the valley who will learn of his death with deep regret. It is understood that he leaves his widow and the children still at home in very comfortable circumstances.

The Physics class will take an examamition in the near future.

The Thanksgiving vacation is come and gone and the scholars are eagerly looking foward to the christmas vacation, which comes in about three weeks.

The Spartans will hold a meeting this week and the President will nominate a new program and reporting committe as their three months term has expired.

The Civics class will take an examation Thursday on state goverment and officers.

In last Friday edition of the Crookston Journal appeared, "A Mistaken Idea." under this heading was the piece they took from the Courier last week and ended up by saying: "The Crockston foot-ball team has not disbanded and are yet playing ball, but do not intend to play Red Lake on thirty minutes' notice." We wish to state that evidently the editor of the Journal has not kept in very close touch with the business manager of the foot-ball team. If he had he would have known that Red Lake Falls challenged Crookston last August, and since then have been trying to arrange a game, but could not. Also that when our manager telephoned to Crookston three days before Thanksgiving he received the answer that Crookston had disbanded and would play no more this year. We expected this from Crookston, as they knew that to play Red Lake would mean as it has always meant DEFEAT!!

A Record Breaker.

The records show that so far in November, twenty-five day, the weather has been delightful with the exception of the day following election, Nov. 9, when the elements raged somewhat, and a small snowstorm resulted. Besides these twenty-five days of mild weather in the present month, the last week of October was noticeably fine, although not up to the standard of the past few days.

Why Not Endow Men?

The public spirited millionaires of America have contributed large sums of money to endow institutions of learning, museums, etc., but why not endow men. It is a noted fact that the best men rarely can be secured by educational institutions because of the small salaries paid. Why not allow a number of the best men worthy institution and give it their services? We would also endow them with golden grain belt beer, for with it men can accomplish the work they were intended for. It gives strength and vigor for every day's work and that's what we all need. PUTS IN BUSY DAY AT WORLD'S FAIR

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT VISITS THE GREAT EXPOSITION AT ST. LOUIS.

Takes Hasty View of the Exhibits, Inspects State and Foreign Buildings, Sees Illumination and Attends a Banquet.

St. Louis Nov. 28.—What healthy and optimistic American citizens have been claiming could not be done properly in six weeks, President Theodore Roosevelt Saturday did in eight hours. He saw the Louisiana Purchase exposition, peeked into its every nook and corner, went through all the great buildings, visited the structures reared by foreign countries, received many gifts, made a speech or two, spent an hour on a neighborly visit in the Filipino section, reviewed the United States troops stationed on the grounds, including the Philippine scouts and constabulary, and closed his schedule at sundown not half tired but wholly pleased. After a short rest he attended the banquet in the evening, which was given in the Tyrolean Alps concession. Mrs. Roosevelt was at the president's side most of the time. So were Miss Alice Roosevelt, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and Surgeon General Rixey, who formed the Washington party.

There are 1,240 acres in the St. Louis fair grounds and one can easily underout for him. But, from start to finish out for him. uBt, from start to finish the nation's magistrate was happy as the school boy on his first vacation days. To a friend he said "This is marvelous. It is beyond description and exceeds my fondest expectations. I have had the best time I ever had in my life, and I have seen more than I ever expected to see in one day's time."

Sunday was spent quietly by the president and his party. Attendance at the Second Presbyterian church in the morning was followed by luncheon at the residence of Treasurer Thompson, of the exposition company, whose guest the president was during his stay in St. Louis, an extended drive in the afternoon and dinner at the residence of President Francis. The evening was spent at the Thompson home, and the special train bearing the party left at midnight on the return to Washington.

TO DISMANTLE THE FAIR.

Midnight of December 1 Will see Beginning of Packing of Exhibits at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—Promptly at midnight December 1 a force of 75 men employed by the General Service company of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, will shunt 200 freight cars loaded with empty packing cases and the work of dismantling the fair will begin. In different parts of the exposition grounds are 1,500 carloads of empty packing cases, while outside the grounds are others, aggregating 100 carloads more. These will be distributed as rapidly as possible and the packing of the exhibits will be rushed.

Rear Admiral Buried.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 28.—The funeral of Rear Admiral John R. Bartlett, U. S. N., retired, was held from Christ church, Lonsdale, Saturday. Gov. L. F. C. Garvin, ex-Gov. Charles W. Lippitt and officers from the Newport naval station were present.

Distress in Ireland.

London, Nov. 26.—The failure of the potato crop is causing great distress and suffering among the peasantry of Connemara. Reports from various districts of Ireland state that the pinch of hunger is already severely felt, especially on the Mayo seaboard.

TRADE REVIEW.

Better Outlook in Industrial Lines—Mills Reopening and More Men Given Work.

New York, Nov. 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Retail and jobbing trade was retarded by unseasonably mild weather and the interruption of another holiday but manufacturers extend operations as confidence is strengthened by the receipt of larger contracts for future delivery and many inquiries that promise to mature in something more tangible. Postponed orders from every prominent industry indicating that idle mills are reopening and the number of operatives gradually increasing. Improvement in the iron and steel industry continues.

"Failures this week numbered 205 in the United States against 258 last year, and in Canada 39, compared with 14 a year ago.

Bradstreet's says: "Cold weather is needed to move retail stocks of winter clothing, dry goods and shoes, reorders for which from jobbers are not brisk. On the other hand, the trade in holiday goods has begun well. Manufacturing industry is active in most lines the country over, winter employment in the iron and allied trades is assured, and labor is better employed than a year ago at this date."

SITE IS SELECTED.

Naval Training Station on the Great Lakes to Be Located at Lake Bluff, Ill.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Secretary of the Navy Morton announces that the board appointed to select a training station on the Great Lakes has unanimously recommended that the Lake Bluff site, 30 miles north of Chicago, be selected. The president has approved the selection. The initial appropriation for this work has already been made, and it will be the policy of the secretary to push the work to completion as rapidly as possible.

Grand Jury Indicts Woman and Four Children for Murder and Arson.

Towanda, Pa., Nov. 24.—The grand jury found true bills against Mrs. Sophia Merritt, the mother, and Charles, Bigler, Alanson and Nancy Johnson, her children, charging them with murder and arson. The mother and her four children are charged with killing Maggie Johnson, wife of Bigler Johnson, and her ten-year-old niece, Annie Benjamin, on the night of September 18, and afterward setting fire to the house and burning the bodies.

BANK PLUNDERED.

Robbers Steal $3,000 from Institution at La Plata, Md.—Building Wrecked.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 25.—A special to the Baltimore American from La Plata, Charles county, Md., says thot a number of men blew up and practically destroyed the building of the southern Maryland savings bank early Thursday morning. They secured $3,000 in cash. Nitroglycerine is supposed to have been the explosive used. The robbers, after securing the money, made their escape.

Major Delmar Sold.

New York, Nov. 25.—Major Delmar, the world's champion trotting gelding, with an unpaced trotting record of 2:01¼, and a paced trotting record of 1:59¾, was sold at the Old Glory sale at the Madison Square garden Thursday for $15,000. The purchaser was C. K. G. Billings, owner of Lou Dillon. Major Delmar was consigned by E. E. Smathers, who bought him last year for $40,000.

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.

Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. BOAT CAPSIZED BY HEAVY SWELL

DISASTER OCCURS OFF SARNIA, ONT., EARLY ON THANKSGIVING DAY.

While Crossing the Stream Little Craft Is Upset Within 100 Feet of Dock and Four of Those on Board Are Drowned.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 25.—The rowboat of William Briggs, the night ferryman between this city and Sarnia, Ont., which is directly across the St. Clair river from here, was upset near the Sarnia dock early Thursday, and four men who were passengers were drowned. The drowned are: Alfred Green, engineer, St. Thomas, Ont.; John S. Chreenan, fireman, St. Thomas; John Dack, brakeman, St. Thomas; James Connell, barkeeper, Sarnia, Ont. Ferryman Briggs left the Port Huron dock with six passengers in his rowboat. A heavy sea was running on the river, kicked up by the strong north wind that was blowing. The boat pitched and tossed on the waves, but made the passage safely until within about 100 yards of the Sarnia dock. Then a heavy back swell from the shore suddenly caught the craft and capsized her. Ferryman Briggs, John Dobson, an engineer, of St. Thomas, and Daniel Fisher, a conductor, of Ridgetown, Ont., saved themselves by hanging to the overturned boat, but the other four passengers were drowned. The three railroad men who were drowned were Pere Marquette railway employes.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Some Notable Observances Narrated—Features at the World's Fair.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving day was observed generally throughout the city. The government departments were closed for the day and most of the business houses were not open during the afternoon. At night the president gave a family party at the white house for the Thanksgiving dinner.

New York, Nov. 25.—Observance of Thanksgiving in the metropolis was not unlike that which has marked the season in other years. There were special services in nearly all denominations, and the unfortunate, both within and without the charitable institutions and prisons, were made happy for the time being. Hundreds of baskets of food were distributed among the poorer families in the lower section and liberal Thanksgiving dinners were served to the needy in many quarters.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—Thanksgiving day developed one of the most memorable celebrations on the world's fair calendar. Added to the regular celebration was that of New Hampshire and Vermont day, which was marked by concerts at the respective state pavilions. Children's day was also observed, and many features of entertainment were provided for the hosts of little ones who were admitted free. The Thanksgiving day ceremonies consisted of union religious services in Festival Hall, Archbishop Glennon presiding. Addresses were made by St. Louis ministers. At the close of the exercise the audience dispersed to all quarters of the grounds where Thanksgiving dinners were held. Among the most interesting was that served at the Model play grounds. Several hundred children, representing some 30 different nations, partook of a New England Thanksgiving dinner.

TAFT IN PANAMA.

Tells President Amador That Our Only Intention in Isthmus Is to Build Canal.

Panama, Nov. 28.—Secretary of War Taft and party arrived Sunday and was received by President Amador and the Panama cabinet. After extending President Roosevelt's personal greetings and expressions of good will Secretary Taft assured the Panama officials that the United States has no intention in the isthmus other than to build the canal for the benefit of Panama, the United States and mankind. There was no desire to exercise further power. President Amador in reply said his government and his people fully appreciated the proof given by the United States of its sympathy. Later he returned the visit of Secretary Taft.

Gompers Reelected.

San Francisco, Nov. 28.—Samuel Gompers was practically unanimously reelected president of the American Federation of Labor Saturday. One delegate, Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, a leader of the socialistic element in the convention, voted in the negative, and asked that his vote be so recorded. The convention voted to meet next year in Pittsburg.

Aged Merchant Dies.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 26.—Francis Buell Cooley, founder of the wholesale dry goods house of Cooley, Farwell & Co., from which sprung Field & Leiter, Marshall Field & Co., and many other dry goods houses in Chicago, died here Friday, aged 82.

World's Fair Attendance.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—The admissions to the world's fair during the week ending Saturday night were 699,552. The total admissions since the opening of the exposition are 18,317,457.

Dunn and the Scandinavian.

When "Bob" Dunn was in Mankato during the recent campaign he happened to meet a Scandinavian on the street, and the following conversation took place, with "Bob" as the interrogator:

"What do you think of Dunn, my friend?"

"Oh, A guess Dunn ha ban purty gude fellow"

"What kind of a governor do you think he make?"

"Well, A tank ha mak gude guv'nar. all right"

"And what do you think of Johnson?"

"Oh, A tank Yon Yonson ha ban fine mans?"

"Do you believe he would make a good governor?"

"Yaas, A tank he mak gude one, too".

"Well, who do you think has the best show?"

"Oh, A tank Renglen Bros. hav best show, all right".

This was to much for "Bob," and the dialogue ended as abruptly as it began.

New York Press: Some people tell the truth so as to have people not believe them.

Very often you can convince a woman by not reasoning with her about it.

A man wouldn't enjoy smoking half as much as he does if nobody objected to it.

A woman is hardly ever old enough not to act as if she weren't younger than her younger sister.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness, or stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the Kidney and Bowels, stimulate the Liver, and clarifiy the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and through effectivness. Electric Bitters is only 50c, and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by all druggists

About Like Red Lake.

St. James Journal: The election returns in Chippewa county show a curious mix up. Roosevelt carried the county by 1490 plurality over Parker, while Johnson beat Dunn out by 160. The Republican state ticket won over the Democrats by about 560 votes, while every Democrat on the county ticket was elected save one, and he was defeated by an independent, who received more votes than either his Republican or Democratic opponent.

Fight Will Be Bitter.

Leaders of the Two Parties Indorse The St. Paul Globe.

The Globe made a good fight and is largely responsible for the election of Johnson. I am frank to say that there was no abuse villification of Mr. Dunn in the Globe. It took smart advantage of the news as it transpired, but I saw no sign of personal abuse. It would not be too much to say that no better newspaper campaign has been made in this state in years than was made by the Globe in the governorship contest, and, although I regret the result, I do congratulate the Globe on the fight it made.—Congressman F. C. Stevens.

It would be difficult to overestimate the value of the services of the Globe in the recent campaign. It was aggressive. It made no mistakes. It had the faculty to present the facts in a terse, vigororous style, so they quickly caught the eye of the voter. The Globe furnished the keynote of the campaign for tens of thousands of loyal supporters of Mr. Johnson throughout the state. Its columns were free from offensive personalities, and it has every reason to have a warm spot in the heart of every Democrat in Minnesota.—Frank A. Day, Manager, Johnson Campaign.

In fairness, I must say that I consider the Globe did most effective work for its candidates in the state campaign. The paper made the most of the rumors relating to the Republican campaign and candidates, and it kept within lines and did not have to take back anything during the campaign. Much of the value of a newspaper in a political campaign is to provide something for the leaders in the various districts on which to make their arguments from day to day, and the Globe did this work very well, indeed. The Globe was certainly in the fight up to the last minute.—James A. Martin, Manager, Dunn campaign.

OFFENSIVE CATARRH

I suffered for a long time with a bad case of Catarrh, and took a great deal of medicine without any benefit.

I had a continual headache, my cheeks had grown purple, my nose was always stopped up, my breath had a sickening and disgusting odor, and I coughed incessantly

I heard of your S. S. S. and wrote you. I commenced to use it, and after taking several bottles I was cured and have never since had the slightest symptom of the disease. MISS MARY L. STORM. Cor. 7th & Felix Sts., St. Joseph, Mo.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 29, 1903.

I had Nasal Catarrh for years for which I used S. S. S. with very gratifying results. I tried local applications for some time, and getting no permanent relief I came to the conclusion that the seat of the trouble was in the blood. Knowing S. S. S. to be a good blood medicine I began its use, and after using it for some little while it did away entirely with the offensive mucus in the nostrils, and I did not have to hawk and spit, especially in the morning, to dislodge the catarrhal matter.

1627 South St. FRED H. PRESSY.

The filthy secretions and foul mucus that are continually dropping back into the throat, find their way into the stomach and are absorbed into the blood. Catarrh then becomes constitutional, and the only way to get rid of it is through the blood. Write us if you have Catarrh, and our physicians will advise you without charge.

ROCKSBURY DITCH CASE.

Report of Viewers Sustained by the District Court.

The celebrated Rocksbury ditch case has dragged its weary length through the courts, and last Saturday the last action brought by the protesting farmers was decided by a jury in the district court.

This ditch was established nearly two years ago, and at that time an appeal from the action of the board of county commissioners was taken and on the trial of this case the appellants were defeated. Several other suits along the same line were brought with a like result.

The last action was an appeal from the report of the viewers, the farmers affected alleging that the assessments of benefits and awards of damages were arbitrary and unfair. The jury again found against the appellants, and it is probable that now the work of draining Rocksbury township will proceed without further interruption.

DOWIE COLONY ORGANIZED.

Jabez Hines Pays $70,000 Cash for Land in Beltrami.

Two thousand acres of land in Blackduck township, about thirty miles north of Bemidji, were sold Tuesday to a company represented by Jabe Hines for $70,000 cash. There is much speculation as to the purpose to which this land is to be put.

Mr. Hines, as agent of the company, has been securing options on various tracts in the vicinity of Blackduck and the fact that he is an enthusiastic Dowieite and that he some months ago declared he would found a Dowie colony in Beltrami county, leads color to belief that a colony on a large scale is to be established, notwithstanding the assertion of Dowie himself that the scheme is a fraud.

The tract purchased is at Hines Spur, where there has been much building activity the past month.

Mr. Hines is an enthusiastic follower of Alexander Dowie. He is a man or rough exterior, but intelligent and possessed of wealth. It is a year ago that he presented Dowie with $12,009 in cash. He is a brother of "Farmer" Hines, who a few year ago startled all the northwest with his project for a farmers' railroad.

Hines Spur, so named from an old logging road, is a station a few miles south of Blackduck on the Minnesota & International.

Diamonds and Hearts.

"In the little game of life different cards are often played
Some think their joy on the shining diamond laid;
But, others, who with firm grasp on all that is worth while,
Find that two hearts with but a single thought make journeys only miles."

JOHN BEAUDRY DEAD.

Former Lake Pleasant Farmer Passes Away at North Yakima.

News of the death from heart failure of John T. Beaudry has reached the city and his many friends are mourning the sad event. Mr. Beaudry was for eight years the county treasurer of Polk county and was one of the old residents of Lake Pleasant township. He was 68 years old and moved west not long ago to make his home with his children, several of whom were living in North Yakima.

Tuesday, November 22, apparently in good health Mr. Beaudry went over to one of the neighbors and when he returned he sank into a chair saying he was not feeling very well. His daughter, Mrs. I. Mailloux wanted to send for a physician but he said he would be all right in a few minutes. Finally a look of relief swept over his face and looking up with a smile he said: "There, I am feeling better now." They were the last words he ever spoke for, leaning back on his chair, his eyes closed forever.

The funeral was held from St. Joseph's church and in a letter from F. W. Hall he said that it was the largest funeral he ever attended. Not half of the people could get into the church and there was at least three hundred old residents of Crookston and Red Lake Falls present. Every one here mourns his loss and the bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of hosts of friends.

LAKE GIVES UP ITS DEAD.

Body of Jacob Dyrhaug, Shotley Postmaster, is Found.

Bemidji Pioneer: Dr. Henderson yesterday received a message from Shotley to the effect that the body of Jacob Dryhaug, postmaster and storekeeper at Shotley, who disappeared so mysteriously about a month ago, has been found. The message conveyed no further intelligence whatever and Dr. Henderson leaves today for Shotley in his capacity of county coroner.

Jacob Dryhaug disappeared Sunday, Oct. 22. He had spent the day at the village of Shotley and about nine o'clock in the evening started for home by boat. The boat was found some three miles down the shore of the lake the next morning, but although diligent search was made by friends, neighbors and relatives no trace whatever of the missing man could be found until yesterday.

At the time of his disappearance Mr. Dryhaug had on his person about $1,300 in money and checks, and there have been many rumors of foul play. Developments will be awaited with great interest.

KEOGH PATNODE SHOT.

Careless Handling of Gun Results in Serious Accident.

Keogh Patnode, a boy fifteen years of age, was the victim of a hunting accident last Saturday morning which might easily have been fatal. In company with three other boys he was going up river in a boat and it is thought the gun was thrown in the boat in such a way that the trigger caught, discharging the load in young Patnode's wrist and leg. He bled profusely from the wounds and by the time medical attendance was secured was weak from the loss of blood. Drs. Watson and Lemieux bandaged the wounds, and at present the young fellow is getting along as well as could be expected.

The accident should afford a lesson to boys who are careless in the handling of loaded guns. From some of the stories afloat it is a wonder that serious if not fatal accidents have not occured before.

Boys Who Must Work Summers.

Knowing how difficult it is for boys, who can go to school but three or four months in a year, to get much out of the regular grade work, I have decided to form a new class just for those boys. We will begin at the beginning of the work in all the branches and give them all they can do along the lines that will be most useful to them. The work will be divided up among the teachers and done by those best fitted for that work. There are quite a number of boys in school now who will enter the class, and if there are any more around town who would like to enter such a class we would be pleased to have them come next Monday as the class will be formed then. Come, boys, now and take advantage of this offer.

THE above picture of the man and fish is the trade-mark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.

322 BRYAN AVE. N.
MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

A stereoptican lecture on Korea will be given at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, December 13, by Rev. James H. Nicol of Thief River Falls and Ralph T. Fulton of Warren. A collection will be taken at the close of the meeting, and the amount over the actual expenses will be donated to foreign missions. This lecture has been given at most of the towns in the valley and has been well received everywhere.

CZAR HAS LITTLE POWER.

Is But a Puppet in the Hands of Grand Duke Alexis and the House of Romanoffs.

A student of Russian affairs, writing a few weeks ago, reports an eastern exchange, gives the following graphic picture of the real power of the much-talked-of czar.

"I who know my Russia well and the powers that be in that empire, am amused at the reports of the powers and intentions of the present autocrat of all the Russias which are often published. The simple fact is that no Muscovite emperor ever possessed less actual power than that wielded by his imperial majesty Nicholas II.

"He is a peaceably inclined young monarch and remarkably well intentioned; but he is the sport of the house of Romanoff and those who are all-powerful in the councils of the empire. He may think and he may dream; he may desire and he may propose, but he cannot perform.

"Correctly speaking, it is the emperor alone who can declare war or who can say: 'Let it be peace,' but to tell the plain, unvarnished truth the present czar is but a puppet worked by stronger hands who hold the strings.

"The son is wholly unlike the father. The Czar Alexander III. was not an exceptionally clever man, but he was a man of great determination and tenacity of purpose. He ruled; none ruled him. His ministers were ever a little afraid of him. He expected them to follow his lead unhesitatingly. Never once was he known to follow the lead of any one of his ministers. He was an honest man and an outspoken one, and his indignation at what he considered Bismarck's duplicity would have ended in a war between Russia and Germany had he not eventually been convinced that the documents upon which he based his conclusions were a forgery.

"The Czar Alexander III. did not like Germany, neither did he like England He had, however, a favorable inclination toward the United States, and a real sympathy with France. But, above all, he was Russian. He spoke French fluently, German indifferently and English badly; but he was incensed at the prevalence of the French language in high and official society in St. Petersburg. In the latter days of his reign the order went forth that in these circles Russians should speak their own language and this order had to be obeyed.

"While it cannot be said that the present czar has anything of his father's religious enthusiasm, he may be reckoned among the religious monarchs of the age; and he has lately taken to writing hymns.

"But the czarina is a religious enthusiast. Born a Lutheran, she, on her marriage, had to embrace the faith of the Greek church. To-day her majesty is more orthodox than the most orthodox. So pure of mind, so self-sacrificing, so intensely spiritual is she that, in another age, she would have won canonization.

"The czar worships her and her influence over him is tremendous. Of the two she is decidedly the stronger, but her influence over her husband excites the anger and opposition of his family.

"The czarina's instincts are liberal and progressive, and her husband, so great is his belief in her, would indorse her views and policy unhesitatingly were it not for those august relations of his, and that formidable council of nobles. The czarina, all powerful with her husband, proposes, and the czar's uncles dispose.

"Of all the Romanoff relations the most autocratic, and at the same time the most powerful, is Grand Duke Alexis. He is the Muscovite incarnate, beloved by the navy, of which he is the chief; looked up to by the nobles, and worshiped by the common people. His brother, the late czar alone, was strong enough to soften his rough humors and bend his powerful will.

"After that little affair with a countess Alexander III. intimated that absence from Russia for a period would be highly beneficial for Alexis' health. The sojourn abroad was but temporary, and the grand duke returned with an influence and power greater than before. To-day they are, I should say, at their height.

"He was antagonistic to the liberal and pacific policy of M. Witte, and in the end M. Witte was retired. He it was who induced the czar to appoint Admiral Alexieff viceroy of the far east, with powers never before given to any one outside of the imperial family.

"He entirely disapproves of the views held by the czarina, and thwarts her in every possible way. He has never, it is understood, been in favor of peace, but of war.

"However well intentioned the czar may be, however much he may be under the influence of his wife, who is all for peace, the last word will be with Grand Duke Alexis."

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 26, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

TAKES POISON TO END LIFE

Jilted Lover Commits Suicide at Erskine Sunday Because of Unrequited Love.

Love sick for a grass widow, Julia Holte of Erskine, T. E. Olson, a prominent resident and settler of Mayville, N. D., Sunday evening committed suicide at Erskine by swallowing the contents of a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid. The dead body of Olson was found by attendants at the Merchants' hotel at Erskine shortly after 9 o'clock p. m., and Coroner Chesterman of this city was immediately summoned. Beside the dead man lay a letter addressed to Julia Holte, the young lady who is an attractive grass widow, was the object of Olson's affection and had jilted him. The letter ran as follows:

Dear Julia:—I can't live without you. You fooled me. I love you. Goodbye.
TILLIE.

The victim of the suicide is a prosperous North Dakota farmer, has a well stocked farm and thousands of broad acres. He carried a $2,000 life insurance policy with the Modern Woodmen of America which will be paid over to his parents who reside at Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and are in exceedingly well-to-do circumstances. Investigation reveals the fact that he has brooded over his love affair and disappointment for several days and that upon a trip to Crookston last Friday he purchased the deadly poison which ended his life. His stay at Erskine which he supposed, it is understood, would result in his engagment to Miss Holte, was of but one short week's duration, he having come direct from the fall harvest and clean-up on his Dakota farm to his loved one. Miss Holte is the daughter of a well-to-do Erskine man and is well thought of throughout the district. Olson's remains were shipped to Eau Claire for burial.

The Athenian Play.

We wish to call your attention to the fact that the Athenians are to give a play at the opera house on Friday evening, December 16.

We would remind you that the presentation of the play is wholly unselfish on the part of the Athenians and solely for the benefit of the high school library. For that reason if for no other they ought to have your hearty support. But we do not intend to ask you to support us on that ground. We have a better reason to offer why you should come and see the play. It is one of the best serio-comic plays presented today and sells readily to professionals at a royalty of $25 per night. It is especially adapted to amateur players; therefore the play is worthy of your attendance. Then, too, the players are all suited to their parts and have worked until they appreciate the thought of the author and are able largely to express it. Hence the play will be excellently rendered. For all of these reasons we ask you to give us a crowded house and enable us to buy a large number of good books for you and your children to read.—The Athenians.

Will Ask For New Trial.

Crookston Journal: In the case of Hokan Johnson vs. the Crookston Lumber company, which was decided at the recent session of Red Lake county court in favor of the plaintiff and damages awarded, it is quite likely that a new trial will be asked for by the defendant company. The attorneys of the mill company in Duluth are now at work, it is understood, upon a set of papers demanding judgment for the defendant notwithstanding the judgment rendered, or else a new trial. Attorney W. E. Rowe, of this city, represents Johnson in the action, which grew out of personal injuries received while he was employed in the St. Hilaire plant of the company.

TELL WHAT IT COST.

More of the Candidates File Their Expense Acccounts.

Practically all of the election expense certificates have been filed. Some of them were printed last week, and here is the remainder of the list.

J. J. Doe, Republican candidate for county superintendent, $164.65.

Joseph Belair, Republican candidate for coroner, $35.00.

Paul I. D. Ostby, Republican candidate for county auditor, $125.85.

John L. Finke, independent candidate for county treasurer, $74.77. Among the unusual items in Mr. Finke's expense account is 20 cents "donated to church beggars." Mr. Finke evidently was an artful dodger.

Karl M. Hansen, Democratic candidate for county treasurer, $108.80. Mr. Hansen alleges that the wear and tear on his personal wearing apparel footed up $15.90.

Ovide Moreau, Republican candidate for county treasurer, $125.27.

H. T. McAnulty, independent candidate for county superintendent, $207.30. The principal items in Mr. McAnulty's account are expenditures for printing and advertising. Like Governor-elect Douglas, he believes that advertising pays, for he won a fight that nearly everybody conceded was hopeless.

Ernest Buse, Republican candidate for sheriff, $169.65.

Thomas Germo, Republican candidate for county attorney, $224.70.

James E. Ford, candidate for auditor, $72.60. Mr. Ford succeeded in getting through the campaign cheaper than any other candidate for any of the important county office.

K. J. Weeks, Republican candidate for register of deeds, $205.00.

From the list of expenditures it is apparent that the campaign cost the candidates in Red Lake county in the neighborhood of $3,000, and taking into consideration the cost of holding the primary and general elections, it is apparent that fully $6,000 is scattered over the county by reason of the struggle for place and power.

UNIQUE ELECTION BILL.

Editor Eastman Thinks Frank Jeffers Should "Come to Center."

Some days ago Frank Jeffers, register of deeds-elect, sent a note to John Eastman, publisher of the Thief River News, to send down a statement of his account. This is the answer:

Jan. 1 to Nov. 9, 1904, exclusive, listening to you shoot off your bazoo at 5c per hour, credit being given when a cigar was received..........$13.67.
Nov. 8, from 9 p. m. to 6 a. m., Nov. 9, loss of sleep from listening to a strenuous voice shout "vote for Jeffers!"—8 hours at 10c per hour..........80
Total..........$14.47
N. B.—You may think the charge of 10c per hour is high, but remember it is overtime and I belong to the union.

There is no request for prompt settlement, and it is not likely that Mr. Eastman will use drastic measures to collect the bill.

Three Distinguished Converts.

Pocahontas (Iowa) Democrat: F. A. Day, editor of the Martin County (Minn.) Sentinel, has been selected by Governor-elect Johnson, as his private secretary. Mr. Day was chairman of the Minnesota Democratic state centeral committee, and is credited with having done good work for his party. He is a nephew of D. D. Day, of Pocahontas, and the latter gentleman takes a great deal of pride in the fact that the three nephews, all brothers, engaged in the newspaper business in Minnesota, have been converted to Democracy and are fighting for the cause of the people instead of upholding the wishes of the Wall street gang.

STATE FAIR MADE MONEY.

Despite Rainy Weather the Profits for 1904 Are $50,000.

In spite of the bad weather which prevailed during the last state fair, Minnesota State Fair association will close its fiscal year Dec. 10 with a profit on the year's operations of nearly fifty thousand dollars. The annual report which will be issued in about two weeks will show the rainy weather which prevailed during fair week did not make over ten thousand dollars difference between the receipts this year and the year before. Since 1904 about forty thousand dollars has since been put into permanent improvements.

DIVIDES TAXES ON LOGS.

State Auditor Gives Slice to Each Contesting County.

The state auditor's office yesterday adjudicated the claims of rival counties to taxes for logs cut in Beltrami county, but to which both Polk and Washington county officials laid claim. The logs were cut by the Clearwater Logging company, and a part of the cut was sold to the Crookston Lumber company, of Crookston. Polk county claimed the taxes for the full amount, but the state auditor held, on the evidence produced at the hearing yesterday, that but 3,000,000 feet of the 5,000,000 were sold to the Crookston concern.

Taxes on the value of these logs were ordered paid to Polk county, and the assessment of the remaining 2,000,000 feet was made payable in Washington county, the residence of the Clearwater Logging company. The logs are listed as personal property, and taxed in the home of the owners.

MOREAU FILES HIS ANSWER

Contestee Believes That Recount in Emardville and Garnes Will Increase His Plurality.

Ovide Moreau, Republican candidate for county treasurer, whose election is contested by Karl M. Hansen, the Democratic nominee, has filed his answer to the complaint in the contest proceeding.

Mr. Moreau denies all of the allegations of the contestant with regard to the votes in the first and second wards of Red Lake Falls and the precincts of Terrebonne and Lambert.

He further alleges that in the township of Garnes eight votes were counted for Hansen which were not cast for him, and that six votes legally cast for Moreau were not counted.

He also alleges that in the township of Emardville twelve illegal votes were cast and that he has good reasons to believe that all of these votes were cast for Mr. Hansen. Mr. Moreau believes that all of these votes were cast by non-residents of the township.

He asks for a recount of the ballots of these townships, and to be re-imbursed for his expenses in the case, and for such other relief as the court deems just.

It is thought that the hearing will be held next week and a recount ordered in the several precincts as asked for by the parties to the action.

LAWMAKERS ARE CALLED TO ORDER

LAST SESSION OF FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS GATHERS IN WASHINGTON.

CROWDS GATHER TO WITNESS THE OPENING

Both Branches Hold Short Meetings and Adjourn Out of Respect to Memories of Senators Hoar and Quay Who Died During Recess.

Washington, Dec. 6. — The last session of the Fifty-eighth congress was called together at noon Monday. The opening was under the usual interesting conditions and amid those scenes that for years have made the reassembling of congress among the notable events of the country. Hundreds of sightseers early thronged the corridors and crowded into the galleries to witness the formal proceedings. From one end of the capitol building to the other the busy tread of statesmen and the flutter of femininity distinguished the occasion from any in the official or social calendar of the year.

Senate Meets on Time.

The senate convened promptly at noon Monday. The first senator in his seat was Senator Platt of New York. Long before 12 o'clock the galleries were filled, but the buzz of conversation ceased abruptly when President Pro. Tem. Frye's gavel fell. Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., chaplain of the senate, offered prayer, which was listened to by nearly every senator. Two seats had been vacated by death —those of Senator Hoar of Massachusetts and Quay, of Pennsylvania. Many eyes were turned sorrowfully toward the desks so long occupied by these men, who had grawn old in the public service. Their successors, Senators-elect Crane, of Massachusetts, and Knox, of Pennsylvania, attended the session, but they will not occupy the seats assigned to them until they are formally sworn in. These seats are in the extreme rear, on the democratic side.

The floral decorations were equal to those of any session in the history of the senate.

President Notified.

After prayer the roll was called and 75 senators responded. The routine business of the session was opened. Senator Platt (Conn.) offered a resolution to inform the house of representatives that the senate was in session and ready to proceed with business. Senator Allison made the usual formal motion that a committee be named to inform the president that the senate was ready to receive any message he had to communicate. President Pro. Tem. Frye appointed Senators Allison and Cockrell for this duty.

The death of the late Senator Quay was announced by Senator Penrose, who said that he would later in the session make some remarks concerning the career of his colleague and ask that a day be set aside that a public tribute might be made. He withheld the customary motion that the senate adjourn out of respect to the memory of Senator Quay, in order to give Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, an opportunity to announce the death of his late colleague, Senator Hoar. Senator Lodge then presented a resolution on behalf of himself and Senator Penrose, asking that the senate adjourn. The session was adjourned at 12:13 o'clock.

House Called to Order.

Speaker Cannon, attired in a black frock coat, and wearing a red carnation, mounted the rostrum promptly at 12 o'clock and rapped the house to order. The hum of conversation ceased and standing with bowed heads the members listened to the prayer of the blind chaplain, Rev. H. N. Couden. Upon its conclusion the roll was called. The roll call having disclosed the presence of a quorum, the reading of credentials of new members, elected during the recess to fill vacancies, then was proceeded with.

New Members Take Oath.

The several members-elect were escorted to the speaker's desk and subscribed to the usual oath. The new members are: Ira W. Wood, Fourth New Jersey district; F. G. Croft, Second South Carolina; Amos R. Weber, Fourteenth Ohio; J. Thomas Heflin, Fifth Alabama, and Joseph R. Knowland, Third California.

A resolution was adopted appointing the usual committee to wait upon the president and notify him that a quorum was present and ready for business. The speaker named the following to represent the house: Messrs. Burton (rep., O.), Tawney (rep., Minn.) and Williams (dem., Miss.).

A resolution also was agreed to fixing 12 o'clock as the hour for convening the house.

Upon request of Mr. Grosvenor (rep., O.) the house extended until January 5 the time when the merchant marine commission shall submit its report.

The house adopted resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Senators Quay and Hoar, and as a further mark of respect, at 12:53 p. m., adjourned until Tuesday.

Two Bills Introduced.

Representative Cockran (N. Y.) introduced a bill providing that when any sums exceeding $50, shall be contributed to the funds of any political party or any moneys shall be expended by or on behalf of any candidate for representative in congress or for presidential electors, before an election at which representatives or presidential electors are to be chosen, a statement shall be filed within three days from such contributions or expending such moneys, in the office of the clerk of the district court of the United States for the district in which the person or firm or corporation making such contribution or expenditure shall reside, specifying the amount, the name and residences of donors, and of the person or officer receiving it. Provision is made further for publishing the statement and making the failure to file a statement a felony punishable by imprisonment not to exceed three years. He also introduced a bill providing for the appointment of a special commission to inquire into and ascertain the amounts of money expended by both parties at all elections for presidential electors from 1892 to 1904 inclusive.

Estimate of Appropriations.

The estimates of appropriations required for the support of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, were transmitted to congress Monday by the secretary of the treasury. These estimates aggregate $619,669,852, as against $614,548,937, the amount of the appropriations for the current fiscal year. The estimates for 1906, which are nearly $5,000,000 less than the estimates for 1905, include $146,836,320 permanent annual appropriations already provided for by law.

JAPS LOSE HEAVILY.

Many Killed in Storming of Russian Positions—203 Meter Hill Reported Retaken.

Tokio, Dec. 6.—The diary of the fighting around 203-Meter hill, which is published in the Japanese papers, describes the terrible losses involved in the storming of the Russian position from dawn of November 28 till 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day. During the night six Russian counter attacks were repulsed. One, which was launched at four o'clock in the morning, was characterized by several bayonet attacks, and was persisted in until noon of December 1, when the hopelessness of the attempts being evident the Russians retired.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 6.—Neither the admiralty nor the war office is able to confirm the report from Chefoo that the Japanese have been unable to hold 203 Metre hill, but this news is quite in accordance with expectations. Experts here are convinced that the capture of 203 Metre hill will be of no advantage to the Japanese unless they can gain possession of the neighboring forts.

A DECREASE SHOWN.

Fewer Immigrants Landed in the United States During the Past Year.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Immigration to the United States decreased materially during the last fiscal year, and it is a notable fact that the moral, intellectual and physical qualifications of the immigrants admitted to this country during the past year are higher than ever heretofore have been chronicled. These are two salient features of the annual report of Frank P. Sargent, commissioner general of immigration. The report says that during the past fiscal year 812,870 aliens arrived in the United States, of which 549,100 were males and 263,770 females, an increase in the females, as compared with last year of 19,870, and a decrease in the males of 64,046. Of the total number of admitted immigrants 3,953 could read but not write, 168,903 could neither read nor write. The total amount of money shown to officers by these 812,870 aliens was $20,894,383, or $4,776,870 more than was brought by the 857,046 arrivals of the last year.

THREE MEN SENT TO JAIL.

Former Denver Election Officials Sentenced for Contempt by Colorado Supreme Court.

Denver, Col., Dec. 6.—Frank J. Kratke, city license inspector; Joseph Ray, Edward O'Malia and Charles Kofsky were Monday adjudged guilty of contempt by the state supreme court and were sentenced to jail. The sentences are as follows: Kratke, one year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine and costs; Ray and O'Malia, six months' imprisonment and $500 fine and costs each; Kofsky, three months and $250 fine and costs.

These men were election officials in Precinct Eight of Ward Five at the late election and were accused of disregarding the court's injunctive order. The principal charge against them was the permitting of repeating. Carl Wilson, election clerk in the same precinct, was found not guilty of contempt. The court denied an application for release of the convicted men on bail pending an appeal to the federal court.

Decision Affirmed.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The supreme court of the United States Monday denied the applications for writs of certiorari in the cases of the American Sugar Refining company, of New York, vs. the United States, thus in effect affirming the decision of the circuit court of appeals for the Second circuit, which sustained the government. The suit was brought by the sugar refiners to test the validity of treasury regulations allowing for the temperature modifications of the polariscopic test of sugars brought into the United States.

Production of Cotton.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The report of the department of agriculture Monday indicates a total production of cotton in the United States in the year 1904-05 amounting to 12,162,700 bales.

Concerning Rural Free Delivery.

Patrons of rural routes should always buy stamps in advance of their actual needs, and to keep on hand an ample supply for use when they have mail to dispatch. It is both inconvenient and annoying for the carrier to pick up lose change in the mail boxes. The carrier always has a supply of stamps, stamp books, stamped envelopes and postal cards on hand.

The carrier is authorized to register mail, and take applications for postal money orders and will give you a receipt for the amount you hand him. Don't be afraid he will pocket the money; he is under sufficient bond to be responsible.

The postage on drop letters on rural routes is two cents per ounce or fraction of an ounce, whether sealed or open.

Crookston, Minnesota.

To whom it may concern:

This is to certify that J. A. Button, principal of Button's Business College of this city, guarantees situations to graduates of his school under a forfeit of the full tuition, if one is not secured. He also guarantees the student to hold the position successfully. Money has been deposited by students in this bank with the understanding that if the guarantee was not fulfilled that the money was to be returned to the depositor, and in every instance the contract has been carried out by Mr. Button and the money paid over to him, upon the order of the depositor, after pupils had worked successfully for at least six weeks. Such depositors always signified their satisfaction with Mr. Button's methods of doing business and were well pleased with the situations secured.

Respectfully,

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Increase the Penalty.

As a result of the numerous recent hold-ups and murders that have occurred in Minnesota the announcement is made that one of the first bills that will be introduced in the Minnesota legislature in January will be an act providing a punishment of life imprisonment for conviction in any hold-up case where a dangerous weapon is used.

Such a bill is in force in Illinois and other states will adopt similar measures this year.

Should such a bill be introduced in the Minnesota legislature there is little doubt but that it would pass, as there is a strong sentiment already in favor of some such strenuous measure. The recent hold-ups in the vicinity of Minneapolis have aroused the public and anything in the way of legislation that would have a tendency to check such brutal work would have the support of the public.

It is stated that the bill will be introduced by a member of the Ramsey delegation in the house and that it will be drawn alonfi the lines of the Illinois act.

Rhodes Scholarship.

Examinations of this year for the Cicil Rhodes scholarship at Oxford must be held in January, according to a change in the rules, of which the scholarship committee for Minnesota has just been notified. Last year the the examinations were held in the spring. The Minnesota committee which, consists of President Cyrus Northrop of the state university, Dr. G. H. Bridgman of Hamline, President Mattson of Gustavus Aldolphus, and President Salmon of Carleton, met in the office of President Northrop at the university.

The examination will be held at the university in January, and thus far fifteen students of that institution have announced that they will enter the competition. The other colleges are expected to increase the number to about twenty-five. Last year there were only five competitors.

State Fair Figures.

The Minnesota State Fair association closes its fiscal year, Dec. 10, with a profit on the year's operations of nearly $50,000. The annual report of the association, which will be given out soon, will show that the rainy weather which prevailed during the week of the fair this year did not make much over $10,000 difference between the profits of 1903 and 1904 fairs.

The excellent showing made by the fair association is a matter of much surprise to the public in general. It was believed that the rains of fair week would cut the profits down to a small figure, and might even leave a deficit on the year's business.

Secretary E. W. Randall said that the report of the year's operations was now nearly complete and that he believed he was safe in saying the profits are within $10,000 of those of last year.

Gets Top Prize.

The Minnesota state college of agriculture beat the world in cattle at the international live stock exhibition in Chicago, when Clear Lake Jute the Aberdeen Angus two-year-old prize steer, was awarded the first and greatest prize of the exposition, that of grand champion.

Clear Lake Jute won second place, or that of reserved grand champion, in the same exhibit a year ago. He was sent to the Chicago exposition by the Minnesota institution in the hope that he would this year capture the first prize. He fulfilled their expectations of all the cattle experts at the institution by first carrying off first place in the Angus prize contest and followed this by winning the greatest cattle prize in the nation.

Milking by Electricity.

An electric cow milker is the latest invention which is receiving attention by State Dairy and Food commissioner W. W. P. McConnell.

The apparatus is similar to the one now in use in many parts of Germany. The machine has a rubber hood which is attached to the udder of the cow. A rubber tube conveys the milk to a large vessel and the air is removed from the tube by a electrical device and the action is similar to the sucking of a calf. Other tubes can be run to different cows. The highest successful test that the machine has made is on twenty cows.

For the Babies.

A bill has been drafted for presentation at the next session of the legislature making it a misdemeanor for a landlord to refuse to rent a house or a flat to a family having children. It is understood that the bill will be presented by a member of the Hennipin county delegation.

News Notes.

Lack of snow makes the season a bad one for deer hunters.

A. M. Hayes has tendered his resignation as mayor of Hastings.

The trolley line to White Bear village is formally opened for traffic.

Commissioner McConnell suggests state inspection of weights and measures.

Winona will this winter maintain a skating rink in the central portion of the city for the use of the children. The rink will be kept flooded and in good condition by the members of the fire department.

An attempt was made to blow up the safe in the postoffice about 1 o'clock in the morning, admission being gained by a back window. Policeman Lamuth, upon investigating, saw two men in the office. He was also observed by them, and they quickly took their departure by the back door, which they had already opened.

JUDGE PARKER and Loren W. Collins are conspicuous victims of the signing habit.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is apt to forget Secretary Shaw in revising his cabinet for the new term.

THE list of Republican nominations for governor two years from now should be closed before it gets too unwieldy.

THE Republican party may need a different sort of a candidate for governor next time, but what it needs worse is a more intelligent management.

DAVID P. JONES, the successful candidate for mayor of Minneapolis, spent only $15 during the campaign. Some politicians would pay a good price for Dave's recipe.

THE Fairmont recreation club is to give a bath-house ball. The paragraphers are hereby warned that it would be altogether inappropriate to suggest appropriate costumes.

IT would be hard to imagine a more corrupt electorate than that of the state of Colorado. And yet out there the new woman possesses all the rights and privileges of the ballot.

IT is a good thing the Democratic scheme to carry the state for Parker was exposed by the Pioneer Press in ample time to prevent its consummation. There's no telling what might have happened had not the P. P. given the thing away.

TIME is a great healer, but to a casual observer it would look as though two years was not sufficient time to heal the wounds in the Republican party of Red Lake county. It is hard to imagine a political organization more "shot to pieces."

THE discovery of innumerable errors in the counting of the ballots at the late election is a strong argument in favor of the voting machines. It would seem that at least the larger cities should be equipped with these safeguards against errors.

EB HUNTINGTON, the veteran editor of the Windom Reporter, who ought to have passed the spoony age a quarter century ago, suggests that a man can't always get down on his knees to propose because it wouldn't be polite to ask the young lady to vacate her seat.

REFERRING to Frank Day's selection as private secretary to Governor Johnson Editor Coughlin of the Perham Enterprise remarks: "A better selection could not have been made, nor one that will give more satisfaction to Governor Johnson's supporters throughout the state."

BY the daily press we notice that McGovern & Keating's Wabasha Herald office was totally destroyed by fire the other night. We hope the boys were protected by ample insurance and that their sprightly paper will rise, Phœnix-like, handsomer and brighter then ever.

IT is very kind of Ray Jones to thank the voters for their endorsement of his candidacy for lieutenant governor. But to be absolutely honest Mr. Jones should have thanked his own lucky stars that the Minnesota voters held their noses and stifled their consciences.

W. E. VERITY, of the Wadena Tribune, formerly secretary of the Republican state committee and a well-known politician, was married last week to Mrs. K. F. Fletcher of Cleveland, O. Verity is entitled to a capital prize in the matrimonial lottery and we hope he got it.

HON. THOS. D. O'BRIEN of St. Paul has been selected by Governor Johnson as insurance commissioner. If all of the new governor's appointments measure up to the high standard evidenced in this instance there can be no question of the honesty or efficiency of the incoming regime.

THE Stillwater Gazette is incredulous: "There is a rumor from Duluth that Booker T. Washington has secured an option on a large tract of land near Blackduck, Beltrami county, where a large colony of negroes is to be established. This is just a trifle too chilly a proposition to believe."

IT looks as though Tom O'Brien will yet be declared elected district judge of Ramsey county as a result of the recount of the ballots. In ability and integrity Tom O'Brien stand at the top among the members of the Minnesota bar. His only shortcoming seems to be the fact that he is a Democrat.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON yesterday announced the appointment of J. W. Olsen as state superintendent; C. G. Schulz as assistant; Edward K. Slater as dairy and food commissioner and Cleve W. Van Dyke as executive clerk. All of the appointments are good ones and will be received by the people of the state with great satisfaction.

JUDGE LOVELY completes his six years on the supreme bench January 1, 1906, one year from the coming January. He was elected in November, 1898, but did not take his seat until January 1, 1900. His full vote is not known, but it will fall considerably behind the Republican nominees, Judges Brown, Lewis and Elliot, all of whom are elected.

THE Benson Monitor thinks that the elegant and fulsome epitaphs that husbands put upon their wives' tombstones are often an attempt to make up for lack of appreciative words that should have been uttered in the ears of the living. A whole cemetery of monumental inscriptions will not do a wife so much good after she has quit the world as one plain sentence like that which Tom Hood wrote to his living wife when he said: "I never was anything till I knew you."

They failed to give me any relief whatever. A sample bottle of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure greatly relieved me. I bought and used two more bottles and was completely cured, although my occupation as a dyer requires me to be much about water and often my clothing becomes damp or very wet. It is expected that Governor Johnson's appointments to the berths at his disposal will be announced this week, and there will be great rejoicing among the fortunate and probably some wailing and gnashing of teeth in other quarters. The great trouble with the distribution of political plums is that every candidate imagines he has claims that ought not be ignored. Another trouble is that there are not enough offices to reward all of those who are really deserving.

THE Sleepy Eye Herald observes that "Ex-Congressman Joel P. Heatwole is out for the scalp of Moses E. Clapp and we do not blame him. Both Clapp and Nelson made excellent fools of themselves in the late campaign and we are not at all sorry if both should be relegated to private life. The people of the state know what they wanted on the governor matter and the entreaties of these two heavy weights for Dunn was of no avail."

THE attendance at the big exposition at St. Louis was much less than at Chicago. The total admissions of all kinds were, in round numbers, 18,500,000 at St. Louis in seven months and 27,500,000 at Chicago in six months. The total paid admissions at Chicago were 21,500,000, or 3,000,000 more then the total admissions of all kinds at St. Louis. In the month of October the admissions of all kinds at St. Louis were 3,622,329 and the paid admissions at Chicago were 6,816,435.

THE Minneapolis Journal notes that eighteen counties which sent Dunn delegations to the state convention last summer returned popular majorities against the same man in November. These counties furnished pluralities for Johnson as follows: Becker, 177; Blue Earth, 324; Chippewa, 158; Dakota, 175; Isanti, 108; Kanabec, 12; LeSueur, 259; McLeod, 166; Martin, 422; Meeker, 861; Otter Tail, 697; Polk, 106; Red Lake, 12; Scott, 607; Wabasha, 120; Waseca, 3; Wilkin, 6; and Winona, 379.

STATISTICS show that during the past 23 years 129,464 murders and homicides were committed in this country. In 1903 there were 8,976 as compared with 1,266 in 1881. The number of murders for each million of people was 112 in 1903 to 24.7 in 1881. The total suicides for the 23 years was 82,555. The number in 1903 was 8,597 as compared with 605 in 1881. The total hangings was 2,611. The number in 1903 was 124 as compared with 90 in 1881. These increases are startling and merit the close consideration of criminal authorities.

THE legislators have enough work cut out for them this year to keep them out of mischief. The most important item in the legislative budget will be the report of the committee appointed to revise the laws of Minnesota. This report is a comprehensive and voluminous document, and it will be impossible to review it chapter by chapter. It has been suggested that the report of the law committee be accepted, and that the time for the new statutes to go into effect be set at two years from the time of adoption. This would give the lawyers, judges and people generally an opportunity to ferret out the mistakes of the revision committee before the new laws went into effect.

A BILL will be introduced in the next legislature, according to S. F. Fullerton, state game warden, for the protection of hunters that may establish the careless killing of one nimrod by another as manslaughter. Mr. Fullerton says that many deaths in the woods this fall, and in fact nearly every fall, emphasizes the need of some law that will make hunters more careful of human life. In some of the Eastern states a hunter who kills another by mistake is immediately arrested if he is known and must stand a trial for manslaughter. Mr. Fullerton says this is a good law and that he will endeavor to have the Minnesota legislature pass a measure to this effect.

GENERAL LEW WALLACE is reported to be dying. General Wallace was a figure of some importance during the civil war, but he is best known, and will be longest remembered as the author of "Ben Hur," says the Grand Forks Herald. This work has won for its author a place in the front rank of literature, a place conceded to him both by the critics and the reading public. When General Wallace [illegible] paid little attention to the doctrines of Christianity. His condition was partly one of unbelief and partly one of indifference. The work was undertaken purely as a literary one. In its preparation the study of a great deal of history, both sacred and secular was necessary, and out of that study Wallace emerged, no longer an unbeliever or a doubter, but an enthusiastic believer in the teachings of Christianity.

WOMAN'S MODESTY.

Mary McFadden, the sprightly editorial writer on the Duluth News-Tribune, resents the imputation that modesty is an obsolete virtue among women. She argues that the new era of woman has brought about a change for the better; and that common sense has done away with a great deal of what used to be called modesty. Woman is more intellectual now than formerly; she has confidence in her strength, and when she has anything to say knows how to say it. Summing up her argument, Miss McFadden defends the sex in these fitting words.

"To wear striking clothes, to swagger and talk loudly, to be insolent and slangy in speech, to be quick with repartee when an impertinent remark is made—these are no distinguishing marks of the well bred woman of today. They mark the ill bred person now, as they did in the other days.

"Bright, intellectual women, graceful in speech and carriage, low voiced, well groomed, witty and thoroughly self reliant—these are the well bred women of the twentieth century, women to be revered and admired. Women are not less good, not less modest and pure of heart, because they are more companionable.

"The new woman is quite as fully aware of the value of modesty as a safeguard, as her grand-mother was. She is not as stupid in many ways. True she recognizes danger—and avoids it. If she knows the old world better than the women of generations ago did, she has not allowed that knowledge to impair her womanliness. If she sees that it lacks something of good influence, she makes up her mind that she will so conduct herself that the world will be no worse, but better because she has lived in it. She avoids pitfalls with careful feet and walks the straight path from choice rather than ignorance.

"She knows her brother better than the old time sister did. She possesses a surer influence over him. She knows that the subtle, witching influence of woman lies in the fact that her individuality is so elusive, and she by no means overlooks the coquettish and altogether dainty and charming quality of modesty."

Goodhue Enterprise: Editor John E. King of the Red Lake COURIER attributes Parker's overwhelming defeat to the fact that too few of the voters knew the man, whose campaign covered only four months. The past four years of Republican successes is accountable for the result. It is true that the people know Roosevelt and like him, but the condition of affairs under his administration they like better.

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

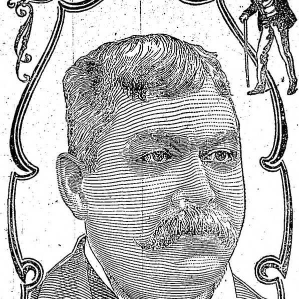
CATARRH DESTROYS THE KIDNEYS.



GEORGE KING.

MR. GEORGE KING, Deputy Sheriff of Rensellaer Co., N. Y., for years was a well known merchant of Troy. In a letter from No. 45 King St., Troy, N. Y., he writes:

"Peruna cured me from what the doctors were afraid would turn into Bright's Disease, after I had suffered with catarrh of the bladder and kidney trouble.

"Peruna is a blessing to a sick man. Eight bottles made me a well man and were worth more than a thousand dollars to me. I cannot speak too highly of it. It is now four years since I was troubled, and I have enjoyed perfect health since."—George King.

A Prominent Member of I. O. O. F. Threatened With Bright's Disease.—Pe-ru-na Restored Him to Health.

O. Fred Lindstrom, Past Grand Master Independent Order of Odd Fellows, writes from 1923 University Ave., St. Paul, Minn.:

"I contracted a severe cold several years ago, which from neglect developed into urinary trouble, and threatened Bright's disease. I used Peruna faithfully for three and one-half months, when my health was perfect once more. I have never had any trouble since."—O. Fred Lindstrom.

Catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining of the kidneys, also called "Bright's disease," may be either acute or chronic. The acute form produces symptoms of such prominence that the serious nature of the disease is at once suspected, but the chronic variety may come on so gradually and insidiously that its presence is not suspected until after it has fastened itself thoroughly upon its victim.

At the appearance of the first symptom Peruna should be taken. This remedy strikes at once at the very root of the disease.

Thief River News: Mrs. Herman Bischoff has removed to this city from Red Lake Falls and will spend the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bourque.

The Odd Fellows will have work in the third degree next Saturday avening, and at the conclusion of the rank work a luncheon will be served. All of the members are requested to be present.

J. W. Linnihan of New Richland, Waseca county, arrived yesterday for a short visit with his brother, Sheriff Linnihan. He is one of the prominent residents of that part of the country.

James E. Ford and wife welcomed the arrival of a baby daughter at their home at an early hour Monday morning. THE COURIER is pleased to learn that the mother and daughter are doing nicely.

E. G. Buse returned Saturday from Minneapolis, where he has been attending business college during the past three mouth. Ernie has resumed his former work with the Bank of Red Lake Falls.

Frank E. Hunt has been confined to his home with a severe attack of rheumatism for several days. Mr. Hunt is thinking of going to Alabama for the winter in the hope of scaring his old enemy out of his system.

G. I. Idzorek, agent of the Rock Island land department, was here last week with a party of five landseekers, and we hear that several quarters of Red Lake county realty was disposed of to actual settlers.

What would be nicer for a Christmas present for father, husband or brother than a box of good cigars or a fancy pipe? The J. B. Cigar Co. have a nice line of special boxes of cigars and a fine assortment of pipes.

George Russell and F. Lucuyer of Cottonwood were here the latter part of the week looking over Red Lake county realty. Mr. Russell is an agent for the Healy company and disposed of a quarter-section to Mr. Lucuyer.

Marriage licenses were issued by Clerk Perrault this week as follows: Alfred Orwald and Emma Hanson, both of Thief River; John Evenson and Georgia Johnson, both of Lambert; Nels E. Flom of McIntosh and Jennie Wolven of Thief River.

The supper given Tuesday evening by the young ladies for the benefit of the foot ball club netted about $30. It was one of the most liberally patronized functions of the year and we are glad to know that the boys profited so handsomely.

Miss Lorian Longtin will close her term of school in the Wilkinson district, Poplar River township, tomorrow. This is Miss Longtin's first term, and we are pleased to learn that the patrons of the district are highly satisfied with her work.

Albert Cairns of Rice's Station Minn., has taken a position as assistant bookkeeper at the Red Lake Falls Milling company. Mr. Cairns and wife have rented L. C. Simons' residence property on the northside and will live there until spring at least.

Prof. Andrew Onstad has been invited to play a clarinet solo at the concert to be given by the Crookston band next Monday night. Prof. Onstad is achieving an enviable reputation as a band leader and musician among the towns of the Red River valley.

Work on the Great Northern connection at this place is progressing in spite of the cold weather. The big steam shovel goes through the frosted ground as easily as though it was loose sand. It is likely that the work will be finished by January 1, and after that time the trains on this branch will run via Dugdale.

The next meeting of the board of board of county commissioners will be held on January 3, and as this is the most important meeting of the year the session will last four or five days. The bonds of all the county officials will be approved and salaries fixed for the ensuing two-year term.

Judge Montague of Crookston will have legal charge of Ovide Moreau's cause in the treasurership contest proceedings. Congressman Steenerson was at first engaged, but owing to the fact that he was obliged to leave for Washington to look after his congressional duties the case was turned over to Judge Montague.

C. L. Hansen, the well-known representative of the J. R. Watkins Medical company, has just completed his canvassing and collecting tour of the year. Mr. Hansen has traveled over Polk and Red Lake counties for the past five years in the interest of this company and always finds a cordial welcome at the farm homes.

At the last meeting of the Odd Fellows lodge officers for the coming term were elected as follows: Noble grand, Frank A. Grady; vice grand, M. A. Hatten; record secretary, Fred Zaiser; financial secretary, James E. Ford; treasurer, P. E. Pirath. The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in January.

G. I. Bjorneby, of Hoople, N. D., who has was here last week to visit his son, A. G., left Friday for Minneapolis, where he consulted a specialist relative to his falling eyesight. Word received this week gives the information that the doctors are unable to do anything for him, and it is questionable whether they can preserve his sight in its present condition.

Thief River Press: A new record for flour shipment was made at the Red Lake Falls Milling company's plant when twelve cars were loaded with their famous products and sent on their way to help feed the hungry. The flour was all consigned to points in the United States, a greater share of it being sent east, and the shipment was the largest ever made in a day by this big concern.

A. G. Bjorneby left Friday night for Kenyon, Minn., where his family is at present located. Mr. Bjorneby has retired from active connection with the Sortedahl land agency, and expects to find a new location in California. This move is necessitated by reason of Mrs. Bjorneby's poor health. The many friends of the family are sorry to learn that they will no longer be identified with the business and social interests of Red Lake Falls.

At the Woodman meeting last evening officers for the ensuing term were elected as follows: Venerable consul, William Schwalen; worthy adviser, Frank Brouillette; excellent banker, Joseph Tschirhart; secretary, D. J. Doran; escort, Fred C. Burgdorf; watchman, Alexander Rose; sentry, M. Pinsoneault; manager, Thomas Crompe; physicians, Drs. N. M. Watson and I. Lemieux. The new officers will be installed at the first meeting in January.

P. B. Malbery of Viking was visiting friends and looking after business in Red Lake Falls Monday. Mr. Malbery was elected county auditor of Marshall county last month by a majority of 18, but the present incumbent, A. B. Nelson, who was his Repulican opponent, is contesting the election and demands a recount of the ballots in eleven precincts. Mr. Malberg is satisfied that he has been legally elected and is confident that he will win out.

A farmer says that he rids his farm of rats in the following manner. "On a number of pieces of shingles put on about a teaspoonful of molasses and on that I put a small quantity of concentrated lye and then put the old shingles around under the cribs. The next morning I found some 40 dead rats and the rest left for parts unknown. I have cleaned several farms of the pests in the same way and never knew it to fail." We hope some of our readers will try it and report.

The first week in January will witness a number of changes at the court house. Frank Jeffers will succeed Samuel Gibeau as register of deeds; Thomas Germo will take Frank A. Grady's place as county attorney; and H. T. McAnulty will be Frank Jeffers' successor as county superintendent. Treasurer Tandberg doesn't know as yet to whom he will turn over the reins of office, and the matter will not be decided until Judge Watts disposes of the election contest.

Crookston Journal: Drew Marshall of Red Lake Falls is in the city making repairs on some of the complicated machinery of the Crookston Milling company's plant, which recently went out of business. Drew is an electrician of considerable competency and attends to considerable mill work in that line for both the Crookston and Red Lake Falls Milling companies. He will be in the city several days or until he has completed his work at the plant of the Crookston Milling company.

The most sweeping order that has been promulgated by the Great Northern since the command that all uniforms must be bought of one St. Paul house, was announced last week, when trainmen were given notice that they must all provide themselves with watches of 21 jewels, or better, adjusted at five different points for heat and cold. Five years ago the standard was fixed at 17 jewels with heat and cold adjustment. This means that many trainmen will have to purchase new timepieces. All watches bough tmust be passed upon by the official inspector.

The ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church have completed plans for the "Experience social," of which mention was made in the local papers last week. The date is Wednesday evening, December 14, and the public is most cordially invited. Following is the menu which will be served in the church parlors from 5:30 until 7:30: Oyster stew, crackers, sandwiches, pickles, coffee and doughnuts, for which the the usual price, 25 cents, will be charged. At eight o'clock the entire company will assemble in the auditorium of the church where the various ladies of the congregation will tell the peop'e how they have earned the dollars which they have presented to the society to be applied on the furnace fund. These experiences will be interspersed with vocal and instrumental selections from the talented young people of the city.

A bowling league was organized last Thursday night which will be called the Red Lake County Bowling League. It is composed of teams from here and Thief River Falls and it is the intention of playing eighteen games, one each week on Thursday night, alternating between the two towns. The game last Thursday evening was the first of the series and a purse of twenty-five dollars will go to the winners.

Steenerson's Bill.

Thief River Press: Congressman Steenerson's new bill which he is at present at work upon will be a great help to homesteaders in the northern part of Minnesota if he can bring about its passage. In the neighborhood of 1,000,000 acres held by 5,000 owners will be directly effected, and these homebuilders will be relieved of the necessity of residing on the land the full five years as required by the Nelson act. According to Mr. Steenerson the new bill will make every homestead taken since the passage of the Nelson act on June 17, 1900, on ceded Indian lands commutable, and a patent obtainable upon proof of an established residence of fourteen months and the payment of $1.25 per acre. Probably thirty per cent of the one million acres has been filed upon. Seventy thousand acres of the above amount is included in the northwest angle and the lands opened already, as well as the townships of Red Lake reservation which remain to be settled upon will come under the provisions of the proposed bill.

Waste of Hundreds of Dollars

DAIRY NOTES.

Now is the time to see if your barn is warm enough to keep your cows comfortable through the winter. It is not a question whether you have $500 or a $50 barn, as the latter may be just as good as the first, as far as the comfort of the cows is concerned.

The walls of an open barn can be made tight and warm by driving a few poles into the ground about three feet from the wall and inside of the poles fasten small branches or brush, then fill the space in with horse barn manure up as high as the ceiling of the barn. In that way a warm and comforable barn can be made of most any kind of board shed.

Have the barn well lighted and if the windows are double it is so much the better. It will prevent lowering the temperature by the accumulations of frost on the windows.

Some people think that in order to make dairying pay it is neccessary to have and expensive barn, a silo, and a certain breed of cows. While every dairyman should strive to get these thing, the fact remains, that success depends more upon how a man applies himself to the business than on how much money he has to start.

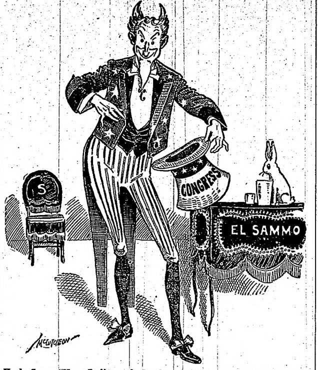
CONGRESS AGAIN IN SESSION.

[By McCutcheon, in Chicago Daily Tribune.]



Uncle Sam—"Now, Ladies and Gentlemen, Your Very Close Attention, Please."

FORMER POSTAL OFFICIAL DEAD

JAMES N. TYNER, REMOVED FOR ALLEGED FRAUDS, PASSES AWAY AT CAPITAL.

POSTMASTER GENERAL UNDER GEN. GRANT

Dismissed from Office of Assistant Attorney for Department by Payne—Indicted and Then Acquitted on Charge of Conspiracy.

James N. Tyner.

Washington, Dec. 6.—James Noble Tyner, of Indiana, postmaster general under President Grant, and at various times secretary of the Indiana senate, representative in congress, first and second assistant postmaster general and assistant attorney general for the post office department, died of paralysis at his home in this city Monday. He was 78 years old.

Mr. Tyner was stricken with paralysis in July, 1902, and was never after that able to actively discharge his official duties. He was in a very enfeebled condition throughout the postal investigation, during which his name conspicuously figured, and which finally resulted in his removal from office as assistant attorney general, and subsequent indictment by the grand jury. His trial last May, at which he was acquitted, was a heavy strain upon his weakened vitality. His condition became more serious about the beginning of last month, and since November 10 he had been unable to leave his bed. His wife and her sister, Mrs. Barrett, and his nephew, Harrison J. Barrett, formerly law clerk of the post office department, were at the bedside when Mr. Tyner passed away.

Charged with Conspiracy.

Mr. Tyner was born in Brookville, Ind., January 17, 1826. He had been identified with the postal service most of the time since March, 1861, when he was appointed a special agent in the post office department. The sensational climax to Mr. Tyner's official career occurred in April, 1903, when he was summarily removed by Postmaster General Payne, following the taking by Mrs. Tyner and Mrs. Barrett of papers from the safe in the office of the assistant attorney general, of which Mr. Tyner was then the head. Mr. Tyner was ill at home and the office was under investigation by post office inspectors. Law Clerk Christiancy, who was the acting head of the office, was removed shortly afterward because he permitted the papers to be taken. Mr. Barrett, who had retired from the law clerkship to practice law before the department, was indicted with Mr. Tyner on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the use of the mails by certain alleged "get-rich-quick" concerns. Both were acquitted on this charge.

Miles Accepts Appointment.

Boston, Dec. 6.—Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A. (retired), has accepted the appointment as adjutant general of the Massachusetts militia.

Gen. Miles' appointment as adjutant general of Massachusetts not only carries a salary of $3,600, but restores the general to full pay in the army, $10,500, making his total salary $14,100.

Bank Closes Doors.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 6.—The German bank, of which President Emery of the German American is also president, has closed its doors. A notice posted on the door gives as the reason for closing: "Insufficient funds to meet a constantly increasing run."

MORTON WANTS GREAT NAVY

SECRETARY HAS GREAT FAITH IN STRONG SEA POWER.

Submits Annual Report to President—Recommendations of Attorney General Moody.

Washington, Dec. 6.—"We want such a navy in size, style and 'sand' that no other navy ever will desire an engagement with us." Secretary of the Navy Paul Morton, in his annual report to the president, gives this as the text of his administration of his department. He admits that the naval estimates for the next fiscal year are the largest ever submitted, notwithstanding the fact that they have been cut down from those sent in by the bureaus by more than $17,000,000, and gives this as the reason.

Last year was a banner term for the fleet. Never before were so many warships launched by this or any other nation in one year. "Vessel for vessel, type for type," said Secretary Morton, "I believe our new ships will compare favorably with those of any navy afloat, and every American should be proud of the progress and character of work now being accomplished. Last year the navy cost a little over one dollar per capita. It costs little compared with what war would cost and is the best insurance we have against war.

Attorney General W. H. Moody, in his annual report to congress, recommends the enactment of a law which will provide in substance that where an indictment is duly returned to a court of the United States, the judge of that court may, in his discretion, issue a bench warrant for the arrest of the defendants wherever they may be found within the territorial limits of the United States; and that it shall be the duty of all persons authorized to serve such process to arrest the person or persons indicted, and, if they fail after reasonable opportunity to furnish bail for their appearance, to bring them to the court in which the indictment has been found. The attorney general explains that much embarassment in the administration of the law has arisen from the inability of the United States to bring an offender to the place and the court where by the constitution and laws the accusation against him must be tried. By the constitution the trial of all crimes must be held in "the state and district wherein they shall have been committed."

The attorney general renews the recommendations of his predecessor for a department of justice building; for amendments to the naturalization laws, and for laws adequate for the protection of government officers, agents and employes while engaged in their official duties.

Flying Machine Is a Success.

Alameda, Cal., Dec. 6.—George E. Heaton, the inventor and designer of the airship "California Messenger," has demonstrated not only that his flying machine will fly, but likewise that it will go where it is bidden, regardless of conditions of wind. The airship made another ascent Sunday, Heaton spending an hour in the air, and traveling at will in any direction he desired. The mechanism for directing the ship worked without a hitch of any sort.

Pioneer Minister Dead.

La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 6.—Rev. C. P. Dorset, pioneer Episcopal minister of the northwest, died here Monday, aged 70 years. He was ordained 50 years ago, and has been rector of various Episcopal churches in Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota. He was rector of the Church of the Ascension in Chicago at the time of the big fire.

First Snow in Two Years.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 6.—El Paso has just experienced the first snow for two years. The storm lasted six hours and was preceded and followed by cold rain and sleet. It is feared that cattle will suffer, and the loss may be considerable.

Your Heart

May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise.

Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs.

Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc.

If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good.

If it doesn't—your money back.

"I was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right, and without a moment's warning would fall as though shot. The attacks were frequent, and a terrible dread possessed me, as I never knew when or where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked, and whether I would survive them. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used ten bottles, which entirely cured me, as I have not had an attack for five years."—MRS. JOHN DRESBACK, Leipsic, O.

SAY NOTES BEAR CARNEGIE'S NAME

PAPER SIGNED BY MILLIONAIRE AMONG ASSETS OF OBERLIN BANK.

PRACTICALLY ADMITTED BY FEDERAL OFFICIALS

Entire Mysterious Chadwick Affair Will Now Be Aired in Court—President and Cashier of Failed Bank Are Arrested.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 6.—Government officials practically admitted Monday that two notes bearing the signature of Andrew Carnegie were found among the assets of the Citizens' national bank, at Oberlin. According to the best obtainable information these notes are for $250,000 and $500,000, respectively. The note for $250,000, it is stated, bears the date of January 7, 1904, and reads as follows:

"One year after date I promise to pay to C. L. Chadwick or order $250,000, with interest at five per cent. (Signed) Andrew Carnegie."

This note is indorsed on the back by C. L. Chadwick and is now understood to be in the possession of the government officials here. The note for $500,000 is said to be in the safety deposit box of Mr. Beckwith at Oberlin, and the key is in his possession.

Entire Affair Will Be Aired.

It is pointed out by prominent federal officials that the control of the Chadwick case is now in the hands of the government and that nothing can prevent the entire affair from being aired to the fullest extent in court. Indeed, District Attorney Sullivan intimated Monday that no influence, however great, will deter the government officials from following up the case in court to the end.

Declare Name Is On Notes.

District Attorney Sullivan Monday afternoon acknowledged that he had recently had in his possession the note for $250,000 signed with the name of Andrew Carnegie and indorsed on the back by C. L. Chadwick. "Now remember," said Mr. Sullivan to the reporter, "I do not say that this note was signed by Andrew Carnegie, but simply that Carnegie's name was signed thereto."

Mr. Sullivan declined to refer to the $500,000 note. By this distinction the district attorney wished to impress upon his interviewer the fact that he did not know whether the signature was genuine or a forgery.

A prominent local banker, who desired that his name not be used, stated Monday that he had seen the $500,000 note with Andrew Carnegie's name signed to it. "I have seen that $500,000 note," said the banker, "and it bears the name of Andrew Carnegie. I would not attempt to say that it is the genuine signature of Andrew Carnegie, but his name is there all right."

Bank Officials Arrested.

As the result of the extended conference between the United States bank examiners who have been looking into the affairs of the failed Citizens' bank, of Oberlin, and their counsel, which lasted until late Saturday night and all of Sunday, President C. T. Beckwith and Cashier Spear, of that bank, were placed under arrest late Sunday night by United States Marshal Chandler, of Cleveland, at their home in Oberlin. The warrants on which Beckwith and Spear were arrested charge them with violation of the federal banking laws. The arrests of Beckwith and Spear are the first that have been made in the Chadwick case. The Citizens' national bank, with which they are connected, is creditor to the extent of $240,000 from Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, whose financial affairs during the past week have been the cause of a great deal of publicity. The bank is capitalized at but $60,000.

Held to Grand Jury.

Beckwith and Spear Monday were arraigned before United States Commissioner Starek for a preliminary hearing on the warrant sworn out charging them with misappropriating the funds of the bank. Both men plead not guilty. They waived preliminary trial and were bound over to the grand jury, which meets in February. Immediately after hearing President Beckwith declared that he would not be able to provide bond. Cashier Spear sent out a messenger in quest of bondsmen. The bank officials having waived a preliminary trial, no witnesses were put on the stand.

More Troops Necessary.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 6.—Gov. Yates Monday received a letter from Sheriff Stein, of Benton, in which the sheriff insists that the retention of troops at Zeigler is absolutely necessary for the protection of life and property. Maj. E. E. Elliott, of Arcola, senior major of the Fourth infantry, was ordered to Zeigler Monday to take command of two companies there.

Heavy Loss by Fire.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 6.—Fire has destroyed the stock of the Standard Woodenware company here, and seriously damaged the large four-story building which the company occupied. The loss on stock is estimated at $100.000, and on building, $25,000, both partially insured.

Woman Novelist Dead.

London, Dec. 6.—Adeline Sergeant (Emily Frances Adeline Sergeant), the novelist, died at Bournemouth Monday, after a long and painful illness. She was born in 1851.

Trouble for Primary Law.

Crookston Times, (Rep.): There is more trouble for the primary law of Minnesota. Something like two thirds of the voters of the state will have some sort of a claim to vote at the Republican primaries in two years from now. Those who voted for Roosevelt at this election will, with some justice, claim title to the name Republican, and there may not be much disposition to deny it to them. The question may come up, however, and it will be a knotty point for the attorney general to solve. This year a ruling was made with reference to the election of two years ago, when there was no presidential ticket. The primary law gives a right to the ballot of the party whose candidates he "generally supported" at the last election. The attorney general held that this applied particularly to the candidates for congress and for state offices, which stand more for party principles than local candidates do. If a voter cast a ballot for a Democrat for governor and for the rest of the ticket Republican. he should be classed as a Republican.

The longer the present law stands on the statute books, the more errors are discovered in its practical workings. The present legislature will have a job in revising or repealing it.

A Live Democracy.

Whelock's Weekly: No, the Democratic party is not wiped out by the tremendous majority for Roosevelt; don't think it. The Democratic party has withstood many mistakes and failures in the past, and is still a live and virile factor in the destinies of this nation. The reason for this is easy to understand by those who read present day events in the light of history. It is not because some wealthy men of the east decide it to be so; nor because a number of worthy citizens in the south feel that the Democracy is their only safeguard against the incredible negro policy of the opposition party. Neither is it because a group of radicals have decided that the Democratic party is the one which they must stand by, to preserve their own political integrity. It is because several million people of the United States believe that the underlying principles of the Democracy are the principles which in the long run make for a better and more prosperous commonwealth. These principles start with the phrase, "Equal rights to all and special privileges to none." They continue with that phrase and they end with that phrase. Analyze them as you will, and you find the last, irreducible substance in the crucible is "Equal rights" and "No special privileges." This is the reason for the never dying, constantly rehabilitated Democracy in the United States. It is sometimes overlaid with the sophisms or the prejudices or false doctrines of the moment, but back of these, and dominating them in the minds of the voters are the steadfast, eternal principles on which the Democracy was first founded, and which it has ever since held as its own.

CHRONIC SORES

Wheeling, W. Va., May 28, 1903.

Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they were healed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated, nor have the sores ever broke out again. Some 12 years have elapsed since what I have decribed occurred. Having been so signally benefitted by its use I can heartily recommend it as the one great blood purifier.

Chronic sores start often from a pimple, scratch, bruise or boil, and while salves, washes and powders are beneficial, the unhealthy matter in the blood must be driven out or the sore will continue to eat and spread. S. S. S. reaches these old sores through the blood, removes all impurities and poisons, builds up the entire system and strengthens the circulation. S. S. S. is a blood purifier and tonic combined. Contains no mineral whatever but is guaranteed purely vegetable. If you have an old sore write us and our physicians will advise without charge. Book on diseases of the Blood free.

A RAISE IN SALARIES.

County Superintendents are Better Paid This Year.

Figures prepared by the state superintendent of public instruction show that county school superintendents of Minnesota received during the past year salaries amounting to $90,867.

The average of the salaries paid was $1,094.78. The total salaries paid for the year ending July 31, 1903, amounted to $88,014, and the average of the salaries was $1,050.40. The state superintendent has also prepared figures which show that the school children of Minnesota planted 70,540 trees last Arbor day, compared with 22,340 a year ago.

A Lesson From Old Japan.

While we all deplore the fact that we get little or no real news from Japan during this war, it is just the lesson we need—a lesson of self control. Less newspaper talk at random and less giving away of state secrets. We saw that we told the whole world our plans in the Spanish War but next time we will know better. We will also know by that time that men can work better, think clearer, accomplish more when they use golden grain belt beer every day as a tonic and nerve food. It's the kind of assistance we all need every day. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by, Alex. Thompson, Crookston.

A MYSTERY EXPLAINED.

Why the Ties of the Great Northern Have Spikes Driven Into Them.

Of late persons who have been walking along the Great Northern have wondered why spikes were driven into the ties. So many inquiries concerning this queer proceedure have been heard that it was deemed of sufficient importance to investigate.

It is learned that the Great Northern keeps a record of every tie on the great system. It is possible to tell from this record just when every tie was put in, when it was taken out, how long it lasted, what the wood was and the difference in durablity of the different kinds of wood. That is why the spikes are driven into the ties. There is a date on the spike head showing when the tie was put in, and when it is taken out this spike is sent in to headquarters so that the record may be kept. This is one instance of the thoroughness of the system in vogue on the Great Northern.

HEAVIEST OF LANDOWNERS

Purchase of Arizona Ranch Makes William C. Greene, Copper King, Holder of Millions of Acres.

William Cornell Greene, the multimillionaire copper king, has bought the noted San Rafael de la Zanja ranch, in southeastern Arizona, paying $1,200,000 for its 300,000 acres and the cattle upon it. This purchase establishes Greene as the greatest land owner of the North American continent, for hitherto, by purchase of land grants, he owned about 200,000 acres eastward from his latest acquisition, as well as fully 1,000,000 acres in the northern part of the Mexican state of Sonora, secured in the shape of Spanish land grants or through direct deed from the Mexican government.

Within his Mexican domain is included the Gunanneo range of mountains, wherein lie the great copper mines that bear his name, and whence have come his riches. On the north these holdings join his possessions within the United States, the international line running for 50 miles or more across the Greene cattle range. All the upper San Pedro valley is his, and his are the ranges all around the lowering Huachua mountains. By his latest purchase, this property domain has been extended westward beyond the border town of Nogales. All this is one grand cattle range, where barbed-wire fencing is brought by the carload, and where the cowboys employed could form a regiment of rough riders.

The region round about is a hunter's paradise, with natural preserves of wild animals and game birds and with streams and artificial lakes abounding in fish, with rugged mountains and grassy savannas. And these in a climate of rare excellence. Like their Scottish progenitors of old, the Camerons, however, most particularly were devoted to the care of their cattle. At Lochiel is maintained one of the finest herds of thoroughbred Herefords known in the world.

RAIN INSURANCE FOR FAIRS

Canadian Has a New Plan to Protect Associations Against Storm Losses.

Mr. H. B. Cowan, superintendent of Canadian agricultural societies, is sending a circular to the secretaries of all the Ontario fair associations, asking for particulars regarding the losses sustained during the last six years by reason of rain on fair day. "My idea," said Mr. Cowan, "is to ascertain the average loss to the different societies with a view to determining whether it is possible to work out a scheme of insuring fairs against rainy weather. Such a system has never been in operation to my knowledge, but a number of the societies in the province have established a fund, toward which they contribute a certain sum each good year to meet deficits due to bad weather. I think that the idea is a good one, and that it might be satisfactorily carried out on a larger scale by a scheme of mutual insurance. Many of the societies have a by-law that in the event of a rainy day the prize money will be distributed pro rata. What is the result? When the attractions are paid for there is nothing left for the exhibitor, and the farmer who has gone to considerable trouble to send in an exhibit get nothing. Supposing each society was called upon for an annual contribution of $50. If they had a good day they would not miss that sum, while if they had a bad day $500 or $600 from the insurance fund would set them upon their feet."

FINDS WATCH IN A FISH.

Woman Who Had Been Robbed Recovers Part of Plunder in Remarkable Way.

A remarkable restoration of a watch to its rightful owner was made by Mrs. John Biddle, while fishing in Budd's lake, near Morristown, N. J., recently. Mrs. Biddle, who lives at Mine Hill, caught a 12-pound pickerel and in the stomach of the fish the watch was found.

The Biddle house at Mine Hill was robbed three years ago and all the jewelry in the place carried off. Later, when the burglar was caught, he said he had rowed out into the middle of Budd's lake and dumped the stuff overboard. He was convicted and sentenced, but none of the jewelry ever was recovered, because Budd's lake is a deep body of water.

For the first time in her life Mrs. Biddle went fishing the other day and the only catch she made during the day was the 12-pound pickerel.

Mule Has Seven Hoofs.

H. W. Rathbone, of Pensacola, N. C., is the possessor of a freak mule, which was born on his place recently. The animal has seven distinct hoofs—three on the left front leg, two on the right front leg, and the usual number on each of the hind legs. The hoofs on the front legs are all of equal size and all rest on the ground, branching taking place at the pastern joint. The mule seems to place as much weight on one hoof as on another, and all are perfectly formed. The animal is healthy and can move about as well as if the three extra hoofs were not present.

Cat Hatches Chicks.

At Buschen, near Dusseldorf, Germany, a brood of chickens has been hatched by a cat. The animal drove off the hen each time the latter ventured to approach, and continued sitting on the eggs until the chickens were hatched. The chickens now follow the cat about wherever it goes.

AGED WOMAN SHOOTS BEAR

Mrs. Mary Sinclair of Brunswick Co., N. C., Is 76 Years Old, But Her Aim Is Straight.

Seventy-six years old, but possessed of the grit and courage of a man half her age, Mrs. Mary Sinclair, of Brunswick county, N. C., shot and killed an enormous black bear as it was tearing one of her pigs to pieces recently. It was a remarkable achievement. Mrs. Sinclair walked so close to the bear—she was within ten feet of it—that she could see the gleam of the wicked little eyes and hear the angry snarl.

She had heard a commotion in the pigpen, and believed a thief was after live pork. Without the slightest hesitation she took a double barreled shotgun from the wall and sallied forth to protect her property.

Only one barrel of the gun was loaded. Mrs. Sinclair in her girlhood days was noted as a crack shot, but the stock of a gun had not rested against her shoulder for 50 years. She expected to meet a negro thief, but as she came close to the pen the light of the stars showed a big black bear rending and tearing at the throat of a pig. The old woman was not frightened by the growl and the dropping of the prey. She took deliberate aim, and a charge of buckshot was driven into bruin's brain.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

PLUMMER.

[From the Pioneer.]

Miss Lillian Iverson returned on Wednesday evening from Grand Forks where she has been visiting friends since before Thanksgiving.

Louis Albers, state boiler inspector, was here last Saturday looking over the steam powers of Plummer's two feed mills which he found to be in excellent condition.

N. A. Nelson, the blacksmith, was taken with hemorhages of the lungs and is lying in a precarious condition at Hotel Scotland. Dr. Jelstrup is taking care of him and has good hope of his recovery.

Nels Hakenson was in from Garnes on Thursday attending to some business. He made his little son happy by purchasing him a small rifle to hunt rabbits with. Little acts of kindness are appreciated by the children as well as the grown up folks.

J. H. Paradis and Thos. Crompe were out from Red Lake Falls on Tuesday looking the town over and attending to some business matters. Mr. Paradis was surprised to find such a lively town as Plummer existing so close to him, and which he had never seen before.

Dr. Cristian Gelstrup, formerly of St. James, has located here and established his office temporarily in the Hotel Scotland. Pending the arrival of a drug store he carries a stock of drugs and will put up his own medicines. A good physician has been very much wanted here and as Dr. Jelstrup come highly recommended his advent is most welcome and he will doubtless enjoy an excellent practice from the start.

On Tuesday last the contract for moving the Emardville creamery buildings to the new site here in Plummer was awarded to F. E. Rose and Jacob Waldal at the price of $180. The contract calls for the completion of the work by January 15th next. A large number of shares in the creamery association have bden sold during the past few weeks and more are being sold right along. It is safe to say that by the time the creamery gets started, which will be when the moving is done, it will be one of the best organizations of its kind in the northwest.

TALK UP YOUR TOWN.

A Little Advice on How to Build Up Your Home Town.

Stand up for your own town. If others revile your place of residence, take measures to correct as far as possible any detriment that it may cause. There is nothing like having pride in one's locality, find out the good points it contains—the points you can talk on—and then impressing them on the general public, especially those who are inclined to dispute them, says an exchange. A little time spent in educating a stranger is profitably given if it will preserve that stranger from going away and speaking ill of your place. There is no telling how much injury he may not do. The success and upbuilding of communities behind it is nothing stronger than that spirit which is determined to show to the world the advantages which they present. We often hear people of influence in a town or city decanting not upon the virtues of a place, but upon its drawbacks; forgetting that they are thus putting in the hands of their enemies a most potent weapon. A citizen will complain of the opposition which he encounters from the very ones who should help him when he is engaged in promoting some enterprise calculated to serve public good more than private ends. He complains of the competition and opposition he experiences in business as the people should take everything he proposes seriously, should aid him in every project, and when it comes to business, place no competition in his path, but give him a clear road to wealth. It is well to remember that human nature is pretty much the same everywhere. A man might by chance find himself in environments where the people seem to fall into his views, fit his purposes, and generally make his progress less difficult than in others, but if he remains long enough, is sufficiently aggressive and ambitious, he will find that there are just as many obstacles in his way as anywhere else. The necessary balance is given to the world by having a sufficient number of obstructionists. They prevent a proportion of the bad people from succeeding and bring out the qualities in good ones. It is tact, perseverance and the eternal standing up for one's pet enterprise, of whatever it may be, that overcome these obstacles. It is spirit which builds empires, and it can be summarized in a few words of everlasting laboring and not being cast down on rebuffs.

KILLED IN A WELL.

St. Hilaire Farmer Meets With Peculiar Accident.

Chris. Mortenson, a farmer living about five miles southeast of St. Hilaire was accidentally killed Monday afternoon at about four o'clock. He was down a well, which was some thirty feet deep and his sixteen year old son was lowering down some rock to him. In some manner the pail in which the rock were being conveyed tipped while near the top of the well and fell nearly the full distance of thirty feet striking Mr. Mortenson. His skull and jaw bone were broken and he received many other injuries which caused his death.

The deceased was about 48 years of age and leaves a wife and four children. Coroner Grundy was down Tuesday to view the remains and decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Money for Drainage.

The Red River valley representatives in the legislature will this year ask for an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the drainage of state swamp lands in that district. A bill will be introduced to this effect and the Red river valley members of both house and senate have agreed to stand shoulder to shoulder in support of the measure.

At the session of the legislature two years ago, the appropriation for state drainage, most of which was used to benefit the Red river valley district, was $50,000. This money has been expended $25,000 each year, under direction of the state drainage commission, of which Governor S. R. Van Sant is chairman. Thousands of acres of land. which previous to the building of the drains was but worthless bog, have been drained and are now tillable. This swamp land when once drained, is always found to be rich soil, and from a worthless condition, has at once jumped to a value of $8 and $10 an acre. With millions of acres of swamp land still left belonging to the state in the Red river region, the legislators from that portion of the state assert it as an easy thing to see the tremendous financial gain the proper drainage of this land will mean in the value of the state's holdings, and eventually in the amount of money which will enter the school fund, for a great part of these swamp reigons are school lands.

Went Home Sin-Sick.

Le Sueur (Minn.) News: Familiarity with the vice, poverty, moral degradation of the great cities paralyzes and sears the finer sensibilities, and warps the character. I spent some time sight-seeing in the twin cities recently. At first glance you see a glitter and show of the "upper crust" of society, and then pry under, "go slumming," and what a sickening sight. Ugh! I was mighty glad to go back home and be among "God's chosen people," the honest, sturdy farmers of Le Sueur county. If there is any ambitious young man or woman, who yearns for that other life, thinks the farm too slow, that father and mother don't know anything, let them go to a large city and take in the sights.

If you haven't time to prepare Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea it is now made in tablet form also. Get a package already to use. Makes you well; keeps you well. 35 cents. A. L. Reicher.

WYlIE FOLKS MAKE PROTEST

Great Northern Officials Announce Tearing Up of Shirley-St.-Hilaire Line.

At a session of the state railroad and warehouse commission in Crookston yesterday Wylie, which is to be cut off from railroad communication with the outside world by the tearing up of the Great Northern tracks between Shirley and St. Hilaire and the running of trains to Thief River Falls via Tilden and the Northern Pacific, presented arguments to the members of the board why the road should not close its station at Wylie. In the advent of the closing of the present twenty miles of track between this city and St. Hilaire, Wylie people will have to drive ten miles or thereabouts in order to reach the railroad and their nearest station will be St. Hilaire. Naturally the residents of the town object to such action upon the part of the railroad company and the views aired covered every possible phase of the matter. The Great Northern some time ago informed the state railroad and warehouse commission that it was the intention of the road to close the Wylie office and the hearing yesterday was set by the commissioners to determine whether or not the proceeding was a legal and fair one. Ira B. Mills and commissioner Staples were present as representatives of the commission and Assistant General Superintendent Brown and Superintendent Jenks of the northern division of the G. N. were present as representatives of the road. Wylie was represented by Messrs. O. T. Romsos, Fred Leppert and H. A. Johnson, prominent citizens and business men of the place about to be cut off from railroad communication.

Superintendent Jenks and Assistant Manager Brown of the road stated that at present all the road would do would be to withdraw the agent and close the depot and that the matter of tearing up the rails and isolating the town from the railroad would, if at all, be a matter of the future. The representatives of Wylie protested strenuously to the closing of the station and the withdrawal of the agent and set forth the disadvantages which the procedure would cause the business men of Wylie in emphatic language. The commissioners present took down all of the protests submitted and will render a report on the matter later.

Wylie will undoubtedly be cut off from communication with the road during the next few weeks as steel gangs are now at work on the St. Vincent line tearing up the old steel on that piece of track and replacing with 80 pound material. The old rails taken up, well posted men say, will be used in making the G. N. connection with the N. P. at Red Lake Falls and as soon as the new track is completed passenger trains will run via Tilden rather than through Wylie. The reason given by railroad men is the fact that the Tilden country is a very rich wheat and farming territory and that the Wylie business for the road is very small.

ABOUT THE SMALL SCHOOLS.

Inspector Aiton Makes Interesting Report Regarding his Work.

State high school inspector Aiton has submitted his annual report, from which the following facts and quotations are taken:

"So far as the public is concerned the year has been free from agitation. I find public interest keenly on the alert, watching the school and its product with jealous eye, disposed to be critical, occasionally unreasonably so of superintendent and teachers, but on the whole, fair-minded and unquestionably loyal to our system of education. For the present criticism takes the form of a demand for better results in the common branches. The schools welcome the criticism for they have themselves called it forth by their efforts to remedy the widespread and universally recognized deficiency in this respect. School men were e first to sound the alarm, and are m ng substantial progress, I am e, in improving instruction in the common branches. Our total r llment of high school students the year is 18,622, exclusive of u ents doing grammar school work is number, 7,499 are boys and 11,123 are girls. Two thousand four ed and thirty-three non-resi students are reported. I am opinion that half as many more esident students report a town nce for various reasons. I therefore that about one-fifth of gh school students live out f the high school towns. A tation extending through two shows that the total enroll s compounding at a trifle over 8 per cent. annually. The number of graduates is increasing at a much higher rate, showing that a greater proportion complete a course, and, I may add, a four years' course, is adhered to more and more carefully as the years go by."

Of the various subjects, German shows the most decided gain, with a gratifying tendency towards a four years' course. English is taking shape as rapidly as could have been expected when traditions are wanting. Latin holds its own well but with an eye on the growth of German. Political economy is not taught in a large number of schools, but is a live subject. The commercial course, as a course, is not taking root in the smaller towns. The situation in mathematics shows no abatement of interest. The classification history is in some present confusion, due to the transition from the old nomenclature of ancient, medieval and modern to that of an ancient and modern, but the subject as a whole is gaining ground rapidly. From the 115 school reporting on the text book question in 1904 the following facts are gleaned:

Schools furnishing free texts throughout 79. Schools furnishing free texts in grades only 33. Schools furnishing texts at cost 20. Schools buying from local dealers 28.

To the objections urged against centralizing responsibility it can be said that centralization is the price of efficiency. Successful banks, stores, factories, mills, and farms are conducted on the principle of some one at the head; some one kept at the head long enough to produce results. Far from the superintendency's proving a tyranny it is the only practicable doorway of escape from the tyranny of selfish local influence that paralyzes a school. It is far easier for a teacher to please her professional friend and adviser, the superintendent, than to adjust her social relations with a view to a re-election. The easiest, the most natural, and the proper way out of delicate local situations is to devolve responsibility on the superintendent. If he is not willing or lacks judgement, i. e., is not fit, Mr. Stewart's suggestion, "get one that is," supplemented by, "keep him," covers the entire situation.

Obstacles.

She knew she'd like that fellow, if he only wouldn't smoke—
Another man appealed to her, but he was always broke;
She knew that she could learn to love the teller
in the bank,
But all the men who knew him said he fooled with stocks, and drank.

The one who taught the Sunday school she liked, without a doubt,
But he was pretty slow and so he never found it out;
The man who loafed around his club she certainly adored,
But people said he had no brains—that's why he looked so bored.

And so she counted o'er and o'er the men whom she could wed;
In each she found some quality to scorn, despise or dread.
She might wed any one of them—but then she fears divorce—
Aud, also, she must wait until they asked her to,
of course.

—Cleveland Leader.

Imperishable Value of Lands.

Amid the crash of stocks and the wrech of inflated trusts, it will be observed that land and urban real estate are showing no tokens of panic or shrinkage. Into all of the states of the west the procession of farm buyers continues to move in uninterupted streams. None of the reverses of speculation has precipitated any lack of confidence in the soil. It remains, as it will for all time, the firm and unshaken basis of the country's wealth.

The man who is the possessor of a piece of land has the game in his own hands. There is no promoter or stock gambler who can jeopardise his investment. Where it is purchased with judgment land is always worth money paid for it, and it is bound to increase in value. It cannot be destroyed or carried away. It requires only industry to make it profitable and productive. It constitutes a source of independence in any condition of the money market and amid all of the mutations of speculative enterprises.

Real estate represents a tremendous proportion of the wealth of the country. The richest families in America, in England and in all the countries on the globe are landholders. The Astors in New York afford a convincing example. It is the hereditary ownership of land that holds the English government together. Out of the soil proceed all intrinsic values. There will never be any more land on the globe that there is now. But there will be millions and millions more people to consume what land produces. This makes the upward tendency of land inevitable. There is no escape from that result. No investment judiciously made in realty can fail to grow, and the security behind the investment is imperishable.

The country has witnessed, again and again, and quite recently, the disastrous effect of yielding to the temptation of taking the chance on another man's game to obtain large profits. Thousands of people have lost their all by the collapse of such schemes as the captains of finance evolve to rob their victims. Had the men and women who have been impoverished by the "genius" of Mr. Morgan placed their money in land or city real estate they would have something to show for it today and would not be stricken with the fear of dependence and poverty.

Land is the one thing in this world whose value is absolutely intrinsic, and its worth and desirability ought to be made apparent as it has never been made apparent before by the ruin that has overtaken those unfortunate persons who have been fleeced of their all by licensed stock robbers.—Kansas City Star.

Only Eight Assessments for 1904.

The above is what we predicted last year for the Modern Woodmen of America, and it has come true. The M. W. A. is the largest fraternal insurance society in the world, and also the most reliable and cheapest.

Examining a list of 100 fraternal insurance societies, we find that the Modern Woodmen cost of management per capita is the lowest being only 85 cents a year.

Governor Van Sant says: I am proud of the fact that I am one of great army of over 50,000 Woodmen of Minnesota. I joined the Woodmen early in its history, taking out a $2,000 benefit certificate, and it is the cheapest life iusurance I have today. I have always been particular to keep myself in good standing by prompt payment of dues and assessments."

The following is from Hon. William Bryan: "There are good reasons for my faith in societies such as the Modern Woodmen. They make men better citizens, better husbands, and better fathers. It was the Modern Woodmen society that first led me to take insurance on my life."

J. A. BUTTON, Principal,
Crookston, Minnesota.

To whom it may concern:

This is to certify that J. A. Button, principal of Button's Business College of this city, guarantees situations to graduates of his school under a forfeit of the full tuition, if one is not secured. He also guarantees the student to hold the position successfully. Money has been deposited by students in this bank with the understanding that if the guarantee was not fulfilled that the money was to be returned to the depositor, and in every instance the contract has been carried out by Mr. Button and the money paid over to him, upon the order of the depositor, after pupils had worked successfully for at least six weeks. Such depositors always signified their satifaction with Mr. Button's methods of doing business and were well pleased with the situations secured.

Respectfully,
SCANDIA AMERICAN BANK,
By A. P. Hanson, Assistant Cashier.

HER SECURITIES WITHOUT VALUE

CONTENTS OF PACKAGE HELD BY REYNOLDS AS TRUSTEE WORTHLESS.

Papers Bearing Alleged Signature of Andrew Carnegie, Face Value of Which Is $16,496,000, Worth Nothing—Famous Woman in Jail.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 12.—The Chadwick bubble burst completely when examination was made of the mysterious package of securities left with Iri Reynolds and was found to include paper of the face value of $15,246,000, which bears the signature "Andrew Carnegie," and which is regarded as worthless. There is one note for the modest sum of $5,000,000, bearing the name of the ironmaster, and the other $10,246,000 is represented by a trust agreement concerning an alleged inheritance placed in Mr. Carnegie's keeping, the estate of a supposed uncle of Mrs. Chadwick, named Frederick R. Mason. In another packet there also is a promissory note for $1,800, signed by Emily and Daniel Pine, and a mortgage securing the same. This Carnegie paper with the $1,250,000 in notes bearing the ironmaster's name, previously accounted for, bring the total of this class of "securities" to $16,496,000.

Claimed Relationship.

Secretary Iri Reynolds, of the Wade Park bank, declared that his implicit belief in the statements made to him by Mrs. Chadwick, in which she declared herself to be the daughter of Andrew Carnegie, was the impelling cause of his financial dealing with her.

United States District Attorney Sullivan is preparing to begin the work of presenting to the federal grand jury the evidence against Mrs. Chadwick. Late Saturday afternoon he issued subpoenas for the witnesses who are to appear before the grand jury, which has already been drawn. The first of these witnesses is Andrew Carnegie.

Little for Creditors.

According to the most accurate estimate of the estate of Mrs. Chadwick that is possible, before the receiver has investigated her assets, and reported his findings to the court, her creditors as a whole will receive about one and one-half mills on the dollar.

The extent of her operations is now believed to be approximately as follows:

Secured from the Citizens' national bank of Oberlin and various sources in and about Lorain county, O., $500,000; borrowed from Herbert D. Newton, $190,000; borrowed from business man in Pittsburg, $500,000—total, $1,190,000.

Against this stands security of known value of one note amounting to $1,800, which is held by Iri Reynolds.

How He Was Duped.

The unequivocal statement is made in the confession of President Beckwith, of the Citizens' national bank of Oberlin, O., that the means by which Mrs. Chadwick secured the immense loans was by a written promise delivered into the hands of the banker that the Citizens' bank would be made the trustee of the $5,000,000 estate which has just been revealed to the world as an absolute myth. President Beckwith and Cashier Spear were to receive $10,000 a year each for their trouble. In addition, the bank was to be given a bonus of close to $40,000 when the loans had all been paid pack. This complete statement answers fully the oft repeated question: "What in the world actuated the two officials of the Oberlin bank in making the immense loans from the bank's funds without a scintilla of actual security?"

Mrs. Chadwick Arrested.

New York, Dec. 8.—The climax in the affairs of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick came Wednesday night when she was placed under arrest in her apartments at the Hotel Breslin, charged with aiding and abetting a bank officer in embezzling $12,500. United States Commissioner Shields issued the warrant, which charges a violation of Section 5,209 of the United States federal laws, relating to conspiracy.

Mrs. Chadwick in Court.

New York, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, who was arrested Wednesday night in connection with the failure of the Citizens' national bank, of Oberlin, O., was arraigned before Commissioner Shields in the federal court Thursday, and was held in $15,000 bail. The case was postponed until December 17. Failing to secure bail she was taken to the Tombs prison and locked in a cell.

Missouri in the Cabinet.

St. Louis, Dec. 10.—Coincident with the return of National Committeeman Thomas J. Aikens from Washington report gained currency among republican leaders that Missouri will be represented in President Roosevelt's cabinet and that all signs point to the selection of William H. Thompson, president of the St. Louis National Bank of Commerce, as secretary of the treasury.

Measure Defeated.

Montpelier, Vt., Dec. 8.—The Vermont house of representatives refused to pass to a third reading a bill to commute to life imprisonment the sentence of hanging imposed upon Mrs. Mary M. Rogers, who was convicted of murdering her husband. The vote was 91 in favor of the bill and 139 against.

Beef Trust Case Delayed.

Washington, Dec. 9.—The hearing by the supreme court of the United States in the case of Swift versus the United States, popularly known as the "beef trust' 'case, was Thursday passed to an unfixed future date, at the request of the government.

PLUMMER.

[From the Pioneer.]

M. Hammer was over from St. Hilaire on Thursday and sold a quantity of hay to Louis Sieff.

A. J. Johnson and J. L. Hiebel, of Alexandria, were here on Wednesday and made a trip over the reservation with Mike Madden, Julius Pleth's reliable locator.

Dr. Jelstrup left last evening for his home in St. James in respond to a telegram announcing the illness of his little daughtsr. He expects to be absent about a week or prehaps longer.

Ye editor spent Sunday and Monday at Crookston making preparaticns to move his family here in the neaı future. The new Pioneer building is about completed and we expect to publish our next issue in our new home.

Nels A. Nelson, who was taken ill with hemorrhage of the stomach last week, is recovering rapidly and is now able to be up and around a little. It will be some time, however, before he is able to resume work in his blacksmith shop.

Emil J. Homes, formerly of St. Hilaire but now of Cannon Falls, was here last night exhanging greetings with old friends and looking the town over. He is well pleased with Plummer and says it has a great future in store for it.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nelson in Emardville township at 6 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon occurred the wedding of Miss Mabel Nelson, of Emardville, to Louis Ulestad, a Polk county young man. Justice Ostby performed the ceremony in his best manner.

During the past week Julius Pleth sold three farms in this vicinity. He is making necessary arrangements for handling farm lands on a large scale and will soon be in shape to do a larger and better business than he used to in St. Hilaire when he sold more Red Lake county lands than all other dealers put together.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

Red Lake Courier.

Printed Every Thursday Evening at Red Lake Falls, Minnesota.

By JOHN E. KING.

$1.00 Per Year, in Advance.

A FUGITIVE from justice has given himself up in New Hampshire because he had no peace of mind. He ought to have gotten his wife to give him a piece of her mind.

AND now, just after crawling out from under a 90,000 plurality, our own dear Mary McFadden hands us this one: "The North Country papers are still talking about John King. John King?" Alas, poor Yorick!

ACCORDING to a report filed recently by Pension Commissioner Ware the old soldiers are dying at the rate of 150 per day. At this rate the pension questiou will soon be eliminated. While the veterans are with us they ought to be treated liberally by their grateful government.

THE Thief River Press notes that Governor-elect Johnson won another important distinction in the recent election. He is the only man in the history of the country that ever received 120,000 more votes in any state than the presidential candidate on the same ticket.

METHODISTS are earnestly at work this month not only in Chicago but throughout the United States, holding evangelistic meetings every day and evening. Eminent speakers noted for their success in reaching the human heart and quickening the conscience have been employed to conduct these meetings. Singers of that peculiar tone and quality desired in revival meetings will contribute their part to make the work effective.

GOVERNOR VAN SANT's name is frequently mentioned as a probable dark horse in the senatorial game. If the railroad rate problem is still an issue, and a large porportion of the people of the state believe it is, Van Sant is the logical man. The United States senate is already the abiding place of too many railroad tools and lobbyists, and Minnesota should not neglect the opportunity of sending to Washington a man who has been a conspicuous opponent of railroad domination and control.

ONE of the greatest puzzles in physiology and optics has been hitherto the fact that although we see things right side up the figure was made on the retina of the eye upside down. This puzzle will hereafter be much more puzzling, as a boy has been found in Sioux City, Iowa, who actually sees everything upside down. It would seem as if he must have an additional lens in each of his eyes, but the medical men of Sioux City think the anomaly can be secured by education. Are they sure that they do not see the matter upside down?

FARMERS of the east learned long ago that large farms, as a rule, are not so profitable as small ones. Increased population, the growth and spreading out of towns and villages, trenching upon broad acres, which become too valuable for farm purposes, and compelled their shrinkage. But the result was astounding. Heavy, better and profitable crops were raised. Fifty acres produced as much as a hundred did before. The labor expended on the larger quantity concentrated upon the smaller gave more satisfactory returns. Besides, the farmer's life was not one continuous drudgery; he had more leisure and more opportunities. Farmers here are making the same discovery. Farms are getting to be smaller, but not less profitable.

IN the war department report, given out last week, there is little of general interest except in that part of it which refers to the Philippines. Drouth and locusts are the explanation this year of a decrease of about $5,000,000 in the islands' trade; last year it was a cattle disease that made most of the trouble. We may have brought the Philippines good government, but no one can deny that bad luck has come along with it. The most practical plan for the improvement of the islands' trade is the secretary's recommendation of a repeal of all duties on exports to this country except twenty-five per cent of the Dingley duties on sugar and tobacco. Congress has "turned down" the same recommendation from the president, from Secretary Root, and from the Philippine commission, but there is still hope that Mr. Taft will be more successful.

THE poultry department on a farm should receive more attention than it does. There is nothing which pays the farmer so much returns for capital invested as do his hens, but as a rule they are allowed to shift for themselves long after every other living thing on the farm is taken care of. This is not the way to stimulate winter egg production. Early hatched pullets should be laying now but from the price of eggs it looks as though the hen is the only individual who has a corner on the egg market. Sunshine is a pretty good thing in a hen house, but where of old the farmers gave too little sunshine, in some of the new houses that are being constructed they are giving too much. By watching carefully it will be noticed that hens which swelter in the sun will shiver in the shade. Keep your hens busy in the winter as they keep themselves busy in the summer. Give them clean litter to scratch in, and right here is where clover blossoms and the leaves from the bottoms of the horse mangers, etc., can be put into good use.

COMMENTS OF THE COMMONER.

What would President Roosevelt do if the canal strip should secede and set up as a republic on its own account?

The mere fact that J. Edward Addicks ever had a fighting chance to secure a senatorial seat is a disgrace to Delaware.

Every time a Filipino gazes upon the Liberty Bell some one doubtless calls attention to the fact that the bell is badly cracked.

Mr. Rockefeller Jr. still insists that money will not buy happiness, but up to date he has not denied that it buys legislation and has considerable influence in court.

Those Minnesota Republican managers will probably never again undertake to defeat a Democrat by charging that his mother took in washing to support her little ones.

After claiming to favor tariff revision a lot of administration organs are now talking about "mild revision." By that they doubtless mean "perfectly-harmless" revision.

The Nashville American, which claims to be pre-eminently conservative, declares that radicalism can not win, and points to 1896 as proof. Will the American now kindly point to 1904 as proof that "safe and sane" conservatism is very much more successful?

Raising Calves.

A visit to numerous farms recently has convinced the writer that too little attention is given to the care of calves. It is no wonder that we see many herds of very poor cows when we consider the bringing up they have had. The raising of calves is something that should be more thoroughly studied by the average farmer, and it may surprise some when we say that more calves are harmed by over-feeding when young than by not feeding enough. Young calves that are being raised off their dams are very frequently fed from one-half to three-quarters of a pail of skimmed milk when they can only digest about half that amount, and as a result we find a lot of pot-bellied calves with their hair sticking towards their ears, making very little growth the first year of their existance, when a little care in feeding would have made them twice the size and of far greater value when they became of milking age. One of the leading essentials of a good dairy cow is her capacity for consuming and assimilating a large amount of food of all kinds, and if from a calf she has been properly fed her digestive organs will usually be in a very good condition to perform well her duties when called upon to do so.

Another very essential point in the raising of calves is the fact that to be healthy and to thrive well they must be kept in a dry place. A calf which lies constantly in a wet pen, and necessarily a wet pen means a cold pen, will never do well no matter what kind of feed it may receive. As an illustration of this fact it may be well for some of our farmer friends to spend a few hours some day this winter in viewing the calves' pens at the State Experimental Farm, where calves are fed under the supervision of experienced hands and cared for properly. They will notice from twenty-five to thirty young heifers with their hair as slick and smooth as a cow on summer-feed in a pasture, frisking about and growing like weeds. The particular difference between these calves and the farmers' calves is that their pens have been properly cleaned and kept dry.

Cheap Rate for Immigrants.

The steerage rate to this country has been cut to $7.50. Think of it, less than the fare to Chicago, and it isn't any wonder that immigrants are rushing into this country. But the real reason underneath the cheap rate is the many inducements this country offers in wages, freedom and manner of living. Among these favors that all Americans enjoy must be counted golden grain belt beer, the delicious health tonic that carries health and freshness to hundreds of thousands of homes. Is health so little to be desired that you can afford to be without this beer? Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex Thompson, Crookston.

Many Medals.

A preliminary report of awards made in connection with Minnesota's magnificient exhibits of fruits at the world's fair, shows how lavishly the goddess Pomona bestowed her favors on the offerings of the North Star state.

Not only did Minnesota receive the grand prize for the best collective exhibit of fruits, but she was triumphant over other states in many individual exhibits, and now proudly wears five gold medals, forty bronze and thirty-six silver medals.

It is small wonder that members of the Minnesota State Horticultural society are enthusiastic over this magnificent showing or that the society is receiving scores of congratulatory letters.

Brave Woman.

But for the presence of mind and prompt action of Mrs. W. F. Watters of St. Cloud, she might have been burned to death in an explosion of a gasoline shove in her kitchen.

Mrs. Watters was working over the stove when it exploded, throwing the burning fluid over her. She did not lose her head, however, but snatched the stove, which was a small one, up and threw it through the open kitchen door.

Her hands and face were severely burned in doing so, and she undoubtedly saved her own life and her residence.

Butter Makers.

Another large delegation attended the closing meeting of the state butter and cheese makers at St. Anthony Park. The announcement of scores in the butter and cheese contests were made. There were 129 entries in the butter contest and Charles Levenik of Lakefield carried off first place with a score of 97.7, G. H. Schenel of Rapidan being second with 97.25, and C. H. Jensen of Bernadotte third with 97.

In the cheese contest, A. W. Parkin of Stanton scored first with 96.5; A. L. Parkin, second, 96.5, and Mr. Reentz of Beever Dam, third, with 93

Minneapolis Journal: All indications favor a heavy movement of homeseekers next spring from the older states east and south into the sparsely settled districts of the northwest. One of the surest signs of this is to be found in the plans of the large land agencies, which are preparing to grasp the opportunity and direct the newcomers to suitable homes. They report an intention to start soon after the holidays with a campaign of continuous, follow-up advertising, that will stimulate interest in this section and give definite direction to the westward migration of 1905.

Auditor Ford remitted this week to Polk county $6,985.92. $1,905.95 was for the bond due January 2, 1902, and the balance, $5,079.97, is interest on subsequent bond issues not yet due. This is the money due Polk county from Red Lake on the debt incurred by the county division settlement.

A. A. Wasson, the wholesale flour and feed merchant of Thief River Falls, was a visitor to the city yesterday and purchased a carload of "Gold Seal" flour from the Northern Minnesota Milling company. Mr. Wasson is doing a large business in his line and thinks that there will be a large increase next year when the new towns in the north country will have attained more prominence and population.

The new time card went into effect Monday on the Great Northern, and the passenger train now leaves Crookston at 8 a. m., arriving at Red Lake Falls at 11:15. Returning the train leaves Red Lake Falls at 3:15 p. m., arriving at Crookston at 6:30 p. m. This is an improvement on the old schedule, as it gives two hours more between the trains, and brings passengers from the cities here an hour earlier.

The "experience" social at the Presbyterian church parlors last evening was a decided success, $106 being realized. An oyster supper was served during the early part of the evening, after which several hours were taken up in a social program, many of the ladies recounting the difficulties surmounted in earning the dollar donated to the church. About $75 was contributed by the ladies of the church.

One of the best falls for the farmer in the history of this vicinity has just closed. The farmers have been enabled by the fine weather to get everything in ship-shape condition for winter and there is probably more land ready for spring work than there has been for many years. Plowing has been going on steady until last week when the crust became too thick. We shall surely look for a bumper crop next year.

Joseph Guilmette's trial on the charge of murder has been set for December 21 at Crookston, after arraignment and plea of not guilty. Attorneys Hagen of Crookston and Bronchu of Woonsocket, R. I., will defend the prisoner. The prisoner seems remarkably indifferent and confident of acquittal, despite the terrible arraignment of evidence against him. His uncle, Omer Delorme, of Red Lake Falls, is said to be furnishing the money for his defense.

Theo. Zaiser, son of William Zaiser, tde well-known Red Lake Falls liveryman, has purchased the agency of the J. R. Watkins Medical company, and will soon engage upon his new work. His territory embraces all of Red Lake county and he expects to cover the entire field several times during the year. This agency was formerly in charge of C. L. Hanson of Crookston, who is known to most of the farmers of the county by reason of his frequent calls. These household remedies are known from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian line and from Maine to California, and Mr. Zaiser ought to have no difficulty in making large sales.

Any man can take a newspaper. It is the cheapest thing he can buy. Every time a hen cackles and has laid an egg, his paper is paid for that week, says an exchange. It costs less than a postage stamp—less than to send or receive a letter. It comes to you every week in rain or shine, calm or stormy. No matter what happens it enters your door a welcome friend, full of sunshine, cheer and interest. It opens the door of the great world and puts you face to face with its people and its great events. It shortens the long winter nights. It is your adviser, gossiper and friend. No man is just to his children who does not give them a local paper. No man is good to himself who does not take newspapers.

BANK ROBBERS SOON CAPTURED

INSTITUTION AT PEORIA PLUNDERED IN A BOLD MANNER BY TWO BANDITS.

Make Their Escape, After an Exciting Chase, Having Secured $1,880—Captured at Toulon, Ill., with the Money in Their Pockets.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 12.—The Peoria national bank was robbed of nearly $2,000 in currency by two men Saturday afternoon after the paying teller, Fred Bracken, had been beaten into unconsciousness with the butt of a evolver. The robbery occurred just before one p. m. Two men entered the bank and one of them ordered Cashier Bracken to throw up his hands. The other robber hastily ran through the gate at the end of the counter, presenting his revolver menacingly at the terrified clerks who were in another compartment. Bracken, recovered from the first shock of surprise, struck at the bandit, who instantly snapped the hammer of his revolver. It failed to explode and clubbing the weapon the robber struck the cashier on the head, felling him to the floor. The robbers then gathered all the currency in sight—over $1,800—ran out of the bank, leaped into a buggy and drove through the streets at a furious pace. The police were notified and a patrol wagon loaded with officers gave chase. The buggy containing the thieves was scarcely a block away. Through the main streets the two flying vehicles careened, creating intense excitement. The police feared to fire at the robbers, owing to the crowded condition of the streets, and the thieves, leaving the buggy, jumped a fence and escaped into the railroad yards.

The Robbers Captured.

Toulon, Ill., Dec. 12.—With $1,880 in currency in their pockets, the two men accused of robbing the Peoria national bank Saturday noon, are under arrest here. The men were arrested in a livery stable about ten o'clock Sunday morning, just as they were in the act of driving away. Sheriff Malone and Deputy Davis covered them with guns and forced them to throw up their hands. A hasty search revealed five large revolves and all of the money in their pockets.

ATE POISONED CABBAGE.

Entire Family of Six, Living Near Sidel, Ill., Dead as a Result.

Sidell, Ill., Dec. 12.—James Rankin, aged 60; Mary Rankin, aged 56, and four children, living near here, are dead from the effects of eating poisoned cabbage. The entire family of six ate the cabbage at supper and died during the night. The cabbage was examined and nothing found. That in the garden was examined and found to contain worms about the size of a thread and eight or ten inches long about the color of the cabbage. The cabbage was cut up and fed to animals and all died. Farmers are all destroying their cabbage. A number of cases of poisoning by "cabbage snake" have been reported to the board during the past few days.

Four Perished.

Highland Light, Mass., Dec. 12.—Four of the 20 members of the crew of the Boston fishing schooner Fish Hawk lost their lives Saturday night after deserting their vessel, which had struck and was pounding heavily on Peaked Hill bars at the north end of Cape Cod.

Children Burn to Death.

Kirwin, Kan., Dec. 12.—Four children under 12 years of age were burned to death when the home of Charles Smith was destroyed by fire. The parents were away. The children attempted to start a fire with coal oil.

Deadly Explosion.

Catlettsburg, Ky., Dec. 12.—Exploding nitroglycerin blew to atoms three men, totally demolished three boats, splintered a big raft of logs, smashed many windows here and did considerable damage along the river front.

AT MERCY OF JAPS.

All Russian Battleships and Cruisers at Port Arthur Destroyed by Shells.

London, Dec. 9.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent before Port Arthur telegraphs that all of the Russian battleships and cruisers, together with the gunboats Giliak and Fusadneck, were sunk or destroyed, and that only the torpedo boat destroyers remain intact. According to a special dispatch from Tokio and Shanghai, giving unofficial reports, the crews of all the Russian war vessels in the harbor of Port Arthur were landed, and apparently no effort was made to move the vessels. The Japanese will now turn their attention to the torpedo boat destroyers, and when these have been destroyed the guns will be directed against the steamers and transports in the harbor. The vessels of the Russian fleet, which were destroyed or sunk, are the battleships Pobieda, Peresviet and Retvizan, and the cruisers Pallada, Bayan and Sevastopol.

London, Dec. 10.—Having destroyed practically the entire Russian fleet at Port Arthur, the Japanese now are preparing to turn the great guns from 203 Meter hill upon the last defenses of the fortress. The guns still will be directed against the harbor until everything in it is destroyed. Then will begin the battering of the forts still in the hands of the Russians, with the view of reducing the entire stronghold before the arrival of the Russian second Pacific squadron.

Tokio, Dec. 12.—The navy department announces that the cruiser Saiyen, commanding the detached squadron, while cooperating with the army in bombarding Port Arthur November 30, struck a Russian mine and was destroyed. Capt. Tajima and 38 others went down with the ship.

London, Dec. 12.—The Daily Telegraph's Tientsin correspondent learns from official Japanese sources that the Japanese casualties at Port Arthur the latter part of October were 3,000 killed and 10,000 wounded. The losses in more recent attacks, the correspondent adds, were much heavier.

The correspondent at Shanghai of the Daily Telegraph, in a dispatch dated December 11, says that according to Peking reports the Russians have retreated to the south bank of the Hun river after 72 hours' fighting with heavy losses.

London, Dec. 12.—The czar has sent definite instructions to Admiral Rojestvensky, commanding the Baltic fleet, not to proceed to the far east, according to dispatch to the Express from St. Petersburg. It is declared that the grand dukes opposed the order, but the czar was determined on the action in view of the recent developments at Port Arthur.

KILLED HIS FATHER.

In a Fight an Aged Kentucky Farmer Is Slain by His Son.

Cynthiana, Ky., Dec. 12.—Adam Jouett, a well-to-do farmer, about 60 years of age, was shot and instantly killed by his son Joseph at their home near Breckinridge, in this county. Joseph was in the Philippines until about a year ago. Young Jouett was badly beaten by his father. There had been much trouble between the father, on one side, and the mother and two sons on the other. The old man had served a term of two years in the penitentiary at Frankfort for killing a young man named Colvin in November, 1898, in this county.

No Extra Session.

Washington, Dec. 12.—No extraordinary session of congress will be held next spring for the revision of the tariff. That has been decided definitely. President Roosevelt announced this decision to several of his callers.

Former Typewriter Maker Dead.

New York, Dec. 12.—Abner Clark Seamans, one of the original makers of typewriters in the country, is dead at his home in Brooklyn. He was 83 years old and retired from active business 15 years ago.

Bank Robbed.

Enid, Okla., Dec. 9.—The Farmers' state bank, of Lambert, west of here, has been robbed by three men who dynamited the safe, obtaining $3,000 as their booty.

DAIRY DEPARTMENT.

The same person, if possible, should always milk the same cow. If milkers keep changing, a cow wont do so well.

The udder of a cow should be sponged off before milking, in order to keep the milk clean and sweet.

Cream ought to be through ripening if you want good results. The per cent should be between 42 and 46 degrees.

Water had ought to be heated to a warm temperature in the winter, for the best results.

Now the price of stock is low. Why not get a few cows and milk them while the price of butter is ranging from 25c to 28c per pound? A cow will pay for herself in eight months and have the calf left.

The only gold mine this winter is your creameries—if you patronize them with every pound of milk and cream your cows can produce.

The lack of patronage is where all of the creameries go bump. Red Lake county farmers ought to stick to the creamery if you have one in your section.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness, or stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the Kidney and Bowels, stimulate the Liver, and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and through effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c, and that is returned if it don't give perfect satiafaction. Guaranteed by all druggists

A Well Known Man.

One of the best known men in Minneapolis writes:

"Last night I came from Chicago on the North-Western Limited. I though I knew what a fine train was, but after riding on any other, this train is really a new revelation. I am not "jollying" when I say that a finer train would be beyond human ingenuity to conceive and the human intellect to appreciate."

This refers to the famous 12 hour train every night Minneapolis and St. Paul to Chicago.

NAGGING PAINS

Newport News, Va., July 22, 1903.

Last summer while recovering from illness of fever, I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism in the knees, from which I was unable to leave my room for several months. I was treated by two doctors and also tried different kinds of linaments and medicines which seemed to relieve me from pain for awhile, but at the same time I was not any nearer getting well. One day while reading a paper I saw an advertisement of S. S. S. for Rheumatism. I decided to give it a trial, which I did at once. After I had taken three bottles I felt a great deal better, and I still continued to take it regularly until I was entirely cured. I now feel better than for years, and I cheerfully recommend S. S. S. to any one suffering from Rheumatism.

613 32d St. CHAS. E. GILDERSLEEVE.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or some other acid poison in the blood, which when deposited in the muscles and joints, produce the sharp, cutting pains and the stiffness and soreness peculiar to this disease. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation, all irritating substances are neutralized and filtered out of the system, the blood is made pure and the general health is built up under the purifying and tonic effects of the vegetable remedy. Write for our special book on Rheumatism which is sent free. Our physicians will advise without charge all who will write us about their case.

For Pain

Take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill, and the Pain will disappear Like Magic.

Not by paralyzing the nerves and glands, like opium, morphine, cocaine, and other dangerous drugs, but by increasing the natural secretions.

This action is obtained as a result of modern discoveries in medicine, making it possible to relieve pain without bad after-effects.

You can safely depend upon Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills to relieve and cure such pains as Neuralgia, Headache, Stomachache, Menstrual Pains, Rheumatism, Backache, Toothache, etc.

They will also, by their calming action on the nerves, almost instantly relieve such distressing feelings as Dizziness, Car-Sickness, Indigestion, Irritability, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, etc.

Not merely do they relieve, but they also absolutely cure, because by persevering in their use, you do away with the cause.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are guaranteed that first package will benefit, or your money back. Never sold in bulk.

"I am thankful for the good Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have and are doing me. Ever since the war I have had spells of severe throbbing headache, caused by catarrh, until six years ago, I began taking Anti-Pain Pills, the only remedy that ever gave me relief. Since then I have not had one hard attack, because I take a Pill and it overcomes the difficulty."—GEO. SAUNDERS, Greensburg, Ind.

RESUME HEARING OF SMOOT CASE

EVIDENCE TAKEN BY SENATE COMMITTEE IN PROTEST AGAINST SEATING HIM.

MANY WOMEN ON HAND TO HEAR TESTIMONY

Dr. Buckley Questioned as to What He Heard at a Salt Lake Convention —Divorces from the Dead Sometimes Granted.

Washington, Dec. 13.—Hearings of the protest against Reed Smoot, junior senator from Utah, retaining his seat in the United States senate, were resumed Monday on the committee on privileges and elections. The room was crowded, women predominating among the spectators, as was the case last session. Senator Smoot arrived early, accompanied by Waldemar Van Cott, a Salt Lake City attorney, who is assisting A. S. Worthington, of this city, in the conduct of the defense. Judge Franklin S. Richards, of Salt Lake, adviser to Mormon witnesses, and Mr. Worthington, also were present. Former Representative R. W. Tayler, of Ohio, acted again as the counsel for the protestants. When the hearing opened the members of the committee present were Senators Burrows, chairman; Foraker, Dubois, Pettus and Overman.

First Witness Called.

The first witness called by Mr. Tayler was Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., of Morristown, N. J., editor of the Christian Advocate, of New York. Dr. Buckley told of visits to Utah in 1901 and again last June. At that time he attended a joint convention of the young men's and young women's unions, of Mormonism. Those who spoke were Brigham H. Roberts, Elmira S. Taylor and President Smith. The audience was estimated by the witness at 11,000 persons. The line of inquiry introduced by Attorney Tayler concerning the meeting was in reference to what had been said at the convention about polygamous cohabitation. Dr. Buckley read from an article on this meeting, which said that President Smith's voice rang out "as strong as William J. Bryan's" as he defended the Mormon marriage, and declared that polygamy was not adultery, but was a system of marriage. President Smith was quoted by the witness as saying that he could not give up any of his wives; that it meant eternal damnation to abandon a multiplicity of wives.

Former Recorder Testifies.

George Reynolds, a Mormon living in Salt Lake City, testified that he is the first assistant superintendent of the Mormon church Sunday school and secretary of the missionary committee of the apostles, and formerly clerk or recorder of the endowment house. This relation was severed in about 1871. The endowment house was torn down in 1890, but the temple is now used for the same purposes. Mr. Reynolds told the committee that he has given certificates of marriage since he ceased to be recorder of the endowment house, in cases where widows sought to obtain pensions. He made the certificates from records in his possession, but these records, he said, had since been removed to the temple, and he has not access to them now.

In answer to questions by Senator Overman Mr. Reynolds said marriages were performed with dead persons in the endowment house.

Mr. Tayler then asked if divorces were granted in the endowment house.

"The church grants divorces to those who have been married for time and eternity, but does not divorce legal marriages until the courts have acted," said Mr. Reynolds. "Plural marriages are not recognized by courts, and, therefore, the church does not consult the court in granting divorces in cases of such marriages."

Divorces from Dead Persons.

Senator Foraker asked if such divorces are granted from dead persons.

"In a few instances only, I should say," said the witness.

"For something done after death, or before?" the senator asked.

"In lifetime."

"Is the dead person given an opportunity to be heard?" the senator asked.

"No, sir; it is because such cases are held to be unjust to the dead accused, that so few divorces of this kind are granted," said the witness.

"Is anyone appointed to defend the accused?"

"Never; but the complainant is given a hearing, if satisfactory evidence is furnished to the church."

"Then it is purely ex parte?"

"Purely so."

Senator Overman was attempting to bring out what assurance a man may have of meeting his several wives in Heaven, if divorces are granted after his death, when the noon recess of the committee was taken.

Gage Seriously Ill.

New York, Dec. 13.—Former Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage is ill at his home in this city. His condition is such that only intimate friends are admitted to see him. He is suffering from inflammatory rheumatism. It was said Monday that he is resting comfortably and hopes to be up in a few days.

Two Children Drowned.

Billings, Mont., Dec. 13.—Ruby and Bernice Warren, aged eight and nine, respectively, daughters of Richard Warren, a rancher living near Billings, were drowned Sunday while skating on thin ice.

OUR LAWMAKERS.

Brief Synopsis of the Proceedings in Both Branches of Congress.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The senate was in session for more than two hours Tuesday and in addition to listening to the reading of the president's message received a preliminary report from the merchant marine commission, witnessed the induction of Senators Knox and Crane into office, and in executive session referred the presidential nominations to the proper committees.

After listening to the reading of the president's annual message to congress the house adjourned. During the first ten minutes of the session two minor routine matters were disposed of, but no other business was transacted.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The senate in executive session Wednesday agreed to vote on the Philippine government bill at 3 p. m. December 16. A bill was introduced having as its purpose the reduction of the representation in congress of southern states that have disfranchised the negro voter. A joint resolution was introduced providing for a commission to investigate campaign contributions.

In the house the legislative executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying $28,838,709, was reported.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Objection was made in the senate to consideration of the pure food bill. The appointment of Dr. Crum, as collector of customs at Charleston, S. C., was discussed in executive session. The senate adjourned until Monday.

The house spent over five hours in discussion of the legislative appropriation bill. The pay of house committee stenographers was reduced from $5,000 per annum to $3,000.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The house passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill practically as it came from committee, and adjourned until Monday. The house passed a resolution to adjourn on December 21 until January 4, 1905, for the usual Christmas holidays.

TO BE STRONGLY PRESSED.

Congress Will Be Asked to Extend Powers of Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission is one of the questions which will be pressed vigorously at the present session of congress. It can be aid that, in the mind of President Roosevelt, no problem more important than this to all the people of the country is likely to engage the attention of congress this winter. In conferences with members of both the senate and the house of representatives the president has emphasized the arguments he advanced in his message in favor of an extension of the powers of the interstate commerce commission. Western members of congress have told the president that no question is of greater importance to the people than this, and they really are more interested in it than they are in the proposed revision of the tariff. The president is in entire agreement with this view, and proposes to exert his influence to bring about consideration of the subject at the present session.

LARGEST EVER POLLED.

Ballots Cast for Roosevelt in Late Election Number 7,640,560—Some Interesting Figures.

New York, Dec. 12.—A canvass by the New York Times of the popular vote at the last presidential election complete except as to one county in Tennessee and four counties in Michigan, for which estimates are given, shows that President Roosevelt defeated Judge Parker by 2,546,169. He polled the largest vote ever given for a president of the United States, 7,640,560. This is more than 400,000 in excess of the vote cast for McKinley in 1900. A comparison with the vote table of 1900 shows a marked change in the socialist vote. Debs, the candidate of the party that year, was also the candidate this year and his vote shows an increase of more than 300,000. The total vote is given as 13,534,119, and that for each of the presidential candidates is given as follows: Roosevelt (rep.), 7,640,560; Parker (dem.), 5,094,391; Debs (soc.), 392,857; Swallow (pro.), 248,411; Watson (pop.), 124,381; Corregan (soc. labor), 33,519. The electoral vote will be 336 for Roosevelt and 140 for Parker.

Slain as They Slept.

Trenton, S. C., Dec. 9.—The charred remains of B. B. Hughes, his wife and two daughters, were found in the ruins of their residence, which was burned Wednesday night. Investigation showed that Hughes had been shot through the head, and that the skulls of the three women had been crushed by an ax or some blunt instrument. The perpetrators of the horrible deed are unknown. It is thought robbery was the motive.

Japan Accepts Invitation.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Japan has accepted the American government's invitation to participate in a second peace conference at The Hague, provided the rulings of the conference should not affect the present conflict.

Three Children Perished.

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 10.—At Madison, the house of Arthur Rains was destroyed by fire and three children, aged five, four and two years, respectively, were burned to death.

Income Is $2,400,000.

Berlin, Dec. 9.—The income of Bertha Krupp, who owns nearly all the $40,000,000 capital of the Krupp company, is $2,400,000, the company having just declared a six per cent. dividend.

Song for the Editors.

The following "pathetic" song was sung by the Duluth Glee club at the state editor's banquet which was held in that city. Mary D. McFadden, the bright editress of the News and Comment column of the Duluth News Tribune, is the author:

If "pi" were only meat and bread
How sweet this life would be—
If spring-time poets all were dead,
How sweet this life would be—
If all delinquents paid to date,
If all our "copy" came in plate—
If "ready-prints" were never late—
How sweet this life would.

If "30" meant "good night" to debt,
How sweet this life would be—
If all the sheet in "ads" were set,
How sweet this life would be—
If printers wouldn't get a jag
On press day sure, and "stick the rag,"
My, wouldn't they have cause to brag?
How sweet this life would be.

If all "exchanges" jollied us,
How sweet this life would be—
If "old subscribers" wouldn't fuss,
How sweet this life would be—
If creditors collection-bent
Could to the "devil" all be sent,
And county printing pay the rent,
How sweet this life would be.

If compliments would come our way,
How sweet this life would be—
And kickers only keep away,
How sweet this life would be—
If business men would advertise,
And "Constant Readers" realize,
Our aim—we'd be in paradise—
How sweet this life would be.

If politicians came to time,
How sweet this life would be—
If "contributions" wouldn't rhyme,
How sweet this life would be.
To "fourth estaters" it appears,
If, as the reader sometimes fears,
Work could be done with paste and shears,
How sweet this life would be.

If "forms" on time were always in,
How sweet this life would be—
If "make-up" never looked like sin,
If "circulation lies" were true,
If editors were never blue,
We leave it, fellow slaves, to you,
How sweet this life would be.

Wells County (N. D.) Free Press: Griff Lewis was up from the Sykeston vicinity last Wednesday. Mr. Lewis is probably the biggest wheat farmer in Wells county, having raised this year 13,200 bushels of that cereal. His other crops aggregated between 4,000 and 5,000 bushels. He marketed most of his wheat at $1.06 per bushel.

Fight Will Be Bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. The J. B. Cigar Co. can fit you out with anything in the line of cigars or smokers' sundries that you may want for the holidays.

The Presbyterian Sunday sedool is arranging quite an elaborate Christmas program, which will be rendered on Christmas night. Further particulars will be given next week.

The Thief River Review issued rather a pretentious Christmas edition this week. The papers consists of twenty-four pages and is liberally patronized by the business men of the city. The Review is to be congratulated on its handsome issue.

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is just such a food in its best form. It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial: it cannot hurt you. It is essentially the best possible nourishment for delicate children and pale, anaemic girls. We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Tells Quite a Yarn.

The hunting season is over for this year, but one of our local nimrods is yet telling of a remarkable feat in marksmanship which sounds like a tale from Baron Munchausen, but which he avers is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. He was hunting on the banks of the Red River in October, so the story runs, when a mallard duck arose in front of him. While aiming at the duck, he noticed a pheasant on the limb of a tree directly in line with the duck and when he pulled the trigger both the duck and the pheasant fell dead. A large pickerel frightened by the report of the gun, jumped out on the shore and struck a tree with such momentum that a squirrel was shaken out of his nest and landed beside the big fish. The pickerel, in floundering about struck the squirrel with its enormous tail and it was rendered unconscious. A jack rabbit which had been a witness to this wholesale destruction of life was prostrated to such an extent that it was unable to move and hunter caught it in his hands. The total bag was one mallard duck, one pheasant, one pickerel, one squirrel, and one rabbit, which, when considered that only one shot was fired, is remarkable. The pickerel weighed 19 pounds.—Thief River Press.

TO BE STATE LIBRARIAN.

Governor Johnson Appoints Courier Editor to That Position.

St. Paul Globe: The office of state librarian will be filled after the first of the year by John E. King of Red Lake Falls.

Announcement of Mr. King's appointment to the important place was made last night by Governor-elect John A. Johnson at St. Peter. The new appointee will succeed E. A. Nelson, of Hallock, who has been state librarian for four years.

Like the incumbent, Mr. King is a newspaper man. He is the editor of the Red Lake Falls Courier, one of the strongest Democratic newspapers in the state, and prior to his removal to Red Lake Falls was editor of an Adrian paper. While at Adrian he was a Democratic candidate for the legislature, and in a strongly Republican district was defeated by a narrow margin. He served on the state board of equalization during 1898-99, having been appointed by Gov. John Lind.

Mr. King was the Democratic nominee at the late election for secretary of state, but went down to defeat before the avalanche of Republican votes that buried all but the head of the Democratic state ticket beneath it. He is a man well equipped by education and experience for the position which he will fill after Jan. 2, and his appointment is a recognition of the claims of the northwestern part of the state, which, up to the time of his selection, had not been favored in the matter of appointments by the incoming administration.

DRAINAGE REPORT FILED.

Work and Expense of Construction During Past Year.

Practically $100,000 has been expended by the state drainage board since its creation in 1900 in contracts for ditches, engineering expenses and other work. The annual report of George A. Ralph, Crookston, state drainage engineer, filed with governor, show $81,546.03 expended in drainage contracts for the years 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904.

During the year 1904 the commission paid in contracts $21,561.29. The Grand Marais, Metz, Shotley Brook, Bemidji and Gun Lake ditches were completed during the year, with extensions to the Morken ditch, the New Solum second extention and the Wild Rice river cutoff almost completed.

The Tamarac ditch was abandoned when partially built, being found not feasible, and the contractor was paid $125 for his work. There is a balance at the disposal of the commission of $7,276.84.

The engineering expenses of the commissioner are shown to be less than 9 per cent of the whole expenditure by the commission. The ditches, the report says, are often from seventy-five to 100 miles from the nearest railroad point, and the cost of engineering, superintendency and final inspection is proportionately larger than other work closer to civilization.

It is admitted that the price paid for excavation is higher than paid by the Red River Valley Drainage commission, which the state drainage commission succeeded, but it is pointed out that the old commission gave its contracts during a time of financial depression and low wages.

It is contended that the prices for excavation recently paid are as low or lower than paid for similar work by county or local authorities. The drainage commission consists of the governor, state treasurer and secretary of state.

A GOOD PIPE DREAM.

Travelling Man's Experience With Red Lake County Bees.

Duluth News-Tribune: John Coleman of Duluth, travelling salesman for a Duluth candy company, tells of a rather remarkable experience at Plummer, on the Soo line, late in November. He says:

"I hired a livery team and driver to convey me from Red Lake Falls to Plummer. The weather was warm and sunny, and during the drive I observed that honey bees occasionally buzzed about our heads I spoke of the fact to the driver, and he said many of the farmers kept avaries. Neither of us spoke of the matter again, although I never saw so many bees fussing around as during that drive. Arriving at Plummer I entered a store kept by one of my customers and, placing one of the well stocked candy cases on the counter, I opened it up. To my astonishnent a small swarm of bees came buzzing angrily out and flew all over the room. They had been attracted by the sweets in the case, and there was an aperture about one fourth of an inch wide which allowed them to enter. You see the flowers were all dead as a result of killing frosts, and when a candy salesman invaded the country on a warm, pleasant day it was just like finding honey for the bees. I suppose they all found their way back to the hive. The storekeeper threw open the doors and windows and the insects soon disappeared."

In spite of the provocation, Mr. Coleman declined to embellish his story in the least. He might easily have furnished the following:

"The moment the bees poured forth from the candy case, the storekeeper, with great presence of mind, took down a bell from the shelf and began ringing it. The bell had the effect of soothing the excited bees and caused them to settle in a cluster on a bunch of bananas. He then hastily made an improvised hive of a cheesebox, put a little dab of honey in it; and in a few minutes the storekeeper had the little swarm in their new home. He then gave me an order for a queen bee for the new swarm. It was a little out of my line but I agreed to furnish it."

Meal Ticket Campaign.

HANSEN SEEMS TO HAVE WON

Recount of Ballots Apparenty Gives County Treasurership to Democratic Candidate.

The election contest brought by K. M. Hansen against Ovide Moreau, involving the office of county treasurer, is being tried by Judge Grindeland at a special term of the district court in Red Lake Falls.

At present the contestant, Mr. Hansen, has the best of it. Apparently he has overcome Moresu's lead of seven and gained four more to the good.

So far six precincts have been recounted. In Lake Pleasant, Terrebonne and Lambert there was no change. In Louisville Hansen gained one and in Poplar River Moreau gained one. The surprising feature of the contest was the recount in the first ward of Red Lake Falls city, where Hansen gained nine and Moreau lost two, making in all a net gain of eleven and giving Hansen the election by a plurality of four.

Of the precincts originally asked to be recounted only the second ward of Red Lake Falls remains, but it is rumored that Mr. Moreau will ask a recount in a number of other precincts, and the proceedings may be prolonged until after Christmas.

Later—In the recount of the second ward in Red Lake Falls late this afternoon Moreau lost two votes and Hansen gained four, which up to the present time gives Hansen an apparent plurality of ten. It seems altogether likely that Mr. Hansen will be given the office. The unexpected changes in the first and second wards of Red Lake Falls are hard to account for except on the theory that a number of voters cast their ballots for both Moreau and Finke, and the judges failed to notice the mark after the latter name.

Danger for the Valley.

In the opinion of Professor Conway MacMillian of the university, there is every indication of a disasterous wheat rust in 1905, which will materially affect the wheat yield of the Red River valley. Professor MacMillian has, during the past years, made a careful study of wheat and its ailments, and in an interview today he gives his reasons for a forecast of poor wheat in 1905. Professor MacMillian said:

"Without desiring to say anything which would influence the market one way or the other, it may be predicted with reasonable confidence that the Red River valley wheat crop of 1905 will show considerable rust. This is because a strong infection of the straw and stubble has been brought about during the season of 1904 and the rust fungus has shown some particularly virulent qualities. A fortunate climate condition would tend to reduce the damage, but sufficient moisture for the favorable development of the wheat plant is also favorable to rust. The probabilities for a clean, unrustd crop do not seem bright. An advantage to next year's crop will be gained by the careful selection of seed wheat if possible, from fields where rust was prevailent, provided that the seed should be of full weight and high grade. Seeds of low weight might indicate weakening of the parent plant by the disease.

To check rust there is only one line of hopeful experiment. That is the development of rust-proof varieties. To develop such varieties is not possible without a very full knowledge of both of the habits and the physiology of wheat and of the rust fungus.

What the public does not generally know is that modern botanical work is principally concerned with such important economic questions as these. While information about plant diseases is difficult to obtain, it will doubtless be possible before many decades to limit very much the loss to agriculture through the various ills of the plants. The main thing to know is that rust, smut, etc., are not acts of Providence or accidents, but plant plagues which can be checked by scientific methods as soon as they are thoroughly understood.

Arthur F. Ittner, the Spectator foreman, was taken sick last Sunday and was confined to his room until yesterday when he went to his home at Red Lake Falls. His friends here hope that a few days at home will put him in shape again.

They are hard at work down at the saw mill these days getting ready for the new machinery that will soon commence to arrive. Foreman Stapleton has a crew of men at work making general repairs and getting things ready for the machinery, considerable of which is expected to arrive this month and the balance early in January. It will furnish work for quite a number of men all winter.

Quite a number of farmers, east of here, and we learn that a few on this side of the river, have been hauling wheat to Hazel the past week where they claim to be able to get not only a better grade but also a higher price. There is something wrong in this and our citizens should give the matter their closest attention. There should be no reason why wheat should not command just as good a grade and just as high a price nere as on the Soo line, the only difference being in the local buyers.

Landlord W. A. Arthur and the boarders of the Hotel Markham planed a pretty surprise on Mrs. Arthur last evening, it being her birthday anniversary. The Thief River Falls orchestra of four pieces furnished the music and a large number of friends spent a pleasant evening with games and dancing. An excellent supper was served and Mrs. Arthur was presented with a dozen pearl handled fruit knives, by the boarders as a slight token of their esteem. With many expressions of good will the party broke up at a late hour after having enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

For the Farmers.

The safest rule in farming is never to allow anything to go to waste.

Don't wait for someone else to do it: do it yourself, and then you know it is done.

Panics would be absolutely impossible in this country with farm products marketed as other things are marketed.

The latest government statistics state that the United States produced 18,968,098 barrels of salt during the year 1903. This is the smallest output since 1898.

We have only this advice to those who want winter eggs: Surround the hens with conditions as near like springtime as possible, both as to temperature and feed.

At night is the time to give the work horse his main feed of hay. Hay is bulky, dry and slow to digest. Give him the whole night for the performance of this necessary part of alimentation.

City life appears attractive to the country boy. He doesn't stop to think that in a town job so many hours a day and often several hours of the night belong to his employer and that business comes ahead of pleasure or entertainment. He can attend but few of the city attractions. There is more durdgery and less freedom of mind or body behind that counter or desk than in the front of it. He can have more freedom and holidays on the farm than in town. He can make more money on a farm than in town as a rule. He can get a business of his own in the country; but few in the city become anything but cogs in a wheel.

A Good Thing.

The lively competition among railroads to provide the very finest equipment and excellent service enables the traveler of today to travel in a styles only dreamed of a few years ago. Between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago the finest trains in the world will be found and the king bee is the electric lighted North-Western Limited. Nothing better can be found anywhere in railray equipment.

The New Twin-Screw Steamship "Minnesota."

The "Minnesota," which sails from Seattle on Saturday, January 21, her initial trip in the trans-Pacific trade with the Orient, typifies the highest achievments in American shipbuilding. She is the heaviest cargo-carrying vessel in the world, and her passenger accomodations are unequalled on the Pacific and take first rank with the great Atlantic liners. Broad decks and large cabins, superior service and every convenience know to modern shipbuilding, ensure the full enjoyment of a Pacific voyage. 2,000 people, including 250 cabin passengers, 68 intermediate and 1,500 troops, or Asiatic steerage passengers, may be accommodated on this great vessel, which is 630 feet in length; 73 feet 6 inches bean, and 56 in depth from keel to upper deck amidships, the total depth from the upper navigating bridge to the keel being 88 feet 4 inches. All first-cabin passengers are berthed amidships, the intermediate are on the main deck forward, and the steerage are berthed on the same deck aft. Nine decks serve to meet the requirements of passengers, crew and cargo. The ship has 32 water-tight compartments and is fitted with bilge keels to insure steadiness from the sea. The public rooms, cabins and hallways are all mechanically ventilated with filtered hot and cold air. The appointments of this vessel throughout are such as to fully provide for the comfort, safety, and health of passenger under all conditions.

The Great Northern Steamship Company, with its direct railroad connection in the great northern railways of the United States of America, has an unrivalled geographical position, which fact, taken in connection with the splendidly equipped and palatially appointed steamers, should decide the route of trans-Pacific travelers. The track followed by the Company's vessels is the shortest to the Orient. As will be seen by reference to the track chart, the distance from Puget Sound to Yokohama being 4,260 miles.

JAPANESE CAPTURE FORT BY STORM

EXPLODE MINE UNDER NORTH DEFENSE ON EAST KEEKWAN MOUNTAIN.

THE MIKADO LOSES FOUR TORPEDO BOATS

Russian Officer Who Escaped from Port Arthur Tells of Conditions in City—Also Describes Capture of High Hill.

Tokio, Dec. 20.—Confirmation has been received here of the report that the Japanese army besieging Port Arthur has stormed and captured North fort, on East Keekwan mountain, after exploding a mine under the fortifications.

Four Jap Boats Lost.

Tientsin, Dec. 20.—A junk which arrived here Monday from Port Arthur reports that four Japanese torpedo boats were sunk during the attacks on the Russian battleship Sevastopol, which they say has now sought refuge under Golden hill. The Japanese, the Chinese added, are spreading false reports of their successes, in order to facilitate the negotiation of fresh loans abroad.

Conditions at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Dec. 20.—Commander Mizzeneoff, who was executive officer of the Russian battleship Poltava until that vessel was disarmed, and who on December 15 headed the party of seven Russians who left Port Arthur in a sailboat and arrived here Friday with dispatches, said in an interview that Port Arthur is a desolate and, excepting for the firing of guns, a silent place.

"The Russians," said he, "are husbanding their artillery ammunition, firing only when the effect will be certain. There are 16,000 men in the line of forts, and their periods of rest are few. The generals, except Gen. Stoessel, live in the forts. Every building in the whole town is more or less injured. Gen. Stoessel has put the entire population on regular rations sufficient to last three months. The ammunition is sufficient to last much longer. I believe the Japanese will never take the fortress under present conditions. Port Arthur never looked more sepulchral than on the night of December 9, when the Japanese shells repeatedly hit a hospital, killing seven of the patients. The hospitals contain 8,000 patients. The Sevastopol is the only warship that has not been disarmed."

A Terrible Struggle.

Chefoo, Dec. 20.—For ferocity and sustained desperation on both sides, the struggle for the possession of High hill probably was the most remarkable in the history of the siege of Port Arthur—a siege noted for slaughter. This statement is based on an interview with Commander Mizzeneoff, executive officer of the battleship Poltava, up to the time the vessel was disarmed, and who, as already told, headed the party of seven Russians who left Port Arthur in a sail boat on December 15 and after extreme suffering while crossing in a driving snowstorm arrived here December 16, bearing dispatches which were turned over to the Russian consul for transmission to St. Petersburg.

Commander Mizzeneoff, who was wounded in the leg during the battle of High hill, said: "Since the Japanese, November 28, began their attack High hill, which they call 203-Metre hill, the fighting has been continuous. The steep and sandy slopes of the hill were streaked and dotted with snow when the Japanese began the battle which was destined to furnish so many deeds of heroism that they became commonplace. There was so much slaughter that even Port Arthur's war-hardened veterans shuddered at the sight.

"Japanese were compelled to clamber up the slopes of the hill, in many cases without firing, in the face of one of the most murderous deluges ever poured from rifles and machine guns. It was there and it seemed to me that flesh and blood would be unable to stand our fire for a minute. The enemy went down in squads and companies, but always there were others grimly coming forward. Their bravery was beyond praise, as was that of our own men. Sometimes the fighting was hand-to-hand, with the muzzles of the rifles at the breasts of the contestants, the bayonets being used as swords.

Strewn with the Dead.

"The sides of the hill were strewn with bodies and the snow was crimsoned with the blood of the wounded, some of whom had crawled into it, seeking in its coldness surcease for their dying agonies. Eventually, as in similar instances which were to follow, we retired, leaving the work of driving the enemy from the summit to the resistless guns of the neighboring forts, notably those of Liaoti mountain.

"When the Japanese retired under an artillery fire the Russians reoccupied the summit. The second and third assaults were replicas of the first, although the second was the most ferocious, being nearly all hand-to-hand fighting, in which mercy was neither asked nor given.

Losses Enormous.

"The assaults thus far had cost the Japanese easily 12,000 men, while our own were under 2,000. The sides of the hill were literally covered with dead and wounded. The trenches were rivulets of blood and every visible spot was dyed crimson.

Supreme Court Adjourns.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The United States supreme court Monday adjourned until January 3 for the Christmas holidays.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

All About Butter.

The biennial report of the state dairy and food commission soon to be presented to the legislature, will show that Minnesota is today making 28,000,000 pounds more butter annually than it did four years ago when Gov. S. R. Van Sant, then dairy governor, first came into office.

In four years the number of creameries has increased from 530 to 781, and the product of butter for this year will equal 72,000,000 pounds. At the same time the quality has increased to a point where Minnesota has won first place in competition with the world for both dairy and creamery butter.

Since January, 1, 1903, cheese factories have increased in number of seventy-three to ninety, and skim stations from fifty-two to sixty-six. This is a gain for the year of 111 new creameries, seventeen cheese factories, and fourteen skim stations. The point has now been reached where Minnesota probably produces more butter than any other state in the union. And with the fact long established that it produces more flour, Minnesota now has unquestionable right to the title Gov. Van Sant has given it of "The Bread and Butter State."

To supply the 111 new creameries with milk means an increase of 40,000 cows.

Since two years ago the number of farmers supplying milk to creameries has increased from 50,369 to 58,990; number of cows from 382,356 to 435,740; pounds of milk from 1,217,786,450 to 1,351,642,619; butter from 67,726,808 to 72,266,384; amount paid to patrons from $10,941,466.38 to $12,988,682.21.

A Close Call.

The four small children of Mr. and Mrs. Tiernet, living on a farm near Duluth, barely escaped death in flames which destroyed the family residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiernet left their four small children in the house while they went to get some wood some distance away. Mr. Tiernet suddenly observed smoke issuing from the roof and he and he his wife hurried to it.

Mr. Tiernet broke the bedroom window, and, leaping in, he rescued the baby. The interior of the house beyond the bedroom was a mass of flames. To enter there was impossible, either to seek the other three children or try to save the contents.

The husband and wife stood by and wrung their hands in agony, for nothing was to be seen of the three older children. It was taken for granted that they had perished. To the intense joy of the parents the three missing children soon made their appearance from the bushes near by. They took fright when they found the house on fire.

Benefactor Rewarded.

Charles Madden, one of the early residents of the city and who for several years has lived at the Dewey hotel, Minneapolis is dead. When his will was read, John Nelson, who took care of the old man in his last days, was found to inherit $23,000 in cash.

Madden was usually thought of as a pauper, and when his health began to fail him, Nelson, proprietor of the hotel, gave him a room and waited on him personally.

A few days ago the old man called for a lawyer and made his will, leaving all his money to Nelson, who, he said, had been his good friend. His wealth at that time was not known, but when the attorney searched the room he found certificates of deposit on the Farmers and Mechanics' bank for $23,000.

The amount of money was a complete surprize to Nelson, who had believed Madden a penniless man.

Statues for the Capitol.

The Minnesota State Art society purchased at the St. Louis fair two beautiful casts for the adornment of its rooms in the new capitol. These are reproductions of Donatello's John the Baptist and of the "Gooseman," by Adam Kraft, a German sculpter. The society also secured an option on the figure representing Minnesota modeled by Gustav Gerlach of Hoboken, N. J., which stood in the colonade of streets.

The report of these transactions was made at a meeting of the governing board of the society. Designs for furniture for the new rooms were submitted, but no selection was made. The selected designs will be submitted to the capitol commission.

To a Higher Place.

At a general request of the leading agricultural colleges, experimental stations and state universities, Prof. W. M. Hays of the Minnesota experiment station at St. Anthony Park has been appointed assistant secretary of agriculture to succeed Joseph H. Brigham, whose death last summer left the position vacant.

News Notes.

Representative Bede has recommended the appointment of J. C. Chamberlain as postmaster at International Falls.

The body of a man apparently a Bohemian, was found in the creek at Glencoe. He was in town Nov. 28 and registered as Vincent Major or Magor.

A revolt in the Polk county jail has just come to light, as the authories have gaurded it with the greatest care. The ringleader was Paul Haswell, a self-confessed horsethief, who was taken to Stillwater by Sheriff Sullivan.

A murder in the St. Louis county jail was committed by Frank Van Dyke, a prisoner on a trespass charge, who fatally beat his cellmate, Erick Lindberg, a tailor. Van Dyke's weapon was the iron cover of a bucket that had been left in their cell.

Wrangling with the umpire must cease in Minnesota conference athletic contests.

The Mistletoe.

She blushes 'neath the mistletoe
The Christmas girl we love and know
And pouts her pretty mouth to pay
The toll we may expect today.

The mistletoe with berries white
That signifies a transient right
To one snatched kiss—the mistletoe
An antique emblem is, you know.

Before the musing mother dreamed
Of Him whose birth a world redeemed
The Persians in a sacred rite
Made use of these same berries white.

The glistening berry of the East
Is reverenced by the Hindoo priest
And Druids who knew the Oak to be
God's best beloved, towering tree—

Druids, descended, as 'tis said
From those wise men who were star-led To Bethlehem. The Druids tied
Their sacrifical beasts and plied
A golden knife to oaken bough
Bearing the mistletoe. The brow
Of each white beast was crowned ere death.
But when his fast departing breath
Was wafted on the forest air
The Druids took the berries fair
To some old temple where it stood,
Like sentinel within the wood,
And left it there in holy state.
And records that we read relate
How these, our sires, the mistletoe
Have handed down to us, you know!

MR. CARNEGIE fails to remember the time when he did not have $500,000 in loose change about him which would make the issuance of a promissaay note unnecessary.

A MAN who has been exploring in Central Africa says it is much safer to travel alone in the jungle at night than in Chicago or New York. That being the case, why go to the jungle if you're looking for diversion?

THE Bemidji Pioneer seems to have become reconciled to the possibility of Senator Clapp's defeat in saying: "With St. Paul and Minneapolis quarrelling; with themselves as to who shall have the bone, this is a pretty good time for the country to go in and elect a senator of its own."

THE Mapelton Enterprise offers this paragraph of good advice: "The national government has reached a point where it must issue bonds, increase the revenues of the country or practice economy. By all means the latter move is preferable, cut out some of the public deals, the free seed distribution, and as president Roosevelt says cut off half the printing of public documents. They are practically worthless and are not read."

THE popular vote of November 8 is not yet completely tabulated, one county in Tennessee and four in Michigan being still among the missing. Estimating these the New York Times places the total vote for president at 13,533,820. Roosevelt's plurality is 2,543,470. The vote for the several candidates is as follows: Roosevelt, 7,640,561; Parker, 5,094,091; Debs, 392,857; Swallow, 241,411; Watson, 124,381; Corregan, 33,519.

THE Grand Forks Herald editor pens these beautiful holiday thoughts: "The holiday season is here, and people are busy with plans for giving pleasure to their friends. It is the season of giving, and every one expects to give something to those whom he loves. At this season above all others the poor should be remembered. The season is near when more than any other thought is directed to the teachings of the great Nazarene, and it is moreover, in this northern latitude, the season when those who are destitute feel the need of aid. The poor we have always with us, and there is no season when they need our aid more than now."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S message has some peculiaraties that are worth mentioning. One, of the peculiarities is that by actual computation two-thirds of the message deals with subjects not mentioned in the Chicago platform. Another peculiarity is that about one-fifth of the message discusses topics with which congress has never in the past concerned itself and over which it has no jurisdiction. A third peculiarity is that the president does not discuss a number of subjects on which the country was very anxious to know his position, the most important of these omitted subjects being the tariff.

NO TARIFF REVISION.

The tariff will not be revised—not even by its friends. The trust interests do not want revision, and the trusts are the real friends of the tariff. A recent Washington telegram to the Minneapolis Journal gives this interesting bit of information.

"Representative John Lind, of Minnesota, in discussing the tariff question, today with the Journal correspondent, predicted that there would be no extra session of the fifty-ninth congress, and no revision of the tariff during the life of that congress, which would carry the Republican party into the off year campaign of 1906, without anything having been done along the line of revising the tariff by its friends.

"As to whether Mr. Lind is right or wrong in his prophecy, opinions will differ, perhaps, but it begins to look as if the first part of that prophecy would come true. The leading men of the party, or enough of them to obstruct any revision program which the president may have, have declared against an extra session, and if the president should call one would do everything in their power to prevent it from accomplishing revision results."

Words of Praise.

Gov. Johnson is receiving words of commendation from all sources: The Lincoln (Neb.) State Journal says:

"Americans honor a man who works his way to honorable distinction, and it was that very thing that elected John A. Johnson governor of Minnesota. In order to do him injury the report was circulated that his mother at one time took in washing to support the family. The candidate admitted, with tears in his eyes, that the report was true, and it also forced from him the admission that his father was a worthless drunkard who did nothing toward the support of the family; that he himself left school at the age of ten to work for the support of his mother and little sister; that by dint of persistent effort he was able to educate the little ones, to provide a good home for his mother and to provide her every comfort in her old age as well as to build a home of his own in which he was rearing a family of which he thought he had reason to feel very proud. And the people cheered the brave Swede, and on election day he ran seventy thousand votes ahead of his ticket. It served him right."

Artificial Cotton.

"Artificial cotton has been produced in a small way from cellulose obtained from the bark of fir trees", says the Textile Record. The wood is first crushed in a fibrous mass, then subjected to steam pressure in a closed cylinder for ten hours. The next steps are a series of chemical treatments and finally the past mass is converted into fine flaments by being forced under pressure through small apertures. We, however, know that we are not getting anything artificial when it bears the name golden grain belt beer. This beer is brewed from the purest barley malt and hops. It is most delicious and very invigorating. Order a case of your nearest dealer or be supplied by, Alex. Thompson, Crookston.

OF INTEREST TO TEACHERS.

Goverment Holds Homesteaders May Leave During Winter.

Of great interest to Minnesota school teachers who have claims in various parts of the country is a decision that has been handed down by the general land office in Washington. This is to the effect that a homesteader following school teaching as a profession need not necessarily reside on his claim during the winter months, when school is in session, provided he has lived up to the requirement of the law in other respects and lives on the land in the summer time.

The decision came in a Minnesota contest case in which a school teacher of Wabasha, Minn., John L. Torrens by name, entered on a homestead and had his entry contested by John Ritchie. The contestant alleged that Torrens had abandoned his claim and changed his residence.

Evidence was introduced to show that Torrens had resided on the claim during summer months and had made the neccessary improvements upon it and done the required work. He had absented himself during the winter, however, to earn money to support his family and had been teaching school. Mrs. Torrens had not resided upon the land, it was shown, for the reason that she was in ill health. This was construed by the officials to have been good faith on the part of Torrens and his wife.

The Washington decision in the case reads in parts practically as follows:

"I am of the opinion that the nature of the defendant's employment is an excuse for his absence from his claim for the months during which he did not visit it."

Regan Will be Roadmaster.

Crookston Times: Edward J. Regan has been appointed as assistant roadmaster on the northern division of the Great Northern and will have charge of the St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls and Greenbush lines. Heretofore this section of line has been under the charge of his uncle, Assistant Roadmaster Egan of this city who will now devote his entire attention to the St. Vincent line, his former territory having been too extensive to cover properly.

The new appointee comes from Grand Forks where he has been yard foreman for some time past, is well known, and efficient man for the position, and very popular with all the employees of the Great Northern who know him, and all are glad to note his advancement. His headquarters will be at Thief River Falls.

THE PASSPORT IN RUSSIA.

A Document That Gives the Officials of the Government Chance to Extort Money.

However indifferent an Englishman may be as to what takes place in Russia, it is, as a rule, not very difficult to excite his interest in the subject of passports, says the Pall Mall Gazette. To the Briton, accustomed to liberty from childhood, there seems to be something incomprehensible in the importance that is attached in the empire of the czar to the square bit of parchment without which it is impossible to enter or leave that country, or even, one may add, to get board or lodging. It is only, however, after a residence of some length in Russia that the stranger attains to a perfect knowledge of all that concerns the passport; the experiences of the ordinary tourist are not of a very varied nature. Having only secured the precious document somewhere in England, he will, if he is wise, have it close at hand when he nears the Russian frontier, for no sooner does the train come to a standstill than a door at the end of the corridor is flung open, and there appear two dignified officials, each of them wearing a long brown coat with red facings, and a sword. One of the officials, lifting his hat, asks for the passport, which is duly carried off and duly examined, while the traveler, under the guidance of a porter, is taken to a large whitewashed hall to have his luggage examined in all its minutest details. After a time he may be shuffled by some kindhearted loafer into a crowd in one corner, where he hears his name called out, and has the passport returned to him—a welcome sign that the authorities believe him incapable of corrupting the subjects of the czar, and are, therefore, willing that he should proceed upon his journey.

The next time the passport will be required is when he arrives at his destination. If he goes to a hotel, the manager must send off the passport at once; if to a private house, the dvornik, or porter, who is in the pay of the police, will take it to the proper place. After a few days it will be restored to the owner, the back scrawled all over with writing in Russian characters, and before he leaves the town where he resides it will again have to be sent to the police. But suppose the stranger has been in Russia for more than six months, then there is a fresh development: There is a knock at his door some morning and a majestic individual enters and, seating himself before the pen and ink, proceeds to a viva-voce examination: "What is your father?" "What is your age and religion?" and "Why are you in Russia?" These are a few of the many questions that are asked. But observe. He is looking at you minutely. Now he notes down your height, the color of your eyes and hair and other interesting particulars. This done, he carries off your passport, and tells you that, having been in Russia for six months, you ought to have applied for another one.

If the authorities are not satisfied on the frontier or elsewhere, they may request you to retire into "durance vile" until they have made inquiries. No doubt they are courteous, and will endeavor to soothe your ruffled feelings with cigarettes and a tumbler of tea seasoned with lemon, but in other respects they are inexorable. Thus, suppose there is a traveler of unimpeachable virtue named Smith, who has black hair, and the police are looking out for a criminal named Smith of about the same height, and also with black hair, it is not at all improbable that the unimpeachable Mr. Smith will, at some point or other, be unable to proceed on his journey. There is no redress for the delay, or even an apology. And, strange as it may seem, even the Russian officials can make a mistake and stick to it. Not so long ago an English officer, whose name shall be Jones, lost his passport in Russia, and applied for another. The new one arrived after the usual delay, but unfortunately, the officer was described in it as "Miss Jones." Anticipating possible difficulties in the future, he returned it, asking that the error might be rectified. But the passport was sent back to him with a curt note, intimating that it was not likely that the official who had filled it in had made any mistake in the particulars.

He Raised Chickens.

Some amusing incidents occur at the free dispensary of the different hospitals in town, often because the poor patients fail to understand the terms used by the doctors. The following incident occurred at the university hospital recently, and illustrates the point in question.

A man came in whom the doctor thought was suffering from beginning pneumonia, so, after getting his name and address and other necessary data, he asked the patient if he had a chill.

"Yes, a very bad chill yesterday," came the answer.

"Do you cough much?" asked the doctor.

"Yes, some," replied the patient, with a practical illustration.

"Do you raise anything?" was the next question.

The man hesitated a moment, then answered innocently: "Well, only a few chickens."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Best Cotton Country.

Africa, owing to her climate, soil and population, is better fitted for cotton production than any other of the continents of the globe, and will become the greatest supply field of that staple after civilized methods of government and economies have become dominant there.

What He Had Done.

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "As a representative of humanity I have felt it my duty to better myself at every opportunity."—Washington Star.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Judge Greenleaf Clark.

Judge Greenleaf Clark, one of St. Paul's best known and most respected citizens, died at 8:10 o'clock Dec. 7, at Lamanda Park, Cal.

Judge Clark was one of the pioneers of Minnesota, and during his lifetime was one of the most prominent and influential men of the state. He was known as a man of sturdy and rugged character, a gentleman of the old school, who placed honor and integrity above everything else. He held important public positions, and his administration of public affairs was always characterized by the close attention to detail and policy which careful men apply to their own affairs.

At the time of his death Judge Clark was president of the board of regents of the state university and president of the State Historical Society. He was appointed associate judge of the supreme court of Minnesota in 1881 by Governor Pillsbury, serving one year.

Judge Clark was born Aug. 23, '35, in Plaistow, N. H. He fitted for college at Atkinson academy, entering Dartmouth college in 1851, from which he graduated in 1855.

Attempted Safe Robbery.

Three unknown men attempted to blow the safe of the State Bank of Barnum, and, being foiled, held up and robbed E. O. Dye, a farmer living near Moose Lake.

F. A. Goetz, president of the bank, who lived but a few feet from the bank building, was awakened by the sound of a muffled explosion. Hastily dressing and going over to the bank, he found a man on guard outside the building and two more at work on the vault within.

Mr. Goetz returned to the house and telephoned a fire alarm to the telephone station.

A few minutes later the village was alive with half-clad men, some of the men carried lanterns. Under the leadership of Mr. Goetz, the crowd proceeded to the bank, but before they reached the building the robbers emerged from the front door and took flight. The thirdman had already disappeared.

Prize Essays.

At the thirty-eighth annual encampment of the department of Minnesota held in Minneapolis March 15 and 16, 1904, the commander of the department was authorized to offer prizes for the most meritorious papers on subjects touching the war of the rebellion, as an inducement to the youths of our high schools to become posted in matters pertaining to the history of their own country.

Poor Heating.

Unless defects in the boilers and heating plant at the new state capitol are remedied at once, it is probable that the legislature will not meet in the new structure this winter. The capitol commissioners spent a whole day in discussing remedies for boiler defects and in purchasing flags for the staffs.

News Notes.

The Grand Army men of Crookston and other Minnesota cities will endeavor to secure the passage of a state law this winter exempting post property from taxation.

George H. Fifield, a well-known resident on the Minnesota road, was working with a lantern in his cellar, when in some manner a can of gasoline which was stored there fell down and ignited. Mr. Fifield was badly burned on the face and hands.

Fire partly destroyed a building owned by A. H. Reed at Glencoe.

REQUESTS POWER TO FIX RATES

COMMERCE COMMISSION CALLS ATTENTION TO NECESSITY FOR LEGISLATION.

ANNUAL REPORT IS MADE TO CONGRESS

Two Remedies for Private Car Monopoly Suggested — Large Increase in Railway Casualties During 1904 —Earnings of Roads.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The eighteenth annual report of the interstate commerce commission was sent to congress Monday. Regulation of rates and proposed legislation on the subject are dealt with at length. Attention is called to the necessity of legislation giving the commission power to fix the rate where the tariff complained of is found to be excessive. The president's message on this point urging legislation is quoted.

Reference is made to the private-car monopoly, which was aired at a recent hearing in Chicago. Two remedies for the monopoly are suggested. "First, by making the common carriers responsible in the matter of this special equipment and refrigeration service, if they are not now responsible. Second, by bringing the carline companies which provide this refrigeration for interstate shipments under the jurisdiction of the act to regulate commerce and making their charges subject to the determination of this commission."

Switching charges made by terminal roads in Chicago are found to be excessive and are condemned.

Many Complaints Heard.

The report shows 487 complaints filed during the year, including formal and informal proceedings and investigations instituted by the commission. The number of formal proceedings brought before the commission was 62, involving the rates and practices of 302 carriers. Hearings and investigations were held in Washington, and at numerous cities in various parts of the country. Eleven cases before the commission were settled or discontinued.

Increase in Fatalities.

According to the report there were 43,266 employes injured and 3,867 killed thus far in 1904, as compared with 33,711 injured and 2,516 killed in 1903. The figures for 1903 are intermediate between those for 1902 and 1904. In 1904 there were 8,077 passengers injured and 420 killed; in 1902, 6,089 injured and 303 killed; in 1903 there were 6,973 injured and 321 killed. The increase in the number of deaths of passengers in train accidents in 1904 compared with 1903 is 64½ per cent. The fact that there were ten unusually disastrous accidents during the year is mentioned as partially accounting for the increased casualties. The block system is again urged as a partial remedy.

Gross earnings of the railways representing 209,002 miles of line, 99 per cent. of the whole, are given as $1,966,633,821, or about $66,000,000 over the previous year. The net earnings were $634,250,873.

Forgetfulness Causes Disaster.

Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 20.—The tower switchman at the crossing of the Great Northern & Illinois Central railroads, at Hinton, Ia., Monday morning gave the signal to the Great Northern freight, but forgot to throw the switch, derailing the train. Engineer Gilbertson was killed, and Fireman Hanson and Brakeman J. J. Hale fatally injured.

FOUR DIE IN BURNING OIL

EXPLOSION ON BARGE OFF NEW JERSEY COAST.

Four Others of Crew Are Seriously Burned—Cause of Disaster Is Unknown.

New York, Dec. 20. — By an explosion and the burning of 1,000,000 gallons of petroleum on a Standard Oil company's barge at sea off Long Branch, N. J., Sunday afternoon, four men were burned to death.

The dead are: Capt. G. P. Stokes; A. Sale, engineer; Al Brandt, fireman; unknown sailor.

Four survivors of the crew of the burned barge were brought to this port and are in a hospital suffering from burns.

The steel barge No. 91 and another barge were in tow of a tugboat bound for Philadelphia and were off Long Branch at three p. m. Sunday. Something interfered with the flow of water from the fresh water tank and Engineer Sale and Fireman Brandt went below to investigate. An explosion followed, whether of gas or a boiler is unknown. It lifted the after deck of the barge and set fire to the after hold. The tank holding the petroleum was 40 feet forward of where the fire started, but it jumped this space in a twinkling and within a few minutes the barge was ablaze from stem to stern.

The tug Standard which had the barges in tow went alongside the burning barge and took off four seamen, but the blaze had spread so fast that the others could not be rescued. Those who were saved were painfully burned, and the tug hastened to New York, where they were given medical attendance. The fire on the barge was left to burn itself out. The tug returned to the scene of the disaster to recover the bodies and hulk of the barge, the belief being that the latter was not entirely destroyed. The barge had on board 21,000 barrels, or 1,000,000 gallons, of oil.

Must Provide Couplers.

Washington, Dec. 20.—In a decision handed down by Chief Justice Fuller in the case of Johnson vs. the Southern Pacific Railway company, the supreme court of the United States Monday practically held that all cars, including locomotives, should be equipped with uniform automatic couplers. The court also held that dining cars cannot be exempt from the requirements of the safety appliance law, when in use, even though empty.

A Bad Fire.

St. Cloud, Minn., Dec. 20.—Fire which started from a hot stove in a meat market at Royalton Monday nearly destroyed the entire business portion of that village. The post office was badly damaged. The total loss is about $30,000, with $18,000 insurance.

Pleads Not Guilty.

New Ulm, Minn., Dec. 20.—Dr. George R. Koch, indicted for the murder of Dr. Gebhardt, was arraigned Monday before Judge Webber, and entered a plea of not guilty. After several arguments by the attorneys the court set the case for December 27.

Four More Deaths Reported.

Cincinnati, Dec. 20.—An Ashland (Ky.) special says that four more deaths from wood alcohol poisoning have been reported at the mouth of the Beaver river, making a total of ten deaths. Two more are said to be dying.

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.

Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Nervine a trial. Ten months treatment with Nervine and Liver Pills restored our boy to perfect health."—MR. JOHN S. NINE DIE UNDER MASS OF RUINS

WALLS OF THE PECK BUILDING CRASH THROUGH ROOF OF CROCKER HOTEL.

Two Massive Stories of Big Building Fall, Crashing Through to the Cellar, Carrying Death to Sleepers—Fire Adds to the Horror.

Minneapolis, Dec. 20.—Four or five and possibly ten or eleven people lost their lives early this morning in the Crocker hotel on Fifth street south through the falling of the high east wall of the O. H. Peck building which was gutted by fire last week.

The high wind of last night loosened the bricks in the wall and tons of bricks and stones crushed down upon the roof of the three-story hotel next door. The roof carried through to the basement carrying death and injury before it.

Several people are missing and presumely are dead. Many others were injured but will live.

The crash came shortly after 1 o'clock. Almost everyone in the hotel was asleep Within one moment the entire hotel building was a wreck with cruelly injured and dying people within calling in desperation for help and mercy.

A number of people who were asleep at the time of the accident and who were not immediately in the path of the falling bricks escaped with their lives although badly injured.

Missing and Probably Dead—William Crocker, proprietor of Crocker hotel; Mrs. Maggie LeClaire; William Lilyblade; Charles Clark, foreman Daniels Linseed Oil company; Charles Kenyon, foreman Daniels Linseed Oil company; William Bray; William Immerman, who was sick in bed at the time of the accident; three men who registered at the hotel early last evening, names unknown.

The Injured—Mrs. Jennie Murray, hip badly bruised; Mrs. Evelyn Williams, badly cut up and bruised; Mrs. William Crocker, badly bruised; Willie Crocker, cut and bruised; Hannah Crocker, badly shaken and bruised; Mrs. Frank Boyce, badly bruised and battered; Charles Smith, driver for Nic Ronner, liveryman, painfully but not seriously hurt.

To add to the horror of the whole affair fire soon started in the debris. As far as known, however, the lapping hungry flames did not reach any of the poor people buried beneath.

Indicted.

New Ulm, Minn., Dec. 17.—Dr. G. B. Koch yesterday afternoon was indicted on a charge of murdering Dr. L. A. Gebhardt. His counsel will ask for a speedy trial, and in passing on the veniremen for the jury will try chiefly to secure intelligent jurors by waiving the usual challenge on the ground of knowlege of the case.

New Ulm, Minn., Dec. 20.—Dr. George R. Koch pleaded not guilty in district court yesterday to the charge of murdering Dr. L. A. Gebhard on the evening of Nov. 1.

The prisoner was calm and collected and made his plea in a firm, strong voice. The courtroom was well filled, many ladies attending for the first time at this at this term.

Tuesday, Dec. 27, was fixed as the date of the beginning of the trial.

Murder and Suicide.

Minneapolis, Dec. 17.—Frederick B. Richmond shot and killed Lina Christianson at 1 p. m., Friday, and then, turning the revolver upon himself, fell dead with a bullet through his head. The murder and suicide occurred on Eighth street, between First and Second avenues south. No more horrifying tragedy than this ever occurred on the streets of Minneapolis.

Richmond was assistant city clerk under C. F. Haney and was about 38 years of age. Miss Christianson was one of the sisters well known in the city as fashionable dressmakers. The two were supposed to have been engaged, and the shooting undoubtedly followed a lovers' quarrel.

Mrs. Dowie Leaves Husband.

London, Dec. 20.—The Daily Mail correspondent at Geneva says Mrs. Gladstone Dowie, who was Ruth Hofer, has returned to her home on the shores of Lake Constance. After a five months' stay in Zion City she discovered that it was her money and not herself that "Glad" Dowie was in love with, and her married life had been very unhappy. She found herself instead of a wife, in reality a sort of upper servant.

Jap Fleet Sails.

London, Dec. 20.—A report from Chifu that portion of the Japanese fleet has left for Singapore and that a number of Japanese merchantment have been lightly armed to maintain the blockade of Port Arthur is published in a Chi-fu dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

Killed on Crossing.

Minneapolis, Dec. 19.—M. L. Manley, street car conductor, was killed, and Paul J. Kibbey, motorman, was badly injured in a collision between a Soo line switch engine and the Columbia Heights stub line car, Sunday morning. The car was just on the crossing when the motorman looked up and saw a switch engine pulling a caboose bearing down upon him. He turned on all the current he had, hoping to force his car across ahead of the approaching train. He was too late. The engine struck the car in the middle and threw it twenty or thirty feet.

UNABLE TO FIND JEWELS

MAID AND SON OF MRS. CHADWICK QUESTIONED.

Hearing in Bankruptcy Case Begun in Cleveland—Woman Too Ill to Appear.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 20.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick was too ill to appear Monday before Referee Remington, in the bankruptcy case against her. The announcement to that effect was made in the bankruptcy court, and Attorney Grossman, representing the creditors, stated that he would later in the day confer with Attorney Dawley, counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, to decide as to when her hearing will take place.

The examination of Freda Swanstrom, Mrs. Chadwick's maid, was then begun by Attorney Grossman, with a view to securing information as to the whereabouts of valuable jewels and papers belonging to her employer. Miss Swanstrom said she had been in Mrs. Chadwick's employ for six months, and accompanied her on all of her trips. These numbered six or seven, she said, and were from Cleveland to New York, and once to Boston. She was not the confidante of Mrs. Chadwick, she said, and could not tell the purpose of the trips to New York. Asked concerning the Boston visit, the witness said she remained at the hotel while Mrs. Chadwick went visiting. The witness said she never looked after Mrs. Chadwick's jewels. Mrs. Chadwick took care of them herself. She had seen the jewels several times, but did not know where they were.

Mrs. Chadwick's son Emil was then called. He told of first hearing of his mother's trouble, and of her telling him not to believe certain things printed in the newspapers about her. He could not tell the present whereabouts of the trunk or satchel which were removed from the Holland house. The manager of the hotel, the witness said, had told his mother that it would be better that the baggage be removed, as it was understood a levy was to be made upon it. His mother did not tell him where the property was taken.

SHAW IS TO STAY.

The President Wants His Cabinet to Be Unchanged Next Term.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, will be invited by President Roosevelt to remain in the cabinet after the 4th of March. It is understood that similar invitations have been or will be extended to Mr. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior, and Mr. Wilson, secretary of agriculture. Formal announcement of the president's purpose to reappoint Mr. Shaw is expected from the white house soon. Similar announcements concerning Secretary Hitchcock and Secretary Wilson will follow in a few days, and thereafter speculation as to the personnel of the new cabinet will cease. The president has already invited Secretary of State Hay, Secretary of War Taft, Secretary of the Navy Morton, Attorney General Moody and Mr. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor, to remain in the cabinet and all five have consented to do so. Chairman Cortelyou's appointment as postmaster general was decided on several months ago, and it was well understood that he was merely waiting for the expiration of Mr. Wynne's term on March 4 before taking hold.

FOUR MORE SENTENCED.

Colorado Supreme Court Punishes Men Charged with Violation of Injunction.

Denver, Col., Dec. 20.—The supreme court Monday adjudged Leonard Rogers, William G. Adams, Louis Hamburg and Thomas Kinsley guilty of contempt for conduct in Precinct Two, Ward Seven, in this city, at the recent election, in violation of the court's injunctive order. Each was given a jail sentence and fined.

The court announced that the evidence showed that Rogers, Adams and Hamburg had prevented the appointment of a republican clerk and Kinsley had ejected the supreme court watcher from the polls. Rogers is a deputy sheriff and was a candidate on the democratic ticket for the state senate. Kinsley is a prize fighter.

Plague Breaks Out in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 20.—The governor of Viatka reports a serious outbreak of Siberian plague in factories in the districts of Viatka and Slobodskoi which are preparing fur coats for the troops in Manchuria. Two hundred and forty-seven cases have already been reported. The plague has been traced to sheepskins and the delivery of fur garments to the troops has been suspended.

Two Men Killed.

Davenport, Ia., Dec. 20.—By the explosion of the boiler of one of the largest engines on the Rock Island road Monday Engineer M. Calhoun and Fireman H. Kinney were killed. Head Brakeman Thomas Gimmel and Trainmen Gus Smith, Russell Sherrod and George Nettleton were injured, Gimmel seriously.

Tornado in Brazil.

New York, Dec. 20.—A tornado has caused serious damage in the city and harbor of Rio Janeiro, Brazil, according to a Herald dispatch from that city. A wall of the college of San Vincente de Paul collapsed. One sister of charity and one pupil were killed and ten pupils were wounded.

Finnish Made Official Language.

Bjornborg, Finland, Dec. 20.—A decree was issued Monday introducing Finnish as the official language in the customs, postal and other services, beginning January 1.

Prison Twine Little Higher.

Warden Wolfer has announced the prices of binding twine at the state prison for the season of 1905.

He also stated that the purchase of enough materials to keep the factory busy until Aug. 1. of next year makes it possible to sell the twine at prices lower than the cost of the raw fiber in the market at present.

The prices next year will be from a quarter to half a cent per pound higher than the past season.

The prices for next year will be:

Sisal, standard and standard mixed, of 500 feet to the pound, 8 3-4 cents per pound.

Standard manila of 550 feet to the pound, 9 3-4 cents per pound.

Manila of 600 feet to the pound, 10 3-4 cents per pound.

Pure manila of 650 feet to the pound, 12 cents.

These are prices delivered on cars at Stillwater.

Punish the Practical Joker.

Isn't there some law by which the ratical joker can be given what is due him. Almost every community is affflicted with the brainless fellows who seek to obtain amusement (?) at some one's expense, and frequently the disreputable tricks they play upon their victims result disastrouly. The story is told of how a crowd of loafers around a barber shop in Staples gave a cupful of gasoline to a drunken tramp, who swallowed the potion at one gulp. He then lighted his pipe with the result that flames issued from his mouth, burning off his beard, his eyebrows and hair, and almost blinded him. The man fell te the floor unconscious, but the jokers failed to realize his serious condition and after pouring a bucket of water over him, put him out of doors. An hour later, finding that the man was still unconscious, they sent for a physician, who worked over the tramp all night. He was still alive, but he may lose the sight of both eyes. That crowd of jokers should be punished if there is any law that will fit the case.

The Presbyterian Sabbath school will give a Christmas concert on Sunday, Christmas night, at 7:30 o'clock. The subject of the program will be The Prince ot Peace. There will be an offering for Foreign missions at this service. The church will be decorated with Christmas greens and special music will be rendered by the choir as well as by the school. The Christmas candy for the children will be distributed at the Sabbath school in the morning.

Miss Frances Tobin has resigned her position as principal of the Red Lake Falls high school to accept a place as teacher of English in one of the high schools at Salt Lake City, Utah. This position pays a much handsomer salary and affords a much larger opportunity to advance in educational work. The many friends of Miss Tobin will be sorry to learn of her departure from Red Lake Falls. It is expected that the board of education will select a successor in a few days.

The Daisy sewing circle gave little Miss Esther Tandberg a "farewell party" at the home of the club Thursday evening, December 15. The time was passed pleasantly in playing "hurdy gurdy" which is a progressive game. The head prize was won by Miss Clara Rue and the consolation prize fell to Miss Berneta Schusser. Daisy circle always uses its members right royally and in this case presented Miss Esther with a sterling silver gold bowl coffee spoon with L. M. C. engraved in the bowl as a parting remembrance. Light refreshments were served, after which they passed happily to their respective homes.

Crookston Journal: Omar Delorme, the Red Lake Falls man, who is behind the defense of Joseph Guillmette to a considerable extent spent yesterday in the city and will undoubtedly be quartered here until the completion of the trial. Mr. Delorme firmly believes the story which Guillmete tells in regard to his actions before and after the day of the murder, and from what investigations he has made thinks a cruel mistake has been made in the apprehension of Guillmette. Mr. Delorme is one of the pioneer valley farmers and has one of the finest farms in Red Lake county, a short distance south of Red Lake Falls.

Crookston Times: Thief River is likely to have another big two story block next summer, to be located on the corner of 3rd St. and Main avenue where the Simonson clothing company and Torrison Bros. stores now stand. Messrs. C. M. and E. V. Everson, H. T. Simmons and Attorney Fosson the two latter gentleman of Minneapolis are understood to be the promoters of the new improvement. The building proposed is to be built of cement blocks, and is to have a frontage of 75 feet on the Main avenue, is to be 140 in depth two stories in heighth with a basement. The lower floor will be utilized for store purposes, while the second floor will be fitted up as offices and and as an up-to-date opera house with a seating capacity of several hundred.

STATE TRUST FUNDS.

Amount to Nearly Sixteen Millions, by Auditor's Report.

According to the biennial report of State Auditor Iverson, the permanent school fund amounts to $15,987,477.66. There has been derived from sale of lands $11,294,323.76; sale of pine timber, $3,542,626.75; royalty on iron ore, $415,747.10, and mineral leases and contracts, $181,762.27. The accumulations in the other funds are: Permanent university fund, $1,367,638.97; internal improvement land fund, $2,868,088-25, and state intitutions, $514,465.54.

During 1903 and 1904, $2,004,528.18 was added to the five trust funds. The permanent school fund received $1,662,088,60; the permanent university fund, $33,603.42; international improvement land fund, $51,891.88; state institutions fund, $215,560,46, and the swamp land fund, $41,383,82.

Mr. Iverson warns the next legislature that rigid economy will be necessary. For the year ending July. $744,000 more was paid out than was received. The tax laws, he says, need a few amendments, though as a whole, the present code is about as good os can be obtained.

Mr. Iverson reports that the state debt has been reduced $995,000. He thinks the entire debt will be wiped out in six years.

HANSEN OR MOREAU, WHICH

Hearing Before Judge Grindeland in Treasurership Contest Concluded Yesterday.

The hearing in the celebrated election contest between Karl M. Hansen and Ovide Moreau for the office of county treasurer was concluded yesterday afternoon, and Judge Grindeland and Reporter Braggans left for their homes at Warren on the evening train.

According to the recount Hansen is in the lead by nine votes, but the attorneys for Morean claim that the ballots in the first and second wards of Red Lake Falls were tampered with after election, and that the crosses after Finke's name were placed after the count had been made by the judges of election. No evidence was produced to sustain this charge, however.

In practically every precinct irregularities were found. The chief fault against the election boards was fonnd in the fact that in most precincts voters requiring assistance were not sworn as required by law.

The attorneys were asked to have their briefs in the case mailed to Warren by Saturday morning, and it is stated unofficially that Judge Grindeland's decision will be rendered Monday.

Fight Will Be Bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. RESULT OF STATE ELECTION

Vote Received by the Candidates for State Office—Johnson's Lead is 7,362.

At the last general election the people empowered the legislature to abolish the grand jury if that body so desired.

The work of checking up the vote of the counties was completed by the state canvassing board Friday, and the totals show that the constitutional amendment for the abolishment of the grand jury in the state passed by a vote of 164,555 yeas to 52,152 nays. It is now up to the legislature to act and the next three months will tell the tale.

The total vote cast was 322,692, Treasurer Block receiving the largest vote of any candidate and Judge Jaggard ranks first in the judiciary race. The amendments relating to the gross earnings, loaning of the permanent school fund, and abolishing the grand jury passed.

Governor-elect Johnson led Dunn in the race by 7,862 votes, receiving 147,992. The Socalist Labor party gave Anderson 2,292 votes for governor; Dorsett the Prohibition candidate, received 7,577, and Nash, put up by the Public Ownership party, got 5,810. The following table was given out by the canvassing board Friday afternoon:

How It Happened.

The Minneapolis Journal, in announcing the appointment of John E. King to be state librarian, attached thereto a very flatteriug likeness of Former Representative McGrath—or someone else. It certainly wasn't John King's picture that bore his name with the article.—Duluth News-Tribune.

You'd lose your money, Mary, if you bet on the proposition. It was John King's picture all right, but the fellow belonging to the picture is editor of the St. Paul Railway and Hotel News.

Giving General Satisfaction.

Ada Herald: Governor Johnson does not seem to be meeting with much difficulty in making his appointments. His selections up-to-date have been so meritorious that everyone—Democrats and Republicans like—are loud in their praises. The governor has the advantage of an excellent start in his new administration and it safe to say that Governor Johnson will make one of the best governors whose presence has graced the capitol of the North Star state.

INAUGURATION TO BE SIMPLE

Change in State Administration Will Not Be Marked by Ostentation Ceremony.

The inauguration of Governor-elect John A. Johnson, which will take place in the house chamber of the new state capitol next Wednesday, will be a very simple affair. There will be no reception, no inaugural ball; in fact, only the legal formalities of the ceremony will be observed, and this observance will be in the most quiet and unostentatious manner possible.

Governor Johnson prefers the simple and quiet ceremony to the more elaborate one, and his wishes will be respected.

The inauguration will take place Wednesday of next week, the day following the organization of the legislature, which convenes Tuesday. The house and senate bodies will meet in joint session in the house chamber, and committees will be sent to notify both Governor Van Sant, and Governor-elect Johnson that the legislature awaits them.

Governor Van Sant will first read his message to the legislature, immediately after which Chief Justice Start will administer the oath of office to Governor Johnson. Immediately after taking the oath of office Governor Johnson will read his inaugural message to the legislature, and the state will have passed from a Republican administration to one of the Democratic faith, so far as the chief executive is concerned.

Both Governor Van Sant and Governor-elect Johnson are now busy preparing their messages, and it is expected that each will treat most carefully many matters of state importance. Mr. Johnson has not even intimated what the salient points of his message will be, but gives assurance that his message will be short.

"There will be a number of matters discussed in my message," said Mr. Johnson, "but I will try and use as few words as possible. I do not believe the people like long messages, and I will say all I have to say in the fewest possible words."

The governor-elect's force of assistants, including his private secretary, Frank A. Day, and his new executive clerk, Cleve W. VanDyke, have been enjoying their Christmas rest, and nothing has been accomplished at St. Peter since last Friday. Mr. Johnson has taken advantage of the time and rest, however, to make progress in the work of preparing his message.

The work of caring for correspondence and other matters was taken up again yesterday morning, however, and the week will be a busy one. There are yet a number of appointments to announce, but nothing is expected to develop along these lines before the latter part of the week.

It is understood that all of the remaining plums—that is, positions of public examiner, labor commissioner, and surveyor of logs and lumber for the Hennepin district—will go to Hennepin county, as none of the patronage so far distributed has been given to the county which gave to Mr. Johnson more than 8,000 plurality.

Superintendent's Views.

John W. Olson, state superintendent of public instruction, reappointed by Governor-elect Johnson, has made a statement of his policy, which, he says, will continue to be non-political and devoted to the best interests of the schools. The superintendent believes in unifying the public school system in its courses and scope, from the kindergarten to the university, and in broadening the curricula to give mechanical and agricultural training with mental development. He believes in vacation schools for the cities and in summer terms for the state normal schools. He also advocates a higher standard of compensation for teachers and for county superintendents, and enlarged rural school districts.

GUILMETTE FOUND GUILTY

Jury Returns a Verdict of Murder in the First Degree---Accused is Cool at Trying Moment.

Joseph Guilmette, charged with killing Mathias Mongeon near Mentor on October 17, 1904, was found guilty of murder in the first degree as charged in the indictment, by a jury of twelve good men and true at Crookston last evening. Guilmette received the verdict cooly, exhibiting scarcely a tremor of emotion.

The celebrated case went to the jury at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, and a verdict was returned at 6:30. It is said there was no division of sentiment. Every juror was convinced of the guilt of the accused, and the verdict was substantially agreed upon a few minutes after the jury retired.

The verdict was read by John G. Penney of Crookston, foreman of the jury. It was as follows:

"In the matter of the State of Minnesota vs. Joseph Guilmette, accused of murder in the first degree, we, the jury impaneled to try the guilt or innocence of the accused, find said defendant guilty as charged.

Sentence will be passed upon Guilmette tomorrow or Saturday. The penalty for the crime is hanging. The trial judge, however, can, in event of extenuating circumstances, recommend to the board of pardons that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

It is said that the plea of County Attorney William E. Rowe for the state was a masterly effort—one of the most convincing and logical arguments ever made in northwestern Minnesota.

It is unlikely that a new trial will be granted.

Russians Said to Have Retaken 203 Metre Hill—Report Not Confirmed—Battleship Sevastopol Reported by Togo to Be Useless.

London, Dec. 23.—The Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent reports that eight torpedo boat destroyers have escaped from Port Arthur, where, for the last 24 hours, he says, a severe snowstorm has been raging.

Hill Recaptured.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 23.—Gen. Kuropatkin has telegraphed to the general staff that he has received a report from Chinese sources to the effect that the Russians have recaptured 203-Metre hill at Port Arthur, with the guns mounted by the Japanese.

Sevastopol Now Useless.

Tokio, Dec. 23.—A report received from Vice Admiral Togo at ten o'clock says: "A prisoner, taken by our fleet, who is considered to be reliable, reports that as the result of our attacks since December 13 eight torpedoes struck the neck of the battleship Sevastopol and that at least one took effect on her hull. The Sevastopol is now headed toward the outer part of the entrance to the harbor, with her stern aground and her gun ports amidships almost awash. It will be difficult to restore the seaworthiness of the warship."

The report says that the battleships Peresviet, Poltava, Retvizan and Pobieda, and the cruisers Palada and Bayan have been abandoned, and no boats are seen near them.

London, Dec. 22.—The Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent says that the steamer Lady Mitchell, which sailed from Tsingtao with supplies, ammunition and dynamite, reached Port Arthur during a snowstorm four nights ago.

SIOUX CITY SUFFERS BY FIRE.

Twenty-Five Buildings in Business District Burned—Loss, $2,000,000—One Fireman Killed.

Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 24.—Thousands of Christmas shoppers were placed in peril Friday night by a fire which broke out at 8:00 o'clock, when the holiday trade was at its height, swept through the center of the retail district at the heels of fleeing buyers and sightseers, burned over two solid blocks and caused a property loss of $2,000,000. A fireman was killed in the performance of his duty. Twenty-five buildings, including three banks and many of the leading business houses of the city, were destroyed.

The fire, it is said, started in a Santa Claus bower in the Pelletier department store about eight o'clock, at which time the place was crowded with Christmas shoppers. The announcement of the fire caused a wild rush for the exits and it is regarded as miraculous that many of the men, women and children in the store were not trampled to death in the crowd's frantic efforts to reach the street, but no deaths have been reported.

Pugilist Battling Nelson Swears Out Warrants Against Former Manager and Trainer.

San Francisco, Dec. 24.—Battling Nelson, the pugilist, believing that he has been defrauded of the bulk of the receipts of his recent glove contests, Friday swore out complaints against his manager, "Ted" Murphy, and Eddie Santry, formerly his sparring partner, accusing them of embezzling $7,271. The warrants were issued from the police court, and bail in each case was fixed at $25,000 bonds, or $10,000 cash. Both Murphy and Santry were placed under arrest in Stockton on their arrival from this city eastward bound. They will be brought to this city to answer the charges.

TERRIBLE DISASTER.

Seven Men Are Suffocated by Smoke and Heat in a Clay Mine.

Bolivar, Pa., Dec. 23.—Seven men were suffocated Thursday in the No. 2 soft clay mine of the Reese Hammond Fire Brick company, near here. The cause of the disaster was most peculiar. A small building, about 16 by 20, burned down at the mouth of the mine. The air shaft from the workings to the surface, some distance in the mine, acted as a sort of flue and drew into the drift the heat and smoke from the fire, thus suffocating the men, whose escape was shut off by the fire at the opening.

Must Wait.

Washington, Dec. 24.—Gov. Elect Douglas, of Massachusetts, has been advised that the secretary of war cannot make the detail of Gen. Miles to duty with the Massachusetts militia until the request comes from Mr. Douglas, in his capacity as governor. This was in reply to a letter from the newly-elected governor announcing it to be his desire that the general be detailed.

Pardon Granted.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 21.—The state board of pardons has granted a pardon to Col. Ames, brother of former Mayor Ames, of Minneapolis, and who was Mayor Ames' chief of police. He was convicted of graft in connection with the Ames administration.

May Obolish Grand Juries.

Later returns received by the secretary of state indicate that the so-called grand jury amendment to the state constitution passed at the last election, and legislators expect a spirited controversy at the next session over a bill abolishing the grand jury system and substituting a plan of indictment on presentation by the county attorney.

The proposal to amend the constitution in this respect was introduced in the senate by George R. Laybourn of Duluth and was passed after a hard contest. The amendment changes the constitutional provision that no one shall be charged with a crime "except on indictment by the grand jury," to read that no one shall be charged with a crime "except by due process of law." This allows the legislature to prescribe any plan of indictment it desires. The legislature may abolish the grand jury system entirely, or it may provide that in ordinary cases indictments shall be made on information by the county attorney and authorize the judge of the district court to call a jury to consider extraordinary.

Good Records.

The legislature committee of the county good roads associations of the state were in session at the Minneapolis Commercial club rooms. The various county associations of the state were represented in the session and a discussion was made of the bills to present to the next legislature seeking the establishment of better roads throughout the state, and placing the construction of roads in the hands of capable and responsible men. George W. Cooley, president of the State Good Roads association, acted as chairman, and G. A. Will, president of the Hennepin county association, acted as secretary.

Proceedings of the Regular Meeting, December 19, 1904.

Adjourned regular meeting of the city council was held at the city hall, December 19, 1904, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Meeting called to order by Fred Borchers, president.

Roll called: aldermen all present.

Thomas Germo appeared for M. O. Sortedahl and objected to the resolution upon the petition of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway company, vacating a part of Sixth street in Champagne, Dow & Gerrietts' addition.

The following resolution was offered by Hatten which was seconded by Hennemuth:

A RESOLUTION VACATING CERTAIN STREETS, ALLEYS AND PUBLIC GROUNDS IN THE CITY OF RED LAKE FALLS.

Be it Resolved, by the City Council of the City of Red Lake Falls:

1. That the streets, alleys and public places hereinafter described are hereby vacated, and the use thereof as highways discontinued forever.

Said streets, alleys, and public grounds hereby vacated are the following:

All that part of Second street extending from the easterly line of said alley in said block two (2) to Clearwater river in said city.

All that part of Third street extending easterly from a line drawn parallel with and twenty-five feet easterly from the easterly line of the alley in block eight (8) in said Champagne and Dow's Addition, to said Clearwater river in said city.

All that part of the alley in block nine (9) of of said Champagne and Dow's Addition lying easterly of the easterly line of Lot nineteen (19) in said Block nine (9).

All of the alley running east and west in the east half of Block eight (8) of said Champagne and Dow's Addition.

All that part of St. John avenue extending from the southerly line of First street to the northerly line of Fourth street in said city.

All that part of Fourth street extending easterly from the line of St. John avenue to said Clearwater river.

All that part of the alley between Block seventeen (17) of said Champagne and Dow's Addition and Block four (4) of Champagne, Dow and Gieriet's Addition extending from the northerly line of Lot one (1) in said Block four (4) southerly to the northerly line of Fifth street in said city.

All that part of Fifth street extending from the westerly line of Block three (3) in said Champagne, Dow and Gieriet's Addition easterly to the westerly line of Dow avenue.

All that part of Dow avenue in said city extending from the southerly line of Fifth street to the northerly line of Sixth street in said city.

All that part of Sixth street extending from the easterly line of Dow Avenue to the westerly line of the alley in Block seven (7) in Champagne, Dow and Gieriet's Addition.

All of the alley in Block seven [illegible] of said Champagne, Dow and Gieriet's Addition.

All that part of Gieriet avenue extending from the southerly line of Seventh street to the northerly line of Hamilton street.

All that part of Sibley avenue in Bottineau's Addition extending from the southerly line of Hamilton street to the northerly line of Harrison street.

The said streets, alleys and public grounds hereby vacated are shown in green color on the plat hereunto annexed and hereby made a part of this resolution.

2. The vacation of the streets alleys and public grounds herein above described shall take effect only upon the payment by The Saint Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company, its successors and assigns, to the city treasurer of the City of Red Lake Falls of a sum equal to the value of said property, which said value is fixed and determined at One hundred eighty two and 33-100 dollars [$182.33].

3. The City of Red Lake Falls hereby reserves to itself the right to lay down in and under any of the streets, alleys and public grounds hereby vacated, sewers, and water mains or pipes, and so to construct its sewers, gutters and street drains as to drain the waters and surface water of said city to and run them upon the said streets and alleys so vacated, without incurring any liability to the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company its successors and assigns for damages caused thereby or resulting therefrom; and all waters so turned upon said vacated streets and allies shall be taken care of and drained away by said Railway Company, its successors and assigns, at its own cost and expense. And said The St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company its successors and assigns, shall be solely and primarily liable for all damages caused by or from the vacations of said streets and alleys, or from any failure to conduct or drain away or take care of any such waters so drained or turned upon said vacated portions as afore said and the vacation of streets and alleys herein provided for shall not take effect until said Railway Company shall have filed with the City Clerk of said City its consent in writing, duly witnessed, and acknowledged to the provisions of this resolution, and its Bond, or undertaking that it will save said City harmless from all damages arising from the vacation of said streets and alleys or failure to take care of said waters.

Upon roll call the following aldermen voted aye: Hennemuth, Hatten, Crompe, Brady and Borchers.

Nays, none.

The resolution was declared duly adopted.

FRED BORCHERS, President.

Blame

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.

Of course that's easy.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.

We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Nervine a trial. Ten months treatment with Nervine and Liver Pills restored our boy to perfect health."—MR. JOHN S. BLAZE AT SIOUX CITY

PROPERTY VALUED AT NEARLY TWO MILLION DOLLARS IS DESTROYED.

Practically Two Entire Blocks in the Center of the Best Business District Wiped Out, Including Several of the Finest Buildings in the City—One Man Jumps From a Fifth Story Window and Is Instantly Killed.

Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 24.—A fire which resulted in the death of one person, a monetary loss roughly estimated at $2,000,000 and the destruction of nearly two entire blocks, started in the basement of the Pelletier department store, located at Fourth and Jackson streets, at 8 o'clock Friday night. The district burned over lies in the center of the business portion of the city and among the buildings were several of the most substantial structures in the city. In these buildings were located many stores, several wholesale establishments and three national banks. Its origin is in doubt.

A large number of Christmas shoppers crowded the Pelletier and other stores and it was with difficulty that all managed to escape from the burning building. The flames enveloped much of the building before the fire department arrived and was quite beyond control. For three hours and a half, until they had gotten beyond range of the large buildings, the flames carried everything in their path. Both telegraph companies were put out of business by reason of their wires all being burned out and the office of the Western Union was destroyed. Although a great number of telephone circuits were within the district, long distance circuits were later established with outside points.

The fire was gotten under control at 11:30 with the assistance of several outside departments.

Three Banks Destroyed.

The burned buildings include three banks, the Western Union telegraph office, the Leader hotel, at Third and Pierce streets, the West hotel, a large new structure, at Third and Nebraska streets; Higman & Skinner, wholesale boots and shoes, and a large number of small establishments.

In the course of their flight the flames were communicated to a score of other business places.

When the flames had reached a point near the Tribune building, facing Pierce street, the firemen concentrated their efforts and managed to prevent the destruction of that structure, although it was considerably damaged.

The man killed was a tenant in the Massachusetts building who jumped from a fifth story.

A partial list of the losses is as follows:

Helletier Dry Goods company, $240,000; Orkin Bros., furnishings, $15,000; J. K. Brugh, & Co., queensware, $60,000; R. R. Purslow, West hotel and oth[illegible] buildings, $45,000; Commercial [illegible]ck, $40,000; Schulein estate, $60,000; Northwestern National bank, $5,000; Begley & Co., clothing, $15,000; Paul Leader, hotel, $20,000; George Conway, wholesale tobaccoist, $55,000; State bank building company, Toy building, $175,000; Martin Bros., department store, $25,000; Davidson Bros., department store, $10,000; Magner & Wells, saloon, $13,000.

TRAINS IN COLLISION

SEVEN MEN KILLED IN WRECK ON SOUTHERN RAILWAY IN ILLINOIS.

Mauds Station, Ill., Dec. 26.—In a head-on collision between two passenger trains on the Southern railway near here Sunday one passenger and six employes were killed and seventeen passengers and eight employes were injured. Most of the injuries are not serious.

The passenger, which left St. Louis at 9 o'clock Saturday night, collided head-on with the passenger train leaving Louisville at the same hour. According to Southern railway officials the disaster was caused by the failure of the operator at Browns, Ill., to deliver to the eastbound train an order naming a meeting point for the two trains. The St. Louis-Louisville and the St. Louis-Knoxville sleepers were drawn by both trains, but none of the passengers in these four cars were injured. Both engines were badly damaged and four coaches destroyed.

Following is the list of the dead:

Charles Schmidt, Engineer Bowen, Fireman Charles Hutt, Mail Clerk H. D. Hogan, Section Foreman Underwood, Employe Henry Hoskin and Employe Cyrus Hutchinson.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

Party of Slavs Burned to Death in Their Shanty.

Old Town, Md., Dec. 27.—Mack Nimarick, his wife and child, Anna, and Massun Cole, Nimarick's sister-in-law, all Slavs, were burned to death Monday in a shanty. An explosion of coal oil is supposed to have caused the accident. Foul play is suspected by the police, as Nimarick is said have had a considerable sum of money on his person Sunday.

GUESTS ROUTED OUT.

St. James Hotel at Duluth Destroyed by Fire.

Duluth, Dec. 27.—Sixty guests at the St. James hotel were routed from the building in their night clothing early in the morning. Two theatrical companies were among the guests and lost most of their belongings. It was the eighth time the building has burned since 1871.

DR. CHADWICK INDICTED.

True Bill Against Husband of Cleveland Woman.

Cleveland, Dec. 23.—Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick and his wife, Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, were jointly indicted by the county grand jury Thursday afternoon on the charge of having forged and uttered a $5,000,000 note signed Andrew Carnegie.

Dr. Chadwick is now on his way to New York from Paris and is expected to land next Wednesday. As soon as the indictment was returned, Sheriff Barry of this county made arrangements to secure Dr. Chadwick's extradition. He will meet the steamer on its arrival.

This is the third time that Mrs. Chadwick has been indicted by the county grand jury, but it is the first instance of her husband's name appearing in legal proceedings in the case. The indictments already returned against Mrs. Chadwick are similar to the one voted Thursday except that they cover notes of $250,000 and $500,000 signed Andrew Carnegie.

COLLISION FATAL TO ONE MAN.

Nine Other Persons Injured in Accident at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Dec. 26.—One man was killed outright and nine others were injured in a crash between an Eighth and Central street car and a Northern Pacific switch engine at Eighteenth avenue northeast and Central avenue. The car was torn and wrecked so that extensive repairs will be necessary and the engine was more or less battered.

W. M. Gager was killed and the following named were injured:

Warren Brueshaber, Emerson W. Whellock, James Cyrier, G. T. Gustafson, E. R. Ordway, C. L. Russell, Matt Backes, John Olson and John J. Elliott.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE

STOOD SIX FOR ACQUITTAL AND SIX FOR CONVICTION IN PATTERSON CASE.

New York, Dec. 23.—After being out twenty-four hours the jury in the case of Nan Patterson, on trial for the murder of Caesar Young, reported a disagreement and was discharged and the defendant was remanded to the Tombs. Miss Patterson collapsed on hearing the news and fell fainting into her father's arms. The jury stood six for acquittal and six for conviction. The future course of the prosecution is unknown.

The jury took but one ballot, according to the foreman, and devoted the remainder of the time to discussion. From first to last the division was even. For twenty-four hours they discussed the evidence and one juror is quoted as saying that one of those who stood for acquittal tried on the coat which Young wore at the time of his death and with a revolver attempted to demonstrate that suicide was possible.

Interest now centers in District Attorney Jerome's future action. He has not said what he will do, but it was intimated that the way the jury stood may influence him as to a new trial.

FATAL ROW AT DEATHBED.

Dying Mother Sees Sons Engaged in Desperate Fight.

Omaha, Dec. 26.—At the bedside of their mother, who was believed to be dying, Robert and Cornelius Buckley became involved in a quarrel which resulted in the probably mortal stabbing of one of them.

The brothers had fallen to the floor beside the bed and were engaged in a desperate struggle when Robert drew a knife from his pocket and plunged the blade into the abdomen of Cornelius.

The mother, whose condition was so critical that her physician had advised that her children be called, had a severe nervous shock and is likely to die. The wounded man is in a critican condition at St. Joseph's hospital. His brother is in jail.

ARRIVE AT PORTLAND.

Mitchell and Hermann Prepared to Deny Charges.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 24.—Senator John Mitchell and Congressman Hermann arrived in this city during the evening from Washington to deny by their presence and by their testimony, if permitted to do so, the charges made in certain quarters connecting them with the land frauds in this state which are being investigated by agents of the government at the behest of President Roosevelt. Neither Mitchell nor Hermann would make a statement except to deny any wrongdoing. Neither of the men seems to know the exact nature of the charges against them.

TWO BROTHERS SHOT DOWN.

Both of Them Killed and a Companion Mortally Wounded.

Midkiff, W. Va., Dec. 26.—Lucian and Ira Lucas, brothers, were shot and killed and Octavo Jenkins was mortally wounded while returning from church.

With the men at the time of the tragedy was Miss Martha Williams. The party was passing through a dense woodland when the assassins fired. Ira Lucas had clutched in his hand a revolver with two chambers empty and the supposition is that he returned the fire of the assassins.

RESULT OF A QUARREL.

Four Men Killed and Two Others Badly Hurt.

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 27.—As a result over a quarrel over a man talking with another man's sweetheart without asking his permission four men are dead, following a general shooting affray, and two are seriously injured, at Grangers, Logan county. The victims are: John and Marvin Hart, Martin Johnson and Luther Bascom.

William Riley and Henry Tuberville are injured, the latter probably fatally.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS PASS SINGAPORE STEAMING IN WESTERLY DIRECTION.

Second Squadron of Powerful Cruisers Under Admiral Kamimura Moving Southward in the China Sea—Japanese Drive the Russians From Two Important Positions on Pigeon Bay at Port Arthur.

Singapore, Straits Settlement, Dec. 23.—Two Japanese cruisers called here during the morning and left at noon. They reported that two Japanese battleships, two first class cruisers, two second class cruisers and twelve torpedo boat destroyers were nearby, steaming west.

Shanghai, Dec. 23.—A squadron of powerful cruisers under Admiral Kamimura has gone south to the China sea to meet the Russian second Pacific squadron.

RUSSIANS SURPRISED

PORT ARTHUR BESIEGERS DRIVE THE SLAVS OUT OF THEIR ADVANCED POSITIONS.

Tokio, Dec. 26.—The Port Arthur besiegers occupied Taliuchiatun on Saturday. It is officially announced that the whole of the Russian advanced positions in front of the Japanese right have fallen.

The following report was received from the besiegers at Port Arthur Sunday morning:

"A body of our right wing surprised the enemy at Housanytantun (Housanytanyentao?) and Siafantun, the latter about six and a half miles northeast of Port Arthur, at 10 o'clock Saturday night and occupied the villages, subsequently dislodging the enemy. Occupied the whole of Taliuchiatun, about five miles northwest of Port Arthur, at 2:55 o'clock this morning.

"Our repeated attacks during the past few days were uniformly successful and now the whole of the enemy's advanced positions fronting our right wing are in our hands."

TAKEN BY JAPANESE

RUSSIANS DRIVEN FROM TWO IMPORTANT POSITIONS ON PIGEON BAY.

Tokio, Dec. 22.—A dispatch received by telegraph from the Japanese army before Port Arthur says:

"The right co[illegible] of the army at 5 a. m., taking adv[illegible] of the enemy's excitement, [illegible] the eminence north [illegible]anyentao, on Pigeon bay, [illegible] the position and at 7 o'clo[illegible] dislodged the enemy from a height on the peninsula west of Housanyentao which we occupied, capturing one small gun.

"After the Japanese occupation of the positions the enemy made a counter attack, but was immediately repulsed. At present our occupation of the positions is practically secure."

NORTH SEA COMMISSION MEETS.

Austrian Admiral Selected as the Fifth Member.

Paris, Dec. 22.—The international commission appointed to inquire into the North sea incident met at the foreign office at 10 a. m. Rear Admiral Davis, U. S. N., was present.

The commission unanimously elected Admiral Baron von Spaun of the Austro-Hungarian navy to be the fifth member, completed the preliminary organization and adjourned until the 9th of January.

KILLED FROM AMBUSH

AMERICAN OFFICER AND THIRTY-SEVEN FILIPINO SCOUTS SLAIN IN SAMAR.

Manila, Dec. 24.—The Pulajanes have ambushed and killed at Dolores, on the island of Samar, a lieutenant and thirty-seven enlisted men of the Thirty-eighth company of native scouts.

Two thousand Pulajanes, it is reported, threaten the town of Dolores and the situation is said to be critical.

Lieutenant Abbot, in command of the scouts, has requested that aid be sent him.

REFORMS FOR RUSSIA.

Imperial Ukase Makes Decidedly Liberal Promises.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 27.—An imperial ukase issued Monday night makes decidedly liberal promises under a number of heads. It promises a full and equitable enforcement of existing laws, assures the semstvos of the fullest possible measure of self-government and the enforcement of the laws now existing in their behalf; promulgates a scheme of workmen's insurance, extends the liberty of the press and promises a full legal trial of all persons accused.

Magazine Blows Up.

Findlay, O., Dec. 27.—The magazine of the Bradford Glycerin company north of Findlay, which contained about 1,000 quarts of nitroglycerin, blew up Monday, the explosion shaking buildings in this city and doing considerable damage at Findlay.

Red Lake Courier.

Printed Every Thursday Evening at Red Lake Falls, Minnesota.

By JOHN E. KING.

$1.00 Per Year, in Advance.

THE time to make your good resolution has arrived.

MARY MCFADDEN wants to know if love is blind, how it comes that the pretty girl always gets the decision.

FRANK EDDY says a preacher and a marriage license constitutes the best cure for love-sickness.

THE $1,000 bribes are already flying around the legislative halls at St. Paul. Times ought to be good this winter.

WINDOM has undergone another religious revival and the wicked Huntington still refuses to get on the mourner's bench.

THE Slayton Gazette philosopher says the financiers make money by going into debt, but many other people bust up by doing so.

THE Windom Reporter think that Andy Carnegie will need some one to identify him the next time he wants to get a large check cash.

THE Ada Herald facetiously remarks that the raise in twine prices does not mean a raise in the wages of the men who make the Minnesota product.

THE story that a St. Paul legislator was offered $1,000 for his vote ought not create such a hub-bub after all. It is possible that such a thing has happened before.

WEATHERHEAD of the Ada Herald is constitutionally and religiously opposed to betting, but he is inclined to feel good over the fact that the Johnson men are collecting the bets.

IT must be considerable of a jolt to the Hallock News and the Crookston Times to learn that Governor Johnson will favor the construction of ditches in the northern part of the state.

MANY handsome holiday issues of Minnesota newspapers come to hand this week. Among them are the Princeton Union, Long Prairie Argus, Breckenridge Telegram and Rock Rapids Review.

AN eastern crank predicts the end of the world for next Wednesday. The facts that this date is co-incident with the induct of a Democratic administration in Minnesota is probably not suggestive.

THE Pioneer Press says there is not the slightest doubt of Senator Clapp's re-election. A lot of people have lost confidence in the P. P.'s political prognostications since that paper argued that Johnson would be defeated by 50,000.

SIOUX CITY, IOWA, had a most disastrous fire last Friday night in the business district. The total loss is not far from $2,500,000, and more than twenty-five of the leading business concerns of the city were burned. It is not likely that the Sioux City people had a merry Christmas.

GOVERNOR-ELECT JOHNSON is quoted as saying that there will be no further announcement of appointments until the latter part of this week. Qnite a number of good berths are still to be filled, and it is likely that Minneapolis will come in for a good share of the good things soon to be passed.

SECRETARY MEEKER, of the game and fish commission, has been asked to resign because of an alleged shortage of $75. It's a bad idea to tempt a country editor with such large sums, anyway. We'll bet a horse he didn't intend to misappropriate a cent. There isn't anything dishonest in the looks of him.

CHARLES A. PROUTY, member of the interstate commerce commission, recently made this statement in an interview:

> "There will be either government ownership or government regulation of the railroads. Which it will be depends mainly upon the managers of the railroads. If they do not want government ownership they will cease their opposition to the president's plan for preventing the enforcement of rates which are unreasonable."

THE McIntosh Tribune has been consolidated with the Times at that place, and the paper is now owned edited by C. T. Lanman and John Petterson. Of late there has been a tendency to consolidate the newspapers in the towns the size of McIntosh, and this means better papers and better support. There are few towns of 1,500 or less that are able to support more than one good paper.

CHAS. S. MITCHELL, formerly of the Alexandria Post-News, and one of the best newspaper men in the state, has purchased the Fairmont News and takes charge with the dawn of the new year. Charlie has selected a mighty good town as a field for operations, and there is every reason for the hope that he will do well. Frank Day and Charlie Mitchell will made a strong newspaper combination for Fairmont, and it is safe to assume that the world will not be permitted to forget the town is on the map.

PEOPLE who complain of a growing disrespect for the courts might learn why the courts are not respected as of yore by keeping in touch with court decisions, says the Commoner. In a Hartford, Conn., court two sentences were imposed on the same day, and they deserve attention. An ex-judge, who embezzled trust funds to the amount of $5,572 was sentenced to one year in jail. A man who had stolen a horse was sentenced to two years and six months in the state prison. This sort of thing is so common that there is no small wonder why men are not as respectful as they were towards the courts of the land.

ANOTHER canal problem has arisen to vex us. It is, briefly, whether we shall take another ten years or so and spend an additional $100,000,000 in order to have a sea-level waterway, or go ahead with a lock canal. A sea-level canal was DeLesseps's original idea, and was only abandoned because the course of the Chagres river was believed to make such a canal impossible. Now our engineers says they have discovered a way by which the river may be diverted, and the "impossible" accomplished. So far as the press has expressed itself on this subject, it is largely in favor of proceeding with the work on a lock canal, as planned, leaving the construction of a sea-level canal to the future.

CABINET-MAKING is again a popular form of amusement, and it is a very unenterprising Washington correspondent who can not tell his paper offhand how President Roosevelt's "official family" will look after March 4. There is substantial agreement among these correspondents that Secretaries Hay, Taft, Morton, Hitchcock, Wilson, and Metcalf, and Attorney-General Moody will remain in the cabinet. Semi-official announcements confirm the correspondents thus far. As to the future heads of the treasury and post-office departments, there is nothing better than guess-work to depend upon. Mr. Shaw's departure would not be surprising to say the least. He aspires to succeed his present chief, and a better reason why he is out of place in the cabinet is that he is not in sympathy with the president's views on tariff and civil-service reform.

GOVERNOR VAN SANT has shied his castor into the senatorial arena and announces that he is prepared to fight to the last ditch. The Governor is the logical candidate of the opposition to Clapp, and it would not be at all surprising if he captured the toga. If the issue was before the people there would not be the slightest question of the Governor's overwhelming victory. The common people of the state believe in Van Sant. They beileve he is sincere in his fight against the railroads and corporate control of the highways of commerce. The Van Sant managers figure that if a nomination is prevented at the Republican caucus their man is sure to win, as undoubtedly a large proportion of the Democratic vote in both houses will go to him. This will give Van Sant a decided advantage, since he will have the solid vote of Hennepin and the Third district, and scattering votes from every district. The re-election of Senator Clapp is not a dead-to-rights proposition.

TARIFF ON WHEAT.

Minneapolis millers are happy over a ruling by Secretary of the Treasury Shaw by which they will be enabled to better "hold their own with the world," says the St. Cloud Times. Other millers, of course, will have the same privilege. The decision in brief makes it possible for Minneapolis millers to bring in Canadian wheat, pay 25c a bushel duty, and receive 99 per cent in refund for flour exported. The question of mixing Canadian and American wheats is more complicated, lying, possibly, outside the discretionary power of the head of of the treasury department, and it has been referred to the attorney general.

By this ruling the millers will be enabled to sell their product in competition with foreign manufacturers. They will also be able to sell cheaper abroad than at home—one of the beauties of our tariff system.

Speaking of the effect upon Minneapolis mills, in the last few years, of the 25 cents per bushel tariff, the Minneapolis Journal says:

> "As late as 1900 Minneapolis, on a production of 15,083,725 barrels of flour, exported 4,602,485 barrels. In the two following years the ratio of export sales to production moved inversely, the output in 1901 and 1902 reaching 15,021,880 and 16,260,105 barrels respectively, exports meanwhile showing 3,870,905 and 3,410,405 barrels. In 1903 Minneapolis fall back, producing 15,582,785 and exports again declined to 3,081,115. The past year has seen the export figures shrink by 50 per cent. and recently there has been no foreign business at all.
> "The treasury department decision puts the millers within reach of raw material that has been denied them in the past, and it is now predicted that a new era of prosperity for the Minneapolis mills is at hand, that new mills will be built here, that the export trade will be recovered, and that the former annual high production of 16,260,105 barrels will be passed in the coming year."

A Good Thing.

The lively competition among railroads to provide the very finest equipment and excellent service enables the traveler of today to travel in a styles only dreamed of a few years ago. Between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago the finest trains in the world will be found and the king bee is the electric lighted North-Western Limited. Nothing better can be found anywhere in railway equipment.

STOP THAT COUGH!

Colds Lead to Catarrh—Catarrh Leads to Consumption.

A Beautiful Girl's Experience

MISS ALMA LILLIA.

Miss Alma Lillia, 506 18th St., Rock Island, Ill., says:

"I am a firm friend to Peruna, for it cured me in two days of a cough which had been annoying me for three weeks, and which had developed a serious catarrhal affection of the throat and lungs.

"I had a number of colds during the year, and each left me with a little more catarrh; then this bad cough was the worst. I took cough medicines until I sickened at the sight of them. But Peruna cured me up in such quick time that I am its firm friend. Four weeks' constant use of it got the catarrh entirely out of my system.

"It deserves all the praise bestowed upon it."—Alma Lillia.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way:

A person catches a cold. The cold is not properly cured, and they quickly catch another one. This cold is dilly-dallied with by no treatment, or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then they catch another cold and begin to cough. Then they take cough syrups, but they do no good.

By and by they get tired of taking medicine and give up in despair.

Their cold continues and their cough grows worse. Then they apply to a doctor, only to discover that they are in the first stages of consumption.

Miss Lillia, of Illinois, started out exactly in this way. Fortunately, she took a course of Peruna before it was too late. She had caught several colds, then a cough developed. She took all sorts of cough medicines, until, as she puts it, "I sickened at the sight of them." In four weeks Peruna had cured her of her catarrh and her system was entirely rid of it.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour, passes but some one has a similar experience with Peruna.

The first step toward consumption is catching cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat. The fifth step, the catarrh spreads to the bronchial tubes and lungs. It then becomes consumption in its first stage.

At any time during the progress of the catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. It cures entirely. Even after consumption has become thoroughly developed, many cases have found in Peruna a permanent cure. After they have been given up by physicians to die of consumption Peruna has cured them.

We have hundreds of testimonials that declare these facts in the most enthusiastic language.

U. S. Senator John M. Thurston, from Nebraska, writes the following letter from Washington, D. C., under date of April 6, 1901:

"I have used Peruna at various times during the past year or two with most satisfactory results.

"It entirely relieved me from an irritating cough, the result of excessive effort in the Presidential campaign, and I am a firm believer in its efficacy in any such trouble."—Jno. M. Thurston.

To take quieting medicines to stop a cough is absurd and harmful. The only way to stop a cough permanently and without doing more injury than good is to cure the catarrh, which is exactly what Peruna does. It cures the catarrh of the bronchial tubes and the cough ceases.

At the slightest appearance of a cough a bottle of Peruna should be taken according to directions. One bottle in the beginning will do more than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Free State Libraries.

It may not be known to many residents of Minnesota that our state has a free circulating library which now contains nearly 12,000 volumes. This library is under the control of the state library commission, which was established by the legislature in 1899, and is loaned in traveling libraries of fifty or twenty-five books each. These libraries are especially designed for the use of farming communities and small villages which cannot support a local public library, and in many cases have proved an incentive to the establishment of libraries in such villages. They are also of great service to small public libraries which cannot have frequent accessions of new books. A library will be loaned to any village, town or community upon application of at least ten resident tax payers, who agree to be retponsible for the proper care of the library.

A fee of one dollar for fifty books and fifty cents for twenty-five books is charged for each library to cover cost of transportation both ways. The books may be retained six months, but will be exchanged oftener if desired.

There are still a few libraries to be located this winter. For application blanks and further information apply to Miss Clara F. Baldwin, Librarian, Minnesota State Library Commission, 515 Masonic Temple, Minneapolis.

Gives Timely Warning.

Albert Lea Tribune: The esteemed St. Paul Review is respectively informed that in the event of Ray W. Jones securing the Republican nomination for governor in 1906 the Albert Lea Tribune will not be found supporting him, providing the paper is published under the same management as at present. When the Republican party gets so hard up for candidates that it must select men with the unsavory record of Jones it had better go out of the candidate business entirely and let others do the nominating. The time is past when any ward heeler can resort to any kind of methods and secure the nomination and his henchmen succeed in whipping into line the voters who want decent candidates.

Inproved Modes of Travel.

Did you ever think how much the improved modes of travel are doing for the health and happiness of the average man and woman? Every new step like the New York subway means the freeing of millions from fatigue and illness. It enables thousands to live in suburbs instead of rooms or dark, unhealthful flats and brings health and happiness to each of them, just as golden grain belt beer means increased vitality, health and happiness to those who, realizing its value, use it regularly. Purity, strength and delicacy of flavor are its most noticeable characteristics. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Alex. Thompson, Crookston.

They were seated so close together on the parlor sofa that there was no room for argument when she suddenly let loose a soulful sigh. "What's the matter darling?" he asks. "Oh," she replied, "I just happened to think that this would be our last evening together until tomorrow evening."

An Arkansas editor, who has been married two weeks gives vent to his experience on the matrimonial sea in the following poetic language: "We'd rather live on Cat Island with a parrot for a mate and a sand blister on each of our toes than to dwell in paradise and wear silk slippers with a woman who pouts."

A party of well-known residents of this vicinity left Monday evening for eastern Canada, taking advantage of the holiday excursion rates to visit friends at their old homes for a few weeks. Among those going were Moses Allard, Samuel Miller, Arthur Fontaine, Damais Lachance, Eus Normandeau and Mrs. LaPierre.

Frank A. Mizen, agent of the Northern Pacific, was at Crookston Tuesday to give testimony at the Guilmette trial. The defense claim that on the evening of the murder Guilmette purchased a ticket from Red Lake Falls to Minneapolis, but Mr. Mizen testified that on the fatal day not a single ticket to Minneapolis was sold.

Frank E. Hunt expects to leave Monday evening for Talapoose, Georgia, and will spend the winter months among the sunny Southern breezes in the hope of getting rid of his old enemy, the rheumatism. Mr. Hunt will be accompanied from Minneapolis by James I. Wyer, and we all hope they will find much profit and pleasure in the trip.

Dr. J. C. Wilkinson's family is undergoing a series of afflictions. For the past ten days Mrs. Wilkinson has been confined to her bed with a serious attack of la grippe, and soon after their little daughter was taken ill. And, now, as if this was not enough, the Doctor himself is laid up for repairs. We hope all of them will speedily recover.

The Christmas exercises at the Presbyterian church Sunday night were attended by a large crowd of people, young and old, and it was a most delightful occasion for the younger ones especially. The program consisted of songs and recitations by various Sunday school classes, and appropriate music by the choir. A collection amounting to about $10 was taken for foreign missions.

Attorney General W. J. Donahower has given an opinion that where a county official elect dies before accepting the office to which he was elected a vacancy has occurred and is to be filled by the county commissioners. Should the commissioners not act, the attorney general rules, the present incumbent will continue to act on the theory that his successor has not been elected and qualified.

Next Tuesday is the date scheduled for a number of changes at the court house. Auditor Ford, Sheriff and Judge Tarrant will start in on their second terms. Frank Jeffers will move from the office of superintendent to that of register of deeds, while H. T. McAnulty will assume the reins of school government. At this date it is not known whether Ovide Moreau or Karl Hanson will be installed in treasurer's office.

Representative Steenerson announces that no effort will be made to have the land office at Crookston removed to Thief River Falls. An agitation for the removal was started when the temporary office for the sale of Red Lake lands was established at Thief River Falls, but that died down after the sale. Both Mr. Steenerson and the commissioner of the general land office say that for the general needs of the district the land office is better located at Crookston.

Work on the Great Northern connection is progressing despite the cold weather and it is expected that the track will be completed within the next ten days. As soon as the trains commence to run via Tilden there will be a noticeable change in time. It is expected that the train from the cities will go through here about 9 in the morning, and returning will leave here about 6 in the evening. There is every likelihood of a sleeper being run through from St. Paul to Thief River Falls.

An exchange says that "some towns are favorably located to draw trade, but locations alone do not not make towns. Live, up-to-date business men can always add much to a town's prestige. A town may be favorably located for drawing trade, yet if its merchants are satisfied to do business on the cross roads store methods, they will find the more enterprising merchants of neighboring towns drawing the trade that they could have held by displaying the same amount of enterprise shown by their competitors."

L. E. Metzgar, manager of the Red Lake Falls Milling company, left Saturday evening for his old home at Hastings to visit during the holidays with the old home folks and his best girl. Some of the Red Lake Falls young ladies are alarmed for fear he intends to bring her back with him. They argue that this isn't fair. Metzgar has been advising our people to be loyal to home industry and use Red Lake Falls flour, and it is now up to him to return the compliment by confining his attention to the home supply of young ladies.

The progress of the Guilmette murder trial has been watched with great interest by the people of Red Lake Falls and vicinity from the fact that the accused was at one time a resident of Lake Pleasant township and has a number of relatives here. Mr. Guilmette was raised by his uncle, Omer Delorme, one of the well-to-do and highly respected farmers of this vicinity. Though the circumstantial evidence produced seems very strong against him, Mr. Guilmette's friends refuse to believe that he would commit murder.

A number of fine displays graced the windows of the Red Lake Falls business houses during the Christmas season. Berthon & Armstrong had a mimic street railway constructed, and the cars were supposed to swing around the loop, but there was something wrong with the mechanical arrangement. When sufficient electricity to propel the cars was applied they jumped the track. Notwithstanding this disappointment the track and cars presented a pretty picture, admired by every passer-by. LaBissoniere's windows, as well as those of Garceau & Zaiser, were tastefully decorated with seasonable goods and attracted much attention.

O. T. Tandberg's term as county treasurer expires next Tuesday, and on that day he will have completed six years' service as custodian of the county exchequer. Mr. Tandberg hopes to leave next week for Thief River Falls, where he will be cashier of the First National Bank, but the present contest case for the office he holds may prevent an immediate relinquishment. If the contest is not decided before Wednesday Ovide Moreau would be entitled under the law to take possession, but it is unlikely that gentleman would care to go to the expense and trouble of securing a bond unless he was given assurance that Judge Grindeland's verdict would be favorable.

The New Twin-Screw Steamship "Minnesota."

The "Minnesota," which sails from Seattle on Saturday, January 21, her initial trip in the trans-Pacific trade with the Orient, typifies the highest achievments in American shipbuilding. She is the heaviest cargo-carrying vessel in the world, and her passenger accomodations are unequalled on the Pacific and take first rank with the great Atlantic liners. Broad decks and large cabins, superior service and every convenience know to modern shipbuilding, ensure the full enjoyment of a Pacific voyage. 2,000 people, including 250 cabin passengers, 68 intermediate and 1,500 troops, or Asiatic steerage passengers, may be accommodated on this great vessel, which is 630 feet in length; 73 feet 6 inches bean, and 56 in depth from keel to upper deck amidships, the total depth from the upper navigating bridge to the keel being 88 feet 4 inches. All first-cabin passengers are berthed amidships, the intermediate are on the main deck forward, and the steerage are berthed on the same deck aft. Nine decks serve to meet the requirements of passengers, crew and cargo. The ship has 32 water-tigtt compartments and is fitted with bilge keels to insure steadiness from the sea. The public rooms, cabins and hallways are all mechanically ventilated with filtered hot and cold air. The appointments of this vessel throughout are such as to fully provide for the comfort, safety and health of passenger under all conditions.

The Great Northern Steamship, Company, with its direct railroad connection in the great northern railways of the United States of America, has an unrivalled geographical position, which fact, taken in connection with the splendidly equipped and palatially appointed steamers, should decide the route of trans-Pacific travelers. The track followed by the Company's vessels isthe shortest to the Orient. As will be seen by reference to the track chart, the distance from Puget Sound to Yokohama being 4,260 milies.

A BAD DISORDER

In the fall of 1895 I contracted that fearful disease, Blood Poison. It gained such headway that I was forced to resign my position and seek relief at Hot Springs. After spending all the means I had I went to Memphis. In less than three weeks I was in a hospital, and after nine weeks of suffering I was discharged as cured. In less than a month every bone in my body seemed to be affected and felt as if they would break at the least exertion. Again I was compelled to resign, and I returned to the hospital for a seven weeks stay. When I came out I was advised to try farming. When I first went on the farm I prevailed on the only firm who handled drugs to get me one dozen bottles of S. S. S. At that time both of my hands were broken out with blisters and I was covered with boils and sores. In the meantime my druggist had gotten two dozen bottles of S. S. S. for me and I began its use, and after taking the thirteenth bottle not a sore or boil was visible. R. B. POWELL.

Of all human diseases, Contagious Blood Poison is the most hideous and hateful. The victim is tortured with eating ulcers, sores and abscesses, unsightly blotches, eruptions and other symptoms of the miserable disease. S. S. S. has been used successfully for nearly fifty years for Contagious Blood Poison. It contains no mercury, potash or other mineral. Our home treatment book gives all the symptoms of this disease. MEMBERSHIP TOO LARGE.

Size of Panama Canal Commission May Be Reduced.

Washington, Dec. 24.—President Roosevelt has given consideration recently to suggestions looking to a reduction in the membership of the Panama canal commission, but thus far, it can be said, no definite decision has been reached.

It has been urged by some members of congress that the commission is so large as to be unwieldy. It is known that Representative Hepburn of Iowa, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, is inclined to the opinion that the commission is too large and that the chief engineer of the canal ought to have greater initial authority than he now has. Mr. Hepburn talked to the president during the day about canal matters, but he declined to say whether it was the intention of his committee to introduce a measure looking to the crystallization of his ideas into law. Before action of a definite nature is taken the subject will be considered carefully in all its phases.

PROMINENT LAWYER INDICTED.

Further Developments in Oregon Land Fraud Cases.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 22.—The first of the sensational indictments for land frauds which it has been expected would result from the present investigations of the federal grand jury was against Franklin Pierce Mays, a prominent lawyer of this city and a member of one of the best known families of Oregon.

The indictment also includes Horace G. McKinley, S. A. D. Puter, Emma L. Watson, already convicted of conspiracy against the government; Marie Ware, the defendant in the first land fraud case, who was acquitted; Robert W. Simpson, John Doe and Richard Roe.

SEVEN AUSTRIANS DIE

SUFFOCATED WHILE AT WORK IN A SOFT CLAY MINE NEAR BOLIVAR, PA.

Bolivar, Pa., Dec. 23.—Seven Austrians were suffocated Thursday in the No. 2 soft clay mine of the Reese Hammond Firebrick company near here. There were about twenty-five men in the mine. Of the eighteen who were rescued all are in bad shape and two are liable to die.

The cause of the disaster was most peculiar. A small building burned down at the mouth of the mine and the air shaft, acting as a sort of flue, drew into the draft the heat and smoke from the fire, thus suffocating the men, whose escape was shut off by the fire at the opening. Immediately the burning shanty was torn away and rescuers rushed into the mine, but already seven had succumbed to the heat and smoke.

INDIA RUBBER.

The Second Voyage of Columbus Gave It Publicity.

The first notice of india rubber dates back 500 years, when Herrera, a Spanish historian, during the second voyage of Columbus, saw that "the natives of Haiti played with balls made of the gum of a tree, which were lighter and bounced better than the wind balls of Castile."

In a record published in Madrid, 1615, we are told: "There is a tree which the Indians call ulequahuitl, very high, with round, ashy gray leaves. It yields a milky substance, thick and gummy, in great abundance, which is collected and allowed to settle in calabashes and afterward softened in hot water or smeared over the body and rubbed off when sufficiently dry."

Even at that early date Spaniards used the juice of the ule tree to waterproof their cloaks.

The first accurate account of these gum elastic or caoutchouc trees was furnished by La Condamine, who was sent in 1735 by the French government to measure an arc of the meridian near Quito.

It was introduced into Europe as a drug about 1730, and some fifty years later was used commercially as rubber for pencil marks and to waterproof clothing.

THE WATER LOTUS.

A Plant That Has the Power of Purifying Standing Water.

There is a plant growing in the southern waters of the United States which possesses the singular property of being able to render the most impure standing water perfectly healthy. The people of Louisiana and Mississippi call it the water lotus.

It consists of leaves about the size of the head of a pin and roots so fine as to escape notice save under a microscopic inspection. Where it grows at all, it covers the water and to the casual observer looks like a coating of green scum. The flowers and seeds are microscopic, so that its appearance in any given locality is not readily accounted for, but wherever it does appear the water beneath is always fit to drink.

So marked is this property that families using the water from bayous where the lotus is abundant are known to have better general health than those taking their drinking water from places where the lotus is not found. It is often transplanted into ponds, bayous and lakes, spreads with wonderful rapidity and never fails to do its work well.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HOMES OF HEALING.

The History of Hospitals Begins With the First Century.

The temple at Epidauras was founded by Antoninus Pius at the end of the first century A. D. in honor of Æsculapius, Homer's blameless physician. Beyond the sacred inclosure was a building for the reception of the sick and dying, which Strabo describes as a place renowned for the cure of all diseases, always full of invalids and containing votive tablets descriptive of cures.

About 380 A. D. a hospital was founded by Valens and richly endowed by him at Cæsarea, and another at Rome by Fabiola, a wealthy Roman widow, for the reception of the sick poor.

Basil is said by Gregory, the presbyter, to have built a large hospital for lepers with money collected for the purpose. The Hotel Dieu in Paris, founded in the seventh century, and two founded in 1080 by Lanfranc, archbishop of Canterbury, were both connected with monastic establishments. Bartholomew's, 1547, and St. Thomas', 1553, are the oldest hospitals in London and were both originally religious foundations.

Omens In Tea.

When the tea is made and the lid of the teapot is forgotten for a minute or two it is a sure sign that some one will drop in for the meal. Two spoons put by chance into the saucer of a maid or a bachelor denote that he or she will be married within a year. Putting cream into your tea before you sweeten it will bring you love troubles. A tea stalk floating in a girl's teacup is a "beau." She should stir her tea briskly and then hold the spoon upright in the center. If the "beau" be attracted toward the spoon and cling to it a gentleman visitor may be expected some time that evening. If, however, the "beau" goes to the side of the cup the visitor will not come that day.

Messages of War.

Among the natives of Australia notched and carved sticks are used for messages. For instance, a piece of wood carried from one village to another with straight and curved lines cut upon it is a message of war and means: "There is a fight on hand. Fetch your spears and boomerangs."

The North American Indians utilized wampum belts from time immemorial for like purposes. The arrangement of the different colored beads conveyed the signification desired.

Playing Safe.

"Look here, sir! You have been calling on my daughter every night for the past six months!"

"But I can't afford to get married, sir, and if I call on any other girl I'm afraid I might fall in love with her."—Smart Set.

CALIFORNIA "BAD LANDS."

A Region Utterly Devoid of Gratitude for the Wealth of Compliment Bestowed.

It was a far cry to San Jacinto—how far it was as the crow flies I cannot pretend to say, but as the poor beggar halts, it was long, long, deucedly long, a good quarter of a century, writes a contributor in the Los Angeles Times. The road, which, by the bye, was fetlock deep in dust most of the way, leads along one side of the valley—the San Jacinto valley—underneath the huddle of bluffs that lie between the San Jacinto valley and San Timoteo canyon, and are named on the map "Bad Lands." Bad enough they look, bald and leprous, a mark for the noonday sun. Under these our way went for hours together, while on the right extended the floor of the valley, bounded by low hills or little mountains.

And first came Moreno, sad example of faith misplaced—shall I say?—and man's inhumanity to man. For Moreno at one time had a future. Men and women had pooled their faith in the future, and had come hither to live and bring up families. The jack rabbit was speedily dispossessed of his ancient tenure, the sage brush and the chamisal of the hills were leveled to the ground, while avenues were delineated and sounding names bestowed upon them, as witness the arresting pomp of polysyllabic signboards to this day; hopeful young orange trees were duly installed in regimental order, water was called down from ancient heights, basking 10,000 feet high in the sun, and an infant city laid down not far from one of the many freakish buttes that feature the plain, and then the good people rested from their labors. Nature would do the rest, they thought, and some fine day the splendors of Eden would nod and shine about them, and the frequent tourist would sigh out his heartfelt approval o'er the scene, straightway settledown on the nearest eligible site, and dump his well-lined pockets.

One element, however, the good people left out of their calculations, or rather, two—a possible scarcity of water, and a certain general lack of the noble quality of disinterestedness in the human species. If they could but have foreknown it, there was unquestionably a day coming when the water that made green the valley should no longer fork and send a moiety of its fecundating wealth in their direction, but should pour all it scanted tribute into—pockets better filled than theirs. Even the waters of the heavens, alas! obey the strongest pull. And so in the dire time of drought, this potable gold minted itself no longer into those fragrant Hesperidean apples we call oranges, in Moreno orchards, but favored the millionaires' acres to the north, beyond the bad lands in the prosperous city of Redlands. I know nothing of the legal aspects of the matter. It seems a pity that men cannot live and let live. Perhaps the golden age will come again when we little breed of men shall learn so to do as we shall at length rightly discern the truth, that it is as impossible for any man, or group of men, to flourish at the expense of any group of men, as it is for one to lift himself over the fence by his boot straps. But as yet ye are under the old dispensation, under the law, not the Gospel. And so the municipal tragedy went on unchecked. The promising green of the orchards shrivelled in the sun as the drought struck them. Dry-eyed, the rancher saw his homestead burn with slow flame, while over the heights the sluiceways tinkled merrily, and the orange trees felt themselves lift and swell with vital juices.

To-day the epitaph of Moreno is written in weather-blurred characters upon a certain signboard on the heights. Hereon in large print were aforetime set forth in glaring prospectus the merits of the valley from a citrus point of view. It was fair, it was fertile, it was promising. And so it was; and so it is today, save for the little accident of the water and the diversion of the same into another direction by a little watershed of dollars. That signboard is a melancholy sight to the retrospective wayfarer. The sluiceways are as dry as a bone, and though the valley shows green and gold, it is not the gold of the Hesperidean apple, but of the homely alfalfa and of the dry stubblefield. Moreno has declined upon a humbler agriculture.

Surgical Feat.

A British farm laborer 60 years old not long ago suffered the loss of a finger bitten off by a savage hog. Then, in company with a friend and the finger he walked to the doctor's house, a distance of six miles, where, after hunting in all his pockets the friend produced the finger, covered with tobacco dust. In spite of the fact that the finger had been off for about two hours, it was fixed in its place again and, according to the British Medical Journal, which tells the story, has grown together nicely.

The Wise Fly.

"Good morning," said the spider, adding the familiar polite invitation to step into the parlor.

"Step into your parlor?" repeated the fly, with a knowing wink. "You mean your dining-room, don't you? No thank you."—Philadelphia Press.

Killed on Crossing.

Minneapolis, Dec. 19.—M. L. Manley, street car conductor, was killed, and Paul J. Kibbey, motorman, was badly injured in a collision between a Soo line switch engine and the Columbia Heights stub line car, Sunday morning. The car was just on the crossing when the motorman looked up and saw a switch engine pulling a caboose bearing down upon him. He turned on all the current he had, hoping to force his car across ahead of the approaching train. He was too late. The engine struck the car in the middle and threw it twenty or thirty feet.

CANVASS OF VOTE IS NOW COMPLETE

INTERESTING STATEMENT OF RESULT OF BALLOTING AT RECENT ELECTION.

Roosevelt Has 1,746,768 Votes Over All Candidates, and 2,547,578 More Than Parker—Interesting Analysis of the Vote.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—The official canvass of the votes cast November 8 for presidential electors was completed Thursday, when the result was announced in Minnesota, North Dakota and Washington. The total vote cast was 13,508,496, against 13,968,574 in 1900, a decrease of 460,078. The ballots were divided as follows:

Roosevelt, republican, 7,627,632.
Parker, democrat, 5,080,054.
Debs, socialist, 391,587.
Swallow prohibitionist, 260,303.
Watson, peoples', 114,637.
Corregon, socialist labor, 33,453.
Holcomb, continental labor, 830.

Roosevelt received over all 1,746,768, and over Parker, 2,547,578. In 1900, McKinley had 467,046 more than all the other candidates, and 859,984 more than Bryan.

The vote for Roosevelt was 409,822 more than for McKinley, while that for Parker was 1,277,772 less than for Bryan.

McKinley polled more votes than Roosevelt in Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Mississippi, New Hampshire, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Roosevelt got more than McKinley in the other 32 states.

Roosevelt carried 32 states against 28 by McKinley, and has 336 electoral votes under the apportionment of 1900. McKinley had 292 under the apportionment of 1880, there having been an addition of 29 by the last apportionment.

The republicans made gains over their vote of 1900 in 32 states, and the official figures show losses in 13. The total gains of the republicans were 732,048, and the total losses 312,249; net gain, 419,799.

Parker received more votes than Bryan in Delaware, Georgia, Mississippi. New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, South Carolina, and West Virginia, while Bryan got more than Parker in the remaining 37 states.

The democrats polled more votes in eight states than in 1900, but less in 37. Their total gains were 30,792, and the total losses 1,291,491; net loss, 1,260,699.

Parker carried 13 states against 17 by Bryan, and has 140 electoral votes. Bryan had 155 under the apportionment in force in 1900.

Watson received his largest vote in Georgia, the total of that state, 22,634, with 20,508 in Nebraska, being nearly one-third of his aggregate, 114,637. Barker polled 50,218 in 1900.

The prohibition vote in 1900 was 208,791; in November, 260,303, a gain of 51.512.

Four years ago the socialists had an electoral ticket in 32 states, and polled 87,769 votes. This year they had a ticket in the 45 states, and the Debs vote was 391,587. In 1900 over 5,000 votes were polled in only California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Missouri and New York. In November Debs got over 5,000 in California, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin—the largest number, 69,225, in Illinois.

The vote of the socialist labor party in 1900 was 39,944. This year is was 33,453 (a loss of 6,491) in these states: Colorado, 335; Connecticut, 575; Illinois, 4,698; Indiana, 1,598; Kentucky, 596; Massachusetts, 2,359; Michigan, 1,012; Minnesota, 974; Missouri, 1,875; New Jersey, 2,680; New York, 9,127; Ohio, 2,633; Pennsylvania, 2,211; Rhode Island, 488; Texas, 421; Virginia, 56; Washington, 1,592; Wisconsin, 223.

The continental labor party had adherents only in Illinois—really Chicago, where 830 votes were polled.

MANY LIVES LOST.

Thirty-Seven Persons Perish During Storm on Northern Coast of Portugal.

Lisbon, Dec. 21.—A disastrous storm which suddenly burst on the northern coast of Portugal has caused great loss of life. From reports already received 18 fishermen were drowned at Figueira da Fez, and 600 others have been rendered destitute. A ferryboat plying at the mouth of the Mondego river was capsized and 14 persons were drowned. In the Leixoes basin, near Oporto, five boats were sunk and five persons drowned.

Death of Woman Suffragist.

Laporte, Ind., Dec, 22.—Mrs. Mary Ann Anderson, one of the best-known temperance workers and woman suffragists in Indiana, is dead at her home here. She was born in Warren county, Ohio, in 1818.

Memorial Chapel Burned.

Simsbury, Conn., Dec. 22.—The Hay memorial chapel, given to Westminster school by Secretary Hay, in memory of his son, Adelbert S. Hay, was burned Wednesday. The loss is estimated at $12,500.

SEVEN KILLED IN R.R. WRECK

The Operator's Error Causes Fatal Head-On Collision in Illinois.

Mauds Station, Ill., Dec. 27.—In a head-on collision between two passenger trains on the Southern railway near here yesterday one passenger and six employes were killed and seventeen passengers and eight employes injured. Most of the injuries were serious.

The passenger train which left St. Louis collided head on with the passenger train leaving Louisville at the same hour. According to Southern railway officials the disaster was caused by the failure of the operator at Brown, Ill., to deliver to the eastbound train an order naming a meeting point for the two trains. The St. Louis-Louisville and the St. Louis-Knoxville sleepers were drawn by both trains, but none of the passengers in these four cars were injured. Both engines were badly damaged and four coaches destroyed.

Following is the list of dead:

Charles Schmidt, Centralia, Ill.
Engineer Bowen, Princeton, Ind.
Fireman Charles Hutt, Princeton, Ind.
Mail Clerk H. D. Hogan, Georgetown, Ind.
Section Foreman Underwood, Princeton, Ind.
Employe Henry Oskin, Tenneson, Ind.
Cyrus Hutchinson, East St. Louis.

HALF MILLION RECRUITS.

Thousands of Japs Are Rapidly Being Whipped into Shape to be Sent to the Front.

Tokyo, Dec. 27.—Tokyo is again a great military camp, and the scenes of last spring, when the first armies were mobilized and dispatched, are being duplicated. Thousands of recruits and reservists are assembled, drilling and equipping, preparatory to taking the field. The permanent and temporary barracks are filled, and it is necessary to billet the soldiers brought to the city. Oyama field is the center of activity, where infantry, cavalry and artillery are constantly drilling. The batteries fire blank cartridges for the purpose of breaking in the horses. The general military preparations are enormous. It is planned to give Field Marshal Oyama a rough total of a half million men, with a heavily increased artillery arm, besides increasing the defenses of Formosa and the southern islands in anticipation of the Russian second Pacific squadron,s attempt to seize a base.

The port of Kleeung, Formosa, has been declared in a state of siege, and other preparations in Formosa and the Pescadores are progressing. Winter is not interfering with the Japanese transport service. The railway between Dalny and Yentai is working well, and the running time between Taotai and Liau-yang is six days.

Killed for 15 Cents.

Duluth, Minn., Dec. 23.—The murder of his hired man by cleaving his jaw with an ax during a quarral over 15 cents is charged to a farmer named Staffen. The crime was committed four miles west of Brookston, a small station on the Great Northern road in St. Louis county, not far from the north line of Carlton county. Sheriff Butchart of St. Louis county was notified. Particulars of the murder are wanting, but in the main the story is as follows:

A week ago, Staffen hired a stranger at Brookston to work on his farm. Staffen left the premises for a day or two, and when returning home with an armful of packages he met his hired man going toward town.

They quarreled and the sum of 15 cents is said to have been the bone of the contention.

Killed by Engine

Hancock, Minn., Dec. 23.—Moore Stephens, of Minneapolis, agent for the Duluth Elevator company here, was caught in the belt of a gasoline engine and instantly killed. He apparently tried to stop the engine and his coat caught in the fly-wheel. His neck and the bones of his body were all broken to pieces, and he had been dead some moments when found by a farmer. His left foot was twisted off, only hanging by threads of flesh. He was about 23 years of age.

Bit Man's Thumb.

Larimore, N. D., Dec. 27.—Robert Yohn and Ed Holmes were playing cards in D. J. Farley's store, and engaged in war words over 25 cents. Yohn, it is alleged, attacked Holmes and bit the latter's thumb severely. Yohn was arrested on a charge of mayhem. Yohn is a one-armed man.

Battle with Negroes.

New York, Dec. 27.—Two policemen fatally injured, a third badly hurt and four negres locked up is the result of a battle that took place in North Plainfield, N. J., between firemen, policemen and citizens on one side, and a gang of negroes on the other.

PATTERSON JURY FAILS TO AGREE

STANDS SIX FOR ACQUITTAL OF WOMAN AND SIX FOR HER CONVICTION.

Discharged by the Judge—Defendant Faints on Hearing the Result—She May Not Be Placed on Trial Again—History of Case.

New York, Dec. 24.—The jury in whose hands the fate of Nan Patterson, alleged slayer of Caesar Young, was placed by Justice Davis Thursday noon, reported twice Friday that it was unable to agree upon a verdict, and has been discharged. The defendant, who had confidently expected a unanimous verdict of acquittal, fainted on learning the result, and is now in the Tombs ill, and perhaps on the verge of a breakdown. The jury stood six to six—half for acquittal, the other for conviction. Although no official announcement was made further than this, courthouse talk had it that of the six deciding against Miss Patterson none was for conviction of murder in the first degree, that one held out for murder in the second degree, two for manslaughter in the first degree and three for manslaughter in the second degree.

District Attorney Jerome said before the jury reported: "In the event of a disagreement, I will make an investigation of how the jury stands. If the overwhelming view of the jury is for acquittal, there is a possibility that she will never be tried again."

History of the Case.

The crime with which Nan Patterson was charged was one of the most sensational in New York criminal annals. Its peculiar circumstances, the prominence of Caesar Young in sporting circles, and the glamour thrown around the central figure in the case because of her membership in one of the famous "Floradora" sextettes, all tending to lend it an interest hardly rivaled in recent years. With Miss Patterson sitting beside him in a cab, Caesar Young was on his way to a steamship pier, where his wife awaited him, to sail with her for Europe. The trip avowedly was planned to break his relations with the girl. It was early in the morning, and but few pedestrians were abroad on the street through which the cab was hurrying to the dock. There was a pistol shot, and Young fell forward, his head in the girl's lap, dead, with a bullet in his chest. Just what transpired in the glass-inclosed vehicle probably will never be known. The cabman testified he heard a report. He knew nothing more. The girl was placed on trial, the defense being that Young committed suicide. The defendant herself went to the witness chair and told the whole story of her relations with Young.

Court of Inquiry Meets.

Paris, Dec. 23.—The international commission appointed to inquire into the North sea incident met at the foreign office at ten o'clock Thursday morning. Admiral Fournier, of France, was unanimously elected president. The commission unanimously elected Admiral Baron von Spaun, of the Austro-Hungarian navy, to be the fifth member, completed the preliminary organization and adjourned until January 9.

Deluge of Grain in Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 24.—An unusually early movement of grain catches railroads unawares, and Chicago is deluged with between 6,000,000 and 9,000,000 bushels of cereals, vainly awaiting transportation to the seaboard and intermediate distributing points. More is on the way and the urgency for cars is great.

Left Estate Worth $3,000,000.

New York, Dec. 23.—Announcement is made that the late Hugh McLaughlin, for years the leader of the Brooklyn democratic organization, left an estate valued at $3,000,000, which will be equally divided between his widow and his two daughters.

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 24.—The drought which has prevailed in central Illinois for months was broken Friday night by a heavy downpour.

THE TRUST EVIL.

Commissioner of Corporation Tells How It May Be Effectively Regulated.

Washington, Dec. 22.—James R. Garfield, commissioner of corporations, in his first annual report, made to President Roosevelt Wednesday, recommends compulsory regulation of corporations under a federal license or franchise. He declares after a year's investigation that the diversity of corporation laws now in existence is such "that in operation it amounts to anarchy." Here are the details of the plan he advocates to remedy the conditions:

"Granting of a federal franchise, or license, to engage in interstate commerce.

"Imposition of all necessary requirements as to corporate organization and management as to condition precedent to the grant of such franchise or license.

"Requirement of such reports and returns as may be desired as a condition of the retention of such franchise or license.

"Prohibition of all corporations and corporate agencies from engaging in interstate and foreign commerce without such federal franchise or license.

"Full protection of the grantees of such franchise or license who obey the laws applicable thereto.

"Right to refuse or withdraw such franchise or license in case of violation of law, with appropriate right of judicial appeal to prevent abuse of power by the administrative officer."

This bureau, under the direction of the secretary of commerce and labor, affords the appropriate machinery for the administration of such a law.

WALLS FALL.

Crush a Hotel in Minneapolis, and Seven Sleeping Guests Are Killed.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 21.—Seven persons lost their lives early Tuesday in the Crocker hotel on Fifth street through the falling of the high east wall of the O. H. Peck building, which was destroyed by fire last Tuesday night. Others of the 14 sleeping in the hotel were injured. The high wind loosened the bricks and tons of brick and stones crashed down upon the roof of the three-story hotel. The roof was carried through to the basement, carrying death and injury before it.

The bodies of John C. Kenyon, William Lillyblade and William Emmermon have been taken from the Crocker hotel ruins.

INDICTED FOR FORGERY.

Grand Jury at Cleveland Returns True Bills Against Dr. and Mrs. Chadwick.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 23.—The county grand jury Thursday afternoon returned indictments against both Dr. and Mrs. Chadwick on the charge of forging the name of Andrew Carnegie to a note for $5,000,000 in May, 1902. Dr. Chadwick is now on his way to New York from Paris and is expected to land next Wednesday. As soon as the indictment was returned Sheriff Barry, of this county, made arrangements to secure Dr. Chadwick's extradition. He will meet the steamer on its arrival.

Tax Rate in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 24.—Gov. Yates, Secretary of State Rose and State Treasurer Busse met Friday and fixed the tax rate for the state for the year 1904. The rate is 55 cents on $100, as compared with 52 cents in 1903. The general tax will be 45 cents, and the school tax ten cents. The general fund will be $4,500,000, and the school tax will amount to $1,000,000.

Sentence Pronounced.

Kishineff, Dec. 24.—Sentences were pronounced Friday upon the persons found guilty of participation in the anti-Jewish riots here in May, 1903. Seventeen of them were sentenced to 170 days' imprisonment, two to 80 days and 11 were acquitted.

JOHNSON FAVORS DITCHES

Prominent Crookston Man Interviews the New Governor on the Drainage Question.

According to the Crookston Journal, a well known Crookston man who is very much interested in state drainage, while in St. Peter recently called upon Governor-elect Johnson for the purpose of learning what recommendation the next executive intended to make to the legislature in regard to state drainage, particularly in Northern Minnesota.

The gentleman upon his return gave out the following interview which, although, the name of the party speaking is withheld, will be found to cover the new governor's idea of state drainage in a very thorough manner.

"Governor Johnson, when I broached the mission of my call, frankly told me that he was glad of the opportunity to relieve the mind of a northern Minnesota resident in regard to the much talked of and important "drainage question," said Governor Johnson, 'I am now, was before election and always have been in favor of state assistance to any cause which upon the whole benefits the entire state. Such a cause is state drainage and in my message to the legislature upon which I am now at work I shall especially recommend that the work done in the past by the state drainage commission be continued—not upon the same scale but upon a much larger and more far reaching one. I shall recommend that at least $250,000 of state funds be set aside for the work of the commission. The northern section of the state is of course more interested in the drainage movement than the other sections because it is in the northern swamps and undrained land that the work must be done. I also will recommend in my message that property owners along state waterways be assessed for a just proportion of the work and that the state be not saddled with the entire expense."

Governor Johnson's declaration in regard to state drainage and his stand in the matter will be a great relief to northern Minnesota voters who want drainage continued and the good work which has been done by the state in the past duplicated in the future. Vast areas of land will remain to be reclaimed despite the amount of work which has been done by the state.

Far From the Truth.

Some people imagine that when an editor refers to a politician's record he is making an attack upon the politician. Nothing is further from the truth. The Minneapolis Journal touches the point in this connection when its says: "Personalities in politics do not refer to facts bearing on the public record of a candidate. When a party or candidate declares its intention not to resort to personalities it does not mean that it will not use facts or criticisms of an opposition candidate's public record. The interests of the people would suffer if candidates were not called to a strict account of their records. It is not resorting to objectionable personalities to say that in this, that or the other respect a candidate while occupying public office in the capacity of a public man did such and such things that he ought not to have done. Since the acts of parties are the acts of individuals representing parties it would be impossible to put parties on trial if the acts of their creatures could not be published and criticised. The proper meaning of "personalities" in connection with politics is that the facts of a man's private life, which do not bear on his qualifications for office shall not be made the subject of discussion."

A husband is the most acceptable gift for a single lady over thirty.

A woman can keep a secret if she tries but she seldom makes the effort.

A single woman never sees a pretty baby but she wishes in her heart it was her own.

If women sat on juries handsome men would seldom be convicted.

Past and Present.

Chicago Tribune: What do you know about his past?" asked Mabel. "Just enough to make me a little suspicious about his present," said Maud, examing with a magnifying glass the diamond the young man had sent her.

If you haven't time to prepare Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea it is now made in tablet form also. Get a package already to use. Makes you well; keep you well. 35c. A. L. Reicher.

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

ORDER NO BLUFF.

Northern Pacific Anti-Liquor Order to Be Enforced.

Some of the employes of the Northern Pacific have been brought to a realization of the fact that the anti-liquor order issued a few months ago is not a bluff, but will be enforced. A recent press dispatch says: "The stringest anti-liquor rule that has been put into effect on the Montana division of the Northern Pacific had its first demonstration yesterday. Three engineers, eighty fireman, two civil engineers, and several foremen and yardmasters were summarily discharged for drinking. It is the declared purposes of the Northern Pacific to rid its roll of every man who is addicted to strong drink to any degree. The headquarters of the road in St. Paul will not give out any names, but it is freely stated that the next batch of employes to feel the ax will be in the passenger department."

Waste of Hundreds of Dolars.

Mr. Michael Ballreich, 30-32 Johnson St. Tiffin, Nhio, writes: "Three boxes of Gloria Tonic did me more good than hundreds of dollars I previously spent with doctors. I suffered 29 years in misery and torture." Sold by W. A. Schreiter.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MEN.

Some of the Qualifications Necessary for the Highest Success

1. A good business education.
2. A good moral character.
3. Energy and self reliance.
4. Good judgment.

Persons seeking a practical business education in a very short time should attend some business college.

There is no college in the United States that places so large a percentage of its pupils in good paying positions as Button's Business College, Crookston, Minnesota. It positively guarantees situations to all graduates and asks no pay until it has fulfilled its agreement.

The college that offers the most gets the business.

Pupils take the time to investigate before entering a college these days.

They want to learn only by the best and quickest methods.

And they will go where they can get the most for their money.

Ninety-five per cent of the busines men of Croo[illegible] will advise you to go to Butto[illegible]ness College. [illegible] them and see.
